

Headline entertainer on the 1962 Lowell Showboat will be harmonica-playing Johnny O'Brien, whose slow-drawling humor might best be described as a cross between that of Will Rogers and Bob Burns. Hit of last year's Chesaning Showboat, O'Brien has appeared on television and has shared billing with such entertainers as Bing Crosby, Paul Whiteman, Judy Canova, and Rudy Vallee. O'Brien's harmonica repertoire ranges from the classics down to the blues, all of which he plays on a 25¢ dime-store mouth organ, but the Irish entertainer is perhaps best known and liked for the tag-line with which he ends each joke: "Well, it's possible."

A little bit of the 'Old South' will appear on the 1962 Lowell Showboat in the form of "The Petticoats," two lovely blondes and an equally appealing brunette who plunk the banjo with gusto and blend their versatile voices in three-part harmony. Comprised of sisters Bea and Mary House and Margie Hirth, The Petticoats have performed at New York's "Copacabana," have appeared on nationwide TV with Guy Lombardo, and have recorded a record for Louis Prima — all since their break into the big-time on Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scout show.

When the thirty-first edition of the Robert E. Lee comes steaming down the river during its six-night run, July 23 through 28, two of the brightest stars in its boat load of talent will be Ralph and Mary Carnevale. Mary, acclaimed by critics as one of America's funniest and warmest performers, absolutely stuns audiences when she launches into a satire of a Roaring 20's Charleston, plunges into the audience to greet pseudo celebrities, or drags an unsuspecting spectator up on the stage to dance with her. Ralph, who acts as emcee for the act and who is a master of the soft-sell story, has the personality and aplomb which is needed as a perfect foil for Mary's antics. Both of the Carnevales, who have appeared elsewhere with such people as Steve Allen, Bob Hope, and Dinah Shore, are sure to be real crowd-pleasers at the 1962 Lowell Showboat.

Comedian Johnny O'Brien, a wise-cracking dance team composed of Ralph and Mary Carnevale, and three beautiful banjo-playing singers called "The Petticoats" will head the all-star cast of the 1962 Lowell Showboat. C. H. Runciman, Lowell businessman and chairman of the Showboat's Professional Talent Committee, announced this week.

Also featured on the showbill of the 31st version of the Robert E. Lee will be Pomoff Thedy and Family, a musical novelty group which is widely known as "Spain's Royal Family of Comedy," and the Dorbin-Scott Dancers, a precision line of six lovely girls.

Rounding out the cast of the Showboat during its six-night trip down the Flat River on July 23 through July 28 will be Lowell's own six wonderful endmen and Dr. Roy Westcott, the golden-throated interlocutor of the Robert E. Lee. Backing up all this talent will be Chicago's glamorous Mary Kay and her band, plus the Mitch-Miller singing of the 100-voice Lowell Showboat Chorus.

Showtime for the minstrel show under the stars is slated for 8:30 each evening. Early arrivals in the Showboat grandstand in Lowell will be treated to a thrilling water-ski show, which begins at 7:30 p. m.

Sell 5,570 New Cars In Kent County

A Michigan Department of State survey shows that 5,570 new cars were sold in Kent County during the first four months of this year. During the same period 132,218 new automobiles were sold by dealers throughout Michigan.

Secretary of State James M. Hare pointed out that sales of both new and used cars brought in $23,110,009 in sales and use tax revenue during the first third of the year.

"This," Hare said, "is over six million dollars more than the $17,065,589 collected during the same period in 1961. This 33 percent increase points to an unusually high sales year despite the disillusionment in Wall Street and the ups and downs in other sectors of our economy."

The 1962 vehicle taxes were collected on nearly a half million transactions. In the first four months of 1962, 449,477 new and used cars and trucks were sold compared to 376,920 in the same period in 1961.

Hare reported that the average sales tax per item in 1962 was $67.68, an increase of $7.31 above the 1961 average of $60.37. Use taxes per vehicle rose only $1.47, from $16.35 in 1961 to $17.82 in 1962.

A substantial proportion of weight taxes, sales taxes on new and used cars, and gasoline taxes collected within a county is returned by the State to the county in which the taxes are collected.

First Jr. Rodeo of Season Attracts Good Crowd

The fourth season of the Flat River Junior Rodeo which opened last Tuesday evening attracted a good crowd and many participants from around this area. This was the first of seven shows being held this season under the direction of A. B. Curly Howard. There will be four shows in August and the final championship event in September. Trophies have been donated by individuals in the community. They are won by total points for the season.

The crowd last week was entertained by cowboy clowns Dave and Clay Avery, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Avery. Winners who showed the most improvement in the steer riding; Mike Goggins in the calf roping; Mike Ellison of Muskegon in the Sr. Steer Riding.

At the next show to be announced for early in August, one of the special events will be the showing of movie films taken on the FFA boys tour of ranches in Oklahoma.

Wolverine Boys' State goes beyond politics to include glee club performances, organizations and operation of a newspaper, softball games, a swimming clinic, variety show, and many other activities.

Printer To Showboat For 30 Years

Tickets for the 1962 Lowell Showboat went on sale this week, and all 36,000 of them were printed on a Heidelberg press by Don MacNaughton, shop supervisor at the Lowell Ledger. MacNaughton, 48, who has been in the printing business since 1930, has served as printer to the Lowell Showboat ever since it started in the Depression days of 1932 and has printed all of the Showboat tickets for 30 of the Showboat's 31 years.

In the first year, MacNaughton remembers, roll tickets were used to admit paying customers, and only 25¢ was charged for the show.

But things have changed now. Not only do the best seats in the house now cost as much as $2.20, but the ticket-printing process has grown much more difficult.

The tickets are printed in sheets of four, with each sheet being run through the presses twice—once to print the price and date information, and once for numbering each ticket individually with row and seat designation.

Complicating all this is the fact that Showboat tickets come in three different price ranges ($2.20, $1.60, and $1.00) and in six various colors—a different color for each of the Showboat's six big nights, July 23 through 28.

Showboat Seeks More Performers For Amateur Night

The Lowell Showboat needs more amateur entertainers to fill the showbill of its annual Amateur Night Contest. Dr. H. R. Mueller, committee chairman, announced Monday.

To date only a handful of amateurs have applied for a chance to appear in the contest, to be held prior to Showboat Week this year on Saturday, July 14, at the Showboat dock in Lowell.

An expected audience of 6,000 people will view the contest, which will begin promptly at 7 p. m. Six amateur acts will be chosen to appear with the professional performers which each year headline the Lowell Showboat cast.

One amateur act will come down the Flat River with the famous Robert E. Lee each night during the Showboat's six-night run, July 23 through 28.

Amateur entertainers interested in seeking a berth on the 1962 Lowell Showboat are urged to contact the Amateur Night Committee, Lowell Showboat, Lowell, Michigan, for further information and entry blanks.

Noel Smith Attends Ferris

Noel Smith of Lowell is among the record number of students taking advantage of Ferris Institute's full-scale instructional program this summer.

Smith is a junior in science teaching in the School of Commerce.

As the key to the Ferris emphasis on year-around operations, the fourth-quarter (summer) program permits students to accelerate their education. For example, enrollees in one of the college's four-year degree programs can complete their studies in three years through participation in the summer sessions.

In addition to the full-time students in the fourth-quarter program more than 900 participants are slated to attend a variety of self-sustaining workshops and seminars scheduled for the Ferris campus during the summer, bringing the total number of enrollees to well over the 2,000 mark.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, 214 Hudson St., Lowell.

Member of Lowell 'Y' Staff Navy Swim Captain Guards At Pool

One of the YMCA instructors and life guards this summer at the Frank Twining King Memorial Pool is Peter Vermaire, 21, a backstroke champ who next year will captain the swim team at the U. S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. Pete, the son of Mrs. Selma Vermaire of 1454 Hope St., S. E., Grand Rapids, has participated in YMCA activities both as a competitive swimmer and as a counselor for the past 12 years.

Mothers sending off their youngsters to YMCA swimming lessons can breathe easier, and adults seeking ways to improve their strokes can rest assured that they have received inside tips, now that Pete Vermaire is on the job at the King Memorial Pool.

Pete, captain next year of the Navy swim team, conducts both adult and young people's classes at the pool during the first 6-week-long YMCA instructional period this summer. On July 21, however, Pete will return to Navy duty for the annual midshipmen's cruise, to be spent this year aboard an Atlantic-prowling submarine out of Norfolk, Va.

A first-classman (senior) next year at Annapolis, Pete backstroked for the 40-member Navy swim team which last year boasted an 11-3 won-loss record.

Navy Coach John Higgins' narrators are also proud of the fact that they managed to dunk the rival West Point team last year for the third straight time.

This, coupled with the fact the Navy mermen handed Yale a defeat two years ago that broke the Elis' 200-meet winning streak, makes Pete's team a force to be reckoned with in the water.

Pete himself is a record-holding champion whose time of 2:13.4 stands as the Annapolis pool record in the 200-yd. backstroke over a 20-yd. course.

Good Student, Too
Following his 1958 graduation from Central High School in Grand Rapids, Pete attended Michigan State University for a year before receiving his appointment to Annapolis from Michigan's U. S. Congressman Gerald R. Ford.

At the Navy Academy Pete, who ranked third in his class academically during his first two years, is concentrating on the field of mathematics. Following graduation from the Academy, however, he will complete his four-year commitment with the Navy before deciding whether or not he will make Navy life a career.

Pete has been mixed up in YMCA activities ever since he was nine years old. He started swimming competitively at the 'Y' when he was ten, and was also a member of the Central High School swim team.

Pete's position on the King Memorial Pool staff this summer resulted from his association with Robert Forst several years ago at the central YMCA office in Grand Rapids. Forst, presently executive secretary of the new Lowell branch of the YMCA, has done much to build up the local staff and is largely responsible for the Lowell 'Y's' dynamic summer program.

Pete finds his summer employment in Lowell both enjoyable and a good way to keep in tip-top shape for next year's swim season.

Baseball Popular In The Lowell Area

From the indications, summer baseball and softball will involve the interest and participation of well over 250 boys from the Lowell Area in 1962.
 To handle such an expanding program requires the recruitment of many coaches and managers. Those in the fold for 1962 are: Howard Maloin, Steve Nislet, Harry Hutchinson, Danne Hendricks, Don Henningsen, Pat McCormick, Gordon Sharpe, Ormar Lyons, Bill Dawson, Don Kelly, Bill Cannon, and Les Kline.
 For the first time the younger boys softball teams will play early evening games. Their coaches are Carlen Anderson, Phil Kropf, Jake Callier and Dick Bryan. They are assisted by four members of the High School Lewlers Club: Dick Rollins, Bob Ehings, Terry Abel and Tony Myers.
 The Junior High Team is coached by Bob Shepard assisted by Rex Collins, Jack Kemper and Bill Mayou handle the Fresh-Soph teams. These two teams play independent ball locally and also in Grand Rapids Recreation Department Leagues.

Grandpas and Grandmas enjoy giving "Y" memberships as gifts for their grandchildren—$3 for a year.

Merry Jo Hill flies through the air with the greatest of ease while displaying her trampoliner skills to Commander Dave Davis during a session of the YMCA Flat River Day Camp. Davis, a third-year member of the experienced Day Camp staff, is a sophomore at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Take Those YMCA Trips To Fun and Adventure
 Eleven fun-packed trips remain for this summer for boys and girls of the Lowell, Saranac, and Clarksville areas. Children of 4th grade through high school may participate. The trips supervisor will be Jack Kemper, Lowell 7th grade teacher.
 Trip counselors will be Judy Doyle and Dave Davis. Enrollment should be made early as most of the trips are limited to the first 40 boys and girls signing up.
 All trips have an enrollment deadline of one week prior to the trip.

Sign Now for Next Swim Class Series, Beginning July 23

Frank Twining King Memorial Pool Starts On Its Second Summer Session

Saturday, June 9th marked the opening of the Y.M.C.A. administered community swimming pool. A total of 463 boys and girls attended the two afternoon open swim sessions. The first series of instruction classes opened June 11th. Over 230 youngsters from Saranac are presently enrolled in the morning bus classes. One hundred and twenty Lowell boys and girls are taking lessons the first 2 weeks series in the afternoons. The split two one-hour open swims at 1:30 and 4:50 p.m. have proved very popular as the pool is not quite so crowded and more fun is had by all, reports Robert Forst, Executive Secretary.
 The Frank Twining King Memorial Pool was made a reality by the united efforts of many community organizations.
 Created in 1959 to handle the financing and contractual agreements, a non-profit organization headed by William M. Jones, President, George Cook, treasurer and members Hugh Linkfield, George Dey, Sr., and Thomas Lyons. This group then developed what was to become the plan for financing and constructing the Frank Twining King Memorial Pool.
 The Lowell Public Schools pieced together $10,000 over a two year period for the use of the locker rooms for its athletic teams between September 1 and June 1. The S. Lee Fund contributed $13,000. With the start of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. in March of 1960 the goal of the committee was at last reached. Kent County and State 4-H contributed $5,000 so that proper rest room facilities might be available for its projects. The city of Lowell, from earnings of the Dr. S. Lee Fund contributed $13,000. In March of 1960 the goal of the committee was at last reached.

Boating Tips

Other Water Sports

Water skiing, skin and SCUBA diving also have large followings in the Grand Rapids Area. These Mr. Forst said, are sports you shouldn't even consider unless you are a good swimmer. If you're planning to take up skin or SCUBA diving, get a medical checkup first to find out whether you can take underwater swimming. Not everyone can. Learning how to dive is easy enough, but don't try it until you've had training by a qualified instructor. The Grand Rapids YMCA offers a course in diving which is open to residents of Kent County.

The hazard of drowning is always present in all water sports, reminded Mr. Forst. Trying to save someone from drowning can turn into a double tragedy if you don't know what you're doing. Water rescues are for strong swimmers skilled in lifesaving methods, he emphasized. Even they should stay out of the water except as a last resort. It's best to find something to throw to the victim that will hold him up. Reaching out with a pole or article of clothing are also suggested methods of water rescue.

If artificial respiration is needed, several methods are effective, advised Mr. Forst. Recommended by the YMCA since 1937 for small children, the mouth-to-mouth method is now widely used and is a preferred method even with adults. It's easy to learn, simple and direct.

Follow These Steps

Place the victim on his back. Turn his head to the side, force open his mouth and wipe out quickly with thumb or cloth. Straighten the head and lift the jaw by tilting the head backward to ensure a clear flow of air.

Keep your right thumb inside the victim's lower teeth, holding his chin up with your fingers. Pinch his nostrils tightly shut with your fingers. Now, take a deep breath and open your lips wide. Place your mouth tightly over the victim's mouth and your thumb. Blow air forcefully, making his chest rise. Pull away and release. Repeat every three to five seconds.

Another effective method recommended by the YMCA is as follows. Place the victim face down. Kneel on one knee, facing his head. Place his hands under his cheek. Now, rock forward with your hands flat on the victim's shoulder blades. Lift your hips to shift part of your weight and press firmly. Slide back smoothly, lifting, and pulling the victim's upper arms as you move back, then lower them to the ground. Repeat the cycle 12 times a minute.
