Fish Derby Attracts 110 Youngsters

The Lowell Moose Civic Affairs Fishing Derby attracted 110 youngsters to McEwen Lake last Saturday to compete for the prizes and to gobble down 225 hamburgers, over 200 hot dogs and 240 bottles of pop. Judges for the event were Lowell mayor Ralph Townsend, Superintendent of Schools Stephen Nisbet, and Lowell industrialist Elmer Schaefer. Prizes went to Mike Sherman for the largest fish, Jack Thomas for the largest string of the day, Ronnie Day son for the smallest fish, Vickie Sherman for her Dalsy Mae costume, and Howard Barton as Huckleberry Finn, The Moose Civic Affairs committee is already making plans for next year's derby now that the first run of the event was conducted with nary a stubbed toe or misplaced fish hook.

notch cast of stars who delighted the large opening night audience.

The gaily-decorated Robert E. Lee XXXI, decked out in red, blue. and gold foil and silver glitter, docked in Lowell, only slightly behind schedule, with whistles blow-ing and stacks puffing following the first of its six nightly runs this week.

The voyage Monday was the 138th trip around Cattail Bend in Flat River for the sidewheeler since its maiden run in 1932.

Prior to the boat's arrival this week, a water-ski troupe composed of area young people entertained the estimated crowd of 6,000 people, as did TV Cowboy Buck Barry and the Bonnie Blu-Bells Drum and Bugle Corps of Grandville.

After the replica of the oldfashioned Mississippi showboats had tied up at the river-front wharf, the 100 members of the Showboat Chorus disembarked to the tune of "Are You From Dixand were promptly followed by the six red-suited, black-faced minstrels.

Following a warm-up endman sextet and the Monday night amateur act, the professional entertainers took over the show and practically stole it away from the experienced Lowell veterans.

Interspersed with the professional talent were foot-tapping songs, cott, and a second number by the ine of dancers.

Climaxing the evening was Johny O'Brien, a stand-up comic whose barrage of jokes reduced the audience to hysterics which changed to awe when he launched into an amazing display of harmonica virtuosity that included everything from pop tunes through also the home of 1959-60 exchange operatic overtures to imitations of reight trains.

July is all but gone, and with it goes a Summer which began almost as an inventor's May-time idea, saw form and substance in June, and throbbed with July's an imation before suddenly being silenced in August—as if the inventor had lost interest in his creation.

August is a season by itself, It belongs to neither Summer nor Fall.

Its days can still be blistering hot, but its night air has a chill that hints of leaf-raking and football cheers and even of the formation of ice-crystals on puddles.

Its flowers fade, their energies sapped by the burgeoning of seed of the cry of the cuckoo being hand another fellow called Shake-speare spoke in his forgotten language of the cry of the cuckoo being heard in the thicket.

August is all these things.

August is that instant, that moment in which Time paradoxically hovers in motion.

August is the death-rattle of a year before the pain of Fall and the void of Winter.

Or—if you prefer it this way—August is the year's warm yawn before it lapses into the comfort of slumber.

A truck that doesn't call for a lot of attention, that just does its job every day, is a great asset. This is the thing most users tell us they like about Chevrolet trucks—their reliability. And this, of course, comes from quality.

Sound engines, strong frames, double-wall construction, insulated cabs, separated bodies and cabs, tight tallgates . . . are some of the features that help Chevrolet trucks work longer and bring back more of your investment at trade-in.

If you wish you had a truck that cost you less thought and attention, put your money on quality. Make your next buy a dependable chevrolet truck.
