Strip Commercial Development Denied In West Main Street Garage Request

In a letter to the Lowell City Council, Scott Bagby, Lowell Planner who is in the process of developing an over-all master zoning ordinance for the city told council that the permit to build a new garage on West Main Street should be denied.

Bagby was unable to be present at the meeting, but his letter revealed that he feels this area can be better served by planning the commercial area in another section of the development.

The council and planning commission will meet next Monday evening at 8 p. m., when Bagby is expected to be present to elaborate on his reasons for not permitting a strip development along West Main Street to the city limits.

In his letter he pointed out that he has progressed far enough in his master plan for the development of the city to feel that a commercial strip development would not be in the best interest of the community.

At the meeting on Monday, Bagby will present his ideas in planning the commercial development of the area for the best interests of both Lowell, and Wendell Berman, owner of the property being sold for commercial use.

Remove Refuse Burners

In further action, the council backed the city manager in enforcing that garbage containers and refuse burners be removed from the street right-of-way. There have been many complaints on the leaving of drums and refuse burners in the street. Citizens who objected to this unsightly practice, and the council agreed to enforce the removal. The city manager also stated that strict enforcement of size of garbage and trash containers will be enforced. Garbage cans must be no larger than 25 gallons.

Citizens placing tree limbs in the street right-of-way will be ticketed by officers. The city will only pick up tree limbs and fallen trees that are removed from public property.

In further action, the council confirmed Dean Manigold's appointment to the library board. The council is planning the uniting of the zoning board and the planning commission membership. Future appointments to the zoning board will be made from members of the planning commission until the membership is identical.

Bible School Starts Monday

The Daily Vacation Bible School of Calvary Chapel will begin next Monday morning, June 24, and will continue for 1 week from 9 a. m. until 12 noon. All children from 4 years through 12 years of age are invited to attend.

This year a bus marked "Bible School" will pick up children in outlying areas starting at 8:15 and will also travel down every north-south street in Lowell between 8:30 and 9 a. m. Anyone desiring transportation may have it, if they will stand along the curb at this time.

Any further information may be had by calling TW 77105 any time this week.

Compliment Local Kids On Away-From-Home Behavior

The Lowell Chamber of Commerce received the following card in the mail last week:

Sirs:

Sunday a. m. June 9, outside of Glendo, Wyoming, your local Varsity Club (some 30 strong) pulled into a roadside park for breakfast. We have never seen a better behaved group of kids. They are a credit to your community and school.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mench
1120 North Wahsatch
Colorado Springs, Colorado

We know the Chamber as well as the residents of Lowell, appreciate hearing from the Menchs, because we all wonder once in a while how our kids act when they are away from home.

Alto Ladies Injured In Crash On Wednesday

Mrs. Nellie Timpson, 88; Mrs. Vera Yeiter, 66; and Mrs. Grace Blossom, 52, of Phoenix, Ariz., visiting in Alto, were cut and bruised when the car in which they were riding went out of control at the intersection of M-50 and Nash Ave., south of Alto Wednesday morning at 10:30 a. m. and went into the ditch.

Trooper Noel Roe from the Michigan State Police Post in Ionia, who investigated the accident said that Mrs. Eva L. Lillis, 65, of East Grand Rapids, who was driving missed the turn. She suffered a cut over her eye, Mrs. Mary Shaver, 56, also of Grand Rapids, riding in the car was also bumped and bruised. All the ladies were treated by an Alto physician and released after the accident.

Entrants Needed For Showboat Beauty Pageant

Carol Lawrence and Herb Keyser, co-chairmen of this year's glamorous Lowell Showboat Queen Contest, report that in an effort to have more girls register for this spectacular extravaganza, they have texted an invitation to girls outside of the Lowell area to seek the crown. It seems that many prospective candidates in Lowell are too shy to run.

The co-chairmen report that a queen and two members of her court will be selected by a panel of judges headed by Karen Jean Southway, the former Miss Michigan, and other famous radio and television personalities, whose identity will remain a guarded secret until the evening of the contest. The queen will receive a prize of $100, and two members of her court will receive $25 each. C. H. Runciman, Dean of the Lowell Showboat, will be present to crown this year's royalty before an expected crowd of 500.

This year's contest is shaping up to be the biggest one ever. With soft lights and music the prospective queens will have to model in formal evening gowns, display some talent on stage, and answer random questions before the assembled audience.

Area girls from Lowell, Saranac, Ada, Alto, Forest Hills, and Cascade interested in this year's Showboat Beauty Pageant are asked to contact Carol Lawrence at TW 7-9261 or fill out an entry blank at the Lowell Ledger Office. Entrants must have a photograph available for publicity purposes.

The Beauty Pageant is going to be held Tuesday evening, June 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the Runciman Auditorium. The public is welcome, no admission will be charged.

Hospitalized For First Time At 67

Lloyd Ford, age 67, of Route 1, Lowell, underwent surgery last week at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids after suffering a compound fracture of the right leg.

Mr. Ford sustained the injury when he caught his leg in a hay moving machine at this farm. The sojourn was the first time he has ever been hospitalized.

Hors d'oeuvres are appetizers.

DeVinney Takes Pastorship In Detroit; Rev. Keith Bovee New Methodist Pastor

Rev. J. Marion DeVinney will take over the pastorship of the Boulevard Temple Methodist Church and Home in Detroit this week, after serving the Lowell congregation for the past eight years.

The DeVinneys came to Lowell in 1955 from Jackson, where he was associate pastor of the First Methodist Church there.

Born in Parkville, Michigan, Rev. DeVinney began his ministry in Caledonia, and has served churches in Rockford, Lake City, Mancelona, Boyne City and Galesburg. While at the Lowell church, he baptized 241; received into the church 226; married 86 couples; and buried 209, of whom 58 were members of his church. Mrs. DeVinney has been a teacher in the Lowell School system since their arrival here.

A farewell potluck dinner was held Tuesday evening for the DeVinneys at 6:30 by members and friends of the Lowell church.

At his new post in Detroit, Rev. DeVinney will serve as pastor of the Boulevard Temple Methodist Church, and chaplain of the Temple Methodist Retirement Home.

New Minister to Speak

Rev. Keith Bovee, 31, who has been appointed by the conference to fill the vacancy left by Rev. DeVinney will preach his first sermon to the congregation this Sunday.

Voters Approve New County Bldg.

Voters of Kent County approved a 1 mill tax for five years to build a new county building in conjunction with the City of Grand Rapids in a special election on Tuesday. Only about 15 percent of the voters of the county voted in the election with the victory margin of some 2,600 votes.

In the rural areas around Lowell the voters turned down the extra tax, but the larger margins in Grand Rapids and East Grand Rapids carried the proposal.

Attend 26th Annual Boy's State Meet

Boy's State Chairman, Stephen Nisbet of Clark-Ellis American Legion Post 152, announced last week that three outstanding Lowell High School juniors were selected to attend the 26th Annual Wolverine Boy's State held June 13 through 20, on the Michigan State University Campus.

The boys who represented Lowell at this eight-day session were: Chaz Kiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kiel, 317 North Street, Lowell. In school, Chaz has been active in football, wrestling, was a member of the Junior Lions Club, and is a member of the Lowell Methodist Church.

Craig Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walter, 606 Riverside Drive, Lowell. Football, basketball, track and baseball are the principle sports in Craig's many activities. He has held several class offices, and is vice-president of the Tri-River Student Council. He plays in the band, was elected a Junior Rotarian and sings in the church choir.

Ronald Hostetler, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orio Hostetler of 6020 Luce Street, Alto. He is active in football, wrestling, is a representative on the Student Council, is a member of the Varsity Club, was elected as a Junior Rotarian, and maintains a good scholastic average. He plans to further his education in the field of Math and Chemistry.

The American Legion Post of Alto and the Alto Businessmen sponsored another Lowell High School junior, Bill Wieland, to participate in Boy's State.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wieland of Route 3, Lowell. He is active in the Future Farmers of America, participated in track events, and is treasurer of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Alto Methodist Church.

39'ers Group To Hold Get-Together

The 39'ers group of the Lowell Congregational Church will hold a get-together at Fallsburg Park on Saturday evening, June 29.

The pre-planned event will be held on the porch of the park pavilion, and will start at 5:30 p. m.

Bring your own table service, sandwiches, and a dish to pass. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished. Also bring a white elephant, wrapped, not to exceed 50 cents in value.

Anyone wishing transportation are asked to call the Butlers at TW 7-9556.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The congregation of the First Congregational Church of Lowell will hold a special meeting on Sunday, June 30th, immediately following morning services. The purpose of the meeting is to vote on installing new siding on the church and parsonage. p-10-1

Boom Truck Helps

Brought into use to assist the fire department for the first time was the Lowell Light & Power boom truck. Working from the 40-ft. tower, firemen were able to direct water down into the flaming bins of beans.

Lyle Webster, well-known Lowell new and used car salesman, has joined the selling staff at Wittenbach's Sales and Service on West Main Street.

Forty-five years of experience have been credited to Mr. Webster, with 35 years being spent here in Lowell.

Mrs. Wendell Berman, wife of the developer of the Valley Vista subdivision on Lowell's west side, spent the week end in Lowell at the Berman's home in the new development.

Mrs. Berman finds Lowell's mid-west home town atmosphere a refreshing change from her home town in Boston, Massachusetts.

State Police were forced on Saturday morning at 8 a. m. to order the engineer of the Grand Trunk freight train to clear the Division Street crossing after it had been blocked for over 15 minutes.

When the people on the East side were going to work, that morning, they had to be detoured around the fire departments working on Main Street.

The train caused a traffic jam extending all the way from the Grand Trunk crossing to Main Street.

Lowell Construction Company began work this week building a new stretch of curb and sidewalk in the 300 block on East Main Street.

The old curb and sidewalk was being torn up by members of the city street department.

Over 100 Attend Methodist School

The Methodist Vacation Church School got off to a flying start this week with over 100 children and 14 teachers and helpers enrolled.

The classes are for all children from four years of age to the sixth grade, inclusive. There is still room for any children who may wish to enroll for the second week.

The theme of the school this year is "Widening Relationships" by means of which the children are learning to understand and act in kind ways toward friends at home, in the community, and in far-away places, as well as toward those of other races, nationalities, and beliefs.

Future Farmers Of Lowell Back From Western Journey

On Friday, June 7, at 5 in the morning the top ten of the Lowell chapter of Future Farmers of America loaded their gear and sleeping bags into three modern-day covered wagons, and headed for the Black Hills of South Dakota. The Black Hills are so named because of the very dark appearance of their rugged peaks, densely covered, as they are, with a heavy mantle of Ponderosa pines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cotton of Deadwood were the hosts of the boys at their western destination. The Cottons were, for many years, residents of Portland, Michigan.

Mr. Cotton is a lay minister in the ranch country, known as the Hereford area, fifty miles north-east of Deadwood, and the boys were his guests for Sunday morning services on June 9.

The Lowell award winners visited the spectacular Needles Highway, Custer National Park, dined at the summer WhiteHouse of Calvin Coolidge, saw the awesome Mount Rushmore National Monument, attended the mock trial of the assassin of Wild Bill Hickock, swam in the Deadwood municipal pool, toured through the grotesque but beautiful South Dakota Badlands, and were taken through the Mount Rushmore cave.

Counselors for this years trip were Steve Sparks, Saranac area farmer; Bob Getsch, rodeo announcer and tool designer of Grand Haven, and Keith Avery, chapter advisor.

The boys making the trip were Lyman Baker, Ronald Thomet, Gordon DeYoung, Robert Krebs, Leonard Blough, Bruce Odell, Bob Griffin, Bond Klahn, Dennis Blough, and Steve Roth.

Law Enforcers To Meet Here Wednesday, June 26

On Wednesday evening, June 26, the Lowell Police Department will play host to the West Michigan Law Enforcement Association at a "swiss steak" dinner at the Runciman auditorium.

The dinner will start at 6:45 p. m. Guest speaker for the evening will be James Miller, the new Kent County Prosecuting Attorney.

There will be a Pep Club meeting Monday, June 24 at 7:30 sharp at Diane Christiansen's. Bring poster board and magic markers if you have them.

PHONE NUMBER CHANGED

Vosburg Block and Gravel Company's new phone number is OR 6-1047.

The entire center section of the elevator was in flames by 6:30 a. m. as Herbert Elzinga and William Christiansen, sr., watch from the south side of the plant. Soon after this picture was taken help from Saranac, Ionia, Cascade and Ada arrived and the flames were brought under control. The loaded railroad cars shown on the track along side the plant were removed during the height of the fire with man power and a truck.

Work started with a crane to pull down the walls left standing after the fire was brought under control early in the afternoon. This picture taken at 4 p. m. reveals the gutted interior of the elevator. Wooden bins that filled the building were pulled apart by the crane so that firemen could put out the fire which broke out in shooting flames when a new section was ripped away. The crane is still at work and there are still fires deep in the wreckage of the building as the paper is printed.

In plans revealed this week the Runciman Company, whose main building burned early Saturday morning, are going to rebuild and maintain their operation. Clean-up of the fire debris, which includes tons of beans that were soaked with water and cooked by the fire has been proceeding rapidly.

The beans and burned timbers and twisted metal equipment is being hauled away to be buried in an old gravel pit. The new building will take the place of the original Jakeway Elevator that Runciman started when he came to Lowell in 1917.

The fire discovered at 6 a. m. on Saturday, June 15, by women cleaning in the office raged until enough equipment was brought in to flood out the flames.

It is believed that the fire started in the head house near the electric eye picking section of the building from a spark from a belt. There was no one working in the building during the early morning hours, so the fire started unnoticed until spotted at 6 a. m. When firemen arrived the smoke was rolling out of the top of the building and flames were roaring through the roof of the three story structure.

Fire chief Frank Baker sent out a call for help and equipment was rushed to Lowell from Saranac, Ionia, Cascade, Ada and Grattan. When all these men and their equipment arrived the fire was soon wet down and brought under control.

Fire is still smouldering in the ruins of the building, but men with fire hoses have been standing by since Saturday to douse the flames when they are spotted. On Monday, the Lowell fire department was called to the electric sorting machine building where a fire broke out, but was quickly extinguished.

Repair Work Started

Repairs were started on the building before the fire was completely extinguished. The roof over one section was replaced and on Tuesday a government order of plinto beans were being packaged and shipped from the connecting building.

The twenty-four electric picking machines in the connecting building were not burned but water damage was extensive. Until further investigation is made it will not be known whether they can be rebuilt, or will have to be replaced. Picking operations are being maintained around the clock at the Thomas Elevator on Hudson Street, where there are eight machines, but production is naturally limited.

Beans stored in silos just north of the burned elevator are being taken out by gravity and inspected for damage. Men from the cement stove silo company were working Tuesday tightening up the steel bands and checking them for damage.

Estimate Loss at Half Million

Early estimates by the Runciman Company have indicated the loss will exceed $500,000. Insurance adjusters from Lloyds of London, who insure the Runciman property, have been here since Saturday working with company officials to determine the extent of the loss.

Runciman Elevator Burns Saturday

Shown above is a picture taken of the fire at 6:15 Saturday morning with the arrow pointing to the head house of the electric sorting machine division where the fire is believed to have started. Dense smoke and flames were shooting skyward when the Lowell firemen arrived.

Through close observation during the first few days of camp, the counselor should be able to anticipate the future behavior of his young charges, says Marie Hartwig, University of Michigan supervisor in physical education for women.

"Character traits appear early and if the counselor is alert he can work toward having a happy group. The counselor certainly should be familiar with the parents' appraisal of the child but he must make his own independent observations of the youngster in the new environment."

telephone lines

By BERLE SLACK, Manager

FOR MOST OF US, communicating with others is as natural as breathing. But what about the person who can't speak due to surgical removal of his larynx? Or those with impaired hearing, or who can't see? Michigan Bell, together with the Bell Telephone Laboratories, the research arm of the Bell System, is continually seeking ways to improve communications for handicapped persons. Braille switchboards for blind operators, a special telephone handset for the hard-of-hearing, and the artificial larynx that serves as a workable voice for the voiceless are a few examples the Laboratories has come up with. These and other special telephone services offer encouraging hope for a better way of life to many persons handicapped by physical disabilities.

WELCOME TO SUMMER! It's the happy time for vacations and weekend trips to your favorite pleasure spots. But remember to go first by Long Distance. This is the busy season for motels and hotels, so be sure to call ahead for reservations. And when you arrive, call the folks back home to put everyone at ease. A Long Distance call costs so little... in fact, often 9 p.m. you can make a 3-minute toll call to any place in the continental United States for $1 or less, plus tax.

PEOPLE SOMETIMES THINK they have a "bad connection" when they can't hear the person at the other end of the line clearly. So they ask our Repair Service to find the trouble. We've found, though, that what often seems to be a poor connection is actually a case of the other person's "tired arm"! Inadvertently he lets the handset wander away from his mouth. To be clearly understood, it's best to hold the transmitter end of the handset directly in front of your lips. It's a small courtesy others appreciate.

2. Preparation of plans and specifications will therefore be inevitably required within the next two or three years.

3. The nature of sewage treatment is such that there is little or no likelihood of design obsolescence, should construction not take place for another two or three years.

On the basis of these considerations and the aforementioned developments, it is recommended that immediate steps be taken to authorize preparation of complete plans and specifications for a sewage treatment plant, said plans and specifications to be completed not later than December 1, 1963.

WHEREAS, City of Lowell, Michigan (herein called the "Applicant") after thorough consideration of the various aspects of the problem and study of available information has hereby determined that the construction of certain public works, treatment plant, river bank supplies, preparation of detailed plans and specifications for the necessary appurtenances is desirable and in the public interest and that it is necessary and expedient that the construction of said works be taken immediately; and

WHEREAS, under the terms of Public Law 560, 83rd Congress, as amended, the United States of America has authorized the making of advances to public bodies to aid in financing the cost of engineering and architectural surveys, designs, plans, working drawings, specifications or other action preliminary to the construction of public works; and

WHEREAS, the applicant has examined and duly considered such aid and the applicant considers it to be in the public interest and to the best interests of the applicant, and to the end that such public works may be provided as promptly as practicable, it is desirable that action preliminary to the construction thereof be undertaken immediately;

2. That Bernard C. Olson, City Manager, be and he is authorized to file an application under said act and to authorize other action in connection therewith, for the advance;

3. That the construction of said public works be provided as promptly as practicable, it is desirable that action preliminary to the construction thereof be undertaken immediately;

King Once Ruled Beaver Island

Trimming the northern half of a sheltered harbor on Michigan's Beaver Island nestles the village of St. James—founded on tyranny and oppression—reborn as a haven for the work-weary tourist.

Not as reverberant as the shot from Concord that signalled independence, a shot, nevertheless, sounded freedom for the island as it echoed across Lake Michigan waters on a summer day in 1856. The shot mortally wounded James Jesse Strang, self-proclaimed king of Beaver Island and leader of an isolated Mormon colony, thus ending the only monarchy ever established on United States soil.

Strang founded the colony late in 1847, supported by a handful of loyal followers. Over the nine-year period of his dominant leadership his flock grew, nurtured by his own religious tenets which then defied the accepted customs and laws of the land.

At the height of his reign, Strang took advantage of the fact that the population of Beaver Island far outweighed the population of the rest of Emmet County. It was not long before the political offices of the county were completely taken over by Strang's people, much to the concern and growing fear of the mainlanders.

Following the Mormon leader's murder, the island was gradually repopulated by a group of Irishmen from the Charlevoix area—the same people who had bitterly opposed Strang's presence on the island. They torched nearly every Mormon building, then settled back to pursue their native livelihood—fishing the prolific waters surrounding them.

Aptly named, "America's Emerald Isle," Beaver Island is a vacation gem lying in the blue water of Lake Michigan, 35 miles northwest of Charlevoix.

The largest island in Lake Michigan—54 square miles—Beaver has more than its share of natural charm to entice those vacationers who want to get away from it all.

Visitors making the motorship trip become aware of the placid serenity of this outpost of nature the moment the island fully breaks the horizon. Trees smuggle the shore line, screening from casual view the lakes, streams and noiseless forest that lie beyond.

From its northernmost tip at Indian Point south through its 14-mile length to Beaverhead Light, the area abounds in wildlife. A herd of more than 1,000 deer, as well as moose, grouse, ducks and rabbits beckon to hunters.

Beaver Island is famed for the Lake Michigan perch that abound off its shores, but for those who prefer the solitude of inland fishing, the island's many small lakes offer an abundance of smallmouth bass, bluegills and pike. Boats for fishing or sight-seeing are available for rent.

Transportation around the island is no problem. If the visitor prefers to leave his car on the mainland, he can rent one from an auto rental agency, and taxi-service also is available. To really enjoy the beauties of the island, however, a slower pace—either bicycle or horseback—is recommended.

Beaver offers an idyllic background for varied vacation interest. In addition to hunting and fishing, there is swimming, camping, picnicking and hiking. The untouched areas of the island afford an excellent opportunity for camera fans and nature lovers to study the many types of wildlife in their original habitat.

Modern conveniences are not neglected on the island. Hotels, motels, cabins and a variety of restaurants offer first-rate accommodations.

For vacationers with an historic turn of mind, some of the buildings erected during King Strang's reign are still standing—most notable, the print shop where the island leader edited his newspaper.

Also reminiscent of the past is the home and tomb of Dr. Feodor Protar, the Russian nobleman who liberated his serfs and was exiled by the Czar. Dr. Protar fled to Beaver Island where he ministered to the ailing and never accepted payment for his services.

Evidence of prehistoric existence can be seen in the works of the mound builders who were the island's first inhabitants, and whose burial mounds and worshipping grounds are still preserved.

From the past to the present, Beaver Island offers vacation variety—lakes, beaches and forest trails, with shades of nature and the romantic past awaiting at every turn.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love and remembrance to our dear son, Richard Wester, who so suddenly departed from this life eight years ago June 17.

Every day in some small way, memories of you come our way. Though absent, you are ever near. Still missed, still loved and ever dear.

Sadly missed by,
 Mother and Dad c10

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank my friends and especially my neighbors for their many kindnesses last week when the tree fell on my house.

Treat Dessert Like Any Other Food

Depriving a child of dessert until he eats the rest of his meal isn't very good psychology.

Roberta Hershey, Michigan State University nutritionist, says that researchers—including those at Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit—have proved that very young children treat dessert exactly as they do meat, vegetables and other nutritious foods if the dessert is placed on the table with the rest of the meal.

"Dessert should never be used as a form of a bribe," the specialist states. "It becomes too important then."

"If desserts are made from essential food nutrients," she continues, "there is no reason why the dessert should not be as important a part of the meal as anything else served."

Hamburgers, Hotdogs Are Fine Foods

Hamburgers and wieners really are excellent protein foods, according to Michigan State University foods and nutrition specialist Roberta Hershey.

What's more, they're popular with youngsters, although hotdogs may be too highly seasoned for very young children.

"If wieners have had an ingredient other than meat added to them, it is likely to be nonfat dry milk—an excellent food in itself," Miss Hershey says.

$75 In Silver Friday Evening Prize

Pictured here are the five winners of $5 in silver at Friday evening's Chamber of Commerce drawing: Orion Thaler, Route 3, Lowell; Mrs. Laura Strouse, Grand River Drive, Lowell; Perry Beachum, 504 Lincoln Lake Ave., Lowell; Bob Ross, Greenville; and John Kropf, Lowell. Gerry Miller, Route 3, Lowell, was drawn as the winner of the $50, but he was not present, so the prize money for this Friday's drawing will be $75.00.

DeVineys Feted By Church Friends

The dining room at the Methodist Church was filled to overflowing Tuesday evening as over 200 friends gathered for a dinner honoring Rev. and Mrs. J. Marion DeViney who are moving to Detroit next week.

The DeVineys have served the Lowell church for eight years and in that time have found a place in the hearts of the entire community.

Following the dinner Mrs. David Coons presided at a program including the showing of slides taken by Howard Clark during the years of the DeVineys' ministry in Lowell. Mrs. Tyrus Wessell, speaking in behalf of the congregation, expressed appreciation for their work, the example of their lives, and their devotion to all community endeavors.

Dan Wingeier then presented the DeVineys with a beautiful television set, the gift of their church friends.

In response, the DeVineys explained their new work and asked the interest and prayers of the group as they tackle the problems of the inner-city church neighborhood. They also extended an invitation to visit them at their new church whenever Lowell people are in the vicinity.

Lowell Team In New League

A new baseball league, for boys of high school age, has been organized with teams entering from Belding, Lowell, Saranac and Lakewood (Sunfield, Woodland and Lake Odessa.)

Named the Grand KIE (Kent, Ionia and Eaton counties), the league commenced play on June 17 and will continue through the last week of July, playing each Monday and Wednesday night.

Monday night games will be played at Saranac, with all teams involved. Games are set for 6 p. m. and 7:45 p. m., the second one to be played under Saranac's new baseball lights. Lakewood will play its home games at Sunfield on Wednesday nights, Belding will have its home games on Wednesday also. Lowell will use the Saranac diamond for all home games.

An unusually strong league, with varsity letter winners at all schools making up the nucleus of the teams, it should be a very interesting race all summer.

On Monday night Saranac won the first game, a 4-0 decision over Lakewood. Saranac had Barry Jackson and Jim McCarty combine to allow Lakewood but two hits, striking out 16 in the process. R. Barnum hurled fine ball for Lakewood, giving but three hits, two of them by McCarty and the other by Mike Yaw, which drove in two runs late in the game.

Wednesday night Lowell played Saranac at Saranac and Belding met Lakewood at Sunfield. Next Monday, June 24) at Saranac, Lakewood faces Lowell in the first game and Belding and Saranac collide in the nightcap.

CARD OF THANKS

Our deep appreciation and heartfelt thanks are extended to our relatives, neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown at the death of our beloved one, William Kilgus. We especially wish to thank the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Flowers for his message of comfort and consoling music; the friends who served as bearers, and friends who served the lunch; those who sent beautiful floral tributes and cards; and those who assisted in other ways. We especially want to thank Wes and Jerry Roth for all their fine co-operation in getting our loved one home from Germany.

Mrs. Pauline Kilgus
 Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Price and family
 Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith and family
 Mr. and Mrs. Emil Friedli and Eileen c-10

CARD OF THANKS

I want to extend my thanks to my friends and relatives, The Rebecs, Blue Star Mothers, and W.R.C. for the cards, fruit and calls I received during my illness.

'Fly-In' June 23 At Lowell Cite

The Grand Rapids Chapter 145 of the Experimental Aircraft Association will hold the Michigan EAA Council "Fly-In" at the Lowell Airport on June 23.

Members will be flying their homebuilt and antiques into the event. The public is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

The Lowell Airport Association will have the player-piano, which is to be given away July 14, on display at the field.

Servicemen

Marine Staff Sergeant Robert J. Vandenhout, son of Mrs. Margaret Shaw of 725 Lincoln Lake rd., Lowell, Mich., was recently promoted to the present rank in recent ceremonies at the Third Amphibious Tractor Battalion, First Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, California.

As a supporting unit of the First Division, the battalion has the mission of transporting combat troops from ship to shore and to inland fighting positions when required.

The battalion employs LVP-5 tractors which are full-tracked, armor plated amphibious assault vehicles. Each LVP-5 is capable of transporting an entire platoon of men.

Marines of the Third Battalion are engaged in continuous training designed to keep them combat-ready. The program ranges from amphibious maneuvers on Southern California beaches to warfare exercises on the Mojave Desert.

This constant training helps insure the high degree of preparedness vital to the Marine Corps in fulfilling its role as the nation's "force-in-readiness."

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere gratitude is extended to friends, neighbors and relatives for the deeds of kindness and expressions of sympathy, cards, letters and floral tributes at the passing of my husband. Also I wish to thank the Rev. Mc Carthy and all those who helped in numerous other ways.
 Mrs. Lewis C. Tomlinson p10
