Showboat Ideas

I was greatly tempted to respond to your kind invitation to present suggestions for future Showboat productions. However, after reading your report on William Doyle's well-developed succinct plans, I wonder what more Showboat could possibly need to be rescued from the rocks. If there are people this well-informed and capable, a vote of confidence should put these proposals into immediate effect and these people listened to and respected. If, however, this is to become a civic enterprise and the management is taken from the hands of the present Showboat officials, the same should be reimbursed for their investment and the entire town should always feel a deep debt of gratitude for bringing Showboat this far along the river. Some of the proposals may seem drastic to the well-meaning people who have tried to keep the show local and make it big at the same time; but now is the time for some sincere soul searching. It should be obvious that the present course is not worthy of Lowell or up to the capabilities of Showboat.

I sincerely feel the people of Lowell have not responded to their civic responsibility simply because they have not been challenged. The people of Lowell are capable of great strength if given the proper guidance and encouragement. I have only these timid suggestions to add to those already mentioned by Mr. Doyle.

The charm and nostalgia of the traditional deep South Showboat is something so precious it would be well worth preserving. However, this need not be done at the expense of a worthwhile modern show. In our sophisticated TV age a summer production must present entertainment comparable to that which can be viewed at home plus an extra something to make the trip out of the easy chair worthwhile. Certainly then, a top professional family show is needed, sans all amateur efforts except those to provide the "extra something". Those who first conceived the Showboat have presented Lowell with a perfect "extra something". Therefore the local cast should have as assigned required winter reading accounts of the original and traditional minstrel and showboat performances. Somewhere along the way the end men have gotten the idea that to be minstrels they must force a trite raw patter that is very unbecoming to the show. In the South the endmen were dearly beloved and very respected by white and colored families alike. After all, the original endmen were talented colored folk and when the white actors began to develop their acts into a professional style, the imitation was the highest form of flattery to the beloved "Southern Darkies". The tradition should not be sold short—it should be enhanced and enlarged upon by endmen who are willing to work and study if necessary to achieve the highest traditions of the Southern minstrel.

Secondly, perhaps because I am an outsider looking in, I will dare to mention a fact that I'm sure many of those responsible for Showboat have secretly worried over. The flagrant abuse of special privilege at the gate is appalling. I know I am treading where angels fear to go, but I truly believe the people of Lowell are being underestimated. I believe that out of civic pride they would whole heartedly support a move next year to drop all free passes to the Showboat—not just to a few groups, but to each and every man, woman and child occupying a stadium seat. If a special courtesy is to be shown to Lowell City Civic groups (Scouts, Camp Fire, etc) at least a minimum charge of some sort should be required. And this should be reserved for Lowell City groups only. After all, these organizations are trying to teach civic responsibility, civic participation, and a code of morals which derides the policy of "something for nothing". Troops training. Let's keep our kids busy for years to come so even their children can experience the same enjoyment.

So, Lowell, don't be a sit behind, leave it to no one but yourself. Get your two cents worth in. No matter how silly an idea may seem to you; to another person it could be great. Remember a lot of great things came from a so-called silly idea.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Patricia Bulk

SQUARE DANCES WEDNESDAYS
Western-style modern square dances are being held every second and fourth Wednesday of the month at the Lowell City Hall.

The dances, opened to the public, and instructed by Lloyd Balderson of Ionia. Mr. Balderson also calls.

I have been told that Monday night is only a dress rehearsal and the free admissions weren't hurting the gross profit. But that is the world's most expensive dress rehearsal—and one Showboat can ill afford. The show should be polished and professional enough to the first night to warrant every seat sold.

It was pointed out to me that the doctors at the children's hospitals regard the trip here for their charges as fine therapy. If this is so, there are many fine hard working women's guilds interested in these children. These groups have many ways of earning proceeds all year long to finance special needs. Perhaps a special low rate should be offered for a set number of seats, but I honestly don't feel that Showboat should bear the expenses when there are other groups set up for such purposes.

It comes down to the hard cold fact that either the show be worth time and money, or it may eventually be lost for all time.

For a stranger in town or a new resident, nothing is as inspiring or calls forth as much real civic pride in local achievement, as a town of 2500 playing host to almost three times its population each night for a Showboat performance. For a town of this size, Lowell has a great reserve of capability. The people should be neither underestimated nor sold short. They should be challenged to give generously of their time, talent and money to make the next Showboat worthy of the highest traditions and ideals.

Sincerely,
Carol Dunlap

What is to be done about the Lowell Showboat next year, and years to come?

People of Lowell, wake up, this is our problem and what is going to be done? Tom says that is none of my concern let Dick handle it. Dick in return says let Tom worry about it, and what happens—nothing—because we push it off on someone else. Don't be a sit behind, get out in front and shoulder some of this responsibility. The Showboat idea started here in this small farm village, so let's keep it here in our own city.

If we all work on those ideas in last week's Ledger we could really have something big. It is not just for a few people to worry or be concerned about, it belongs to each and everyone in the community. To put an end to its' life would truly be a shame. The receipts helped to build Lowell, and it can go right on building, if we all do our share and become a successful team.

The town has benefited from its proceeds but what about the Showboat and its' environment. Look at the river, it is a mess—bugs, smell, yes, and dangerous to boaters and skiers. People come from all over the country and expect to see the "Greatest Show on Earth" something extraordinary, and what happens—they are let down to find they have the same swamp in their own home town. If all forty-nine states were the same as Michigan, there would be no point of going on a vacation, now would there? It our turn to do something to put the Showboat back on course, not dig her grave. Now is the time to start putting some of her earnings back into rehabilitation and make the Showboat ship-shape. The garden has to be weeded before it chokes all the roots. We are not just re-incarnating the Robert E. Lee for the advancement of our city, it is also for our children. Have you, when in a crowd, watching the Showboat come down the river, seen in the eyes of a small child, the amazement and excitement on their faces? They would surely miss the wonderment of it all. The children of our community have nothing to keep them busy when school is out, they hang around in pool rooms, and go hot rodding down streets, then trouble occurs—people condemn and point fingers—but they did nothing to prevent these things from happening.

Let's keep our kids busy for years to come so even their children can experience the same enjoyment.

So, Lowell, don't be a sit behind, leave it to no one but yourself. Get your two cents worth in. No matter how silly an idea may seem to you; to another person it could be great. Remember a lot of great things came from a so-called silly idea.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Patricia Bulk

Heart Attack Fatal To Cecil Bibbler

A heart attack early Monday evening in a downtown retail business establishment was fatal to Cecil E. Bibbler, local new and used car salesman, and resident of this community most of his life. Cecil E. Bibbler was born March 9, 1900, and has been selling cars in this area since 1929. He was employed by the local Ford Agency.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 10 a. m. in St. Mary's Church with interment being made in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mr. Bibbler is survived by his wife, Mable; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Bunn of Grand Rapids; five grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. John Thomas; and two brothers, Sylvester and Otis Bibbler, both of Lowell.

Mrs. Ethel Story Passes; Services Held Wednesday

Mrs. Ethel Story of 1839 Nelson Street, S. E., Grand Rapids, passed away Sunday, August 4, in Blodgett Memorial Hospital, at the age of 75. She was born August 27, 1887.

The Rev. C. A. Flowers officiated at the services held Wednesday afternoon at the Roth Funeral Home at 1:30. Interment was made in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Story is survived by her husband, Carl; one daughter, Mrs. Norman E. King of Clarksville; two sons, John R. Story of Park Forest, Illinois, and Maurice C. Story of Grand Rapids.

Also surviving are seven grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Richard A. Shepard Makes Dean's List at St. Thomas

Richard A. Shepard, son of Mrs. B. H. Shepard, 663 Shepard Drive, Lowell, was among 27 freshmen on the College of St. Thomas 1963 spring semester Dean's Honor List released this week by the Rev. Robert L. Probst, assistant dean of the College.

Shepard is a 1962 graduate of Lowell high school and is majoring in Biology at St. Thomas.

To qualify for the Dean's List, a student must have a minimum semester average of 3.25 (B plus). A total of 146 students, including eight with "A" averages, made the Dean's List.

The total undergraduate enrollment at St. Thomas during the spring semester was 1,700 students.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mayes, formerly of 301 1/2 West Main Street, Lowell, moved last week to Pawnee, where they will take over the management and operation of a restaurant.

The Mayes have been employed as cooks in Lowell restaurants for a number of years.

Herbert Reynolds, a native of Lowell is returning this week to join the staff at Roth and Sons Funeral Home.

Reynolds, who graduated from Lowell High School in 1935, worked with W. A. Roth as an apprentice funeral director and after serving in the Air Corp in World War II owned and operated a funeral home in Columbiaville, Michigan.

He sold his business to join the Roth firm. The family plans to make their home at 123 North Hudson Street, here.

Eight Lowell boys and girls were given an overnight trip to the Y. M. C. A. camp and presented with a year's membership to the "Y" by the Lowell Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"No Lawn Sprinkling" is still in effect in the City of Lowell, Bernard Olson, City Manager, emphasized this week.

While rains have helped cut the water situation it is still critical and it is very important that citizens respect the ban on lawn sprinkling.

Persons not obeying this ban, could be punished by the law.

MARBLE CEMETERY DAMAGED BY VANDALS LAST WEEK
Under investigation by Ionia state police is a report of malicious destruction at the Marble cemetery in the Lowell vicinity.

Local Police Lose Chase; Jail Driver

The Lowell police chased a car shortly before 4 a. m. Friday morning, almost to Ionia, before the local cruiser threw a rod, and brought the chase to a halt for the local officer.

State police summoned to aid them, arrested James H. Buff, Jr., 20, the driver of the speeding vehicle, and Kent Jay Nolin, 19, both of Durand, before they reached the City limits of Ionia on M-21.

Lowell Police took up the chase, when Buff came through Lowell at over 100-miles-an-hour. He was driving a 1963 car with a big motor, and a four-speed transmission.

The local authorities followed the speeding car nearly to Ionia on M-21 at high speed, with their blue flasher and siren going, but was unable to over take the Buff Car.

While the chase was underway, aid was called for and a State Police cruiser from Ionia came out to halt the speeding car which they had to chase, nearly into the city.

Buff and his companion had in their possession, an alcoholic beverage. Buff did not have a driver's license in his possession, and the youths were held in the Ionia County Jail.

They were taken before Justice W. P. Brogan of Ionia and pleaded guilty to a minor in possession charge, and were fined $50 and $40 in costs, each, or serve 15 days in jail. They were held in jail until payment was made.

Buff was brought to Lowell Saturday, where he appeared before Justice Howard Rittenger on a charge of reckless driving. He was fined $100 and costs and given 4 days in the Kent County Jail.

"Who'll Be The Lucky One?"

This replica of a Model T car will be given away at the Kent County 4-H Fair to be held August 12-16 at the Lowell 4-H Fairgrounds. Enjoying a ride are Sallye and Kathy Werner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Werner, Forest Hills, S. E., Grand Rapids.

Three Thousand 4-H Youth To Take Part In Fair In Lowell, August 12-16

Over 3,000 4-H boys and girls from rural and urban communities in Kent County are expected to participate in 4-H Fair activities, August 12-16 at the Lowell Fairgrounds, reports Pam Klahn, 4-H Jr. Press Corps reporter.

Events will begin Monday, at 1 p. m., when judging of horse entries will start continuing through Tuesday morning.

Tuesday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., exhibits of vegetable gardening, photography, archery, gun safety, conservation, rocks and minerals, food preparation, outdoor meals, freezing, canning, and crops will be judged as they are brought in.

Judges will visit personally with each member as they evaluate the individual's project, providing the opportunity for the 4-H member to learn about project improvement. This "Personal Evaluation" procedure proved so successful last year that it has been extended to include additional projects at this year's fair.

Tuesday evening at 8:30 p. m. the Kent County 4-H Service Club will sponsor their annual square dance on the tennis courts at the Fairgrounds. The public is cordially invited to dance with the 4-Hers; no charge will be made.

The Wednesday judging schedule will begin at 9 a. m. with the swine and poultry and all exhibits in the cement block building except flowers and those judged the previous day. At 9:30 a. m. the beef steers and beef breeding animals will be judged. At 10 a. m. the flower gardening exhibits will be judged. At 1 p. m. the sheep and dog projects will be judged. At 3 p. m. judging of dairy goats will take place. At 5 p. m. the rabbit projects will be judged.

Wednesday's activities will be climaxed at 7:30 p. m. with games and contests on horseback. 4-H horse members will participate. Thursday morning dairy cattle judging will get underway at 9 a. m.

At 7:30 the 4-H livestock parade is scheduled, to be followed at 8 by a variety show in front of the grandstand. The Pet Parade will also be held at this time.

Friday events include a meeting of all State Show exhibitors and contestants on the tennis courts at 10 a. m. At 9 a. m. the tractor and auto operators skill driving contests will take place on the tennis courts.

At 1:30 p. m. the 4-H members market steers, hogs, and lambs will be sold at public auction. Logan Wright of Wayland will cry the sale.

Friday evening the "Little Olympics" will be stated in front of the grandstand. Trophies will be given. A horse show will also take place Friday evening at 8 p. m. at Curley's Arena.

All exhibits will be released Saturday morning, August 17, at 8 a. m.

Horses, Men Hurt In 2-Car Crash

Two western show horses were injured and two persons were treated by a local physician Saturday afternoon, following a crash at the West City limits.

Police reported that Gustave A. Knochel, 75, of Remington, Indiana, pulled into the side of a car driven by James Loosenart, 20, of Wyoming, near the intersection of Nash Avenue.

Injured with the driver was his passenger, James Klynstra, 22, of Hudsonville. Both men were on their way to a horse show near Flint with two western show horses.

The two horses, traveling in a horse trailer behind the car, were badly cut and a local veterinarian was called to stop the bleeding and quiet them down. They were freed from the trailer, after it had rolled over, by persons on the scene of the accident.

Pep Club Will Sponsor Bread Sale On Saturday

For a project to raise funds to make new banners for the high school gymnasium, the Pep Club of Lowell High will sponsor a homemade bread sale this Saturday, August 10.

The club, composed of students who are enthusiastically promoting school spirit, will have their goods on sale at the Kroger and Eberhard stores from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Diane Christiansen, president of the year-old group, will be supervising the sale this Saturday, along with other members of the governing body.

At the meeting of the City Council on Monday night, Al Roth, of Hubble, Roth and Clark, a Detroit engineering firm, explained the updating of a 1945 water report presented this week to the council.

Checking of test drilling information and water pumping rates, and levels in the west wells on Foreman Street, the engineer reported this area is the most likely spot to secure additional water from.

There are three wells presently in this location, but one provided such a small amount of water that it has been abandoned. The other two wells provide only a portion of the cities summer needs.

Roth told the council that a search in this area should be undertaken at once to try and discover a source of 500 to 600 gallons per minute. Test wells will be drilled west of the present wells on Foreman Street, before moving north and west where the engineer said he was sure there was an abundant supply of water.

Water Trouble Caused By Oil Well
All of Lowell's water trouble can be directly traced to an improperly capped oil well drilled north of the town back in the 1930's. Before this well contaminated the water supply with salt, Lowell had a wonderful supply of excellent quality water.

This well is all that is saving the city from a severe curtailment of water now, even though it is giving the water supply a slight salt taste.

Roth told the council that this well has enough capacity to supply the needs of the city for many years, except for the salt content. This well can be pumped around the clock at 600 gallons per minute.

The engineer reported that by resting this well it can still produce 18 million gallons of salt free water per year.

Accept Bid For Equipment
The low bid of Jackson Motor Sales of $2,880.25 for a truck to carry a tank wagon for the fire department was accepted by the council.

Another additional $1,300 is expected to be needed to purchase a pump and motor for this equipment.

The cost of this is being shared by the City, county fire department, Lowell and Verzennes townships, who jointly own the equipment.

King Doyle of the King Milling Company presented a plan for routing the small trucks loaded with wheat during the harvest rush into the mill without using the Main Street.

Further study will be given this before the 1964 season.

Local Boys Attend Honors Institute

Three Lowell High School seniors spent six weeks this summer attending an Honors Institute for Young Scientists at East Grand Rapids Junior High School and Anquas College.

Taking a course in mathematics was Alex McPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McPherson, Route 1, Lowell, and Ron Hostetler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Hostetler of Alto, James Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boyd, Route 3, Lowell, completed a course in chemistry.

The institute is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the University of Michigan. There were 84 students from 23 different states participating in the summer schedule.

The Lowell boys were picked out of 300 eligible students, who took the exam to enable them to attend. The students furthered their education in the field of science during the institute and spent a week of the course (July 15-19) on the U of M campus, touring the science and math buildings, and getting acquainted with college life.

Soil & Water Conservation Recreation Development Costs High

Conservation Soil and Water farm plans have been completed with James and Henry Picard, Jr. and wife, Alfred Slater and Durwood Reichel, Tyrone township.

The Slaters have made tree plantings, wildlife hedge plantings, and have two fern ponds.

Durwood Reichel deserves credit for soil and water conservation improvements made on his farm that have been the subject of a newspaper article.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaffer of Campau Lake announce the marriage of their daughter, Donna June, to Gerald Batchelor, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Batchelor, sr., of Ionia.

They were married Friday evening, July 26, at the Alma Methodist church. The bride was escorted in a limousine by the Rev. Foy Evers, pastor of the church.

After spending a week in North and Upper Michigan the newlyweds returned and were honored with a reception at the bride's home, Sunday p. m., August 4. Over 80 friends and relatives came to bring them best wishes and many beautiful and useful gifts.

Fibrillation Cause Of Drowning Death

In the summer of 1962, 11 year old William Harley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hurley, 3804 Parkview Avenue, Grand Rapids, was recovered from drowning in a Big Lake. Harley's heart had been shocked into what is called ventricular fibrillation. He was revived by Maurice and Cora Galt, who were with him at the time of the drowning. Harley was a member of the Michigan Heart Association CCR.

At least half the victims of fresh water drownings die from heart stoppage or fibrillation and may be saved by a quick application of CCR. Dr. Larry H. Birch, Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Heart Association CCR committee, declared today.

Mr. Businessman:

Here are ten solid facts you should consider in planning your advertising:

1. The newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED—it is sought after and paid for, and advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.
2. Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in its market area - without overextending into less promising markets.
3. The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.
4. People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act - WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.
5. The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most CONVENIENT to every member of the family.
6. People LIKE TO READ NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS - surveys show 85% of people want their newspapers to contain advertising.
7. Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND FEATURES of interest to every member of the family.
8. Newspaper reading is a habit and a part of people's lives.
9. The printed word is MORE RELIABLE THAN the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it's easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than listening.
10. The newspaper is ideal for comparison-items in a newspaper may be easily compared with items in other newspapers ads.

The most effective and most economical way to promote business is through newspaper advertising.

Ivy Poisoning Is No Joke

Ivy poisoning is no joke. The irritating juice from the little plant puts hundreds in agony every summer and sends thousands more to physicians to get relief from the pain and itching. And countless hundreds of thousands suffer through light cases of ivy poisoning without medical help.

In the United States, poison ivy can be anywhere—in fact, it is almost everywhere. The apartment dweller in the big city who takes an occasional Sunday stroll in the park can get it. Even if you stick to the walks, your dog can bring back the volatile oils on his coat. Smoker from a neighbor's yard can waft droplets into your face.

Poison ivy and its close kin, poison oak and poison sumac, are on the ground they are about as foot high. Usually they are shrubs, trees, ferns. Sometimes they mix with honeysuckle and other climbing plants, and are very hard to detect.

Whether it's ivy, oak or sumac, the results are about the same—a stinging, itching patch of blisters. If the rash gets into the eyes, or spreads over a considerable portion of the body, it can become serious.

There is no simple cure for poison ivy. Lotions and ointments can help to ease the discomfort while the ailment runs its course. Don't waste your money on a quick cure. The best treatment will cure poison ivy. It won't.

The best precaution is to know how to recognize the plants and avoid them. Any good natural history book and many encyclopedias have photos. The main thing to watch for is the three-leafed leaf.

If you have been exposed, wash thoroughly, several times, with warm water and plenty of soap. You might be able to get some of the oil off before it begins to irritate the skin.

Very few people are immune. Some, because they've never had a rash, think so. They've just been lucky. Of course, some people are more susceptible than others, and these unlucky individuals get a rash almost every summer.

Search your lawn and garden for suspicious three-leafed plants. Dig out the plant, root and all, and dispose of it carefully. Clean the hoe and rake thoroughly. Wash your hands right away.

"If you think it's costly to keep a growing boy in clothes, just try feeding him," say the parents of teenagers. I know.

They've just asked yourself a question. "Just how much does it cost to feed Johnny every week?" At present prices, it costs about four dollars a week to feed an infant, at five or six years of age, he's gobbling up five dollars, and the peak comes in the late teens, when he's eating and drinking food and he's getting his hair cut. He's growing needs from seven to nine years, it'll cost you about six dollars and 30 cents; ten to 12 years, eight dollars and 30 cents; 13 to 15 years, nine dollars and 80 cents. But the peak comes in the late teens when he's eating more than his dad, in fact, more than at any time in his life. It's to the tune of 11 dollars and 40 cents, and he's hungry all the time.

No wonder your grocery bills are coming in at $100 a week. You're buying your friends for a snack, the whole week's budget is wrecked. But, remember! All his years of finicky eating and fussing about food and he's glad he now sits up to your good cooking and enjoys it.

Swimming Pools Increase in State

They're building swimming pools faster than the Michigan Department of Health can inspect and approve them. In fact, the health department's Division of Engineering is swamped with plans for new pools.

State regulations require that plans for public swimming pools be approved by the health department before a construction permit can be issued, and that the completed pool be inspected to make sure it has been built according to specifications before an operation permit can be granted.

At the start of the year, there were 778 public pools in the state—298 indoor and 480 outdoor. The total included 293 school pools, 129 in motels and hotels, 21 country and swim club pools, and 71 municipal pools.

During the first six months of the year a record of 52 construction permits for new pools were issued by the health department, including 18 in May, a record for one month. The biggest group of new pools is being built for motels and hotels, and swimming clubs, and ski resorts are also increasing.

However, the number of health department sanitary engineers for approving plans and inspecting new pools has not increased. In fact, the number of sanitary engineers in the Water Supply Section is the only one.

In the past, Hodges has been able to handle the work with construction, but the number of new plans submitted for approval has increased so rapidly that he is unable to handle the work. He has necessary field inspectors, but he has not been able to get 20 percent. As a result, nearly 20 percent of the swimming pools in the state lack operating permits.

Dr. W. L. Mallman, Professor of Bacteriology and Public Health at Michigan State University, has demonstrated the importance of public swimming pool sanitation. By taking water samples from pools, he has shown that in five and five minutes after a group of swimmers enter a pool, he can show an appreciable rise in the number of bacteria present in the water. Without adequate filtration and disinfection, a public swimming pool would be a prime source of infection.

The health aspects of public pools is not all the health department is concerned with. Safety is equally important, if not more so, because accidents are a greater hazard than poor sanitation. Plans should be checked to be sure proper fencing is provided for outdoor pools, that there is no danger from electric wires or power lines near the pool, that the pool has a sloping bottom, that the water will be clear enough to easily spot a swimmer in trouble, and that ladders, diving boards, and other equipment meet safety standards.

Occasionally, people who aren't aware of the state regulations pertaining to public pools have one concern about present swimming pool health department. When they pay, it is sometimes necessary to make extensive alterations or to finish pool covers, and this has been avoided had the health department been consulted in the beginning.

HOW GOD CHANGED A BIT OF MUD

A learned "higher critic" spoke scornfully about God's taking "a piece of mud in hand, breathing on it, and changing it into a man."

There sat one in his audience who knew the saving grace of God. He had the opportunity of replying to the critic of God's Word and said:

"I will not discuss the creation of man with you, but I will tell you this: God stooped down to our town and picked up the dirtiest bit of mud in it. He breathed upon it by His Spirit; it was newly created; changed from a wicked wretch into a man who hated his former sins and loved the God who had saved him. I was that bit of mud."

Miss Kathryn M. Wright and L. Robert McComb were united in marriage Saturday morning in the Cascade Christian Church with the Rev. Raymond Gaylord officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Wright, of Lowell. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McComb of Cascade.

The bride wore a white street-length pleated dress with a small white veiled hat. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Pam Wright, niece of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a street-length white printed dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

October Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kyser, Route 3, Lowell, wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Diana Brewster, to David Lewis Roush, Grand River Avenue, Lowell.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Roush, Jr., of Vienna, West Virginia.

Licenses Are Suspended

Driver's licenses of 475 Michigan motorists were suspended and those of 21 were revoked during the past week by the Michigan Department of State.

Kenneth Wayne Fox, 24, of Clarksville, had his license suspended on July 5, under the financial responsibility act for driving under the influence of liquor.

An unsatisfactory driving record led to the suspension of the license held by Kenneth Errol Gould, Jr., 24, of 1313 Parnell Avenue, Route 1, Lowell. His driving was suspended from July 9, 1963, until September 9.

The license of Larry Lee Dickson, 19, of 6811 Kegel Street, S. E., Alto, was suspended July 15, under the financial responsibility act for driving with unsatisfied judgment.

CARD OF THANKS

My sincere thanks to the friends and relatives for the cards, gifts and calls while I was in the hospital.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our son and brother, Jerry Lee Dalstra, who died August 31, 1961.

You were the finest son and brother. That this world could ever hold.

With such a cheerful disposition, and a heart of pure gold.

And all who knew you surely know how lonely we have been since 2 years ago.

We think of your sayings, and treasure your smile.

Then know you're not lost, only gone for awhile.

We keep in our memory the love of the past. For deep in our hearts it was planted to last.

Sadly missed by

We were much interested in your article in your July 25 issue re Mr. Runciman.

We were living in Lowell then, and remember well that Mrs. Runciman added greatly to the musical side of Lowell.

Her beautiful voice was heard often in the Congregational Church, as also was the controllable voice of Mrs. Clarence Speaker.

We have pleasant memories.

CARD OF THANKS

My deepest appreciation goes to my many friends and neighbors who extended so many acts of kindness during the illness and at the death of my beloved wife, May. Also to Rev. Nelson for his words of comfort, and to Roth Funeral Home for their services. Such kindnesses and neighborly thoughtfulness can never be forgotten.

YOUR MUNICIPAL POWER SYSTEM

One of the biggest—and most essential—businesses in this area is your municipal power system. § Your locally-owned, locally-managed electric utility provides the electric energy you depend on every day. And it serves a growing community through reasonable rates... dependable service... payments to the city's general fund to help operate the municipal government... a sizeable payroll... local purchasing of materials and supplies. § All of this comes from the money you pay for electricity, without the use of a cent of tax money. § To keep electric service at your fingertips, your consumer-owned electric utility uses modern equipment, trained personnel, modern methods—to operate a big business on an efficient, economical basis!
