ALL OF US at Bell Telephone are constantly seeking ways to keep our costs down. For example, Western Electric, our manufacturing and supply unit, has found a way of using a new, less costly plastic to produce six sets of telephone parts for the ormer cost of five. Such reductions in costs help us offset the rise in other costs. This never-ending search for savings is an important reason your telephone remains one of the biggest bargains in your home today.

MANY FOLKS who don't see their out-of-town relatives or close friends very often have developed the pleasant habit of visiting them every week at the same time—by telephone. Knowing that the person they want to talk with will be there at that time, they call station-to-station instead of person-to-person. "Station" calls cost less than "person" calls. And they go through faster, because in most cases you can dial them yourself. Why not phone tonight?

true that no money is paid to th When a young man thinks of his foreign purchaser, But the FACT mother he wants to get married remains he gets the benefit of th and when he thinks of his sister subsidy and that is the essentia point. Every bushel of wheat sold to the Soviet Union will cost the Communists about 60 cents les than it will cost an American. The subsidy goes to the exporter, not -WANTEDto the Russian purchaser. The Rus sian gets wheat at a lower price than an American. The difference is paid by the Americans. On October 10th the export subsidy on wheat was 56 cents a bushel with the world price at $1.77 and the equivalent cost to American purchasers at $2.33. To sell the 150 million bushels of wheat to the Soviets will cost the American taxpayers $84 million in subsidy benefits for the Communists And another fact should be en phasized: On October 10th wheat was selling in Russia for about $2.50 a bushel in American dollars. This is 73 cents above the world price. While taking into account ransportation costs, it is clear that the Kremlin will also realize a tidy profit on the U.S. wheat deal when it can buy at the low world price and sell at the higher

Furthermore in approving the wheat sale, the President ignored and negated the clearly stated policy of the Congress that sub sidized farm products should not be sold to Russia. This policy was stated in a law signed by Mr. Kennedy on August 8, 1961.

'I have always favored the use of our surplus agricultural commodities to assist the needy at hom and abroad, provided those abroa were not aiming to destroy us. I'm lling to give away our products hen this means preservation of life and health. I can defend the lies and true neutrals. But the sale of tax-subsidized wheat to com munist conspirators who would "bury us" is in an entirely different category, Certainly all of us can understand the implications of the fact that only two days after President announced his apoval of the wheat deal the Comnunists held up for hours a U. Army convoy on the highway leading into Berlin.

Junior Varsity Play Sparta Here Thursday

Lowell Junior Varsity will meet Sparta Junior Varsity here on team which has a 2-3 season to date. The Freshman Team will tess. play at Greenville on Thursday afternoon at 4:15.

Defeat Cedar Springs 35-6 The Arrow Junior Varsity beat Cedar Springs last Thursday evening at the Cedar Springs field tend.

Cedar Springs kicked off to Low ell and on the first set of downs the Junior Varsity's marched 70 yards with Dan Finkler scoring the touchdown on a end run good for 5 yards, Jerry Dykstra ran the Cedar Springs was held and Lowell maintained possession of the ball. Late in the 1st quarter Jerry Dykstra scored from the 10 on an end-around play, the try for point

During the 2nd quarter Lowell continued to hold possession of the ball and John Briggs scored from the 10, Collins passed to Paul Haywood for the extra point and the Arrows led 20-0. Lowell took the opening kick off the second half and moved up the field 80 yards to score. Cedar Springs came back and scored from the one after three tries, they failed to make the extra point. On Cedar Springs kick off to Lowell Dan Finkler took the ball on Lowell's 20 and with real good blocking scored on a 80 yard run back, the extra point was good on a sweep around the right end by Pat Hoag making the score 27-6 at the end of the 3rd quarter. Lowell scored one more tally in the final quarter on a pass from Brad Fonger to Tom Herblet covering 35 yards, Fonger sneaked through for the extra point.
