Matmen come from behind to win; will meet Belding in final match

Last Wednesday night Lowell traveled to Cedar Springs, and after being behind 15 to 14, with only 4 matches to go, the matmen came through with all 4 wins and downed Cedar by a score of 26 to 15.

This meet saw Jerry Lipscomb reverse his only defeat of the year by beating Hughes 8 to 4. The last time these two boys met, Hughes beat Jerry 2 to 1 by stalling.

Lowell also had a new 95-lb wrestler. Dale Finkler in his first varsity match did a fine job by beating Pierce 8 to 3. Tom Bishop, wrestling 112-lbs. was pinned by Cook in 3:24. At 120-lbs. Pat Hoag was pinned by Towns in 5:14. Mike Foss, wrestling in the 127-lb. class this week beat Nelson 7 to 6.

In a very unusual match, in the 133-lb. class, Barry Hunt and Jim Oliver wrestled to a nothing to nothing draw. At 138-lbs. McPherson decided Fink 9 to 2, and at 145-lbs. Strecker beat Myers 9 to 1.

Ron Hostetter, at 154-lbs., beat Huff 8 to 0. At 165-lbs. Ty Wessell looked the best he has all year, and defeated Jones 12 to 4. In a very close match, Mike Serne at 180-lbs. decision Reed 2 to 1. In the heavyweight division Jim Hostetter again looked very good by beating McMullan 12 to 4.

This meet saw another very unusual situation in that Lowell did not have a pin. This meet ended with Lowell having 8 decision and 1 draw with Cedar having 2 pins, 1 decision and 1 draw.

Next Wednesday night, February 12th, Lowell ends its regular season with Belding. This promises to be one of the finest meets of the year in which the championship could be decided. Lowell remains unbeaten, and Belding is in second place. The first time the matmen met Belding, they came out on top by a score of 25 to 19 with the meet being decided in the heavyweight match.

Belding has 8 very fine wrestlers in McNich at 95-lbs., Shindorf (last year's conference champ) at 112-lbs., Pierson at 120-lbs., Luscombe at 127 and Bird at 133. Chickering at 145-lbs. was this year's Zeeland tournament champion. Wilson at 180-lbs. and Jones in the heavyweight division.

We lost 5 of these 8 matches in the last meeting, and the boys are out to see what they can do about this in their last meeting. Remember next Wednesday night at 7 p. m. in the Lowell gym.

Three boxers win in Golden Gloves

The Lowell Athletic Club ended the first round of Golden Gloves competition at the Civic Auditorium Monday night with three victories and three defeats.

Terry Blough, a 160-lb. novice fighter from Alto, scored a TKO in the 2nd round of his fight. He downed Robert Phillips of Seidman Center in 1:25.

A knockout in the 3rd round of a 126-pound novice fight was scored by Jim "Lefty" Briggs, High Street, Lowell. Briggs' opponent, Ron Jones, of Seidman Center met his match in 1:03 of the 3rd round.

Lowell's Ron Worden won a decision over John Snead of Seidman Center in the 147-pound novice bouts.

Gary Monda of Saranac lost on a TKO; Andrew Hutson on a KO; and Jim Hutson on a KO.

Wednesday night, the second phase of elimination process started in the Civic Auditorium arena. The fighters who win will box again on Saturday and make their bids for a West Michigan championship in the Golden Gloves.

Lowell should be proud of these boys in the fact that the Lowell Athletic Club was started only a few weeks ago, under the able supervision of Jim Hutson of Lowell. And despite the short training period the boys were able to carry out, they fared very well in the first round of competition.

Funeral services held for Capt. John Wygmans, 36

Friends and relatives of the K. S. Rickert family are grieved over the untimely death, on January 15th, of Capt. John E. Wygmans, M.C., age 36, a career doctor in the U.S. Army the past four years at San Antonio, Texas.

"Gene", as he was affectionately called here, had just returned to Texas from his tour of duty in Korea the past year, and was planning to visit his Michigan relatives around February 1st.

He was a graduate of Moody Bible Institute, attended pre-med at Michigan State University, and graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1938. He interned at Fort Benning, Georgia, New Martin Army Hospital, and had been at the Brooke Army Hospital, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, until his Korean tour of duty, where he was Chief-of-Staff of the out-patient clinic.

Dr. Wygmans received many medals and citations, among them the American Legion Gold Medal of Merit to the Neurology Service Ward, for having contributed most significantly. His career had been mapped out for him for the next ten years, planned toward administrative duty.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Harold C. Farmer, of Lansing, his grandmother, Mrs. K. S. Rickert, now of Lansing, Mrs. Elaine Wygmans, and four children, of Grand Rapids; his aunts, uncles and cousins, the Glenn Rickert and Victor Clemenz families of Lowell.

Teen in the beam this week is Juliann Ellen Erler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Erler, of 209 South Jefferson in Lowell. She has been an active member of her class during her four years of high school as well as establishing an enviable academic record for herself.

Music is her biggest interest, claiming much of her time after school. She has been a band member all through high school and has served as a twirler for the last three years. As a musician Juliann has received many honors; being named to the Central Michigan University "Honors" Band, Michigan State University "Honors" Band, and to both the Tri-Rivers Select Band and the All-Star Band for two years.

Other activities that she has participated in are Pep Club, Varsity Choir, Student Council, Future Teachers, Debate Club, Latin Club and French Club. As a Junior she served on the Junior Play committee and this year, as a senior, was in the Senior Play cast.

As previous work experience, Juliann lists 2 years of working at the Lowell Public Library. Presently Juliann is self-employed, giving baton twirling and clarinet lessons four nights a week. Looking towards the future Juliann says she plans to attend Western Michigan University majoring in music. Hats off to a fine senior student!

Plan first step

William C. Fucik of the Planning Division of the Michigan Department of Economic Expansion was in Lowell on Tuesday evening to talk to the Lions Club. He was invited here by Gordon Hill who asked Governor Romney for a speaker to give Lowell a plan to help the economic climate of the community.

The Michigan Planning Division of the Department of Economic Expansion is the unit in charge of the planning in Michigan communities under the Federal 701 program. Lowell is now in the process of developing a master plan under Scott Bagby, Grand Rapids planning consultant.

The speaker, in his discussion of planning for economic expansion of the City of Lowell, was quick to point out that any improvements in this city would come from the community itself. No federal or state agency can come to Lowell, wave a magic wand and make things better. Improvements must come from the citizens efforts in the local community.

Master Plan Necessary
The development of a master plan for the city as is now underway, with meetings of the planning commission on the fourth Monday of each month at the City Hall, as an important step.

All future participation by federal and state agencies in economic development in Lowell will stem from the original master planning. Every citizen in the community should study and present their ideas to the planning commission at this stage to enable the master plan to include all possible phases in the growth of the city.

Mr. Fucik told the group of Lions Club members and guests from the community that he would be happy to return to discuss in more detail the planning and the city development at any time.

Blacktopping projects on the agenda include 84th Street between Snow and Morse Lake Avenue, S. E., $25,000; Patterson Avenue between 28th and 36th Streets, S. E., $23,150; and 52nd Street between Bancroft and Alden Nash Avenues, S. E., at $15,000.

Kauffman children skate in Winter Olympics

Ron Kauffman, 17, and his 15-year-old sister, Cindy, grandchildren of Mrs. Clara Kauffman of Clarksville, Michigan, finished eighth in the figure skating for pairs Thursday in Olympic competition at Innsbruck, Austria.

Mrs. Kauffman is an aunt of Mrs. Elmer Ellis, who gave us the following information. Mrs. Kauffman, who is in her eighty-third year, lives on the same farm where she started house-keeping with her husband, Hiram, now deceased, and raised a family of eight children, all living.

She met her son, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kauffman and children, from Seattle Washington, in January at Cleveland, Ohio, where she had the pleasure of seeing Ron and Cindy skate just before they left to go to Austria to compete in the Olympics.

Cagers travel to Cedar Springs Friday

Lowell will travel to Cedar Springs on Friday night to test their unbeaten basketball season record. They have a 9-0 season going into this week's game.

Mike McMahon who has been a strong reserve member of the team is out for the remainder of the season on doctor's orders.

Last Friday, Lowell defeated Comstock Park 79 to 55, to keep moving to a show down on February 14, when second place Sparta will be here to give the Arrows a real go for the league championship.

Paul Kronf led in scoring with 24; Abel 13, and Elzinga 12. Comstock tried the stall to keep the score low, but only succeeded in going into the second period with a 17 to 1 disadvantage.

Dick Green to address adult farmers' forum

The first meeting of the Lowell Area Adult Farmer Forum will be this Thursday evening, February 6, at 8 p. m. in the new high school Ag. room (A-5).

The committee for planning this year's meetings is Allen Wisner, Don Yeiter, Paul Detmers and Don Shores, and some very good programs are in the ofing, which should be interesting and informative for a great many farmers.

This week's kick-off speaker is the long-time favorite, Dick Green from M.A.B.C. in Lansing. Dick's official title, for publication that is, is Director of Information, and he always comes up with an enjoyable and meaningful presentation.

It is a safe bet that our customarily insipid coffee will be had enough to dwarf the other problems facing today's agriculturalists, but we will have fresh, store-bought doughnuts to sort of balance the ration. All interested farmers are not only welcome, but are extended our cordial invitation to attend these meetings.

Home award to Sherry Johnhon

Personnel at Lowell Senior High School were notified last week that Sherry Johnson, a 17 year old senior, is their school's 1964 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Sherry received the highest score of any senior girl in a written knowledge and attitude examination given at the school December 3, 1963. General Mills Inc., sponsor of the program, will award her a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" pin to signify her achievement at Class Day exercises for graduating seniors next May, and her test paper will be entered in competition for state honors.

The state Homemaker of Tomorrow will be awarded a $1,500 college scholarship and will be named a national finalist. Her school will be presented with a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica, awarded by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The state's second ranking girl will receive a $500 scholarship.

In the spring, state Homemakers of Tomorrow, each accompanied by a school advisor, will enjoy an expensio-paid educational tour to Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, Washington, D.C., and New York City. The trip will be climaxed with the naming of the 1964 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. ## Crash wagon stolen

A truck specially equipped with fire and first aid equipment that is being used for airplane accidents at the New Kent County airport, was stolen by an intoxicated 21-year-old Howard City man, early Tuesday and wrecked.

The crash wagon, valued at $8,000, was driven into a ditch, where it struck a culvert.

The man was treated at Blodgett Hospital for cuts and bruises, and upon release was taken to the county jail.

Just prior to taking the county truck, he lost control of his father's late model car on a road near the airport and crashed the vehicle against the guard rails.

Investigation is still underway on the incident as the unidentified man failed to give the authorities a very clear story.

Cautious, erratic driver is hazard

Two traffic safety experts said recently the driver who causes the most accidents is the overly cautious, erratic motorist.

Bruce D. Greenhalghs, of the University of Michigan transportation institute, and Fletcher Platt, of Ford Motor Co., made the report at the Society of Automotive Engineers convention.

The study which they made of driving habits included the driver's handling of the steering wheel and his applications of the accelerator and brake pedal in varying situations.

They said fatigue, distraction, impaired visibility and inexperience all tend to increase a driver's tendency toward steering habits which could get him into trouble.

In another paper, Kenneth A. Stonex, automotive safety engineer with General Motors, said more than 20,000 lives could be saved annually on the nation's highways if two things were done.

Stonex listed the first as removal of all roadside obstructions, such as trees and buildings which are close to highways and a hazard to cars which might run off the pavement.

Stonex's second suggestion was the reduction in a number of highways with two-way traffic. In a study of single car accidents he said many of the collisions are head-on and that if future roads had all traffic going in one direction, it would cut down the hazard.

PLEUN LOCK, 67 area farmer dies suddenly

Plen Lock of 612 Forest Hills Road, S. E., passed away unexpectedly last Wednesday, January 22, at his 67th birthday.

He was a lifelong resident of Kent County, and a dairy farmer in the Cascade area for 50 years. He was a member of the Farm Bureau and attended Eastmont Reformed Church.

Surviving Mr. Lock are his wife, Jennie; three sons, Russell L., Carl J. and Robert L.; two daughters, Mrs. Alan Stowell of Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Carol Lynn Lock at home; two brothers, Martin and Leonard Lock of Grand Rapids; three sisters, Mrs. J. D. Roolofs, Mrs. Corneilus J. Jasperse and Miss Henrietta Lock of Grand Rapids; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon in the Jonkhoff Chapel with Rev. Robert Eggelbeen and Elder Charles Lacey officiating. Burial was in Rosedale Memorial Park.

So, let's all put February 18 on our calendar now, and plan to attend the meeting.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SOIL CONSERVATION

The Kent Soil Conservation Districts invite you all to attend the Districts' Annual Meeting, to be held at the North Park American Legion Legion Hall.

The meeting will start at 8 p. m. After the election of officers there will be a presentation of awards to 12 farmers and one F.F.A. Chapter for their outstanding work in the field of Soil and Water Conservation.

All owners or operators of 3 acres of land or more in Kent County are eligible to vote in this election. There are over 1200 District Cooperators and over 4000 other people eligible to vote, but in the past we have been lucky to have 100 votes cast. The Directors would like to see more of you people at the meeting.

Robert Brouwer of Grand Rapids will show pictures of the Northeastern part of the United States. The title of his presentation is "Of Thee We Sing". This is a new set of pictures and any of the people who attended last year's meeting will agree: he does a splendid job.

Special school for child adjustment bilily is an intelligent but overly aggressive 10-year-old, yet his work is on a par with an average second grader.

Susan, age 10, does fairly well academically, but is constantly nervous and fearful of other children.

These two youngsters, whose behavior is so different from typical fifth graders, are among 40 inpatients attending an unusual school in the Children's Psychiatric Hospital at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Here Billy and Susan get daily classroom instruction. Billy receives additional remedial help, and both are encouraged to participate in extra-curricular activities.

School children at CPH are grouped in classes of five or six, sometimes less. Daily schedules of schoolwork, remedial therapy, psychological and occupational therapy and recreational therapy continue 12 months a year.

Like most schools, CPH has a "Principal." He is James W. Marshall, recently promoted to the position after serving as assistant principal since August 1962.

Marshall has known the U-M Medical Center all his life. Beginning with his grandparents in 1922, twenty of his relatives

Mardi Gras Saturday

Men of the Holy Name Society of St. Robert's Church, Ada, will sponsor a "Mardi Gras" this Saturday evening, February 6, in the church auditorium.

Helping the general chairman Ronald Holmes, left, test some of the noise making equipment are Ray Reynolds, center, decorations chairman, and Ed Bunda, president of the Holy Name Society.

Ray Moore's Dixieland Band will be playing the background music for the masked ball, which will start at 9 p. m. The dance is open to the public.

Each guest in attendance will receive a free mask, refreshments, door prizes, and flowers for the ladies. Also on the agenda for the evening is a surprise drawing.

The set-up committee is composed of Paul Roy, John Lane, Robert A. Johnson, Robert T. Johnson, George Grochowalski, William Hakken, Donald Strazisar, and Robert Kerpjes.

Besides being chairman of the decorating committee, Mr. Reynolds is working on the entertainment committee for the fun-filled evening. Paul Roy, also heads the clean-up group.

Publicity for this year's event is being handled by Bernard Birdford, and ticket distribution and membership is being conducted by Chester Loticki and his committee.

The committee selected to set the door prizes is being headed by Robert Doyle, and James Boylan has charge of the refreshment committee.

Mr. Businessman:

Here are ten solid facts you should consider in planning your advertising:

- 1. The newspaper is an advertising medium that is WANTED—it is sought after and paid for, and advertising in it is not an intruder in the home.
2. Nearly all of a newspaper's circulation is CONCENTRATED in its market area - without overextending into less promising markets.
3. The newspaper provides PENETRATION in the primary market by reaching virtually every family or customer in that market.
4. People read newspaper ads when they are ready to make a decision and to act - WHEN THEY'RE READY TO BUY.
5. The newspaper is convenient; it may be consulted at a time most CONVENIENT to every member of the family.
6. People LIKE TO READ NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENTS - surveys show 85% of people want their newspapers to contain advertising.
7. Every issue of every newspaper contains INFORMATION AND FEATURES of interest to every member of the family.
8. Newspaper reading is a habit and a part of people's routine.
9. The printed word is MORE RELIABLE THAN the spoken word and it cannot be refuted because it's easily available for re-checking. More accurate information is obtained by reading than listening.
10. The newspaper is ideal for comparison-items in a newspaper may be easily compared with items in other newspaper ads.

The most effective and most economical way to promote business is through newspaper advertising.

HOW DO YOU USE IT?

The Lord's Day

Sunday has been called The Lord's Day by Christians since the beginning of the Christian era. The Savior arose on the first day of the week designating it as The Lord's Day. The Apostle John wrote "I was in the Spirit on the Lord's Day" in the book of The Revelation.

The question may well be asked whether many Christians really understand what the Lord's Day means today. For many the Lord's Day seems to begin and end with a holy hour on Sunday morning or as long as they are wearing their Sunday go-to-meeting clothes. In fact many leave the church sanctuary only to head for the neighborhood grocery store.

How about Sunday afternoons? Do we spend them in the spirit of the Lord's Day?

How about Sunday evenings? Formerly almost all Christians returned to church for the Sunday evening service. Do you attend an evening service in church to close the Lord's Day as you began it?

We invite you to our evening service which is well attended. We treat it as being just as important as the morning service. It is a wonderful hour of worship and praise, and it is a wonderful way to close the Lord's Day.

The biggest coin ever made was Sweden's 24-inch long, 44-pound copper "X-Daler" (ten-dollar) piece issued in 1664. The man you help is bound to remember you—the next time he gets into trouble. Amnesia would be welcome to a lot of women who want to forget their ages.

From The Counselor's Desk

"WHAT IS GUIDANCE?"

This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the role of guidance counseling in the educational systems.)

Historically the term guidance has been used in the field of education to designate the assistance given to students in the solution of problems that lay outside the area of classroom teaching situations. Instruction, the principal function of the school, is facilitated or hindered by social, economic, and other key factors in the students life outside the classroom. The student may have the social problem of making a satisfactory adjustment to his fellow students. He may face the economic problem of financing his present and future education. He may face the emotional problem created by failures in school subjects.

These problems obviously cannot be solved in the classroom. Guidance counseling provides a means of solving such student problems.

There was a time when American schools assumed they fulfilled all their responsibilities when they provided instruction for students. Whether the students profited or could profit from the school work was secondary in importance. A survive or perish attitude was taken. All too many students did the later by dropping out of school before they should.

As schools increased its knowledge of individual differences in learning and became aware of the many connected problems it paid greater attention to the individual. It was discovered individual guidance was not a luxury but an absolute necessity. The rapid changes in modern life hastened this educational revolution.

The complexities of modern life and the changes that have taken, have been brought about by specialization mean that our young people are being faced with more pressures and problems than ever before.

They are finding the older patterns of thinking and acting inadequate guides in these new situations. For these reasons, people as individuals are in greater need of assistance today than they were in the past.

The primary purpose of guidance is to help the individual to understand himself. Through individual help it is hoped he can make the most of his capacities and interest, adjust to his total environment, and develop the ability to make his own decisions wisely. Thus he will have the best chance to make himself a worthy contribution to society.

To accomplish these purposes on the high school level a guidance program must consist based on five basic things:

1. Complete, cumulative records of the student
2. Occupational information, for the student
3. Counselor student conferences
4. Job placement service
5. A follow-up program of students

These various function of a guidance counselor will be discussed in future articles in this series so that the individual parent might better understand the program as a whole.

In all guidance work the basic attitude must be that the individual is of central importance. In accordance with this attitude it must strive to develop the individual in an all-around fashion to the limit of his potentialities. The task of the school is to make use of all its resources available to the individual student so that he can learn to make wise decisions and solve his problems independently. The success of this program depends upon the whole hearted cooperation among teachers and specialized guidance workers within the school system; and between guidance workers in college and in business and industry. Through a thorough understanding of what guidance means to you and your family we as parents, teachers, and businessmen can give our youth a better foundation on which to begin their careers as adults.
