Lowell to host hot rod show

Lowell will play host to its first Rod and Custom Show, sponsored by the Muskegon Road Gents, on April 17, 18 and

The show, to be held in the building at the 4-H grounds, will feature hot rods, customs, midgets, factory racing cars, racing boats, go-karts, antiques and classics. Variety will be added to the show with a Hootennany, twist dancing, racing movies, and queen's contest.

Cars on display at the show will be from Detroit, Muskegon, Holland Grand Rapids and Cedar Springs. Other entries will also be made by rod and custom enthusiasts.

Two of the highlights of the show will be the appearance of Ray Taylor of Detroit with his dragster "El Cobra," and Jim Byerly of Cascade with his dragster "the Albino Dinosaur."

Taylor's car is an aircraft twin engine powered dragster, the only one of its kind in the world. Byerly, who will make his bid for the land speed record at the Salt Falts in Bonneville, Utah, this summer, will show his Allison aircraft power-

Proceeds from the show, will be used to defray the expenses Byerly will encounter for the Bonneville trip.

Trophies for the show are being donated by the car dealers of Lowell, who will also have several cars on exhibit.

"RICH-MON" HERD PREFIX Jerrold Richmond, Lowell, Michigan, will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Rich-Mon" in naming all Registered Holstein animals bred in that herd from now on. Use of this prefix name has been granted by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont.

The back log of justice court ficer accepted the motion of the driver's attorney to reduce the charge to reckless driving.

Arrested this week-end and charged with minors in possession were James McFall. 20. Steve Hostetler, 20, and Tony Myers, 17, all of Lowell.

They appeared in Justice Rit-tenger's court on Monday morning and pleaded not guilty. This case will join the other eight cases awaiting trial. Rittenger said that the trials will be held in Lowell City Hall, with a five or six man jury. A representative from the staff of Lowell City Attorney Richard VanderVeen will handle the prosecution for the city.

The list of jurors as prepared and submitted to Justice Rittenger last week included the following: Harold Jefferies, Lylia Johnson, Ron Fish, John Are-hart, Anna Ellis, Al Hermans, Robert Hahn, Phil Davenport, Olive Collins, Virginia Myers, Barbara Vos, Loren Wolhford, Leonard Andrews, Maude Adrianse, Carolyn Barrus, Norman Borgerson, Phyllis Jones, Walter Gumser. The jurors for the first case will be picked from

Don Dilly member of I. U. basebail team

Don Dilly, a sophomore stu-dent at Indiana University, and regular on the 1963 football squad, is making a place for himself on the baseball team. At the spring practice in Texas last week, he proved his worth on the pitching mound and at the plate.

In a game early in the week, he pitched a no-hitter into the 11th inning, when Indiana was downed when he allowed two hits. Later in the week while playing center field he hit a double to win the game for the

Benton Harbor wins tourney

On Saturday, March 28, the Lowell Y.M.C.A was host for the Western Michigan District Basketball Tournament. Benton Harbor Township "Y" Lowell "Y", Grand Rapids West "Y", and Niles "Y" entered the competition. There were two disappointing feature of the tournament. First, the team from Niles did not make the trip; second, there was not enough competition for the team from Benton Harbor. Benton Harbor was far superior over the other

The first game scheduled was Lowell vs. Niles. Lowell won the game by forfeit. Benton Harbor played Grand Rapids West "Y" and defeated them by a score of 104-49. The final was set: Lowell vs. Benton Harbor, Lowell put up a good fight for the first quarter which ended 25-15, but playing with just five men could not keep up with the blistering pace, ball hawking, and height of the Benton Harbor team. The final score read 122-

Lowell was led in scoring by Paul Draper with 8 points. Terry Dawson and Chas Keil had 7 points each.

The final standings read first place Benton Harbor, second Lowell, third, Grand Rapids West, and fourth Niles.

Will revamp CD group

A program to revamp the Civ-il Defense organization in Lowell, is underway this week, under the direction of Frank Stephens, Route 3, Lowell.

In case of a tornado, attack, or other hazardous conditions, the civil defense group will be able to begin rescue work, aid the injured and look after the

In order to bring the records of the local group up-to-date, persons who have chain saws are asked to contact Mr. Stephens (TW 7-9869), or Police Chief Avery Block (TW 7-7123).

Information is also needed concerning the persons who have station wagons available to be used as ambulances, citizens who operate ham radios, the nurses available, and all residents who can assist in any way.

The last tornado to leave a path of destruction through the Lowell and Alto area was in April of 1956. Since that time, high winds have caused considerable damage in the area, several tornado warnings have been issued, but no funnelshaped cloud, spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thunder cloud with its roar of hundreds of airplanes, has paid us a visit.

Hot, sticky days with southerly winds and threatening, ominous sky, are described as typical tornado weather. In most cases, a tornado moves from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest. Violent winds uproot trees, destroy buildings, and create a serious hazard from objects blown through the air. Difference in air pressure can lift automobiles and cause a buildng to collapse.

Persons in the Lowell area are urged to contact the civil defense authorities to help them bring their registration list and emergency files up to

The board of directors of Lowell Showboat have been meeting every week for the past month, and have much of the planning for the '64 Showboat well start-

First order of business has been making the seating more attractive and work will be started soon to allow more space for every seat in the lower temporary bleachers. Work will also be started on making necessary repairs to the upper permanent

C. H. Runciman, chairman of the talent committee, has been in touch with several booking agents but the head-liner for this year's show has not been selected as vet.

The board at their meeting last week gave a unanimous vote of thanks and approval of the work of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walter who arranged the music and directed the 1963 chorus. It was also voted by the board to make every effort to get this talented couple to continue as music and chorus directors this coming year.

Employ Publicity Man At the meeting of the board on Tuesday night, Frank Hall, the Press and a Grand Rapids public relations organization, was employed to handle publicity and advertising on the '64 Showboat.

Also considered at this week's meeting was continuing with a pre-show ski exhibition. Every effort is being made to make the show shorter because of the complaints about seating. Final decision on continuing with this part of the entertainment will be made later.

was snowed out of its first full German exchange student scale practice session Monday afternoon. The pitching staff of John Briggs, Bill Bouck, Mei Byrne, "Mac" McIver, Paul Kropf, and Russ Videan have been throwing steadily for 2 weeks and were ready to give the fielders a steady dose of batting practice, but the weatherman didn't cooperate.

> It appears that all practices this week will be held in the junior high school gym. Because of keen competition at several positions, the varsity players are eager to get started. Bill Bouck and Paul Kropf, both lettermen first basemen, are back this year. Denny Sisson is on hand to play second base for the fourth season; his competition will come from Tony Myers. The most interesting competition will be on the left side of the infield. Starting at the top of the picture and going from left to right are: 1st row: Lois Kau'fman; 2nd row: Joanne Myers, and Lois Steffens; 3rd row: Linda Litachewski and Linda Odell; 4th row: Sue Smith and Sandy Steffens; 5th row: Patsy Ellis, Susan McMahon, Tammy Goodwin, Carol Koewers, and Shirley Biggs; 6th row: Colleen Rittersdorf, Sandy Tousignaut, Joyce Kelley, Bunny Harris, Suzanne Salgeon, and Gerri DeForest; 7th row: Gloria Hale, Alice Tower, and Diane Wissman. The Pompon dancers appeared at all home football and basketball games and added a colorful spark to the halftime activities. These girls put in many hours of preparation before each appearance and deserve a good deal of credit for the fine job they have done this year in repre-senting their school. Miss Kay Wood, sponsor of the Pompon dancers and checrleaders, has devoted many of her hours to these girls as they prepared for each week's activities.

THURSDAY PRAYER MEETING .

The three sad days are quickly sped; He rises glorious from the dead: All glory to our risen Head! Alleluia!

The pow'rs of death have done their worst, He closed the yawning gates of hell, But Christ their legions hath dispersed;

Let shouts of holy joy outburst! Alleluia!

The bars from heav'n's high portals fell: Let hymns of praise His triumphs tell!

Lord! by the stripes which wounded Thee, From death's dread sting Thy servants free, That we may live and sing to Thee. Alleluia!

the Kent County Volunteer Fire Department, attended the 36th annual Fire Department Instructor's Conference in Ellis Auditorium at Memphis, Tennessee, March 24 to 27, for four days of study and discussion of latest fire prevention and fire control methods.

One of the principal subjects on this year's program was discussion of fire control problems posed by three recent fire disasters occurring in an Indiana colosseum, an Ohio nursing home, and a Florida hotel in each of which there was a high loss in lives.

Maryland's Governor Millard Tawes was the keynote speaker at this four day program which, among its 40-odd program items, included subjects on industrial plant protection, personal safety of firemen in attacking fires, new firemen's training procedures, and new fire fighting methods, the latter shown in a number of outdoor demonstra-
