Plan downtown farmers market

Plans are underway this week to survey farm families in the area to discover if there is any interest in an open air "farmers market" in the downtown area this summer.

Marcel Kropf, president of the Chamber of Commerce is requesting any farm family who would like to bring their produce into Lowell and sell it in a centrally located market area to contact him, Dick Beimers or Dean Manigold. Last year there were several in the community who said they would like to hold a market day once a week, if there was enough interest, and the Chambers plans to develop such a market. Saturday afternoon and evening have been suggested, as the best time, but the commit-tee would go along with the majorities choice of time.

on Bailey Drive. Following refreshments, Mrs. Bruce Tower, President of the club introduced the speaker; George Mueller of the Kent County Park Commission.

Mr. Mueller reviewed the recent acquisition of additional acreage by the Park Commission for the expansion of Fallasburg Park along the east bank of Flat River north of the covered bridge. Negotiations are being completed with the Lowell School District for the old Fallasburg one room school building and grounds.

Interest in Fallasburg Heritage has been growing recently through the steadily increasing number of visitors to the area, particularly the Old Covered Bridge.

Mr. Mueller expressed hope that the eventual outcome for Kent Co. will be reconstructed Fallasburg Village similar to Greenfield Village at Dearborn, Michigan. In fact, plans are now being drawn for the start of such a project.

According to available records, the first white settler to make his home in what is now Fallasburg arrived in 1837, while Lowell was still an Indian Village. He was John Wesley Fallass, about twenty five years old from near Ithaca, York. Several months later a brother, Silas S. Fallass, a doctor, arrived and settled on a farm a half mile west of Flat River.

Retween 1845 and 1850 another brother, two sisters and their parents came to the settlement which by then became known as Fallassburg. In later years one S was dropped from the

In a few years the village grew to about two hundred inhabitants according to Edwin Fallas whose father and mother and seven children, came from Dryden, New York in 1845 in a covered wagon. The village was most prosperous between 1850 and 1856. The principal industry was lumber.

The sawmill, operated by water power, was erected in 1839 by a Mr. Hecox. It was a three story frame building, housing a chair factory on the third floor. The gristmill was also a three story building, built in 1840 by John W. Fallass. There were also two general stores, two shoe and harness shops, two blacksmith shops, a public school, a private school, a Post Office and about eighteen dwellings.

The old stage coach route from Ionia to Grand Rapids passed through the village. About 1856 the surveyors located the old D & M railroad now the Grand Trunk through Lowell which terminated the growth of Fallasburg and it gradually diminished in size until today only a few of the original buildings remain. The first bridge to span the Flat River was built in the spring of 1839 and was replaced by a second bridge in 1844. This bridge survived for five years and was followed by a third built in 1849. This one was constructed of hardwood and consisted of two spans with a wooden center pier and abutments, on which was laid a plank floor just wide enough to accommodate a single horse drawn vehicle. Timber railings on each side defined the limits of the roadway.

The fourth bridge was primarily a reconstruction of the third bridge built in 1860 by Jared N. Brasee and lasted until the spring flood of 1871 when an ice jam damaged the center pier and the bridge collapsed.

Early in the summer of 1871 work started on the present structure. Jared N. Brasee and Company was the builder. It was constructed of white pine grown near Greenville, and floated down Flat river. The original abutments were of timber. The superstructure is a single span one hundred feet long, of the familiar lattice work design. The roadway is fourteen feet wide between trusses and twelve feet high from floor to top chord bracing. It is house with a peaked roof and vertical plank sides to keep out rain and snow to prevent rotting.

The original cost of this bridge was $1,500.00. In January of 1945 the Kent County Road Commission replaced the abutments with concrete and otherwise strengthened the bridge at a cost of $3,000.00. It is the only timber bridge in Kent County still being used by vehicular traffic.

Present plans call for a reconstructed mill, a museum, a country store, the restored country school, arts and craft shops and other authentic attractions to preserve the Heritage of Fallasburg. This could become the outstanding tourist attraction in West Michigan with a potential of many thousands of vistors each year. It is hoped that Lowell and surrounding cities will place highway signs directing interested tourists to

The Lowell Red Arrows opened their baseball season Saturday afternoon against the Ionia Bulldogs by dropping the open-er 5-3 and winning the night cap 2-1 of a hard fought double header at Recreation Park.

Good pitching and sharp defenses were the outstanding features of the two games. Poor spring weather definitely took a toll on the hitters of both schools. Coach Vern Morse used the warm weather to get a look at the whole team, and six different pitchers toiled on the mound for the Red Arrows.

The Arrows took a 2 to 1 lead into the 7th inning in the first game and then the Bulldogs leveled a 4 run blast at Lowell's pitchers Bill Bouck and John Briggs to wrap up the game. Paul Kropf and Russ Videan hurled the first 6 innings for Lowell yielding 1 run on 3 hits.

The Arrows made the most of a double and a single by Mac McIver and a double by Abe DeYoung to score three

The second game was another hard fought pitcher's battle. Ionia took a 1 run lead in the second inning against starting pitcher Mel Byrne, then Mac McIver and John Briggs held the Bulldogs scoreless the rest of the way. The Red Arrows scored in the 5th inning to tie the game on a walk to Mel Byrne and a double by Chuck

The Lowell team won the game in the 8th inning on a single by Mike Bergin, a fielder's choice, a walk to Steve Collins, and an error, Increase yield by 20 bushels!

SELVES Bell System scientists have introduced a new kind of telephone switchboard which can be operated by a blind attendant

This opens up new job opportuni ties for the blind. The new device converts the light signals of the conventional switchboard to sound signals. Other recent Bell System devices to aid the handicapped include a volume-control handset for the hard of hearing, and an electronic larynx for those who have lost the power of speech.

ASLEEP ON THE JOB! Ordinarily there's no more tireless friend or servant than your family telephone. It works around the clock. year in and year out. One of the few exceptions is when you make it "go to sleep on the job"-by failing to hang up the receiver properly. When that happens, friends can't reach you on the phone. So whenever you hear a buzzing sound coming from your phone, check it at once. Someone must have forgotten to put the receiver back on the "cradle," where it belongs.

DAILEY DRIVE AT PARNELL ROAD

As the Bible teaches the terribleness of hell, so it also teaches the blessedness of heaven. And how do we get to heaven? "Thomas said unto him (Jesus), Lord we know not whither thou goest, and how can we know the way? Jesus said unto him, I am the way...." John 14:5, 6.

Everyone who truly repents and believes in Jesus Christ as his personal Savior will go to the place called heaven. Jesus said, "I go to prepare a place for you." John 14:2. All who die unrepentant and without faith in Jesus Christ go to the place called hell. Read again Luke 16:19-31.

Here, too, are the words of Jesus: "He that believeth on the Son hath eternal life, but he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him." John 3:36.

Where are you going?

It certainly wouldn't be fun, but at least our Sickness & Accident Plan provides a measure of peace of mind. In case of sickness or accident it would (1) help you meet hospital bills and major medical expenses, (2) provide income to replace earnings lost through liability, (3) pay benefits to your dependents if your injuries prove fatal, and (4) provide substantial lump sum benefits for loss of sight or limbs. Permanent Anti-Freeze DRAIN IT OR NOT?

When the last danger of freezing weather is past and the balmy breezes start to blow lots of folks scratch their heads and wonder what to do about that permanent antifreeze in their radiators. Leave it in? We believe that even a fine product such as our own Texaco anti-freeze should be discarded after a season's use. Better yet, bring in your car and let us drain the cooling system, clean it if needed and add Texaco rust inhibitor (In case you haven't priced them, new radiators are might costly).
