Fly at Showboat

Art McClure of Caledonia will give the Showboat pre-show crowds a thrill when he flies in his kite behind a boat around the river course in Lowell. This is the first time a kite with a man in it has been tried on the narrow, winding Showboat course that has additional hazards like high tension wires and telephone poles to miss. Wendell Christoff, head of the Aquanauts Ski Club, said this was the most dangerous fete ever attempted at any Showboat performance. The ski show will be presented night-ly from 7:30 to 8:30.

IS THE FAMILY FARM DYING OUT?

No. Families still own and operate the vast majority of America's farms, But the family farm is changing. Modern methods, machinery and equipment have changed today's farms from an individual family operation to a multiple family "corporation". Fathers and their sons and even their grandsons operate a modern farm together as a family "corporation". The representative of this family "corporation" in the market place is the modern farm cooperative. The co-op gives today's farmers a strong voice in the marketing of their product. Co-ops also provide many special services and guarantees which an individual farmer could not provide alone. The result of this united effort is a more stable market for the dairy farmer and, for you, an uninterrupted supply of wholesome fresh milk. One of America's leading dairy cooperatives is Michigan Milk Producers Association.

Miss Mary Doriene Hoover and Robert L. Arehart were married Saturday noon in St. Robert's Church in Ada with Rev. Donald Farrell officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hoover of Ada and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Arehart of Lowell are the parents of the couple. For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of silk over taffeta designed with a round neckline and a bellshaped skirt. A cummerbund secured the floor-length train, and her shoulder-length veil held in place by a bow was and velvet rose, and she car-ried an old fashioned nosegay of pink and white roses. Miss Francene Hoover was ner sister's honor attendant. Betty Wittenbach Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Arehart of Mishawaka, Indiana, and Miss Dolores Snyder of Cascade. They wore ballerina length gowns of pink taffeta with round necklines, bell-shaped skirts, and white lace cum-merbunds. Their headdresses were wreaths of pink daisies, and they carried small baskets of natural straw with pink and white daisies. Michael Serne assisted as best man. Seating the guests were John Arehart, brother of the bridegroom and Frank Hoover, brother of the bride. Honorary ushers were Vincent and Michael Hoover

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Wright of Grand Rapids, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. William Archart, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, were masters and mistresses of ceremonies at the reception held in the church parlors.

The bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Denver, Colo-rado, and will be at home at 7199 Thornapple River Drive on their return.

spring flowering shrubs that have not been pruned yet may be improved by the removal of about one-third of the oldest branches at the ground, or just above a strong young side branch.

Tips of the remaining branches may be shaped as desired Complete this guidance pruning quickly, so it will not include the flower buds for next spring that will be forming soon.

When grooming a special bloom for a flower show, cover it with a clear plastic bag if heavy rain threatens. When protected in this way, delicate petals won't be brok-en or spotted,
