Good crowd for wrestling show

A good crowd turned out for the wrestling show at the Showboat Stadium on Saturday night with plenty of excitement for fans of the grapplers.

Art LaBine, 16, of North Hudson St., whetted the crowds appetite for excitement when he resented a wrestler who pushed him and hit him over the head with a folding chair. Police rescued LaBine from the irate wrestler before he was hurt.

In further action a local citizen ran to the ring threatening one of the wrestlers; he too was rescued by police before a trouble could start. All in all the program was a real success.

Lowell Showboat, Inc., received $174, which was 10 percent of the gate for use of the stadium.

Rites held for Orva Gardner

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon for Orva B. Gardner at one o'clock in the Roth Funeral Home. The Rev. Phillip Gloffely was the officiating clergyman and interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Gardner, a resident of Lowell since 1918, passed away at her home on North Hudson Street, Wednesday, July 29, following a lingering illness.

She was born May 10, 1890, in Danby Twp., Portland, Michigan, the daughter of James and Anna Wilcox.

Mrs. Gardner is survived by one son, Paul of Fenwick; two daughters, Mrs. William (Ruth) Heim and Mrs. Charlotte Siciliano, both of Lowell; two sisters, Mrs. Lena Gardner of Lowell and Mrs. Sadie Wohlscheid of Portland, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; one aunt, Hattie Grant of Portland; and several nieces and nephews. One daughter, Pauline preceded her mother in death in 1934. Six nephews served as pallbearers.

Cecelia Noble Ottmer 83 passes; rites are held

Mrs. Cecelia Noble Ottmer, aged 83, passed away in the Detroit Methodist Home for the Aged on Wednesday, July 29. Mrs. Ottmer spent her youth in Lowell having graduated from Lowell High School. She also attended Eastern Michigan, Chicago and Wayne Universities. She taught in Michigan and Indiana for 39 years. The last 20 years she taught in the Detroit school system.

She established the Noble Memorial of the Lowell Methodist Church. This fund provides perpetual money for missions. She also established a like fund at the Detroit Metropolitan church. This is a memorial to her late husband, Herman Ottmer, who died February 20, 1963.

Mrs. Ottmer leaves a nephew and six grandnieces who were devoted to her.

CLOSED FOR VACATION

The Levee restaurant will be closed from August 17 through the 27th. c17-18

City approves M-91 abandonment

In a resolution to the State Highway Department, the Lowell City Council approved abandonment of M-91 as a State highway.

At an earlier meeting with the highway department both the city and the Kent County Road Commission were told that the only way to expedite a new bridge over Grand River was to approve ending M-91 as a State Highway.

The State Highway Department has already placed this road on the list to be abandoned within the next five years. The road in the city will become a part of the local streets and outside the city a county road.

A new bridge can be expected within the next two years; the city council was told by highway officials.

To Improve Foreman St.

A project to widen Foreman St. from the C & O tracks west to Gee Drive and replace two narrow culverts hinges on a joint participation by the City, Township and County. County road department engineers estimated the cost of the improvements at $14,082. The county offered to replace the two culverts at a cost of $5,040 if the City and Lowell Township would split the $8,042 cost of widening and blacktopping the road. The project will have to be discussed by the various units of government and may be placed on next year's street program.

Other street projects discussed was the widening and surfacing of Jackson Street north from High Street to Grindle Dr. and widening Lincoln Lake St. from Chatham to Main St. for three lanes of traffic.

Primary vote in Cascade

Mrs. Edna Osmer, clerk of Cascade Township revealed this week that a primary vote on Township officers will be necessary.

In the election on Tuesday, September 1st Minor L. Cook, Cascade Township trustee for many years and a former township supervisor is being opposed by William F. Foy, 6665 Berger Drive, S. E.

Other incumbent township officers: are not opposed. They are Gerrit Baker, Supervisor; Mrs. Edna Osmer, Clerk; R. Lee Paterson, Treasurer; Ernest H. Clark, Justice of Peace; Harold Homrich, Daniel R. Ellinger, Gerrit Schreier, Richard Rigdon, Constables.

Mrs. Mae Hefferan, 73 dies after long illness

Mrs. Cam (Mae) Hefferan, aged 73, a resident of Cannon Township, passed away Thursday after a lingering illness. Funeral services were held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Patrick's Church Parnell, with interment being made in the church's cemetery.

Mrs. Hefferan is survived by her husband; one son, Giles of Ada; two daughters, Mrs. F. Newman Joyce and Mrs. Chas. Hill, both of Grand Rapids; ten grandchildren; three great-grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Bek of Grand Rapids and Miss Kathryn McCormick of Colorado Springs, Colorado; and several nieces and nephews.

Milk tanker and tractor crash Monday

A 21,000 gallon capacity milk tanker, driven by William Serne, 62, of Ada rolled over after striking a tractor and spreader operated by Lee Hunsberger, 16, of Hubble Road north of Ionia, Monday.

Hunsberger was sent to Ionia County Memorial hospital with possible back fracture, right ankle fracture, head lacerations and multiple contusions of his back and both arms.

Investigating Ionia County sheriff's deputies reported the youth was leaving one of the Hunsberger fields on Hubbell Road when his tractor and manure spreader was struck by the westbound milk truck driven by Serne.

Serne reported that the Hunsberger youth did not stop before entering the roadway where Serne apparently braked sharply and swung to the right in an effort to miss the youth.

Sheriff's officers report investigation is still continuing but that Hunsberger was injured when he was thrown from the farm tractor as it crashed into the milk truck, just in back of the cab.

The farm tractor then overturned and was apparently a near total loss when fire broke out. Ionia fire department sent a rural truck to stand by.

Serne said he was unhurt when the milk truck rolled over in a ditch on the right side of the road. He declined hospital treatment.

The Ada man, who is in business with his sons, said the 21,000 gallon capacity bulk tank was probably beyond repair and estimated loss to that unit alone at $7,200.

The milk truck was two-thirds full when the vehicles collided, Serne said.

Area polo club wins trophy

On Sunday, July 26, the Thornapple Tigers won the perpetual Ernest Nielson Memorial trophy from the Crete Polo Club of Illinois by a score of 6-5.

It was a thrill-packed game; the winning score coming within the last six seconds of the final period.

Craig MacIntyre of Grand Rapids Township was the hero of the home team, scoring the tying goal and the winning goal in the fourth and final chukker.

The scoring was as follows: 1st chukker, Tigers 1, by MacIntyre, Crete 1, by Tom Biddle. 2nd chukker, Tigers 1, Gene Gilmore 2-1. 3rd chukker, Crete 3, Tigers 1, making it 4 for Crete and 3 for Tigers.

4th chukker, Crete scored first making it 5-3. This seemed like an unsurmountable lead. However, Bob Bond came back with a goal, narrowing the margin, and with MacIntyre tying the score with about four minutes to play.

With six seconds left to play, MacIntyre scored again on a very difficult back-hand shot. Tigers 6, Crete 5. Time had run out for Crete and thus the game ended and the Tigers took over the trophy.

Mrs. "Bibbs" Biddle, wife of George Biddle and mother of Tom, presented the trophy to Captain Bob Bond of the Tigers.

There may be reason to complain of slow mail service but bills arrive regularly on time.

The Clark-Ellis American Legion post took an option this week to purchase 5 acres of land on East Main Street from Ed Compagner of Saranac.

This may be the new site of the Lowell Showboat and at some future date the location of a new bowling alley, skating rink and restaurant.

Steve Wittenbach of Wittenbach Sales and Service on West Main Street tried to join the "motor bike" set Saturday, but discovered it's a young man's game.

He is nursing a few bruises and cuts and is sticking to nothing more exciting than a convertible.

It was revealed this week that the Keith Buck Ford Agency on South Hudson Street will move into the building owned by Mrs. Hugh Young at 508 West Main Street.

This was the former Chevrolet garage, before Azzarelios moved into their new building at 1250 West Main Street.

The three new bean silos of the C. H. Runciman Company on West Main Street are going up rapidly.

There may be some trouble over this segregation if some right-wing radicals get hold of the story; the whites on one side and the colored on another.

Ten Years Ago This Week... a large sign at the Lowell Loan Co. office fell... W. W. Gumsier was honored at "Teacher's Day" at the State Fair... Bruce Walter completed 15 years with the Lowell Lumber Company... Louise Ann was born into the King Doyle family... Bernie Kroff completed his first year on the Showboat as an endman... the C. H. Runciman Co. purchased and began construction on the Thomas Elevator to be used for colored beans... Carl Hagen, agricultural teacher attended the 35th annual conference for Agriculture teachers... a new flag pole was erected at the Boy Scout cabin... a new two-way radio was purchased for the police cruiser... the 1954 Showboat receipts showed a drop of ten percent.

Keith Avery attends vocational agriculture teachers' conference

Keith Avery, vocational agriculture teacher from Lowell, was told that "education is the key which unlocks the door of social opportunity."

Making the statement was Dr. Carl H. Gross of the College of Education, Michigan State University. Dr. Gross was the keynote for the 45th annual Conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture July 27-31 at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

"People need to find acceptable social status, and education helps them to achieve this status," Dr. Gross told the more than 200 teachers and school administrators participating in the five-day meeting.

He said that the curriculum of the secondary school of yesterday is no longer applicable today, because of the impact of automation and technology on business and industry.

"We need schools today which will promote critical thinking, foster real values and prepare people to make valuable and satisfying contributions to society," he maintained.

General sessions, discussion groups, workshops, regional and district FFA meetings, better chapter farming awards and the presentation of awards to those teachers with 5, 10, 20 and 30 years of service were the conference highlights.

Servicemen—

Morris Calvin Maxson former Lowell boy, completed his three years in Army Security Agency on his 22nd birthday, August 2. He has been stationed at Ft. Walters, Texas, since returning from Okinawa, November 1. He has accepted a position in Ft. Worth.

All five of the Maxson brothers have served in the Army or Navy. David, who returned from Ethiopia on November 1 also, is now employed in the First National Bank in Kalamazoo.

Announce move of administrative offices of Root-Lowell here

Elmer G. Schaefer, Vice-president Production, Root Lowell Manufacturing Co., announced to the Ledger this week that the move of the general offices of this company from Chicago to Lowell were completed on Friday, July 31.

Root Lowell manufactures and sells throughout the world a complete line of sprayers and dusters used by home gardeners, farmers, and in diversified commercial and industrial applications.

Among the Root Lowell officials who have relocated their offices in the Lowell plant are Richard F. Brush, president; Paul L. Dederich, sales manager; and George R. Appleyard an administration executive.

According to Mr. Schaefer this move was made to enable administrative efficiencies, to improve customer services and to effect required operating economies at a time when strong competitive trends in industry demand highly efficient methods.

Asked to comment about the new corporate headquarters location for the company, R. F. Brush made this statement to the Lowell Ledger, "This move answers the desire Mr. Schaefer and I have had for many years to have all of our major corporate management activity in one location. Speaking for my associates and I who have recently moved to this area, we are delighted to work in Lowell. We look forward to a happy business relationship with our Lowell friends and to finding profitable answers to our need to effect a sound growth of our company."

Perry C. Peckham, Jr. dies in California

Perry C. Peckham, Jr., 47, passed away suddenly in California on Monday, August 3.

He was born in Lowell and graduated from Lowell High School in 1935; he was a popular and active member of his class. He served with the U. S. Air Force in World War II, as a gunner in the 99th Bombardment Group in Europe. He was credited with more than 35 missions.

Mr. Peckham had made his home in California for many years. He will be interred in the Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, California.

He is survived by his wife, Virginia; two daughters, Sherry, 13, and Kathy, 16; his mother, Mrs. Nora Peckham of Lansing; three brothers, Jack of California, Robert of Dearborn, and Richard of Lowell; and one sister, Mrs. George (Jane) Joyaux of East Lansing.

RUNCIMAN CO. OFFICIALS TO ATTEND CENTENNIAL FETE

Earl Posthumus and Anton W. Kroff of C. H. Runciman Co., Lowell, a member of the American Forage Alliance, have been selected as official delegates to attend the L. Teweles Seed Co.'s Centennial Celebration being held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, on August 7, 8 and 9.

Twelve is the sponsor of the American Forage Alliance, an organization of Retail Seed Dealers pledged to the improvement of forage crops through the performance of specialized services for the farmers in their communities.

4-H News

The Wolverine 4-H Club will host a "swim party" at the Lowell YMCA pool on Wednesday, August 12, at 7:30 p. m. All former and present 4-Hers and friends are invited to attend. A wiener roast will be held following the swim at Fallasburg Park.

Dr. Giles Sinclair gets appointment

The National Council of Teachers of English has appointed Dr. Giles Sinclair, Humboldt State College professor of English in Arcata, California, an official judge of the Council's Achievement Awards program for 1964.

The purpose of this national competition is to grant recognition to high school seniors who exhibit excellence in English. Recognition is also extended to the schools and staff members who have shared in the training of these outstanding students.

Regional judging committees will evaluate the writing abilities and literary awareness of all nominees during the summer months. After the announcement of finalists in late November, their names will be sent to all universities and colleges in the United States with a recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

Dr. Sinclair is the son of Mert Sinclair, Pleasant Street, Lowell. He graduated from Lowell High School in 1934.

Democrats offer township slate Lynch opposed by Niles in Ada

In what appears to be the most active primary in many years, Ada Township voters will be presented both a Democratic Township officer's slate along with opposition on the Republican primary ticket.

Charles Niles, one of the leaders in the tax committee, has filed petitions to oppose the present supervisor Richard Lynch, in the September 1st primary, on the Republican ticket.

For township trustee the incumbent Kenneth Anderson is opposed by Allison Roark.

Mrs. Kathryn Sytsma, township clerk, and Neal VandePeerle, treasurer, are not opposed on the Republican ticket.

Constables who have filed are Milton Harrif, Gordon Haga, Donald Belmers, Darwin Nellist and Ralph Averill, Jr.

Democrat Ticket

For the first time in the memory of Ada Township residents, a Democratic slate for candidates will be on the ballot.

James Boylon is the parties candidate for supervisor; Bettie (Mrs. Fred) Beahan, and Doreen (Mrs. Frank) Hoover, are both candidates for treasurer; and Carl Keena, trustee.

Constable candidates are Francis Gilmore and Democratic committeeman Frank Hoover.

No room on machines

Because of the large number of candidates, the Kent County Clerk, Jack Bronkema, has indicated that there will not be room on the voting machines

Vote by Precincts

Jim Cook wins state honors

James Cook, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cook of Route No. 2, Lowell, got his share of the honors at two cattle shows recently.

Cook, a junior this fall at Lowell High School, won top honors at the West Michigan Holstein Breeder's Association show at Marne last week. His six-year-old cow, Janeland Showgirl Mary, was tagged as the most perfectly conformed of all the female entries. He also won showmanship honors for his age group of exhibitors.

At the West Michigan Black and White show, Cook came home with 1st aged cow; Senior and Grand Championship of open show, Grand Champion 4-H show, and 1st in showmanship. Other honors for 3rd aged cow, 1st in showmanship and 2nd and 3rd best females. This show was at Corunna over the weekend.

Giant tulip poplar on Lowell Twp. farm

On of the largest native tulip poplars in Kent County is found on the V. E. Preston farm in Lowell Twp.

Lloyd Cogswell, district forester, measured the record size tree at 26 inches in diameter.

Mr. Preston said there were several trees of this species in the woodlot to the north, which was harvested three years ago.

This species is the tallest eastern hardwood. Its leaves have an unusual squarish shape. The flowers are large and showy. They are tulip shaped, from whence it gets its name.

Tulip trees are of value as shade trees on farms and on suburban properties but generally are not well adapted for city locations. While long lived and fairly resistant to cold this tree is intolerant of drought and city smoke.

Mrs. Florence Scott, Lowell native, passes

Graveside services were held at Oak Hill Cemetery in Grand Rapids Monday for Mrs. Florence H. Scott, a Lowell native, who died July 31 in Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Scott was born in Lowell and graduated from Lowell High School in 1908. She has resided in Chicago for many years.

Her father operated a hardware store in Lowell in the location now occupied by Gee's Hardware on West Main Street.

Lloyd Gibbs seeks area representative post in primary

In response to an appeal from his many friends, Rep. Lloyd Gibbs, a lifelong farmer and businessman of Portland, Michigan, Ionia County, is announcing that he will be a candidate for the office of State Representative from the 85th District, embracing all of Ionia County; also that part of Barry County not included in District 55; and in Kent County, the townships of Bowne, Grattan, Lowell, and Vergennes and the city of Lowell.

Mr. Gibbs is presently serving as State Representative from Ionia County, and for the past ten years, his colleagues in the House have continuously returned him to the position of Chairman of the powerful State Affairs Committee. He also is Vice Chairman and a seasoned member of the Roads and Bridges Committee and had a vital part in getting our present highway program underway.

Rep. Gibbs served on the Ionia County Board of Supervisors for twenty years and has held various Township offices. He will consider it an honor and a privilege to be returned to the Legislature.

Presently he is serving on the special House Committee on Statutory Implementation of the Constitution which committee is developing proposed legislation necessary to carry out changes made by the 1963 Constitution.

Saranac historical color guard to make many appearances

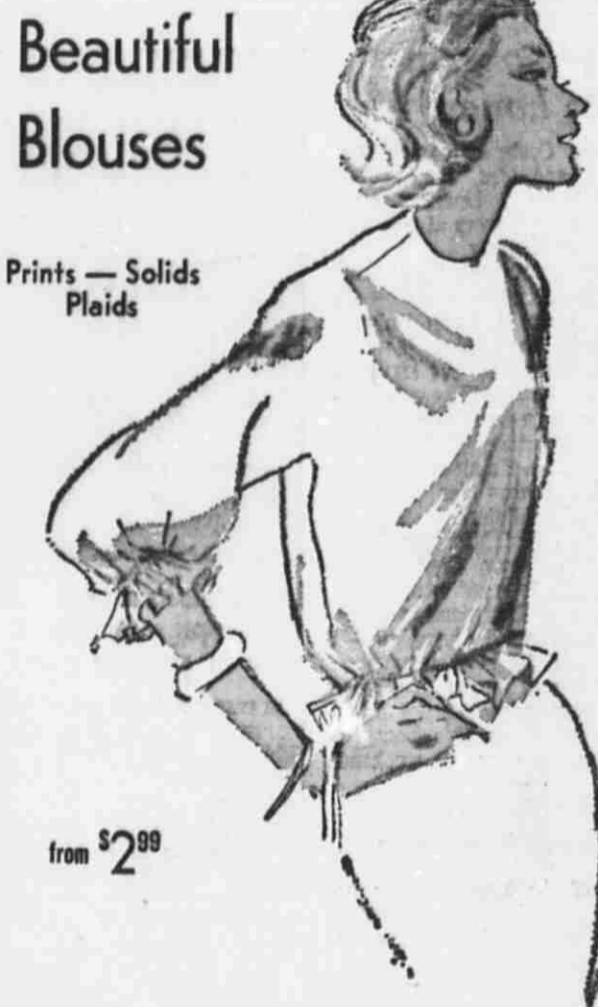

Pictured above is the newly formed Saranac American Legion Historical Color Guard as they will appear in the Ionia Free Fair Parade on Monday, August 19, and again on Governor's Day, (Wednesday, August 12). The group recently made their first public appearance at the Michigan State Convention of the American Legion where they received a tremendous reception. August 1, they appeared at the Grand Haven Coast Guard Festival with such renowned units as the Jackson Zouaves and the Scottville Clown Band. From left to right the very colorful unit is as follows: World War II Marine, Ivan Brooks; World War I Doughboy, Robert Smith; Spanish American War Roughridger, Robert Sprague; Revolutionary War Soldier, Dwight Brown; War of 1812 Soldier, Michael Cahoon; Civil War Confederate Soldier, Larry Solomon; Civil War Union Soldier, Harold Clark; Korean War Army Paratrooper, Don Kauffman. Kneeling in front are the group's two Civil War Drummer Boys, John Stierick and Steve Solomon. All weapons carried by the unit as well as their uniforms are authentic. Fair goers who would like to capture a picture of history in revue are urged to bring their cameras and photograph this outstanding group that is the only one of its kind in the United States today.

Drivers photos pose problems

Although it is now Michigan law to place the motorist's picture on his driver's license, it will be at least several months, perhaps a year, before the program goes into effect.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department manufactures and distributes driver's licenses, said he hoped Michigan residents would get the impression that they would be getting photo licenses just as soon as the bill was passed.

It is a tremendous job in getting the program operational, Hare asserted. "We have to decide on the kind of equipment that will do the job best, the type of process to use, and then see that equipment is installed and persons are trained to use it in nearly 250 stations throughout the state."

"There are a host of processes and companies in the photographic field, and our officials are presently discussing with the many prospective vendors," Hare said. "After we decide on the type of process to use, the specifications have to be made, and then the equipment is purchased and installed."

"The Michigan Tourist Council advises campers that they should consider the more than 4,000 campsites in state and federal forests and in county and township parks if they find their favorite state park full."

In addition, camping is permitted on most of the more than seven million acres of public forest land in the northern two-thirds of the state even though there are no designated campsites.

State parks offer the most complete facilities in most cases, with bathhouses, flush toilets, electricity and concession stores. For use of these facilities a $2 annual or 50 cent daily park permit is required in addition to a $1 daily camping fee and a 25 cent daily charge for electricity if desired.

From June 15 through Labor Day campers are limited to 15 days in any one state park with an additional 30 days during other months of the year. No reservations are accepted for state park campsites.

Some of the county and township parks also charge a fee to cover maintenance and campsite fees which include these charges locally.

There are no fees for camping in state and national forest campgrounds most of which have pit toilets, picnic tables, and a water supply. There are no attendants at these campgrounds but camping is limited to 29 days at one site in state forests and 21 days in federal forests.

In public forests outside designated camp grounds no permits or fees are required and there is no restriction on camping except during the November deer season when a registration card, available at license dealers, is required.

Many of the camping areas outside state parks offer spectacular scenery, excellent fishing and unspoiled conditions which more than make up for more primitive facilities.

A directory of Michigan camping facilities is available free of charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 48926, Michigan.

More consumer protection than ever before has been written into the weights and measures act of 1964 which becomes effective on August 28. It will replace a 1913 statute as well as some supplemental acts.

Enforcement of the new act will be the responsibility of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Food and Standards Division, headed by J. L. Lillard. Several features give the buyer advantages he never had before.

In the past it was required to state the quantity contained in a package of food, but there was no such requirement on such non-food items as paint, anti-freeze, varnish, oil and similar packaged non-food items. However, where such declaration was made, it had to be accurate.

Under the new law quantity must be declared on all packaged items sold by weight, measure, or numerical count. There also is a clearer definition of weight. When weight is declared in connection with any commodity, it means N.E.T. weight. This is exclusive of the weight of the container or any wrapping material.

This was always in Michigan law, but it was misunderstood. Some persons declared on the container: "Net weight 7 lbs. when packed." This is now illegal. The new law will even apply to cords of fireplace wood or pulpwood by requiring that when the wood is properly stacked, it must contain at least 128 cubic feet regardless of the three dimensions involved.

Also illegal under the new act will be such misleading terms as jumbo, kingsize, giant, full, or like phraseology that tends to engender a false sense of commodity in a package.

In declaring contents or quantity under the new law, quantity must be made terms of the largest unit. This means a 20-ounce unit of bread now must be declared one pound, four ounces, or else one and 1/4 pounds. Deceptive packaging so as to make a container appear to contain more than it really does also will become illegal.

Also illegal under the new act will be such misleading terms as jumbo, kingsize, giant, full, or like phraseology that tends to engender a false sense of commodity in a package.

Pushing aside week after week of hard luck, Gail Cobb of Grand Rapids, has slowly been working his way to the winner's circle. Saturday night Cobb, full of determination, made his best showing of the season by outdaring Bob Senneker and Johnny Benson at the Grand Rapids Speedrome. Running a 1955 Chevrolet, powered by a "327" engine, Cobb has been one of the top three fastest qualifiers at the Kalamazoo Speedway on Sundays. Plagued by handling problems and mechanical queries the first of the season, Cobb's owners have worked hard to alleviate the trouble and bring home the bacon.

At The Tracks . . . . with Sam

Two championship races will be run this Friday night at the Hastings Speedway for the flying stocks. A 50-lap race will be run for the first 30 fastest qualifiers and a 25-lap feature event will be run for the remaining qualifiers.

Beautiful trophies (4 feet high) will be given to the winner in each division.

Last Friday night's hectic action saw Jim Davis by some sheer miracle survive all the accidents to grab the win in the feature event.

The main attraction of the evening was two powder puff derbies. Thirty cars were entered before the races. By the time the puff arrived about 20 cars were eligible for the event.

but why is it always the stocks who get the raw deals, especially at payoff time.

Jack Smith roared to his second main event victory of the season by capturing the 20-lap feature for super modified at the Berlin Raceway Saturday night.

Irv Atkinson of Muskegon won the 15-lap main event for modified sportsman on the 1/2-mile oval. Rich Senneker of Grand Rapids finished second.

Heat race winners in the sportsman division were Ken Sutton, Jack Vilwaik, Paul Weisner, Atkinson and Dennis Scheid. Curley Moody and Duane Knoll won the mod heats.

Maurice Holloway and Bob Senneker won the championship features at the Speedrome in Grand Rapids last Thursday night.

Bob Carnes of Battle Creek, who was giving the local boys a run for their money copped the fast car dash. Other preliminary winners were Bill Greer, Johnny Benson, Jerry VanDyke, Jim Adema and Benson.

Hopping from a semi-late model stock car to a super modified, Johnny Benson won the Tri-State Championship race for supers at the 'Drome on Saturday night before a capacity crowd.

The competition was tremendous as drivers from all over the state and out-of-state were on hand to make a bid for the top prize money.

Art Bennett was hospitalized when his modified rolled during the feature event. Jimmy Nelson of Flint switching from a dirt to asphalt track proved his superior driving ability by winning a heat race.

Bob Senneker grabbed the victory in the semi-late model stock feature after pre-race favorites Benson and Gail Cobb were sidelined because of a tanglement in a previous heat.

The field of stocks was cut down Saturday when the drivers were not allowed to qualify for the evening's races. Several drivers loaded their cars and left. Oh! well someone has to be a stepping stone to success!

Winners at the Kalamazoo Speedway Sunday night were Gail Cobb, fast car dash; Bull Durham, Don Gray, Al Leversee and Dick Dunchee, heat races; Bill Shields, consee; Lev-ersee, semi-feature; and Bob Carnes, feature.

Typhoid epidemic checked in Kent

With the large number of typhoid cases in Scotland, many people of the Kent County area are wondering what the status of this disease is in our locality, said Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Officer.

This well publicized but poorly understood disease can be spread in many ways to infect the individual or the community, since it is primary method of spread is human body waste material. Some of the ways it can be spread are:

1. Hands, fingers, flies and also by direct contamination to food, milk and other liquids.
2. Faulty plumbing where the waste pipes can leak into the pure water supply.
3. Septic tanks or sewers leak and can get into the drinking water.
4. Septic tanks, sewer lines and outhouses contaminating lakes and river used as swimming areas or for drinking water.

Only cautious supervision by the individual and the community can prevent an outbreak such as in Aberdeen, Scotland from occurring here.

In October 1963, the last registered typhoid carrier in the Kent County area was given a medical release after surgery and a series of negative laboratory specimens, required by the Health Department, which showed the individual to be completely free of the disease.

According to data released by the Michigan Department of Public Health, there hasn't been a case of typhoid traced to a public water supply in the past 30 years.

In 1963 there were only 13 cases in Michigan. This was accomplished through the combined efforts of your state, city and county health departments, by a combined program of food handler education, food establishment inspection, food processing plants, supervision of the various municipal water supplies and sewerage treatment facilities by requiring all milk being sold in stores or delivered to be pasteurized, and through constant vigilance by the state, local, and individual physicians and medical groups.

Immunizations are available against the disease, either from your private physician or your local Health Department, and are recommended for those traveling outside of the United States or in any area where safety of water, food or milk supply is in doubt.

Becomes bride of George Howard

Miss Bonnie Kampfschulte became the bride of George Joseph Howard of Grosse Isle, Saturday, August 1, in St. Francis Xavier Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Kampfschulte, Elliott Street, S. E., Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. George M. Howard, Route 2, Alto.

The bride chose a gown of silk linen fashioned with a bell-controlled skirt sweeping into a chapel train. A bouffant shoulder-length veil of English illusion was secured by a cluster of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and ivy.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Mary Kampfschulte. Bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Duba and Mrs. Richard Brom, sister of the bride. The attendants wore floor-length sheaths of spun gold shantung with matching jackets. Bow capettes secured their puffed veils and they carried bouquets of bronze pompons and ivy.

Charles Howard assisted his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Thomas Howard of Ionia, William Howard of Kalamazoo and James Howard of Detroit, all brothers of the groom, and Gerard Kampfschulte.

Presiding at the reception held in the Pantlin Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Eckardt, uncle and aunt of the bride.

Following a trip to Nova Scotia and the World's Fair, the newly weds will make their home in Grosse Isle, after August 15.
