New minister for Nazarene

The Reverend Russell E. Spray assumed the pastorate of the local Church of the Nazarene, Avery and Washington Streets, on November 22. He succeeds the Reverend Kenneth Culver, who resigned to become the pastor of the West Side Church of the Nazarene in Grand Rapids.

Before coming to Lowell, Mr. Spray pastored the church of the same denomination at Benton Harbor for four years. Prior to that, he held pastorates in Montrose, Nashville, Sparta, and Lansing, Michigan. He received his education at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Oklahoma, Owosso College, Owosso, Michigan, and the Pioneer Theological Seminary, Rockford, Illinois, where he earned the Doctor of Theology degree and had the Doctor of Divinity degree conferred on him.

Mrs. Spray is a free-lance writer. She has written for many religious papers, including Baptist, Seventh-Day Adventist, Mennonite, Salvation Army, Gospels, and Nazarene publications. While at Benton Harbor, she wrote a religious-inspirational column, entitled "Homespun Devotions," three times weekly for the News Palladium. One of her articles appears in the current issue of the "Herald of Holiness"—the official organ of the Church of the Nazarene. She has also been a speaker for women's groups.

25th Anniversary

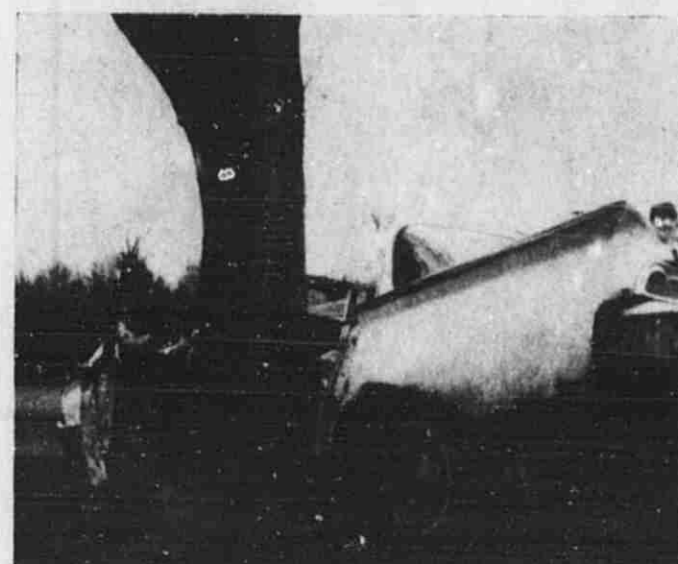

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman of near Freeport were pleasantly surprised for their 25th anniversary on Sunday, November 29, at Calvary Brethren Church of Alto, when about 40 members went to the basement for fellowship dinner.

Paul and Vivian found a table beautifully decorated with silver and white, centered with a 3 tier wedding cake made by Marguerite Kauffman and Grace Hoffman, and lots of beautiful gifts.

All the members of the church helped make this surprise possible.

Two of the Hoffman children Dale and Diane joined in the celebration. Their 3rd child, Donnie is serving in the Armed forces in Germany.

Robert Hawley, 47, fatally injured as car rams tree Thanksgiving Day

Robert D. Hawley, 47, a former Lowell business associate, was killed Thanksgiving Day when his eastbound sedan swerved and struck a tree on M-21, east of Lowell.

Investigating officers said Hawley was eastbound at more than 70 miles per hour and lost control of his car as he came out of a curve west of Pinckney Road.

Trooper Ken Maciejewski, of the Ionia Post, reported Hawley was across the center line for 110 yards before getting back into the east-bound lane where the car continued another 130 feet before recrossing the center line and going another 2 feet before striking the tree.

Ionia County coroner Richard Hull pronounced Hawley dead at the scene of the holiday tragedy. Besides a broken neck, he sustained severe chest injuries.

Mr. Hawley was born November 18, 1917, in Keene Township, Ionia County. The World War II veteran was formerly

Area hunters report success

There are many sport enthusiasts in Michigan and one of the sports rising the fastest in popularity is deer hunting.

The history of the sport goes back as far as the founding of this country. About 1900 private individuals began restocking the deer herds by providing deer parks. Slowly the herds expanded, bringing the whitetails back into the lower peninsula.

By 1943, there were deer in every county of the state and in 1949 southern Michigan had its first general deer hunting season. About 1500 deer were killed that year. With 58,000 hunters last year, 6,800 deer were bagged.

This year with deer hunting legalized for the first time in many areas of the lower peninsula, an early news release estimated that 8,000 deer would be bagged by this year's new crop of hunters.

The release stated that some of the best hunting would be in the heart of the farm country. Not to dispute this report, the Alto Meat Processing Locker stated that they had processed a record number of 130 deer and 1 bear during the fifteen days of the season this year.

A final report of luck buck hunters included Bob Johnson, Adrian Sterzick, Larry Scott, Charles Sterzick, Clare Hainer, Oscar Sterzick, Charles Thomas and Fred Sterzick.

Ten years ago this week...

Ralph Roth, hunting near Ontonagon, in the Upper Peninsula, hit the jackpot by shooting a deer, a 150-pound bear and two coyotes.

Mild Nov. weather caused strange things to happen at the George Story residence, 233 N. Hudson, and at the farm of Fred Houseman of Snow. Forsythia bushes had begun blossoming.

Strand Theatre installed a Cinemascope screen, which measured 35 ft. in length. The first film shown was "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" at the Lowell Cafe was sold to Clare Palen.

Santa is coming to town

Santa Claus, the jovial, jolly man who comes to everyone's house Christmas Eve, is planning a pre-Christmas visit to Lowell this Saturday, December 5, to meet with every boy and girl in the area who appears, to find out just what they have in mind for Christmas.

Santa, of course, knows every youngster, and may not inquire from each and everyone what he or she wants, but can tell by just seeing them.

The annual visit of old Saint Nick is being sponsored by the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, which has arranged to meet him, and escort him down Main Street at 2 p. m. to the parking lot of Superior Furniture Company, where he will greet all youngsters and pass out candy.

So plan on being here in Lowell Saturday of this week at 2 p. m.

Girl Scout - CHATTER

Girl Scout Troop 511 met on Monday, November 30, at 3:30. We folded our Reader's Digest in shapes of skirts for the angels we are making. Next week we plan to finish them for Christmas.

We are making afghans which are almost finished to give to a local rest home at Christmas. If you have not finished your squares, please have them done by Monday's meeting.

The average cedar tree yields about 172,000 pencils.

Avoid the rush, mail early

A little planning early in December can help avoid the rush at Christmas time. Kent County postmasters have some tips that will not only put ZIP into your Christmas mailing, but help postal employees move the record-breaking mountain of mail that is expected this Christmas season.

1. Find last year's Christmas mailing list. If you don't find it, or didn't have one, make one up.

2. CHECK to see that all addresses are correct. The phone book is usually a good source for local addresses.

3. Wherever possible, add the ZIP code to the addresses on the list. Because ZIP Codes speed your mail, always include the code for your area in return addresses. This is the best way to inform friends, relatives and business associates of the code number for your area.

4. DETERMINE your list of gift purchases which must be mailed. Such planning allows you to shop early when selections are greatest and you can stock up on mailing materials in advance. Be sure to purchase enough material so that parcels will be packed securely.

The postmasters emphasized that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. They also suggested that the address be written on only one side of the exterior wrapping and that a duplicate address be included inside the carton, in case the outer covering is not secure and comes off.

The Post Office Department in Washington is predicting that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas.

"The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each package before Christmas Day," Postmasters said. "A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone."

Operation Santa Claus

The 1964 "Operation Santa Claus" project sponsored by the Moose Civic Affairs Committee, of the local lodge, is progressing, and the chairman Laverne Baker foresees a happy holiday for needy area youngsters.

But, used toys and clothing are still needed to make the project a complete success. Operation Santa Claus has reached the homes of over 100 Lowell residents in past years, and with the need increasing, the committee seeks more support.

All-out effort is made by the committee to mend and repair the clothing and toys and distribute them to less fortunate families in this area.

Along with the Women of the Moose, the Welfare Department and local police department, repairs are made and Christmas wrapped.

This thirteen-year-old project, carried out successfully by the men and women who strive to make the holiday season a happy one, can attribute its triumph to the people of the community.

Any contributions, large or small, will be greatly appreciated by the Civic Affairs Committee, and will put smiles on the faces of area families.

Donations can be left at Roth's LP Gas company on West Main Street or at Lewis Electric on East Main Street.

Receives thank you Garden Club aids Guatemala people

Mrs. Norann Deloof
Twin Oaks Garden Club
829 Jefferson Street
Lowell, Michigan

Dear Mrs. Deloof and members: What a delightful surprise to receive the seeds and garden tools from you. It is very encouraging indeed to have support from home for projects here in Patzun.

Patzun is a small town in the midst of the Guatemalan highlands, and has about 90 percent Indian population. Ten percent are of people with Spanish origin. We are working mostly with the Indians, for ever since the Spanish conquest, they have been exploited by the non-Indian population.

The Indians are, I feel, at last getting the opportunity to make some progress, and are becoming economically independent from the others who for so long have dominated and controlled them. I feel the most important progress has been made through the schools, especially those which have been started and run by missionaries (both Catholic and Protestant). It has been an amazing discovery for the Indians that they can learn, they have been told that they could only hoe the fields, but when the Indian children come out at the head of the class, they begin to realize that they too can learn.

CARE is helping a lot by providing wheat, butter, milk, flour and until last year, Kraft cheese, to the schools for a hot lunch program. Believe me, this really makes a dent.

We have been working in the rural area around Patzun. These are the poorest areas, because there are no services and roads are too poor for many trucks to bring things to them. We are trying to help the literacy classes and the schools.

A few months ago, we became acquainted with the community of Chuchuca. The school is very poor, but they have a

Schedule Christmas tea for mothers Dec. 8

Lowell Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds have invited their mothers to be their guests at a Christmas Tea, to be held in the educational building of the Methodist Church from 3:45 to 5, Tuesday, December 8.

The program will consist of a candle lighting ceremony, with eight candles representing the points of the Camp Fire Law. This will be followed by an instrumental number and the singing of carols.

About one hundred girls are participating in the Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups in Lowell this year.

The leaders are Mrs. Richard Willard, Mrs. Cecil May, Mrs. Marion Claeson, Mrs. Alvin Wittenbach, Mrs. LaVern Baker, Mrs. Carl Hagen, Mrs. Richard Rutherford, Mrs. Arle Leeman, and Mrs. George Dey, Jr. Mrs. David Coons is acting as district chairman.

On Saturday, December 5 at 7:30 p. m., Mr. Hoover will conduct an "All Musical Night" in Lowell Baptist Church.

"Herb", which is his more affectionate title, would like YOU to be his guests on this special occasion.

We, of Lowell Baptist, invite you to enjoy this evening with us. However, come early, as we expect a full house.

There will be a free will offering taken.

WCS to serve dinner

Snow Methodist WCS will serve a baked ham-roast beef dinner with all the trimmings on Wednesday, December 9.

The public is cordially invited to come and enjoy this good meal. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m. and will last until the last guest has been served.

The dinner will be held at the WCS Hall on 38th Street and Snow Avenue and will be the last dinner to be served at the hall by the group until spring.

garden. What they need very badly is tools and seeds. And thanks to your generous gift, they will be able to provide vegetables for soup and stew to complement the CARE foods in their hot lunch program. This is a gift that will remain with them for many, many years.

I have been trying very hard to get the rural children into the Patzun school. It is a very good school, and there are some very bright children in the rural areas, who could really benefit from attending school there. It has extra classes such as such as music and art which their poor little school cannot offer. These bright children might even become teachers or doctors some day if given a chance in a school where someone really cares about them. I think one child could be supported (room in a dormitory and meals) for ten dollars a month. I know of a particular boy in Chuchuca and another in a nearby area, Chiplacul, who might be of great service to his community some day if given a chance.

I know that you do not have much money, but perhaps you might have some ideas. At any rate, I only ask because I know it gives people great pleasure and satisfaction to have a stake, an important stake, in the growth of a young child who might never have such an opportunity.

Might I ask that you send a photograph of your club. It would mean a lot to the people who will receive these tools and seeds to see the people who have made the gift. The people are so appreciative of the least little thing, and especially the thought and your concern for them. They too have a lot to contribute to the world, and your gift will make it more possible.

My deepest thanks to each one of you.

Hoping to hear from you again soon, I remain,

Ann Mullen

Use etiquette in signing all greeting cards

Checking the Christmas card list? Check greeting card etiquette, too. There are certain rules that must be followed when ordering and signing Christmas cards, if they are to be in good taste.

Engraved signatures are based on formal tradition, but generally more liberties are more appropriate for Vite cards, even printed or engraved one, than "Mr. and Mrs. William Jones." People don't identify themselves as "Mr. and Mrs. Jones" is also proper.

When first names are used, cards can be signed "William and Mary Jones" or "Mary and William Jones." The order is a matter of preference, but the wife's name usually comes first.

Etiquette experts say it is not good form to sign a greeting card, "Mr. and Mrs. William Jones and family." Use a signature like "William, Mary, Susan and Robert Jones."

Buy and use Christmas Seals

Some 17 tons of Christmas seals have been dispatched to more than two million Michigan homes to start the 80th campaign to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Sparted by reports that tuberculosis is on the increase and by plans to counterattack by intensifying contact measures, Christmas seal campaigners sought total statewide contributions to $1,150,000.

The letters soliciting contributions from Michigan residents are signed by Christmas Seal campaign chairmen in counties with affiliated local associations or by Lauren T. Elliott, Flint business man. They emphasize that gifts to the Christmas seal campaign are a means of protecting the gift of life, "breath of life."

"This gift from God is often taken for granted," Elliott says in his letter. "Yet, without it, there can be no life for you or me."

"Christmas seal work will enable you and your children to breathe better, grow stronger, live longer—and enjoy the breath of life in later years," he added.

A bazaar featuring wreaths, artificial Christmas trees, dressed dolls, doll clothes, gift boxes, plants and candles will be held in conjunction with the barbecue. This event is being sponsored by the women of the Alto Sunday School Department.

Tickets can be purchased in advance by contacting Iris Walker at U-83576, Jane Porritt at U-83399, or Jane Graham at 888-5468.

All goods to be sold and displayed at the bazaar are to be taken to the church before 10:30 a. m. Saturday.

Plan now to come and bring the entire family to dine and shop for Christmas. A door prize will be given away.

There's a lot more to winterizing your car than just pouring a can of anti-freeze in the radiator!

Better bring your car in pronto and let us check the cooling system (won't cost you a real cent) then, if needed, we'll drain and flush the radiator, replace bad radiator or heater hoses and install the right amount of Texaco anti-freeze to protect you to just what you want. Your car will go "smilin'" through winter.

Occupation Unchanged

An infidel was introduced by a gentleman to a minister with a remark, "He never attends public worship." "Ah!" said the minister, "I hope you are mistaken." "By no means," said the stranger; "I always spend Sunday in settling my accounts." "Then, alas," was the calm but solemn reply, "you will find, sir, that the day of judgment will be spent in the same manner." —Spurgeon's Sermon Notes

When you do attend public worship, be sure you attend a church that proclaims the glorious gospel of salvation by God's grace through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. And be sure to attend the Sunday evening service. It is a spiritually rewarding experience. —Pastor Henry Buikema

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks and sincere appreciation extended by our relatives, friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral tributes, cards of sympathy, and many other kind and sympathetic deeds extended us at the loss of our dear husband, father and grandfather, John Anderson. Especially do we thank Rev. Marquardt for his comforting message, the organist for her consoling music, Rev. and Mrs. Flowers for their message in song, the men who served as pallbearers, Roth's Funeral Home, and the ladies who furnished and served at the church for their assistance.

Dental disorders may start early

Toddlers' tooth troubles usually take one of three forms, says a University of Michigan professor of dentistry.

Dr. William E. Brown, Jr., a specialist in dentistry for children, lists malocclusion, diseases of the gums, and "cavities" as the three most troublesome disorders. Each can be controlled or corrected by early treatment, he adds.

In a talk under auspices of the State Dental Association, Dr. Brown said "Tooth decay is the most widespread disease of all mankind." However, by using fluorides and controlling the intake of carbohydrates (especially sugar), "caries... can be reduced markedly in almost all children."

Destruction of gums and the bone supporting the teeth is a major cause of tooth loss later in life, he said. "Good habits of oral hygiene will prevent most of these problems" if started early in life. The key factor in oral hygiene is proper brushing immediately after eating.

Malocclusion—teeth that don't meet properly—affects about 50 percent of all children to the degree that correction is needed, said the U-M dentist. Most serious problems are hereditary. But, "premature loss of primary teeth, and such habits as thumb or finger sucking and tongue thrusting cause many malocclusions."

If they are caught early, some malocclusions can be treated with relative simplicity, he said. But if they are undetected or untreated, "they may develop into complex problems that require complicated and much more expensive treatment later."

Dr. Brown spoke on a broadcast, "Prescription for Health," prepared at the University of Michigan for statewide distribution. Moderator for the program is Dr. George Lowrey, U-M pediatrician.

Driving tips from the pros

Neither speeding nor slow driving is the greatest driving error noticed by one group who ought to know. Professional drivers, with a safety record unequalled by the average passenger-car driver, say in a report issued this month that it's failure to signal properly.

The driving error in second place is failure to dim lights and just behind that is close following, or "tailgating." The driving pros reporting are today's typical truck drivers—men whose jobs depend on their safety records.

Today's average passenger-car driver has an accident every 40,000 miles. The average trucker goes at least three times, and on some truck lines more than four times, farther per accident. Now that these drivers have been asked about the driving blunders they observe, the tabulation holds some surprises.

Errors previously thought to be among the most commonly committed (ignoring stop signs, crossing the center line, ignoring traffic lights) were at the bottom of the list. The slow driver was in eighth place as a menace. Ignoring solid "do not pass" lines on hills and curves tied for sixth place with drifting between lanes on expressways.

Excessive speed took fifth place. Failure to pass a slow-moving car ahead just barely nosed out excessive speed for fourth place.

Wendell Christoff Visits former exchange students

We have had beautiful weather through September, but, it has rained nearly every day of October and getting cooler. Finally got a haircut, the first since I left the States, at the Army PX for 50¢ and it surely looks like a fifty center.

Money is going fast—anyone who thinks Europe is cheap—tell them it is NOT. Gas is anywhere from 50c to 90c a gal. and in Italy I paid $1.44 for a quart of oil. I have been to Garmisch to look for a job, but everyone wants you to work through the holidays.

The trees are so beautiful here, like home but more beautiful because of the pines and mountains. Went to the wonderful little town of Oberammergau, famous for the Passion Play and their wood carvings.

On my way to northern Germany, stopped in Frankfurt and looked up Frank McMahon at the Air Force Base. We had a nice chat and he is bringing some of my film home. On to Essen to visit Mike Herwig. Boy was he surprised to see me. He recognized me right off.

Mike's family were wonderful to me and are good, warm-hearted people. Saw the huge Krupp works and mansion, went rowing on a river, listened to their church choir, a wonderful group, directed by his father. One of the choir members invited me to go with him through a coal mine museum and home to dinner with his family, very enjoyable.

Mr. Herwig got me in on a tour of the Heinrich Coal Mines along with 6 representatives of coal companies—a super fabulous experience. Another day I attended a German high school with one of Mike's friends and the English Professor asked me to teach the class and handed me his book. Quite interesting—the teachers rather than the students move from room to room. They have a more rounded education.

Essen is a large industrial city with very modern and beautiful buildings, also, new ranch style homes. Enjoyed seeing the German people as they really are with few tourists around. Went to a symphony concert in Essen Music Hall and afterwards Mike's family gave me a chocolate pudding going away party with gifts and a book on Essen.

Next at Peter Kahle's, our first German exchange student, at Bremerhaven on the North Sea. Rain and strong winds all the way and a horrible day. He was a school in southern Germany, but his family invited me to stay. They are both pharmacists and live in an above average home over their drug store. He has a brother, Hans, 17 and we enjoyed some ping pong games.

Went down to the harbor a few times and watched the fish loading operation, a fish auction which is much like the tobacco auctions, went through the cold storage warehouse and on board ship to see the fish bins. There are also U. S. transport ships in the harbor here.

Went through the most modern department store that I have ever seen and all seem to have grocery departments in them. Delivered drugs for Kahle's and then left for Munchen.

John Deckrow, my Western Michigan University friend, finally arrived and we are staying together for a few days. He had a date tonite while I did my washing. Glad the Olympics are going so good for U. S. Everyone watching to see what happens in USSR. Goldwater is the biggest joke since Red Skelton on this side of the globe, but Johnson is not accepted well either.

John and I took a little trip to Garmisch to look in the ski shops and the first thing we knew we were planning a side trip to the Zugspitze. Stayed at the Haus Sa'fer, in the same room Grandma and Grandpa stayed in. They must have made qu' an impression cuz the lady remembered everything from antiques to Uncle Chad's blue car.

The next morning we took the cog wheel train for the Zugspitz beautiful ride half way up and the rest through mountain tunnel. Mountain peaks snow capped, rented skis, boots and poles at the American Forces shop for $1.25 and off to the slopes. John's second time skiing, so it was a laugh from start to finish.

Stayed that night in a hotel on top of the mountain and skied the next day and then on to Freiburg to visit Peter Kahle. He was so surprised to see us and is a really handsome fellow and wonderful person. Talked a lot about Lowell and his friends. He got the day off and we visited a couple of real old villages across the Rhine and 20 miles into France.

Riquewihir is about the only town nothing is new in. The war didn't touch it. You wouldn't believe how badly these countries were destroyed. City after city—levelled to the ground. These people still remember very well and when you talk with them, you can see they still feel it in their hearts.

This is the wine region of lower Germany and vineyards are everywhere. We went through a cooperative winery and saw the process of making wine—this particular one produces some of the best wine in Germany. Ate lunch and dimmers at a number of inns in the numerous villages. A nice experience and the food is wonderful.

Visited the University of Freiburg and saw Peter's classrooms and his apartment. The buildings and grounds are beautiful and about 12,000 students enrolled—about the size of Western and very crowded. Looked a bit in the gift shops and back to Munchen.

Proclaims week for leader dogs

November 29 through December 5th has been proclaimed Leader Dog Week by Governor George Romney. During Leader Dog Week, attention is called to the important rehabilitation program being conducted at the Rochester, Michigan, Leader Dog School.

The non-profit school, Leader Dogs for the Blind, was founded in 1939 by Lions of Michigan—and has since trained over 2,000 Leader Dog "teams" (Leader Dog and blind person). Leader Dogs are furnished, without charge, to all eligible applicants.

A Leader Dog enables its owner to enter fully, despite a handicap, into the life of the community—to live an active and contributive life of his own. Lions arrange the enrollment of every eligible person who expresses an interest in obtaining a Leader Dog. Lions sponsor projects that are largely responsible for the success and growth of the unique school that provides happiness and confidence to blind men and women.

In addition to furnishing operating funds, Lions are always on the look-out for good, friendly German Shepherds, Labrador and Golden Retrievers—between the ages of one and two years—for the Leader Dog program. All dogs are contributed—none are purchased.

Anyone knowing of a blind person interested in obtaining a Leader Dog—see a member of the local Lions Club. Anyone interested in contributing a potential Leader Dog—write Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester, Michigan.

Kenyon-Zoodsma vows spoken November 24

John Zoodsma and Ethel Kenyon were united in marriage at the West Church of the Nazarene parsonage by the Rev. Kenneth Culver on November 24, at 5 p. m.

Following the wedding, dinner was served at Bylsma's Restaurant. The bride and groom left on Wednesday for Ohio to be with her family over the Thanksgiving holiday.

Eight part advice offered students seeking college

"Don't delay the paper work" is the advice to 1,400,000 students who will enter college for the first time next fall.

A one-page guide on applying for college, covers these eight points for high school seniors. Choosing the college. Make a realistic appraisal of your qualifications and compare them to the requirements of the colleges you're considering.

Study the literature. Allow plenty of time to look over the deluge of literature. Don't be oversold by catalogs. Get applications in. Make a formal application to no more than four or five schools. (The earlier you file, the better.)

Recommendations. As important as the interview are sensibly selected recommendations. Kudos from an 'influential' person who knows you only vaguely are all but worthless.

Interviews. Arranging a visit to the campus is an excellent idea, but set up a date with the admissions office before you arrive.

Those entrance exams. Be sure to check the college catalogs to see which ones are required and remember you must sign up in advance with your principal or counselor for the specific tests you plan to take.

The news may be good—or bad. What if you are turned down everywhere? The magazine article suggests obtaining information on colleges with openings from three centers set up to match students with colleges that will take them.

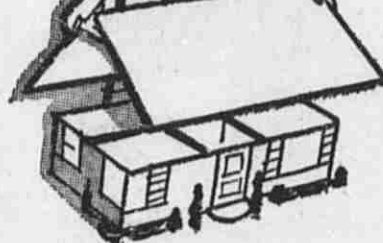

Paying the bill. If possible, you should have money for at least the first semester's bill in hand when you enroll.
