Architect reports $80,000 needed for Junior High

A school board meeting that their opinion that perhaps they did not adjourn until after mid- were too severe for first offendnight Monday brought a variety of matters to the attention of the board. Of vital interest to the community was the report by school architect, Donaling ly Palmer, who had completed a preliminary study of remodel-ing needed in the Junior High Buildin

The 50-year-old building which now houses 472 sixth through eighth graders plus some fifth graders needs many improvements to bring it up to standards set by the State Fore Marshall and the State Electrical Inspector

Palmer brought in estimates for upgrading the facilities to the state set standards and improving lights, floors, heating, ventilation and acoustics. These improvements include necessary changes required for the safety of the children, and are estimated to cost about $80,000. A final step to improve the educational facilities and modernize the building for today's teaching standards was roughly estimated to cost another $100.-

This, Palmer said, would give the building an estimated life of 25 years. A new Junior High School building to house this same number of pupils is estimated to cost $690,000 and would have a life of at least another 50 years.

Discuss Athletic Penalties Over two hours of the evening's meeting was devoted to a discussion with parents of two boys, who had been banned from athletics for a year for violation of training rules. No changes in the penalties were decided upon, but some members of the board voiced

ers. A meeting of athletes and their parents was scheduled to make further inquiry into the charges aired at the board meet-

Change in Noon Hour

Beginning this week, the noon hour lunch period has been changed in the high school and junior high, Crowded conditions in the cafeteria have made staggering the lunch hour of various classes necessary, Superintendent Nisbet told the board. The superintendent also reported that Miss Marcia Fellows has been employed to teach an additional unit of the fourth grade. Mrs. Gransee's morning kindergarten class will be moved to the Congregational Church on January 26.

Add Golf to Sports

Don Kelly, Athletic Director, revealed the financial condition of the athletic funds of the school and said that now that basketball was bringing in about the same gate as football, Kelly told the board that there was a possible reorganization coming up of the Tri-River Conference. Comstock Park, he reported, was planning to drop out of the conference, A new spring sport was added to the school program by the board when they approved golf. Several other schools in the conference have added this. Now that a golf course is close by in Vergennes Township and the school has been invited to make use of it, more youth of the community have an opportunity to compete. Estimated additional cost of this sport to the school is $430.

Guidance director to

Only the day after the ad-journed annual meeting of Lowell Showboat Inc. voted to not put on a Showboat program in 1965, a letter was received by President Frank Stephens asking for permission to put on the Showboat by Reginald Voorhees, booking agent from Chicago.

Voorhees, who has booked the professional acts for the Showboat almost every year since the 1930's, and has helped with the direction of the show, is familiar with the operation. In his letter he offered to take over the show and pay Showboat Inc. 25 percent of the net with a guarantee of $2,000 for the use of the facilities Showboat Directors will be discussing the plans that Voorhees has for handling the show at an early meeting.

Roy A. Kyser injured in car-truck collision

A Lowell man was seriously injured last Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock when his car collided with a truck near the Ionia and Barry County line, near Jordan Lake Investigating officers said Roy A. Kyser of Route 3, Lowell, was going north on Cemetery Road when his car collided with a vehicle driven by Arthur J. Loveland of Lansing, at the intersection of M-50.

The Lansing truck driver and passenger were not injured, but Mrs. Kyser was treated and released at Pennock Hospital in Hastings Hospital officials said Saturday noon that Mr. Kyser, who lives near the Ionia-Kent Counline, suffered severe head injuries and is in critical con-

Mary Chamberlain, past Lowell teacher, dies

At the fourth adjourned meeting of Showboat Inc. held in the Legion Building last Wednesday only 15 were present. Robert Forst, who has headed a committee investigating broadening the operating base organizations of Showboat, did not have an encouraging report. In view of the difficulties in getting enough interest in con-tinuing the show, it was almost automatic that the recommendation of the board of directors made last September to discon-tinue the Showboat in 1965 was accepted unanimously.

The assets and equipment of the Showboat are to be kept intact until a final decision is made at the annual meeting in Spetember 1965. All the directors of the corporation were voted to continue in office until that time

Michigan first in high schoo accreditation

The University of Michigan was the first institution of high er learning in the United States o accredit high schools, says Kent W. Leach, director of the U-M Bureau of School Servic-

"The Bureau has been responsible for the accrediting of both public and nonpublic high schools in the state since 1871." Leach points out.

"Society has evidenced a real concern about what high school programs are being offered to all boys and girls-those who plan to go on to college and those who desire to go immediately into the world and work." he says. "As a result, current accrediation standards relate to all phases of the high school such as curriculum, qualifications of staff, school plant, and guidance programs."

The University has assigned to its Bureau of School Services the supervision of the accredition program. The Bureau cooperates with an Accreditation Advisory Committee composed of three representatives of the University, and five members from the state principal' and superintendents' associations, officers of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Ad-visory decisions of the Bureau ity academic programs, to fos-ter an appreciation and knowand this committee concerning ledge of the fine arts, industrial the accreditation status of the arts, and the humanities, to deschools are subject to the ap-proval of an Executive Commit-ucation and health, and to en-er at the meeting of the Wotee composed of University per- courage opportunities for pre- men of the Moose, Chapter 1388,

Last Wednesday night at Cedar Springs, in what was supposed to be a real close meet, 12 fired up boys swept to one of the most lopsided victories in years. The score was 31 to 7 with no pins, Cedar won only 1 match and had 2 draws, Like a snowball rolling down hill, the score just kept getting bigger and bigger.

Cedar has 6 fine wrestlers, but only one of them came through with a win, Johnson at 165-1bs, with 4 years experience, beat Nugent with 2 seconds left in the match, 2 to 0. Oliver, another 4 year man, battled to Sandra Louise Deitz to a draw with Bruce Odell, 0 to
