LOWELL, MICH., THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1965

March 7 through 13 is Business Women's Week

13, people all over the world named the National B & PW will be observing National Business Women's Week-a week set aside to pay tribute to the wo-men in business and the professions, and the contributions they make to the nation.

The theme for 1965 is "Springtime Salute to Working Women," announced Elva Topp, president of the Lowell Business and Professional Women's

The main objectives of the B & PW Clubs is to elevate the standards of women in business and the professions; to promote the interests of business and professional women; to bring about a spirit of cooperation among business and professional women in the United States; and to extend oppor-tunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

The Lowell Club, organized in 1950, will hold a meeting in observance of this week on Monday evening, March 8, in the American Legion Club rooms at 8 p. m., with a special speaker.
Over the past 15 years, the local B & PW has sponsored such events as a fashion show, card parties, rummage sales, and tours for senior girls. They have been the main stem in the annual cancer drive in this area, and for the past several years have sponsored a scholarship for a senior girl to be used by her in any chosen field of the professional world. The club received special recognition when Lylia Johnson was elected to the highest district office of the Michigan Federation of B & PW Clubs, Inc., in 1937. In 1958, Molly Wepman, owner and manager of Wep-

Athletic leadership is urged to be sensitive to symptoms that indicate the need for medical re-examination of athletes: rap-

This historic city surrenders itself to the berserk, the bizarre, the boisterous and the boozers Tuesday.

It's Mardi Gras-the city's excuse to throw away its inhibitions, act like a fool, dress crazily, get plastered and make whoopee

Any other day in the year, the frenzied activities would court instant arrest. Nearly a million persons will jam the heart of the city to watch the many parades, guzzle beer, show off their own costumes, guzzle more beer, and look at the outlandish garb on others.

Carnival actually started in New Orleans just after Christmas when the 12th Night revelers held their ball. One or more gala balls have been held each

The public doesn't get into the act until the final 12 days before the start of the penitential 40 days of Lent.

How God must hate such goings on! People act like they are demon-possessed and then enter a pious season of Lent. This is done in New Orleans, not only, but also in Chicago, Detroit, Lansing and in Lowell, Mich! If not in public, then in private clubs. What does God say about Lent for such people? "I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies. Yea, though ye offer me your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the peace-offerings of your fat beasts. Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols. But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream." Amos 5:21-24

Evening rites unite couple

Last Friday evening, Miss Zeta Beatrice Byrne was given in marriage to John W. Smith by her uncle, James Byrne of Grand Rapids. The wedding took place in St. Patrick's Church in Parnell with the Rev. Edmund Farrell officiating, Parents of the couple are Mrs. Raymond Byrne of Ada and the late Mr. Byrne, and Mrs. John Smith of Saranac and the late Mr. Smith.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of chantilly lace with a fitted bodice and rhinestones accented the neckline. A tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls held her shoulder-length veil and she carried carnations and stephan-

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Ronald A. Walthorn. Margaret Byrne, Leona Byrne, and Mrs. James Smith, sisters of the bride, and Sharon Riendle were the bridesmaids, All wore princess-style velvet gowns and carried white muffs. Their headpieces were fashioned of veiled Dior bows.

The miniature bride was Dianne Eddy, and her dress was a replica of the bride's Donald Jackson carried the rings. The groom's brother, James N. Smith, was his best man. Ushering were Douglas Eddy, Charles Nead, Ronald Walthorn and Jack G. Smith, Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Moose Hall in Lowell. Serving as master and mistresses of ceremonies were the bride's brother-inlaw and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vroma of Ada, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jack-

New license plates in '66

Michigan's more than 41/2-million vehicles will be adorned by new license plates again in 1966.

"It's clearly a mandate of the people," Secretary of State James M. Hare said, after being assured by appropriations com-mittees of the Legislature that the added appropriations would be forthcoming.

"Judging from strong senti-ment expressed in the many letters we have received in favor of annual license plates," Hare said, "the people of Michigan do not wish to return to tabs even though it does save the state some money.'

"Pro-rated over the entire state, it's about a nickel per vehicle owner. I don't think this is too much to spend extra on each car-owning taxpayer in light of the tremendous amount money spent in other areas.
"We should reflect our good times economically," Hare said. "And Michigan presently is in the throes of a booming econo-
