Commencement

The one hundred and forty-one graduates, parents and their friends will listen to commencement speaker, the Severend H. Herbert Taylor of Plesant Hill Reformed Church in Grand Rapids, at the eighty-seventh annual exercises to be held at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium on Thursday, June 10. Rev. Taylor is a graduate of Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte, North Carolina, Howard University in Washington, D. C., and Lincoln Seminary in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

A native of Washington, the Rev. Taylor came to Pleasant Hill Reformed Church in 1959 after serving a Presbyter-ian Church in his home town. The Rev. Taylor will be moving his ministry to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in early June. He will serve the Reeve Memorial Presbyterian Church there.

"Heirlooms, Past and Present," will be the theme of a Silver Tea to be given by the Mary-Esther Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service from 2 to 5 Thursday afternoon, June 3, in the Educa-tion Building of the Lowell Methodist Church

This year the WSCS is celebrating the 25th anniversary of its organization, both nationally, and here in the Lowell Church. Thus, the tea will be an observance of the "Silver Anniversary."

A display of needlework treas-ures of the past will be of special interest. Quilts, samplers, afghans, embroidered tablecloths, crocheted pieces and laces with labels telling their stories, will bring recollections of early days and former friends. Also included will be some of the handwork done more recently, to be treasured by future gen-

Refreshments will be served by the circle members. An invitation is extended to all the women of the community who would like to share in this day of memories.

Michigan's fairs, which attract hundreds of thousands of persons each year, will start off the season on Juy 1, and before the coming of winter about 100 fairs, exhibitions, and shows will have been held in the state. August is the month most fairs.

Superintendent's corner

June 14th is another important day in the school calendar for the Lowell Area Schools. This is the date of the annual school election,

Two issues will be up for your consideration in this election. One is the election of a school board member for a four year term. Harold Metternick is running unopposed to succeed himself. Mr. Metternick lives in Alto and is emloyed by the R. J. Linton lumber yard. He was a board member of the former Alto school and a leader in the annexation movement of six primary districts to the Lowell Area Schools. He also was active in the planning of the Alto Area Elementary School. Any registered voter of the school district may vote on this

The other issue is the School Bond proposal. This proposal will permit needed additions to be built to the Alto Area Elementary School and to the Senior High school.

This issue will also provide monies to build and equip a new elementary building eleven classrooms on the west side of Lowell at the south end the present high school site.

The School Bond proposal is for $750,000.00 to be payable over a twenty-six year period. Taxes necessary to pay this issue are projected to raise the debt limit 1.5 mills. As the school district grows in evaluation this amount will be levied to meet the current bond proposal. Breaking this down into simpler language, if your property has not increased in evaluation since 1962, your 1965 school tax for debt retirement would be the same as in 1952, when the voters approved the Senior High School bond proposal

Work on the building would begin this fall and the buildings would be available for use in the fall of 1966, at which time the projected enrollment shows the need for the added rooms to be greatest.

We presently have a second class of thirty-eight and a kindergarten class of thirtyfive at Alto, and four sections of thirty-five each of the fifth grade at Lowell. A section of the kindergarten is now being housed in the Lowell Congregational church and will remain there next year also. Other grades are at their maxiim size at the present time. This proposal has been carefully discussed by the Board of Education with the school personnel and the architect. The buildings will be of the same type of construction as have been built in the district be-

The school bond issue deserves your attention and favorable support. Absentee ballots will be available in my office beginning Monday, June 7th, for those who absent on election day or physically unable to go to the polls You must be a resident property owner or buying property and responsible for taxes, to vote on the school bond issue.

2 area women injured as cars collide Tuesday

Mrs. Elida B. Saldivar and Mrs. Viola B. Saganek were injured Tuesday morning when their cars collided at the intersection of East Fulton Road and Ada Drive.

Mrs. Saldivar, aged 39, of 6009 Linfield Avenue, Alto, who was driving north on Ada Drive, failed to yield the right-of-way at Fulton Road. She started across the intersection and into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Saganek of 927 Cumberland Drive, Lowell. Mrs. Saganek, driving west, hit the Saldivar vehicle broadside and pushed it 45 feet.

Both ladies were taken by ambulance to Butterworth Hospital, where Mrs. Saganek was treated and released.

Mrs. Saldivar, who suffered visible head injuries, was held at the hospital for further observation. She was reported in good condition Tuesday after-

Glenn Jenks, Oakfield Twp. District cooperator used his specially made detailed soils map to advantage when he pre-pared his trailer park site last year. Karl Pregitzer, soil sci-entist found that Glenn could have an acceptable site for proper sewage disposal and oth-er drainage. Four feet of heavi-er top soil was removed from part of the area. The remaining sandy loam was found to be well adapted as a sewage disposal field. Now Mr. Jenks has a level trailer park which met county and state codes for inspection.
Too often similar projects and various building sites are de-veloped before drainage and septic tank disposal systems are considered. Then there is a great loss of time and money when the land is found to be unsuited and unacceptable to building codes and final in-spection. Thus, a soil capabil-ity map may be of valuable use to any landowner whether it be for farm or for other development uses.

More and more people are moving up to Chrysler. Their reasons should be important to you. One is looks. Chrysler's got style. It's clean. Distinctive. Different from all the "look-alikes." Another is price. Seven Chryslers are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, Yet, all are full-size. Day of Euphemisms

We are in a day of pleasant euphemisms. Gone are the harsh names of things. We must cover up harsh facts. We laughed a while back when garbage men became "sanitary engineers," and furnace cleaners became "heating technicians." But now we don't speak of old people any more; they are "senior citizens." And that irritating word, "inflation," is changed to "economic sophistication."

Then there is that bad word, "deficit." It is changed to "minus adjustment." Government spending is now "wealth distribution." We still have that disturbing word, "taxes." But under the "Great Society" taxes may be changed to some nice expression like "citizen investment." In the spiritual realm, we are especially white washing harsh realities with euphemisms. Sin is no longer sin, but must be described in nicer terms, like social mal-adjustment. Crime is mental illness, and any thought of "punishment" is old fashioned and must give way to "rehabilitation." But God's Word says, "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for drakness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!" (Isaiah 5:20). -From Last Day Messenger

4-H co-eds try for scholarships

Girls with an aptitude for home economics are encouraged to maintain high ratings in 4-H and school work by the lure of home economics schol-

Again in 1965 six scholarships of $800 each and three of $500 each are offered to college juniors majoring in home economics, the National 4-H Service Committee has announced. The candidates must have high scholastic standings and a background of 4-H work. Winners will be announced next December.

Candidates must be currently enrolled in a 4-H Club or have been a former 4-H member. The girls should make application to the state 4-H Club leader. The completed special scholarship application must include a statement explaining interest in home economics as a major course of study and financial need.

The business concerns providing these 4-H home economics scholarships are: Sunbeam Corporation, Chicago; The S&H Foundation, Inc., New York: The West Bend Company, West Bend, Wis., and Pyrofax Gas Corporation, New York.

More than 2 million home economics projects are com-pleted annually by 4-H Club members, according to figures released by the Federal Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. These include nutrition, bread baking, meal planning, sewing, food preservation, home improvement and related endeavors.

Molestation is increasing; warn children

Because child molestation incidents increase heavily in spring and summer, parents should caution their youngsters now against going for walks or rides with any stranger, said State Police Sgt. Oscar Berg-land, commander of the Rockford post.

He advised that this seasonal warning be occasionally re-peated to children as they are outdoors more in good weather

Sergeant Bergland said the State Police each year investigate many cases of child molestation and a large percentage could have been avoided if the children had been forewarned. The high months for such sex offenses are in summer.

Where adult supervision over children in outside activity is not possible, parents should insist that their youngsters be in company with others, Sergeant Bergland emphasized. A child alone on a playground, ex-ploring a vacant building or loitering in an alley can too easily become the prey of a molester.

Any incidents involving mo-lestation of children should be promptly reported by parents to police. Sergeant Bergland said this will expedite investigation which can help thwart possible other attempts by an offender. He stressed names of minors molested and their parents are not made public except where warranted in cases of abduction or mur-

Sergeant Bergland listed these guides for parents in cautioning youngsters about molestation dangers:

Children should not go for walks or rides with any person without parental approval. Since there is greater safety in numbers, children should have companions going to and from school, at playgrounds, going to or from movies, when running errands, etc.

Because public rest rooms, isolated places or vacant buildings can be high danger areas, children should be instructed not to loiter there

Youngsters should be advised to remember unusual features about a suspected molester and about any car which may be involved. Children having questions about their safety or suspecting a stranger should report the matter to parents, teacher or
