LOWELL, MICH., THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1965

Plan for school opening

The Lowell Area Schools has nearly completed its summer cleaning and maintenance work, and the administration is now ready to think of enrollments, bus schedules, and text book rentals and sales.

Articles will appear in succeeding issues of the Lowell Ledger on these issues.

Senior High School new enrollments for 1965-66 should be completed by August 16 in the principal's office at 730 Foreman Road. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

New enrollees should bring former report cards, if available.

Freshman Physicals

Freshman students are reminded that physical examinations are required of all students before school starts, September 8.

Local area doctors have these forms in their office. Appointments should be made for the examination if not already completed.

Elementary and Junior High School enrollment for new students will be held in the Runciman Elementary and the Junior High School Buildings the week of August 30. Office hours will be between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Kindergarten Forms

The superintendent's office has a supply of these forms available for parents who did not attend the pre-school conference in May.

Appointments should be made with your doctor and dentist if not already completed.

Lower pond level to work on Consumers' dam

Repair work at Consumers Power Company's Lowell hydroelectric plant on the Flat River will require lowering the pond level there for a period of about three weeks.

William E. Jacobs, region superintendent for Consumers Power, said the pond will be lowered beginning Friday, August 13, so that the repair work can be started on Monday, August 16.

The work will involve concrete repairs on the upstream side of the dam.

He said the company expects that pond levels will be back to normal by mid-September.

Board votes 4-2 to change policy

A change in the Lowell School Athletic Policy was voted at the regular meeting of the board Monday night after several hours discussion over the past several meetings and a conference with high school coaches.

In a 4-2 split vote of the board, the rule to suspend any athlete caught smoking or drinking on a first offense for a full 12 months or competition was reduced to balance of the season or 4 weeks; which ever was greatest. The 12 month suspension would still apply on any second offense.

In other action, the board of education accepted the deed to the baseball, football and track area of Recreation Park from the City of Lowell.

In taking over ownership of this portion of the park, the school would continue to pay $4,000 a year rental for the field house and $1,600 on the track. Both contracts are for a ten year period; the field house expires in 1970 and the track in 1972.

A bold experiment that really worked

Juvenile delinquency is on the increase nearly everywhere in America, is declining in Montana. Why? Montana scrapped its juvenile courts two years ago, insisted upon dealing with all offenders, regardless of age, in open court.

Their names, addresses, parents and crimes are all completely reported in the newspapers. The publicity has proven a genuine deterrent to crime. Juvenile felony cases in Montana are down 49 percent, traffic cases 75 percent.

Judge Lester Loble, who introduced the "treatment like adults" practice, says: "The system is effective because we lecture offenders and their parents in open court so that their cases can be fully reported. It passes responsibility on to the parents.

They can no longer hide behind the anonymous charges which used to go on the record in the juvenile court."

Does your closet look like this?

David Coons turned a "gift gag" into a gold mine this month. Using the elaborately boxed gift he received two years ago as "Rotary Man of the Month", he created a quizical, attention-getting window display.

The main window display took full advantage of the 100 technical, wide-screen, 1948 vintage, neck ties, still hung on the clothes lines just as the "Rotary Man" received them from Norm Borgerson in 1963.

Posters challenging "Guess what year these ties were in style?" and "Does your closet look like this?" were balanced by a display of narrow up-to-date patterns with a placard prescribing "Rx a few of these slim beauties."

This display has caused much comment and no little amusement along Main Street. It may, in fact, reach much farther than that. A salesman for the Wemby Tie Company stopped the other day and asked for a color picture, it wouldn't be as impressive in black and white, to send to the home office for possible nation-wide use.

Moral of this story; "never look a gift tie in the mouth."

Explain Schneider Fund

Members of the Lowell Township Board and Lowell City Council met on Monday evening with Donald O. Johnson, Vice President of Old Kent Band and Trust Co. to receive a report on the status of the Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund.

Mr. Johnson will be the Trust Officer for the bank on the advisory board being set up to administer the fund. He told the members of both groups who share in the assets that he now has received about $906,000 of funds belonging to the Schneider Fund. This portion of the estate consists of stock in Goodrich Rubber Co.; Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.; Monsanto Chemical Co.; Texaco Co.; and the Schneider Building Co. Also included in the nearly million dollars is $200,000 from the Ohio Building Co. for real estate.

Attorney Joseph Neath, representing Old Kent Bank and Trust Co. in the Schneider Fund since 1958; told the members of both boards that some $740,000 in assets are still in dispute. These funds are being held by the First National Bank of Akron and when a settlement is reached the Schneider Fund will receive 22-40 of what ever is recovered.

Mr. Johnson revealed to the board that Mrs. Schneider has been concerned with the funds coming to Lowell since 1958 when she discussed the way the administrators in Akron were handling the estate. It was at this time that the Trust Co. had their attorney make yearly investigations. The concern of Mrs. Jennie Schneider was very much in evidence, Mr. Johnson reported, in having the people of the Lowell community share in the benefits of this money.

Will Provide Guide

Philip Schneider a Lowell Township farm boy left what was estimated to be a million dollar fund to Lowell and Lowell Township in 1935 when he died. That portion of his will regarding this bequest reads as follows:

Article F of the Will of Philip H. Schneider

I do herewith establish a fund to be known as the "Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund," the Trustee of which shall agree to perform the provisions of this Item VII Article F. The Trustee of the Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund shall have the same powers as those designated under Item VI Article C. After the death of Jennie W. Schneider, the Trustee shall transfer to the Trustee of the Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund, of Lowell, Michigan two hundred (200) shares of the preferred capital of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, and to this fund shall be added the fund and property which is provided for in this last will and testament in Item VII Article G Sections 1, 2 and 4. The Trustees of the Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund shall pay the net income from this trust fund to an Advisory Board which shall consist of the Trustee of the Philip H. and Jennie Winegar Schneider Fund, a representative chosen by the Village Council of Lowell and one by the Township Trustees of Lowell Township. These funds shall be expended by the Advisory Board toward the alleviation of human suffering and for human welfare in times of need, in the Village of Lowell and in the Township of Lowell, Kent County, Michigan, and in the discretion of the Advisory Board to provide for free nursing and hospital facilities for such persons, if the immediate needs in the opinion of the Advisory Board, do not require the net income of this fund, it shall be accumulated with the principal until such need again presents itself. If, in the opinion of the Advisory Board, there is an excessive accumulation in this fund, the amount so added to the fund by accumulations may be expended toward the construction and/or equipping of a hospital or other public uses in the Village of Lowell, Michigan, as the Advisory Board may designate.

Decide Use of Money

After discussing the provisions of the will, Attorney Joseph Neath, told the city and township boards that the "Alleviation of human suffering and human welfare" would stretch to cover quite an area. In mentioning nursing and hospital care, it appeared clear that Philip Schneider was thinking of medical services. Mr. Neath also pointed out that Mr. Schneider made it clear in his will that any building constructed with these funds must be in the City of Lowell.

The will provides for the advisory board to govern the use of the earnings of the estate which are estimated to be $25,000 a year. Besides Mr. Donald Johnson on this board; Ray Pittenger, Supervisor of Lowell Township has been selected as the township member. The city council will also name a member to represent the city at the next council meeting on Monday.

Mr. Neath said membership on the advisory board is not restricted to members of either governing body. Anyone could be appointed to this advisory board, they need not even be residents of the community.

The board will meet and organize in the next week and begin considering uses for the yearly earnings of this estate.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dave Wessell is on sight-seeing trips in Finland

Savonlinna, Finland
August 4, 1965

Hi to Everyone in Lowell,

I arrived in Finland on the 12 of June and since that time I have seen something new and exciting every day.

I have a wonderful family here and they have arranged many things for me to do. After I had been here for about three weeks my father took me on a trip. We spent the next 2 weeks traveling and fishing in northern Finland and Norway.

We spent two days in Hammarfest, the world's northernmost city, and then went south into Sweden.

After a trip to Lapland I had only a few days before we were to leave for Leningrad. I spent those days sightseeing in Helsinki, Finland's capital.

On July 24, we went by bus to Leningrad. We spent three days sightseeing there. Among the places we visited was the Hermitage, a fabulous museum in the winter palace of the Czars.

Now my travelling is all done and I plan to spend the next three weeks relaxing in Savonlinna, waiting for my trip home on the 24. This is a beautiful spot, and we are going to do lots of water skiing, swimming, boating and tennis.

I am going to be back in Lowell on the 25. I am anxious to see all my friends there.

Dave Wessell

Young-age Drivers For most mothers, the day on which the youngster takes the driver's license is a day of mixed feelings. They're proud of, of course, but they're also nervous.

And, here is another important thing for parents to remember when their teen-age driver is in the family: certain insurance plans give lower rates to drivers of accredited driver-education courses and to young drivers who have not had an accident.

Be especially careful to check your policies with your insurance agent when you move from one area to another. There may be a better plan for you in your new territory as insurance premiums vary from locale to locale.

Despite the natural tendency to lack the Government's policy in times of foreign difficulty, many Americans are troubled about our role in Vietnam. . . . In bypassing the United Nations, we are only gratifying ourselves of an opportunity to strengthen the moral, political, and military basis of our effort to preserve freedom of choice for the Vietnamese, we are also exhibiting disrespect for the United Nations and are violating the letter as well as the spirit of its charter, thereby undermining the peace-keeping capacity of the United Nations. . . .

Lowell Area School board proceedings

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of Education, July 12, 1965.

The meeting was called to order by President Wessell at 7:40 p. m. with all the members present.

On motion by Shade, supported by Coons, the minutes of the June 23, 1965, and July 6, 1965, meetings were approved as printed.

The minutes of the June 14, 1965, meeting were approved after the following addition to the tenth paragraph. The following should be added after the word "building": "When arrangements have been made with Mrs. Shores, co-owner of the property."

President Wessell appointed Kiel, Shade and Reagan, to go over the athletic training rules with a committee representing the coaches and administration.

Principal Hagen was given authorization to rewrite the driving policy. The revised policy will be submitted to the Board for final approval.

Superintendent Stephen Nisbet told the board that the tax advisor, Fred Sherk, had recommended that the tax rate for retirement of bonds be increased to 1 mill this year to retire some 4 percent bonds issued in 1959 and provide increased reserve funds. This would raise the taxes for bond retirement from 6.5 mills to 7.5 mills.

The board unanimously voted to ask Mr. Sherk to come up with the minimum tax rate necessary to retire the bonds which will fall due in 1966 and provide for the sinking fund. This rate is expected to be very close to the 6.5 mills required last year.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p. m.

Respectfully submitted, R. E. REAGAN, D. D. S.

Rise in driver improvement

Revocations, suspensions, and other types of license actions were taken against more than 16,000 Michigan drivers, an upward swing of more than 3,000 over 1964 and a rise of nearly 7,000 over 1963 totals.

Warning letters sent to drivers in the 7 to 9 point range went over the 6,000-mark for the first half of the year, a rise of more than 8,000 over 1964.

Scheduled license appeal board hearings, which have indicated that the new regulations are fully implemented, are already more than 800 ahead of the June 30 date of last year.

State driver improvement activities, already at new all-time highs in several categories, are expected to rise at an even faster clip when the full impact of new, tighter restrictions are felt.

Secretary of State James M. Hars said he expected dramatic increases in all categories for the final half of 1965.

Meanwhile, the first half of 1965 were the highest in recent years.

Total activities conducted by the division numbered nearly 27,000, a rise of more than 6,000 over 1964, and more than 11,000 over 1963.

No other state has as many college and university faculty members abroad on educational missions as Michigan.

The pre-wedding weeks are the most hectic for the bride-to-be. Just as important and demanding as the endless decisions to be made about the wedding itself, are plans for decorating her first home.

Like most June brides turned July housewife, she will probably continue working to share in the expenses of buying furniture. Today's bride wants the best her budget allows, but she also realizes the importance of choosing furnishings that will be easy to care for in her limited time and experience as a homemaker.

Modern science has helped solve her dilemma with fibers, yarns and finishes that enhance and prolong the life of furnishings.

Curtain, upholstery and drapery fabrics that are made entirely of synthetic fibers are more durable and less likely to be damaged by sun, moisture and stains.

Even pastel colors are practical in casual tweeds, more formal swains and acrylics. With everything long pile to give a unified look to the bride's first room decorating plan.

Stains and spills on Herculon can be easily blotted up and then sponged away with a detergent and water solution.

Equally stain- and spill-proof are modern catalyzed lacquer finishes on furniture that give the traditional rich look of lacquer plus protection.

The bride who shops now for furniture designed for easy care is economizing for the day a few years away when she moves from her small apartment into a large home and discovers her furnishings are still bright and new looking.

The roddy Antares is one of the most interesting stars in the sky, Dr. Loeb points out. Its name means the "rival of Mars." Those who name this star probably did not dream that it is really no rival of the planet at all, but a great sun different from a planet in every way, except in the case of the color of Mars.

Antares is a great red giant star, so big that the whole orbit of Mars could be placed in it with plenty of space to spare, she explains.

Its diameter is 75,000 times that of the planet. When one looks at these two objects, both red in appearance, Mars the red in the southeast, and Antares, rising in the west, one is struck by the difference in size.

The curved tail with which the Scorpion stings its victims appears poised for action. The twin stars, Shaula and Lesath, that mark the scorpion's sting, in the Scorpion, are also referred to as the "Cat's Eyes," a very fitting name, seen as they are peering over the horizon.

Antares is a double star of great beauty. Concealed in its flaming red companion, which can be seen with a telescope of moderate size.

Author recalls farm boy days

Letter to editor

Getting up in the morning was a real adventure to a farm boy 80 years ago.

Lloyd C. Douglas, famed author of "The Robe," and one-time Ann Arbor minister, recalled "the good old days" of his childhood in a letter to friends in Columbus City, Indiana, where he was born to a Lutheran minister and his wife in 1877. A large collection of Douglas letters are in The University of Michigan Historical Collections.

Douglas remembered the cold mornings of his childhood when he dressed behind the big base burner: "Ours, as I recall, was a wood burner. It stood in the dining room. We'd part with our covering coats and dash down the stairs to huddle close together in the kitchen rivaled the cold in speeding up the dressing process."

"I remember the pancakes for breakfast. Buckwheat usually 'set' the night before with the crock well wrapped. They were not the toy dainties of today but dinner plate size, daily drenched with home-made butter (cut fresh from the old gray crock), floated in syrup, then folded, turn-over style.

"No one had heard of calories in that day so the arithmetical statistics of eating which ruins the table conversation of now-days did not enter into the feast. And feasts those breakfasts were with steak, or ham and eggs, and fried potatoes to follow. How did our turnouts hold it all? Well, we were young and they did!"

DIETITIANS URGE LIVER: SAYS IT IS GOOD FOR YOU

Liver is good for you and for your purse, say dietitians at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

Liver is a rich source of thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, iron & vitamin A—important elements of an adequate diet. And, the U-M food specialists say it is a relatively inexpensive meat, costing about half the price of rib roasts or sirloin steaks, and about the same as hamburger.

The U.M. dietitians however caution that liver is more perishable than most meats. They say it should be purchased fresh and used within a few days, and about the same as hamburger.

AMWAY surprised the audience of distributors with the release of two new products. After more than two years of research to be sure that it would be the very best, new Amway Toothpaste with Glistar was introduced. Glistar is the newly developed whiter and cleaner. Revolutionizing the toothpaste industry which sells over 323 million tubes per year, Amway Toothpaste comes with a wind up key, to ensure that the tube will appear always full and always neat. With a mint-tangy flavor that is most satisfying, Amway Toothpaste is truly refreshing and enjoyable. Freed from many toothpastes in the stores, Amway Toothpaste will soon be available from Amway distributors.

AMWAY also released new TABLEAU Support Hose that are not noticeable as support hose but for greater run hose will carry the famous Amway 45-day written guarantee.

Joan De Kok becomes bride of Donald Korhorn

Miss Joan G. DeKok, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerben DeKok, Thornapple River Drive, SE, and Donald W. Korhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Korhorn, Clifford Street, SE, were united in marriage Friday evening in Ada Christian Reformed Church.

The former Miss DeKok chose a gown of silk organza outlined around the double square train, on the skirt and sleeves with venise lace. A matching pillbox held her veil and she carried white feathered mums and pink sweetheart roses. Attired in long pink dacron gowns trimmed with venise lace, Mrs. Thomas Korhorn, matron of honor, and the Misses Ruth Kieft and Mary Korhorn, sister of the bridegroom, carried bouquets of white daisies and ivy. Bow headpieces that matched their gowns completed their ensembles. The groom's best man was his brother, Thomas Korhorn, and John DeKok and Jim Korhorn, brothers of the couple, served as ushers. The reception was held afterwards in the church parlor, with Mr. and Mrs. John Griffioen, presiding.

Despite a picket line, a theatre did a brisk business because the picture was a good mystery thriller. But the union displayed signs that said, "The Professor's Wife Did It." The strike was settled two hours later.

Meyer-DeGraw rites performed

Miss Mary Lou Margaret Meyer and Daniel P. DeGraw were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon, August 7, in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church of Monroe, Michigan. The Rev. Elwood Berkompas performed the double ring ceremony. The soloist, Miss Phyllis Gadawski, sang "One Hand, One Heart," "Because," and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Keith Anderson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel H. Meyer, 6000 North Stoney Creek Road, Monroe, Michigan, and Mr. and Mrs. George DeGraw, 503 North Monroe Street, Lowell. The bride entered the sanctuary adorned in a gown of frosted lace over peau de soie, featuring a wide satin double Doir bow with floor-length streamers. The illusion veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls and crystal. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. G. Michael Kollen, matron of honor, and Miss Darlene Hill, bridesmaid, wore gowns of frosted white lace over apricot peau de soie and deep apricot sashes, and matching pill box hats. They carried apricot and white feathered carnations and apricot streamers. Jeri Hartman of Kalamazoo, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Attending the groom as best man was Paul Houde. Seating the guests were Gerald Hartman, brother-in-law of the groom and James R. Wales. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Baycrest Clubhouse in Monroe. The couple will reside at 120 1/2 Oak Grove in Parchment, Michigan, following a honeymoon trip to Washington, D. C. Send children off to school healthy, safe

Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Officer, reminded parents that if their goal is to send their children off to school as healthy and safe as it is possible, they should ask themselves these questions:

1. Have my children had a complete physical examination? An annual check-up by the family physician and dentist is very important because it may result in the prevention of disease and sickness later.
 2. Are my children immunized? If properly immunized, no child need suffer from diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough, polio or measles.
 3. Do I discuss safety with my children? Accidents are the leading cause of injury and death in school age children.
 4. Do I provide nutritious meals for my family? Dullness in the classroom is often traced to improper eating or inadequate breakfast.
 5. Does my child get enough sleep? Adequate sleep builds up natural resistance against diseases and makes for a more alert student.
 6. Am I considerate of the health of others? Children should be kept home from school and away from playmates during the early stages of any sickness.
- Dr. Prothro said that health has become a major objective in our schools and we now all realize that the whole child goes to school—his body as well as his mind. The health of the school child is all important and his bodily health cannot be left outside of the classroom door when the child enters school. It is the joint responsibility of parents, schools, health department and community to see that our children are healthy.

Couple repeat solemn vows

The marriage of Miss Marie Beean, daughter of Deloss A. Beean, of Route 3, Lowell, and Gerald W. Pearson, was solemnized in the First Baptist Church of Lowell Saturday afternoon, July 31, at 4 o'clock. Mr. Pearson is the son of Mrs. William Pearson, Oberley Drive, Lowell, and the late Mr. Pearson.

The former Miss Beean chose a floor-length satin gown fashioned with a lace bodice with scalloped neckline edging, and a chapel train terminating into a scalloped hemline. Her bouffant veil was held in place by a lace capette adorned with pearls and crystal. She carried a colonial arrangement of white carnations and red tea roses.

Mrs. Ernest Shrontz of Lowell was matron of honor, Miss Ann Thomas of Grand Rapids and Miss Lorraine Hanify of Comstock Park were bridesmaids. They wore street-length dresses of toast lace and matching velvet leaf headpieces. Colonial bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums completed their ensembles.

Paula Beean, the bride's sister, was the flower girl. The bridegroom's brother-in-law, Ernest Shrontz of Lowell was best man. Seating the guests were Robert Boyd of Lowell, and Marland Lanning of Rockford. Master and Mistress of ceremonies presiding at the reception in the Masonic Temple following the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hanify. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson are making their home at 494 Chatham Street, Lowell.

Senate committee asked to double airline liability

The Senate was asked to ratify a treaty doubling the liability limit of international airlines for death and injury to passengers. The request was made by Theron J. Rice, Legislative General Manager of the National Chamber in a letter to J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The limit of liability for death or injury now is $8,300 per passenger. Under the treaty, known as the Hague Protocol, the limit would be raised to $16,600. Mr. Rice said that U. S. citizens, as passengers and shippers, are by far the greatest users of international air transportation. Ratification of the Hague Protocol would be in the best interest of the U. S.
