Council offers to pay expenses in mistake on Kooiman permit

The Lowell City Council at their meeting on Monday night, offered to identify Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kooiman, jr., 818 Lincoln Lake Avenue, for their expenses in a building permit mistake.

The Kooimans applied for a permit to build a new home on Foreman Street, it was issued, and then after some basement work had been completed, it was found that this area did not permit residential buildings. The Kooiman's filed expenses of $576.21 which included plans and title search expense. The Council on advise of their attorney, voted to pay $331.21. This excluded the cost of plans, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Kooiman did not indicate if they would accept this settlement.

Buy Cemetery Lots

The City Manager was given authority to purchase unused lots in Oakwood Cemetery from private owners, who wished to sell.

There is a certain demand for less than full 8 grave lots and this would fill the demand. The City will pay 75 percent of the present lot cost for four grave plots; 60 percent of two and three grave plots; and 50 percent on single plots.

Bill Richard was at the meeting and offered to purchase black dirt from the area planned for the new Grand River Bridge for 25 cents a yard.

The Council delayed any decision, until plans and needed approach right-of-ways have been purchased.

Mayor Arnold A. Wittenbach appointed William S. Doyle to serve on the term of Dr. Robert Reagan, who resigned as a member of the Planning Commission.

The Council also heard a request from Hallmark Company for a reduction in the sewage treatment charge for water, not returned to the City Sewer system.

They presented figures that indicate that 7 percent of the water they use is given off in steam and by evaporation.

Reorganization of Kent Co. schools vote is May 25 Track team end season undefeated

All citizens in the Lowell Area Schools and in the primary districts of Mapes, Talbot, Alton and Moseley will vote on the K-12 reorganization of Kent County Schools Wednesday, May 25.

Voters in the districts, just mentioned will vote in the Run-ciman Elementary School, and Lowell area residents living south of old US-16 or Cascade Road, will vote in the Alto Area Elementary School.

The reorganization will provide education for every boy and girl in Kent County from kindergarten through 12th grade in a single school district. All the voters in 20 districts of Kent County will be taking part in this election.

The total vote in the entire county will be counted together in the decision to reorganize under the K-12 plan. Absentee voter's ballots will be available at the Kent County Intermediate School District Office at 316 Ottawa Avenue, NW, in Grand Rapids, until 2 p. m. on Saturday, May 21.

Lowell Board Endorses

At the last meeting of the Lowell Area Board of Education, the board went on record as endorsing a "yes" vote for the reorganization.

The Lowell School district has a building program that will start soon, to provide schoolrooms for all the students expected from the consolidation of the primary districts.

This school space will not be available until the fall of 1967; for the coming year, the rural buildings will be used where necessary.

Voters in the Lowell district along with the primary districts involved are urged to turn out and approve this change, that will give all parents of students an equal voice in the education of their children, throughout the 13 years of attendance.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing on a proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance will be held at the regular meeting of the Lowell City Council on June 6, 1966, at 8 p. m. in the Council Room of the City Hall.

The amendment would permit certain service establishments in the Suburban Agricultural district, provided they meet certain requirements, including that of being approved by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Officers of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce met last Wednesday with L. V. Eberhard to discuss his plans to expand his store in Lowell, and the location of the new store.

In a release to Chamber of Commerce members, the officers summarized their discussion as follows: Mr. Eberhard told them he had an option to buy 7½ acres on the north side of West Main Street, just beyond the Calvary Chapel. He said he plans to build a single level 18,000 square foot building with parking spaces for 150 cars. A total investment in the community in excess of $400,000.

The number of employees in the new store would double from the present 15 full time and 15 part time to 30 in each category.

Eberhard revealed to the officers, that he plans to continue to lease the present building he is in on East Main Street, and to use it for his ice cream plant and to expand his self-serve laundry. He might sub lease some of the area to another business.

When asked if he had considered other building sites, he told the officers that even if he could purchase more land at his present location it would be inadequate. He said that he David C. Mier, 26, 414 Lafayette Street, received three broken toes and cuts and bruises when his motorcycle hit a car driven by Nimeria Watters, 53, of 514 N. Washington Street, shortly after 5 p. m. on Saturday.

The accident occurred at the intersection of East Main and Washington Streets.

Police said that Mrs. Watters pulled out in front of the bike as it was making a left turn off Main Street.

An 11-year-old girl, Gail Stephens, 914 James Street, Belding, appealed to the local police for help on Friday afternoon, when she rode her bicycle from Belding to Lowell. She was going to meet her mother, who works at Attitude, but she arrived a little too late.

A brother drove down from Belding to pick her up.

The City issued a building permit to Cornell Oil Company this week to construct a new service station, coin operated laundry and dry cleaning plant at the corner of West Street and West Main Street.

The old gas station at this site will be torn down to make room for the new facility.

Cost of the project was set in the application for the permit at $65,000.

Clifford Chapman, 34, Bell Road, Clarksville, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Riverview Inn on April 29, and stealing over $400.

Police Chief Avery Block revealed that Chapman was given a polygraph test at the Rockford State Police Post last Friday, when he was identified after passing a check stolen from Riverview. He did not confess to the robbery until Tuesday, even though the polygraph test pointed to his guilt.

He was arraigned in municipal court in Grand Rapids, and released, until trial, on a $300 bond.

Several mail boxes on Grindle Drive were damaged by vandals last week. Chunks of cement were thrown at the mail boxes.

This kind of destruction is a federal offense. Police are investigating.

The Lowell Ledger Office received a shipment this week of the 1966 official highway map for the State of Michigan.

These maps are available to the public on a first come, first serve basis, with a limit of one to a customer.

Renovates theatre... looks into future

Something new has been added, or something old has been changed, as passers-by on the West end of Main Street can plainly see, the Strand Theatre has been having its face lifted the past couple of weeks.

The entire theatre is being renovated inside and out. The new face or front was installed last week; all plate glass across the entrance.

The lobby and the lounge are elegant with teakwood paneling, which Mr. Evans installed himself. The old-fashioned stucco ceilings are being replaced with new dropped ceilings with indirect lighting. The ceiling in the lounge is already finished.

The auditorium will be freshly repainted and a new heating plant will be installed sometime soon.

The refreshment counter in the lounge has been moved, and rebuilt, with antique lamps to light this area. The old concession stand will be enclosed to make some needed storage space.

Mr. Evans is rightly proud of the alterations of his theatre, and doesn't seem to be afraid to invest in the future, even in competition with the old movies on TV.

The younger generation, who cut their teeth on the boob tube, seem to be enthralled with the movies as their parents were in their teens and twenties, anyway, who wants to go on a date and sit in front of the white screen with ma and pa.

Mr. Evans, who bought the Strand Theatre eighteen years ago, just at the advent of TV, feels that good movies are stacking up much higher gross than they used to. The only problem as far as the Evans are concerned is to get the kind of movies that they like to show in a family theatre.

In a discussion of the grade B and below productions getting so much play at the Drive-Ins these days, Mr. Evans said that they are making them so scary, that even the married couples hold hands, which may be good for something after all.

Mr. Evans feels that when he is through, his theatre will compare very favorable with any in the area, and it is heartening to find such an attitude bubbling on Main Street. Doubly heartening, to the merchants and citizens of the city, should be the fact that with the exception of the glass area in the front Mr. Evans used local materials and local labor, including some of his own sweat, in remodeling his establishment.

When the new carpeting is laid, dark red background with black and green splash design, he will indeed be rolling out the red carpet for his patrons.

Letter to Editor

Planning Commission replies to critics

Lowell's planning and zoning boards in July of 1963, zoned the entire main street from city limits on Main Street, under the impression that this would comply with the popular concept that commercial saturation of highways would ultimately take place from Grand Rapids to Lowell and possibly further to Ionia in due course of time, especially in view of the suburban sprawl taking place around Grand Rapids, and the growth of residential areas such as Ada and Cascade and towards Lowell, with motels, gas stations, gas storage plants, service garages, car sales agencies, etc.

Shortly after zoning this area commercial, in February of 1963 our new City Planning Consultant Scott Bagby advised us that we had made a serious mistake in strip zoning such an extensive area to commercial use, as this violated all zoning principles and modern zoning practice. Mr. Bagby pointed out that experience in other cities similar to Lowell had indicated that in the long run zoning commercial the entire length of main street would destroy the present business district as it now exists and injure the entire city by tax base loss in the commercial area, which now pays one half of the cost of running the city, and would result in the partial shifting of this tax load to the residential area which would then be obliged to bear a greater share of the cost of government.

Mr. Bagby further explained that business establishments built outside of the present business district does add valuation to the city, but takes away from the old business district, far more than it adds in the new commercial area.

Mr. Bagby pointed out that any shopping community of any size will only support so many business places. When the area is encouraged to build outside the present boundaries the old section of the city suffers and depreciates the entire business district. Proper zoning will encourage a compact centralized business district and strengthen the city by attracting customers to the entire shopping center, instead of diverting them to many remote and isolated shopping units. Suburban shopping centers have two characteristics, they drain trade from the center of the city and leave the city's traditional merchants stranded. They are operated in many cases by chain stores whose profits go out of town to the big operators and are lost to the community, and are lost to the small businesses whose money remains in the community and is utilized to build up the community through private enterprise in the small town economy.

It has been brought to our attention that some people enthusiastic about the introduction of some bright and glowing project, which is presented with the idea that it is going to revolutionize the town, are critical of the commission as of blocking progress, when they hesitate to immediately, without due consideration, grant a variance, or a zoning change. Those who act in haste are apt to repent at leisure.

We feel that it is to the best interests of all citizens, that the council, the planning commission and the zoning board of appeals act slowly, deliberately, and in accord with out adopted city zoning ordinances; regardless of hot and cold public opinion entertained by probably good intentioned and well meaning people, but possibly stimulated by selfish interests.

Ralph Townsend, chairman, Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals

Parade set for Memorial Day

The annual Memorial Day parade and tribute to the servicemen of the area, of all wars, who died for their country, will be held in Lowell on Monday, May 30.

Richards Park will be the assembly point for the parade participants. At 9:30 the parade will leave the park and head for Oakwood Cemetery where memorial services will be conducted.

Every serviceman in the community is asked to participate. Uniforms are not necessary, but would add more color to the parade.

Both the VFW and the American Legion, co-sponsors of the parade and services, are making a special effort to have their membership take part.

The parade will halt at the west bridge over the Flat River, where the auxiliaries of the VFW and the American Legion and the Joseph Wilson Women's Relief Corps will cast a floral tribute on the water and the firing squad will salute the boys who lost their lives at sea.

Father Ben, of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Lowell will deliver the main address of the Memorial Day event.

Rev. Charles Davis, of the will give the invocation and benediction.

The American Legion plans to have their new bus in the parade for the convenience of the veterans and those members of the Auxiliaries who are unable to march the entire parade distance.

Following the presentation of the "Star Spangle Banner," by the Lowell high school band, a firing squad will give a salute and the taps at echos will dismiss those present.

Anyone interested in marching in the Memorial Day parade should contact the parade marshal, Roger Bieri, or Frank Stephens. Participation is open to all groups who would like to take part.

Mr. Bieri announced this week that the order of this year's parade will be as follows:

Colors and color guard, firing squad and veterans, the veterans auxiliaries, Blue Star Mothers (in cars), senior high band, and floats.

Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, drum and baton corps, Camp Fire girls, Blue Birds, junior high band, bicycles and horses.

Auto dealers urged to join safety Council

The National Automobile Dealers Association's Board of Directors has unanimously adopted a resolution calling on all new car dealers to join the official Dealers Traffic Safety Council.

The Council was organized in January and is open to auto dealers who sign a pledge to help improve traffic safety in their states and communities.

More than 4,000 dealers have signed up and membership continues to grow by several hundred weekly, according to M. R. Darlington, Jr., managing director of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee, the secretary of the Council.

The NADA resolution asserts that "the traffic accident problem is essentially a local problem, since 80 per cent of traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home."

One driver in five is involved in a traffic accident every year, it said, and last year "traffic accidents claimed nearly 50,000 lives, injured more than 3.5 million and cost $3 billion."

The Council advocates a balanced schedule to the traffic accident problem, involving the driver and pedestrian, the vehicle and the highway, "and their various interactions."

Its aim is to encourage stepped-up action by citizens' groups and businessmen in support of public officials having traffic safety responsibilities. Council members are being sent traffic safety materials, information and project suggestions, Mr. Darlington said.

The Council was formed in cooperation with NADA and the auto manufacturers, sponsors of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee since 1946.

Open letter to Lowell citizens

Dear Friends:

You have never heard of Maple Grove Medical Care Facility, I know I didn't until I was admitted. Disabled by multiple sclerosis and confined to a wheelchair, it is now my home as well as the hope of approximately 100 other patients.

It is a hospital in some ways, but the atmosphere is completely unlike that of a medical institution with rapid turnover. There is a friendly relationship between nurses, aides and other workers handling the shuttles and there is a personal touch not found in other hospitals.

Yes, Maple Grove is a medical facility and its occupants are also cared for by interested persons such as the members of Maple Grove Hospital Guild who countles little things and are instrumental in promoting projects, the latest being a small van-type bus which will be used to transport patients to entertainment features such as the Lowell Showboat.

This vehicle will carry four wheelchairs and their occupants and take them to various functions. It can be operated by one person. A hydraulic lift elevates the chairs and the operation can be done in minutes.

Wouldn't you feel that your contribution is the answer to "What can I do to make life happier for these unfortunate?"

Why not lend a hand to make this project a reality? And, oh, yes, the project has the blessing of the Kent County Board of Social Welfare. Simply send your check to Maple Grove Hospital Guild, 2000 2nd St., Grand Rapids, 49508.

Thank you, Herb Harris

New Pantie Takes Years Off Figure!

CHICAGO, ILL.—Fashion House Foundations of Chicago has developed a new pantie girdle collection designed especially for women who are up to fifteen pounds overweight and whose waistline is 32 inches or smaller.

Fashion House's new UPS-N-DOWNS pantie features a patented custom fitting concept in which the crotch section stretches to give a perfect fit to the wearer regardless of whether she has a petite, average or tall torso.

According to fashion designers, panties that fit too high over the waistline because of a petite torso cause a rolling of the material that shows as a bulge.

If the pantie doesn't quite make waistline (full torso), most women feel as though they must continually pull it up.

In addition to all this, the UPS-N-DOWNS have only one seam. The front, back and hip panels use a unique foldover underlay. Turned bottom eliminates thigh-line bulge. It's perfect for tight-fitting outerwear.

This fine pantie series, made of lightweight spandex, is now available in our foundation department in small, medium, large and extra large. It's in white only, and priced at just $5.

Sweet stops Lindhout's feature winning streak

Jackie Lindhout's winning streak in the super modified division at the Grand Rapids Speedrome came to a sudden halt Saturday night, when Randy Sweet of Grand Rapids walked lap of qualifying at 17.33.

Todd Gibson of Richmond, Ohio, drove deeper into the finish line by Johnny Benson of Grand Rapids, and Ray Wright of Elkhart, Indiana. Taking the 25-lap main event for $2,000 guaranteed purse in that division, Sweet outpurred and out-maneuvered a top field of qualifiers for the feature, and a heat race.

Taking over the wheel of a super modified for the first time last year, Sweet has been gradually working his way up the ladder in experience, and his efforts are showing.

Top honors in the semi-late model division went to Moose Meyers of Fort Wayne, Indiana. He set the pace in the semi-late model division Saturday night with the fastest qualifying lap. He won the first car dish, a heat race and the main event. Jerry Spears finished second in the 20-lap encounter followed by Ken Sutton and Glen Tams.

This Saturday night Berlin Raceway will hold their grand opening festivities. Time trials are at 6:30 with the first car-packed race slated to get under way at 8 p. m.

Champs retain titles in horseshoe tournament

The initial WSHPA sanctioned horseshoe tournament at the Covered Bridge Courts in Ada saw some of the greatest pitching ever displayed in these parts.

Both Roy Smith of Muskegon, state men's champion and Marjorie Buhler of Byron, Centre Co., queen of the Michigan women pitchers were extended to the final in their respective classes.

Roy Smith and Doc Mason of Warren staged a real Donnybrook. Roy, who had 22 rings in his first 24 pitches, was finally stopped in a great 124 shoe contest. This produced a tie in the top class for men and in the playoff Smith won by pitching a nice 81.1 percent game.

Clyde Gorton of Wyoming edged Bill Cork. Shelbyville in another group. Other trophy winners in the men's bracket were Eddie Harvey of Muskegon, Norwood Buhler of Byron Center, Harold Berg of Muskegon and Laverne Sewell from Greenville.

The surprise in the Ladies' Division was the return to the pitching wars by Beverly Clark, Alto housewife, and 1963 ladies' champ.

Beverly gave Marge Buhler of Ada's Ruth Hammond a real battle before going down to defeat. Mrs. Hammond was the high percentage pitcher among the ladies, but lost a close one to Mrs. Buhler in the finals.

Who's hung Conduct a survey on UFO's

Some of the area artists are taking advantage of the generous offer made by the "V" to provide them with a place to show their work.

Stop in and look around the next time you go past the office.

Mrs. Ray (Bertha) Ritinger has three oils on display, "Vilager," "Gaspé Bay" and an oil of a small boy fishing, titled "Spring."

Mrs. Enoon (Marion) Carlson, one of the many artists who took the course through the "V" in them, to what extent their beliefs went, and where they thought the UFO's came from.

The first group sent questionnaires and letters to 28 adults in Grand Rapids. From these 20 they received ten replies and many of these people were happy to express their opinions on the subject and a couple were quite interested in the idea of a floral watercolor.

One very interesting reply the group received was from a pilot who went beyond his own opinion of the sightings to the subject of communication with the inhabitants of the UFO's.

The results were in favor of an oil called "The Valley" which was painted last winter through the window at the corner of the laundry.

Mrs. Steven (Alice) Bauer is showing three mediums, a large oil done with a palette knife is very striking; an oil of a winter forest and also a floral watercolor.

Mrs. Martin (Trevia) Johnson, another student of the "V" Art Class, is showing an oil entitled "Crown Church" and one called "St. Paddy."

Mrs. Paul (Vally) Bieri has an oil called "Springtime" and Mrs. Clark (Sally) Bieri is showing a pastel.

Mrs. Rockett (Jean) a member of the Thagapp Valley Artists Association who teaches a class in that area on Saturdays, is showing three oils also, "Large Oil done with Palette Knife," "Still Life with Watermelon" and "In From the Field."

The teenagers polled included one hundred and seven students of Lowell Senior High School. From these students the group received a variety of replies.

The students may be tending to be more adventurous minded than the adults, were a little more in favor of the reality of UFO's, the number believing in them was about 10 percent and no opinion on the question.

Of the students, 90 percent thought there should be further investigation into the subject. Most of the students thought that the explanations given by experts, so far some of the sightings and most are waiting for further proof and information before they form any opinion.

Comparing the opinions of teens and adults polled, the teens are less inclined to believe these sightings are results of people's imaginations. The teenagers tend to other people in existing life to believe in the possibility of these UFO's being from other planets.

The adults and teenagers do, however, agree that this thing should be looked into and studied further and they both also seem to be avoiding the form.

If Jesus Came to Your House

If Jesus came to your house to spend a day or two—
If He came unexpectedly, I wonder what you'd do.
Oh, I know you'd give your nicest room to such an honored Guest,
And all the food you'd serve to Him would be the very best,
And you would keep assuring Him you're glad to have Him there—
That serving Him in your home is joy beyond compare.

But—when you saw Him coming, would you meet Him at the door
With arms outstretched in welcome to your heavenly Visitor?
Or would you have to change your clothes before you let Him in?
Or hide

Some magazines and put the Bible where they'd been?
Would you turn off the radio and hope He hadn't heard?
And wish you hadn't uttered that last, loud, hasty word?

Would you hide your worldly music and put some hymn books out?
Could you let Jesus walk in, or would you rush about?
And I wonder—if the Savior spent a day or two with you,
Would you go right on doing the things you always do?
Would you go right on saying the things you always say?
Would life for you continue as it does from day to day?

Would your family conversation keep its usual pace?
And would you find it hard each meal to say a table grace?
Would you sing the songs you sing, and read the books you read,
And let Him know the things on which your mind and spirit feed?
Would you take Jesus with you everywhere you'd planned to go?
Or would you, maybe, change your plans for just a day or so?

—Author Unknown
