College Night at Lowell high school

Plans for the High School College Night Program Wednesday, October 11, at 7:30 p. m. are being completed by the high school's guidance department.

The purposes of the program are to stimulate enthusiasm and interest in planning for college among our students and to provide general college information to students and parents as well as specific information about each of the colleges represented.

The following 20 Michigan college representatives will be present at this program to visit about their college:

Alma College, Stephen Bushouse; Aquinas College, Jim Butler; Blodgett Memorial Hospital, Alvena Franzen, R. N.; Central Michigan University,

Paul M. Winger; Davenport College, Mrs. B. Margaret Vos; Ferris State College, Karl Walker; General Motors Institute, George Soderman; Grand Rapids Junior College, Anthony LaPenna; Grand Valley State College, Jim Bolthouse; Hope College, Paul Kleinheddel; Kalamazoo College, Fred Jackson; Kendall School of Design, Lawrence O. Mailloux; Lake Superior State College, Woody Ludwig; Michigan State University, James L. Custer; Michigan Technological University, Fred Gunnell; Nazareth College, Miss Katherine Seymour; University of Michigan, Vern Jensen; and Western Michigan University, John Shelander, Northwood Institute, Charles Schlereth.

Students from all levels of high school and their parents are encouraged to attend.

Mother, baby critical after car-train crash

A car-train accident at the Morse Lake Road crossing near Alto Monday demolished the car and sent two persons to the hospital with critical injuries.

Mrs. Dianna S. (John J.) Haggai, 21, of 11365-60th Street, Alto, was reported Tuesday afternoon still unconscious and in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit of Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Her son, Thomas, six months old, suffered multiple injuries but was less seriously injured than his mother. Both have skull fractures and other injuries.

Mrs. Haggai obviously did not see the train until shortly before she hit the middle car of the three-car train. Investigating officers are theorizing that she was distracted by the baby and failed to see the red flashing crossing lights until it was too late. The officers report the flashers as working properly.

Mrs. Haggai is the former Dianna Wilcox of Parnell.

Two-year-old killed by car; rites are set

Two-year-old Curtis Edward VanderLaan was killed late Tuesday afternoon when he crossed the road in front of his home to get the paper and stepped into the path of a car driven by a Grand Rapids woman.

Curtis, who was born in Grand Rapids on July 7, 1965, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed VanderLaan of 2674 Kraft Avenue, SE, in Cascade. His mother is the former Donna Geelhoed of Lowell. Mr. VanderLaan is employed by Steelcase, Inc., as a press operator, and is a well known race car driver.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Cheryl and Darla and one brother, Douglas, all at home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert VanderLaan of Cascade; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Geelhoed of Cascade; several aunts, uncles and cousins.

A Funeral Mass will be held at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Cascade on Friday morning with Father Leo Malinowski officiating.

Interment will follow in Resurrection Cemetery in Grand Rapids.

Lowell students selected for quiz bowl series

The names of West Michigan high school students, and their alternates, who will be featured on WZZM-TV's "High School Quiz Bowl" series, were announced this week.

The joint announcement was made by William D. Corder, WZZM-TV's program manager, and James Ryan, principal of Greenville Senior High School Greenville, Michigan. Ryan is chairman of the education committee which has been working with WZZM-TV in selecting students for the show.

"High School Quiz Bowl" will premiere on WZZM-TV Saturday, October 14, 6:30 to 7 p. m.

"It's been a long and difficult job," said Ryan. "In making selections from such a large list of qualified and gifted young people." He said that the students selected will provide the stimulating audience appeal that is needed to sustain the bright, fast-paced program.

Quiz bowl participants selected to represent Lowell High School were Rogers Powers, Dave Poe, Kim Hoag and Laura Coons.

Comprising an alternate team will be Steve McCure, Jim Hagen, Jerry Thaler and Dave Roth.

In the same announcement Corder named the WZZM-TV producer-director of "High School Quiz Bowl," Alvin Dompke. He said that Dompke will supervise the entire production plan of the program series. This will include determining program pacing, working out a plan of TV camera traffic and the responsibility for producing a smooth, imaginatively directed television series.

Don Michaels, WZZM-TV's sports director, was recently named to host-embce "High School Quiz Bowl."

Similar to the G. E. College Bowl TV show, "High School Quiz Bowl" will spotlight two groups of area high school students in academic competition.

The series is designed to develop scholarship in the panelists and also enhance the reputation of the schools which participate. An added program feature will spotlight the various phases of the participating schools programs. "High School Quiz Bowl" is intended to involve the whole student body of the selected schools, with the idea of stressing the academic rather than the much-publicized athletic side of education.

Elizabeth Venneman services Saturday

Mrs. Elizabeth Venneman, 58, of Lowell, passed away at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids on Thursday, September 28.

Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at the Roth Funeral Home in Lowell with the Rev. Raymond Gaylord of the Cascade Christian Church officiating.

She is survived by four sons, Carl and Leonard of Lowell, and Lee and William of Belding; three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Blanche Livingston of Clarksville and Mrs. Jane Foster of Lowell and 24 grandchildren.

Mrs. Venneman is also survived by five brothers, Allison and Bruce Raymor of Salem, John Raymor of Fulton, Ellsworth and Oliver, Raymor of Lowell; one sister, Mrs. Isabelle Edwards of Lowell and several nieces and nephews.

Interment services were held at Cascade Cemetery.

Len Kerr wins golf tourney

The first annual Men's Tournament was held at the Arrowhead Golf Course on Sunday, October 1. A fine day of strong competition from area golfers made the event successful for those in attendance.

Winner of the tournament with a low net score of 72 was Len Kerr of 10776 Bailey Drive, Lowell. He was presented with 2 engraved trophies, one a permanent trophy for his home, and a traveling trophy that will be passed along to next year's winner.

John DeHaan of Bowes Road in Lowell was the second place winner with a 74. DeHaan won a golf shirt.

Five men tied for third place honors. They were Bernard Kropf, Carl Smith, Al Seeley, Mac Fonger, and Roger Roberts.

Three players ended up in the fourth place slot, Bob Perry, Jim Topp and Ron Holst.

All third and fourth place winners received golf balls as prizes.

Bob Perry became the only double winner of the day by taking the top spot in the putting contest. Perry had a total of 31 putts. He was the winner of a golf shirt for this achievement.

Principal Carl Hagen has announced that Laura Coons has been named Semifinalist in the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship Program, from Lowell high school.

The 14,000 semi-finalists appointed throughout the nation have advanced to the second step in the competition for about 2,900 Merit Scholarships, valued at more than $8 million, to be awarded in 1968.

These students constitute less than one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the nation.

Davenport moved up on Illinois Central

Henry F. Davenport, a former Lowell resident has been appointed assistant vice president of operation of the Illinois Central Railroad, Chicago.

Davenport, 41, came to the Illinois Central in 1946 as a junior engineering aide on the Kentucky Division following graduation from the University of Michigan. He holds a B.S. degree in civil engineering.

He served as assistant supervisor, supervisor of track, assistant to division engineer, division engineer, staff engineer, and assistant superintendent, before being named superintendent of the Louisiana Division in 1965.

In February of this year he was appointed general superintendent at Chicago, the position he held at the time of his present appointment.

Davenport and his wife, Jane, reside in Olympia Fields, Ill., with their daughters Mahala and Frieda.

Jan Johnson to instruct art classes

One of the Lowell "Y's" most popular classes will begin on Monday, October 9. The Art Class instructed by Mrs. Jan Johnson is by far one of the most popular and best attended classes in the Adult Program.

Mrs. Johnson has the ability to bring out the hidden talent necessary to paint or sketch. This year's class will include instruction in oils, water color and charcoal.

The class will meet on Mondays at 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. and on Tuesdays from 1 to 3 in the "Y" office. This cost for this ten week course is $5 for "Y" members and $8 for non "Y" members. The class will end the week of December 12.

Inquiries can be answered by calling or stopping in at the "Y" office. The "Y" telephone number is 897-7375.

Showboat Garden Club

The Showboat Garden Club will meet October 9 at the home of Mrs. Daniel Lessens.

Mrs. Robert Christie of the Rockford Garden Club will be the guest speaker. She has many good ideas to give us. Everyone is welcome to attend and hear Mrs. Christie.

Each year, about 20 to 25 percent of the funds collected through the United Fund Drive are returned to Lowell to help various civic groups such as the Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, YMCA, and the Girl Scouts.

A Board of Directors, composed of members of the Rotary and Lions Clubs, review the requests and distribute the funds according to the by-laws of the Lowell Community Fund.

All requests from any group desiring financial help should have their requests in writing and to the Secretary, Dr. R. E. Reagan by October 15.

Plans are now to have the new bridge over Grand River on M-91 open for traffic in two weeks according to Brown Construction Company officials.

Norm Borgerson, who is staging a 'one man' campaign to save the old bridge as an antique, says that so far he has received $25 to "Help Save the Old Bridge."

Fred Althaus, 59, of 318 Riverside Drive, Lowell, suffered chest injuries when his car ran into a tree on Lincoln Lake Avenue, near the north city limits Thursday at 8 p. m. He was treated by a local physician after the accident and returned home on Friday when he had difficulty breathing, he was taken by ambulance to a Grand Rapids hospital for further treatment.

He is expected home this week.

Lowell police received a report at 6:25 Friday evening that a driver was running other cars off the roadway, while proceeding west through the city on East Main Street.

Police gave chase and stopped Arnold S. Clouse, 49, of Battle Creek, several miles west of Lowell. He appeared before Justice Rittenger on Saturday, charged with drunk driving and was fined $100 and costs.

He failed to make the fine, and was returned to the Kent County Jail.

Union Bank opened its 23rd office in Greater Grand Rapids with the grand opening of the new fifteen million dollar East-Look Shopping Center last week.

Jack Hartley of Lowell, the Manager of the Mail Office, greeted some 2,500 persons during the office's opening day.

Kenneth Gould, 29, Gulliford Drive, was taken to Blodgett Hospital on Thursday at 10:45 p. m. after he hit a tree while driving south on Lincoln Lake Ave., at the intersection of Vergennes St., a mile north of Lowell. Gould was treated and released after suffering only minor injuries.

This accident was reported on the late TV news as fatal, and had Lowell residents asking questions on Friday.

Lowell firemen were called to 2 fires September 27. The first was shortly after midnight when a children's tree house at the Hodge's residence on James Street was destroyed by fire. Chief Baker was unable to discover the cause of the blaze.

At 4:15 in the afternoon the firemen went to 403 North Monroe Street to the residence of Robert Sauer, where an oil furnace smoked up the house.

Mrs. Gloria Beckwith, 27, of 11431 Fulton Street, suffered knee and arm injuries when she rolled her car while driving on Bowes Road at 2:05 a. m. She was treated and released by a local physician.

Lowell Police issued a summons on a reckless driving charge when she told them she went to sleep at the wheel.

Mrs. Harold Myers announced the opening of her shop specializing in antiques, primitives and gifts, at 1160 West Main St. This week. The new shop, to be known as "Evergreen Acres," is located back from the highway among the evergreen plantings.

She plans to open a coffee shop along with the sales section in the near future.

Child Study Club meets week early

The Lowell Child Study Club will meet Thursday, October 12, one week earlier than usual to see the films, "Dance Little Child, Dance," and "One Quarter Million Teen-agers."

Mrs. Helen Noah, the school nurse and Miss Harriet Wiersma from the Kent County Health Department, will be there to discuss the films.

Mrs. John Gabriel will be hostess at the meeting, which will be held in the Lowell high school biology room.

Builder claims harrassment by Planning Commission

Lowell real estate developer Douglas Dok walked out of the Council meeting Monday night, when a long discussion with the Council and City Manager Bernard Olson, left him right back where he was 10 months ago.

The desire of Dok to build additional apartment buildings, for which he requested a zoning change last December, has brought about his present impasse with the Planning Commission and Council.

After his request in December, the Planning Commission objected to the proposed street planning. The Council held a public hearing in February, but the hearing was adjourned with no action.

A new street plan was offered to the Planning Commission this summer, which was also rejected; but on August 3, at a special meeting, the Planning Commission voted to approve two lots to build apartment buildings.

At the regular meeting of the Planning Commission on August 28, the approval of the two lots was brought up again and this time rejected.

On September 5 at the regular City Council meeting, the Council voted 3 to 2 to approve the two lots for apartment buildings; Councilman Schneider, who made the motion, said in his opinion it was not "over the objection of the Planning Commission."

To add to Mr. Dok's problems, when the description was drawn up on the approval of the two lots, it only allowed one lot and this in an area not zoned for multi-family units.

The Council on Monday of this week corrected the description error, but said they could not act on the request to rezone the area to allow multi-family units until the Planning Commission acts on the request.

This of course puts Mr. Dok right back where he was in December of 1966 and he took a walk.

Presently the problem remains in the hands of the Planning Commission who are still, as the City Manager told Mr. Dok, waiting for a plan satisfactory to them for the remaining property of the Lowell Development Corporation—while all Dok wants is a zoning change that will allow him to build more apartment buildings in the immediate vicinity of the present apartments.

The next meeting of the Planning Commission is on October 23, where further discussion will probably take place.

claims

In an interview Tuesday, Mr. Dok stated that he feels that he is being harrassed by the Planning Commission; that he is completely confused as to how he can get any action on his request for rezoning.

He said he feels that the planning consultant has approved making the area he wants for apartments available for that use. The Planning Commission, Dok said, is apparently trying to control the lay out of the buildings, even though he has complied with all the terms of the zoning and building ordinances.

Dok revealed that he has enough demand to fill two, four family apartment buildings and he would like to spend well over $100,000 on the two buildings. The way things are going for the development of multi-family dwellings, there appears to be little chance to get the buildings started this year.

Ada church resumes full Fall schedule

The Ada Community Reformed Church begins its Fall activities this week.

The new season appears to be one of excitement, programs and innovations.

The older children will attend Catechism classes and the adults will attend the Prayer meeting and choir rehearsal.

Perhaps the most exciting thing in the coming year is the forward movement toward the new church.

Such a need was evidenced by the necessity of adding folding chairs for the morning service this past week.

The first edition contained 4 pages and we hope to increase it to 6 pages in the next publication.

That's the word from W. L. Hammann, lawyer of posts for the Woolworth Company, who explains that these fish must be moved in water maintained at a temperature range of 70 to 80 degrees.

One tourist to another: When ever I see croquettes on the menu I have a feeling we missed something here yesterday.

Bob Senneker wins 75-lap invitational race

Concluding the finest racing season of his career, Bob Senneker of Grand Rapids took over the lead on the 75-lap race.

Jerry Spear of Battle Creek, who set a new lap qualifying record at 18.37 set the early pace and was the race leader until the 69-lap when he spun out.

PELLWS SECOND... Bob Fellows of Grand Rapids was second in the hectic and final race of the season.

Heat race winners were VanderMolen, Paul Howell, Bob Senneker, Bob Fellows and Bill Thurkotte of Muskegon.

Heat race winners were VanderMolen, Paul Howell, Bob Senneker, Bob Fellows and Bill Thurkotte of Muskegon.

DRIVERS HONORED... During intermission ceremonies of the season's finale, the drivers finishing in the top 20 spots of the final point standings were honored.

Fourteen feature wins on the seven-stinted mile oval were enough to give Bob Senneker of Grand Rapids the season's point championship over his competitors by a wide margin.

Gail Cobb of Ada, driving the Big Boy Special No. 12, was second in the point standings.

Dale Talena and Don VanderMolen of Grand Rapids, Jim Rowley of Ionia, Bob Patrick of Allegan, Glen Tans of Husonville, Bill Baker of Muskegon, Terry Schmidt of Grand Rapids, Gene Eding of Grand Rapids, Bob DePauw of Oshtemo, and John Bliss of Grand Rapids.

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR... Tom Marks, the eighth place finisher in the final standings, was voted 'Rookie of the Year.'

Marks, a former drag strip contender, who turned to the oval track for the first time this season, made a deep impression in the semi-late model classification for a rookie.

And that is one reason that many of them travel by airplane to home town retailers. They are moved in plastic bags partly filled with water.

The suggested mailing deadlines for Christmas mail were announced today by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

Gifts weighing more than five pounds sent by surface postage rates, November 11; gifts five pounds or less, plus letters and greeting cards sent at surface rates (these go by air on a space available basis), December 10.

Overseas air mail—remotely areas, all main air routes, December 1; and areas on heavily traveled air routes, December 10.

A teen-age athlete ordered a whole pizza for lunch. "Should I cut into six or eight pieces?" asked the waitress.

Highway study shows record M-21 traffic

officials cite critical need for road improvement

Reports prepared by the Michigan Department of State Highways indicate that the average traffic count on M-21 (Fulton Street), east of Grand Rapids through Ada and Lowell, has reached a figure that in some instances surpasses the number of vehicles traveling the I-49 Expressway.

Concern over the safety of this route has been expressed by state, county and city law enforcement agencies who report it has been the scene of more than 250 accidents in 30 months. Citing nine deaths and 173 injuries, the highway department's latest study indicates that this route is critical: incapable of carrying this tremendous volume of traffic safely. At the same time, however, they indicate that a "lack of funds" prevents improvement.

Uninsured vehicle count over 200,000

How many uninsured drivers were there in Michigan last year? Well, official figures indicate that 211,369 registered vehicles in Michigan... at least this is the number that paid $35 into the Michigan Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund.

There are several intangibles connected with these totals, however, although Hare said State James M. Hare, who administers the Fund operation.

Hare says there are more uninsured than shown on the report. "It's impossible to get a completely accurate count because certain drivers are uninsured at different times of the year. For instance, a driver may have in-effect liability insurance at the time he buys his car, but later becomes uninsured when his policy period lapses a short time later. Others buy insurance and permit it to lapse.

The report also reflects two plate years... the 1966 plate years which go through the entire calendar year and the start of the 1967 plate sale which opened on November 1, 1966. Some drivers may have registered vehicles twice, once for 1966 and the second time in 1967. Hare said that most uninsured "wait until the last possible minute to buy their plates."

Total number of persons paying fees into the Fund during 1966 numbered 4,815,431, again spurring the legislature to act. Less than five percent of the total were registered as uninsured drivers.
