First snow storm hits

The community was given an early Christmas setting last Friday when some 6 inches of wet snow covered trees, fences and homes. It was an ideal opportunity for those who wanted a Christmas atmosphere for their Christmas card pictures. Others were unhappy when the heavy wet snow broke off large branches from their tender young trees. This early snow was in contrast to last year when the same day in October had 67-degree temperatures (quote Buck Mathews).

St. Patrick's asks Board to transport students

Public school transportation for parochial school children twas the topic of a meeting held in St. Patrick's parish hall Monday evening. The discussion was prompted by the controversial Public Act 241 which was passed by the Michigan State Legislature in 1964. This act promises public transportation to all students regardless of whether they attend private or public schools.

Present at the meeting, which was presided over by Father Edmund Farrell, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, was James A. Pace, Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Robert E. Reagan, president the Lowell Area School Board; Roger Buck, head of transportation for the Lowell system; and John Vos, who is in charge of the buses, routes and drivers for the Lowell sys-

In addition, James A. Byrne, president of St. Patrick's School Board; Donald Lennon, Assistant to the Superintendent of Rapids Diocese; and Sister Mary Edona, RSM, principal of St. Patrick's school, were in attendance.

At present the children of St. Patrick's are transported to school in the main by their individual parents and by buses, owned and operated by groups of parents, which are transporting children from the Grattan and Cannonsburg areas.

Lowell, at present, is transporting 482 public school stu-dents at a total of 179 miles on seven buses in this area. All seven buses are carrying peak Mr. Pace revealed that is has

Everyone agreed that the welfare of the child was the primary concern of all, and the solution will have to be worked out slowly and constructively in the future. Any and all solutions must be approved by the Lowell Area Board of Educa-since the start of the small game hunting season has prompted a crackdown by judges and conservation officials. Lowell township and surround-

Junior Varsity to battle Rams

Lowell's Junior Varsity will try to even its season's record when they travel to Rockford this Thursday to battle the Rams at 7 p. m. In action last week, the Arrows saw their record dip to 3 wins and 4 losses when they were defeated by the Trojans of Middleville, 20 to 13. Middleville tallied two touchdowns in the first five minutes of the ball game, struck again in the second period and then 'hung on' as the Arrows came charging back.

Dale Kropf scored from 4 yards out in the second quarter to narrow Middleville's early lead. Ken Roth's run for the point after touchdown was good to give Lowell 7 points. Roth intercepted a Trojan pass to set up Kropf's T.D.

The first half ended with Middleville enjoying a 20 to 7 lead. Both teams were held scoreless in the third quarter. Mitch McMahon scored on a quarterback sneak in the fourth quarter to give Lowell its second touchdown. A 40 yard pass to Gale Schmidt put the ball in this scoring position. Notes: Lowell was forced to give up the ball on downs with 9 minutes to go in the game with the ball on Middleville's 1 yard line.

Coaches Terry Ayres and Ed Douma praised the jobs turned in by Mike Blough, Blair Cahoon, David Jones and Mitch McMahon.

Finale Friday

The Red Arrows Varsity football team will finish its eight game schedule this Friday when it entertains a rugged Rockford squad at 7:30 p. m.

Last Friday saw Lowell playing a good game but coming out 'second-best' to Middleville 20 to 14, Steve Sanderson, Trojan back, opened the evening's scoring when he scampered 14 yards to paydirt in the first quarter. Sanderson also made good the 'point after' attempt to give the visitors an early 7-0 lead. Middleville increased its lead to 13 points in the second quarter when fullback, Gary Von-Elst, outran all defenders, 70 yards to Lowell's endzone. rang up

Rick Foerster 'rang up' seven points for Lowell, later in this quarter, when he carried the pigskin into the Trojan's endzone and ran the extra point. The first half ended with no further scoring and Middleville in the lead 13 to 7.

Rick Foerster tallied his second touchdown of the evening, and his second extra point, in the fourth quarter to put Lowell ahead for the first time in Minutes later, however, Sanderson scored his second T.D. and extra point to give Middleville its victory and end all scoring.

Middleville did not throw a pass in this game. They ended with 295 yards rushing—205 of these yards were gained in the first half. Lowell rushed for 159 yards (148 by Foerster) and collected another 85 yards through the airlanes for a total of 244 yards

Annual address report program

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien said today that all pest offices wil again participate in the annual address reporting program for aliens durmonth of January, 1968.

The 32,000 post offices in the 50 States, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, will participate by making available address report cards for submission to Immigration and Naturalization offices.

The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 requires each alien residing in the United States on January 1, 1968, to report his current address to the Commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service within the period from January 1 to January 31, 1968, The address report cards to be used-a manila punch-card similar to that which was used last January-will be furnished to postmasters next month, distributuion to the public will not be made until the first day of January.

The cards, as they are completed by aliens, are turned in to their local postmaster, who in turn forwards them to designated Immigration and Natural-detect, disarm Marine Private Patrick D. Hoag, son of Mr. & Mrs. Ray-mond J. Hoag, sr., of 10630 52nd St., Lowell, completed two weeks of training under simulated combat conditions in the fundamentals of day and night patroling, employment of infantry weapons, survival methods and assault tactics at Camp Pendelton. California.

This individual combat training is given every Marine after his graduation from recruit training. Taught by combat experienced non-commissioned officers of the infantry training regiment here, it prepares the young Leatherneck to become part of the Marine air-ground combat team. While in the field Hoag was taught how to use hand grenades, a compass and the principles of map reading and land navigation. He learned how to detect and disarm mines and booby traps and, while being exposed to live machine gun fire. he learned to advance safely from one point to another. From this course, Hoag is scheduled to go on to more ad-vanced training before being as-signed to his permanent unit. BBB warns of sales gimmicks

If an innocent looking lad stands on your doorstep, and asks you to buy magazine subscriptions because he's "workng his way through college" the best thing you can do is check with the Grand Rapids

Better Business Bureau. The Bureau has recently issured a warning that they have received numerous calls during the past weeks concerning companies soliciting magazine subscriptions using a multitude of gimmicks, including the one noted above. While there are many ethical companies working in the maz-azine subscription field in this area, this warning concerns on-ly those who offer false claims, who use high-pressure tactics or who otherwise attempt to co-erce people into buving unwanted subscriptions through misrepresentation or other pressure

It is better to be safe than sorry, and no reputable salesman will object to having his credentials checked or to having you call the BBB for information on his firm. The best policy is be careful, and don't expect to get something for
