Cited for 'Noble Performance'

Laud Rural Carrier

Last November 10 started out like any other day for Lowell Rural Carrier Paul Kerekes. But before it was over Kerekes had demonstrated an ample supply of uncommon courage—he'd help save a life.

In recognition "of this noble performance," the United States Post Office this week presented Kerekes with a $250 award for "Superior Accomplishment."

Then the frosting to the cake—red white and blue frosting at that—was added as Kerekes and his wife were feted at a party at the post office where he was presented the awards by Postmaster Charles Doyle.

The Village Smithy

BY FRAN SMITH

Back in the Fall, when I first looked into the proposition of purchasing a newspaper, a trip to the area was needed to determine if this was the opportunity for which I was seeking.

And I was immediately conscious that there were an unusual number of antique shops hereabouts.

Now the only interest I ever had in antiques was to watch that the years didn't creep up too fast that I became a "listing." My interest in antiques was stimulated more than a little of recent date, however, when No. 3 son, Kevin by name, made a dramatic Christmas gift purchase for his mother.

He bought an old cash register... at least the term "old" was applied until several sisters who have browsed through many an antique shop came to the house on holiday visits.

After one look, each declared this heavy monstrosity to be genuinely antique.

A Lovely Machine, She Says

"What," inquired the first sister to inspect the hand-cranked model with the no-sale tab hung conspicuously behind the ornate glass (no doubt the final gesture of a previous owner whose business was as operable as the machine itself), "What did you pay for this lovely machine?"

Said Kevin, somewhat sheepishly, not wishing to let on that he might have been swindled: "Well, I gave the guy $5."

"A real steal... really," said the sister. "Why that beautiful cash register has to be worth at least $25!"

At this, Kevin's eyes lit up brighter than the baubles adorning our Christmas tree. "Holy Mackerel," he shouted. "Sold!"

Well good friend wife couldn't see that this was in good taste. After all, it was a gift and it had been given to her on Christmas morning during an unweaving ceremony in the family garage. (I might interject here that this method of transfer was necessary for two reasons: 1. The cash register was too heavy to lug into the house, and 2. it would have taken the better part of a day and about $3 worth of paper and ribbon to wrap it.)

So the first sister went away, sans cash register, but happy in her discovery of a new antique... if there is such an animal. Word got back to the second sister and she rushed to the house to examine the prize. "How much?," she asked Kevin.

Newest Merchant More Worldly

By this time, the newest merchant in Mount Clemens had become a little more worldly. "Make me an offer," he said.

"I would think it would be worth $75," said Sister No. 2... who really is Sister No. 1 since she is the head of the family, but who falls chronologically into the former position.

Kevin gulped loudly and cast a glance at his mother.

"Well, it's not mine to sell, but I think I can negotiate the deal," he said. "I'll let you know in a day or two."

Good friend wife had still a better idea. "Look," she said, "we'll be moving to the Lowell area later in the summer and there are plenty of antique shops up there. Maybe we can make a better deal!"

And all this time I didn't believe there was an ounce of business sense behind those baby-blue eyes!

But I will be quite honest... we have no intention of trying to glut the local antique cash register market by shipping it almost all the way across the state.

Unless, of course, I hear a bid for $100!

'March' Kick Off Jan. 25

Almost 9,000 Kent County mothers will begin the annual March of Dimes Mothers' March January 25, according to Mrs. Louis VanderKaay of Grand Rapids, county chairman.

This year's March of Dimes goal is $110,000 of which the Mothers' March hopes to raise $68,000. Last year, $64,000 was collected by the Mothers' March.

Mrs. John Tower, community chairman for the area including Ada, Bowne, Byron, Caledonia, Cascade, Gaines, Lowell and Vergennes Townships said that 41 area chairmen, 188 captains, 822 lieutenants and between 7,500 and 8,000 "contact mothers" are engaged in this year's campaign.

"One infant in every 16 is born with a serious birth defect Mrs. Tower reports. "That's why we feel the March of Dimes goal of attacking problems caused by birth defects is so important. One child with a major birth defect is born every other minute in our nation."

Many defects can be reduced in severity or completely corrected if they are detected early and given the best treatment known to modern medicine," Mrs. Tower said.

The official long-range objective of The National Foundation March of Dimes is the prevention of birth defects through research and the improvement of standards of diagnosis, care and treatment for all children born less than perfect, she explained.

The "contact mothers" will be identified by March of Dimes insignia and credentials.

The other man in the drama also was on hand. He is Donald Yelter, 48, who has nearly recovered from injuries in an accident on his farm more than two months ago.

Kerekes was driving along Cascade Road near Alden Nash as usual that Friday morning. As he approached the Yelter Centennial Farm (Don's great-grandfather first settled there), Mrs. Lloyd Yelter, Don's mother, frantically called to Kerekes for help.

Her son, she quickly explained, was caught in the power take-off mechanism of his tractor. The power unit was being used to operate a conveyor for lifting corn from a wagon to the silo.

Kerekes immediately ran to the stricken man.

Yelter explains what happened: "Either my pants or my right boot got caught in the shaft and it pulled the rest of me in."

"I had on a heavy jacket and coveralls which was fortunate. If I had been wearing this suit (a new blue suit donned for the Kerekes party) there wouldn't have been anything left of me."

Finally the power take-off jammed and stalled. By this time Yelter's left arm had been severed at the shoulder, and his clothing was hopelessly tangled in the machinery.

Kerekes was shaken by the sight. "I was scared but I was afraid he'd see that I was, so I tried to act normal," he recalls.

Borrowing a hacksaw from Mrs. Yelter, Kerekes sawed Yelter's clothing off to get the injured man loose... a 20-minute task. By this time most of the bleeding had stopped.

Then Yelter was whisked off by ambulance to Blodgett Hospital where he spent 21 days. He still has scars on his right leg but he's back tending his herd of 40 prize Guernsey cattle with the help of his son, David, a part-time hired man.

As for Kerekes, he completed his route, arriving back in Lowell an hour later than usual. "When he came in he was white as a ghost," Postmaster Doyle remembers.

Doyle listened to Kerekes' account of the Yelter incident, then applied to the Chicago regional Post Office for the special award.

Louis McNaughton, postal service officer from the Windy City who was here for the presentation, said the Post Office has approved only a handful of the coveted awards in Michigan and Illinois over the last five years.

McNaughton estimated that perhaps only 100 or so have

City, Townships to Meet on Ambulance Service

AN EDITORIAL

It's Time for Action In Ambulance Crisis

No one likes to ride in an ambulance. With the possible exception of a hearse, it's probably the least desirable form of transportation. But like the hearse, the ambulance is a necessary conveyance.

Until a few months ago, you could call for an ambulance in this area and get one... pronto! That's no longer true. Now it can take up to 45 minutes, maybe an hour, and cost $30 or more for the trip to the hospital. Those 45 minutes, as local officials and doctor well know, can literally mean life or death. But local ambulance service is dead, the victim of sharply rising federal minimum wage regulations and stringent state laws requiring two fully-trained attendants on every run.

In an average year, about 150 ambulance runs are made in the Lowell and outlying areas. At an average of $26 or $30 a run, that comes to only $3,900 or $4,500—not nearly enough to support a private local ambulance operation encumbered by today's regulations.

So some two months ago area morticians abandoned their ambulance services as too costly. Ironically, just a few days later Don Yelter (see story elsewhere on these pages) got caught in the power take-off on his tractor and needed medical assistance immediately. The ambulance from Grand Rapids was more than a half-hour in arriving. Postman Paul Kerekes cut Yelter loose and stayed with him until the ambulance arrived.

Whether faster service would have helped make things more comfortable for Yelter is perhaps a moot question.

But certainly everyone agrees that the health and welfare of Lowell-area residents lies in peril as long as fast ambulance service is lacking.

Three courses of action have been outlined. They are:

1. That Lowell use as a police cruiser a station wagon that could be equipped for emergency first aid and transportation to the hospital. Our opinion: Purely a stop-gap measure that doesn't solve the problem.

2. That Lowell and outlying townships share in those costs of providing local ambulance service that exceed $6,000 a year, which would be provided by Kent County. The drawbacks: No one, at this time, can predict how much above $6,000 the service may cost and local governments are sorely limited in producing new revenues.

3. That Lowell and other local government throughout the county agree that through the Kent Co. Board of Supervisors a privately-operated ambulance service be either partially or fully subsidized. This proposal calls for setting up a number of ambulance stations at strategic locations. The problem: This thwarts state law, would take a time-consuming statutory change, outcome of which is "iffy" at best, and again leaves unclear the question of costs.

No matter what course is decided upon, the time to end the talk and take strong, decisive action is fast approaching. It may mean life or death. Perhaps yours! F. E. S.

Snow and cold weather made Lowell streets dangerous over the weekend but police reported only one accident. Sunday at 8:05 p. m. a car driven by Earl Brown with passenger, Karen Brown, both of Grand Rapids went into the ditch on West Main near the Valley Vista Drive intersection.

Brown reported he swerved to avoid a car stalled on the highway.

A juvenile was turned over to Lowell Police and later to Juvenile Court authorities by the manager of a local supermarket last week.

The 16-year-old boy was caught leaving the store with a gallon jug of wine under his coat.

Three Grand Rapids youths were arrested Monday evening by Lowell Police and charged with minors in possession; they were ordered to pay fines and costs of $55 in Justice Rittenger's Court on Tuesday. The car driven by Dell Parks, 19, was halted on a minor traffic violation. The driver had an expired license and the open beer was seen in the car.

The two passengers, James Hall, 19, and Roger Carl Minch, 19, along with the driver, were all taken to Kent County Jail for the night.

Lowell Police are waiting for delivery of their new cruiser.

The new Plymouth ordered several weeks ago is expected within a few days.

Additional office space is being constructed at Wittenbach Sales and Service Company. The new office will accommodate another member of the office staff.

This is the problem of expansion, build new shop space and you need more help to do the paper work.

RED FACE DEPT.: Last week, it was reported that a vote during the Board of Education meeting was 5-1, when actually it was 4-2. It appears the editor needs a hearing aid! Or that Dave Coons needs a megaphone! Really, we're sorry about that, chief.

Lowell bowlers have annually chipped in almost 100 percent at the rate of $1 each toward the Bowling Proprietors of Michigan Charities Tournament Campaign now underway that raises money for the March of Dimes. Fine event for an outstanding cause. Let's make it all the way this year.

Can spring be far behind? Mrs. Iva McIntyre of Grand River Drive spotted two robins feasting on berry bushes in her yard Tuesday. And Algene Feuerstein from Parnell reports receipt of seed catalogues in the mail last week.

Area residents requiring assistance from the Kent County Legal Aid Service will be able to receive it locally henceforth. City Council approved a request from the LAS for use of council chambers on Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Approve Flooding Of 'Y' Ice Rink

The weatherman is cooperating... and so will the City of Lowell in flooding an ice rink at Pleasant and Main as requested by the YMCA.

City Council authorized City Manager Bernard Olson to work out details with YMCA officials if the latter still wished the city to supply labor to create the ice surface.

One condition of the arrangement would be that the land be leased by the YMCA, Olson said.

Final Plans Set for Fred Roth Dinner

Fred Roth's golden anniversary as a Vergennes Township official will be celebrated with a testimonial dinner February 2 at Lowell High School. Sponsored by 15 organizations with which Mr. Roth has been associated over the years, the dinner will feature as special guest the electors—of widows of electors—who put the supervisor into office in 1917. Tickets are available from local organizations or from Stan Gardner, treasurer for the dinner.

Officials from three local government agencies are continuing to seek measures that would assure adequate local ambulance service, but the prospect for an early... and easy... solution does not appear imminent.

City Manager Bernard Olson is scheduled to meet soon with Fred Roth, Vergennes Township supervisor, and Ray Rittenger, his counterpart in Lowell Township, to discuss the matter further.

Members of Lowell's city council were cool to a proposal put forth by the Safety Committee of the Kent County Board of Supervisors that would, if approved, offer $5,000 to the three government agencies to help underwrite establishment of an ambulance service locally.

Councilman Carlen Anderson, following a lengthy discussion at Monday's council meeting, said he was opposed to any plan that would "put us in the ambulance business."

"This is a matter for private enterprise," he stated. "I feel that it's a matter for experts."

The council also rejected any thought of initiating a volunteer ambulance service as impractical, although agreeing that substantial savings could be realized.

Olson told the council that his initial estimates would call for a total outlay of approximately $14,000 a year, of which the county might assume $6,000.

Of the remaining $8,000, approximately $4,500 could be recovered in the form of fees paid by users, Olson said.

This would mean, in effect, that the city and adjoining townships might be called upon to subsidize the remaining $3,500.

Olson offered two plans for determining how the costs could be split. One is based on calls recorded for a 12-month period in 1966 and part of 1967 and the other is based on population. Under the former plan, Lowell's share was estimated at $2,300 with $500 to be contributed by Lowell Township and $700 by Vergennes Township.

Under the second plan, Lowell might pay approximately $1,750 and the townships about $875 each.

Olson emphasized that the $6,000 figure suggested by county officials is not a fixed one.

"If the costs was less than $12,000," he said, "then the proportionate share from the county would be based on 50 percent of the final figure."

Walter Gunster, representing Lowell on the Board of Supervisors, urged the council to consider some action that would enable the Safety Committee to make recommendations to the board's Finance Committee.

Bowne Township Supervisor Irvin Rodgers also attended the meeting and requested that he be advised of any future action that might affect his area.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach several times questioned phases of the plan as being impractical.

"Administrative costs such as bookkeeping and collections might be burdensome," he declared. "In addition, we would have to arrange for housing the vehicle."

Council also expressed uncertainty regarding the type of vehicle that might be utilized. Councilman Herb Reynolds, who had operated a private service from the Roth Funeral Home until January 1, expressed doubt that a station wagon that might also be used as a police cruiser would be adequate for multiple-injury emergency runs.

Both Olson and the council also had believed that Lowell police did not qualify under stringent rules to man a municipally-operated service, but later learned that five officers are nearing final qualifying tests.

Olson was asked to set up a meeting with Roth and Rittenger and to report back findings at the next council meeting.

Council Eyes Retirement Benefit Plan

A plan to establish retirement benefits for City of Lowell employees, in the hopper in one form or another since 1950, is under intensive study today.

City council discussed the retirement system during Monday night's meeting and, while reaching no firm conclusions, members indicated they wished to pursue the matter more diligently.

City Manager Bernard Olson said that several plans could be made available to employees, but that the best one appeared to be that operated by the State of Michigan known as Michigan Employee Retirement System (MERS) which has gained wide acceptance by municipal governments throughout the state.

Redskins 'Scalp' Grapplers

Lowell High School's wrestling team traveled to Belding last week with hopes of defeating the pro-season favorite, Belding, in a 31-12 score. The Arrows could muster only two pins and a draw in the 12 matches.

Here are the results: 95 pounds, Carl Rasch, won on a pin. 100 pounds, Steve Nowell, lost decision, 9-7. 112 pounds, Curt Inman, won on a pin.

130 pounds, Jerry Huver, lost decision, 4-2. 145 pounds, Ernest Hall, lost on a pin.

154 pounds, Bob Van Dyke, lost decision, 8-5. 170 pounds, Jerry Huver, lost decision, 4-2.

185 pounds, Ray Smith, lost decision, 3-1. 200 pounds, Ernest Hall, lost on a pin.

220 pounds, Bob Rattler, lost decision, 5-3. 235 pounds, Ron Olson, lost decision, 4-2.

250 pounds, Steve Foss, draw, 2-2. Heavyweight, Ben Hall, lost decision, 5-2.

The junior varsity topped the Redskins, 25-24, prior to the varsity match, even though they were forced to give Belding team points for failure to have a wrestler in the 180-pound and heavyweight divisions.

Coach Jack Kempker's guttural tased up for the league-level confrontation by turning back Belding last Friday night on the latter's floor, 87-82.

A 25-point third quarter and an output of 27 tallies in the territorial final session... in which Tom Tapley pumped in 22 of his game-high 32 points... brought Lowell its well-earned victory. In addition to ralling down high-point honors on 11 field goals and eight free throws, the senior stalwart hauled in 18 rebounds.

Coach Fonger ably assisted the winning cause with 14 points and a like number of caroms. DeWay DeWitt tared in one of his finest all-around efforts of the season for the Redskins while contributing 14 markers on six baskets and a pair of charity tosses.

Belding, led by balanced scoring from its starting five, held a slim 18-16 first quarter lead over Lowell which, so far this season has been known as a slow-starting team.

The Arrows came on like gangbusters in the second quarter, outscored the Redskins, 15-7, and took a comfortable 41-25 advantage to the locker room at intermission.

Following the break, Belding almost wiped out this lead when Steve Johnson, an over-night "Polar Bear" captain, thereby earning "Polar Bear" patches for their uniforms.

Lowell Scouts Slide to Fourth In Ionia Derby

The Panther Patrol of Lowell Boy Scout Troop 102 swooped to fourth place in the Ionia Derby last week.

The patrol, led by Mark Ritzema, took shots in hand to traverse the rugged hills and woods behind the Lowell Scout Cabin over a timed course where they competed with other patrols. Sing Ray Patrol of Troop 86 in Ionia took first place.

The Lowell scouts also accumulated points at each of six "cities" along the course where they were required to perform skills in first aid, measuring without tools, communications, lashing, wildlife identification, and fire building.

Don Kelly, chairman of the event, said adult Scout leaders enjoyed the "show" prepared for them by "Chief" Ivan Blough, who also served as chief judge of fire building activities.

After the rigid Derby, the 21 Lowell scouts further proved their mettle by joining Scoutmaster Bill Nowak in an overnight "Polar Bear" campout, thereby earning "Polar Bear" patches for their uniforms.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS Public hearing on rezoning a parcel from A-1 to A-2. (See MOTIONS).

NEW BUSINESS 1. Proposed ambulance service. Manager Olson stated that there has been presented a proposal for participation by Lowell and Vergennes Townships in the City of Lowell.

WHEREAS required publications and notices have been made and no written protest has been received by the City Clerk; and

WHEREAS the proposed amendment has been referred to the Planning Commission; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Ordinance No. 32, as written below, be adopted and published:

ORDINANCE NO. 32 City of Lowell

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 22, AS KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE, DATED FEBRUARY 14, 1966:

ARTICLE III, Sec. 3, 2 MAP. The Zoning Map delineating the above districts is hereby declared to be a part of this Ordinance. Except where referred to in this Ordinance, the zoning map shall be as shown on the attached map, including the amount of money that can be expected from the Townships, and report at next Council meeting.

2. Lift Station report. The Manager explained that Lowell Development Corporation would install a lift station that would serve the Lowell Development property, or would contribute a great deal more information that the City might build to service a greater area to the north and west.

3. The Manager reported that the hearing on the Cherry Creek drain had been adjourned to January 15, 1968 for the purpose of studying extension of the drain north of Foreman Road.

4. The status of the tree limiting program was related by the Manager. He stated that if light and Power would assume one-half of the cost of tree trimming for street lighting—which has been indicated—there would be enough money in the budget to do both sides of the City at this time. Council concurred in this arrangement.

5. Manager Olson reported that the YMCA declined use of Richards Park for an ice rink and are locating one on private property. He declined authorization of the City to purchase city employees since it is on private property.

6. Final settlement of the federal grant for sewage plant construction has been set by the engineer from the Chicago office at $20,842.28 which states that possibly their auditor might alter it to $22,094.20. The City has already received $100,000.

7. Telephone service by the Telephone Company will be required in connection with the automatic water level gauge being installed. The charge will be approximately $15.00 per month, will include maintenance.

8. A leak in one of the pipes entering the boiler at the city hall will be cared for by a plumber on January 3.

9. The responsibility of paying the approximate $400 over and above the amount deposited in escrow for construction of a street adjacent to Calvary Church was discussed. The Manager stated that there were no extras added which made the cost approximately $3,600 instead of $3,200, and that the intent of the contract was to reimburse the participants if the cost was less than $3,200 and that the participants would pay the average if the cost exceeded $3,200. It was the consensus that the participants are morally bound to pay the excess and the Manager was requested to so advise.

10. Notices were read from the Michigan Municipal League regarding the State Legislative Workshop and from the Water Resources Commission regarding a meeting on the subject of the Zoning Ordinance and Map. Reservations for attendance would be required.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Anderson, supported by Schlemmizer, that the bills payable allowed and warrants issued.

Yes: Anderson, Wittenbach, Schlemmizer, Reynolds, 4. No: None.

IT WAS MOVED by Councilman Reynolds, supported by Schlemmizer, that

WHEREAS this is the time and place for a Public Hearing on a proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, certain lands now designated as A-1 One Family Residential zoning be rezoned to A-2 One Family Residential District; and

WHEREAS the proposed amendment has been referred to the Planning Commission; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that Ordinance No. 32, as written below, be adopted and published:

U. S. Flag Presented To Bushnell School

As a feature of the recent open house held at the new Bushnell Elementary School, an American flag was presented to principal Arthur Kern by Mrs. Earl Ketcham, Americanism chairman for the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

As part of its continuing program to increase and encourage patriotism in school children, the VFW Auxiliary has previously presented flags to the junior and senior high schools and to St. Mary's school.

The flag at the senior high school is dedicated to the Lowell men who have died while fighting in the service of their country in the current Vietnam war.

Marine Private Recruit Grad

Marine Private Terry L. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton A. Wilcox of Clarksville Road, Clarksville, and husband of the former Miss Sharon Rose of Woodland, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California.

Wilcox will undergo from two to four weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps Assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-caliber pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects, hygiene, first aid and sanitation, and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join the Marine combat forces.

Business Women's Meeting Jan. 27

District Four of the Business and Professional Woman's Clubs will meet January 27 in the Grand Rapids City Club on East Fulton Street with a luncheon at 1:30 p. m. preceding the meeting.

Reservations must be made with Mrs. Grace Kutchev before January 23. Club officers and committee chairman are especially requested to attend the meeting.

If you get rid of envy you will be surprised to see how many nice people there are in your community.

And then there was the morning who thought Red China might be o.k., but added that it might look a bit gaudy against a white tablecloth.

Shed Those Extra Pounds RCAF Way: By Exercising

Did you receive an unwanted Christmas gift? Namely, a new layer of avoirdupois or, if we must call a spade a spade, FAT? You may not be alone, but you'll have to work it off by yourself, no one can help you.

The famous Royal Canadian Air Force Exercise Plans for Physical Fitness can help and they'll leave you feeling better than any crash diet.

When the RCAF set up a physical fitness program following World War II, it was based on three basic facts: Physical fitness is a direct result of physical activity. Physical Activity leading to physical fitness must be vigorous and regular, and people accept challenge. The plans require only a very small portion of the day—11 minutes for men, 13 for women.

The results have made both fitness and publishing history. The booklets grew into all-time Canadian best-sellers, and now Pocket Books, Inc., has sold several million copies which follow the RCAF edition exactly. The address is 630 Fifth Avenue, N.Y. 30, N.Y. $1.00.

Now that our moonshot programs are working out so well, and man is expected to be able to land there before long, are you a little behind on what is going on out there? Have you heard the Music of the Spheres? That is the title of a two-volume set of books that you can buy for only $4.00 in paperback editions.

What components make up the atmosphere of Venus? What causes the birth and death of stars? Is there a dividing line between matter and non-matter?

Music of the Spheres "The Material Universe—from Atom to Quasar, Simply Explained," by Guy Murchie has "The best presentation yet offered to the intelligent reader," says the Saturday Review. "With the possible exception of Rachel Carson's 'The Sea Around Us,' it is the most articulate and stimulating book on science I have ever read," says the San Francisco Chronicle. All reviewers emphasize the simplicity and the beauty of the writing—almost like poetry, and yet a great scientific achievement in conveying to the layman what it's all about.

You can get it from Dover Publications' Inc., 180 Varick Street, New York, N. Y. 10014.

Appeal Made For Needy Family

The family of Walter Graham, Jr., former residents of the Fallstaff area, whose trailer home burned to the ground a couple of months ago along with all their possessions, numbers one more this week. A baby boy was born to the Grahams at the Ionia Memorial Hospital last Wednesday morning, about a month early of his announced arrival date.

The little boy is the third child in the family who is now living with relatives in Ionia. The father is reportedly ill and unable to work.

A drive has been started among their former neighbors and friends in the locality to find clothing for the new baby boy. Anyone wishing to help this family by donating baby clothing may leave their contributions at 14945 Covered Bridge Road or 242 South Hudson.

Plans Made, Audit Given

A discussion centered around the Moose State Bowling tournament was held at the Monday evening meeting of the Women of the Moose, Chapter 1388.

The Chapter members assembled in their club rooms for their regular monthly business meeting, including completion of plans for the bowling event.

Starting out the new year with many planned activities, the Chapter heard the annual audit, which showed their accomplishments during the past year.

Plans were then made for their February 5th Chapter night meeting, which will have Mrs. Chester Jones, chairman, and the members of the Hospital Committee in charge of the program.

Making preparations for the planned program, along with Mrs. Jones, are Mrs. Bry Condon, Mrs. Robert Hemingsen, Mrs. Marguerite Kraft, Mrs. Fred Mayo, Mrs. Nelson Nummer, Mrs. Lucille Rodgers and Mrs. Louis Smit.

Car-Deer Crash Causes Damage

A car, owned by Ligouri Nugent of Route 1, Lowell, and driven by Mrs. Nugent, was badly damaged Friday evening when it collided with a deer.

According to Mrs. Nugent, she was driving north on Lincoln Lake Road near Bailey Drive when three deer crossed the road ahead of her. A 4th deer, a doe, jumped into the car, smashing in the grill and damaging the radiator and fan.

Although the deer was killed by the impact, Mrs. Nugent and her three daughters who were passengers in the car were shaken up but uninjured.

Airlift Service Speeds Military Postal Delivery

Packages up to 30 pounds for American military personnel served by Army and Fleet Post Offices overseas now can be sent by air transportation at special low rates, Lowell Postmaster Charles Doyle pointed out today.

"Area residents using this new airlift service will get much faster delivery on parcels to military personnel overseas," Postmaster Doyle said. He said the airlift is available on a space-available basis upon payment of the domestic parcel post surface rate plus a flat $1 fee.

Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and not more than 60 inches in combined length and girth qualify for the new special airlift rate, Postmaster Doyle said.

Postal patrons can get the airlift service on packages mailed to all military personnel at APO and FPO addresses overseas, and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. Postmaster Doyle noted that the new airlift also applies to parcels mailed back to the States by servicemen from these military post offices.

Parcels on which the $1 fee is paid get air transportation all the way—from here to the port of embarkation, and from there to the overseas base. Postal patrons formerly had to pay air parcel post rates to get similar service, Postmaster Doyle said.

He said that in many instances the new airlift rates are considerably below comparable air parcel post charges. He cited these examples:

A mother here sending a 15-pound package to her son in Vietnam pays $4.45 for the new airlift service. The air parcel post rate for the same package is $12.88.

An eight-pound package going from here to Frankfurt, Germany, costs $2.40 under the airlift service. The air parcel rate is $5.26.

Postmaster Doyle pointed out, however, that it is not always to the mailer's advantage to use the airlift service. On some light packages air parcel post rates may be lower than the airlift charges.

"Postal patrons should check with the Post Office for information on the best way to mail parcels to servicemen overseas," Postmaster Doyle emphasized.
