Offset! What's That?

By Don MacNaughton
Mechanical Supervisor

If this issue of the LOWELL LEDGER—SUBURBAN LIFE has a different appearance, it's because it has been produced by an entirely different process called offset printing.

Under the offset method, all the news and advertising material to be presented is "pasted up" on a page-size special paper.

The entire page is then photographed and a negative is processed, which in turn is used to expose a pre-sensitized thin aluminum plate. After this plate is developed, it is ready for the offset press.

The offset process makes use of the well-known fact that oil and water do not mix.

The printing plate is first coated with a thin film of chemically treated water, which adheres only to the portion of the plate which does not print.

Next the plate is inked, but the greasy-based ink will stick only to that part of the plate surface which did not accept the watered film, that is, the actual printing surface, or "image."

This inked image is then transferred to a rubber blanket, and from the rubber blanket it is transferred or "offset" to the newsprint, ready for you to read.

Sound complicated? It isn't, really. It's all done with cylinders that roll against each other and the whole process happens so fast that it's all just a "blur!"

Paper Goes to "Offset" Introduce New Process

BY FRAN SMITH
Editor and Publisher

If you think there's something rather unusual about today's edition, you are right!

Effective with this printing, the Ledger-Suburban Life is now being produced by what is known as the offset process... which is explained in the accompanying article by Don MacNaughton, a veteran of almost 40 years in the business.

The change marks still another step toward producing an outstanding community newspaper designed to offer to our readers interesting and timely news stories, features and pictures.

The use of pictures, in particular, is enhanced by the offset method, as you may have already noted.

In the past few weeks, many new and unusual machines have been installed in our plant to introduce the latest in printing techniques to our readers.

The result is what you observe today... and will continue to see in the future.

Your opinions on the all-new Ledger-Suburban Life, by letter or card, will be welcomed.

'MUSIC MASTER' WITH OWNER FORREST WILLIAMSON

Famed Horse, Owner Visit Lowell

"Music Master," a nationally famous champion Paint horse, and his owner, Forrest Williamson, were weekend guests at the Spear K Ranch, owned by the Keith Avery family of 3699 Alden Nash Dr.

During his Lowell stay, "Music Master" was taken for exhibition and demonstration rides before a group of horse-lovers at Bresa Del Rio Ranch on Sunday.

Forrest Williamson and his family are the operators of the Paint Horse and Angus cattle ranches at Arkansas City, Kansas.

His horse, "Music Master," a two-tone "sports car" version of the modern quarter horse, was a national champion stallion in 1964, and is currently national champion Paint cutting horse.

The nine-thousand-acre Williamson ranch is located in the verdant Flint Hills of southern Kansas, and is the home of 800

Angus cows and 35 quarter horse brood mares.

The Williamsons are patrons of a western art created by Lowell school teacher, Keith Avery, and their home is adorned with several of Avery's paintings, including two oil portraits of "Music Master."

Both Williamson and Avery have served on the board of directors of the American Paint Horse Association for several years.

On Saturday night, two drivers were ticketed following a minor accident at E. Main and Monroe, which involved both of their cars.

Clarence E. Walker, 63, of 2261 Segwin, was given a ticket for failure to give a "proper right turn signal," while Roy E. Bodman, 29, of Ionia, was ticketed for failing to stop at "assured distance."

Selection of a new football coach has been put off for at least a month by the Lowell Area Schools Board of Education.

Recommendations from a screening committee were tabled Monday night for further consideration at the April meeting by a vote of 3-2 of five members present. Members felt that the full seven-member board should be present for the vote.

The screening committee is made up of Superintendent James Pace, senior high school principal Carl Hagen and Director of Athletics Dale Hollera.

The board approved a motion to notify the Kent County Intermediate District that it favors a proposal to place before voters on a county-wide basis a plan for construction of two vocational schools in the area of Grand Rapids.

Pace explained to the board that the proposal, if accepted by voters, would necessitate a 1.1-mill levy, of which 7 mill would be used for operating expenses and 4 mills for construction of the two proposed schools.

Each would be designed to handle 4,000 students, who would receive special vocational guidance and instruction, Pace said.

In keeping with its policy establishing long-range plans, the board approved a concept for construction of a new "middle school," which would house grades 5-8 with capacity for 1,000 students initially and 1,200 ultimately.

A meeting is planned for the near future to discuss the middle school concept in its latest form with a committee of teachers.

Various deadline dates for the annual school election on June 10 have been established, Pace told the board. Voters must register on or before Friday, May 10, to be eligible to cast ballots.

The terms of board treasurer David Coons and Dr. Donald Gerard are scheduled to expire on June 30.

The board approved placing 22 teachers on tenure, of which 10 are from the elementary system, four from the junior high and eight from the senior high. Second-year probation was approved for 19 other teachers... seven elementary, eight junior high and four senior high.

Bids for purchase of two new buses were opened and tabled for study. Four dealers bid on the chassis... Azzarello Chevrolet, Story Ford, Jackson Dodge and Wittenbach International... while two bids were received from Hoekstra-Superior and Burch-Carpenter for the bus bodies.

Negotiations with the teacher's committee on the 1968-69 contract are proceeding well, Pace told the board. He is hopeful that the final draft will be ready by April 1.

Grass Blaze Calls Keep Lowell Busy

Grass fires continued today to plague the Lowell Fire Department; in fact the volunteers were called out to fight five grass fires over a three-day stretch.

Three alarms were sounded last Friday, with one run to Ionia County, where a grass fire was in progress on State land there.

The other two were runs made to the home of Cleo Thompson at Kissing Rock Pl., Lowell Township, and also the home of Bernard Jankowski, in Lowell.

On Thursday the fire fighters drowned out a grass fire at the home of Mike Denick, in Lowell.

New Format Brings New Deadlines, Too

With the change to "offset" printing, designed to bring to readers of the Ledger-Suburban Life a cleaner, brighter paper, new deadlines are in effect.

The deadline for church and school-related items is Friday noon. No pictures will be accepted after 11 a. m. Monday, except in extreme emergency. Monday noon also is the deadline for sports items not previously submitted.

Page One items for either the Ledger or Suburban Life, other than features, will be accepted until 3 p. m. Monday.

All correspondence must be in the newspaper office not later than Monday at 4 p. m. and earlier if at all possible.

Society page items such as wedding and engagement announcements and calendar events must be turned in by Friday at 5 p. m. Regular advertising will be accepted until 10 a. m. Tuesday morning and classified notices will be taken until noon Tuesday.

The reason for all this? Under the new process, the Ledger-Suburban Life must be prepared for printing one day earlier than before.

Rangers Out-classed in District Finale

E. Christian Wins Title in Class B

BY FRAN SMITH
LEDGER-LIFE EDITOR

It may have been fitting that captain John Sival be the one who scored the final point of the 1974-75 basketball season. Hobbling badly on an injured ankle, Sival's hoop with a half-minute remaining was just all that Forest Hills rosters had to cheer for in a crushing 92-66 defeat at the hands of smooth-talking East Christian in the Class B tournament finals Saturday night.

The shot and a 50-footer by Little Jim Vanderbaan at the buzzer ending the first half, that is.

East Christian's Wildcats, who campaign in the rugged Class A City League, did everything right in grabbing off the championship.

They completely dominated the backboards, getting 57 rebounds to a mere 29 for the Rangers. And they stizzled from the floor, meshing 36 of 74 field goal attempts.

Evra Forest Hills' pressing defense, which had rescued the Rangers in two earlier tournament starts, failed to check the winners... who time and again penetrated the press for easy lay-ups.

Jeff Vanderlande, a 65' junior who must rank with the best in the state, slipped through for 26 points a 44 game scoring honor. This despite the fact he set our virtually the entire fourth quarter with four personal fouls.

Vanderlande also grabbed off 12 rebounds to lead his team in that department. Doug Hoekema got 11 points and 11 rebounds while Dave Buter, a rugged junior center, sank 14 points. In all, 15 players saw action for Christian and 14 got into the scoring act.

The Rangers were led by captain Steve Russ with 18 points and Vanderbaan with 15, including the long toss from the mid-court that will be remembered a long time.

Coach Don Kemp's club, generally limited to one shot at the basket on each offensive thrust, equaled East Christian in shot production with 74, but could only sink 22.

To gain the finals, Forest Hills pulled to beat both Lowell on Tuesday (79-77) and a 5-0 scorching on Thursday (79-77).

Against Northview, the Rangers turned in their second comeback victory of the tournament by overcoming a nine-point deficit in the second quarter.

The zone press again turned the trick, just as it had in the tourney opener against Lowell.

Trailing by a 40-31 count at the 4:30 mark, Forest Hills pressured the ball constantly and closed the gap to 54-33 entering the final period.

The Rangers broke loose from a 42-31 tie when Doug Hoekema and Doug Kossell's two free throws and gradually pulled away to a triumph.

It marked the first time that Forest Hills had managed to win two in a row in state tournament play.

Jim Vanderbaan set the scoring pace with 16 points, getting 10 tallies in 12 attempts from the charity stripe, and generally leading the floor play with key assists.

Steve Russ grabbed off 12 rebounds, most of them in the second half, and pumped in 15 points. The Rangers were out-rebounded by the rugged Northview Wildcats, 52-45.

Bob Averill and Pat MacLung sparked Northview with 16 and 14 points, respectively.

New Airlift Stamp for Service Parcels
 Postmaster Charles Doyle of Lowell said today a new $1 airlift stamp will be issued for use on parcels to servicemen based overseas in any part of the world.
 While this stamp is intended primarily for parcels to servicemen, it is valid for any type of mail.
 The stamp will be issued April 4 at Seattle, a major point of dispatch for the Vietnam theater. The $1 rate went into effect January 7, as part of the new postal rates law.
 Parcels weighing up to 20 pounds and measuring no more than 40 inches in combined length and girth will be airlifted all the way upon payment of $1 plus domestic surface parcel post rates from point of mailing to Army and Fleet post offices. Servicemen overseas and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico may airlift parcels home under the same terms.

When Jesus was crucified on Calvary there were many people who were watching.

When Jesus was crucified on Calvary there were many people who were watching. Under how many people would watch such an event if it were to take place in our day? What did people see? Of the Roman soldiers who carried out the terrible work of the crucifixion of Jesus it is recorded in Matthew 27:36 "And they sat and watched him there." The Roman soldiers were watching him because they had to; it was in their path of duty. To them it was just another execution of a Jew. With the exception of the centurion, they were ignorant of the fact that they were looking at the most stupendous event in the history of the world. The multitude was present because of curiosity. Those who hated Jesus enjoyed the terrible spectacle. Jerusalem's laughter had been weeping on the way to the cross. Others were present just to be with a crowd—to see the big news event firsthand. All of these in looking at the cross were seeing nothing more than a dying man. It is possible to look at the cross and to see nothing of its real meaning. The believer looks at the crucified Christ and sees every-thing in Him. Paul said, "But far be it from me to glory save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ." Galatians 6:14; Peter said: "Who his own 3rd bare our sins in his body upon the tree." 1 Peter 2:24. What do you say? What do you see when you look at the cross of Jesus? —John Guichlear

MRS. ELAYNE VAN SLUYTERS

Housewife Rates High in World of Fashion

To paraphrase Gertrude Stein, "a girl is a girl is a girl." The epitome of femininity is likely to be a combination of mother and model.

Elayne (Mrs. R. G.) Van Sluyters of Driftwood Drive has that happy blending of qualities. In fact, through her career in modeling, she has become a well-known fashion coordinator for several stores and companies throughout the state.

Mrs. Van Sluyters began her fashion work at age 15 in Chicago, where she was chosen to be the girl on the wrapper of a candy bar. Over the years her talents led her into photography-modeling and fashion work for Saks in the Windy City.

It was in Chicago that she met Dr. Van Sluyters and they married. When she moved to Grand Rapids, Mrs. Van Sluyters became the fashion coordinator for Jantzen throughout the state while continuing her work as fashion and photographer's model.

As her family grew, Mrs. Van Sluyters felt that her husband and three boys came first and she dropped the Jantzen affiliation. This now enables her to choose only those assignments which she feels will not interfere with her home life.

This decision also gave her the freedom to coordinate shows and fashion promotions as well as a new field, that of lecturing. These talks are on the subjects of charm, poise, and fashion. They are for young people as well as adults.

Mrs. Van Sluyters has worked with groups as varied as TOPS and Herzbach Clubs. She has appeared before Mother and Daughter banquets explaining to each age group what is currently "in" and how the well-dressed woman can stay up-to-date.

Mrs. Van Sluyters unites a fair complexion, green eyes and "sterling patina" blond hair with a well-modulated voice and an exceedingly friendly manner. Her home expresses fine taste in its decor and her cooking delights the family constantly.

Presently, Mrs. Van Sluyters is acting as fashion coordinator of the new MRM store in Woodland Mall. She prefers work in this part of Michigan since she then does not have to be away over night. Occasionally she will accept an opportunity elsewhere in the state for a two-day show.

If she is to go across the state for a promotion, the routine is generally the same in each case. The store has made appointments for the number of girls who will model.

Mrs. Van Sluyters goes through the store selecting the styles and coordinating the accessories. When the girls and clothes are ready, she writes her continuity. She is able to do this smoothly because she keeps up on the latest trends through trade magazines and because she understands the various communities in which she works. Some are ready for the latest styles, some are not.

Sometimes stores like to promote specific trends and Mrs. Van Sluyters builds the show around this influence. However, she is very emphatic in stating that she does not like fads. A fashion is a different feeling and can be interpreted for all ages. Mrs. Van Sluyters also says that she is appalled at gaudiness. She believes in the "understated lady look," i.e., Chanel suits, etc.

Mrs. Van Sluyters says that younger people are still being influenced by the European or British trend, but that more sophisticated women are now buying the American styles. This means that women who haven't known what a waistline was for several years are going to find out if they still have one. Cinched waists and frilly tops are returning.

As for make-up, Mrs. Van Sluyters says that the old look of two burned holes in a sheet for the face is long-gone in fashion circles.

Mrs. Van Sluyters thoroughly enjoys her career, but she is quick to point out that her family comes first. She said in this respect that her work is more of a hobby than a profession. She feels that if she did not go out on these assignments, she would be dissatisfied with doing nothing, more than housework.

Mrs. Van Sluyters has long been associated with numerous charity and community organizations and is currently the President of the Forest Hills PTA.

Early Settlers Also Active in Ottawa County

Another in a series on the early history of Kent County. The settlement of neighboring Ottawa County in the era of Rix Robinson and Louis Campan, pioneers of Kent, is too important a subject to be overlooked in Robinson's story.

The fact that these men exerted themselves toward the settlement of the county to the west renders such reference indispensable. For this purpose the following summary from Professor Everett's papers on the subject is given.

The first occupation of Grand Haven was by Rix Robinson, who pre-empted a quarter section where is now the water front of the city. He established a trading post there and, in the spring of 1834, Zonas G. Winsor, then a young man, was sent to Grand Haven as his agent. Winsor was the first English-speaking person to reside there.

Rev. William M. Ferry had been for some years a missionary teacher at Mackinaw. Broken in health, he left Mackinaw and went East. In the summer of 1834, he met Robert Stewart who induced him to enter into an arrangement which caused him henceforth to become a man actively engaged in business.

Stewart had purchased from Robinson one-half of his interest in the pre-emption. He gave Ferry certain fund with which to operate, sharing the results and making Grand Haven his center.

Ferry took his brother-in-law, Nathan H. White, as his associate and came on from Detroit by land. They arrived September 15, 1834 in a canoe with two Indians furnished by a Mr. Slater of Grand Rapids. They found Rix Robinson and his family the only white persons.

Louis Campan had an agent, a Frenchman, at the "Lower Diggings," as the mouth on the left bank of the river was called.

Band 'Battle' Highlighted at Teen Center

Competition will be sizzling hot this Saturday night, March 16, as the Flaque from Lowell meet the Northshore Lumber Company of Belding in a long-promised "Battle of the Bands." The confrontation of these two popular groups, postponed from last month due to an illness of one of the Flaque, promises to be provided the tops in rock and roll music, according to Mike Harrington of the Lowell Teen Center, Inc., which is sponsoring the "battle."

Local teens are reminded that the dance will be held in the Runciman Elementary School multi-purpose room from 8 p. m. to midnight. Admission is $1 per person.

ready for his fall campaign, yet he spent several days showing Ferry his pre-emptions. The one-half of these had been purchased by the Grand Haven Company, consisting of Robinson, Ferry and White as equal partners. Ferry was named the agent of the company.

Business arrangements being concluded, Ferry started for his family at Mackinaw in a birch canoe with two Indians. Returning, he brought with him a number of persons, mostly Indians and half-breeds. Robinson came back about the same time bringing with him a Mr. Lasley.

Among those that Ferry brought with him was his bosom friend, P. C. Duvernoy and his family. Having no homes, they stopped with Rix Robinson during the winter.

The building, in which 21 persons were quartered, was 16 by 22 feet. The accommodations were not such as would be agreeable to those accustomed, as some of them were, to the refinements of civilization. A part of the 21 slept in the loft of the cabin and a part in a vessel that wintered in the harbor.
