

Parade Starts 'Week'

With all the fanfare and color for which Lowell is noted, civic leaders and local citizens were poised today to observe Michigan Week, which begins next Monday.

On signal from Postmaster Charles Doyle, Lowell's general chairman for Michigan Week, the traditional Government Day parade will start promptly at 9:30 a. m. from Jackson Motors on West Main, and move east to the city hall.

Leading the parade in a special motorcade will be Exchange Mayor Royce E. Smith of Belleville, in company with Lowell city officials and community leaders.

Accompanying the motorcade and marchers will be the Lowell Senior high school band and the Junior high school marching unit.

Lowell police and reserves will handle the traffic during the parade.

Arriving at city hall, Mayor Smith will be taken to the city council chamber where he will "preside" for a few minutes in a meeting with Lowell Mayor ProTem Herb Reynolds, and Councilmen Virginia Myers, Carlen Anderson, and Harold J. Jefferies.

Also in attendance at this meeting will be City Manager Bernard C. Olson and City Clerk Laura Shepard.

Meanwhile Lowell Mayor Arnold Wittenbach will be feted by community leaders there.

After the formalities at city hall, Mayor Smith and his guests will be taken on a tour of city facilities and local manufacturing plants.

Promptly at noon, the Belleville visitors will be entertained at a Mayors Exchange Day luncheon at the Masonic Temple, with Mayor ProTem Reynolds as master of ceremonies.

Following introduction of guests, Francis E. (Fran) Smith, local editor and publisher, will speak briefly.

This will be followed by remarks by President Larry Wittenbach, of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce.

Mayor Smith will then address the group.

Presentation of gifts to the Belleville party will be made by local manufacturers.

The Lowell High School Varsity Chorus will provide several choral selections.

The invocation and benediction will be by the Rev. Robert Webber.

The luncheon will be in charge of Postmaster Doyle, Herb Reynolds, Jerry Roth, and Philip Schneider.

Other "days" marked for observance locally include Community Pride Day on Saturday, when Lowell area citizens are expected to clean-up, brush-up and paint-up.

Sunday is given over to Spiritual Foundations Day, when the local clergy will devote a part of their sermons in tribute to church workers and lay leaders.

On Thursday, Education Day, at 9:30 a. m., the Alto All-Purpose Room will be the setting for the Fourth Grade Michigan Week Breakfast.

The Runciman-Intermediate, Bushnell and Alto Schools will combine efforts to assure the fourth graders and their guests of a breakfast composed of Michigan products.

Hospitality Day comes off on Friday, and this is the day when the Lowell police issue "tickets" to outside passing motorists. The police tickets are for free coffee and donuts, a Michigan Week gesture on Hospitality Day.

Finally on Saturday, which has been designated as Youth Day, members of the Loyal Order of Moose will gather at the high school for bicycle safety check-ups.

Flush mains Friday weather permitting!

Lowell City Water Department will be flushing the water mains on Friday morning. Please plan your use of water for washing.

IT'S POLICE WEEK and to commemorate the observance the U. S. Post Office has issued a special stamp. Shown at the Lowell Post Office to look over the new issue with postal clerk George Roberts are Kent County Sheriff's Deputy Bruce Phillips and Lowell Patrolman Mike Harrington.

3 Seek Positions on Board

Ladies of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion Auxiliaries will be out selling poppies on May 23, 24 and 25.

These poppies are all made by the disabled veterans in hospitals, and the proceeds go to provide them with the various aids and facilities which make life a bit more comfortable during their hospital stay. As the saying goes: "Let's honor the dead and help the living."

State department officers of both the VFW and American Legion are suggesting that the American flag be displayed during the Vietnam Peace talks. Good idea!

A sign on the outside of one of our local plants reads: "NO SCRAP." Presidential candidates please note!

Box car on a C&O siding reads: "Cushioned underframe." Thanks for the reminder, but we always take ours to every U of M football game.

GOOD NEWS! The C & Q freight house... long an eyesore to visitors arriving into Lowell from the South on M-91... is going to get a fresh coat of paint soon, a company spokesman has informed the Chamber of Commerce.

That pretty all-white sign on the west end of town should have some lettering on it soon. Seems a shame that the Showboat, which is scheduled August 19-26 and will feature Dinah Shore and the Dukes of Dixieland, doesn't get the message up to take advantage of the constant flow of traffic on M-21.

Post Office Will Close on May 30

The Lowell Post Office will observe regular holiday schedules on Memorial Day, May 30.

There will be no regular window or delivery services, and the lobby will be closed, due to the fact that no incoming mail will be delivered to the local post office until late in the afternoon.

Prepare Plan on School

Several new steps toward possible construction of a proposed middle school for the Lowell Area School District had been taken today.

The board of education Monday night appointed a building and sites committee to study the proposed 1,000-student facility with board member William Jones serving as chairman.

Superintendent of Schools James Pace also disclosed that preliminary sketches for the school, which would house grades five through 8 and replace the present junior high building, would be submitted during an executive session of the board next Tuesday.

"We hope to have something resembling final sketches in time for the next regular meeting," Pace said.

Appointed to serve with Jones were board members Dale Shade and Gould Rivette in addition to the following, all previously members of the building and sites committee:

Ed Kiel, Mrs. Gladys Bergin, Mrs. Cora Troy, Mrs. Rita Pratt, Mrs. Marjorie Kropf, Walter Gumser, Allen Wisner, Mrs. Keith Graham, Mrs. Albert Porritt, Jack Thorne, John Jones, Fred Talbot and King Doyle.

The board also approved and forwarded to the Kent County Intermediate District a request from Stuart Howard of 4570 Honeycreek Rd., to transfer his property from the Lowell district to the Rockford district.

Pace noted that the move was generally in keeping with a long-range plan to re-align district boundaries throughout the area.

The superintendent told the board that allocated millage from the county for the 1968-69 budget year has been set at 10.1 and that, pending negotiation of the master contract with teachers, it appeared this would be sufficient to handle the proposed budget. Lowell had sought millage of 11.68.

A meeting of the Lowell Education Association was scheduled for Wednesday night, Pace said, for purposes of holding a straw vote on the board's latest salary offer.

The board approved transfer of 1 and one-third acres of land on Emery Drive to the Kent County Highway Department. The property is on the right-of-way for the new access road between Lowell and I-96.

On the advice of school attorney George Cook, the board moved to return the Talbot and Mapes school properties to their owners.

The board received a note of thanks from St. Patrick's School for its contribution of approximately $200 in playground equipment, which had been located at the old Talbot School.

Pace also informed the board that the high school would break with long-standing tradition this year by not having a speaker at the commencement exercises.

Third Death from Train-Car Crash

Lowell's 1968 death toll rose to three last Wednesday when the third victim of the May 3rd car-train accident died in Grand Rapids.

Mrs. DeVona M. Matthews, 65, of Saranac, passed away in Butterworth Hospital after she failed to rally from multiple injuries suffered when a car in which she was a passenger was struck by a freight engine at the C&O crossing on Main St.

The two other victims of the accident were the driver of the car, Guy C. Wilbur, 85, and Joseph J. Reamer, 81, also of Saranac.

Services for Mrs. Matthews were held Saturday at the Morris-Roetman Funeral Home, Saranac, with interment in Green Cemetery.

Spurn Manager's Request for New Post, Bigger Raise

Two proposals, both involving the administrative staff of the City of Lowell, today had been emphatically turned down by members of the city council.

They were included in the 1968-69 budget, which was presented to the council in a stormy special meeting Monday night.

City Manager Bernard C. Olson had suggested, in the budget, that $5,200 be allocated for the position of treasurer.

Council went against the manager's wishes by a 4-0 vote. During the discussion on the matter, a verbal exchange between Olson and Mrs. Shepard caught council members by surprise.

Following the oral fireworks council took up the matter of FOND FAREWELL to two longtime employees of the Lowell Light & Power Company is Superintendent John Jones, shown with Mrs. Mary Walsh and Jerry DeVine.

Longtime Employees Retire from L&P

Two employees, both with long standing records of employment at the Lowell Light & Power, today announced retirement from the municipally-owned utility.

They are: Mrs. Mary Walsh and Jerry DeVine.

Mrs. Walsh has been employed at the Light office for the past 19 years. She started working under the tutelage of the late Frank

McMahon, and has witnessed many changes in the local utility during her working years.

Mrs. Walsh, who resides at 228 N. Jefferson, says she plans on doing some traveling during her retirement days.

Jerry DeVine has been with the Lowell Light and Power for the past 48 years. He has been stationed over the years at the Lowell Hydro-electric plant, which is located about six miles north of Lowell, on Whites Bridge Road.

The Lowell Hydro-plant has been actively producing electricity for the city for the past 50 years.

In August 1967, the Ionia County Road Commission widened and repaired Whites Bridge Road, thereby removing the feeder line from the Hydro-electric plant to Lowell, thus discontinuing the flow of electricity, resulting from the closing of the Hydro-plant.

Jerry DeVine, who with his wife, Mary, lives on Rt. 1, Belding, has no immediate plans for the future, other than visiting the many friends that he has made during his years at the Hydro-plant.

The complaint alleges that the school district and golf coach Jerry Smith through negligence, caused Thomas loss of work as the result of an automobile accident on May 14, 1965.

Smith was the driver of a car, the complainant says, that rolled over on a trip that date with the golf team to Big Rapids. Thomas Herblet was a member of the golf team, according to school authorities.

Pace informed the board that the matter has been turned over to the Wolverine Insurance Company and its attorneys.

Olson's request for an allocation of $10,500 for the city manager's salary and voted instead to peg the annual pay at $10,200... a raise of $25 over the 1967-68 salary for the job.

The vote also was 4-0 for the lesser figure.

Present for the special meeting were Mayor Arnold Wittenbach and council members Carlen Anderson, Harold F. Jefferies and Mrs. Virginia Myers. Councilman Herb Reynolds was out-of-town.

During the meeting, Olson and Mrs. Shepard aired differences of opinion that apparently caught several members of the council off guard.

When the council reached that portion of the budget relating to administrative salaries, Mayor Wittenbach asked Mrs. Shepard what she thought of the proposed change.

"I am the city treasurer because I was appointed to the position by the city council," replied Mrs. Shepard. "This, of course, was in addition to my appointment as city clerk."

"I feel that I have done a good job in both positions. I have heard no complaints concerning my work."

Olson took exception to Mrs. Shepard's remarks, declaring:

"I can't agree. There have been times when I pointed out to you that some of the records were not as I wanted them processed."

"Another person handling the treasurer's duties could devote full time on this job, which would mean that a better job would be accomplished," he continued.

Said Mrs. Shepard:

"If the records are not as they should be, it is because I followed your instructions, so the blame lies with you, not me."

At this point some of the councilmen asked Olson for specific reasons for his suggestion for the appointment of a new treasurer. The city manager replied:

"After seven years as city manager of Lowell, I feel that I know what's best for this city, and I feel at this time that a change in the treasurer's duties would best serve the city."

Apparently the hassle between Olson and Mrs. Shepard took the council by surprise. Said Mayor Wittenbach:

"I certainly didn't think this sort of thing was going on at city hall, and I would hope that relations at city hall would be more harmonious."

Said Councilman Carlen Anderson:

"I have been hearing about some dissension at city hall, but what concerns me most is whether we are witnessing something on the surface here, or whether there is something deeper back of it all."

"Anyway," Anderson continued, "I move that the proposal for a new treasurer be stricken from the record."

On roll call, the four members voted to strike out Olson's recommendation. The $5,200 appropriation was allowed to remain in the budget to supplement budget needs for clerical help in city hall.

Olson suffered his second set-back on the question of an increase in salary advanced by him for his job as city manager. In the budget Olson asked for a salary of $10,500 for 1968-69, which meant an increase of $1,275 over his last year's pay of $9,225.

Olson told the council that the $10,500 figure was comparable to salaries paid to other city managers of cities the size of Lowell.

Again, Anderson voiced objection, and called for a cut to $10,200 for the city manager. And again, the council voted unanimously for the cutback in Olson's pay.

The city council then voted unanimously to approve the 1968-69 budget which calls for an appropriation during the next fiscal year of $22,104 with which to operate the city.

Set Lines for Kent Budget Boosted $30,000

In its final form, the 1968-69 budget calls for a total expenditure of $22,104 with which to run the City of Lowell.

This is $30,000 more than the 1967-68 budget which was set at $20,603.

Even with this increase in operating costs, City Manager Bernard C. Olson stated that the city could maintain its current 12 mills tax rate, despite a five percent increase in salaries for city employees.

The city manager also recommended the purchase of a 4-wheel drive fire-fighting truck, with one-half the cost paid by the City of Lowell, and one-quarter each by the Townships of Lowell and Vergennes.

According to Olson the major sources of revenue for operating the city will come from property taxes amounting to $113,654; locally shared state taxes of $80,300; $10,000 from court fines; $6,000 from cemetery revenues; $10,000 from utility payments in lieu of taxes; and $6,000 from the transfer of the Lee Fund.

On the debit side of the city ledger, the city manager lists $54,300 for the street department; $35,836 for the police department; $12,000 for the sanitation division; and $8,500 for the fire department.

Judges Have Tough Task

The judges had a more difficult task than the contestants.

This was the consensus of opinion following the recent Ada School talent contest in which students from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades displayed unusual abilities.

Selection of the winners was difficult and many ties resulted.

Tom Smith, a piano soloist from the sixth grade, and the "Cook Girls," Laurie, Cindy and Sandy, who played the piano and sang "Wayfaring Stranger," tied for first place.

Second place was captured by Carol VanArtsen who played Born Free on the marimba. Carol's talent was indeed outstanding in light of the fact that she has been taking lessons for only two months.

Meg Sedman, playing a saxophone selection of "Misty in F," and "Cook & Company," a vocal group consisting of Debbie Fae, Tracey Soyka, Jenny Moore and Mickie Compton and accompanied by Laurie Cook on the piano, sang "Love is Blue" for a third place tie.

Fourth place also resulted in a tie. Sandy Cook played a unique piano solo entitled "Old MacDonald's Car," and fourth graders Tom Feeny, Steve Bestrom and Debbie Leeu performed a skit, "The Little Chinese Man," that was extremely funny. Steve's voice is excellent and with a little more training should take him far.

The belated celebration

Belated Yule Celebration for Serviceman

The position of trustee on the Ada Township board, left vacant by Kenneth Anderson, newly appointed Township Clerk, has been filled.

On Monday evening, Darrell Fae of Honey St. Ada, was named to fill the unexpected term of Anderson, who resigned from construction firm Mrs. Kathryn L. Kuiper.

Plans for a new fire barn were approved by members of the board. Bids will be received from construction firms by the township until June 10, at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Herrity, Mrs. Fred Carr and Mrs. John Folkert, teachers at the Cascade Nursery, plan to attend the nursery conference held annually at the Kellogg Center at Michigan State University.

Construction of the new building is expected to begin soon after a bid has been accepted.

Grassfires remain a problem in the area.

Ada Fire Chief Stan Ostroski said his department had made 19 fire runs since he last reported.

CYCLIST INJURED

Jerry Wall, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wall, 3726 Cutter Parkway, was struck by a car while riding her bicycle and suffered a broken leg. She is a patient in Room 206 of Butterworth Hospital.

There will be three classes this year with two day sessions—Wednesday and Friday, 9 a. m. to 11:30 and Tuesday and Thursday from 12:30 to 2 p. m. Classes are held at the Cascade Christian Church Nursery.

There was also given some other rare items such as hoops, bustles, fans, a maid's outfit and accessories of the Revolutionary War times.

It is not often that these antique pieces are found in private hands. Over 200 items have very little in the way of women's apparel.

From this beginning, Jean went on to collect prime examples from other periods such as pre-Civil War, the Civil War itself, Turn of the Century, Gibson Girl, the early 1900's, the twenties and thirties, the latter reflecting great Hollywood elegance.

All of the pieces in Jean's now extensive accumulation were exquisite to begin with. For instance, she has hats, wraps, and dresses from the House of Worth which were given to Jean from the estate.

Everything worn in the show is original—which can give a member of the audience the vicarious thrill of seeing not costumes, but clothes really worn by women of other times at important events.

All of the members of the troupe have as company the collection and bring in to focus each item as a star in its own right. There is humor as well as understanding as the presentation moves swiftly along.

One of the great joys of this colorful showing is its timing. Jean says that she would rather leave the audience wishing to see more, so the entire program is polished and rewritten whenever there is a change.

Most of the people taking part are from this area. Models include Mrs. Hainer, Mrs. Walter Perschbacher, Jr., and daughter, Nancy; Mrs. Jack Tekeurst and daughters, Karen and Laura; Mrs. Andrew Werenaga; and Julie Shirling.

The narrator is Mrs. Irving Folger; music is played by Mrs. Raymond Carbury, and the dressers are Mrs. Lenard Greenwood and Mrs. Eric DeWall.

Without these last two, it is apparent that all would be chaos, including hair styles so fantastically arranged by the models for each period. One of the most important members of the cast is Mrs. Jack Shirling, mother of Julie, who plays the Beloved Family Retainer. It is her duty to see that every scene change is made and that all flows smoothly on stage.

The Fourth of July celebration in Ada is a community tradition which dates back many years and accentuates safety during the holiday period.

There will be parades, floats, games, baseball contests and a water fight between the Ada and Cascade firefighters. A parade of boats, sponsored by the Thornapple River Association, also is planned.

Most of the funds raised from the auction will go toward purchase of fireworks, which wind up the spectacular day of events at the Ada ball park.

GRASS FIRE KEEP ADA DEPARTMENT BUSY

Two grass fires, which authorities believe may have been intentionally set, kept the Ada Fire Department busy last Saturday evening.

Firemen answered the two calls within minutes of one another, the first at 1415 Grand River Drive NE and the second at Two Mile and Crampton.

SUDDEN BEAUTY

Feel refreshed, spring into beauty with a new hair style that's right for you. Don't miss it! Stylists, Lowell, 387-8155, c-6

AT LAST! When Sp-5 Art Dougherty arrived home for a belated Christmas celebration last week, he found this warm sign of welcome awaiting him.

Belated Yule Celebration for Serviceman

The only thing missing was snow. But it was Christmas nonetheless last week at the Cascade Dougherty home at 3406 Goodwood Drive.

The Doughertys, along with relatives, friends and neighbors, had prepared a grand welcome home for Yule festivities... but Art failed to arrive on schedule.

His return home was further delayed when he became ill overseas and was hospitalized. He later was called upon as a witness in a court martial proceeding, which added to the delay.

Mrs. Dougherty finally took matters into her own hands contacting representative Gerald Ford several weeks ago to determine if there was any way that her son could be returned to the United States.

That did the trick... and Art returned home last week to find a post-Christmas party awaiting him, complete with a sign originally painted last December by a neighbor, Sue Merrill, on the lawn in front of the family home that said "Welcome Home, Art."

The sign, now quite mellowed, and Christmas lights on the trees were hidden by the spring leaves, but the meaning was quite clear.

Art was a member of the second graduating class of Forest Hills High School, where he was the only drum major the school has ever had. He was also a member of the basketball team.

Before Art returns to duty at Fort Bliss following his furlough, he and his parents intend to visit his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Price in Evansville, Ind., who join them on a trip to Tucson, Arizona to visit another sister, Mrs. Patricia Koerber.

"Do you really have color TV sets for only $139?" asked an incredulous customer. "Sure," the salesman replied, "what color would you like?"

Conduct Day Camp in Cascade

A new venture in day camps is being launched by members of St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Cascade.

The first session, to be held on a trial basis, will enroll only 30 campers, 15 from the city and 15 from the suburban area.

The camp, in session from June 17-July 3, is open to children from ages five through ten.

Youngsters will meet daily from 1:00-4:30 and will participate in art, music, sewing, crafts, sports, and other activities.

Wednesday evenings are being reserved for potluck suppers and get-togethers for the families, camp staff and interested citizens.

Volunteer workers are needed in various areas. Drivers are in demand, and men, particularly, are needed for many activities. Even if you can only give one afternoon a week, your help is welcomed.

The goal of the camp is to help not only the inner-city children, but suburban children as well.

For more information, call Father John Stanley at 949-1222. Residents wishing their children to attend the camp should call Mrs. Robert Cooper at 949-0844.

Will Attend Pre-School Conference

Mrs. Gerry Herrity, Cascade Springs Drive, director of Cascade Pre-School Nursery, has returned from a three-day conference of the Midwest Association for the Education of Young Children at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Herrity represented the Grand Rapids Association for Nursery Education.

Mrs. Carr and Mrs. John Folkert, teachers at the Cascade Nursery, plan to attend the nursery conference held annually at the Kellogg Center at Michigan State University.

Construction of the new building is expected to begin soon after a bid has been accepted.

Grassfires remain a problem in the area.

Ada Fire Chief Stan Ostroski said his department had made 19 fire runs since he last reported.

CYCLIST INJURED

Jerry Wall, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wall, 3726 Cutter Parkway, was struck by a car while riding her bicycle and suffered a broken leg. She is a patient in Room 206 of Butterworth Hospital.

There will be three classes this year with two day sessions—Wednesday and Friday, 9 a. m. to 11:30 and Tuesday and Thursday from 12:30 to 2 p. m. Classes are held at the Cascade Christian Church Nursery.

There was also given some other rare items such as hoops, bustles, fans, a maid's outfit and accessories of the Revolutionary War times.

It is not often that these antique pieces are found in private hands. Over 200 items have very little in the way of women's apparel.

From this beginning, Jean went on to collect prime examples from other periods such as pre-Civil War, the Civil War itself, Turn of the Century, Gibson Girl, the early 1900's, the twenties and thirties, the latter reflecting great Hollywood elegance.

All of the pieces in Jean's now extensive accumulation were exquisite to begin with. For instance, she has hats, wraps, and dresses from the House of Worth which were given to Jean from the estate.

Everything worn in the show is original—which can give a member of the audience the vicarious thrill of seeing not costumes, but clothes really worn by women of other times at important events.

All of the members of the troupe have as company the collection and bring in to focus each item as a star in its own right. There is humor as well as understanding as the presentation moves swiftly along.

One of the great joys of this colorful showing is its timing. Jean says that she would rather leave the audience wishing to see more, so the entire program is polished and rewritten whenever there is a change.

Most of the people taking part are from this area. Models include Mrs. Hainer, Mrs. Walter Perschbacher, Jr., and daughter, Nancy; Mrs. Jack Tekeurst and daughters, Karen and Laura; Mrs. Andrew Werenaga; and Julie Shirling.

The narrator is Mrs. Irving Folger; music is played by Mrs. Raymond Carbury, and the dressers are Mrs. Lenard Greenwood and Mrs. Eric DeWall.

Without these last two, it is apparent that all would be chaos, including hair styles so fantastically arranged by the models for each period. One of the most important members of the cast is Mrs. Jack Shirling, mother of Julie, who plays the Beloved Family Retainer. It is her duty to see that every scene change is made and that all flows smoothly on stage.

The Fourth of July celebration in Ada is a community tradition which dates back many years and accentuates safety during the holiday period.

There will be parades, floats, games, baseball contests and a water fight between the Ada and Cascade firefighters. A parade of boats, sponsored by the Thornapple River Association, also is planned.

Most of the funds raised from the auction will go toward purchase of fireworks, which wind up the spectacular day of events at the Ada ball park.

GRASS FIRE KEEP ADA DEPARTMENT BUSY

Two grass fires, which authorities believe may have been intentionally set, kept the Ada Fire Department busy last Saturday evening.

Firemen answered the two calls within minutes of one another, the first at 1415 Grand River Drive NE and the second at Two Mile and Crampton.

PART OF A RARE collection of clothing are these dresses worn by Mrs. Jean Hainer of Pinecrest S. E.

Unusual Collection Features Early Styles

One of the most unusual collections of fine American period clothing, outside of museum pieces, is owned by Mrs. Jean (Jean) Hainer, Pinecrest, S.E.

What makes this private collection exceptional is that not only are the various dresses and accessories extremely fine in themselves, but that they are presented to the public in a most individual manner.

The Lowell Junior High School choir, under the direction of Mrs. Germaine Davis, will present a combined choir concert and variety show on Thursday, May 10th.

Nudge Arrows in Final Event

Lowell High's conference track record today stands at 33, but it might just as easily have been reversed.

Coach Bob Perry's thinclads lost the final event on the program Friday night in a narrow 60-55 loss to Belling.

Highlight of the meet was a conference record leap of 6 3/4" in the high jump by Belling's Dan Cameron.

FHCC Sets Husb-and-Wife Tournament

A husband-and-wife two-ball golf tournament is scheduled this Saturday afternoon (May 18) at 1 p. m. at Forest Hills Country Club of Grand Rapids.

Members wishing to participate in the golf event and a dinner in the evening are requested to register no later than tonight (Thursday).

Honor Bill Cardinell with Blanchard Award

The Blanchard Memorial Award, instituted this year by the Forest Hills Athletic Board, was presented to the school's outstanding athlete at its annual sports banquet.

The first recipient of the award is senior Bill Cardinell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cardinell, 3088 Jeanlin SE, Cascade.

Bill has participated in football and wrestling for all four of his years at Forest Hills. He played guard on the football team and was the O-K Conference wrestling champion in the 138-lb. division. His academic average is B-plus.

He has enrolled at Western Michigan University and will major in paper technology.

The Blanchard Memorial was set up in honor of John Blanchard, much respected and admired football coach who passed away last year.

A $1,000 fund was contributed by area residents and consists of a grant of $300 for the next five years. Each recipient of the award receives $100 the following year to help further his education at the college of his choice.

Anyone interested in contributing to the fund may contact the school office. It is hoped that the fund will be able to continue beyond the projected five years.

Members of all the varsity athletic teams were honored at the banquet, and special honors were given to three freshmen who made varsity teams.

Lowell Drops 1-0 Diamond Duel to Rams

The Lowell High School varsity baseball team, led by just three hits, lost a tight 1-0 game to Rockford last week.

Rick Taylor held the Rams to only one run and four hits, but the Arrows were unable to push across a run.

The J.V.'s fared no better as they lost to Belling, 3-2. It was their fourth straight defeat, following losses to Sparta, 7-3; Rockford, 10-7; and Forest Hills, 5-3.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor: I note with continuing interest the wonderful progress of most of our teenagers today in a very complex society and a world troubled with many problems. Their job tomorrow will far exceed ours. Yet, too often their progress is noted in the sidelines and the obnoxious make-it headlines.

In particular, this week I note per May 2nd Ledger: 2-3" headings given to "drinking Teens," "trash pick-up" etc., and one of our fine community students and teenager received 4" heading on her fine scholastic achievement (Kathleen Tapley). In fact I missed the topic entirely and had to look for same after I heard about it.

Since you have young children in your family, I am hopeful that you will give this serious consideration.

Sincerely, Mrs. C. J. Christoff

P.S. Any student today able to cope with a college education should be highly commended, and those achieving higher academic status have earned the right to high acclaim.

Set Horse Show Dates in Lowell

One of the finest and most spectacular horse shows in West Michigan will take place in Lowell on Sunday May 26, and the weekend of June 1st.

The Grand Rapids Riding Club is presenting their 28th Annual Horse Show at the Lowell 4-H Fairgrounds.

There will be 25 different classes in the exhibition, featuring the Hunter and Jumper.

The chase, or hunt, a 4,000-year-old tradition, is as exciting today as it was in the days when tigers were the prey of the hunting team of horse and man.

More thoroughbred than not, the present-day hunter is tall, rangy and handsome. He moves with a surety and dignity that is apparent even when standing still.

Also featured in the show are the three and five-gaited saddlebred, Tennessee Walker, Morgan, Palomino and Arabian horses.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

When Saturday dawned cool and gray, George and Hartley Thompson suddenly revised their plans and menu for the party they were giving that evening.

Later in the evening the entertainment consisted of painting on and pop pictures which were displayed. Some hidden talents were developed by the John Z. Smiths, the Tom Kales, and the Andy Whites.

What makes a Pontiac a Pontiac?

(And what makes ordinary cars ordinary?)

Only Pontiacs have Wide-Track. Drive a Pontiac and you'll wonder who took all the bumps and curves out of the road.

Even our lowest priced Pontiac has a unique 175-hp Overhead Cam Six. Unless you count cylinders, you'll swear it's a V-8.

Pontiac interiors make you glad you left home—soft Morrokide and simulated wood trim so real only a termite can tell it isn't.

Innovators like GTO's Bumper-of-the-Year make Pontiacs look expensive. But record sales prove we know how to price them, too.

THE GREAT WIDE-TRACK DRIVE IS ON!

See your Pontiac dealer. He's out to smash sales records for the 7th straight year!
