Root-Lowell Launches New Factory Project

Give OK to Request for Sewer

City Council voted Monday night, during a public hearing, that a need exists to install a sewer line on South Jackson Street over the objections of several affected property owners.

The decision was reached during a special hearing called to act on a petition by Mrs. Charlee Mancu seeking the installation.

Present for the meeting were Elmer Lawyer, Mrs. Melvin Lewis and Bruce Weeks, who own lots through which the sewer would be extended.

After considerable debate, it was determined that City Manager Bernard C. Olson, who serves as city assessor, would seek to work out an equitable arrangement for drawing up a special assessment needed to pay for the project, and present the formula at a public hearing in the near future. Cost of the project is estimated at $2,000.

In other action, the council: Heard from petitioners who were on hand for a public hearing to determine need for curbs and gutters on Laurie Gail. City Manager Olson was instructed to work out a special assessment for a hearing to be set up in the near future.

Voted to temporarily close Lafayette Street from July 1 to August 31 to permit installation of seats for Lowell Showboat and to approve a request from Showboat officials seeking permission to display a banner over M-21 calling attention to the August 19-24 production.

Heard a request from Root-Lowell Manufacturing Company for installation of a sewer line to its new plant in the northwest section of the city and instructed the city manager to get estimates on costs;

Took under advisement a communication from the Michigan Dept. of Conservation regarding removal of the phosphorus compounds from waste water in line with anti-pollution measures designed to take effect in December, 1972;

Heard a report from City Manager Olson relative to regulations by the Michigan Department of Health that industrial liquid wastes could not be land-filled at the city's dump when that facility is brought into conformity with new state legislation that becomes effective May 28.

Construction of a new 104,000-square foot building to house factory facilities and headquarters offices of the Root-Lowell Manufacturing Co. of Lowell is scheduled to start immediately, it was announced today by President Richard F. Brush.

Total cost of the project, plus acquisition of new production equipment, is expected to be approximately $1,000,000.

Tri-Cities Construction and Supply of Spring Lake has been named the general contractor.

The new factory and office will be located in the northwest section of Lowell along Foreman Road near the C&O Railroad.

One feature of the new facility will be a lunch room with a seating capacity of 100 persons. The company presently employs approximately 120.

The building design calls for use of Stran Steel colored wall panelling set on a four-foot masonry sill throughout the main factory structure.

The administration and general office area connecting directly to the factory building will occupy 6,800 square feet and will utilize the same textured masonry for exterior wall construction. There will be a minimum twenty foot height clearance throughout the factory interior.

The Root-Lowell Manufacturing Company and its predecessors, Lowell Manufacturing Company and Lowell Specialty Company, represent more than sixty years of continuous operation in the same location in the manufacture of pesticide spraying and dusting equipment.

According to Brush, the move to new quarters will provide expanded facilities for research and product development along with production efficiencies that will enable the Lowell-based firm to maintain its present growth pattern and capitalize increasingly on the many opportunities present in today's expanding market for lawn, garden and outdoor living merchandise of all kinds.

'Sniffing' Offender Is Jailed

An 18-year-old Lowell resident was jailed this week when he failed to pay a fine and court costs on a charge of illegal inhalation of model glue and encouraging another person to do the same.

Edward Whitley Weaver, whose address was given as 504 East Main, was remanded to the Kent County Jail after pleading guilty to the charge before Justice Howard Rittenger. Weaver failed to pay a $100 fine plus $5 court costs and a $10 fee for officer training services.

Local police officials, concerned with a wave of medical reports indicating serious side effects to the practice of glue sniffing, promised to intensify efforts to wipe out illegal use of the substance in Lowell.

Also taken into custody with Weaver was a 14-year-old minor who reportedly was seen in Weaver's company on the C&O Railroad bridge.

According to witnesses, the youngster twice almost fell from the bridge and, when apprehended, appeared to be suffering acutely from the effects of the sniffing.

Police also questioned five juveniles in connection with several alleged breaking-and-entering complaints. Four of them were referred to Kent County juvenile authorities and the fifth released into the custody of his parents.

According to police, three sprayers, $6 in cash and a number of tools were taken from Root-Lowell Manufacturing Company in one break-in and $65 in cash, a number of checks, two chain saws and various accessories were removed from Midwest Jacobsen Distributors in the second theft.

Scuba divers from the Kent County Sheriff's Department assisted in recovering the chain saws from the Grand River, where they reportedly were dumped by the gang.

Ex-Runciman GM Assumes New Post

Appointment of William M. Jones, Jr., as controller for the Behler-Young Company of Grand Rapids was announced today by company general manager Richard W. Young.

Behler-Young serves as a distributor and manufacturers representative for heating and air conditioning units and has affiliates in Kalamazoo, Jackson, Saginaw and Traverse City.

Jones recently resigned as general manager for C. H. Runciman Company in Lowell, a subsidiary of J. P. Burroughs Corporation. He joined Behler-Young on June 3.

Now serving his first term as a member of the Lowell Area School District board of education, Jones was elected to the village council in 1956 and served as the last village president in 1958-59.

When Lowell became a city in 1960, Jones served as a member of the charter commission and became the first mayor of the newly-created City of Lowell. He served in this capacity for two years.

Jones has long been active in civic affairs. He was the first president of the Lowell Lions Club, served as charter chairman of the Lowell YMCA Board of Directors and has been an end man and interlocutor for Lowell Showboat.

Jones has resided in Lowell for the past 20 years and will continue his residency here. He and his wife, Ruth, reside at 803 Shepard Drive. The Jones have five children: Sharon, a senior at Western Michigan University; William III, who will enter George Williams University next fall; David, Randy and Debra.

Will Shut Off Power Sunday A. M.

Homes serviced by Lowell Light & Power will be without electricity between 5 a. m. and 8 a. m. this Sunday morning (June 23), according to acting superintendent John Jones.

The power plant will be shut down to permit installation of new switch gear equipment, a procedure that requires turning off all generators, Jones said.

'67 State Champs Win Here

Preview '68, a drum and bugle corps contest held in Lowell Saturday, ended in a close finish with the Royal Lancers of Wyandotte, the 1967 state VFW champions, taking first place; and the Angels of Ohio, the 1967 Ohio American Legion state champions, coming in second.

An all-girl corps, the Vacationland Sweethearts of Port Clinton, Ohio, placed third, with the Marauders, from Madison Heights, coming in fourth.

A separate contest was held for the color guards from each corps, and the final standings were: First, Green Hornets of Comstock Park; second, the Diplomats (O.) Suns; and Fourth, the Royal Guardsmen of Flint.

The contest co-ordinators, Leon Grove, Bob Green, Jim Glynn, and Don Lehigh, expressed satisfaction, considering that this was the first time that competition of this type has been held in Lowell, at the number of entrants and spectators.

Former Councilmen Score Officials on Land Purchase Plan

Dissatisfaction with a recent decision to purchase land outside the city for possible cemetery, park and airport expansion broke into the open Monday night at the City Council meeting.

Former councilman Richard Schlernitzauer, who elected not to seek a new council seat in the April balloting, termed the proposal to purchase a 39-acre tract of land in Vergennes Township "a ridiculous expenditure of money."

Just moments earlier, the council, by a 4-1 vote, had re-affirmed its decision to go ahead with the purchase pending a decision by Vergennes Township officials regarding zoning for the property.

Councilwoman Mrs. Virginia Myers, who had earlier opposed the purchase, voted "no" on a motion that re-affirmed the council's position and "no" again on a subsequent motion to have City Manager Bernard C. Olson set up a hearing before the Vergennes Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

Schlernitzauer exchanged words with both Mayor Arnold Wittenbach and Councilman Herb Reynolds while an audience of more than a dozen hung on every word.

Schlernitzauer told the council that "you don't buy something you don't need. About one-third of that land is swamp."

"The cost to develop the property will be great," he added, "not to mention the cost to operate."

"I don't believe you are using good judgement," the former councilman continued. "Five men are interested in the airport... it's a hobby with them and will continue as a hobby."

At this point, Mayor Wittenbach reminded Schlernitzauer that the city's planning commission had recommended the purchase of the property and that the council had voted to go along with the recommendation.

See Letter on Page Seven

Ralph Townsend, chairman of the planning commission, also was in attendance and told the council:

"Perhaps the planning commission was too anxious. We did not know there might be a snag on zoning."

Schlernitzauer then tossed a bombshell at the council.

"There's talk of petitioning for a recall," he declared. "This just looks like a squeeze play to get this plan accepted before the people get aroused."

Councilman Reynolds took exception to these remarks and shot back at his former colleague:

"You have been going up and down Main Street yelling about this plan, but this is the first time you've come here to let your feelings be known."

Retorted Schlernitzauer: "You once called me a rabble-rouser."

"I said it then and I meant it," replied Reynolds.

Another former councilman Phil Schneider, who like Schlernitzauer did not seek to return to the council table in the past election, also was on hand to speak against the proposal.

"Mr. Mayor," he said to Wittenbach, "we're not in the real estate business."

Mrs. Myers, during one lull in the exchange, noted that there should be, in her opinion, priorities established for things "that are needed to be done in this city" and suggested a public hearing to get citizen expressions.

Almost overlooked during the debate was a request by the proposed seller, John Gerhart, that council give its decision by June 18 (Tuesday). Under the original agreement, council had until June 30 to signify its final intent.

Minor Auto Mishaps Keep Police Busy

A rash of minor accidents throughout the area kept Kent County Sheriff's Department deputies busy over the weekend.

No serious injuries were reported in any of the mishaps.

Two cars sideswiped at the crest of a hill on Honey Creek NE Sunday. One car was driven by Monty Toussaint, 20, of 9451 Vergennes Rd. There were three passengers in the car.

The other car was driven by Gladys Erkes, 68, of 219 Burt. She was treated for head injuries at Blodgett Hospital and released. Also injured was a passenger in the Erkes' auto, Patricia Easley, 62, of 709 Burton, also was treated for head injuries and released from the hospital.

Minor damage occurred when a car driven by Jack Brooks, 1255 40th Street, Wyoming, turned into the path of a car driven by Roger Rowland of 7368 Cascade Rd., at 7690 Cascade Road Saturday morning.

James Potter, 19, of 5515 Bancroft, Route No. 2, Lowell, was shaken when he told deputies he fell asleep while driving on Ada Drive and his car hit a tree. The accident happened Sunday morning.

Help Curb Pollution, City Told

The City of Lowell has been notified by the State Water Resources Commission to improve the city's water treatment plant, and make provisions for the removal of phosphorus elements or both.

According to the Water Resources board, phosphorus is the contributing element which causes algae growth in the Great Lakes and state inland waters.

The city has been given 60 days to notify the commission with intent to comply with their orders. If verification of intent is not received, the commission has the power to force action through the courts.

Lowell was not alone in the order to clean up. Some 59 Lake Michigan basin communities also received notice of a federal-state conference decision that phosphate material be removed from treatment facilities.

The city has until December, 1972, to substantially accomplish the removal.

Lowell also was advised to evaluate its present waste treatment plant with a view of providing future additional facilities.

The state-federal authorities are seeking to bring purer water to Michigan communities, which at the same time eliminates pollution.

Correction!

New salary figures for Lowell Area School District teachers, published in last week's Ledger, were in error.

MA DEGREED — Minimum of $6,955, an increase of $555, to a maximum of $11,155, an increase of $1,255.

NON-DEGREED — Minimum of $4,850, an increase of $450 from 1967-68, to a maximum of $5,750, also increased by $450.

BA DEGREED — Minimum of $6,355, an increase of $555, to a maximum of $10,255, an increase of $1,255.

Superintendent of Schools Pace also noted that the average salary for all teaching personnel for the coming year will be $8,423, reflecting an average increase of $927. The Ledger regrets any inconvenience caused by the error.

Require All Cars to Have Rear Mirrors
 Michigan has gone the federal government one better in highway safety, but many state motorists apparently are unaware of it. Secretary of State James H. Hare disclosed today.
 All Michigan cars must have an outside rear view mirror on the driver's side, regardless of what year the car was built, Hare reminded motorists.
 He noted that a number of tickets are being written by Michigan law enforcement officers for failure to have the outside mirror.
 The federal government's National Vehicle Standard requires the outside mirror on the driver's side to be included on all cars built after January 1 of this year, just as it requires shoulder safety belts.
 But the Michigan law, which also took effect January 1, requires an outside mirror on ALL cars, no matter when they were built.

 There will be swimming races for all ages, from 6-and-under up through 15-and-up. Boys and girls races will be separate. The first four places in each race will receive colorful city championship ribbons.
 Last year, over 100 youngsters participated, and most won some kind of ribbon for their efforts.
 There is no cost to enter, and anyone who lives in Lowell, or who attends Lowell Schools (public or St. Mary's), or who is a Lowell Y member, can sign up. You do not have to be a Y member in entrance. Entry blanks are available at the Lowell Y Pool.
 A new feature this year will be a special freestyle race for swimmers who have never before competed in a Lowell city meet and who were not swim team members before this year.

 Greg Mall was an easy winner as Pirates beat Yankees, 14-1.
 In the Minor Division, the Dogers stayed atop the standings despite a 9-8 setback at the hands of Bill Orr and the Jets. Harvey Sherd won as winner as Mets out-slugged Astros, 15-8. Home Runs Feature Little League Action
 Tony Grochowalski slammed out three home runs, one of them a grand slam effort, to spark the Braves to two victories during the week in the Thornapple Valley Little League.
 Grochowalski's bases-loaded homer was all that was needed in a victory over the Orioles in the Major Division. He hit one other four-ply blast and received two intentional walks.
 Bill Dangi hit two homers to go with one by Grochowalski in the Braves' 9-4 conquest of the Pirates earlier in the week. Mike Van Aman banged out a home run for the losers.
 The Cubs won two games to pull into a three-way tie for second place, including an 11-inning verdict over the Cards, 5-4. Winning pitcher John Vanderberg went the distance.
 Another grand-slam home run was registered by Gordon Simmons as the Tigers powered their way past Cards, 11-1. Steve Perry was the winning pitcher.
 Steve Leach connected for three runs as pitcher Steve Martin added a solo blast in the Cards' 11-8 win over the Orioles. Martin was the winner.
 Greg Gutos homered and pitched Tigers to a 5-4 win over Indians with help from Chip Vanderjack, who also hit a four-bagger.
 Gregg Mall was an easy winner as Pirates beat Yankees, 14-1.
 In the Minor Division, the Dogers stayed atop the standings despite a 9-8 setback at the hands of Bill Orr and the Jets. Harvey Sherd won as winner as Mets out-slugged Astros, 15-8. Senneker Coasts to Easy Win
 Rob Senneker of Grand Rapids labeled himself as one of the top contenders for the 100-lap Midwest Invitational Championship Race, by driving his 1966 Chevrolet to victory in the feature event for semipro model stocks Saturday night at the Berlin Raceway.
 Senneker burst into a quick lead on the sixth lap of the 25 circuits and spent the rest of the event holding off the repeated challenges of Randy Sweet in a '65 Ford.
 Sweet took second place to the winner's brother, Rich, and settled for third in front of Bob Carles of Kalamazoo and Gil Cobb of Ada.
 Taking checkered flags in the preliminary runs were Dick Danchev, Leo Havens, Don VanderMolen, Rich Senneker, Gene Edding, and a d Carles.
 This Saturday night (June 22), Mazze will be the site of the Midwest Invitational Run.
 The driver bagging the lion's share of the $5,000 purse will get $1,200, that includes $500 in lap prizes.

POOL TALK
 In this column, to be published from time-to-time this summer, we will bring you news and notes from the Lowell YMCA Pool, about such things as swimming, synchronized swimming, program changes, lessons, and general swimming hints.
 Parents are urged not to allow swimming to take the place of a child's regular baths or showers. Swimming, and the showers taken before and after swimming, all with swim suits on, do not sufficiently clean important body areas. For his own health and well-being, he should have a regularly scheduled shower with or without a bath or shower. We have found at the pool that many youngsters have to be instructed on how to take a thorough soap shower.
 Children should shower both before and after swimming at the pool. The shower before swimming removes dirt, dust, and grime which naturally accumulate on busy, playful bodies. This helps to maintain the cleanliness and purity of the pool water. The shower after swimming washes off the chlorine water, which may cause irritation in a few individuals otherwise. It also serves to rinse the chlorine away, thereby measurably increasing the life of the swimming suit. Cotton fabric and towels are particularly vulnerable to deterioration in chlorine water, a rinsing shower after swimming effectively checks this tendency.
 We are most fortunate that this year, for the first time, all of the pool staff are currently certified Red Cross Water Safety Instructors. The W.S.I. rating is the highest general classification given by the Red Cross, and is the next rating above the Senior Life-saver category. This year's pool staff includes:

Home Runs Feature Little League Action

Grochowalski's bases-loaded homer was all that was needed in a victory over the Orioles in the Major Division. He hit one other four-ply blast and received two intentional walks.

Bill Dangi hit two homers to go with one by Grochowalski in the Braves' 9-4 conquest of the Pirates earlier in the week. Mike Van Aman banged out a home run for the losers.

The Cubs won two games to pull into a three-way tie for second place, including an 11-inning verdict over the Cards, 5-4. Winning pitcher John Vanderberg went the distance.

Another grand-slam home run was registered by Gordon Simmons as the Tigers powered their way past Cards, 11-1. Steve Perry was the winning pitcher.

Steve Leach connected for three runs as pitcher Steve Martin added a solo blast in the Cards' 11-8 win over the Orioles. Martin was the winner.

Gregg Mall was an easy winner as Pirates beat Yankees, 14-1.

In the Minor Division, the Dogers stayed atop the standings despite a 9-8 setback at the hands of Bill Orr and the Jets. Harvey Sherd won as winner as Mets out-slugged Astros, 15-8. Bluebirds Pay Visit to News Operation

Twelve Happy Bluebirds recently visited the Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life printing plant, accompanied by their leader Mrs. Donald Sias.

It took about an hour to acquaint them with the intricate operation of putting an offset newspaper together.

First, they watched the plant tele-typewriter as the operator translated 11½ news copy into words which appeared in the form of a tape punched with varied-positioned holes.

From the tele-typewriter, the tape was then taken to a box attached to a linotype, where it was "threaded" through an automatic electronic unit.

As the linotype mechanism was switched on, the tape then caused linotype matrices to fall into an assembly unit, which reformed the words punched into the tele-typewriter tape.

One line at a time was formed in the assembly unit and each line then was cast into a line of type.

From there the Bluebirds watched the printers make proofs of news stories from the assembled lines of type.

The little girls were then taken to large slanted desks with glass tops and with neon tube lights penetrating the glass.

Here the news stories and advertisements and pictures were set on a full-page layout sheet, the size of an actual newspaper page.

It was then explained that the layout sheets of the completed page make-up are photographed, and the resultant negative of the page is placed on a "burned" onto an aluminum plate.

Also explained was the method of printing, by offset, of an entire edition of the Lowell Ledger-Suburban newspaper.

The youngsters were also shown other printing presses and equipment used in producing commercial printed forms.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Kaufman

To the Editor:
Congratulations on the improved appearance of your paper with change to offset printing. The color reproduction in recent issue was really a masterpiece for small city newspapers.

You maintained excellent color fidelity and registration. A big step from the reproductions of 1912 when I started in business in Lowell.

I recall the great thrill I experienced when I saw my first color picture reproduced in the Milwaukee Journal in about 1930. I think it was the first newspaper in the U. S. to reproduce color (photograph) about 8" x 12" from 35 MM Kodachrome.

Now our pictures are reproduced in color by the millions all over the world.

Mrs. Avery joins me in wishing you many years of success in your business career in Lowell.

Sincerely,
Norton Louis Avery

Personally, I feel we have always felt that for the use of our airport, get is plenty adequate. Probably less than five air miles from our airport, we have one of the most modern facilities offered for aircraft in the state of Michigan.

So, if the citizens of Lowell are willing to support this hobby which involves hangars, asphalt runways, wages for a man to be on duty 24 hours a day, which is what it will take to get Federal or State support for this facility, they must expect an increase in taxes! Already we support with our taxes, our new Kent County Airport.

The purchase price of this land is $21,000. This is just the beginning! I estimate about $800 for runways, probably no less than $5,000 per hangar, and a $5,000 yearly wage for maintenance and personnel to operate the airport.

Trying to justify the purchase of $21,000 in land so that it could be used for cemetery purposes also, is just a subterfuge to expand the airport facilities.

To my way of thinking, we have much more important projects coming up in the very near future—No. 1, Curbs, gutters, and storm sewers, which will entail over a million dollars in expenditures, mostly to be borne by the taxpayer; No. 2, a secondary treatment plant for the sewage disposal unit, probably a hundred thousand dollars plus, also a burden to the taxpayer; No. 3, a new Junior High or Middle School building, and I have no idea what the cost of this project would be, but plenty!

If you are interested in having your tax money spent wisely, contact your favorite councilman and make your thoughts known on this subject, or better yet, attend the next council meeting and inform these elected officials on how you want your tax money spent.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYBERT

Two stalwart outdoorsman, Floyd Chaffee and Terry Niles, are taming the Canadian wilds around Hawk Junction, If that in unfamiliar, perhaps knowing that it is well beyond Wau Wau will help.

Also vacationing in scenic spots are the Bob Rooker's who are taking their camper through the Smokey Mountains. They will stop in Washington, D. C. before returning to Ada.

On the other hand, Barbara Raby has been entertaining her sister and family from North Carolina in their new home on Buttrick.

The Carl Saunders have their daughter and her husband, Carlene and Victor Kopecky, and their granddaughter, Robin, visiting them from his base in Iceland.

For several gay hours on Sunday, shouts of laughter could be heard from the home of Phyl and Tom Johnson as they entertained a crowd of 14 mothers and fathers and 22 children. The parents are the seven couples who form a monthly bridge club (they always invite one guest couple each session). But the unusual feature of the group is that at least one spouse in each couple was a classmate at South High in Grand Rapids of the other members. This club has been meeting regularly since graduation, but never before have they gathered all of the children together.

Lawn games and an old fashioned picnic followed by a huge ball game in which nearly everyone played, kept the guests so busy that none of the children misbehaved and the parents went home with memories of family fun.

Fathers and mothers were Jack and Pat Bauman, Jack and Nancy Whitman, Elmer and Marylou Veen, Bill and Sally Trestrail, Ray and Sue Oakes, and Ray and Joan Bass.

Lee Scott thrilled three boys by escorting them to Detroit to watch the Tigers when he took his son, Lee, and friends, George Manus and Kevin Moore.

Lou and Lee also managed to hold a pool party during the weekend for over thirty guests. This was another parents and children gathering for neighbors of the Scott's. Those enjoying the afternoon of swimming and the evening potluck and games were the Dr. Cook's, Raleigh and Betty Varner, Marrie and Harold Riehl, Ruth Graves, Betty and F. B. Thompson, Marjo and Ken Clapp and various assorted children.
