

Jet Trip Awaits Tom Sawyer Contest Winner

The final deadline for entries in the Fourth of July Tom Sawyer contest is at hand.

Boys between the ages of 10 and 13 are eligible to compete with the winner going on to the national finals at Hannibal, Mo., on July 6. Entries must be in by noon this Friday (June 28).

All expenses for the local winner and his father will be paid, including a jet flight to the famed scene of Mark Twain's fictional hero.

One of the contest features is a paint whitewashing event. Practice sessions will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at 9:30 a. m. at Three Gaits Stable, 9300 Vergennes Road. Paint and brushes will be furnished.

The Grand River at Ada will be the scene of a race across the waters on homemade rafts on July 4. Contestants must be qualified swimmers and will wear life jackets under contest rules.

Each contestant will be notified by the committee in charge of the exact location of the various events.

Following the local contest, the winner and his escort will depart from Kent County Airport on July 5 and jet to Quincy, Ill., where a reception is planned, to be followed by a cavalcade to Hannibal, located near Quincy on the Mississippi River.

A big banquet, judging of costumes and the Tom Sawyer quiz will be held in Hannibal.

Tours are planned through the famous Mark Twain Caves, the Mark Twain Memorial and a visit to the celebrated cemetery in which scenes from Tom Sawyer were enacted.

Viet War Claims Alto Man

Memorial services were held Tuesday for PFC Christopher E. Clay of 5375 Buttrick Road, Alto, who was killed in combat on June 14 in Vietnam.

Final arrangements for rites and interment was pending. The family has requested no floral tributes, but memorial contributions may be sent to the Fountain Street Church Youth Program.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clay, the fallen soldier was reportedly the 69th serviceman from Kent County to die in the Vietnam war.

His parents were first notified that he was missing in action while serving with Troop A, 17th Cavalry, 101st Airborne Division in combat operations near Thua Thien.

Last Wednesday, official notification of his death was sent by the U. S. Army. According to the report, PFC Clay was killed by enemy gunfire while riding on a vehicle.

A former student at Forest Hills High School, PFC Clay entered service in August, 1967, and was assigned to Vietnam in April of this year.

Born in Grand Rapids on December 6, 1946, he had travelled extensively, studying sculpture at a fine arts academy in Perugia, Italy.

His father is prominent in county and state Democratic circles and active in community activities.

Surviving besides the parents are four brothers, Ralph of Santa Rosa, Calif., James of Grand Rapids; Thompson with the Army at Ft. Ritchie, Md.; and John, studying at Sussex University Brighton, England; a sister, Celia of Perugia, Italy, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Harvey E. Clay of Grand Rapids. He was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Kindel and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Kindel of Grand Rapids.

The memorial service held Tuesday at Fountain Street Church was under the direction of Dr. Duncan Littlefair, his friend and neighbor.

A REAR END COLLISION on M-21 near Lowell resulted in the automobile pictured above flipping and rolling off the highway. The occupants were not injured seriously, but the car was severely damaged.

Oppose Change in Street

A large... and, at times, vociferous... group of property owners today was on record opposing any plan that would cause a change in the status of Lafayette Street in Lowell.

The majority of residents gathered for a public hearing before the city's planning commission, favored retaining the present status which designates Lafayette as a "minor street."

Long-range planning under the city's Master Plan calls for eventually making Lafayette a major street.

The planning commission had called the public hearing in response to a request from Showboat, Incorporated, which annually sponsors the Lowell Showboat, seeking to have a portion of the street closed.

Following a long discussion on the matter, the planners tabled the matter for further consideration at their September meeting.

Planning consultant Walter Bagby presented several alternatives to the commission that would call for (1) leaving the street as it is with Monroe Street servicing the east side as a major street; (2) making the full length of Lafayette a major street; or (3) creating an interceptor that would link Monroe and Lafayette at a juncture near the junior high school.

The latter plan, Bagby explained, would permit the city to utilize much of the riverfront property for civic center development and still retain the basic Master Plan features calling for Lafayette to become a major street.

Bagby noted, however, that the third plan would not permit as much public parking as either of the other plans.

Both City Manager Bernard C. Olson and Commissioner William Doyle, who also serves as president for Showboat, Inc., agreed that development of the area might not become feasible "for at least another five or six years."

Doyle did note, however, that major structural repairs on the Showboat stands might be needed sooner and expressed hope that this would be taken into consideration for possible earlier revision of the Master Plan.

"We don't know at this point," said Doyle, "what arrangements for financing a new Showboat complex can be made."

One resident asked if any of the commissioners had personally surveyed the area to determine if a change was necessary.

Chairman Ralph Townsend deferred the question to Bagby, who started to explain what surveys had been made.

"I don't mean Mr. Bagby," the resident stated, "I mean practical people."

Budget Cut May Be Needed

The first draft of the 1968-69 budget with which to operate the Lowell Area school system was unveiled Monday night at a special meeting of the Board of Education.

Before the session was over, it was evident that the school trustees and administrators are faced with long, shirt-sleeve, overtime meetings in July to provide funds to educate an estimated enrollment of 2,532 students, about the same as 1967-68.

Preliminary budget figures call for an expenditure of $1,345,588 for the next school year. The anticipated income is set down as $1,351,100, which indicates that, providing there are no major state or federal financial cutbacks, the Lowell area school system is in reasonably good financial condition.

But coming up to plague the school board is a year-end deficit of between $75,000 to $81,000 which must be met in the next few days.

In fact, the need is so urgent that the board has instructed Supt. James Pace to notify area banks that bids will be received on a loan of $100,000 in anticipation of state aid funds.

This money will be used to pay current bills due before the 1967-68 fiscal year ends on June 30.

Pace advised the board that immediately after the 1968-69 organizational meeting in early July, the board and school heads would meet to go over the budgetary needs. He said:

"We must go over the budget, item-by-item, in efforts to ascertain exactly what monies the board considers are absolutely essential to maintain our schools."

"From there, the board must consider what, if any, are the items which may be pruned from the budget."

Pace warned the board that the budget sessions would be long and would involve close scrutiny of every dollar spent during the coming fiscal year.

GR Township to Install New Lighting

Things will be brightening up soon in Grand Rapids Township's Beverly Hills.

The Board of Trustees has agreed to have Consumers Power install 61 new lighting fixtures to replace 39 of the now existent lights.

A special assessment of the Beverly Hills area over a two to three year period will cover the cost of the new lighting.

Plans have also been made to remodel the township offices. The office is to be carpeted and paneled, and an additional room will be added to the present facilities.

Work is expected to begin, imminently, and it is hoped that it will be completed in time for the August primary election.

Investigate Accident on Bowes Road

A Lowell Township youth who drove his car into a deep ditch off Bowes Rd. Sunday night, managed to wiggle free from the vehicle apparently unhurt, and ran a hasty retreat.

Police later got his name, and are continuing investigation of the incident.

According to passing motorists, the youth swung out of Hudson to make the Bowes Rd. turn.

Skid marks showed that he apparently lost control of the car and headed for the ditch, missing a utility pole on the way.

The vehicle was not too badly damaged.

Launch Forest Hills Improvement Projects

Various improvement projects, at an estimated cost of $27,000 have been approved for this summer by the Forest Hills School District Board of Education.

Included are installation of blacktop surfaces of the road between the senior and junior high schools; a parking lot at the junior high and play areas at Orchard View, Thornapple, Cascade and Ada elementary schools.

Cost of these projects is set at $14,100.

Officer to Leave Lowell

Patrolman Mike Harrington, a member of the Lowell police force since 1966, has submitted his resignation, effective August 2.

Harrington has accepted a similar position with the department in East Lansing and will assume his new duties on August 5.

A native of Florida, Harrington lives with his wife and three children at 803 North Monroe. The family will remain in residency here pending availability of suitable living quarters in the Lansing area.

Harrington lauded Police Chief Avery Block and City Manager Bernard C. Olson in a statement prepared for publication.

"I have very much enjoyed working for the city," he said. "Mr. Olson and Mr. Block should be commended on their handling of personnel."

Will Shut Off Power Sunday A. M.

Homes serviced by Lowell Light & Power will be without electricity between 5 a. m. and 8 a. m. again this Sunday morning (June 30), according to acting superintendent John Jones.

The power plant will be shut down to permit installation of new switch gear equipment, a procedure that requires turning off all generators, Jones said.

Will Set New M-21 Speed Zone

New 50-mile-an-hour speed zones for a 1.1-mile stretch of M-21 in Ada Township will be posted in the near future, according to the Michigan State Police.

Members of the township board were notified of the impending change at Monday night's meeting and expressed concern that the zone should extend for the full route of the highway through the township.

As outlined by the State Police, the new zone would extend from a point 4-miles west of the railroad track to the end of the double highway on the east.

HAROLD F. JEFFERIES

Jefferies Bids for Supervisor

Harold F. Jefferies, a representative from Lowell on the Kent County Board of Supervisors and member of the city council, today announced that he will seek the Republican nomination in the 3rd Supervisor District in the August 6 primary election.

Jefferies was editor and publisher of the Lowell Ledger and the Suburban Life newspapers for 20 years. He sold his newspaper interests last January.

Working with the city, township and school units in eastern Kent County for the many years has given him an opportunity to take a broad view of the needs of the entire area. He feels that it is a natural switch from reporting the workings of government to taking an active part in the policy-making roll of county government.

A resident of the community for 38 years, Jefferies has served as village assessor and is now on the city council. As a businessman, he headed the Chamber of Commerce and was a Showboat director, an event for which he handled publicity for a long period.

He is presently serving on the Board of Directors of the Lowell Savings & Loan Association. (Continued on Page 2)

Spectacular Crash on M-21 Injures Two

A Saranac man and his five-year-old son are recovering today from injuries suffered in a spectacular two-car crash Saturday at the western edge of Lowell on M-21.

Injured were J. C. Hurlbert, 41, of 849 Bluewater, Saranac, and his son, J. C. Jr.

Taken by ambulance to Butterworth Hospital, they were treated, and later released.

According to Lowell police the Hurlbert automobile was struck in the rear by a car driven by Ameal Mingo, 24, of 130 Grant, Grand Rapids.

Hurlbert told police he was driving west on M-21 at moderate speed at about 9:30 a. m. when the Mingo vehicle smashed into his car.

As a result of the impact, Hurlbert's car spun into a cement slab, which caused the machine to catapult 25-feet in the air, and land upside down, witnesses reported.

Meanwhile Mingo's auto veered southward, missed a utility pole, knocked down a fence, ran wild across a field, and finally stopped after jamming another fence.

Mingo did not have an operator's permit, and on being taken into custody, the local officers learned that he was a parolee from a prison term on charges of assault.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Howard J. Ritenger on Monday on charges of being drunk and disorderly, of speeding, and driving without a driver's permit.

After pleading guilty to all of the charges, he was fined a total of $85, plus $15 costs. Unable to pay the fine, Mingo was taken to Kent County jail.

Preparations for the gala Fourth of July Celebration in Ada are being finalized today under the direction of the Ada Athletic Association.

The celebration will kick-off with ceremonies at 9:30 a. m. at the Little League park, to be followed by All Star games involving teams from the Senior, Major and Minor divisions of the Thornapple Valley LL.

The schedule, as completed to date, follows:

The Village Smithy

For the past two weeks, it has been our distinct pleasure to peruse past issues of the paper... not to mention hundreds of files with stories and pictures... of major new events that have taken place in the 75-year history of the Lowell Ledger.

It's interesting work, this look-back into history, all the more so because it gives us a better insight into the community at large.

We were fortunate to start to note the many important stories associated with the year 1893 when the predecessor works that now fill these columns first came to light.

Also scheduled for next week is the second full-color presentation of the paper.

The many fine comments from readers following the Memorial Day edition (which featured the first four-color effort in our brief history with the paper) has led to the conclusion that subscribers and advertisers appreciate "that something extra" which only a publication of this type can offer.

Also scheduled this week is what I hope will be the ultimate decision by Good Friend Wire relative to housing for the clan in this area.

This was a decision that is best left to GFW. Sure, I could have looked over sites, plans and/or homes and probably have come up with something.

At least one small cubicle would be assigned as a powder room or some such thing so that last-minute makeup could be applied therein while Dad attends to shaving instead of waiting in line!

And, probably, the new house would include... in my projections... a full telephone switchboard and phones in every room, plus suitable lounge chairs, so that all members of the clan could talk to their many friends without interfering with such impractical things as important calls.

Cascade Booths Listed

Floyd Atchinson, general chairman of the Cascade 4th of July Celebration, has announced the name of organizations participating in the program.

The Cascade Fire Department will have two booths, including the hilarious "dunking booth."

The firemen will also sell ice tea and pie and at dusk will present a spectacular fireworks display that has made this area famous throughout western Michigan.

Booths manned by members of C.Y.F. will sell fried chicken; Teen Fellowship will have a booth for soft drinks; and C.A.M. will offer Bar-B-Que, coffee and lemonade from the Cascade Christian Church.

From Cascade Christian Reformed Church, members will have a booth selling hot dogs, fritters and coffee.

The Cascade Businessmen's Association plans to have several games including a basketball throw, bottles and balls, under 7 and over 21, a hat sale, and is sponsoring a raffle to raise monies for the fireworks.

Members of the Thornapple Valley Lions Club will be in charge of directing traffic and collecting from parking.

The American Legion has taken the responsibility for the parade and the road blocks as well as awarding the prizes and the judging.

As in the past, the Old Township Hall will be the scene of a collection of paintings gathered from local artists by the Thornapple Valley Artists Club.

The committee has arranged for a rock 'n roll band to play before the fireworks.

Title Change Adopted by Fund Agency

A new name for United Community Services was adopted at the agency's Board of Directors' recent meeting, changing the official title to United Fund and Community Services, Inc.

In recommending the title change, President Wallace M. Chamberlain said the new name would better identify agency services with United Fund contributors who support them through one annual combined campaign.

"Community Services" would cover the planning operations and Community Action Program, which go beyond the scope of financially participating agencies.

Present at the Monday night session was Arthur Waring, who made a spirited plea for more uniforms for the city's school bands.

"In considering the school budget I hope you will do everything you can to improve our bands. There are about 20 or more band students without uniforms."

"Other schools have first-rate bands, so should Lowell."

The Monday night session marked the last meeting of veteran Trustee David Coons. After serving 11 years, Coons did not seek re-election.

Since leaving his newspaper duties in January, he has been working with the Kent County Department of Public Works and Plainfield Township on the North Kent Sewer district securing easements and buying essential properties.

The plant 240-square-mile 3rd District, Jefferies stated, will require an active and dedicated man who will have to represent, equally, all the various communities that make up this diverse district.

Not having been tied to any particular unit of government closely over a long period of years and being able to devote full time to the job, if necessary, should offer citizens of the district many advantages, says Jefferies, who is seeking support from all eight units of government that make up this district.

Members of the newly-reapportioned board, Jefferies feels, must have the entire area of both rural and suburban residents as a paramount interest.

Jefferies is married and has two sons; he resides at 504 Lincoln Lake Ave. in Lowell.

Annual Boat Parade Nears on Thornapple

The annual boat parade down the Thornapple River between Cascade and Ada has become a spectacular event, drawing spectators of the entire array from a wide area.

This year, members of the Thornapple Association who will be taking part are asked to gather at "Winwood" at 11:45 p. m. The parade will start about the river at approximately 1 p. m. and will travel to the Ada Dam backwater.

Judges will be seated and their craft will be clearly marked. Awards will be made at the finish line. Any tall structures will have to be hinged or removed when craft are passing under the camel-hump bridge at Thornapple River.

Engraved trophies and entry awards will be given this year in six categories. These include: best decorated pontoon boat, best decorated regular boat, best "theme depicting" pontoon boat, best "theme depicting" small craft, and a special judge's award.

The latter is a new award this year to recognize that "outstanding entry" that always seems to show up, but isn't quite in one of the assigned categories.

Dave Wallace and Tom Winquist will coordinate the parade on behalf of the Association.

"The Sound of Music," the theatre's first presentation, will be performed at the Calvin College Fine Arts Center this Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p. m.

Gerrit Lamain, director and producer, heads the cast of nearly 50 that is drawn from all over the area.

This is the first production for the fledgling group, and it can only succeed through the support of area residents.

The players are dedicated to adding culturally to the community, and hope to present many more productions.

Officers being installed will be Commander, John Wood; vice commander, Sybrant Dykhouse; finance officer, Arthur Bantary; chaplain, Chester Seely; Sergeant-at-arms, Jack Smith; appointed adjutant, Ron Norman.

Opposed to Change

(Continued from Page 1) it might not be possible to move the Showboat site to another location. When asked if Showboat, Inc. might consider such a plan, Doyle answered "no."

The commission also studied a proposal calling for installation of a new sewer to the location of the new Root-Lowell plant and forwarded to the City Council a recommendation that a plan be worked out that might permit the city to create a new street right-of-way into the area.

As presently proposed, extension of a sewer line to the plant site would call for installation on private property.

"If the sewer was installed on public right-of-way," said City Manager Olson, "we would not run the risk of setting precedent."

Others have mentioned that it should be borne in mind that general population figures include college students, foreign residents, many of whom do not vote. The act also excludes from voting those who are residents of state institutions.

To some, re-apportionment is but one other means to cause the dismemberment of township government. It has been opposed, too, by those who are convinced the problems of our society can be solved only by radical decentralization of our government and by doing more than ever before to make man feel a part of his environment rather than overpowering him by it.

The issue of the election, however, is not one of adopting re-apportionment. If at all, the August primary and the November general election will deal with the selection of candidates for the position of "County Supervisor."

Township government, generally speaking, will remain unchanged. We'll still retain the best features of local self-government and we'll be able to fully maintain the machinery necessary to the responsible and responsive management of our affairs at home.

Every township and village elector is now before the question of HOW, but WHO can best represent us on the county level during a most critical period of transition in which the core will play the majority role in major decisions to be considered.

INEZ RUTHERFORD A Lowell resident for a half century, former teacher and librarian, Miss Inez Rutherford, at age 88, passed away Monday.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Roth Funeral Home, with the Rev. Charles Davis officiating, Interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

Miss Rutherford was born in Fremont on Nov. 25, 1879. She attended school at Fremont and at Hungerford after which she attended Ferris Institute.

When her parents moved the family to Lowell in 1907, Miss Rutherford began her teaching career in the third and fourth grade of the East Ward School.

Following graduation from Ypsilanti State, she taught home economics courses at the college.

Veteran Officer Victim

Follow-officers and friends of the Lowell, Ada, and Cascade area, were among the mourners who attended the funeral services Monday for Sgt. Roger P. Nienuus, 57, of the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Sgt. Nienuus, of 1120 Whiting St. SW, passed away Friday of injuries suffered when a motorcycle he was riding along a gravel road in rural Stanwood went out of control and struck a tree.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Kuiper Chapel, Rev. Charles Greenfield of the Lee Street Church officiating.

He was a member of the Sheriff's Department team of divers which was recently called in to assist Lowell police in dragging operations along the Grand River.

He added that over 20 percent of Michigan wheat growers signed up under the Wheat Program and will be eligible for price support loans. He especially reminded these producers that they have a marketing tool in the Price Support Loan Program which could be used this year to considerable advantage.

The Price Support Program offers price protection by providing a minimum support price, and it also can be very effective, if properly used, in promoting orderly marketing.

Light pointed out that producers who signed up under the Wheat Program may store their wheat either on the farm or on approved warehouses and obtain price support loans through their local county ASCS offices.

In the case of warehouse-stored grain, he added, it must be placed in an approved warehouse. Information on warehouses which are approved can be obtained at the local county ASCS office.

Of course, there are differences of opinion on the legality and the implementation of the court decisions done by legislative action. There's debate on the wisdom of ruling out all geographical factors in making up a county-wide government. One might justifiably question any plan based, as is Kent County's, on a census that is, in this case, eight years out-of-date.

Others have mentioned that it should be borne in mind that general population figures include college students, foreign residents, many of whom do not vote. The act also excludes from voting those who are residents of state institutions.

Services for Albert Martin, 73, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Roth Funeral Home, with the Rev. Charles Davis officiating, Interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

Mr. Martin passed away Sunday in Buterworth Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Abby; a son, Edward, of Lowell; three daughters, Mrs. Gene (Edna) Hash, of Lowell; Mrs. Victor (Florence) Cissler, of Clarksville; and Mrs. Verlin (Dorothy) Fisher, of Saranac; 15 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

INEZ RUTHERFORD A Lowell resident for a half century, former teacher and librarian, Miss Inez Rutherford, at age 88, passed away Monday.

Services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Roth Funeral Home, with the Rev. Charles Davis officiating, Interment in Oakwood Cemetery.

Miss Rutherford was born in Fremont on Nov. 25, 1879. She attended school at Fremont and at Hungerford after which she attended Ferris Institute.

When her parents moved the family to Lowell in 1907, Miss Rutherford began her teaching career in the third and fourth grade of the East Ward School.

Later she decided to advance her teaching career and entered Ypsilanti State Normal (now Eastern Michigan University).

Following graduation from Ypsilanti State, she taught home economics courses at the college.

The 1929 depression made it necessary for Miss Rutherford to obtain a position nearer home and she then worked for the Leonard Refrigeration Co.,

Price Supports Most Important, Farmers Told

The price support program for 1968-crop wheat will be more important than ever this year, according to Frank Light, chairman of the Michigan ASC State Committee.

The 1968 wheat crop is estimated at 34.5 million bushels, which is six million bushels below last year but still above the five-year average.

With present market prices for both old and new crop wheat already below price support loan levels, prices may go still lower during harvest, Light pointed out.

He added that over 20 percent of Michigan wheat growers signed up under the Wheat Program and will be eligible for price support loans. He especially reminded these producers that they have a marketing tool in the Price Support Loan Program which could be used this year to considerable advantage.

The Price Support Program offers price protection by providing a minimum support price, and it also can be very effective, if properly used, in promoting orderly marketing.

Light pointed out that producers who signed up under the Wheat Program may store their wheat either on the farm or on approved warehouses and obtain price support loans through their local county ASCS offices.

In the case of warehouse-stored grain, he added, it must be placed in an approved warehouse. Information on warehouses which are approved can be obtained at the local county ASCS office.

Of course, there are differences of opinion on the legality and the implementation of the court decisions done by legislative action. There's debate on the wisdom of ruling out all geographical factors in making up a county-wide government. One might justifiably question any plan based, as is Kent County's, on a census that is, in this case, eight years out-of-date.

Others have mentioned that it should be borne in mind that general population figures include college students, foreign residents, many of whom do not vote. The act also excludes from voting those who are residents of state institutions.

To some, re-apportionment is but one other means to cause the dismemberment of township government. It has been opposed, too, by those who are convinced the problems of our society can be solved only by radical decentralization of our government and by doing more than ever before to make man feel a part of his environment rather than overpowering him by it.

The issue of the election, however, is not one of adopting re-apportionment. If at all, the August primary and the November general election will deal with the selection of candidates for the position of "County Supervisor."

Township government, generally speaking, will remain unchanged. We'll still retain the best features of local self-government and we'll be able to fully maintain the machinery necessary to the responsible and responsive management of our affairs at home.

Every township and village elector is now before the question of HOW, but WHO can best represent us on the county level during a most critical period of transition in which the core will play the majority role in major decisions to be considered.

Fair Cops 100-Lap Classic
Smooth-driving Jay Fair of Pontiac, behind the wheel of his 1965 Chevrolet, won the 100-lap Midwest Invitational Race at the Berlin Raceway Saturday night.
Fair took over the lead from Ed Howe of Beaverton on the 50th lap, to register his 11th main event of the '68 season.
Bob Carnes of Kalamazoo was third followed by Jerry Spear of Battle Creek and Gail Cobb of Ada.
Fair pocketed $255 in lap money for a total of $1,465. Howe, who led for the first 50-laps, walked off with $975.
Howe's new track qualifying record of 1:24 on the 1/4 mile asphalt oval; voided out the mark previously held by Rich Senneker of Grand Rapids.
Heavy rain and severe weather forecasts forced the cancellation of the races at the Kalamazoo Speedway Sunday night.
The super modifieds will visit the Marne oval this Saturday night in a two-night program with semi-late model stocks.
Gordon Johnson of Hastings won the 150-mile USAC championship race at Longhorne Speedway Sunday.
During qualification runs, Johnson broke his own world's record for one mile on a 1/4-mile speedway with 128.988 mph.

State Reaches 80 Percent of Freeway Total
Michigan will reach the 80 percent mark in completion of its allotted interstate freeway system prior to the Fourth of July holiday weekend with the opening of 37.9 miles of freeway in Anacapa, Bay and Calhoun counties.

The State Highway Commission reports a 13.5-mile section of I-96 between Bay City and Standish in Bay and Anacapa counties will be opened July 2.

Also to be opened July 2 is a 1.9-mile section of State Freeway connecting I-75 near US-23 at Standish, built at a cost of $1.9 million.

The opening of I-96 will complete construction of the 338-mile freeway system in the Indiana border and I-94, a distance of 38.5 miles.

There have only been 23 accidents, 17 involving collisions with deer, and one slight personal injury on the 25-mile section opened last year.

Letters to the Editor
 To the Editor:
 Last week in the "Letters to the Editor" column Mrs. Myers received a bouquet for being the lone dissenting vote on the purchase of 10 acres of land by the city. I have no quarrel with her vote as I am sure it was sincere. However, I would like to take this opportunity to toss a bouquet to the majority for their progressive "yes" vote.

It seems like the purchase was a sound one for the city. First of all, the property was checked out thoroughly and determined to be ideal property for a cemetery. It is certainly inevitable that people are going to die and space will be required eventually. In my opinion, anyone thinking that this valid reason for the purchase was subterfuge is guilty of a very serious mistake. This land is available "now" and with land values increasing as rapidly as they are today, this is an ideal time to purchase. Investments that the city could make—only time will tell. There is no one going to build a new industry to our city which is always needed and should be welcomed by all.

Another use for this land is for possible, sensible expansion of the airport. Practically no new industry will locate anywhere unless there is an adequate local airport. I conclude that there are a few people who still regard flying as a hobby only. Personally, I am sure the airplane is "here to stay" and is an important part of our modern transportation world.

Not too many years ago, there were also people who didn't think money should be spent to build roads. Cars were just a "hobby." Our local airport is used virtually daily for business purposes. Anyone who plans to travel in the military or who has ever been to a modern airport could never justify call flying merely a hobby.

The Lowell airport was given to the city many years ago I understand, by two future minded citizens, Mr. C. H. Friedman and Mr. Lawrence Rutherford. For years it was practically dormant. Approximately seven years ago, several aviation-minded people formed the Lowell Airport Assn. and through volunteer labor and funds, with virtually no expense to the city or taxpayers, have worked it into a small usable airport to be proud of as compared to what we had. The city has included $200 per year in the budget for the airport. This amount has never been used in its entirety.

Several persons have indicated a desire to erect hangars at the airport but here again, it is not the city or the taxpayers. We hope to attract more pilots and planes to the Lowell airport to build hangars and houses and spend money in Lowell to help Lowell grow.

This progressive move to purchase this land was made by the council after many many hours of thought and due consideration. It was recommended by the City Planning Commission and duly passed by the council.

Only time will tell if this was a wise vote or not. I do not believe any one person can determine the wisdom accurately at this time except if they do not concern themselves with the facts.

My personal hope is that those who are against this decision are against this decision.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY BYCERT

Probably one of the most unusual parties of the weekend was given by John and Marilyn Roe. It began for the guests when they found a small canvas laundry bag hanging on their front doors. Inside was a pair of rolled socks and a laundry list. However, the list really was an invitation worded: "Socks it to me. Deliver your favorite gourmet item for testing and comparison at a potluck with other clean-cut friends and neighbors."

Then as the dinner hour approached, the guests were asked to board a pair of pontoon boats lashed together on which a buffet supper appeared consisting of the favorite dishes brought to the party. The tables were decorated with burlap cloths and beach towels and looked majestic as they gently floated downstream in the grand manner of the old Romans enjoying their feasts on the Mediterranean.

Hither, thither, and back again, John Banta has just returned from a year in France where he was a student. He will be at home with his parents, the James Bantas on Spaulding until fall.

Fourteen women of the Forest Hills and Hickory Hills Women's Golf Leagues walked off with prizes at the one-day, nine-hole golf meet at Greenville in which twelve clubs were represented.

A light breakfast was served at the Greenville Country Club followed by a shot-gun tee-off at 9 a. m. Jane Breidenfeld, Spaulding Ave., president of the Women's Western Golf Association, conducted a short business meeting following the buffet luncheon in the Greenville City Club. Mary Joint presented awards and prizes for the morning's games.

From Hickory Hills and Forest Hills honors went to Elaine Gabriz for putting scores. In Flight 2, Jan Bowie took first and Tommy Price placed third. Flight 3 saw Joan Taylor in fourth and in Flight 4 Annette DeMinck placed first. Flight 5 second and third went to Gemma Hesia and Barb Braendle respectively.

In Flight 7 Cheryl Brown placed third and Flight 8 went to Bobbie Mathews, Marie Cline, Dorothy Hall, and Marcella Kennedy in that order. Sylvia King and Shirley Bycert took first and fourth in Flight 9.
