Set School Millage Vote August 26

It Was Time of Signs

There was some question at Monday night's City Council meeting whether it was a sign of the times or a time of the signs.

Owners of two Main Street business establishments appeared before the council to protest citations issued by City Manager Bernard C. Olson relative to display of signs on the business properties.

In each instance, Olson pointed out, the signs had been erected without proper permits.

Mrs. Rose Fonger, owner of Rosie Drive Inn, told the council she was unaware of the sign ordinance and expressed the opinion that a new sign at the restaurant was more ornamental than commercial.

Council advised her to obtain the necessary permit, after which the city manager would fully explore the statutes to determine a future course of action.

Duke Thomet and Marcel Kropf appeared to protest a similar citation for erection of signs on their new McQueen Motor Company location.

After considerable discussion, council deferred the matter to the Planning Commission for further study.

Of the four council members present, Herb Reynolds was most outspoken in his opinion that the sign ordinance was far from desirable in its present form.

"I recall when the zoning ordinance was passed that we felt there might be some problems such as this arise," said Reynolds. "I didn't like it then and I don't like it now!"

There was a general nod of agreement from his fellow councilmen... which may be a sign of things to come!

Purchase Awaits Appeal

The City of Lowell will seek a 30-day extension, to August 17, on a proposed agreement to purchase a 39-acre tract in Vergennes Township for possible cemetery expansion and recreation and airport use.

The need for the extension arose when Vergennes Township officials notified City Manager Bernard C. Olson that no date could be set for a hearing of the township's zoning board of appeals until a legal description of the property was obtained from owner John Gerhart.

The city council instructed Olson at Monday night's meeting to seek an extension of the deadline, which was scheduled this Thursday under a recently-revised purchase agreement.

In other matters, the council:

Instructed the city manager to continue to develop a schedule of fees for the city's sanitary landfill operation, which currently is operating under an interim plan;

Heard the manager's reports on possible joint construction of a water main to the new Root-Lowell plant and recommended location of a sewer line to the same facility;

Accepted for study a proposed ordinance for future cemetery operation;

Tabled, in her absence, a request from Councilwoman Mrs. Virginia Myers calling for lowering of the ceiling in council chambers;

Held off awarding of a bid to any of three bidders for the city's insurance coverage pending a study by the city manager of the bids submitted;

Heard a report from the manager regarding completion of installation of an automatic water control for the city's water system; and

Heard a report from the manager relative to the feasibility of installing water and sewer extensions on Hudson Street at the same time that the street will be re-constructed to provide for an interceptor link between Lincoln Lake and Hudson.

Big Sale Coming!

Lowell Sidewalk Days, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20, represents paradise to the average bargain hunter. Main Street will be a veritable forest of good buys and that doesn't even take into consideration the fun of hunting for them.

This bonanza of bargains, sponsored each year by the

An Editorial Hear Ye! Hear Ye!

Several times during Monday night's session of the City Council, Mayor Arnold Wittenbach mentioned that perhaps the city fathers should consider installation of a sound system for the council chambers.

This newspaper heartily concurs. No doubt those residents interested enough to turn out for the meeting agree as well.

We might have said "turn out to hear the council"... but this would certainly be an inaccurate summation.

There were 18 people at Monday night's meeting. Only those with extremely sensitive ears would have been able to hear what the council, the city manager and the city clerk were saying.

That the press could not hear is of little consequence.

What matters is that the citizens... taxpayers, if you will... do not have a fair opportunity to listen to matters that pertain to the present and future government of their own city.

It is a matter that should be given serious attention.

Financially-distressed Lowell Area School District officials will seek voter support in a special millage vote on August 26.

The Board of Education, acting at a special meeting Monday night, established the voting date... but not the millage to be sought for added costs of operating the system.

Superintendent James C. Pace said that the exact amount of millage will be determined when all possible cuts in the proposed 1968-69 budget have been made.

Under new state laws, the final date for voter registration for the millage election is Friday, July 25, at 5 p. m. with the township or city clerk of residency. The law also provides that registrations may be taken at anytime for future elections, such as this one, even though they are now closed for the August 6 primary.

All voters who are now or become qualified will be eligible to vote in the special August 26 election.

In a statement issued by the Board of Education, it was pointed out that "it had been the desire of the board not to ask for any additional millage, but because of a deficit for the 1967-68 school year it is necessary to obtain additional funds to cover the amount of debt."

Pending the final audit of school accounts, no firm figure is available, the board noted further, but it is expected to be in the area of $85,000.

The district will receive 10.1 mills allocated by Kent County and is in the second year of a three-year seven-mill operating levy granted by voters in 1967.

The state equalized valuation for the district has been set at $25,798,000, which means that approximately $25,000 could be raised for each additional mill approved by the voters.

Pending the final budget for the coming year, it is estimated that between 2.5 and 3.3 mills will be sought.

The major loss of anticipated revenue for 1967-68 was in the form of various state aid financing, which came up some $41,000 short of projected figures for 1967-68.

Another $22,530 in deficit financing resulted in the need to hire extra teachers just before school opening in September; additional bus service; capital outlays for equipment; special tuition charges and supplies.

The district also failed to receive $22,000 in local tax income, much of which will be collected. However, this item has already been included in the new budget.

Board members pointed out that a new state law opens up the possibility that any public school district that has a deficit two straight years may be taken over by the state and assigned to another district.

"The board does not desire to have the present district taken over by the state and dissolved and made a part of another district," the statement concluded.

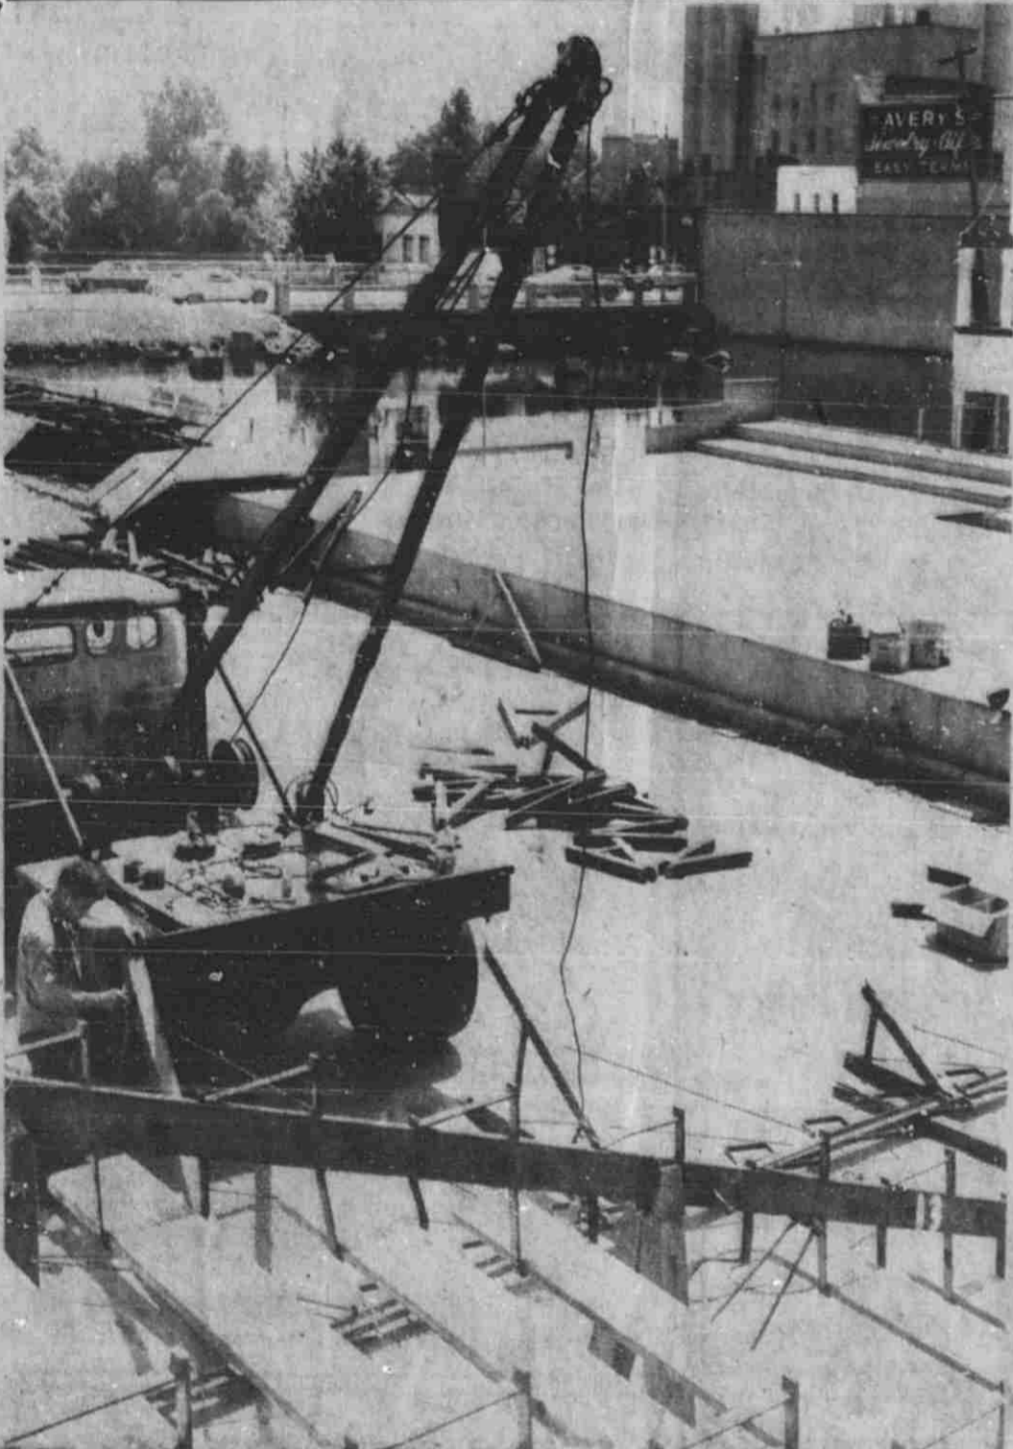

Post Office Cuts Service

In line with announced cutbacks in postal service this week in Washington, Lowell Postmaster Charles R. Doyle today disclosed that Saturday window service will be curtailed, effective Saturday, July 27.

The window will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 a. m. to handle mail for business firms and general delivery patrons. No money orders will be sold on Saturdays.

No changes are presently planned in route deliveries, Doyle said.

Due to a strike of postal employees in Canada, no mail scheduled for Canadian delivery will be accepted, Doyle added.

PREPARATIONS FOR SHOWBOAT, scheduled in Lowell August 19-24, are well underway today. The stage and temporary bleachers for the annual production were installed this week. Tickets are now on sale... and the countdown to Opening Night has started.

The first far off toots from the 1968 Lowell Showboat's famous whistle are beginning to be heard in Lowell.

Plans for this year's show, starring Dinah Shore and the Dukes of Dixieland, are beginning to hit the active stage.

After certain small repairs are made and the telephones installed, the ticket booth will be open for business in its annual location in the city parking lot on East Main Street.

This year's revised price schedule is set at $1, $2 and $3 for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and $2, $3 and $4 on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Better get your tickets early... this year's boat is a sure winner.

The 1968 Showboat chorus rehearsals have begun, once again under the competent baton of Gerrit Lamain.

Mr. Lamain reports that he needs more singers and urges anyone interested to come to the Junior high school at 7:30 p. m. on Tuesday or Thursday of next week.

Since the chorus is a very important part of the Showboat image, it's a fine way to have a good time and contribute to the community at the same time.

So come on, singers, let's turn out.

The Showboat stands are going up under the experienced eye of Mark Burdick. Just another detail among the many which need attention to make the Showboat click.

American Legionnaires are standing by and will once again take over the ushering chores.

Conditions At Pool Deplored

Irate mothers descended upon the City Council at its meeting Monday night to back up a request by the Lowell YMCA for immediate refurbishing of the fieldhouse, located at the swimming pool.

Apparently caught off guard, council members admitted they had no knowledge of conditions, which Lowell Y director Terry Bambrick said had become "critical".

The fieldhouse and pool are owned by the city, but are leased for nine months each year to the Lowell Area School District and for the other three months to the YMCA.

Under terms of the lease, primary responsibility for maintenance of the fieldhouse rests with the school on a 3-for-1 expenditure basis.

Bambrick said that the fieldhouse is urgently in need of paint, inside and out.

Lowell Chamber of Commerce president Larry Wittenbach agreed that there was a need to correct this situation as well as to paint the exhibition building on the 4-H grounds, also owned by the city and used, intermittently, for storage of city equipment.

Council agreed to forward to the Y its annual subsidy of $1,000, a portion of which could be used to purchase paint for the fieldhouse. It was agreed that $100 should be allocated to provide paint for the interior of the exhibition building.

Both Bambrick and Wittenbach said that attempts would be made to solicit volunteer help in the painting projects.

Considerable time was devoted to discussion of maintenance of the YMCA building and installation of a new fence. City Manager Bernard C. Olson said that initial steps have been taken in both matters and expressed hope that they would be completed in the near future.

Bambrick also requested assistance in removal of a tree which had fallen on the tennis courts at the Recreation Park and was assured that it would be checked into at once.

Hollern Resigns A.D. Post

Dale C. Hollern, for the past year athletic director and assistant principal at Lowell High School, submitted his resignation Tuesday to Superintendent James C. Pace.

Hollern notified Pace that he had accepted the position as assistant principal of Crestwood High School in the Detroit suburb of Dearborn Heights.

Pace said that Hollern had been offered a contract for $10,900 for the 1968-69 school year and estimated that the Dearborn Heights position would call for "considerably more than we were offering."

Hollern came to the Lowell system last Fall from Grand Rapids Catholic Central. He is married and has five children.

The Hollerns are expected to move to their new home as soon as suitable quarters can be located, Pace said.

Lions Pick Mike Doyle as President

New officers for 1968-69 have been named by the Lowell Lions Club.

Elected as president was Mike Doyle with Trent Geldersma serving as first vice president; Dr. Clark Vredenburg as second vice president; and Bernie Panikowski, third vice president. Doyle succeeds Jerry Smith as president.

George Dey, Jr. will handle the position as secretary, Bernard Kropf will be treasurer, Art Warning is the Tail Twister and Keith Caldwell the Lion Tamer.

Picked for the board of directors for two-year terms were Vince McCambridge and Joe Hines with Dick Belmers and Jerry Kellogg serving one-year terms.

The Lions Club annually sponsors a number of local projects to raise funds for its sight program and assistance to the Leader Dogs for the Blind program.

Seek Fire Millage in Bowne Twp.

Bowne Township voters will have a special interest in the upcoming August primary.

They will be asked to approve a 1½-mill levy to be used solely for fire protection.

The planned use of the millage would include maintenance of equipment; new equipment; hourly wages for the volunteer firemen; and an addition that is in the planning for the fire barn.

A portion of the millage asked is earmarked for the payment to Freeport Fire Department, which covers an area of nine square miles in Bowne Township.

START OF CONSTRUCTION on the new Root-Lowell plant in northwest Lowell is underway with the initial phase of the project shown above. Footings for the walls will be poured soon. The plant and new equipment, a $ million project, is scheduled for completion in early December.

Stop Pair After High Speed Chase

A high-speed chase by Lowell police officers resulted in fines for a Louisiana man and his companion Monday.

Joel Fulford, 30, of Monroe, La., and Martha L. Towers, 34, of Grand Rapids, were apprehended after they tried to elude Lowell police by speeding on city streets.

Taken before Justice Howard Rittenger, they pleaded guilty to being disorderly for failing to obey a police officer and were fined $25 each, plus $5 costs and $2.50 for the officer's Training Fund.

A Toledo man was remanded to Kent County Jail for 30 days after pleading guilty before Justice Rittenger for illegal trespass.

James Custer, 36, was spotted by officers in the lot at McQueen Motor Company and arrested while in one of the cars on the lot. He told officers he was looking for money.

Custer had in his possession an electric can opener which the police reported, was taken from the First Congregational Church. An open charge of breaking and entering is pending against Custer.

In other action this week, Roy C. Green, 27, of Wyoming, a former Lowell resident, was found guilty in a jury trial in Justice Rittenger's court on a charge of assault and battery dating back to March 18. He was fined $50 and $30 costs. The incident involved a 16-year-old Lowell youth.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

Inflation has created a crisis in local education.

Inflation has crept into education just the same as it has in the supermarket. We are not going to get as much for our education dollar this coming year as we did last year. Costs are up in all areas of employed personnel.

The board of education and the school administration have worked with the school budget longer and harder this year than ever before. At present the expected income for the 1968-69 school year just can't be stretched to cover the expected costs. The purchase of teaching supplies and operational costs of the buildings themselves have been reduced to fifteen percent of the total budget. In most school systems this figure is at least twenty to twenty-five percent of the school budget. Administrative personnel, custodians and teaching positions are reduced to minimum requirements.

We all recognize that the taxpayer is being subjected to increasing burdens at all levels of government. And we also recognize that the only area where the voter can strike back at increasing taxation is on school elections. But the education of children is the most important task of society.

The position of the school board at present is such that more dollars are needed to eliminate a large deficit created by cuts in state appropriations this spring.

There is no way to recover these lost dollars in the months for the coming year.

Therefore, we are asking each taxpayer to seriously consider these problems and act in good conscience with the interest of children at heart in this.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

Canoeing has become an extremely popular past time in the last ten years. The liveries are finding business beginning as early as February if there is any warmth in the air at all. By this time of the year the rivers are full of enthusiasts.

One group who charged down the Little Muskegon for two days included Ted Johnson, Fred Rugg, Eric Vanderveen, Rick Manus, Chuck Reintges, and Tom Seidman. They camped out at Howard City on Friday and launched early Saturday morning. After a lot of laughs, some hang-ups on rocks, and a few spills, they arrived at Croton Dam Sunday noon; tired, wet, and sunburned.

Another group who try to make a weekend trip at least once a year includes Jim and Sandy Rooker, Doug and Joyce Cook, Bob and Ruth DeGreen, Rich and Lynn DeGreen, Lou and Alice Wilson, Tom and Gloria Harrall, and Tina and Vern Faulkner. This year Steve Cook managed to be part of the crowd too.

This flotilla put in at Luther on the Pine River. They found it to be full of stones and fallen trees and several lunches were dunked from time to time. But the sleeping gear and heavy equipment was back at the camp site where a victory weiner roast celebrated the conclusion of the mastery of the waters.

This is not to say that you can't have fun at home. Yard games have been in evidence as the weatherman has turned a favorable eye this way. At the Jim Bowman's there was croquet, at the Robert Bedi's it was badminton, and at the Mike Vekasi's the boys were using a volleyball.

The girls were having fun too. Beth Hachmal, bride-to-be of Martin Bowerman, was entertained at a personal shower given by Marian Belding and Cathy Bushhouse. Punch, ice cream, cookies and much feminine talk kept the guests busy. Among those present were Candy Hofmeyer, Jeri MacInnes, Sue Warners, Billy Veight, Chris Marmon, and Pam Runciman.

The Teen Fellowship of Cascade Christian Church had their annual camping trip and outing to Wilderness State Park and Mackinac Island July 8 through 10.

Enjoying the outing were: Bill Vekasi, Jim Dygert, Bob Sweeney, Chris Bishop, Linda Boris, Merrie Meyer, Scott Meyer, Rob Johnson, Craig Chandler, Woody Palmer, Karen Decker, accompanied by adult chaperones. Mr. and Mrs. Fay Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert VanStrien.

The young people earned all the money for their expenses through car washes and the pop concession at the July 4 celebration.

Attending Junior Camp at Christian Crystal Christian Assembly near Frankfort, Michigan, this past week have been Sally Ginebaugh, Herbie Richardson, Bobby DeKam, former Cascade resident now living in the Virgin Islands. Accompanying the children was Mrs. Harriett Richardson.

Paying a visit to the old home town of Cascade are Jonette and Bobby DeKam, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeKam, former Cascade residents. The DeKams moved to the Virgin Islands two years ago.

Visiting old friends until August 1, the children are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeKam, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brienfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dykhuizen, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Melness. Jonette is spending a week aboard the Bruce Chadwick's boat at Pentwater and

MR. AND MRS. JAMES HUVER

Repeat Vows

The St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Saranac was the scene June 22 of the wedding of Suzanne Jo Larson of Ionia and James Edward Huver of Lowell. Father Ronald Schneider was the officiating priest.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Larson of Ionia and Mr. and Mrs. Leo T. Huver of 5670 Kyser Road, Lowell.

The bride wore a floor length A-line gown with an empire waist and a chapel length train. It was dramatized by a bodice and long sleeves of lace and accented by an elbow length veil secured by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Judy Larson attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Peg Rogusky and Karen Pinkston. Frances Huver, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid.

The bridal attendants were dressed in pink A-line floor length gowns with white daisies trimming the cowll collars and detachable trains.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Jerry Huver. Groomsman were Ken Huver, also brother of the groom, and Jim Potter and John Whitham who seated the guests.

Currently the groom is assigned by the U. S. Army to Fort George Meade, Maryland, where the couple will reside.

Give a hoot about savings? Dial direct.
Want to be a wise moneysaver? Then just dial your Long Distance calls direct instead of placing them Person-to-Person. It's one way to cut your phone bill if you are reasonably sure the party you are calling will be there. And it's easy, too.
Just dial "1", then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want.
For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Cincinnati costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct Station-to-Station and that same call costs only 85¢. You pocket the 34 percent difference.
So be smart. Give a hoot about savings. Dial Direct. It's the moneysaving way to call Long Distance.
