

Improve Looks of City Firms

A new entry for the Village Inn is one of the most visible of the many improvements instituted recently by Lowell businessmen.

The attractively designed front features smaller windows, planters and a roof-style overhang. Executed in natural wood tones, owner Chuck Bartlett feels that it provides a more inviting and modern look to his establishment.

The new entry is one of a series of improvements planned by Bartlett for the Village Inn.

Well hidden below ground level is an 18,000 gallon storage tank at Dick's Pure Oil Station on Main Street. With this large tank available, a whole semi-truck load of gasoline can be unloaded at one time which constitutes a saving in time and money for both the company and the local distributor.

Also new at Dick's station is his three-minute car wash. It is the only car wash in town in which the car is firmly washed with large brushes, according to owner Dick Biebers. This complicated and efficient machine was made in Germany.

And if you've noticed a new sign on the Pure Oil Station, it is the result of the merger of the Pure Oil Company with the Union 76 Oil Company of California.

Main Street is boasting a new business as well. Pat and Neals new shop featuring clock repair and antiques has opened in the building formerly occupied by the Gamble Store.

These and many other improvements and pending improvements indicated a firm faith in Lowell's future by local businessmen.

Proclaims Constitution Week Here

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach has officially proclaimed September 17-23 as "Constitution Week" in the City of Lowell.

A similar proclamation was signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson to commemorate the occasion on a nationwide basis.

The local campaign to observe this patriotic project is being conducted under the auspices of the Sophie de Marsac Campau Chapter DAR.

Mayor Wittenbach's proclamation reads, in part, as follows:

"It is of the greatest consequence that citizens fully understand the provisions and principles contained in the Constitution of the United States in order to be able to support it properly as the greatest document for human liberty in two thousand years of recorded history."

TRAFFIC STOPPER? Lowell Police Chief Avery Block looks on as members of the Michigan Highway Department install traffic-counters near the intersection of Main and Monroe as part of a survey to determine the need for a stop signal at the busy intersection. Results of the survey are expected to be known in a few weeks.

GR Firm Acquires Newell Manufacturing

Acquisition of Newell Manufacturing Company of Lowell by Wolverine Industries of Grand Rapids was announced this week by Kenneth Case, president of the new parent firm, and R. Wallace (Wally) Hook of Newell.

It was a straight stock transaction and becomes effective September 25.

Both Case and Hook, who will remain with Newell in the capacity of general manager, said that the agreement will add many new job opportunities to the Lowell area.

This was brought about by merger of Newell and Grand Rapids Hardware Manufacturing Company, another subsidiary of Wolverine Industries.

The two companies will operate together under present Newell management in the Lowell facility with Grand Rapids Hardware vacating its facility in Grand Rapids.

It is estimated that between 50 and 75 jobs will be available when all manufacturing facilities are located under the same roof.

Transfer of the Grand Rapids operation is expected to start sometime in late October and will be completed in about one month's time, Hook said.

Newell has been producing screen and storm door hardware for the past 28 years. Grand Rapids Hardware produces window-closing devices and other building hardware.

Products of both companies will be sold by a single sales force. The 1969 forecast is for approximately $2,500,000 in sales, about double Newell's present sales pace.

Wolverine Industries, formerly known as Wolverine Brass, is a nationally-known producer of brass fittings for the plumbing trade. It reportedly has gross sales of $20-million.

Stock in Wolverine Industries is scheduled to be listed on the American Stock Exchange following application approval now pending before the Securities Exchange Commission.

Set Hearing on Variance in Vergennes

A public hearing has been set for Monday, September 30, at 8 p. m. by the Vergennes Township Zoning Board of Appeals to consider a variance request sought by the City of Lowell on land that would be used for a cemetery and extension of the airport.

The hearing will be held in the township hall, Bailey Dr. and Parnell Avenue.

Sale of the property currently is being negotiated between owner John Gerhardt and the City of Lowell with final purchase at a price of $21,000 for the 39-acre tract subject to the Vergennes board ruling.

'Gob-Lions' to Conduct Candy Sale

Hallowe'en may be more than a month away, but there will be some "gob-lions" on Lowell's streets come Tuesday, October 1.

That's the night that the Lowell Lions Club will conduct its annual Hallowe'en Candy Sale.

Monies derived from the sale, which will be held between 7 p. m. and 9 p. m., will go toward supporting the Sight Program, the Leader Dog Program and other worthy causes supported by the Lions Club.

Oops! Council Almost Slips on Liquor Issue

There will be no referendum on the November ballot calling for voter opinion on the sale of liquor by the glass in the City of Lowell... but for just a few moments Monday night the City Council almost permitted the issue to reach the polls.

The council listened to Chas. Bartlett, local tavern owner, who presented petitions bearing the signatures of an estimated 270 city residents, and, upon motion by Councilman Herb Reynolds, moved to place the matter before voters if the city attorney decided it was legal to do so.

It was approved by a 4-1 vote with Councilman Harold F. Jefferies casting the negative vote.

Moments after Bartlett had left the meeting, Councilman Carlen Anderson asked that City Clerk Laura Shepard read the motion again. Anderson had seconded Reynolds' motion.

When the clerk repeated the motion, Anderson said:

"That's not the motion as I understood it. It was my intent to approve the motion only if the petitions were considered valid and had been legally presented."

The law allows the council to place the matter before voters without petition.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach, who earlier had made a similar statement, declared:

"I don't want to be a part of an action in which the five people sitting here at this table can place it on the ballot."

City Attorney Richard VanderVeen was contacted Tuesday morning to give a legal opinion. He told City Manager Bernard C. Olson there is nothing in the statutes that requires council to act on the issue.

VanderVeen noted that the petitions should have been filed with either the city clerk or county clerk on or before 60 days prior to the election. That deadline passed 2 weeks ago.

As matters now stand, the next possible date that the issue could be placed on the ballot would be in the state election of 1970.

In other action, council:

1—Approved transfer of SDD and SDM licenses from Jack Fonger and Jay Boelens, operators of the Lowell Beer Store, to George E. King and Gary Laux;

2—Set October 7 for a public hearing on establishing a special assessment roll for sidewalk improvement on Lincoln Lake between Elm and Spring streets;

3—Heard the city manager's report that bids awarded for a new lift station on the city's west side were lower than estimated with the result that the city's share of the cost would be about $5,000 instead of approximately $13,000 as originally thought;

4—Referred to the Planning Commission a contract with planning consultant Scott Bagby & Associates;

5—Authorized the city manager to proceed with plans to use city employees and equipment to install water and sewer mains in Hudson Street north to the city limits as part of the interceptor road project soon to be constructed

School Officials May Seek New Millage Vote Soon

There were growing indications today that Lowell Area School officials might go back to the voters in an effort to untangle their financial difficulties.

In the meantime, however, the Board of Education met Wednesday night with representatives of the Lowell Education Association and members of the custodial and bus transportation staffs to seek recommendations for reducing operating costs.

The board hopes to come up with an answer to the overall problem at another special meeting called for next Monday night at 7:30 p. m. in the high school library.

Board members have spent long hours seeking ways to overcome a deficit that, at best, might only be reduced to $75,000 at the end of the present school year.

If the board chooses to return to the voters for extra operating millage, in all likelihood it would be for a two-year period and for close to six mills.

Voters on August 26 gave approval for 3.3 mills of operating levy for one year only to have the election ruled "no vote" when a recount established the vote as a 457-457 tie.

Acceptance by the voters in a November or March special election would permit the board to borrow against revenues that could not be collected before 1970.

Warns Dog Owners to Watch Pets

Dog owners in Lowell today were warned that permitting their pets to run loose or to bark incessantly could result in citations for violation of the city's nuisance ordinance.

Police Chief Avery Block said the department has received numerous complaints in recent days from irate neighbors.

The department also will begin rigid enforcement of a new state law requiring motorists to wear face shields or wind goggles when traveling at 35 m.p.h. or more.

"This is a new law," explains the chief, "and we trust that people operating motorcycles will conform to it."

Lowell police arrested Lloyd Seeber, 38, of Hastings on a charge of being drunk and disorderly last Friday. He appeared before Justice Howard Rittenger Saturday and paid $32.50 in fines and costs after pleading guilty.

Study Grain Storage at Lowell Firm

Several South American businessmen, here to study American methods of grain storage, price stabilization, growth and storage of products, and farming techniques and production, were taken on a tour of a Lowell firm recently.

The Hallmark Division of the C. H. Runciman Company of Lowell, was host to 12 Brazilians, three of whom represented the Brazilian Government, and nine representatives of individual states who were conducted on an inspection of the plant and offices by Chester Wright.

They are in the United States on a 12-week program under the auspices of the Agency for International Development, Department of Agriculture, and are accompanied by interpreters.

Superintendent James Pace also reported contacting of two engineering firms to study the structural problem at the southeast corner of the Junior High building. Two rooms in the corner of the building are reported to have "mushy" floors, and a representative of Williams and Works Engineering felt that an inspection should be made.

Tells Romney: Buses Overloaded

Lowell Area School Superintendent James Pace, subject of parental criticism on bus transportation in the past two weeks, was the target of non-resident rebuke this week.

Pace said he had received a call from the office of Governor George Romney in response to a letter from Mrs. Jane Frost of Battle Creek which pointed out, in part, that Lowell school buses were carrying as many as 113 students.

"I don't know where the woman got that figure," declared Pace, "but the biggest load we have had this year... and that was on the opening day of school... was 81."

Rates for tuition students were set for the school year at $91.39 for elementary students and $112.08 for secondary students maximum, with 13 students involved.

Electoral College Puzzle to Voters

Editor's Note: With the approach of the important November 5th General Election we are pleased to present a series of articles by Al Hestram touching on issues involved in the American voting process.

In the current Presidential election year one of the most discussed aspects—perhaps the least understood—is the function of the electoral college.

Surely most of us know that the winner of a state's popular vote receives the entire electoral vote of that state.

Fourteen times our country has elected a minority president in this fashion: John Q. Adams, Hayes, Harrison, Polk, Taylor, Buchanan, Lincoln, Garfield, Cleveland (twice), Wilson (twice), Truman, and Kennedy.

Created by the provisions of the U. S. Constitution (1787), the electoral college came into being because the farmers believed "the people were not to be trusted to choose wisely through a popular election."

Article II of the U. S. Constitution requires that "each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the Congress."

To this day that number of electors is affected only by new census figures, reapportionment, and the addition of new states. The electors meet, following the November election, in their respective state capitols, vote, and send the results to Congress.

The system worked well for only a few years. The elector could vote for any two men he chose, except that one of them had to be a resident of a state other than the elector's own. The candidate receiving the most votes was elected president; the next highest became vice president. Originally they merely named the men, not the office.

In 1804 the Congress took action to care for those instances which could arise where no candidate received a majority. In addition to requiring that the electors vote distinctly for president and vice president, the 12th Amendment set forth that:

"If no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest number...

Outline Ambulance Plan in Plea for Area Service

Editor's Note: The need for ambulance service in eastern Kent County has been pointed out often by this newspaper. The following is a report on efforts to initiate such a service, submitted by Walter W. Cammer, member of the Kent County Board of Supervisors (from Lowell).

One of the most difficult matters vital to the interest and well-being of the citizens in our area is the solution of the ambulance problem. As a member of the Safety Committee of the County Board of Supervisors and as a private citizen of Lowell, I have spent many hours in studying a matter that is vital to the well-being of Lowell and Kent County citizens.

Everyone, seemingly, knows that legislation recently passed by the Federal and State governments made it very difficult for small private companies to continue in the ambulance business and as a result Lowell and other communities in the county, such as ours, have been without adequate service.

Our Safety Committee, on several occasions, met with representatives of the major ambulance companies in the county in an effort to persuade them to unite in an effort to arrange a reasonable county subsidy. However, the major firms still doing business in Kent County requested a subsidy of $100,000 to help defray additional costs of operation.

As an individual, I have conferred with four private companies operating in Kent or Ionia Counties but for various reasons we could not arrange any agreement.

Our Safety Committee, either in its entirety or through representatives, has had several meetings with the mayor and/or the city manager, the entire committee met with the council and city manager and police chief on Monday, September 9.

The luncheon will begin at 12:00 p. m. in the main auditorium following the torch-lighting ceremony at 11:30 in Campus Square. Welcoming Line and USFC workers will be campaign chairman, Wilbur Schweder.

Rangers Break Jinx in Grid Opener; Lowell Bows to Ionia

FH Tops Rugged Rockford

BY KIT SMITH
Having shaken off one jinx, Forest Hills High's football team will seek to overcome another when the Rangers play host to O-K conference rival Kentwood Friday night at 7:30 p. m.

The Rangers, under new head coach Frank Rosengren, snapped a winless string against non-league rival Rockford last week by downing the Rams 14-7 on the home gridiron.

Rockford had won all previous five games in the rivalry.

Kentwood, also victorious in its last five starts against Forest Hills, launched the 1968 campaign with a 47-0 rout of South Christian.

Rosengren was delighted with the outcome, but said after the game that "we still have many rough spots to smooth out."

He was particularly happy with the work of fullback Randy Simon, who scored the first Ranger touchdown, halfback Stan Grochowalski and a lineman Steve Grabarek. Rob McCormick, Tom Dyer, Jim Meier and Bill Baerl.

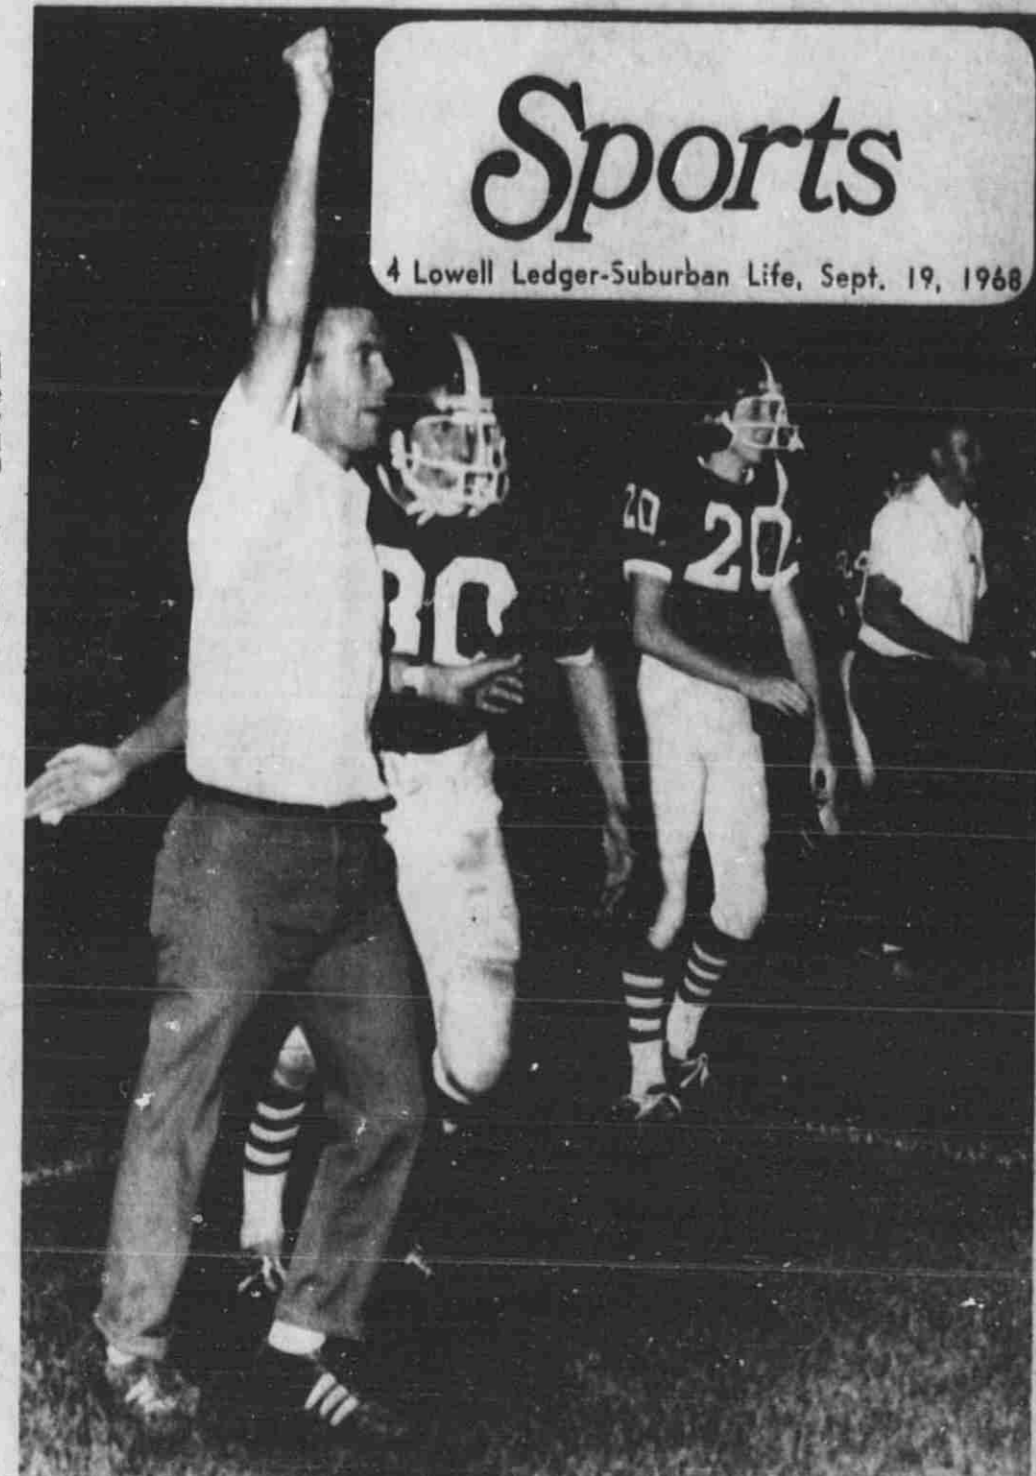

"Dyer, Meier and Baerl really came on strong for us on defense late in the game," he said. "They gave us life when it looked like we might be getting tired."

For awhile it looked as though the Rockford game was going to be a scoreless contest. The Rangers started out badly as quarterback Scott Wingeler fumbled on the first play from scrimmage on his own 25.

Wingeler's passing and the running of Grochowalski and Simon later moved the Rangers to the Ram's 18-yard line. On a 4th-and-1 situation, Wingeler decided to pass and the Rams' defense came up with an interception to end the threat.

The rest of the first quarter and most of the second was played at mid-field, with neither team making a real threat.

In the second quarter, Rockford was forced to punt and the Rangers took over on their opponents' 45. A steady ground game, with fine running by both Grochowalski and Simons, brought the ball inside the 16. On second down, Simons went right up the middle for the first score of the game with 7:22 remaining in the half. He also ran the extra point to make the score 7-0.

The fired-up Rangers, seeking a bigger lead to take into the lockerroom at the half, forced Rockford into a punting situation. After Forest Hills took over on its own 20, Simons carried for 19 to the 30. With time running out, Wingeler connected to halfback Doug Griffith who broke loose and ran for a 37 yard score. With only 14 seconds left in the half, Simons again ran the extra point to make it 14-0.

Early in the fourth quarter, Rockford moved down to Rangers' 10. On fourth down, Quarterback Scott Pierson went back to pass and seemed to be trapped. However, some fancy running got him out of trouble and on to the scoreboard. The extra point was good to close the gap to 14-7.

Though Forest Hills managed to net 174 yards rushing, Simons and Grochowalski combined for a pick-up of 183 yards for the night's work. Simons carried 21 times for 124 yards and Grochowalski gained 64 yards in 16 tries.

Forest Hills collected nine of its game-total 10 first downs via the ground attack and got another by passing. Wingeler completing four of 10 for 92 aerial yards.

The Jayvees were not so fortunate, dropping a 14-0 decision to the Rams despite some good efforts by John Terry, George McCarger, Randy House and Mark Wynant.

Forest Hills CC Hosts Pro Invitational Meet

A number of Michigan's foremost professional golfers are expected to compete in the first annual Forest Hills CC Professional Invitational Golf Tournament next Sunday (September 22).

The 18-hole event will carry a purse of $1,000, according to FHCC pro-manager Chay Baxter. First-place money will be $300.

Area pros who are scheduled to compete in the expected starting field of almost 100 include Barnum, Stuart, Tom Rossey of Spring Lake, Jim Celestino of Cascade Hills, Jerry Berles of Sunnysbrook, Jim Wells of Kent and Jim Scott of Green Ridge.

Michigan PGA president Lou Powers says that this is the first pro-invitational in Western Michigan in twenty years. The Forest Hills course is presently a par-70 layout. The board has applied to the U.S. GA for membership. Both the club and its women's association now belong to the Western Michigan Golf Association.

Just a reminder that there's still time to get in on the fun at Arrowhead GC this Sunday in the first annual Ledger-Suburban Life golf tournament. It's for duffer and scratch golfer alike... and will be played under the Callaway handicap system... which means that anyone is eligible to win.

The Smyth plans to participate, but I'm sure that it will be just for the exercise. Not only am I not eligible for a trophy... but the only time I ever won anything was when I drew my own name for an autographed Lions football... and had to give it back because I was serving as master of ceremonies at the occasions!

Better to be an "almost" than a "never was" in my estimation... which is by way of explaining that banker Keith Caldwell finished as runner-up for the second straight year in the Silver Lake CC match-play championship flight. He dropped the 36-hole final by a 5 and 3 count... after rallying for three consecutive with 12 holes to play. Better luck next time, Keith.

In the past few years, my longtime friend Lou Powers has been trying to install some new life in the Michigan Professional Golfers Association. Both Lou and the folks at Forest Hills CC are to be congratulated for trying a tournament such as the pro-invitational scheduled this Sunday. Let's hope it works out well.

Arrows Suffer 40-6 Loss

It may be a case of out of the frying pan into the fire for Lowell High School's football team in Friday night's home opener against Greenview.

Greenview, meanwhile, opened the '68 campaign with a 34-0 rout of Lakeview and will

Arrows Bow to Ionia Powerhouse

River Conference.

The loss to Ionia was one of the worst ever suffered by the Arrows in the traditional rivalry with the Bulldogs... and might have been worse except for several key penalties and the benevolence of Ionia skipper Chuck Kohoff, who flooded the field with reserves in the final 16 minutes of play.

Ionia now holds a 20-18 edge in victories with four other games ending in tie scores since the series started in 1922.

If Lowell had any bright spots, it was the passing of second string quarterback Mitch McMahon and the defensive efforts of halfback Pete Olson and guard Ray Smith.

McMahon took over the signaling chores from starter Jack Thomet in the second half and, in his first varsity game, won Coach Smith's vote of confidence to start against Greenview. The junior quarterback hit on four of 13 pass attempts to account for all 75 of Lowell's air yards.

Included were a 16-yard run to End Ted Hoesch and a 24-yarder to End Curt Fonger, that set up Lowell's only scoring thrust that culminated a 75-yard drive in 11 plays with halfback Dale Kropp plunging over from the Ionia 40-yard line at the 10-24 mark of the final quarter.

Prior to that effort, Lowell had failed to penetrate Ionia territory as the Bulldogs completely dominated the action.

The Arrows managed to pick up a meager 36 yards rushing to 254 for Ionia and did not gain a first down until the 7:31 mark of the third quarter when Thomet sneaked over center for two yards while deep in Lowell territory.

Fullback John Robinson, a rugged 185-pounder, and quarterback Doug Brown sparked Ionia to a 25-0 lead before retiring for the night.

Robinson scored three touchdowns on runs of two, four and 34 yards, the latter a brilliant dash with 40 seconds left in the third quarter.

Coach Smith is more concerned with Lowell's inability to move the ball than with its lack of defense.

"With McMahon, we can try the run option off pass plays," he said.

"We knew we would be hurting on defense with guys like Cla Avery, Ron Wittenbach and Bob Van Dyke out for the season with injuries. But we didn't lose our composure... we were still trying at the end."

The Bulldogs' other score

Close Race for Honors in Tourney

A single stroke was all that separated the top 11 teams in the first annual Arrowhead GC Mixed Alternate Shot Tournament held Sunday afternoon.

Headlocked for first in the nine-hole test, which played under the Callaway handicap system, were Red Baker and Kay Blanchard and Fritz Guenther and Nell Heberly, each posting net scores of 36.

Nine teams were tied for second place at 37, four others finished at 38 and three teams posted 39.

Low gross jurors went to Len Kerr and C. Winks with an actual score of 41. Mac Foster and J. Seelye were second at 48 and Carl Smith and Helen Koewers third at 50.

DO YOU KNOW ABOUT YOUR CAR'S STEERING GEAR?

Your steering wheel rotates. When you make a turn, your front wheels are "steered" slightly. The steering gear rotates rotating to sideways motion. It creates a powerful leverage to keep the driver in control at all times.

When the car is moving straight ahead, the front wheels are "steered" slightly. In a turn, the inside wheel must turn sharper than the outside wheel. This is because of the shorter radius of its turning circle.

It is very important to avoid damage to the steering mechanism. Avoid deep holes and obstructions in the roadway. Don't strike a curb sharply when parking. Such abnormal

The Lester Johnsons, now of Phoenix, Arizona and formerly residents of Ada, were here on an extended vacation seeing old friends and holding reunions with relatives. While here, they were the house-guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Tom and Phyllis Johnson, Fair Street.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Heemstra Sr. celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary and on Saturday evening their son and his wife, the Cornie Heemstra Jr.'s, and their daughter and her husband, the Ron Boersmas, entertained them at Gull Harbor Inn.

How surprising can a surprise party be? There was nothing mundane about the way Janet Belding was greeted on her sixteenth birthday. A few days before her actual birth date she was taken shopping and while in a department store in Eastbrook, her sister, Marion, pretended to have lost an earring. As Janet was studiously helping to look for the non-existent lost article, twelve of her friends popped out from their hiding places and shouted "Surprise" to the delight of the general public. Presents were opened right there and they then joyfully trotted off to Schenck's for dinner.

It's nice to be noticed by your peers. Among the many trophies awarded at the Hickory Hills Golf banquet the two Most Improved Players for the season were Arlene Boris and Sylvia King. New officers are Jane Breckenfield, president; Sharon Morse, vice-president; and Joan Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

The members of the Women's Association of Forest Hills Country Club hosted at an Invitational for the distaff members of the Ionia and Greenville Country Clubs. In turn, they became the guests of the Holland Country Club for a one-day Invitational.

John and Georgia Breckenfield combined an office hunting trip and vacation to Sault Ste. Marie during the past week. Coho fishermen returning from the same area and glowing with tales of their great catches include John and Harry Eagan, Al Eagan, Boonstra, Hap Stendon, and Pete Peterson.

Today is moving day for Dale and Joan Atkinson of Laraway Lake Dr. S.E. The Atkinsons have lived in the area for many years and will be missed by all. They are moving to East Grand Rapids on Woodcliff. Moving into the Atkinson's home this weekend are Fritz and Sara Stoketes. Fritz formerly lived in the Ada area and is happy to be back in familiar surroundings.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Driscoll of Englewood Ave. SE, have left for a California vacation where they will visit Los Angeles, San Francisco, Monterey and the art colony in Carmel. They will also visit Las Vegas.

City of Lowell Council Proceedings

Special session, Monday evening, September 2, 1968 in the council room of the city hall. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Arnold A. Wittenbach at 7:33 p. m. and the roll was called.

The Chairman of the Safety Committee stated there were two proposals he thought we should consider: 1. Setting up an ambulance service in the Police Department.

2. Consider the proposition submitted by the Ambulance Company and then submit a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors. Both proposals were referred to the Safety Committee.

Manager Olson explained that the City's proposal was based on the availability of funds from the Township. The cost of a new station wagon was not figured in the proposal.

One of the County representatives stated that Lowell has a high incidence of heart attacks, broken hips, etc. It was his opinion that such patients should originate in the townships and be billed to the respective townships.

Mr. Root stated that their ambulance drivers are not strictly volunteer in that they are paid $6.00 per run. The basic ambulance charge is $25.00. If a one-way run exceeds 20 miles, an additional charge of $2.00 per mile will be added.

Manager Olson asked if the Safety Committee would consider a compromise-type proposal whereby the City still continues to operate by rendering first-aid, if we were equipped with station wagons, although they are not the standards set up under the order of Mr. Root.

Mr. Root stated that their ambulance drivers are not strictly volunteer in that they are paid $6.00 per run. The basic ambulance charge is $25.00. If a one-way run exceeds 20 miles, an additional charge of $2.00 per mile will be added.

Ladies' Luncheon

by Betty Crocker

Keep the menu light, lovely and low in calories—but add a few flourishes to stimulate your taste. For the fruit plate below, frost the grapes, coat sherbet balls in coconut and freeze, garnish with the plate with lime roses. Maybe curl the butter for the Swiss Cheese Stars. For the coffee cup, try Mocha Espresso; to each cup of milk, stir in 1 tablespoon instant cocoa mix and 2 teaspoons instant espresso coffee; serve in demitasse cups and sprinkle with cinnamon. Use your prettiest china and linens, of course, with fresh flowers for a centerpiece. When it's time for dessert, serve your most famous one. And go ahead, share the recipe.

Sherbet Fruit Plate
Orange slices or sections
Sliced banana
Clusters of grapes
Melon balls
Strawberries
Orange and lime sherbet
Crisp lettuce

Lemon-Honey Dressing (below)
Have all ingredients chilled. Arrange fruit and sherbet on lettuce-lined serving plate or individual salad plates. If desired, substitute your favorite in-season fruit for any of the above. Pass Lemon-Honey Dressing.

Lemon-Honey Dressing: Mix 1/2 cup brown lemonade concentrate, thawed, 1/2 cup honey, 1/4 cup salad oil and 1 teaspoon celery seed in small bowl. Beat thoroughly with rotary beater. Makes 1 cup.

Swiss Cheese Stars
1 cup Bisquick
1/2 cup milk
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
Paprika

Heat oven to 450°. Mix Bisquick, milk and cheese with fork to a soft dough. Beat vigorously 20 strokes until stiff and slightly sticky. Roll dough around on cloth-covered board lightly dusted with flour to prevent sticking. Knead gently 8 to 10 times to smooth dough. Roll out 1/4 inch thick; cut into star shapes with cookie cutter. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake 8 to 10 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 15 stars. . . . And do remember, ladies like to linger—so eat a leisurely pace.

THE GOOD GUYS ARE TURNING UP THE fever NOW

1969 DODGE POLARA

Big, luxurious and totally new. With such standard items as foam-padded seats, carpeting, concealed windshield wipers and a 230-hp V8. All this at a surprisingly low price.

1969 DODGE CHARGER

Dodge Charger's the car with a 343% increase in sales. And you can't do much to improve on success. But look what we've done. Made Charger still sharper-looking, front and rear. With a new grille and new taillights. We also added a new model. A Charger Special Edition with splashes of genuine leather.

1969 DODGE DART

A brand-new edition of America's favorite compact. Dodge Dart for 1969. Built for the young and the young at heart. It doesn't look, ride, perform or squeeze you like a compact. Then why do we call it a compact? The price. Compact all the way.

1969 DODGE CORONET

Some people buy Coronet because it's a good-looking car. Others buy it because it's a nimble, easy-handling car. But Coronet appeals to more people because it's the car that's very big for its price. One look proves it. At the Dodge Boys'.
