Foursome Gets Tickets; Rush to Tigers' Side

No one... but no one... enjoyed the Detroit Tigers victory over St. Louis in the World Series more than did Hugh Linkfield, Herb Keyser and Chuck Bartlett.

No one... but no one... suffered more abuse for the demise of the Cardinals than did Frank Smith.

Quite by accident, all four area residents were on hand in Busch Stadium for the final games of the series last week.

"It was something else again," said Bartlett, recounting the happenings in St. Louis.

"We gagged up some Tiger hats and everywhere we went those people down in St. Louis couldn't believe their eyes. One guy offered me $100 for mine... and I told him I wouldn't part with it for $500."

The quartet drove to Missouri on quick notice after Bartlett had secured precious tickets from a Grand Rapids beer distributor... which just happens to handle foamy products made by Cardinals owner Gussie Busch.

"I think it took us about an hour to get ready and seven hours to drive down there," says Bartlett.

Smith, an ardent Cardinal fan, reminded his companions en route that Pitcher Bob Gibson had won two games for St. Louis and no doubt would make quick work of the Tigers again... if the series went that far.

"He didn't say much coming home," chuckles Bartlett, "a matter of fact, he was speechless."

It was an affliction shared by other Cardinal fans in this area.

OK Sewer Project for New Plant

Plans for a sewer to service the northwest end of the city, including the new Root-Lowell manufacturing facility, were formally approved by the City Council in a special meeting Saturday.

Council approved one of two plans submitted by the company by a 3-1 vote with Councilman Herb Reynolds objecting.

The city fathers also chose to go against the recommendation of City Manager Bernard C. Olson, who favored the less-expensive of the plans. Under the adopted plan, the city will share costs on a 50-50 basis for installation of 1,000 feet of sewer line at a cost of $13,285... or $4,643 as the city's share.

The alternate proposal called for installing 650 feet of line at a cost of $9,037.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach and council members Carlen Anderson and Mrs. Virginia Myers favored the plan accepted on the basis that it would facilitate long-range plans to open the area to industrial expansion.

Councilman Reynolds stood opposed on the basis that the city had agreed to share in installation of 730 feet of line at a cost originally estimated at $4,380.

Councilman Harold F. Jefferies was out of the city.

UFO Sighted in East Kent County:

Reporter Asks: What Was It?

(Last Friday night, the writer witnessed an unusual sight in the sky over eastern Kent County. Several other persons including Lowell policemen, also saw the Unidentified Flying Object.)

BY PATT BAMBRICE

There seemingly suspended in the sky was a... well, I don't know what it was.

At first, it appeared to be a star, but the light got brighter and then dimmer. And then, there was a red light, and then blue.

Well, maybe it was an airplane.

But it stayed in approximately the same place for well over 15 minutes, appearing to either dart from one position to another occasionally, or perhaps to make a circling pattern.

But surely that was my imagination. I've obviously been watching too much science fiction.

One of my favorite theories, upon which I have expounded on many occasions, is that it is completely ridiculous to suppose that we are the only intelligent form of life in existence... a completely safe theory since the likelihood of a "Mr. Spock" appearing on my doorstep seemed highly improbable.

Now my "comfortable" theory has become somewhat uncomfortable.

Was that thing in the sky something or someone from another world?

I don't know!

I fell asleep that night feeling terribly, terribly small. Here was I, only one in a world of how many billion humans.

The numbers seem infinite.

Prospects of payless paydays for Lowell Area School personnel during the month of November had lessened today even as school officials continue to wrestle with deficit financing problems.

The Board of Education authorized Superintendent James C. Pace Monday night to seek temporary funds to meet at least two of the three paydays scheduled in November.

Pace contacted state school authorities in Lansing to determine the best course of action and was advised that three avenues were open to the district.

1 - Secure a short-term loan from a bank;

2 - Borrow against anticipated tax revenues (local taxes are collectable starting December 1); or

3 - Wait until November 15, at the earliest, for an advance on state aid revenues.

Pace said that, in all likelihood, the district would appeal to the Municipal Finance Commission for approval to sell tax anticipation notes in the amount of about $150,000.

A total of $47,000 is required for each payday and only $42,000 remained in the school operating fund as of Monday, according to Pace.

Pace told board members that it might be possible to transfer some funds to accommodate payroll requirements for the initial November payday, but that the treasury would then be depleted.

A number of other fiscal items were discussed by the board, including adoption of a revised budget calling for expenditure of $1,319,296 during the 1968-69 school year.

This was approximately $14,000 higher than the budget which the board considered for adoption a month ago. The vote was 5-1 with William Jones opposed and Gould Rivette temporarily absent from the proceedings to attend another meeting in the city.

Pace said that most of the extra $14,000 would go toward salaries.

Board President Dr. Robert Reagan and Pace were queried by Jones as to the necessity of adopting the budget at this time.

"There are parts of this budget which will be subject to change after the November 25 millage election," he stated. "I firmly believe we should wait until before adopting any budget."

Pace noted that the budget was only devised to serve as "a guideline for the administration."

Dr. Reagan told the board and a dozen spectators that adoption of the budget was "only a formality," adding:

"If the people turn down the millage again, there are some things in the budget that will simply have to be eliminated."

The board also took up the matter of calling voter attention to the millage proposal, which seeks a seven-mill levy for two years for operating expenses.

Among other things, board members were unanimous in agreeing to meet with any group in the district to discuss budget problems encountered with an accrued deficit of $114,000 at the end of the 1968-69 school year.

In other action, the board: Agreed to form a committee that would meet with Belding officials to determine advisability of transferring property owned by Lewis Marcellus at 14373 4 Mile Road from Lowell to Belding;

Tabled, for at least this year, sending a representative to the National School Safety Congress in Chicago despite an offer by the Rotary Club to underwrite $25 of the expense;

Discussed the matter of charging groups for use of school facilities after 5 p. m. following receipt of a request from the Lowell YMCA, which agreed to pay $600 for rentals;

Referred to committee, bus insurance bids from Farm Bureau ($2,044.04) and Speerstra Agency ($3,037.03) and possible sale of two old buses from the district fleet.

Jail Term, Fines for Drinking

A Jenison man is completing a 10-day sentence in Kent County and seven other area men have lighter wallets today following a series of arrests and convictions on various drinking offenses in Lowell.

Vincent J. Hoover, 20, formerly of Ada, was sentenced to jail and fined a total of $115 when brought before Justice Howard Rittenger for the second time on a charge of minor in possession.

Donald Rozola, 21, of Grand Rapids, was fined a total of $60 for contributing to the delinquency of a minor after being arrested with Hoover.

Four Saranac residents were reprimanded by Justice Rittenger when brought before him for the second time within a week last Saturday. The judge warned them that another appearance would result in jail terms.

Fined $115 for contributing to the delinquency of a minor were Russell Randell, 21, and Mike Brower, also 21. Darnel Driggs, 20, was also fined $115 on a charge of minor in possession and Roger Phillips, 20, was fined $60 on a similar charge.

Bruce Frazer, 21, of 504 East Main, Lowell, was fined $115 for contributing to delinquency of a minor. He was arrested with Steve Robertson, 38, Street, Lowell, Robertson, 18, was fined $60 on a charge of minor in possession.

John Deblay and Joseph Klynenberg, both 18 from Grand Rapids, were arrested by Lowell police and charged by Kent County Sheriff's Department for their recent. They were caught with two tires and wheels, reportedly stolen from a truck parked at the Royce Ford agency on the outskirts of Lowell.

School Board to Meet With Parent's Club

Members of the Lowell Area School Board will attend the October 22nd meeting of the Bushnell School Parents Club to answer questions posed by members of the audience regarding the coming school millage vote.

The public is invited to attend the meeting which begins at 8 p. m. at the school.

Written questions will be submitted to the board and may either be left at the "welcome table" before the meeting or sent to Al Andrews, Route 1, Lowell, prior to the meeting.

The newly formed Parents Club, organized last April, adopted a constitution and elected their first slate of officers in September.

The new officers are: Al Andrews, president; Dick Bryan, vice president; Mrs. Dana Yeater, secretary and Mrs. Elsie Jenkins, treasurer.

Current projects of the Parents Club include the organization of a group of safety guards for busy street crossings on the west side of town and the formation of a committee of helpers for the lunch program at the school.

Arnih Stahl, who acts in a similar capacity at Root-Lowell Corporation. Geldersma represents the Lions Club, which will solicit homes on the west side of the city, while Roberts and fellow rotarians will seek funds on the east side.

Set October 25 Deadline for School Vote Registration

It may have escaped your attention, but the period from October 6-12... among others... was National Newspaper Week.

We point this out rather belatedly because (1) there was little enough room for live news in last week's edition; (2) there are other "weeks" that mean much more to the public than this one; and (3) it might have appeared that we were blowing our own horn... again!

We're just happy to be a part of the business of gathering, editing and publishing items that go into making a newspaper.

It is a business that, like few others, can be a joy and a headache... often within minutes.

What we really had in mind when this piece started was to pay particular salute to the employees whose skills and talents are mainly accountable for the weekly production of the paper.

Rather than to list them here, I would refer you to what we call the masthead on Page 2. Except for the joker listed at the top, we would ask that you thank them for their comfort or benefits you may have derived from this or preceding editions.

The best way you can thank the Smithy for his investment in time and money is to keep reading what's written... and by letting our advertisers know that you appreciate their endorsement of these columns.

Less than three weeks remain before the general election and you can bet that drum-beating and tub-thumping of the presidential campaigns will be stepped up to an unprecedented pace in the days remaining before November 5.

Each of the candidates will point to the public opinion polls and explain to you voters why they are certain of victory.

They will also point to their opponents and shout at the top of their lungs about their rivals' shortcomings.

What disturbs me most, as of this writing, is that both Richard Millhouse Nixon and Hubert Horatio Humphrey act for all the world as if this is a two-man race.

Just about now, if I were either candidate, I'd be aiming my seige guns at George Wallace.

Here is a man who is gathering speed like a runaway torpedo and who is, in the estimation of many experts, equally as dangerous.

I do not believe that Wallace can win the election. But I do believe that he can siphon off enough votes to disrupt the archaic electoral college process.

Should this happen, it would be up to the newly-elected House of Representatives to decide who the next President of these 50 United States will be... and, in effect, disenfranchise millions of voters who will turn out on November 5.

If you think this is the fair way to choose Our Man in Washington, then so be it. But I would caution that you give it much study before going to the polls.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
October 13, 1968 brought to a close, nineteen years of service, as pastor of Lowell Baptist Church.

To our many friends and neighbors in Lowell and vicinity we say, "Thank You" for the pleasant experience of living in your fair city.

We wish to thank the business men and women, for their services, in so many ways that not get the most desirable settlement to that affair when we were almost 20 years later they are killing U. S. soldiers on the border of North and South Korea and have captured the Pueblo and her crew of 83-man crew and still have them captive almost a year later.

Members of the two-party system were responsible for our being involved in the Korean conflict. We certainly did not get the most desirable settlement to that affair when we were almost 20 years later they are killing U. S. soldiers on the border of North and South Korea and have captured the Pueblo and her crew of 83-man crew and still have them captive almost a year later.

Apparently the Democrats and the Republicans learned no lessons from the Korean War and promptly engaged us in the Vietnam War. After several years of pouring billions in foreign aid to countries that are aiding and trading with the communist countries we have been at war with.

The City of Lowell, nestled here beside two rivers, seemed like home to us and we will long cherish pleasant memories of the many people we regret having to leave.

As pastor of Lowell Baptist Church for nineteen years, beginning in the old building on the corner of Main and Jackson and now in the new Church edifice on M-21 West, I can truthfully say that these have been busy years, but happy and profitable years.

The form of our message during this time may have changed some, but the content taken from the Greatest Book in the world, the Bible, is ever the same "that God so loved us, that He gave His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ, for us, that we through faith in Him, might be saved."

We learned 2 new songs and played games.
35 Ann Keim brought the treat.

Offers Further Vote Explanation
To the Editor:
The article appearing in your October 13 issue written by Mr. Al Heemstra purporting to dispel confused impressions concerning the new Kent County Board of Supervisors and its duties impressed me as adding to the confusion, rather than clearing it up.

Since I am a candidate for the office in District 3, I would like to see if I can help eliminate any misunderstanding which may exist.

1. The new County Board of Supervisors will be composed of 21 members. The old or present Board is composed of 17 members.

2. The new Board will be composed of members elected to specific terms for the purpose of serving on the County Board.

The present Board is made up of members elected to county or city offices, as pointed by virtue of their employment as public administrators.

3. Each Township will still elect a Township Supervisor who will continue to perform his Township duties which consist primarily of presiding over Township meetings and assessing Real and Personal Property.

The new County Supervisor will be responsible for County functions only, but will continue in close contact with the City Councils and Township Boards in his district to insure cooperation in local objectives.

4. Any Township Supervisor who is elected to the office of District Supervisor on the new Board will have to resign his position as Township Supervisor. This would result in the appointment of a new Township Supervisor by the Town Board to serve until a new election is held.

When Mr. Heemstra wrote, "County government responsibilities remain the same, including hospital, jail, library and poor house overhauls." One gets the impression he is trying to tell us something. We suspect there has been far too much "oversight" and not enough "oversighting." Let us hope the 21 man Board will be more efficient than the 17 man committee controlled present Board.

Increased Parcel Post Rates Due

Area postmasters reminded postal customers today that higher parcel post and catalog rates will go into effect this Saturday (October 19).

The rate increase will average 10.5 per cent and, in most cases, will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go up from 50 cents to 60 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post. Postmaster Doyle pointed out.

"There will be a 15-cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4 and a 20-cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are expected to bring revenues from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law. The higher rates are designed to pay parcels and catalogs, which are fourth class mail, on a break-even basis.

People who regularly swallow iron tonics and iron pills without medical supervision may actually be harming themselves. By diluting systems on "iron poor blood," they may be delaying the diagnosis of a condition—low iron more serious than iron deficiency.

Dr. Jack Pritchard, University of Texas physician, says that constant fatigue is no more common among people with iron deficiency than among those without it. Along with irritability and shortness of breath—the signs of iron deficiency—it may indicate an underlying problem that should be corrected.

For example, many cancers cause anemia. To treat the symptom without attacking the cause may mean that the growth will advance beyond the treatment stage.

"Women are somewhat more likely to need extra iron, but most of them never need an iron supplement," Dr. Pritchard said. "There's no reason why a woman should take iron pills better, or that it will improve her health."

Your doctor may suggest that there isn't enough iron in your diet (which is usually obtained from red meat and liver, rather than from spinach) and he'll recommend an iron supplement. He will know enough about your total physical condition to advise this temporary measure.

But taking pills endlessly on your own, as the result of a diagnosis, is abusing a potentially useful medication.

Sidewalk Problem Is Aired

Sidewalks... or rather the lack of them... in the area of the new Ada Elementary School was a principal topic of discussion at the semi-monthly meeting of the Township Board Monday night.

Supervisor Fred Clancy told board members that he had received a request from the Forest Hills Board of Education which cited hazardous conditions for student pedestrians using Ada Drive to get to their classrooms.

The board noted that no funds are available for sidewalk construction and Clancy pointed out, additionally, that only four parcels of land are involved.

Another stumbling block is that no sidewalks could be constructed beneath the railroad overpass due to space limitations.

Apparently it takes a presidential election to bring the voters out in full force... and Ada Township residents are no exception.

Township Clerk Kenneth Anderson reports that his office accepted 300 voter registrations between the August primary and the deadline October 4.

The late registrants brought the township's total to more than 1,900.

The township also is experimenting with a new home building boom, according to building Inspector Herman Stukkie, who issued 13 such permits during the month of September.

Stukkie also reported that 13 other permits for small construction jobs and miscellaneous items were granted during the month. Total valuation for the 26 permits was set at $38,455.

Township Supervisor Fred Clancy disclosed at the semi-monthly board meeting that the township will be required to conform to a provision of the 1965 State Dump Law which calls for bulldozing dirt to cover garbage and trash each night.

Clancy plans to discuss the matter with officials of the Kent County Health Department.

It was also announced that the new addition to the township hall will be ready for occupancy within 2 weeks.

Junior high school students and club members are scheduled to start their annual subscription sales drive next Friday, October 25, and will complete the fund-raising campaign on November 1.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward providing the school's athletic department with two new wrestling mats. In addition, there will be awards made to contestants turning in the most total subscriptions, plus daily prizes.

One-year subscriptions are available at $1.50 and 50 percent off the regular rate of $3.00. The subscription drive will be turned over to the Booster Club.

There are many new people in the district," comments Booster Club President Fay Johnson, "and we hope that residents who currently subscribe to the paper will pass along word of the subscription drive to the newcomers."

Clint Storm, member of the Thoraple River Association Board, guest speaker at a recent Cascade Businessmen's Association meeting, explained this contract will set a precedent.

Storm indicated that when the contract is final, it will not preclude working with Ada Township on an arrangement for the use of the water below the dam in the future.

He further explained that private ownership of the dam will cost more for the residents along the river, but that they will be maintaining the tax base, which has made their property valuable.

Allowing the river to go back to its natural state before the dam was installed would lower the tax base of the two townships in which these residents are citizens.

To emphasize his point, Storm showed pictures taken along the various portions of the river when it was down recently for inspection.

Suggests Use of 'Copters'

Possible use of military helicopter training units to provide ambulance service in Kent County had been introduced today by Jack E. Smith, U.S. Senator.

In identical letters to U. S. Senators Philip Hart and Robert Griffin, Smith pointed out that the need for ambulance service is most critical in the outlying areas of metropolitan areas, including Kent County.

"It occurred to me," the letter continues, "that there might be a way to solve this problem while benefiting our Armed Services in their training program.

"As you know, helicopters have proven to be of inestimable value in evacuating the wounded from jungle areas in Viet Nam. Naturally, the Medical Corps and the Army or Air Force rescue teams need training in both practice flights and first aid treatment.

"If it is feasible for these training teams to be located in various parts of the country, they could serve as an ambulance service in metropolitan areas, could be reimbursed on the same basis as the ambulances are presently charging, offsetting some of the costs of the training and serve the communities needing this help."

The Board of Supervisors State Committee has been attempting since the first of the year to initiate a plan that would establish some form of emergency ambulance service in eastern Kent County.

Walter W. Gunster, supervisor representing the City of Lowell, has worked actively to interest the city and township officials in a program that would place an ambulance in Lowell to be partially subsidized by the county.

The idea of using helicopters to provide ambulance service is new to Kent County, but not to the state. Washington County officials reportedly were working on a helicopter emergency program last spring.

Smith said he was contacting both senators because "effective and efficient government is best achieved through cooperative effort on a non-partisan basis."

He said he had not yet heard from either Hart or Griffin.

Extensive damage to the west wall of the Ada Drug Store at 496 Ada Drive occurred Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in a freak accident.

Frederick H. Millaupt, 30, 945 Griggs Street SE, Grand Rapids, driving an automobile in which his wife, Margaret, 28, was a passenger, was leaving the parking lot on the east side of the store when the accident took place.

The driver waited at the exit of the parking lot until six cars had passed on Ada Dr. Having already turned the steering wheel to the left, Millaupt drove out of the parking lot and discovered to his horror that the accelerator of his vehicle was stuck.

He continued to turn the wheel which caused the car to circle the front of the store and continue around to the rear of the west side where the 1967 Pontiac crashed into the cement block wall, dislodging several pieces and doing extensive damage to both wall and automobile.

The budget is the last to be drawn up under the present county government system. A new 21-man panel of supervisors will be elected in November and take office January 1.

Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Ada PTO to purchase equipment for the school.

Vandals Hit FH Buses After Game
Forest Hills school buses were struck again by vandals when the brake linings were destroyed on two of them following a football game played on the local gridiron Thursday night.

The damage was discovered before the buses left on their daily runs. Daily tests of the vehicle's brakes are routine.

Judge Candidates Chastise County

The office of District Judge in the second division which drew five candidates to the non-partisan primary ballot in August, is anything but desirable now that the 1968 Kent County budget has been published.

In widely-circulated reports last week, Edward Wells scored the county for not coming up with supplementary salary benefits for the newly-reorganized court system and its supporters in the upcoming November 5 election is equally concerned.

Joseph B. White, who lives in Ada, is a resident of East Grand Rapids, told the Ledger-Suburban Life that he has "serious misgivings" about contesting for the judicial office.

"When I first decided to seek the office," he declared, "I interested many people in my candidacy. I would have to let them down. However, the county does not seem willing to establish a court in keeping with its importance in the community."

White notes that the budget calls for an outlay of $57,000, which includes $18,000 for the judge's salary, another $13,000 for two clerk-stenographers and $4,000 for two part-time magistrates, plus money for rent and office equipment.

"The supervisors did not even consider me as a court reporter," he said. "The pay for a good court reporter starts at about $15,000 annually and the county already has lost a few of their best because of low pay."

White also noted that other counties around the state in metropolitan areas, which carry heavy district court case loads, have established supplementary salary benefits for their judges. He said there should be a fair supplement offered.

The budget, made public last Friday, includes a large contingency fund, part of which could be channeled to the new court system. However, it is unlikely that any new revenues for salaries would be secured from this fund.

The budget is the last to be drawn up under the present county government system. A new 21-man panel of supervisors will be elected in November and take office January 1.

Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Ada PTO to purchase equipment for the school.

Rangers Win, Take O-K Loop Lead-Arrows to Change Offense

FH Tops Godwin in Comeback

It's possible that the toughest part of the 1968 season may be in the past, but you'll never convince Coach Frank Rosengren that his Forest Hills High football club has at least a share of the O-K Red Division championship in sight... at least not yet.

"We've got three games to play," said Rosengren following Friday's 19-7 win over Godwin Heights, "and two of those are in our conference. I figure that everyone will be pointing for us now that we're in the lead."

The Rangers, boasting a 4-1 overall record and a 2-1 mark in the loop, meet Lee High on the latter's gridiron this Friday night at 7:30 in a non-league encounter.

Lee lined up for its confrontation with Forest Hills by storming over Byron Center in an O-K Blue Division game last week.

Also remaining ahead for the Rangers are Hudsonville at home a week hence and Rogers in a road game finale on November 1.

Rosengren admits that the hard-earned win over Godwin may have given his team a lift toward the title.

"It's nice to be out in front instead of being in second place," he declared.

The victory gave Forest Hills a half-game edge over Kentwood, which stepped into the conference to win a 28-14 loss on previously-unbeaten Northview. Kentwood has a 2-4 league mark, including a 14-11 decision over Forest Hills.

Halfback Stan Grochowalski scampered for two touchdowns on runs of 15 and seven yards and Quarterback Scott Wiegeler hit End Tom Teft with a 25-yard scoring pass against Godwin.

Fullback Randy Simon failed to get into the scoring column, but only because two short bursts into the end zone in the first half were called back due to minor penalties.

The teams battled through a scoreless first half, though Forest Hills' three touchdowns in the second quarter were carried to the Rangers 14 and was stopped when Grochowalski intercepted a pass by Quarterback Jose Hernandez.

A fumble by Simon on the Rangers' first play of the third quarter was recovered by Godwin Tackle Doug Carl and the Wolverines needed only two plays to reach paydirt from the Forest Hills 20, Gonzales firing a 13-yard payoff aerial to End Dana Snoop to go in front, 14.

With 5:34 remaining in the third quarter, Forest Hills drove 79 yards to the end zone to knot the score at 17 with Simon carrying five times to account for 61 yards. Grochowalski swept end on a reverse for the tying TD and End Bob Vandenberg kicked the extra point.

Simon intercepted another Hernandez pass on the final play of the third period and set the Rangers in motion for their clinching score.

A 15-yard romp up the middle by Simon and a Wiegeler-to-Teft pass good for 7 yards sparked the drive that culminated with Grochowalski again sweeping around end from the

Cardinals Sparkle in Trophy Win

The Cardinals came out the victor even after spotting the Taos players two goals. Final score showed the Cardinals ahead 6 to 4.

Dr. Larry Albehan scored three of the Cardinals goals. Lou Withey and Joe Hill each accounted for two of the Taos goals.

Next Sunday at 3 p. m., weather permitting, the Forest Hills Orioles will battle the Sparta Jaguars for possession of the Kentree Players Plate.

I would only hope that players and fans alike forget what has happened so far in '68 and look to the future... for certainly things have got to get better before they get worse.

Someone once asked me what I thought was the most important shot in golf. My answer was quite simple: The next one!

And so it is in any sport. In Lowell High's case the most important game is against Belmont on this homecoming Friday night.

Everyone had his own hero... most choosing Mickey Lelick for the rare feat of winning three Series games. I thought Jim Northrup's contributions were great. Ditto for Mickey Stanley and Norm Cash.

Yet, in the final analysis, the man I felt happiest to see was Al Kaline. After 16 long, frustrating years, Kaline finally saw the realization of a dream that started when he was signed off the sandlots of Baltimore and rose at once to major league stardom.

Of the millions of words written and spoken during the autumn classic, few will match... in our opinion... the column penned by our old friend Joe Falls of the Detroit Free Press.

You wouldn't know from outward appearances that Joe could be THAT soft-hearted. But his stirring column about the manner in which Kaline handled himself following victory in Game No. 5 was one of the finest bits of sports reporting we've ever seen.

Utborn generations will hear of the legendary 1968 Tigers and the exploits will grow in stature with each passing year.

But I, for one, will choose to recall that it took a team of athletes to bring together people who are split on every other issue.

There was no intent to sermonize when this treatise was

5th Loss Suffered by Lowell

Lowell High football fans may expect a "new look" for this Friday night's homecoming game against Belding as Coach Jerry Smith seeks to generate a consistent passing game for the winless Red Arrows.

Smith introduced the formation briefly in a 24-13 setback Saturday at the hands of Cedar Springs and, while the results were inconclusive, it was apparent that the Red and White aerial game is beginning to jell.

The Arrows utilized a shotgun offense midway in the second quarter, designed to move the ball well past the end zone. The play, however, did not work as planned and the Arrows were forced to punt.

"We'll probably try it again this week," explained Smith. "Our team is gaining confidence in its passing game and this is one way we can possibly get our offense moving."

Game time at Recreation Park is 7:30 p. m.

As in an earlier loss to Sparta, the Arrows managed to move the ball well past the end zone against Cedar Springs... but it was a case of too little, too late.

The Red Hawks struck for three touchdowns in the second quarter, exploding twice via the air and converting a Lowell fumble into another quick score.

In the second half the Arrows connected twice on long pass plays to reach Cedar Springs' end zone, but the winners managed to sandwich in an insurance marker on an 89-yard burst by Halfback Kris Reburn to thwart any Lowell hopes for victory.

Trailing by an 18-0 count, Lowell got on the scoreboard in the third quarter on a 48-yard pass-run play from McMahon to Ed Curt Fonger on five plays.

A key to the march was Fullback Ken Roth's 37-yard gallop from the Arrows' 24 on a third-and-11 situation.

Midway through the final stanza, Guard Ray Smith intercepted a pass by Cedar Springs Quarterback Mike Stoner on the Hawks' 48 and relinquishing the ball on downs.

On the third play, Reburn broke off tackle, eluded several defenders as the sideline and scampered 69 yards to the goal line to give the Hawks an insurmountable 24-6 lead.

A fumble recovery by Lowell's Dick Rosenberger with 1:38 remaining set up the final score of the game. After McMahon had net nine yards to Cedar Springs 37, he sent Ted Hoeth far to the left on a "lonesome end" play and connected brilliantly to the lanky flanker at the goal line. Halfback Pete Olson ran for the extra point.

Cedar Springs pushed across two of its three markers in the second quarter on a 31-yard pass from Quarterback

Mike Karasinski carried over center to make it 18-0. Lowell managed 123 yards in the air, getting 85 of them in the second half, but wound up with -13 yards rushing... the result of numerous losses by McKeabaca on pass attempts.

Cedar Springs gained 74 of its first 116 yards rushing in the first half and collected all but 17 of its 119 passing yards before the intermission.

The winners held a 7-5 edge in first downs, though they managed to move the markers only twice in the second half as Lowell's defense gave evidence of better timing to come.

Roth was the top gainer for Lowell, rushing nine times for 64 yards and won Coach Smith's nomination as offensive back of the week. Center Steve Johnson, who waged a head-to-head duel with all-comer tackle Larry Malinow, was the top offensive lineman.

Ray Smith and Dick Rosenberger won weekly honors for their defensive efforts.

The loss was the fifth of the conference for Lowell and its fourth in Tri-River Conference action.

Belding also has dropped all four league starts after an opening-game win over Central Montcalm.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYBERT

Week-ending this fall has been a joy for those who have cottages and cabins in the northern woods where the colors have been painted so lovingly by Mother Nature.

Near Cadillac the Ron Fosters have a lodge which they opened to friends, the Don Daltons, the Robert Weights, and the Harry Johnsons.

Almost as far as Frankfort is the cottage of the George Rathbones who invited Betty and Maury Wilson, Phyl and Bob Van Vreevot, and Ruth and Bogey Ha-per for Saturday night after the game at Ann Arbor.

Although golf would seem to be seasonal, there are a great many activities possible for members of clubs. Carlee Will, president of the Women's Association, has announced that November 6 will see the staff members of the Forest Hills Country Club gathering for their first luncheon meeting of the winter season.

Elaine and Irving Boeskool took a few days off for a "sentimental journey" when they went to Homecoming at the Naval Academy at Annapolis where he was graduated.

The Show Dragon is coming to school. Under that elaborate exterior will be members of the Council for the Performing Arts. They are out promoting the three performances that they are sponsoring this year. Their identifying theme from now on will be the exciting creature that children love. Somehow he isn't always a villain after all. The shows this year will be "The Puppet Prince" by the Civic Theatre performers, "Tom Glazer," Folk Singer, and "The Young Tom Edison," a musical play.

Ask Ken Klinstra how to make a million dollars in one evening. He started with four hundred thousand at a Monte Carlo party at the Frank Schueller's Saturday and ended as the richest man present. Gag prizes went to all heavy winners and even those who lost, really won. They enjoyed Mary Lou's rolled rib roast and beef tartare between the laughs. Other guests included Hank and Ev Stevens, Dale and June Stopples, Paul and Winnie Peterson, Berry and Abby Bement, John and Patsy Clark and Jerry and Rosemary Otzman from Lansing.

Local Girl Pledged by Honor Group

A student must maintain a 3.5 in business subjects and a 3.0 in education in order to be eligible for this honor.

Jo and her husband, Larry, will be graduating from Western Michigan University in April of 1969.
