Seniors take a "Magical Mystery Tour"

This year's Senior night party was titled, "The Magical Mystery Tour", and it proved to be just that. Nearly 150 Lowell High School seniors boarded buses at 5:30 Friday afternoon for parts unknown. The annual party is staged by the parents of L.H.S. seniors in an effort to congratulate them, as well as show them a good time in an environment free from drugs and alcohol.

The first stop for the group was Geribee's Party Place in Grandville. There the seniors were treated to dinner and dancing. From there, they again boarded buses for bowling at the Kentwood Bowling Center. At about 11:30 the seniors found themselves disembarking the buses at the Michigan Athletic Center on Burton St. Here the group swam, participated in numerous sports and tried their luck at a Las Vegas style casino.

This year's party was chaired by Dwight and Joanne Frey, Roger and Kathy Southland, Ron Pawloski and Vern and Gay Nauta. Dr. Robert Reagan chaired the acquisition of prizes, and told us that 180 merchants. manufacturers and individuals donated to this worthwhile cause. He asked that we please pass along the thanks of the committee to all those who supported this effort.

1932 CENTENNIAL COURT TO BE IN PARADE

One of the featured floats of the Sesquicentennial Parade at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, June 27 will be the 1932 Lowell Centennial queen and her court, this time riding in elegant horse-drawn carriages. The group was listed in a 1932 Ledger as Queen Emma Kropf, Audrey Carey, Bernice Lee, Ruby Eickhoff, Essie Condon, Louise Ryder, Myrtle Jay, Patricia Hefferan, Dorothy Bieri, Roxy Condon, and Helen Cahoon, and most of these ladies will be on hand for the parade. The Lowell Woman's Club still needs the names of the four young girls who accompanied Queen Emma Kropf on the float. Please let the Ledger know.

OLD FASHIONED FUN COMING JUNE 27

Men, are you growing those beards? Time grows short and Blough Builders is offering some fine prize trophies. See Ivan Blough. Ladies, have you gotten the old costumes out? Eastern Star is having a contest for period costumes. Are you entering a float in the parade? That will be at 11:00 A.M. on Saturday, June 27. An old-fashioned picnic will follow at Recreation Park, with cloths spread on grass. For those who don't want to prepare a picnic lunch, food booths will be available.

The Y will have zany and traditional games and contests at the park and in the pool. Horse-and-buggy rides will be available. A complete schedule will appear in next week's paper. Don't miss a fun day for everybody!

processional to "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the L.H.S. Band.

David VanderMeulen, President of the Class of 1987, will offer an introduction and welcome to the audience. Rev. Stephen Arrick will offer the invocation.

L.H.S. Counselor Gordon Gould will present various scholarships and Principal Richard Korb will announce the top ten and honor students.

The speakers for the day will be tri-valedictorians Christina Mellon, Rebecca Dine and Richard Stegehuis and salutatorian Amy Davis. Each will deliver a short address.

Superintendent of Schools Fritz Esch will present the Graduating Class of 1987 and award diplomas. Musical numbers by the L.H.S. Band will be played during the ceremony and the recessional. Rev. Arrick will also offer the benediction.

Korb says the event will take place at the amphitheatre unless the weather is very inclement. "We will make a decision between noon and 1:00 p.m. But, if it looks bad, and we decide to move inside, that's where it will have to be even if the weather clears. There's just too much equipment involved" Korb said. The commencement is open to the public if held at the amphitheatre, but only ticket holders will be allowed if it is moved to the High School Gymnasium.

With a dust rag perched incongruously at the end of her perfectly manicured fingerheiress-turned-maid Vanderkellen, Stephanie played by Julia Duffy on CBS's "Newhart" (airing Mondays), is something of a rarity on television. A meme-me attitude masking a heart of gold and a fortune to match, spoiled-brat Stephanie is a new breed: the girl who has her cake, eats it, flaunts it, then has to go clean the bathroom.

"Part of Stephanie is something everyone identifies with," says Duffy, who has just finished her fifth year on the show. "I think people identify with her immaturity, the part of her who never grew up."

Stephanie's charm lies partly in her total self-obsession, her almost complete disregard for other people's feelings - and her lack of apology for it. "She wouldn't be funny if she were totally likable: she must have flaws," argues Duffy. "Although now she's more threedimensional. In the beginning she was so innocent. I hope I've brought a kind of edge to her, a darker side."

Along with characters such as the oddball trio of Larry, Darryl and Darryl, Julia Duffy as Stephanie and (l. to r.) Tony Papenfuss, John Volstad and William Sanderson as Darryl, Darryl and Larry help make "Newhart" a real ensemble show. It airs Monday, June 1, on CBS.

Stephanie is one of the supporting characters that make 'Newhart" a true ensemble show, a show where even a minor character's idiosyncrasies are developed to the fullest. "Even though Stephanie's problems are so strange like the time she and Michael (Peter Scolari) were afraid there was another couple in town who were cuter than they were - we approach it like they're normal people. We looked at it like someone was after our jobs.

"I don't consciously try to act more broadly than normal. Michael and Stephanie are a real couple with real difficulties. I love playing her because it gives me a chance to play so many kinds of comedy

One of Stephanie's trademarks has become the "Ooh!" that she squeals when she's pleased (read: been given a large present). "That just escaped the first time," admits Duffy. "It was supposed to be "oh." Then when it worked, I incorporated it into the character.

Duffy is somewhat surprised by the favorable reaction to Stephanie, a reaction so favorable that a spinoff may be in the works. "I'm a ittle surprised that people think she's so adorable," she confesses. "She's not a very nice person. I get all these love letters from men addressed to Stephanie. I can't believe it. I mean, who would to want Stephanie?"
