Lowell teen named Kent Co. 4-H Fair Queen

Tammie Knottnerus of Lowell and Rick Fiet of Rockford were crowned 1987 Kent County Youth Fair Queen and King. The couple will preside over the many activities of the August 3-8 Fair in Lowell. Tammie and Rick continue a 53 year tradition of Kent County Fair Royalty.

Tammie is the daughter of Gary and Marlene Knottnerus, 11900 Vergennes, Lowell, and has been a 4-H'er for four years. She has participated in dog and horse projects, for which she has won many state awards. Tammie currently attends Lowell High School, where she is active in a variety of student groups and sports teams.

Rick Fiet is the son of John and Sue Fiet and lives at 6951 Ramsdell Dr. in Rockford. He has been active in the 4-H crafts, woodworking, and swine project areas for three years and has served as a Teen Leader for his club. Rick attends Rockford Senior High School, where he has been active in several sports teams and the marching band. His future plans include studying biology at Grand Rapids Junior College and continuing on to the school of Veterinary Medicine at Michigan State University.

First Runner-up was Jami Johnson, Freeport, and Second Runner-up was Terri Bond, Kent City. Additional members of the Royal Court include Janet Cornell and Mary Faber.

The reign of the Royal Court begins August 3 during the 7:00 p.m. Opening Ceremonies of the Fair and continues through the coming year. For information about the Kent County Youth Fair or 4-H, call (616) 774-3265.

Presiding over the 1987 Kent County Youth Fair as Queen and King, are Tammie Knottnerus of Lowell and Rick Fiet of Rockford. Their reign begins at the Opening Ceremonies on August 3 and continues throughout the coming year. Congratulations to both.

MANY RESIDENTS WITHOUT POWER TUESDAY A.M.

Much of the downtown area east of Hudson St. and some residential neighborhoods were without power Tuesday morning from a little after 6:00 until nearly 8:00. Herb Haines, Superintendent of Lowell Light & Power said a main line near the post office shorted out because of the heavy load. Haines explained that the extraordinarily high temperatures and humidity caused an increased load on the system because of all the air conditioners and fans in use. Keiser's Kitchen was likely the hardest hit by the outage as they lost two hours of their busy breakfast trade. Lowell Police Officer Calvin Kamphuis was busy throughout the power failure directing traffic at the corner of Main and Hudson Streets.

Haines says the city's electrical demand has been growing at the alarming rate of 2 million KWH per year. "We're up to 38 million now, and we've got to do something about it" Haines says. An engineering firm is due to begin a survey of the city's electrical system soon.

HELEN LOOK Y-DAY CAMP

The Helen Look, Y-Day Camp is entering its 5th week with all kinds of activities for youngsters. Every Friday the camp will visit a different place of interest, like the John Ball Zoo, the Kent County International Airport, the Impressions 5 Museum, and several other attractions. On the last Friday, the camp will go to Pleasure Island in Muskegon.

During the week there are activities at the camp which include games, songs, archery, B.B. guns, nature hikes and arts & crafts. All activities are supervised by experienced counselors and C.I.T.s. This year the camp is proud to have a young man from Spain as a leader.

The fee for this year's camp is $40.00 for Y members and $50.00 for non members. This fee includes; swimming at the Y pool Mon. - Thurs., the trips on Fridays and a Helen Look Y-Day Camp t-shirt. The fee is per week.

For more information about the camp please call the YMCA office at 897-8445. We hope to see your kids at camp!!

Council awards nearly $5 million

The Lowell City Council spent an awful lot of money Monday night. The council members awarded bids on the new sewage treatment plant, a new street, a tree maintenance program and a new insurance plan for a total of $4,824,307. Big numbers for a city the size of Lowell. A little arithmetic tells us that's about $1,200 each for the city's roughly 4,000 residents.

Before you get too alarmed, keep in mind that a large portion of this figure is for construction of the new sewage plant, and qualifies for 55% Federal funding. Also, a good portion of the street construction and repair project will be paid with Federal Revenue Sharing.

The first item on the Council's agenda was consideration of a switch to pool insurance coverage with the Michigan Municipal League. The city is currently insured with Auto Owners at a rate of $119,430 per year. The annual premium for the M.M.L. coverage was quoted at less than half that figure at $57,310. City Clerk Judy Noonan did considerable homework on the M.M.L. coverage, and found only favorable comments when she poled other cities in the pool.

The new insurance was quoted with a July 1, 1987 binder, so that the Council was able to pick the coverage up and get a rebate from Auto Owners back to that date. Noonan ran some quick calculations and told the Councilmen that tabling the decision until the new City Manager arrives in August would cost the city approximately $15,000 in premiums. Acting City Manager Barry Emmons told the Council that he had discussed the M.M.L. coverage with the newly hired City Manager, Dave Pasquale. Emmons said that Pasquale was familiar with the M.M.L. insurance, and does recommend it.

Noonan did point out that City Attorney Richard Wendt had recommended the city seek the services of a consultant before making a decision. But, with $15,000 savings at stake, Mayor James Maatman told the Council he would entertain a motion to accept the new policy. Councilman Jack Fonger made the motion, and after some deliberation, Councilman Bill Thompson seconded it. Councilman Charlie Doyle was against the move. He stated that the M.M.L. pool should be more thoroughly investigated by Pasquale and possibly a consultant. The motion passed by a three to one margin, as Councilman Collins was absent.

The next agenda items included Council acceptance of four bids concerning the new waste water treatment plant. The actual construction of the plant was awarded to Triangle Associates, Inc. at the low bid of

"Magic of Mime" is Friday

Lowell Area Arts Council Center will present Michael Lee of Ann Arbor in his program "Magic of Mime" at the Arts Council Center this Friday evening at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Lee, from Ann Arbor, has just completed studying with Marcel Marceau, the internationally famous mime, and will be offering an exciting program creating illusions of interest to all ages. Some tickets are still available at $4.00 each at the Arts Council Center, Great Lakes Federal Savings and Flat River Antiques Mall.

There will be refreshments and a reception following the program, to meet the artist, Michael Lee, and his musical accompanist, Valerie Amo.

Two workshops will also be given by Michael. One is scheduled for children on Friday morning at 9:00 o'clock, giving them a chance to learn about the challenging and fun world of mime. The cost is $5.00 per child.

The other workshop is for dancers from 14 through adult ages and will be offered at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, covering stage movement, body projection and improvisations, as well as specific mime techniques of creating illusions. The cost of this workshop is $10.00 per student.

Those wishing to attend either of the workshops may sign up by calling the Arts Council Center at 897-8545 afternoons.

DIVERTICULOSIS AND DIVERTICULITIS

Diverticulosis and diverticulitis are two many-lettered medical terms that are frequently talked about, but unfortunately, not very well understood by most patients. In this article and next week's article we'll talk about these medical entities and hopefully clarify for you what they are and how they're best treated.

DIVERTICULOSIS

The large intestine, or colon is the major tube-like organ that is responsible for eliminating solid waste from the body. People with diverticulosis have tiny pouches (called diverticula) sticking through the outside wall of their colon. Typically these pouches develop in the sigmoid region, which is the narrowest part of the colon. Researchers aren't completely convinced as to what causes these pouches to form, but most authorities believe that it is a product of several things: aging, colon wall weakening, and low-fiber diets.

Diverticulosis is rare in adults under the age of 35. However, one out of every ten Americans over 40 and one to two thirds of people over 60 have diverticula in their colon.

Most people with diverticulosis have no symptoms. If it does become symptomatic, they may develop such problems as bloating, cramping, nausea, vomiting and constipation (which may alternate with diarrhea). You may feel pain and tenderness in the left lower abdomen, over the sigmoid colon.

Since many of the symptoms may mimic other disorders of the intestinal tract, your doctor may wish you to undergo certain procedures to establish a diagnosis. He or she may want to obtain special bowel x-rays or possibly examine your colon with a flexible lighted instrument called a sigmoidoscope, to rule out any other causes for your symptoms.

Therapy for symptomatic diverticulosis is primarily dietary. We recommend a high-fiber diet: bran, fresh fruit, fresh vegetables, whole grain breads. We also recommend consuming plenty of water each day - at least 4 or 5 8 oz. glasses.

Other therapy includes bulk forming laxatives (Metamucil®) or stool softeners when necessary. Regular exercise is also of great benefit: besides keeping you generally fit, exercise may help keep the intestinal tract resilient.

Letter to the Editor

July 16, 1987

Dear Editor,
Being members of the Gus Macker Council, we have been deeply involved with the Macker Tournament for many years. Although we've kept quiet during all the hubbaloos these past few months, we could not let Kevin and Jane Smith's letter go unanswered. Enough is enough!

First of all, the Macker has never intentionally cost the City any money that it has been aware of. The Macker has always paid for City services (police, firemen, ambulance, first aid, etc.).

If the City did incur expenses, a bill for same should have been turned over to the Macker and they would have been cheerfully reimbursed. As for the Smith's supposedly spending $150 for replacement of sod after last year's tournament, the truth is that the Macker offered to pay for same but the Smiths told them that they had planned on replacing the sod anyway and declined reimbursement. The McNeals/Macker have always gone out of their way to insure that the tournament was not a monetary burden on anyone.

Secondly, of course the Macker sells souvenirs...but neither the McNeals nor the Macker itself keeps any profit. After all expenses have been paid and a working capital set aside for the next tournament, all remaining money is donated to other non-profit organizations. And there are expenses...trophies, City services, souvenirs, silk screening, basketballs, tape for the courts, some replacement or repair to backboards and nets each year, printing of programs, stamps, Gus Busters, TruGreen, Port-A-Johns, etc. We could go on and on. The fact is that the McNeals/Macker receive no financial benefit. We know for a fact that when the Macker was first getting started, Scott and Mitch McNeal spent their own personal money for many years just to make this thing go. The McNeals greedy? NO WAY!

The citizens of Lowell who are not intimately involved in the Macker do not realize the numerous obstacles that the City has put in the way of the Macker year after year after year. This year was not the first time...it was just the "straw that broke the camel's back". If you want details, talk to anyone that is a member of the Macker Council and hear "the rest of the story".

Belding welcomed us with open arms. The Macker received no special consideration or services from Belding but only that which they would offer to any organization which wanted to put on an event in their town (including City services at no charge). Additionally, the City Manager, City Council Members and Police Chief volunteered a tremendous amount of their own personal time all during the tournament to help make it a success. We've never seen Lowell's City Manager, Council or Police Chief (past or present) do this.

So the neighbors in Belding set up concession stands and/or held garage sales on their own private property. There's nothing that the Macker can do about that. If the players and spectators don't like it, they don't have to buy anything from them. However, just one of the many positive comments voiced time after time by the players and spectators at this year's tournament was the fact that there were so many places available to get food and you didn't have to stand in a long line for a change. A majority of the Macker neighbors in Lowell are super people and have been big supporters during the past 13 years. We have always appreciated them and still do. But if they had wanted to set up a concession stand on their own private property, they certainly could have done so.

If you were "used" Kevin and Jane, it was by your City Fathers...not the McNeals/Macker. The McNeals and Macker still love their hometown of Lowell and its citizens...they just got fed up with bucking City Hall. So if you're going to have another tournament in Lowell, you'd better call it "The 1st Unoriginal, 3 on 3, Slap Your City Council's Face, You've Finally Gone Too Far, Lowell's Loss is Belding's Gain Basketball Tournament".

Cordially,
Gary and Sharon Eickhoff

FDIC FMB STATE SAVINGS BANK LOWELL ROCKFORD

begins August 3rd

The celebration of Michigan's birthday is featured at the 53rd annual Kent County Youth Fair, August 3-8 at the Lowell Fairgrounds. Besides carnival rides, games and food, the fair showcases the youth of Kent County. Sewing, crafts, performing arts and many other exhibits as well as livestock and horse judging will take place.

Monday's Opening Ceremonies will be presided by State Senator Richard Posthumus and Kent County Commission Chairperson Margaret Byington. The Ceremonies will also feature The Williams Family Band. The Opening Ceremonies are in the Reath Showbarn at 7:00 p.m.

A 4-H Fashion Show and live entertainment are offered Tuesday in the Showbarn at 7:00 p.m. 4-H Members from all parts of Kent County will model and show-off their handiwork.

The livestock sale is expected to sell over $115,000.00 of swine, sheep and cattle raised by local youth. The sale will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the Reath Showbarn on Wednesday.

Dancers, Animal Acts, Comedy and Music will be only part of the program for the second annual Youth Talent Show at 7:00 p.m., August 6, at the Kent County Youth Fair. "A Salute to American Entertainment" is the theme for the show which will feature acts from vaudeville, radio and television.

Kent County 4-H members have been practicing long and hard on the show and hope to dazzle the audience, which is expected to number 700-800. Bob Trout, Kent County 4-H Youth Agent, says about the first show last year, "It was a great effort by the youth last summer and the surprisingly large audience caught us off-guard. We will be ready for them this time."

Kathy Burch, 4-H Summer Program Assistant, is working with each of the acts and feels, "It will be a great experience for the participants as well as for the audience. A great deal can be learned by kids working together on a performance and then putting their efforts in front of the audience. It can be a real self-confidence builder."

Both the Youth Talent Show and the Youth Fair have a free admission.

Thursday at 7:00 p.m. is also the time for the Lightweight Draft Horse Pull. These work horses have amazing power and are a joy to watch compete. $2.00 admission.

Professional Speed Horse Racers from five states will compete for $5,000.00 in prizes at the Kent County Youth Fair, August 7, 1987. Barrel Bending, Two-Horse Relay Races, Speed and Action Races and many more events are featured in the Grandstand Arena.

Speed Horse Racing requires athletic horses and riders, as well as excellent training, practice and coordination to compete. Events are staged in a confined arena which allows super spectator visibility. Speed Horse Races thrill animal lovers, sportsmen, and horse enthusiasts.

Larry Heyboer, race coordinator, states, "These highly conditioned horses are really fun to watch. The speed and agility of the horse is matched with the skill of the rider to provide top notch racing thrills. Some of our local 4-H'ers are competing and I wish them luck because they are racing against the best."

All exhibit buildings will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Pig Races will run hourly each evening in addition to the featured activities and carnival rides.

Entrance to the Fair is free. Admission to the Speed Horse Races is only $2.00. The Kent County Youth Fair runs August 3-8 at the Lowell Fairgrounds. Take M-21 to Lowell and turn south at the light.

...in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength... (Isaiah 30:15)

We cannot wait for a vacation once a year to do so. It is the enemy's business to make everything else seem of greater importance. Nothing deters us from keeping our dental appointments, our business hours, our social schedules, yet, we are prone to find excuses for omitting the thing that is most important of all—communion with the Lord.

Secretaries are hired to assist their employers in making and keeping appointments. Each individual is responsible for getting in touch with God. When it comes to prayer and meditation, we must "make our own appointments."

Prayer: Heavenly Father, close my mind to all the distractions of this world. Blot out all confusion. Quiet me before Thee. Let me hear Thy still small voice. In quietness and confidence I shall find the strength I need for this day and those to follow. Amen.

Now, Father, now, in Thy dear presence kneeling:
 Our spirits yearn to feel Thy kindling love:
 Now make us strong, we need Thy deep revealing
 Of trust and strength and calmness from above.
 SAMUEL JOHNSON

For a week or two each year we live quite primitively in our little summer cottage. Behind it stretches the wide expanse of a field of waving, golden grain. Rabbits and ground squirrels scamper across our yard. Here in the country we find relaxation and escape from the usual hubbub. We enjoy the quietness and the opportunity for rest and meditation.

Christians, we must find time for prayer and meditation often.

Howard wins State FFA Award

Matt Howard of the Lowell FFA was named the 1987 State winner in the Computers in Agriculture Contest which is jointly sponsored by Agri-Data Resources, Inc. and the National Association of FFA.

According to Mr. Pete Siler, Teacher of Agri-Science and FFA Advisor at Lowell High School, the purpose of this contest is to "encourage high school students to develop skills in the use and application of computers in production agriculture and agribusiness."

Matt's award was based on his computer utilization on his home farm for recordkeeping and management decisions. In addition, he developed a computer program for "Field Records and Fertilizer Management" with Dr. M.L. Vitosh of the Soil Science Department at Michigan State University which is currently being used by the Cooperative Extension Service throughout Michigan. Matt also has assisted teachers with computer literacy programs in his community elementary schools and provided computer programming instruction at Lowell High School.

As the Michigan winner, Matt will attend the National Computers in Agriculture Seminar in Washington D.C. August 8-12, 1987 where he will be competing with the other state award winners for recognition as one of the top five Computers in Agriculture Award winners.

Walkerville High School Band to make long trip to Free Fair Parade

The Walkerville High School Wildcat Marching Band will travel more than 100 miles to make its debut in the Ionia Free Fair's Grand Opening Parade.

The theme of this year's parade, which gets underway at 10:00 a.m., Aug. 1, is "Michigan 1837-1987 With Pride."

Walkerville is an Oceana County community of 250 located northeast of Hart.

The band, directed by Mark E. Balcom, was established in 1978 and includes students in grades 6 through 12. The red and white uniforms were made by parents and friends.

Other bands already entered in the parade are the Ionia Free School Band, Ionia Junior Band, and the Swartz Creek High School Band.

According to Dave Hess, the fair's Public Relations Director, approximately 120 units are expected to be in the parade.

Parade applications are available at the Free Fair Office, located underneath the grandstand at the Free Fair Grounds.

COMING ATTRACTIONS
'Houston Knights' star: Make me a lady

By Evan Levine

In the 1984 TV movie "Her Life as a Man," Robyn Douglass got to wear pinstripes and wingtips and pretend she was a man; a kind of "Tootsie" in reverse. Now, as Joanne Beaumont, commanding officer to two police officers with conflicting styles in CBS's "Houston Knights," she just wishes they'd let her be a woman. The series, starring Michael Beck and Michael Pare, returns to TV Tuesday, July 28, and has been renewed for the fall.

Robyn Douglass

CONTAINS LISTINGS FOR FRIDAY, JULY 24 THRU THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1987

Michael Beck (l.), Robyn Douglass and Michael Pare play police officers in CBS's "Houston Knights." It airs Tuesday, July 28.

"My part in 'Her Life as a Man' was probably my most interesting role to date," she says. "I never believed I could portray an aggressive woman, let alone a man." But Douglass goes on to say that this time around, she wants to put that all behind her.

"I'm the only woman on the set," she explains. "I wish that we could see the more feminine side of Joanne. They could get a man if it's going to be a man's role."

What would she like to see? "Look, I never wanted her to be a twinkie," Douglass asserts. "I just try to put in interesting feminine touches. One time Joanne was sitting at her desk reading a book. I tried to have her read something by Helen Caldecott (the doctor and anti-nuclear activist), but the producers substituted something else." In this era of "Cagney & Lacey"-type female cops who dodge bullets with the best of them, Douglass does hope that her character will move out of the office and into the action a little more next season. "I understand that the relationship between the boys (Beck and Pare) had to be on solid ground before they started developing my character," says Douglass, who trained with the prestigious Second City troupe in Chicago. "Now that the premise of the show is clear, I hope I'll be able to move away from my desk."

Douglass, who got her big break in the 1979 film "Breaking Away," said she knew "Houston Knights" had a chance because "the pilot was real good. I knew when I saw that 'Odd Couple' sense of humor that this was more than just a cowboy show or a detective show. I felt sure it was going to succeed. "I love playing comedy and light roles," continues Douglass. "Ever since 'Her Life as a Man,' I've been a lot more secure about what I can do. That role showed me how insecure I'd been. Now, I walk into an audition and I think, 'What's the worst thing that can happen? So I'll be bad.' Even though the only thing holding me together sometimes is static cling, I let myself go, because I'll be OK."

Business offers "Easy Way Out"

The American way of life treats us fairly well. We enjoy a very comfortable, and often, lazy lifestyle. We go through a lot of trouble and expenses searching for easier and more efficient means of achieving our end goals; in other words, we all like to take the easy way out once in awhile. Sometimes it's achievable and sometimes it's not. But did you ever think that we would be able to tone our bodies, lose inches and weight without actually exercising?

When Cher Mastenbrook first saw these exercising tables in Chicago at a tanning convention in October 1986, she became very excited and added these tables to her tanning salon in Lowell, now known as The Sun Tanner 'n Trim Center at 2186 W. Main Street. There are seven different machines that exercise most of the major areas which Cher Mastenbrook, owner/operator of The Sun Tanner, along with Jodi Blair, demonstrate an exercise machine at The Sun Tanner 'n Trim Center.

The more resistance a person can exert, the faster the toning process occurs. Everyone loses inches! Nearly everyone loses at least 10 inches in 13 weeks without weight loss. More inch loss occurs when, in conjunction with the exercising tables, people try to diet and lose at least one pound per week. Many people using the tables are not there just for weight loss. They just want to tone and firm. The tables give you increased circulation, a wider range of motion, and mobility of joints. Each workout session is very stimulating, invigorating, and make you feel much better and more energetic. Muscles do not increase in "bulk" size. Instead, they acquire a sleek look and overall strength is increased. Remarkably, you do not get sore, sweaty, or tired.

Tests show that two 60-minute sessions per week are equivalent to 14 hours of floor exercise. This is important, because with today's hectic pace and lifestyle, many of us don't have the time, desire, or the discipline to continue an ongoing fitness program. People of all ages respond to the exercising tables. It is healthful and beneficial even for those with arthritis and certain back problems. That's why the tables have become so popular. It's a simple, easy way out-that works! The old saying "No Pain, No Gain" no longer holds true.

A record 141 million Americans now participate in wildlife-related recreation activities, according to a recent study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. In 1985 more than half of all adult Americans engaged in such activities as feeding, observing or photographing wildlife. More than one in four fished, and about one in 10 hunted. Altogether they spent more than $55 billion on equipment and transportation to pursue these pastimes, NATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine reports.

Who says males and females can't be "just friends"? Platonic friendships are quite common among African baboons. According to NATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine, the male friends protect the females and their young from attacks by other members of the troop and often groom and cuddle the infants. A male's reward is an increased chance of eventually mating with the female, although he may have to wait for up to two years.

Delicious food was prepared and served to residents and guests at the Cumberland Manor from a gaily decorated truck wagon.

Sorry, no column this week. Don't blame me, I came in at my usual early Tuesday morning hour to whip something out, and a power outage squelched all my good intentions. The power went out at 6:05 and didn't come back on until just before 8:00. Now it's time to get on with the business of getting this rag off to the printers today. Barring another power outage, flood or earthquake, I should have something in this space next week.

Animal Shelter reminds dog owners of leash law.

Summertime is a great time for outdoor activities. But, for the Kent County Animal Shelter, it's also a time of increasing complaints about leash law violations.

Ned Ash, Kent County's Director of Animal Control, says, "This time of year we get a lot of complaints about people allowing their dogs to defecate in the parks. The county's animal control ordinance requires dog owners to clean up after their dogs. The dog owner can be fined $25.00 for violating this requirement."

Pet owners are also reminded that when they take a dog off their own property, the dog must be on a leash. The ordinance also states that the leash must be no more than six feet long.

Ulysses S. Grant's horse was named Cincinnati.

The annual per capita consumption of soap and detergent in the United States is about forty pounds.

Michigan serves a sizzling summer Sesquicentennial

Catch the wave of excitement as Michigan serves up a sizzling Sesquicentennial summer!

Highlights are the Michigan Water Festival and Parade of Sail, the Tour de Michigan and the Michigan Festival: A Celebration of Folk Life.

"Naturally we will look our best for the summer of 1987 since it will be one that Michiganders will remember forever as we celebrate our heritage and salute our future," said William A. Zehnder, chairperson of the Michigan Sesquicentennial Commission.

Nearly 150 local coordinating agencies have planned Sesquicentennial events ranging from the World's Largest Birthday in Warren to Big Fish Contests to Small Road Races. More than 800 events are being held this summer.

Not only is Michigan celebrating its birthday at home, but more than one million tourists visited Michigan on the Mall during the Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife in Washington, D.C.

Some 90 Michigan folklife artists representing the state's diverse ethnic population participated at the event and a homecoming of those artists will help recreate a similar event at the Michigan Festival at Michigan State University in East Lansing, August 21-30.

The Michigan Festival not only will host the folklife artists but also will showcase more than 500 Michigan performers from various cultural backgrounds on 10 outdoor stages covering 60 acres on the MSU campus.

Already on tap for the 10 day festival are the Temptations, Magician Harry Blackstone, Sawyer Brown, the JC Heard Jazz Orchestra, Peter, Paul and Mary, and hundreds of other top flight dancers and blues, jazz, and classical musicians.

"In its first year the Michigan Festival joins only a handful of comparable super festivals in the U.S.," Zehnder said.

What do the Red Witch, the Glass Slipper, the Windwalker and Gypsy Wind all have in common? They are among 130 Great Lakes Sailing vessels that will join Michigan's own tall ship, the Welcome, and other tall ships in a Parade of Sail, July 25, in Grand Traverse Bay in Traverse City.

"The Michigan Water Festival is a tremendous opportunity to showcase Michigan's water resources at home and abroad," Governor James J. Blanchard said.

"We have the longest fresh water coast in the nation and we are surrounded by 70 percent of North America's fresh water. Our state also has more than 11,000 inland lakes."

Each of the vessels are a sight to behold and many of them have their own claims to fame, including the Euintea and the Serenade.

The Euintea, a 1939 42ft. Swedish racing sloop is lucky to be around today, according to its owner Rod Groleau. "It was hidden in a Norwegian coal mine during World War II to avoid becoming a spoil of war (war prize)," said Groleau.

Ava Gabor and Jacques Cousteau have both claimed ownership of the 62ft. sloop, the Serenade, built by famous violinist Jascha Heifetz in 1938.

"Heifetz was said to have raced against Humphrey Bogart in California with the Serenade," said Peggy Topping, current owner. Peggy and her husband, David Topping, dock the Serenade in St. Joseph, Michigan where it is available for charter.

Two tall ships, the "Ernestina" (155' schooner) from new Bedford, Massachusetts and the "New Way" (130' schooner) from Pennsylvania will be featured in the more than three mile long parade.

The Water Festival is sponsored by Amway Corporation and encompasses a number of water-related activities including three International Festivals at Sault Ste. Marie, Port Huron and Detroit (August 14, 15, 16).

Many of Michigan's highways and byways will be a flash of color as the Blue Care Tour de Michigan professional bicycle race cuts through Michigan cities August 21-30. Cities on the tour include Traverse City, Grand Haven, Lansing, Frankenthum, Battle Creek, Troy, and two races in Detroit.

The arts in Michigan also are being showcased as the Michigan Artrain, the nation's only art museum on a train, tours Michigan cities during the summer. In honor of Michigan artists, the train features the unparalleled art collection of the Canbrook Academy of Art.

In another Sesquicentennial first, Marquette, in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, will be the site of the Great Lakes State Games. The games, being held at the Great Lakes Sports Training Center at Northern Michigan University, begin Friday, July 31 and run through August 2.

Consisting of a multi-sport athletic competition, the games are for both serious athletes and weekend warriors competing in sports ranging from archery to yachting.

Michigan's vast water resources will be explored with "Celebrate: Great Lakes" being held July 30 to August 1 at the Grand Haven Coast Guard Festival. At the Coast Guard Festival the Michigan Council for the Humanities is featuring musicians, dancers, storytellers, and skin divers, in Chautauqua style event as they showcase the historical, cultural and scientific influence of the Great Lakes.

"The best thing about the Sesquicentennial will be that it will leave not only memories, but a lasting legacy of new museums," said Secretary of State Richard Austin, the state's Chief Historian.

Under his leadership the new state museum, library and archives is being built in Lansing at the state capitol. "The $44 million structure which will house the state's rich historical heritage will be a major tourist attraction in downtown Lansing," Austin said.

Also as part of the Sesquicentennial celebration, the Iron Ore Museum in the Upper Peninsula, the Michigan Civilian Conservation Corps Museum at Higgins Lake, the African American Museum in Detroit and the Women's Hall of Fame in Lansing have all opened recently and pay special tribute to different aspects of Michigan's history.

"There is something for everyone," said Merri Jo Bales, executive director of the Sesquicentennial Commission. "This is a special celebration that will be remembered for years to come."

Consumers Power offers check list

With hundreds of Michigan families planning extended vacations in upcoming weeks, now is a good time to consider energy conservation and burglary protection while you're away, according to Consumers Power Company's Robert A. DeNooyer, market services director for the utility's Central Region.

"Going on vacation is fun. Coming home to a safe, secure home and conserving energy while on vacation helps complete the trip," said DeNooyer. Consumers Power suggests upcoming vacationers review the following list prior to their excursions:

Let your neighbors know you'll be out of town and ask them to occasionally check out your property.

Stop your mail and newspaper delivery, or have someone pick these up.

Hook up outdoor lights and lights in your home to a timer. Extended lighting in the evening will give the appearance of usual activity.

Have your lawn mowed. To conserve energy during your vacation, consider the following checklist:

Turn the temperature on your gas water heater to pilot.

Take your electric hot water heater off the circuit breaker or fuse.

Set the temperature on your central air-conditioner to 85 degrees.

Unplug any sensitive equipment such as your television set or stereo to eliminate the possibility of damage due to lightning strikes. Consumers Power Company, the principal subsidiary of CMS Energy Corporation, is Michigan's largest utility serving almost six million of the state's nine million residents in 67 of the 68 Lower Peninsula counties.

Traffic slowdown advisory

Traffic on eight miles of Interstate 96 Freeway, from M-21 (Fulton Street) to Whitneyville Road near the city of Grand Rapids, will be slowed for resurfacing and roadway upgrading beginning Tuesday, July 21, the Michigan Department of Transportation announced.

Traffic on eastbound I-96 from M-21 to M-11 (28th Street) and westbound I-96 from M-11 to Whitneyville Road will be reduced to one lane.

Later, traffic on eastbound I-96 from Whitneyville Road to M-11 and westbound I-96 from M-11 to M-21 will be reduced to one lane.

The project is scheduled for completion by mid-November. Motorists are advised to adhere to the 45 miles-per-hour speed limit in construction zones.

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS of the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

Regular Meeting of Monday, July 6, 1987

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by Mayor Pro Tem Fonger.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the clerk called the Roll. Present: Councilmembers Thompson, Collins and Fonger. Absent: Maatman and Doyle.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to excuse the absence of Maatman. YEA: All. NAY: None. MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to excuse the absence of Doyle. YEA: All. NAY: None. MOTION CARRIED.

At this time a statement by Mayor Maatman, to be included in the minutes, regarding the June 15th meeting was read by the clerk. IT WAS MOVED by Collins that the minutes of the June 15 and 20, 1987 meetings be approved with corrections and additions supported by Thompson. YEA: All. NAY: None. MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson that the Bills and Accounts Payable be allowed and warrants issued, supported by Collins. YEA: Councilman Thompson, Collins and Fonger. NAY: NONE. ABSENT: Doyle and Maatman. MOTION CARRIED.

Table with 2 columns: Fund Name and Amount. Includes items like General Fund, Major Street Fund, Local Street Fund, Sewer Fund, Water Fund, Equipment Fund, Fed. Revenue Sharing Fund, Community Development Fund, Building & Site Fund, Current Tax Fund, and Look Fund.

The first item to be considered was bids received for the City's Tree Project, which includes trimming and removing, following the survey done by E.H. Gross. The bids received were: Grand Rapids Tree, Inc., 310 Marion Ave., Grand Rapids, MI 49504 - $12,845.50 and Poortenga Tree Service, 2115 Boston, S.E., Grand Rapids, MI 49506 - $12,680.00.

Mr. Gross feels the prices are reasonable and has recommended the city award the project to the high bidder, Grand Rapids Tree. To recoup some of the cost, Mr. Gross has suggested the city sell wood gained from the trimming and removal. He also feels the trees slated for removal are in a rotted condition and could prove to be a hazard. The council then discussed the tree pots along Main Street and Monroe and the deteriorating condition of some of the trees.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to table the award until the next meeting, July 20, 1987, for determination by a full council.

In a discussion regarding the pending sidewalk project, it was noted the past policy being the property owner is 100% responsible for maintenance. Richard Wendt, city attorney, noted there is presently no ordinance to cover liability and suggested action be taken to avoid litigation. Monies for the project are available from the Revenue Sharing Fund. It was the consensus of the council to table the matter until the next city manager, David Pasquale, is able to review it fully.

Acting Manager Emmons presented the matter of a building permit fee for the Wastewater Treatment Plant Expansion, the Sanitary Sewer Rehabilitation Project and the hydrant hook-up fee to the council. It was explained that during the rehabilitation of the sewer system, the contractors will need to connect to the hydrants for water to clean the unit.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Thompson to waive the building permit fee for the project. YEA: All. NAY: None. ABSENT: Maatman and Doyle. MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Thompson to waive the hydrant hook-up fee for the rehabilitation project. YEA: All. NAY: None. ABSENT: Maatman and Doyle. MOTION CARRIED.

The next item on the agenda was the consideration of a resolution approving the transfer of a Class C & SDM License at 211 W. Main, Gardner Village Inn, by Marion J. Setchfield and Winthrop C. Setchfield. Mr. and Mrs. Setchfield are the land contract holders.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to support the resolution. YEA: All. NAY: None. ABSENT: Maatman and Doyle. MOTION CARRIED.

UNDER CITIZEN SUGGESTIONS: None. COUNCIL COMMENTS: Collins reported the Parks Committee had presented the preliminary engineering costs for the Community Center to the Look Committee, who determined they would not be able to contribute the entire amount. The Parks Committee is looking for interested groups to help offset the expense. Thompson: Requested the ownership and liability responsibility of the Boy Scout Cabin be researched. Fonger: Noted the hedge on the east side of the cemetery had been trimmed and looks very bad.

MANAGER'S REPORT: Barry Emmons read a letter from Jon Mersman, city manager applicant, to compliment the city and council on the way the city manager search was conducted. Manager Emmons reported that new council chairs had been ordered, building permits had been issued for the car wash and the Center St. apartments foundation, the traffic study of Valley Vista area from the state had been received but no opinion given and that the insurance package from the Municipal League pool would be presented again at the next meeting. He also reported the bid openings for the street project would be July 9, 1987 and the bid openings for the Wastewater Treatment Plant Expansion and Sanitary Sewer Rehabilitation would be July 15, 1987. He reminded the council of the Municipal League Conference is being held in September in Detroit.

Richard Wendt, city attorney, then requested the council adjourn to executive session pursuant to Section 8H of the Open Meetings Act to discuss a written opinion of the council.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to adjourn to executive session at 8:55 p.m. YEA: Fonger, Thompson and Collins. NAY: None. ABSENT: Maatman and Doyle. MOTION CARRIED. Approved: James D. Maatman, Mayor July 20, 1987 Ruth A. Harte, Acting City Clerk

Local store represented at seminar

National marketing planning was the subject, as executives from Red Wing Shoe Company, the nation's largest manufacturer of shoes for work, located in Red Wing, Minnesota, met with it's local retailers May 31-June 2, 1987, at the historic St. James Hotel, located in downtown Red Wing.

Fabled Clydesdales to be premier Free Fair attraction

The world famous Budweiser Clydesdales will be a premier attraction at the Ionia Free Fair, which runs July 31-Aug. 9.

The fabled eight-horse hitch will appear in the fair's Grand Opening Parade at 10:00 a.m. on August 1 and will be quartered on the Free Fair Grounds for public viewing through August 6.

Regally groomed and outfitted in elaborated leather and brass harness, the Clydesdales delight crowds as they effortlessly pull a four-ton antique beer wagon through a series of maneuvers.

With their proud Scottish heritage, stately bearing, and confident gate, these "Gentle Giants", as they are often referred to, are surprisingly approachable. Perhaps these are some of the qualities that made knights in the Middle Ages select this sturdy, enduring breed of horse from the highlands of Scotland for their mounts.

In the years following the Middle Ages, the horses were improved through cross-breeding with Flemish Stallions and introduced into North America as work animals. In fact, in the early days of American brewing, it was said that a brewers success was determined by how far its draft horses could pull their load in a day.

On April 7, 1933, following 14 years of Prohibition, August A. Busch, Sr. was surprised with the presentation from his son of a Clydesdale hitch pulling red beer wagon.

Realizing the advertising and promotional potential of a horse-drawn beer wagon, Mr. Busch had the team sent by rail to New York City where it picked up two cases of beer at New Jersey's Newark Airport. They were presented to Al Smith, the former governor of New York, who was instrumental in the repeal of Prohibition.

The Clydesdales paraded on through the New England and Mid-Atlantic states. The hitch even delivered a case of beer during its initial tour at the White House to President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

During the early years on the road, the horses were transported by train. Before truck transport was introduced in 1940, the horses, wagons, harness and other equipment had to be unloaded from the train, put on local trucks, and then unloaded again wherever the horses were stabled.

Today, three 40-foot over-the-road tractor trailers carry the horses and the equipment to each appearance. When fully loaded, the three tractors weigh 24 tons. They are equipped with air cushion suspension and thick rubber flooring to ease the rigors of standing. Cameras in the trailer and monitors in the cabs enable the drivers to keep a watchful eye on their precious cargo. The team stops each night at local stabling facilities for rest.

Seven grooms travel on the road with each hitch. One groom has night duty so that someone is with the horses 24 hours a day, these grooms are on the road nearly 20 months out of the year.

The Dalmations, who have traveled with the hitch since the 1950's, were originally bred and trained to protect the horses and guard the wagon while the drivers delivered beer. Today, the Dalmations are seen perched a top the wagon next to the drivers.

In addition to participating in countless parades and charity functions, the Clydesdales have appeared at major league baseball playoff and World Series games, the Tournament of Roses and Orange Bowl Parades, the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, World's Fair Exposition in Japan, and the 1984 Summer Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

Each year, the Clydesdales travel nearly 90,000 miles. With each mile they cover, so continues a 54-year tradition.

Hosts needed immediately for Spanish Boys

Michigan families are needed immediately to host 60 French and Spanish boys who want to spend the month of July experiencing American style living. Evelyn and Julian Prince of West Bloomfield are the state coordinators for Nacel Cultural Exchanges which this year is bringing more than 6,300 French and Spanish students to live with American families, including more than 250 in Michigan.

Families need not speak French or Spanish to host, since the students have had from four to eight years of English language study. The students bring pocket money, and their parents pay for their transportation and insurances. Families without teenagers are asked to introduce their guest to other teenagers among their friends, relatives, and neighbors.

"Many of the families who have enthusiastically applied to host have come through the schools, and most have requested girls," Mrs. Prince said. "In America, generally girls are more interested in foreign languages and cultures. However, in France and Spain, boys are quite eager to learn our language, since English is necessary for a successful business career. These are wonderful boys with varied interests who dream of coming to America to experience our culture, language, and lifestyle, and to make friends," she said.

The 190 French students will visit Michigan July 1-29, and the 60 Spanish students July 3-29. French and Spanish chaperones who are teachers of English accompany the teenagers. Chartered buses will transport the French guests who will be arriving in Chicago and the Spanish guests who will be arriving in Dayton to pick up points throughout the state - a plus for families who host this year.

The program organizers match host families with students according to general interests and specific activities they would like to share with their guests, such as sports, water activities, computers, and music. Some American families take their guests on trips; others stay home.

Former host families throughout Michigan are usually eager to describe their experiences. Mrs. Kay Coral from Canton whose family hosted 17 year old Stephane Vasseur from Calais, France says, "Hosting Stephane is the best thing that ever happened to us! We grew so close during the month that he became just like another son, and we have kept in close touch with his family. When our daughter Toni, arrives in France for her junior year abroad, Stephane's family will meet her at the airport. It's just like having our own relatives in France - a beautiful experience!" she reports.

"The Nacel programs are tried and true!" Dr. Prince said. "This is our eighth year in Michigan, and we have over 1000 past participants throughout the state. We carefully match host families and guests with great success," he declared. "Approximately 96% of our former host families rate their experiences as either excellent or good!"

Nacel is the largest Exchange Program that exists between Europe and the United States. Its successful programs originated in France thirty years ago and have recently expanded into Spain. Nacel is a participant in the President's International Youth Exchange Initiative.

Families interested in hosting one of these French or Spanish boys during the month of July should phone the Princes immediately at (313) 626-6641 or (313) 855-6601.

$4,365,000. Three contracts were awarded for the rehabilitation of the city's sanitary sewer system. Bid number one went to Nagel Construction, Inc. of Grand Rapids at $59,084.59. Bids two and three went to T.A. Forsberg of Okemos at $83,579 and $149,205, respectively. The construction of an as yet unnamed street from the west end of Sibley to Main St. and the resurfacing of Valley Vista Dr. from Sibley to Main was awarded to Cascade Cement Contracting, Inc. The firm's bid was the lowest of four bidders at $97,284.13. The city's engineering firm estimated the project would cost $120,000. Work should begin soon, and a 60 day completion schedule was quoted. The new connector street will serve as another access and egress to the Valley Vista subdivision and will also provide an east entrance to the Family Fare parking lot. State Highway officials say the new street should ease some of the traffic congestion at Valley Vista Dr. and Main St.

The Councilmen also approved a tree trimming and removal plan. The plan proposed by E.H. Gross and Associates calls for the removal of 34 large trees on city right-of-ways and the trimming of 38 more. The trees are a serious threat to public safety for a variety of reasons. The bid was awarded Grand Rapids Tree, Inc. at a cost of $12,845.50. The work will be completed in November.

In other council business, a request to vacate a portion of the Hill St. right-of-way was approved by unanimous vote. Dennis Kissinger made the request because his mortgage company felt Kissinger's Shepard Dr. property would lose value if Hill St. were ever constructed. The portion of right-of-way measured 310 feet by 33 feet.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Patricia Elzinga, 39, of Lowell, received injuries Wednesday afternoon, July 15, when the car she was driving was struck by a 16 year old juvenile driver at Lincoln Lake and Elizabeth.

Kevin Clouser of Lowell reported his car damaged by a hit and run driver while parked in the Family Fare parking lot on July 17.

Leslie Albright of White Cloud reported to police that the car she had parked on N. West Street Saturday evening, July 18, was struck by a hit and run driver.

Pamela LaBine, 36, of Lowell, failed to yield at the flashing red light at Main and Hudson St. Friday evening, July 17, and struck a car driven by 17 year old Dawn King of Lowell. No injuries were reported.

Light & Power officials attend MPPA meeting

Lowell City Council members Charles Doyle and Jack Fonger, Acting City Manager Barry Emmons, Board of Light & Power member Ivan Blough and Superintendent Herb Haines attended the annual meeting of the Michigan Public Power Agency in Grand Rapids recently. Approximately 100 other officials and industry representatives attended the conference.

MPPA is an organization of 18 Michigan cities who own and operate electrical generating and/or transmission systems. Lowell is a member and through the Agency, has purchased an ownership interest in the Detroit Edison Belle River plant near St. Clair and the Consumers Power Campbell No. 3 plant near Holland.

William E. Long, Chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission was the keynote speaker. Others included Kenneth C. O'Brien of R.W. Beck & Associates, consulting engineers, and Lee Ebert, President of the Great Lakes Electrical Cooperative Association. The MPPA staff also reported on the past year's results and made recommendations for the future.

Long commended municipal personnel for maintaining good service and reliable systems. He also focused on the need to plan for future electrical supplies and discussed ways that planning for power supplies has changed. The uncertainty of the base fuels has caused a change in planning methods in the past 10 years and uncertainty over population and economic growth, as well as Federal legislation will influence planning in the future. He stressed the need for the Public Service Commission to work toward building public confidence by concentrating on planning issues and policies.

O'Brien spoke on "Solid Waste as an Energy Resource." He noted that waste-to-energy systems have been used in Europe for many years and are gaining wide acceptance in this country. He described recent technological improvements and stated that one ton of refuse can be converted into 5,000-8,000 lbs. of steam, enough to generate 300-700 kWh.

O'Brien also discussed financing of waste-to-energy systems and stressed that the projects are rarely self-supporting. He recommended that communities consider a project as a way to solve a solid waste disposal problem rather than as a way to make money generating electricity. He also discussed the various types of systems that are in use today.

Ebert discussed legislative matters of concern to GLECA members as well as the work of the association which serves as a forum for municipal cooperatives. GLECA is attempting to open interstate transmissions and to maintain municipal and cooperative preference for electricity generated on federal projects. Ebert also spoke about national events that are influencing electrical power in the Great Lakes area.

Richard I. Gorman, General Manager of MPPA, wrapped up the day's session with "A Look At Your Utility". Gorman encouraged local officials and utility managers to analyze two things: The utility's current position and the future situation. He stressed the need to evaluate transmission and distribution systems as well as personnel, financial and public relations practices. He noted that the periodic analysis of a system is a valuable management tool in maintaining reliable service at competitive rates.

During the business meeting, current officers of the MPPA Board of Commissioners were re-elected for 1987-88. Timothy C. Morawski of Holland is Chairman, Frederick A. Weber of Chelsea is Vice-Chairman and Joseph D. Wolfe of Lansing is Secretary-Treasurer.

Sunday morning fire causes $30,000 in damage

Lowell firemen had to battle not only the heat from the high temperatures recorded on the thermometers Sunday morning but were also called to fight a fire at the Steven Weber home on South Center Street.

The Steven Weber family home and contents were damaged in the amount of approximately $30,000 from a fire which occurred last Sunday morning. Fire Chief Frank Martin says the kitchen and bathroom areas were the most involved. Inspection will be made this week to determine the cause. The Weber family was not home at the time and the alarm was turned in by a neighbor who noticed smoke coming out from under the eaves of the dwelling located at 195 S. Center Street.
