City approves concept for new lake park

City Councilman Charlie Doyle said, "It's a nice plan, but I don't think it'll ever be completed in my lifetime." Doyle may be right, but the Lowell City Council took the first step in developing the 40 acre park area purchased from Reith-Riley last year. The site is located on Bowes Rd. and also fronts on the Grand River. The unique aspect of the parcel is that it also encompasses a 22 acre lake.

Working with a $7,000 grant from the Look Memorial Committee, the Lowell Parks and Recreation Committee has been hard at work developing a plan for development of the site. The plan approved for inclusion into the city's master plan, is merely a concept that is meant to serve as a foundation when applying for state and federal grants. It is important to note that the council did not approve anything beyond

This drawing shows the lake with its developed shoreline on the north, and the natural, wooded area on the south. The possibilities for the development of the lake, riverbank and surrounding woods seem endless. It is important to note that the Lowell City Council merely adopted the concept of the park into the city's master plan. The move enables Parks Commission members to seek funding for the project.

Rotary Blood Drive Wed., September 9

Almost any healthy adult can give blood. You must be between the ages of 17 and 76 and weigh at least 100 pounds. Patients with history of hepatitis, cancer, blood disease or those that are pregnant will not be eligible to donate. You cannot contract AIDS or any other disease by donating blood.

"When YOU need blood, it will be there, because people like YOU have taken time to give." With that in mind, please consider donating blood during the upcoming Lowell Rotary Blood Drive. Blood will be taken by nurses and technicians from the Grand Valley Blood Program from 3:00 until 8:00 p.m. at the Lowell Middle School Cafeteria on Wednesday, September 9.

A common misnomer about giving blood is that only the rare types are needed. The reverse is actually more true. There are more people in need of the common blood types. Also, whole blood can be broken down into components such as red cell, platelets or plasma. Consequently, no matter what type your blood is, there are people in need of it.

Those who have donated in the past know the rewarding feeling that is experienced by blood donors. This year, over 32,000 pints of blood will be needed in the Kent County area, yet only 5% of the population will actually donate.

Appointments can be made by contacting any Rotary member or calling the offices of Dr. Jim Lang and Dr. Paul Gauthier at 897-9209. Make your appointment today, you'll be glad you did.

Donating blood is not painful and requires only about 45 minutes of your time. After donating you are free to return home or to work. Prior to drawing blood, your medical history, temperature and blood pressure will be taken. The actual procedure requires less than ten minutes. After the blood is drawn, you will be asked to remain for 10 or 15 minutes and enjoy some refreshments.

Councilman Dean Collins, the City Council representative on the Parks Commission, briefly outlined the plan. Not just a park, the site would include a $700,000, two level community building with an all glass, southern exposure overlooking the lake. Collins explained that the proposed building would be plenty large enough for such functions as wedding receptions, banquets, large meetings and other uses. The split level design allows for two functions to take place at the same time. The lower level is also designed to be divided in half with a temporary partition. Complete kitchen facilities are also incorporated into the plan. Groups such as the YMCA and Senior Neighbors have already expressed interest in using the building for their operations.

This artist's rendering of a new community building for Lowell shows the split level design. The glass front of both levels provide a view of the 22 acre lake.

Architects estimated that another $400,000 would be needed to develop the area immediately around the community building. This development would include parking, entrances, walks, terracing, a picnic area, two small shelters and a gazebo on the tip of the peninsula jutting out from the community building. An additional $290,000 would be required to develop a safe swimming beach, additional parking near the beach, boat docks, numerous plantings, rest rooms and walks. Planners estimated that $40,000 would be needed to develop nature trails, rest rooms, fishing accesses on the Grand River and a boat tie-up dock on the south side of the lake. The final phase of the plan calls for an $80,000 to construct a boat basin in a small protected bay at the northwest end of the lake. This development would include docks, decking, a boardwalk and additional parking. The idea of the boat basin is to offer boat, paddleboat and canoe rentals to the public.

The Council briefly discussed the project. They seemed to concur that such a complex would be of great benefit to the city, especially the community building. Mayor James Maatman mentioned that his many years in the wedding photography bus-

"Magic In Michigan" comes to Grand Rapids Museum

In celebration of Michigan's 150 Year anniversary, the Grand Rapids Public Museum, in conjunction with the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and the Society of American Magicians will present, "AB-RACADABRA: MAGIC IN MICHIGAN," September 13 through February 28, 1988.

This sesquicentennial exhibition will feature the history of Magic in the State of Michigan and will showcase famous magicians such as Blackstone Sr., Blackstone Jr., Houdini and Suzy Wandas.

Magic is the oldest of the theatrical arts. The exhibition will briefly explore its religious and supernatural origins but primarily focus on magic as a form of entertainment.

The exhibition traces the history of the Blackstones. It explores the travels of Harry Blackstone Sr., and showcases posters of his performances, while tracing his career from the theatre and vaudeville days to the age of television.

The exhibition also briefly explores Harry Houdini's connection with Michigan. Better known as an escape artist than as a magician, Houdini's most famous escapes including handcuffs, leg irons, and the Milk Can Escape are showcased in the exhibition.

The exhibition will also cover Suzy Wandas, one of the 20th century's most famous female magicians, other Michigan magicians, magic organizations, institutions, and the history of magic posters.

The center lobby of the Museum's West Building exhibition hall will feature many "hands-on" activities for visitors including misadventure puzzles, several optical illusions, a hologram, and a problem-solving puzzle called a soma cube.

Magic performances will be featured throughout the exhibition. They will be offered every other Sunday beginning on Community Enrichment Day as part of Celebration on the Grand, when P.J. Weber will perform magic tricks and illusions free w/Museum admission, at 2:00 in the Museum's Multi-purpose Room. Other performers include Douglas Dean and Al Munro on September 27, and William Gates, Sonny Tgiros and Dick Williams on October 11. All performances are from 2-3 p.m. and the schedule is subject to change.

Co-sponsoring this event is the International Brotherhood of Magicians (I.B.M.) which is the largest magic organization in fifty-two countries. It was founded in 1922 and now has a membership of 11,000. June Horowitz of Grand Rapids is presently the president of the I.B.M., and is the first woman to hold this prestigious office. Horowitz was instrumental in developing the exhibition, having approached the Museum a few years ago with the idea. She is serving as an expert consultant for the exhibition.

Magicians is also co-sponsoring the exhibition. The S.A.M., was founded in 1902. The organization originated as a group of thirteen men and has now grown to 5,000 men and women strong. Two of the most famous members of the organization were Houdini and Howard Thurston.

The Grand Rapids Public Museum is open from 10-5 Monday through Saturday, and 1-5 on Sunday. Admission is $1.00 for adults and 50¢ for children (5-15) and Senior Citizens. Children under 5 are admitted free.

For more information call the Grand Rapids Public Museum at 456-3977.

FIBROCYSTIC BREAST DISEASE

Fibrocystic breast disease, also called fibrocystic breast condition, is a medical description which describes changes in the breasts that occur in many women as a result of the menstrual cycle. In the fibrocystic condition the breast may become tender, painful and lumpy. These symptoms often get worse right before the menstrual period begins and improve after it ends. Fibrocystic breast condition is benign - in other words, not cancerous. It is very common, with estimates that up to 90% of all women have some degree of fibrocystic condition, although only 50% of all women experience symptoms.

Researchers are not absolutely sure of the cause of fibrocystic breast condition, but it is generally thought that it results from hormonal changes in the breast tissue at the time of the menstrual cycle. These changes may induce the formation of one or more cysts, which feel like lumps in the breast. Also, the amount of normal fibrous tissue of the breast may increase. The lumps which result may change in size, shape, and degree of tenderness during different stages of the menstrual cycle.

Even though fibrocystic condition is non-cancerous, your doctor may recommend having a biopsy done to obtain a small sample of breast tissue for examination under a microscope. Most women with fibrocystic condition have no increased risk of getting breast cancer.

Self breast examination is extremely important for every woman. The breasts should be examined once a month, 2-3 days after the menstrual period ends. Be sure to do this at the same time in each menstrual cycle. That way you won't be confused by normal monthly fibrocystic changes in the way your breasts feel.

In order to more fully evaluate your breast tissue, your doctor may suggest a mammogram be done. A mammogram is basically an X-ray of your breast tissue. It helps to distinguish benign lumps from those that are malignant. It is also a good screening tool for detection of cancers which may not even be appreciated in a breast exam.

Avoidance of the methylxanthines will help to lessen the discomfort of fibrocystic condition. Methylxanthines are found in some medicines, but also in caffeinated beverages and chocolate. Other modes of therapy are available for treating fibrocystic breast condition and we recommend discussing these with your doctor.

Keep thy heart with all diligence: for out of it are the issues of life (Proverbs 4:23).

Dusting was my task as far back as I can remember. How I loathed it! Therefore, I could scarcely blame my own daughters for trying to slight this task at times. However, it was my duty to see that they learned to do their work properly in spite of their protests.

"But, Mama, the table and chair legs don't show. Why do we have to be so particular? People don't come to our house and get down on their knees to see if we dusted the under side of the furniture!"

"The tops of the tables are the most noticeable," I agreed, "but it should give you a good feeling to know that the table and chair legs are dusted, too, although no one may ever see them."

This idea carries over into our spiritual lives, Christians. Our associates may judge us by our outward acts, but God keeps record of the inward things - our sincerity, thoughts, purity of heart and motive, devotion, and surrender to His will. Good spiritual housekeepers are careful to "keep the table legs dusted," even though no one seemingly pays attention to them.

Prayer: Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. Search me and see if there is any evil way within me. Cleanse me from secret faults. Amen.

There is a stream that flows from Calvary. A crimson tide so deep and wide. It washes whiter than the purest snow; It cleanseth me, I know.

cozy corner by Roger Brown

At the risk of sounding like Andy Rooney, I'm going to yearn for the "Good Old Days" in this week's column. By the "Good Old Days", I don't mean plowing with horses, Model-T fluffers, steam locomotives or Laurel and Hardy. My definition of the "Good Old Days", at least as far as this week's column is concerned, is anything prior to the AT&T breakup. I swear that new logo of theirs is a model of the the Death Star from Star Wars, and it's after us all.

Though I have phone problems at home, I'm going to zero in on the phone system we've had here at the Ledger for the past few years. It's an AT&T Merlin system. It has two lines in, push button dialing, hold, intercom, memory buttons, conference calling, hands free dialing and some other buttons labeled transfer, drop and recall, that I've never even used. Oh, it's a fancy system alright . . . when it works.

In all fairness, it has been a relatively reliable system, but watch out if it ever quits working. Our first problem involved the often used phone next to our main typesetter. It developed the nasty habit of not transmitting your voice, so that the person calling in figured they had rung up de Tar Baby.

By switching phones, we determined that it wasn't the phone, but a short in the line somewhere. After what seemed like an endless series of phone calls between me, Michigan Bell and AT&T, it was finally determined that it was a Michigan Bell problem, since it was in the phone lines. When the Michigan Bell repairman arrived, he told me it was an AT&T problem because the short was between the master unit and the phone. Back to square one.

I finally got ahold of the right people at AT&T, and they informed me that my warranty had expired. The conversation that followed boiled down to the fact that I had better plan on a second mortgage to pay for either the service call or a service contract. I opted to take my chances on a service call. It cost me over $200 to find and repair the shorted wire. Here's where my Andy Rooney impersonation comes in: "What ever happened to the days when you just called the operator and told her your phone wasn't working properly, she sent somebody to fix it, and that was that?" Can't you imagine him scrunching up his face and talking in his nasal whine as he said something like that?

My latest problem has been with a handset with a faulty microphone. You can hear the person on the other end of the line, but they can't hear you. De Tar Baby syndrome again.

This time I decided to try to save myself some money. I took the receiver to the local Radio Shack store, and they said sorry, nothing we have is interchangeable with AT&T equipment. Then I called the AT&T repair number. I explained my problem, and they told me to call the Merlin Hotline, or some such thing. I explained my problem to them, and they told me I could simply order a new receiver from the catalog store. I called the catalog store, and they said the cost is $20.30, but there was one slight problem. They were out of stock. They told me to try the national parts warehouse. I did, and they said they could send one right out for $45.00. I started complaining that $45.00 was more than double the cost for the same item at the catalog store. I might as well have been using my Tar baby receiver for all the good it did me. I gave up.

Next, I had the brainstorm of trying the AT&T phone store in the mall. I made a flying trip to Eastbrook, only to find that the store had moved, and left no sign as to what the new address was. I inquired at a couple of neighboring businesses, and found out that the store was now located in Woodland Mall. Once at the store, I was delighted to find several Merlin phones on display. But, when I finally got to talk to the salesman, I found out that I could buy a whole system, or an entire phone, but no individual parts were available. I somehow overcame the urge to rip a receiver off from one of the displays, and bolt out the door. I guess I'm getting more complacent as the years go by.

Beaten, whipped and totally deflated by the Death Star, I finally gave in and ordered the backordered receiver from the catalog store. I was told it would take at least two weeks, that a $5.00 shipping charge would be applied, taxes would be added and that it would arrive C.O.D. and could be paid for only with cash, a postal money order or certified check. At that point I wished I was using my Tar Baby receiver so I could spew the profanity that the situation called for, and get away with it. Instead, I politely submitted to the terms, and now knowing the cost and waiting period for a new receiver, I didn't even slam mine down.

Panopoulos promotes Elzinga

Panopoulos Salons, Inc. has recently announced the promotion of Heidi Elzinga to Artistic Director for the newest Panopoulos salon located in East Lansing, Michigan.

As Artistic Director, Ms. Elzinga's responsibilities will include the development of technical and advanced training programs for the salon's stylists, supervision of all chemical hair treatments, testing of the company's private label product line and new cutting and design techniques.

Ms. Elzinga, a native of Lowell, Michigan, was most recently Assistant Director for Panopoulos/East of Grand Rapids, Mi. She is a member of the Sa-lan Source, a traveling educational team, and has been involved in a variety of community activities including hairstylist for fashion sections produced by The Grand Rapids Press and make-up artist and hair designer for Opera Grand Rapids stage productions.

7-11 Donates to Jerry's Kids program

Tina Cadwallader, Assistant Manager at the Lowell 7-11 store, shows some of the baseball cards available to winners of the auction to benefit the Jerry's Kids drive for Muscular Dystrophy.

The local 7-11 Store is now conducting a Silent Auction for the benefit of Jerry's Kids program for Muscular Dystrophy, with prizes of one set of 792 Topps baseball cards to each of two high bidders. The Topps sets contain cards for all of the players on all the Major League teams.

Bids may be placed at the 7-11 store by placing your bid in a sealed envelope containing your name, phone number, and amount you are bidding. On the outside of the envelope, you will

YFU needs Volunteers

At this moment, hundreds of foreign exchange students worldwide will never be granted the opportunity to follow their dream of studying in the United States, unless you help. What is deterring these 15-18 year old high school students from realizing their dream is quite simple; they need a host family to provide a caring and loving home, a home just like yours.

Please take a minute to consider your family as a host to one of these well deserving youngsters. These young ambassadors, presented by the Youth Exchange Service, are eager to share their hopes and dreams, as well as trading cultural knowledge with your family. YES students provide their own spending money and are covered by exceptional accidental/medical insurance. No value can be placed on the educational prosperity of intercultural understanding that evolves between host family and student.

You can help shape a young mind and make a difference in a teenager's heart by welcoming an exchange student into your home. Contact the YOUTH EXCHANGE SERVICE, a non-profit organization dedicated to bridging intercultural differences through educating our young. Phone toll free: 1-800-848-2121.

Scientists at the University of Florida have found a real off-the-wall-reason why some common houseplants mysteriously wither and die. It seems that mercury added to some paints to retard mildew is highly toxic to some indoor plants. Because of their sensitivity, such plants could prove useful for detecting low levels of toxic chemicals in the indoor environment, INTERNATIONAL WILDLIFE magazine reports.

School Opens!

The big yellow buses were rolling Tuesday morning as students and teachers got a new year underway in the Lowell School District. Motorists are reminded to be extra cautious with their driving and be sure to stop for red flashing lights as school buses load and unload. These Bushnell students seem overjoyed with the return to school, but we wonder what their expressions will be as they file off the bus a few months from now?

COMING ATTRACTIONS

Get ready for the new fall shows

By Evan Levine

Looking at the hit shows of a TV season past may seem like a fair way to predict what will be hot the next time around. But this year, thankfully, there's no "L.A. Law" clone, no furry outer-space visitor trying to dethrone "ALF," no sexy, sparring male/female partners. Instead, there is TV's fascination with detectives and policemen, the family-as-stand-up-comedians, and possibly some genuine surprises.

John Ritter

The most promising show in the detective genre is ABC's "Hooperman" (Wednesdays), starring John Ritter as a plainclothes detective; it is brought to us by the creators of "L.A. Law." NBC's "Private Eye" (Fridays) is a sleek, stylish look at crime in the 1950s, with great clothes and music, and inventive camera angles. CBS's "The Law and Harry McGraw," a spinoff of "Murder, She Wrote," has Jerry Orbach as a seedy Boston private detective. And the memorable characters of Norm Buntz (Dennis Franz) and Sid the Snitch (Peter Jurasik) resurface in "Beverly Hills Buntz." The series, which has the two men opening a detective agency in California, will air once a month as one of NBC's "designated hitters."

Another spinoff is the eagerly awaited "A Different

LISTINGS FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4 THRU THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1987

Linda Hamilton stars as a socialite lawyer and Ron Perlman is the mysterious beast who lives beneath the city and saves her life in "Beauty and the Beast." It will air Fridays on CBS.

World" (Thursdays), with Lisa Bonet recreating her role as Denise Huxtable, now dealing with college life away from "The Cosby Show." A spinoff of a different kind is "A Year in the Life" with Richard Kiley (Wednesdays), which continues the characters from the acclaimed miniseries.

ABC's "I Married Dora" (Fridays) and NBC's "My Two Dads" (Sundays) have premises you haven't seen before. "Dora" concerns a widower who marries his illegal alien housekeeper, while "My Two Dads" has two men share custody of a child. Both sound like takeoffs from National Enquirer headlines.

Other unusual premises include CBS's "Beauty and the Beast" (Fridays), with Linda Hamilton as a socialite lawyer and Ron Perlman as the beast who lives in subterranean New York. Vietnam is recreated in CBS's "Tour of Duty," and the mob is infiltrated in CBS's "Wiseguy," starring Ken Wahl. Both air on Thursdays.

What else is worth a look? Dolly Parton, the queen of flash, stars in "Dolly," ABC's attempt at reviving the variety show, Tim Reid ("WKRP in Cincinnati") plays a professor who inherits a New Orleans restaurant in CBS's "Frank's Place," and yuppies discuss Life in ABC's "Thirtysomething" (Tuesdays).

Honored by Boy Scouts

Troop #102, Boy Scouts of America, recently honored some of its adult leaders, according to Dirk Ritzema, committee chairman. Topping the list were Ivan Blough with 25 years of service, and Ed Stormzand with 20 years of service. The committee would like to thank Ivan and Ed and all of the other adult leaders for their continuing support.

School Board Briefs

Nearly two and one half years have passed since district voters approved additional millage to finance energy saving improvements on the district's school buildings. A Board resolution had earlier established a citizens committee to study the district's energy conservation practices and needs. The Technical Assistance Advisory Committee chaired by Don Rocheleau, President of Atwood Corporation, delivered four general recommendations to the Board in the Spring of 1985 after a year long study.

The first recommendation was to use State and Federal funding where possible to finance major energy saving projects without cost to local taxpayers. The second recommendation was to proceed with "low cost/no cost" energy saving measures as suggested by the district's engineering firm, and the third was to find ways to finance and proceed with all energy conservation measures with a six year or less pay back. The final recommendation was to establish an Energy Conservation Committee composed of district employees to review each building's energy usage and ways to improve con-

rol. Several projects have been completed already such as the installation of a computerized energy management system which controls heating, air handling, water temperatures, air conditioning, and some lighting in all buildings. The cost was financed with $40,000 in district funds and $95,000 in energy grant funds from the federal government. The district cost for the energy management system has now been recovered through energy savings. Using the federal grant dollars, the electric dishwasher booster heaters with gas fired units have been replaced.

A new Trocal roof system with tapered insulation to eliminate ponding has been put on the middle school. Substantial insulation was added, flashing improved, wall brick pointed up, and the entire building was silicon seal coated. This project was financed with the voter authorized 1.9 mills for the 1986-87 school year.

Under low cost/no cost improvements the doors in all the buildings were weather-stripped unless major replacement was required. Windows in all the buildings were reglazed where needed, and the warehouse windows were covered with insulation. Unnecessary outside lighting at all buildings was eliminated, and interior night lighting in all buildings was reduced. A review was given to all staff on energy conservation procedures such as lights off, doors closed, and shades pulled where possible. And finally, a district-wide energy conservation committee with representatives from all buildings and each support staff groups was established.

Items dealing with a six year or less pay back included the re-tuning of all building boilers and replacement of thermostats with new night set-back controls. Leaky hotwater heaters at the high school and Bushnell were replaced with energy efficient units. New steam valve thermostats were installed at Riverside Elementary, and the heating/air conditioning unit at Bushnell was repaired and returned. Four new six cylinder diesel fueled buses were purchased and three propane fueled buses were retired in an effort to begin capitalizing on cheaper fuel source.

Two areas being worked on at present are the replacement of entrance doors at the high school with air-lock door systems, and the replacement of the bus garage roof with insulation. Also, a new entrance door will be placed at the bus garage, and energy conservation hardware will be added to garage doors, along with the addition of radiant heating to the garage work area.

What's next? The Board had planned to begin replacing the window systems at the high school this year but construction and material costs were prohibitive. The translucent window panels are not competitively priced and other window treatments can be more attractive as well as provide greater insulation for less dollars. Hopefully, window treatments at the high school, Runciman and Riverside can be the project for the Summer of 1988.

What can be accomplished during the summers of 1988-89 may depend on the condition of roofs at Riverside and the high school.

However, it is the Board's intent to proceed with future planned projects on a pay-as-you-go basis to avoid additional district indebtedness. With a slowly increasing student population, the next major indebtedness may need to be for additional classrooms. Therefore, it is important to keep a steady course of updating existing buildings within the 1.4 extra voted mills to reduce energy costs and make needed repairs.

Honey Creek Fair

It's "Country Fair" time at Honey Creek Christian Homes in Lowell. This 10th annual event will be held on the grounds of Honey Creek located at 11652 Grand River Avenue (Cascade Road) south of Lowell from 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Saturday, September 19. A large variety of foods, a flea market, crafts, and activities will be provided for all ages and family members. The annual public auction will start at 1:00. Musical programs scheduled throughout the day will feature the Staffmen Quartet of Holland and Clem and Clyde (The Whooper Brothers from Cogan Hollar, Tn.). Campus and cottage tours will be provided. Admission is free. All proceeds from the Fair will be used to care for the special needs of the children at Honey Creek.

Honey Creek Christian Homes is a non-profit organization offering residential treatment for boys at the Lowell campus, as well as foster home and group home care for boys and girls in homes located in the greater West Michigan area. A full list of professional services is offered, including family counseling, and foster care licensure. Presently over 85 children and their families are being served through Honey Creek's program.

Great fun is in store for your entire family Saturday, September 19 at Honey Creek! For further information, call Honey Creek at 897-8461.

RIDICULOUS BUT TRUE!

Well-meaning but apparently misguided people have suggested the government could raise more money by imposing an oil import tax. Experts say it would instead cause "serious economic harm."

According to Ronald S. Wishart, a Union Carbide executive and spokesman for the Chemical Manufacturers Association and the Petrochemical Energy Group, a $5 a barrel tax could cost the country twice what it brings in because of the reduced economic growth, increased unemployment and higher inflation it could cause. Anyone can write Congress on either side of this or any issue at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Wieringa makes C.M.U. squad

Redshirted freshman J.J. Wieringa is slated to see some action at defensive tackle for Central Michigan University this fall. A 6-3, 240 pounder from Lowell High, Wieringa is pictured at press day with assistant coach Jim Schulte. CMU opens the '87 season at home on Sept. 5 against defending Mid-American Conference champion Miami. Kickoff is 1 p.m.

Famous Firsts

The first women's labor union in America was organized among garment workers in 1825.

The first "Teamsters' Conference on Women in the Workplace" was held in 1986. There, the union's president Jackie Presser stated: "One of the highest priorities of this Union is to develop new and effective organizing strategies for women workers."

Flu shots

Senior citizens in Kent County will have an opportunity this fall to protect themselves against the dangers of the upcoming flu season. The Kent County Health Department will offer flu shots to healthy adults 65 and over at the main Immunization Clinic at 700 Fuller, N.E. in Grand Rapids and at all Public Health Nurse Clinics.

The annual senior flu program will begin September 14th and end October 16th. Clients are asked to make a three dollar donation to offset the cost of the vaccine. However this is voluntary, and no one will be refused.

Senior citizens with chronic illnesses or serious medical problems should obtain the flu shot from their physician.

The flu shots will be available in this area at the Lowell Township Hall, 2910 Alden Nash Road, S.E., on Wednesday, September 23, from 9-11 a.m., and Wednesday, October 14, from 1-4 p.m.

CITY OF LOWELL

DEAR WATER AND SEWER CUSTOMERS OF LOWELL,

Your next water and sewer bill is going to reflect increases in the sewer rate. This letter is meant to explain why.

As you know, the City of Lowell has been under orders from the federal government to construct a new 6 million dollar wastewater treatment plant, meeting required water pollution standards. After many months of deliberation with federal and state officials, the funding for this plant is now a reality. A major portion of funding is provided by federal and state grants amounting to over three million dollars. The remaining portions are furnished through cash contributions of the City and Lowell Township and new sewer rates.

The new charges are necessary to pay a 25 year, $2.2 million bond issue for the project. These charges will become effective in your October billing. It should be noted that the water rates will remain the same.

In order to understand how the rates effect residential customers, a chart showing several examples is contained on the back page. Commercial users should call the City Hall offices, if there are any questions.

With contracts approved, work on the new facility should begin in September, being substantially completed in a year. Additional construction will involve replacement of sanitary sewer lines.

The project will provide benefits to Lowell: improved water quality and aid economic development as the City meets new business demands.

If there are further questions, please contact Debbie Carstens at City Hall. Sincerely,
Mayor and City Council and Staff of Lowell

Council Proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
of the
CITY COUNCIL
of the
CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

Special Meeting of Monday, August 10, 1987

The meeting was called to order at 7:00 p.m. by Mayor Maatman.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the clerk called the Roll.
Present: Councilmembers Fonger, Thompson, Collins, and Maatman.

Absent: Councilmember Doyle.
IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to excuse the absence of Doyle.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

Items of discussion for the special meeting were ordinances and resolutions regarding the new sewer rates and authorization of the issuance of revenue bonds for the Wastewater Treatment Plant Expansion and the Sanitary Sewer Rehabilitation Projects. Mayor Maatman turned the meeting over to Richard Wendt, City Attorney, for review and explanation of the items. He explained the meeting was needed to address the items to comply with the terms and conditions of the Consent Decree with the EPA and MDNR executed in settlement of litigation. Item No. 1: He explained this ordinance is a technical amendment to the current Sewer Use Ordinance adopted last year.

IT WAS MOVED by Fonger and supported by Collins to adopt the amendment to the Sewer Use Ordinance.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 2: An amendment to Chapter 25 of the Code of Ordinances which establishes the user charge system for sewer rates and charges. This does not set the rates, only the methods for doing so. It also states that changes in the rates and surcharges may be initiated by resolution and not require an ordinance and establishes late charges, penalties and interest amounts in connection with the user's bill.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Fonger to adopt the ordinance to amend Chapter 25.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 3: A resolution which sets the rates for sewer services and calls for an annual review of, and adjustment of, if needed. Charges shall be a user charge (commodity) and a debt service charge (readiness to serve). The user charge for city residents will be $1.08 per 1,000 gallons and $9.18 for "sewer only" resident customers. The debt service charge will be $9.06 for both metered users and (unmetered) "sewer only" users. Rates for the township (bulk rate) will be based on the same formula used to determine the rates for the city; the township will in turn establish rates for their individual customers. Mr. Wendt informed the council all rates are considerably lower than the projected estimates at the beginning of the project, because of the lower interest rates, lower project bids and the award of the grant. These rates shall take effect 9/15/87.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Fonger to adopt the resolution for the sewer system service charges.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 4: A resolution for the authorization to enter into a new Interjurisdictional Sanitary Sewer Agreement with Lowell Township, which describes the relationship between the township and the city and reserves a percentage (18% or 252,000 gallons per day) of the capacity of the system for them. It also establishes what rates and charges the township will pay the city. The township will be responsible for the cost of maintenance and repair of their own equipment.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Fonger to adopt the resolution authorizing the execution of the interjurisdictional agreement with Lowell Township.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 5: An ordinance for the authorization of the issuance of the City of Lowell Wastewater System Revenue Bonds (25 year) for the purpose of financing the costs of constructing a secondary treatment facility and rehabilitation of a portion of the sanitary sewer system. The City will borrow $2,200,000 for the project.

IT WAS MOVED by Fonger and supported by Collins to adopt the ordinance authorizing the issuance of bonds.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 6: Resolution authorizing the publication of notice of the sale of the bonds which will appear in the Bond Buyer.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Thompson to approve the resolution.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

No. 7: The resolution allows for the appointment of the City Manager, David M. Pasquale, as the EPA Step III Grant Coordinator.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to appoint Manager Pasquale, as the Co-ordinator for the city.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

The adoption of a resolution to apply for a permit for a curb cut from the Michigan Department of Transportation for the new street was next addressed as an emergency measure.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and supported by Collins to apply for the permit from MDOT.

YEA: ALL
NAY: NONE
MOTION CARRIED.

Ray Quada, former City Manager, spoke to commend the council for their support in the past years in the dealing with the EPA. He also noted the death of Fred Tholen, City Manager of the City of East Grand Rapids. By consensus of the council, a contribution will be sent in memorial.

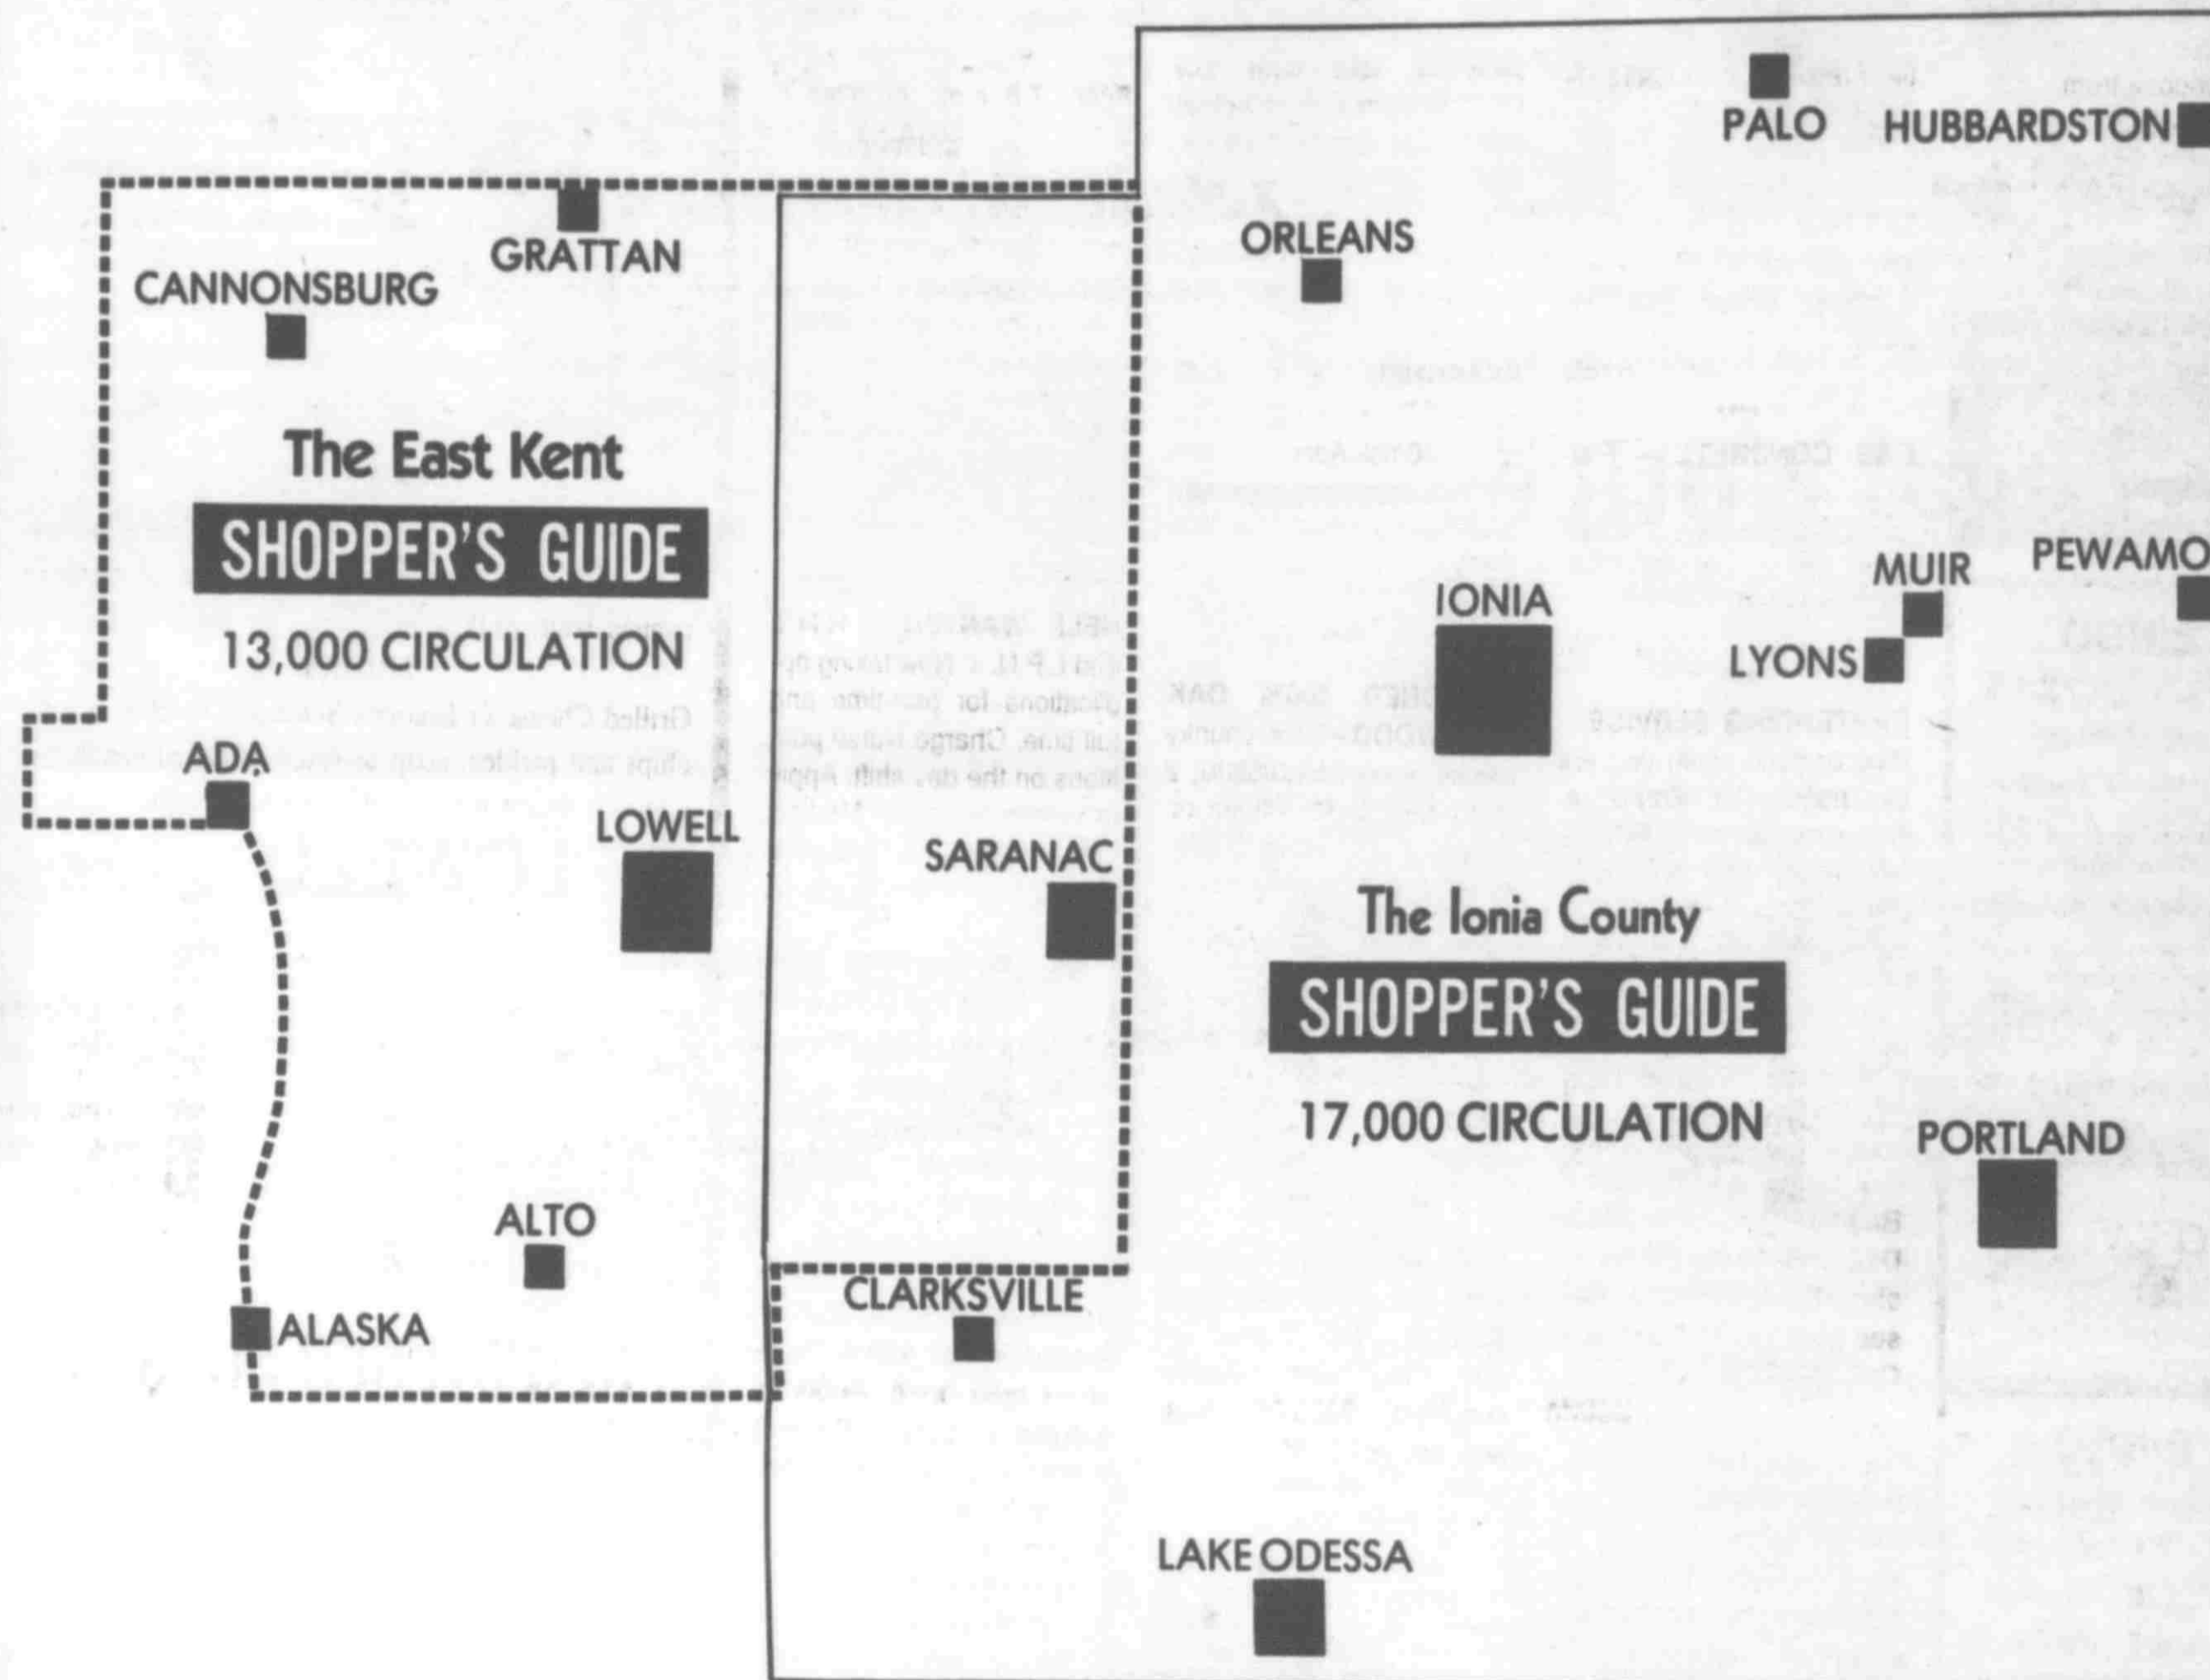

It was decided by council and the city attorney that a letter of explanation regarding the new rates and charges shall be sent to each water and sewer customer.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins to adjourn at 8:20 p.m.

James Maatman,
Mayor

APPROVED: 8/31/87
Ruth A. Harte,
Acting City Clerk

City Council Notes:

The Lowell City Council waded through a busy agenda Monday evening. Three public hearings related to zoning variances were slated for the Monday, September 21 meeting. One hearing involves lot size, side yard setback and parking for a two family apartment house currently being renovated by Ivan Blough at 117 Jefferson St. Another hearing regards the number of parking spaces and the length of the parking spaces at Lowell Plaza. The third hearing involves a planned use variance for a proposed addition or reconstruction of a gas station, convenience store and possible car wash at the Shell gas station site at Hudson and Main.

A tree trimming and removal contract was recently awarded to Grand Rapids Tree, Inc. at a quote of $12,845.50 even though it was slightly higher than a bid of $12,680.00 from Poor-tenga Tree Service. The Council went with the higher bid on the advice of their tree consultant Edward Gross. Poor-tenga protested, and supplied City Manager David Pasquale with information showing that they are at least as qualified as Grand Rapids Tree, Inc. The Council agreed to reverse their decision, and awarded their bid to Poor-tenga.

The Council approved the purchase of a $2,171 waste water sampling kit needed to monitor industrial waste water.

Another public hearing was set for the September 21 meeting to establish restrictions on intinerent businesses. The new ordinance will set a maximum time limit of six months, restrict location to commercially zoned areas and limit sign size to 45 sq. ft.

Pasquale read a report on the city's dog ordinance as reviewed by City Attorney Dick Wendt. Wendt's findings revealed that the current ordinance is basically sound, but did note some inconsistencies that need revision.

Mayor James Maatman, on behalf of the entire City Council, presented Barry Emmons and Ruth Harte with commendations recognizing their extra efforts during the five months the city was without a City Manager. Emmons fulfilled his role as Police Chief as well as Acting City Manager, and Harte filled in as the City Clerk.

In his Manager's report, Pasquale noted a letter that went out to all Lowell sewer customers explaining the rate increase. The entire letter is also printed in this edition of the Ledger.

Pasquale has met with Clare McCombs, Jim Steed and Leonard Jackson in regard to the Lowell Airport issue. Pasquale told the Council that he has found little documentation of airport operations. He promised to gather as much information as possible during the upcoming weeks, and present it to the Council.

Pasquale said City Hall has received some complaints recently regarding trash pick up. Pasquale said that all complaints have been logged, but most turn out to be simple communications problems in what will and will not be picked up. The Councilmembers concurred that trash pick up has been pretty much problem free over the past few years.

Pasquale, a certified planner, will begin providing assistance to the Planning Commission, rather than planning consultant Paul LeBlanc from WBDC. Pasquale feels his in-house control will provide a smoother process for developers.

Pasquale summed up his comments with a humorous story about a pet peeve of his. He noticed that the city didn't have an east city limits sign when he first visited here while interviewing. When he finally got the job, one of his first orders of business was to request a new city limits sign from the county.

The sign was promptly replaced, but county crews spotted the new sign about 100 feet from the west city limits sign. Pasquale said he finally got the problem resolved when city crews moved the errant sign to the east edge of town.

The fastest animal is the cheetah. The large cat has been clocked at seventy miles per hour.

Bridge to Island Park

ness has proven to him that there is a definite need for a community building capable of serving large parties.

Collins said that the Department of Natural Resources has some 50/50 funding available that could be used for any of the nature related portions of the park. City Manager David Pasquale also noted that there are several sources of funding that might apply to the other phases of the project. Maatman noted that the Look Memorial Committee has also expressed some interest in the plan.

As Doyle noted, this project will likely be a long time in development, but the potential created by the combination of the lake, the river and large wooded areas is very unique for a city the size of Lowell.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Arrested and transported to the Kent County Jail on two warrants issued out of Cadillac District Court for Dept. of Natural Resources violations was Ronald Laskowski, 25, of Lowell by Lowell officers early Saturday morning, August 29.

Arrested Saturday morning for driving with a suspended license was John Wing, 23, of Palo.

Taken to the Kent County Jail for driving while license suspended was Michael Devers, 22, of Lowell. Devers was involved in an accident Friday morning, August 28, when the vehicle he was driving struck the rear of a car driven by Kathryn Kinsley, 23, of Lowell at Main and Hudson. No injuries were reported.

Lowell officers arrested three runaways from Muskegon on Sunday evening, August 30, and recovered the bus they had stolen from the Muskegon Area Transit System. The three were transported to Muskegon County Juvenile Detention by County deputies.

Gregory Wing, 30, of Lowell, collided with a car driven by 29 year old Juan Posada, also of Lowell, when Wing attempted to pass as Posada was making a left turn off S. Hudson into a private drive on Thursday, August 27. No one was injured.

Lowell officers arrested a 16 year old juvenile Monday, August 24, for runaway and also impounded the stolen car he was driving. Both the vehicle and juvenile were from Eaton County.

A 13 year old juvenile was apprehended shoplifting in the Cousin's Card Shop on W. Main Thursday, August 27 by store employees.

Issued an appearance citation to 63rd District Court for destruction of property under $100 this past week was Victor Sturgeon, 20, of Lowell.

Released after posting bond on a warrant issued by Grand Rapids District Court on Tuesday, August 25, was Kathleen Dean of Lowell.
