Hardee's to serve burgers here by May first

Lowell should have its second fast food restaurant by May 1 of this year. Mike Embs, representing Wolverine Fast Foods, Co. addressed the Lowell Planning Commission Monday evening with plans for a restaurant on West Main Street. Wolverine owns four Hardee's Restaurants in West Michigan, and plans to build their fifth one on property purchased at the southwest corner of the Ridgeview Mall. Embs said they intend to break ground on February 15, and be open for business no later than May 1.

Signage was the only possible sticking point in the plans presented by Embs. The current ordinance allows for only 30 feet in height. Embs said he may want to place the 3 ft. by 8 ft. "Hardee's" sign as high as 40 ft., if future signage for the Ridgeview Mall obscures his sign. To date, developers of the Ridgeview Mall have no plans in place for a sign near the road. If Embs decides he wants the sign higher than 30 ft., he will

The above blueprint drawing shows the front of the "Hardee's" restaurant proposed for West Main St. The restaurant will be built on a parcel of land located near the southwest corner of the Ridgeview Mall parking lot. It will accommodate 75 patrons, plus provide a drive thru window. The elevation shown will face Main St. and the drive thru appears at the left of the drawing. Hardee's is a nationwide restaurant chain. This restaurant will be a franchise operation owned by Wolverine Fast Foods Co. The west Michigan based firm has four other Hardee's located in Grand Rapids, Coopersville and Holland. Construction will begin February 15, and the doors should be open by May 1.

have to take the issue before the Zoning Board of Appeals which is comprised of the Lowell City Council.

City Manager David Pasquale listed several details which have yet to be provided by Embs. A location sketch, property description, exterior lighting description, drainage plan, contour interval drawing, determination of need for hydrants and detailed plans for signage will all have to be approved by Pasquale before the building permit will be issued. Other than a possible problem with the sign, no variances will be required.

Hardee's is a nationwide chain of fast food restaurants based in Rocky Mountain, N.C. The Lowell location is a franchise operation, but there are company owned operations. Wolverine operates all its locations using only the Hardee's menu and their ingredients. Wolverine operates Hardee's Restaurants on 28th St. and on S. Division in Grand Rapids and others in Coopersville and Holland.

Hardee's are somewhat typical fast food restaurants. The Lowell location will seat 75 people and offer drive-thru service. Wolverine's other locations operate from 6:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m., and later on weekends. The breakfast menu features butter-milk biscuits made from scratch each morning. Several entrees are offered. The lunch and dinner menu includes a wide variety of hamburgers, plus hot dogs, fish, chicken, ham and cheese, turkey and roast beef sandwiches. A wide selection of side dishes include French fries, salads, etc. Drinks include fresh brewed iced tea. Sundaes, apple turnovers, big cookies and ice cream are offered as desserts. Prices were described as "very competitive" by the store manager at the S. Division location.

The building itself will be a single story brick structure with cedar shake shingles. Embs said the interior decor will feature the "Showboat City" theme. When leaving the restaurant or the drive-thru, motorists will exit to the south of the parking lot and proceed either east or west to one of two ingress and egress points on West Main St. Motorists could also exit the mall parking lot via the Ridgeview Dr. curb cut. The proposed traffic flow design met whole-hearted approval from the planners.

In other business the planners voted to pass along to the City Council, some recommendations for changes to the city zoning ordinance. The changes include allowing parking lots in residential neighborhoods by special approval instead of by rezoning. The planners felt this approach would allow residents to have more of a voice in such matters. The changes also require performance guarantees to insure compliance with zoning specifications before occupancy permits are issued for new housing or commercial buildings. The recommendations also call for the deletion of the requirement for Planning Commission approval for private swimming pools.

The planners voted to recommend changing the zoning for the Lemmen Oil site at the southeast corner of Main and Hudson.

The construction of a new gas station was approved for the site via variances. The rezoning will allow for future construction or expansion without variances. The issue must yet be passed by the City Council.

Three new planners were introduced to the commission. They were Elizabeth Thompson, Mike Blough and Tom Speerstra. With the addition of the new members, Pasquale recommended the Commission seek training. The planners advised Pasquale to look into professional on-site training, rather than travelling to seminars.

LEDGER RATES TAKE A HIKE

Order now, for it's your last chance to get the Lowell Ledger at $7.50 a year or $14 for two years.

After Jan. 31, the Ledger will increase its rate for the first time in five years.

The new rates for people living in Kent County will be: $10 for one year; and $18 for two years.

The new rates for people living outside the county will be: $14 for one year and $26 for two years.

The rate increase was made necessary by numerous printing and postage increases that have been imposed during the five-year time period.

LOWELL AREA ARTS COUNCIL PLAY "THE IMPOSSIBLE YEARS" TO START SOON

Tickets will go on sale Feb. 1 for this year's family comedy about a modern day couple and their two teenage daughters along with the trouble that follows. New van for Senior Center

Marj Snyder shows off the new 15-passenger Ford sports van that was leased to the Lowell Senior Neighbors Senior Center through Michigan National Bank and the Area Agency on Aging.

A wooden sign hanging in the office of Lowell Senior Neighbors Center coordinator Marj Snyder reads: "Department of Sunshine & Rainbows" ----- on Aging a 1988 15-passenger Ford sports van will be leased to the Lowell Senior Center for $1 a year.

"The Michigan National Bank gave the Area Agency on Aging three vans to lease. The Lowell Center was one of three picked to have a van provided for them in order to help meet the needs of the population over 60," Snyder said.

The van will help the center to restore the hope, lift the spirit, and renew the enthusiasm of a few more area senior citizens. Some of the needs that the Center meets include: socialization (prevent isolation); a meals program that provides lunch; delivery of meals; recreation such as movies, bingo, and shopping; counseling services; and tax help.

"Before getting the van, the center had to depend on the use of staff or volunteer vans and vehicles," Snyder said. "Now the Center will be able to do a better job of getting out into the outlying areas (Alto and Ada) and possibly as far as Cascade." Snyder adds that the LOOK Memorial Fund will handle the maintenance and storage of the van. "All we will have to provide is the fuel."

The two other centers being provided with a van are Grandville and Rockford.

Snyder explains that the method of evaluation to determine which Centers are in need of assistance is done through the area agency in Grand Rapids. "They verify and substantiate the needs."

The Senior Center services about 175 people a month, but Snyder says some people interpret the Center's concept as a welfare program, thus stay away.

"For some its geared in that direction, but in many cases it's just to provide services that might not otherwise be available to them," Snyder adds.

Thank You

How do you say thank you to everyone who helped in so many ways in the sub-zero weather, fighting the fire at Keiser's Kitchen.

Our heartfelt thanks to the firemen of Lowell, Ada and Alto for their many hours of fighting the fire.

We are so thankful no one was seriously injured.

To Barb and Bob Myers for leaving their home open and furnishing coffee to help warm people up.

To our many customers who have been there everyday helping to remove debris and equipment from the building.

To our family of employees who have been with us in working to get the restaurant on Riverside re-opened...and for all their help in so many ways.

Our grateful appreciation to the whole community who have felt the loss as much as we have.

Our many, many thanks,

Very Sincerely,

St. Mary's and St. Patrick's will observe Catholic Education Week

Students and faculty at St. Patrick's School are preparing for Catholic Education week, February 1 through the 7th. The theme this year is "Catholic Schools Share the Spirit." We expect to do this in the following ways:

North is named to M.S.U. Dean's List

John North

John North, Lowell, was named to the Dean's Honor List at the close of the 1987 fall term. He is currently enrolled in a four-year course in the criminal justice program at Michigan State University.

North was one of three students chosen from MSU to participate in a program with the Federal Justice Department in Washington D.C.

Robert C. Trojanowicz, Ph.D., the director of the school of criminal justice said this reflects North's serious and disciplined approach to his academic program.

He is presently in Washington D.C. for six months of training.

Monday-Prayer Day- We wish to begin the week with a special prayer service. This will be followed by student participation in the Math-a-thon with proceeds going to St. Jude Children's Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

Tuesday-Recognition of our students. Dress up Day.

Wednesday-Thank you day for all teachers, teacher helpers, and other special helpers.

Thursday-Grandparents and Parents Day. Visit our school and have lunch with your children.

Friday-Mass in Thanksgiving. Retreat day for junior high students. Snow sculpture.

Sunday-coffee and doughnuts after all the services will conclude a busy week.

Saint Mary's School is planning a very special week to celebrate Catholic Schools Week 1988. The students will "Share the Spirit" January 31-February

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty (Isaiah 33:17).

Have you ever taken children window shopping? The boys see the electric trains, bats, balls and erector sets. The girls' eyes dance with delight at the sight of dolls, dishes, and party clothes.

When shopping for a house, we ladies are prone to look for the conveniences the house affords—cupboards, closet space, plots in the yard for flowers, and livability in general. Our husbands are most interested in the construction of the building. They look at the wiring, whether or not the roof is straight, and check to see if the chimney is in good repair.

That which interests us gets our attention. This is as true in the spiritual as in the material realm. The person whose chief concern is being comfortable in this life sees only gadgets, appliances, fine automobiles, ways of making more money, and luxurious living. The surrendered Christian sees beyond today and the temporal things this world offers. His affection is set on things above. He envies heaven in the distance. There he will behold the King of Kings some glad tomorrow.

Are you seeing "beyond today?"

Prayer: O King of Kings, Thou art coming back one of these days to claim Thy waiting Bride. Keep my affections centered on things above, and keep me watching moment by moment for Thy reappearing. Amen.

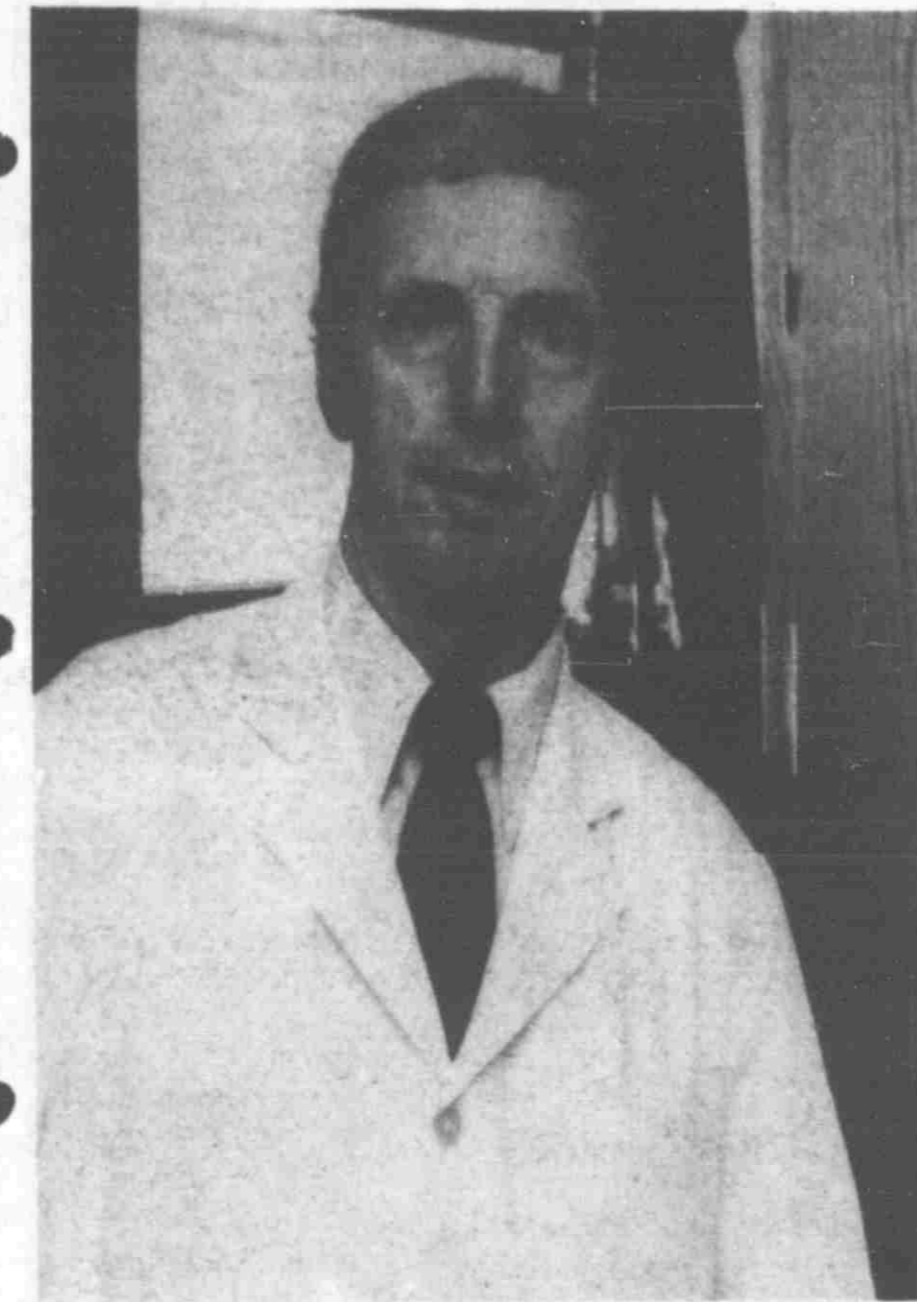

Lord, help us by thy mighty grace
To keep in view the prize
Thou dost come to take us home
To that blest paradise.

Dr. Gerard to receive honorary award

If you have a nagging football injury, who are you going to call?
If you want a brief synopsis of Lowell football over the past 25 years, who are you going to call?

If you want to know what improvements have been made in football equipment over the past 25 years, who are you going to call?

Dr. Donald Gerard!

Lowell's Dr. Donald Gerard has been attending Red Arrow football games for the past 25 years. On Jan. 30, he will become an honorary member of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association.

Gerard is in his 28th year as a practicing Lowell physician, and has spent 25 of those years as the Lowell football team doctor.

"It's (football) a funny sport when a doctor and an ambulance are needed in attendance," Gerard said. "As a rule we're not needed at basketball and track events."

The "good doctor" has witnessed a little over 200 football games and numerous injuries from the Lowell sidelines.

"I've enjoyed watching the games from the sidelines," Gerard said. However, the team physician doesn't necessarily look at the action in the same light as the average fan. He adds, "I think I view the action in a more critical way. I'm looking for activities that may cause an injury."

Gerard believes that by doing this it helps him understand the mechanism of an injury, should it occur. Although, Gerard believes these injuries aren't as frequent today because of the condition of the athlete and the advanced equipment.

"The weight training and conditioning programs that the athletes take part in help to reduce the significant injuries," Gerard said.

He continues, "Flap jackets, neck pads and the improvement of the helmet have also helped to limit and reduce injuries."

Gerard, who did not start practicing as a physician until 1960, did not become Lowell's team physician until 1963, following the departure of Dr. Thomas Hill.

Gerard knew he wanted to practice in a small town and Hill's departure provided that opportunity.

"A small town provides you with broader range, a mixture (family practice, emergency room, industrial medicine and geriatrics), unlike the city which tends to focus on a specific practice," Gerard said.

When asked to reminisce about the football teams he's seen come and go through the years, Gerard recalls two clubs, one of yesteryear and one as recent as yesterday.

"The 1964-65 undefeated club was special. There were three boys (Mike McMahon, Duane McIver, Bob Elzinga) who were offered Big 10 scholarships and Paul Krof was a High School All-American," Gerard said.

He continues, "This year's club stands out too, there was no one outstanding player, but they played well together. It was a well coached, well trained team."

Gerard believes that there's a difference in the way athletes train today compared to years before.

"The athlete knows more about what he or she is doing. They start weight training sooner and do a better job of conditioning," Gerard said. He believes this may be why athletes don't hate the three weeks before the season as much.

The Lowell doctor started his post high school graduation work at Grand Rapids Junior College. He spent two years there in the pre-med program before transferring to the University of Michigan in the fall of 1950.

"I spent a half-year there before joining the Army during the Korean War," Gerard said. His stay in the Army lasted 30 months. "I was an infantry officer. Hawaii was the closest I got to Korea," chuckles Gerard.

After Gerard was finished with Army life, he enrolled at Calvin College in 1954. In 1955 he transferred into the Wayne State University of Medicine program, where he stayed until 1959.

Gerard spent the following year as an intern at Butterworth Hospital.

Gerard and partner, Dr. Orval McKay, have spent 27-1/2 years together, servicing Lowell families and athletes.

McKay has served as a Lowell family doctor for 37 years. He has also served on the Lowell Light & Power board and on the planning commission.

"We go up to the school in the summer to give physicals for the upcoming season. It works out well and about 150 students show up," Gerard said.

He continues, "Dr. McKay and I have had a good working relationship in sharing our practices together, and have gotten along real well."

One of the doctors' assistants, is Donna, Gerard's wife of 32 years. The medical interest has also been passed on to three of the couple's six children (Rebecca, nurse; Dorothy, controller; and James, medical student). Other members of the family include Phillip, John, and Elizabeth.

In recognition of his 25 years of service, Gerard will be honored on Jan. 30, when he is ceremoniously named as an honorary lifetime member of the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association.

"Gerard's most deserving, he's been at just about all the home and away football games," Lowell athletic director Bob Perry said. "Not every school has such a doctor."

Lowell football coach Phil Christensen adds, "Every school needs a Dr. Gerard. Since I've been coach, he's been like a right arm to me."

Arrows skin Belding; lose heartbreaker to Northview

Red Arrow Jeff Phillips positions himself for an easy two points against the Redskins of Belding. Phillips contributed with 17 points.

It was too little too late for the Red Arrows in their O-K White conference 74-71 loss against Northview.

Lowell, 3-6 overall and 2-4 in the conference, spotted the hometown Wildcats a 40-25 halftime lead, before playing perhaps their best half of basketball all season.

It took a missed layup by Paul Stroosnyder with five ticks on the clock, trailing 72-71, to finally shut the door on a possible Lowell victory.

Senior guard Ken Nelson set up the drama with his 14th steal of the game, before feeding Stroosnyder with what looked like a game-winning bucket.

Instead, the Red Arrows had to foul with two seconds remaining. Northview then netted both foul shots to end the scoring.

Despite the loss, it still did not distract from the super performance handed in by Nelson. The Red Arrow guard finished with a game-high 23 points, eight assists and six rebounds.

Nelson was nine of 17 (53 percent) from the floor, but as a team, the Red Arrows shot just 39 percent (29 of 75).

Other Lowell players in double figures were Jeff Phillips with 14 points and Dan Byrne with 12. Three Red Arrows followed with five tallies apiece: Tim Weststrate, Rob Burritt and Jason Douma.

"Weststrate, Douma, Joel Schrenk and Matt Quada did a fine job coming off the bench," Lowell coach Ken Akers said.

Lowell had just 12 rebounds in the first half, but ended with 30 for the game. The Red Arrows had 16 first-half turnovers and 25 for the game.

Burritt led the club in rebounds with seven. Phillips contributed with six caroms.

"If we could put four quarters together we would be a tough team to beat," Akers said. "We started to play the way we're capable of in the second half. The boys were aggressive on defense and on the boards."

Northview's leading scorer was Don Tyndall with 18 points.

LOWELL 79, BELDING 64

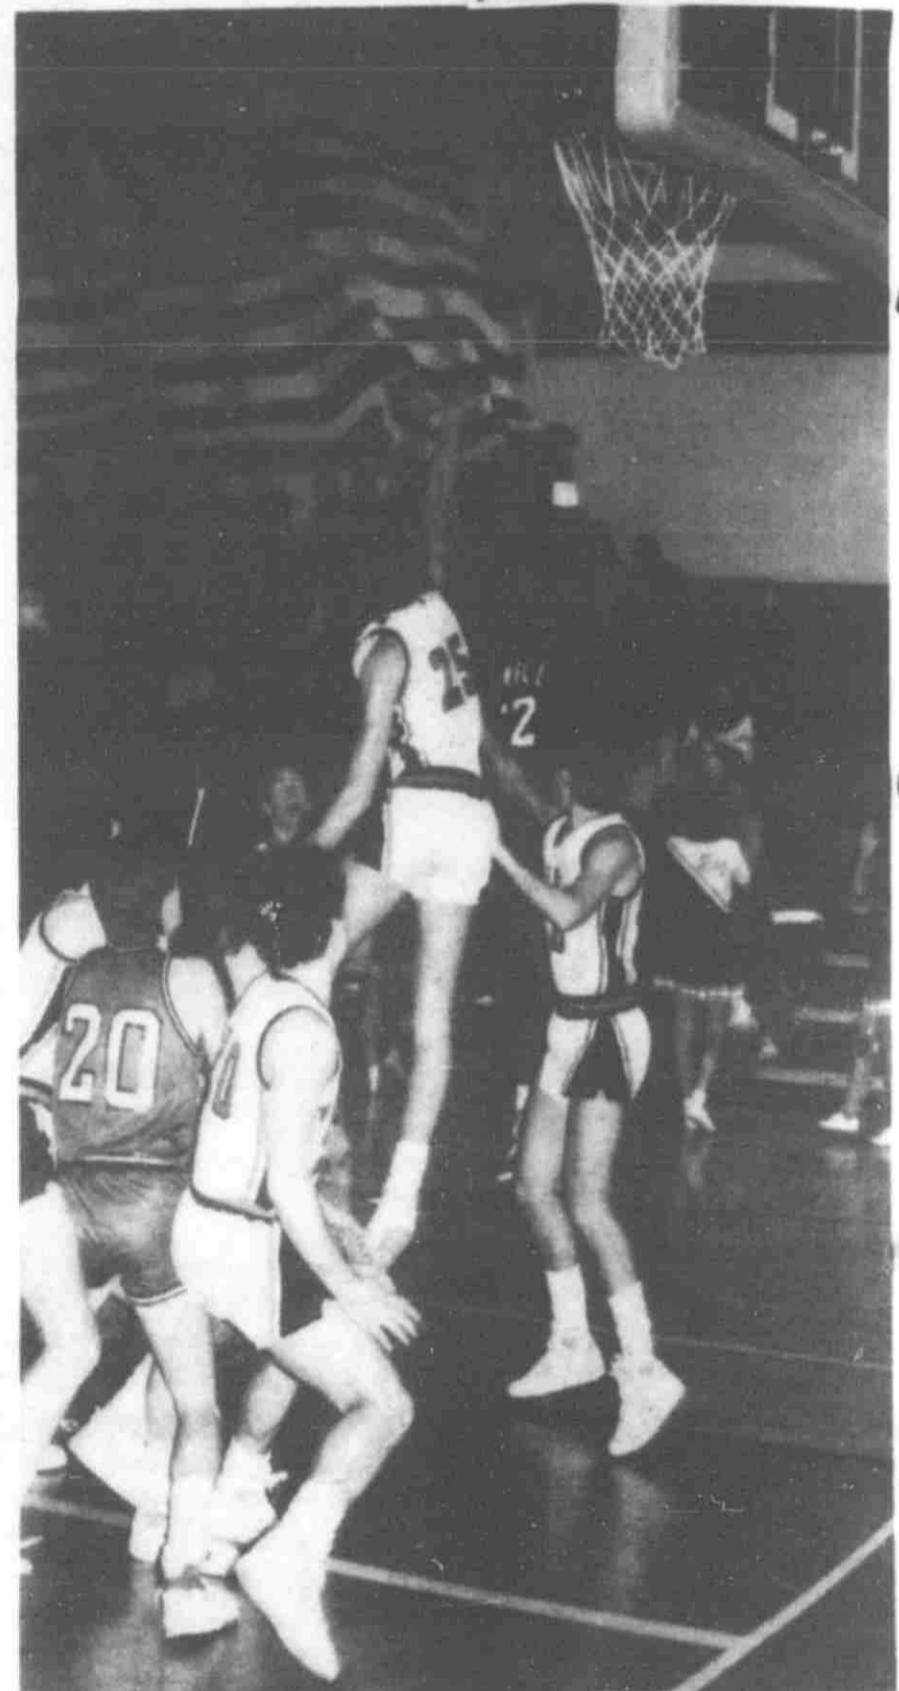

Lowell used a zone defense and a zone press to shake the pesky Redskins from Belding, in posting its third win of the season.

"I think Belding tired in the second half," said Akers. "The Redskins also got themselves into foul trouble."

The Red Arrows trailed 33-32 at halftime, but came out in the third quarter and built a 10-point lead. "Belding had no one that could guard Nelson. He was too quick, therefore he got some good penetration in the second half."

Dan Byrne led the victorious Red Arrows with 19 points. Jeff Phillips followed with 17.

Lowell Basketball Reminder: The Red Arrows will play host to Greenville on Saturday, Jan. 30 in a makeup game from Dec. 15. Tipoff is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Lowell's Ken Nelson puts up a 15-foot jumper in action against Belding. The Red Arrows won the game, 79-64.

L.H.S. Spikers split contests

Lowell's volleyball team split their two contests with Ionia and Class C's seventh ranked club from Godwin Heights.

The Red Arrows clobbered

Ionia in straight sets 15-4, 15-8. However, after recovering from an 8-2 deficit in its first game against Godwin Heights, to win 15-11. Lowell fell to the visitors in the final two games 8-15 and 4-15.

"We had 12 service aces against Ionia. That's real good," Lowell coach Laurie Kuna said. "It was a team effort and everyone played."

The Lowell coach added the game allowed her to play people in unfamiliar positions.

In Godwin Heights, Lowell played one of its toughest foes on this year's schedule.

"They're good. After that first game we ran out of gas in the second game and were never in the third game," Kuna said.

The coach attributed the defeat in the final game to super serving on behalf of Heights.

Lori Esch sparkled in the match's first game with five kills.

Kuna added that Miyuki Iwai also added some sparkling defensive plays.

The Red Arrows are now 3-1.

The Red Arrows volleyball team improved its record to 3-1 with a win against Ionia. Lowell, however, lost later in the week to Godwin Heights.

Arrow gymnasts fare well against state ranked teams

The Lowell gymnastics team finished sixth at the Rockford Invitational, which included many state-ranked teams.

Rockford, ranked sixth, edged Holland, ranked second, 132.75 to 131.45 to capture first. Ottawa Hills finished third with 119.65 and Muskegon Mona Shores came in fourth at 114.6. Ann Arbor Pioneer, ranked 8th in the state finished fifth with 114.1 and Lowell followed with 110.80. East Lansing 105.7, Grand Haven 105.1, East Grand Rapids 98 and East Kentwood 84.25.

Individually Lowell had some medal-winning places. Freshman Laura Kropf led the Arrow's scoring with 30.7 points to place 8th all-around. Kropf also captured 6th on the uneven bars with a 8.15.

Senior Lisa Kidder finished 10th on the uneven bars with a 7.95; sophomore Carrie Lipkea earned a 8.05, on the floor exercise, and a 7.7 (ninth) on the balance beam.

"Our total score can improve by five to ten points easily," Coach Annette Pearson said. "We have not had a meet yet that everyone has performed to their greatest potential."

The Red Arrow team had traveled to Rockford earlier in the season for a dual meet. The Rams defeated the Arrows 128.55 to 110.10.

On the uneven bars, Kropf took fourth (8.25), Kidder placed fifth (8.2) and Lipkea sixth (7.25).

Kropf captured a 7.7 fourth on vault and a 7.6 third on the beam.

On the floor exercise, Kidder pulled out a 7.3 and Lipkea turned in a 7.8 fourth.

The Red Arrow gymnasts host their first home meet against East Grand Rapids Wednesday, January 27 at 7:00 p.m. at the Lowell Middle School.

Wrestlers 14-1

Red Arrows pin a 72-4 loss on East G.R.

Of the 13 matches against East Grand Rapids, the Lowell grapplers won seven by forfeit as the Red Arrows continued to strut their stuff against O-K White competition with a 72-4 win.

The victory improved Lowell's dual meet mark to 14-1. It also sets up a first-place showdown at home (Thursday, Jan. 28) with Northview.

"It should be a tough match. I think the boys will do just fine," Lowell wrestling coach Gary Rivers said.

The Red Arrow matmen posted four pins in its confrontation with the Pioneers.

Posting the first pin was 98-pound grappler Brad Whalen. The other three pins turned in were by Todd Nauta (138), Tom Nugent (167), and Dallas Kirkbride (198).

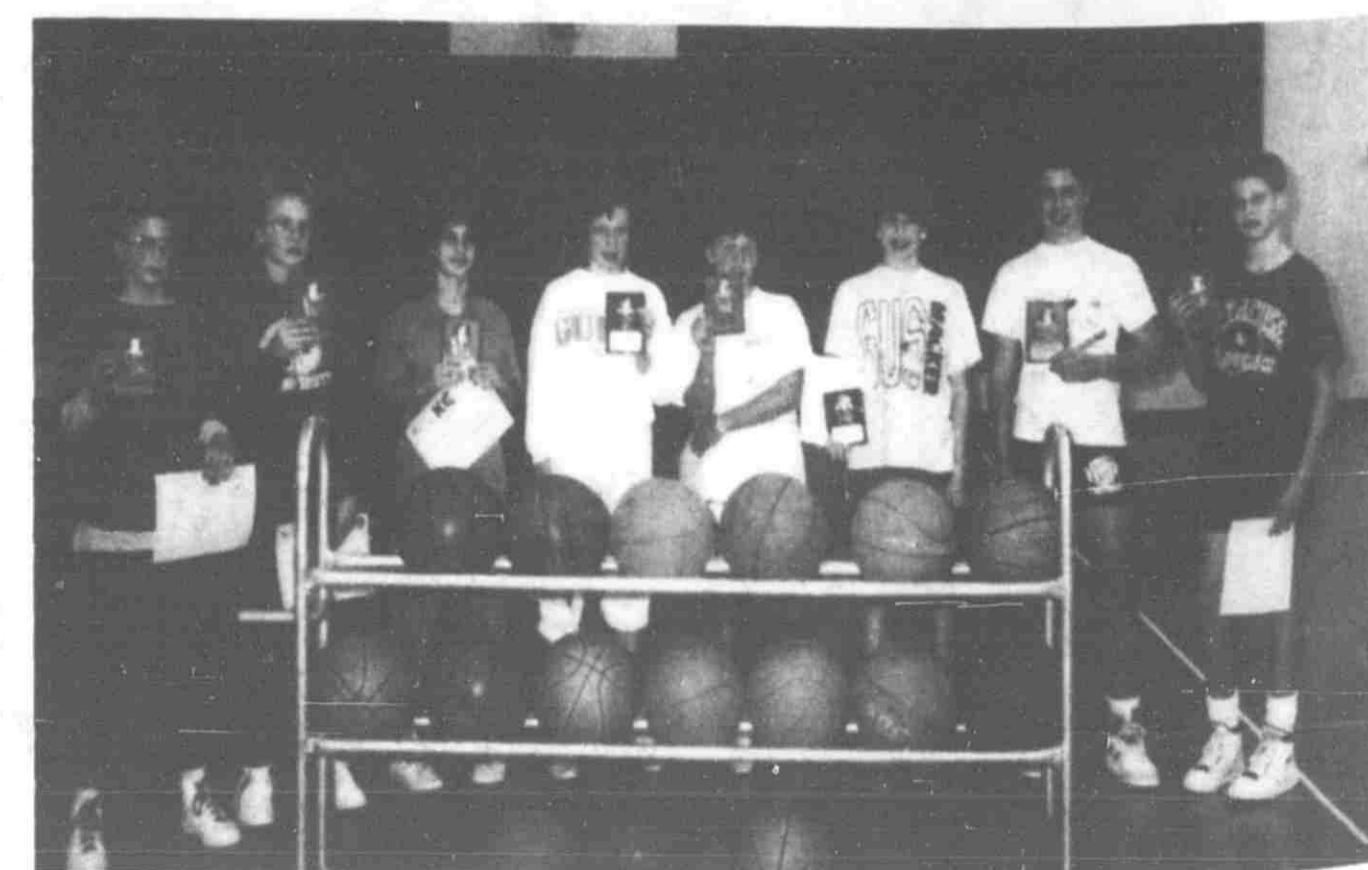

Kyle Gildea earned his 30th win of the year by way of injury default.

Posting victories by way of forfeit were Scott Nagy, 105; Aaron Adams, 119; Craig Mersman, 126; Mike Rivers, 132; Bart Olin, 155; Mark Anderson, 185; and Chad Hill, HWT.

Nate Nauta (112) lost by decision to his Pioneer counterpart, 11-2.

K of C free throw contest

Kyle Aksamitowski, Chad Dunn, Amy Stouffer, Erin Nauseida, Angie Brown, Renee Nugent, Jerud Mierkalns, and Craig Coleman.

The Knights of Columbus, Counsel 7719 sponsored an area-wide Free Throw Contest, January 13, 1988 at Lowell Middle School. Both boys and girls ages 11-14 shot fifteen free throw shots. The winners will be advancing to the regional meet in Greenville, February 6, 1988.

First place finishers were: age 11 - Kyle Aksamitowski, Amy Stouffer; age 12 - Chad Dunn, Erin Nauseida; age 13 - Craig Coleman, Renee Nugent; age 14 - Jerud Mierkalns, and Angie Brown.

Lowell has its own "Piano Man" in Fischer

Hans Fischer, owner of the Fischer Piano Shop, spent an afternoon fishing with a friend. On his return trip home, to Fischer's surprise, his wife, Martha, had reeled in the catch of the day.

You see, Martha, a piano teacher, got a good price and purchased three pianos from the Salvation Army, which it did not want anymore.

"At the time I had been working in a tool and die shop, but was growing sick and tired of it," Fischer explains. "I asked her why three piano's were sitting in our livingroom? Her answer was, 'You're going to fix them.'"

Fischer tried to explain to his wife that he didn't know anything about piano's, but Martha would have none of it.

"She told me that if I could rebuild machines then I should be able to rebuild and fix a piano," Fischer said.

Proving his wife to be a prophet, Fischer went to the library and checked out a book. After reading the book, he proceeded to take one of the three pianos apart and then rebuild and refinish it. It took about three months.

"I learned from reading and I got piano parts from a place in Chicago," Fischer said. That was in 1966. Five years later Fischer and his wife moved from Detroit to Lowell, where he opened up Fischer Piano Shop in what is now Treasure Chest Jewelry.

After 1-1/2 years, the expert piano repairman and tuner moved into his present location at 101 West Main, the same building which in 1864 served as the town post office.

Among other businesses that have been in the building were the McMahon and Reynolds' Clothing Store and Avery Jewelers.

As a young boy, Fischer grew up near the Rhine River in Wuppertal, Germany. Then at the age of 24, with his uncle serving as a chief designing engineer with Curtis Wright Aircraft in the United States, Fischer decided to leave his homeland and make the journey.

As a kid growing up in Wuppertal, Fischer gave his father a hand at brick laying. It didn't take long for the vocation seeking son to realize brick laying wasn't for him.

"I didn't like it. I got too darn cold," Fischer relates in his amusing German accent. "My dad always told me that squeezing the water out of the bricks would help to keep my hands warm."

Fischer continued, "That was easy for him to say, his hands were like sandpaper."

Fischer's father passed away in 1983. However, his parents made a trip over to the States in 1956. They stayed a year, but they didn't like it and went back to Germany.

His mother, who died in 1977, ran a clothes ironing business during WWII. Fischer, meanwhile, has journeyed back to his homeland seven times. Although he wouldn't want to move back, he does like visiting.

"Things have changed a lot since I moved, but I have too many friends here in Lowell," Fischer said.

Fischer has managed to keep his German accent, despite having taking up residences in the U.S. some 22 years ago.

Hans Fischer, owner of the Fischer Piano Shop holds a 200-year old violin that he is currently working on.

Hans Fischer prepares to refinish a chair that was recently brought in.

Hans Fischer prepares to refinish a chair that was recently brought in.

He chuckles, "When I'm here in the U.S. people say I have a German accent, but when I visit Germany they say I have an American accent."

The Lowell merchant not only fixes and rebuilds pianos, but he also dabbles with other instruments. "Right now I'm working on a 200-year old violin," Fischer said.

He continues, "In 1981 I took a course at Grand Rapids Junior College so I could learn how to rebuild and repair furniture."

Fischer says he learned a lot and was impressed with the knowledge and dedication that his instructor, Tom Boozer, displayed. Fischer considers his work more of a hobby than a job. "This work gives me great satisfaction. I couldn't find a better job," he said.

"I take junkers and make them look like they just came out of the factory," Fischer said.

His work keeps the Wuppertal native quite busy. He adds, "I've had a customer come all the way from Traverse City."

The only advertising Fischer has done since opening up shop has been by word of mouth.

Fischer smiles, "It's the best kind of advertising and the cheapest."

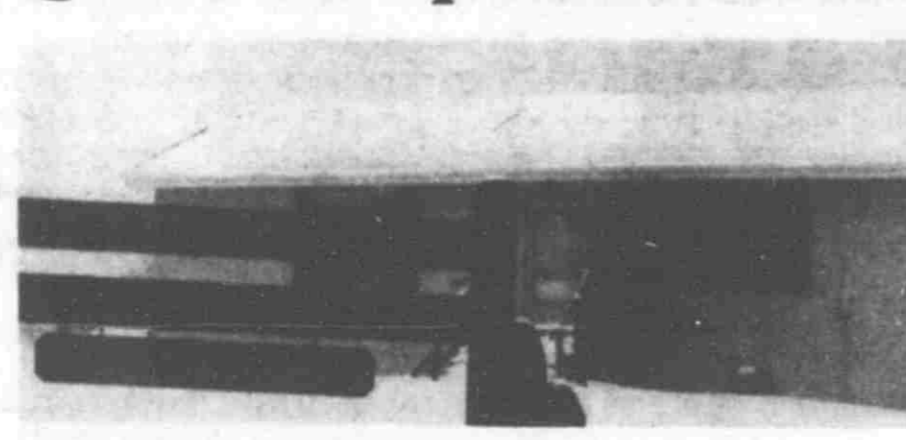

The Lowell piano man enjoys classical music, topping his charts is Chopin.

He also likes jazz and the blues. "I enjoy listening to fellows like Fats Waller and Eubie Blake," Fischer said.

Martha, who passed away in October of 1987, started playing the piano at the age of six, however, Fischer doesn't play.

"No, I don't play, but I can tell if you hit a wrong note," Fischer chuckles.

Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsmen's Club is robbed

Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsmen's Club treasurer, Don Lehigh, reported that the club lost approximately $2,500 to $3,000 in merchandise and cash in an apparent robbery.

ment Detective John Blough said the robbers broke into the club through the basement window. He added that an investigation will follow.

According to Lehigh, the club, located at 11400 Foreman Rd., had deer racks, fox heads, a microwave, raffle prizes totaling $500, and two guns taken, including a Remington 22-caliber smooth bore rifle.

The club will offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons involved.

Flat River Snowmobile Club applauds new legislation

Mention winter, and the response from more than just a handful of people is "I can't wait for spring."

When one finds a group that worships those cold, white shavings that fall from high above, one asks why?

The answer comes in the form of an automotive vehicle that uses skis instead of tires. This machine, however, is rendered useless without the assistance of that white powdery substance that visits us 3-4 months out of the year.

"It's a short winter for most people if there is a small amount of snow," said Faith Marshall, treasurer of the Flat River Snowmobile Club. "For snowmobilers, waiting for snow makes for a long winter."

Members of the Flat River Snowmobile Club haven't been real pleased with the mild winters of the past few years, but a bill that was passed earlier this month made it forget its meteorological problems.

"The bill calls for part of the taxes used for roads to be returned so that snowmobile trails may be built," said Flat River Snowmobile treasurer Faith Marshall. "This funding will come from gasoline taxes and registration."

Twelve years ago, the Michigan Association of Recreational Snowmobilers (MARS) started the wheels rolling to get a state refund from the taxes that were being paid for gasoline.

Marshall adds that once MARS and the Michigan International Snowmobile Association (MISA) disbanded, the Michigan Snowmobile Association (MSA) joined in. "This was after the realization of the amount of snowmobile dollars that were pouring into the state every winter in the form of gasoline sales, lodging and food as well as clothing sales."

The Flat River Snowmobile Club was first started in 1971 and has had its membership as high as 150 (1973-76). At the present time it has 67 members, 41 of which are active.

The club, is one of eight clubs that make up the West Michigan Snow Council. The council actively leased land. The land was then brushed out, posted, groomed, smoothed, and now is used as part of a 190-mile state trail.

Each club is responsible for a portion of the trail. Flat River's portion runs from Wabasis Lake to the Deer Run Golf Course.

"The age of our members ranges from 15 months to 80 years of age," club president Bradley Potter said.

He adds, though, that the median age of members is higher than when the club first started. "Part of the reason for this is that the young people can't afford snowmobiles."

Marshall adds that most of the original ones sold for $1,000 or less, and now a person pays that amount for a used sled. "Today, the new, high performance sleds sell for approximately $5,000."

Another reason for this age change is that snowmobiling is much more accepted now. "The sport of snowmobiling has evolved from a noisy, smokey, top-heavy machine to a beautifully engineered, quiet, smooth-riding thing of beauty," Marshall explains.

She adds, "In the beginning, we were thought of in the same breath as motorcycle gangs."

The sport has become much more family oriented. "There's more of an interest in trail riding," Bradley explains. "People are interested in longer trips, this is due in large part to the network of trails that have been started. There's as much riding now as there is racing."

Since becoming a club, Flat River has purchased the old Hi-Lo Gun Clubhouse and the 22 acres of land that surround it. "We have done some remodeling and now have a very comfortable place to meet and snowmobile.

The club meets every third Sunday of the month for a potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m. and for a meeting that follows.

The club also has Bingo every Sunday evening (4 p.m.) at the Moose Recreational Club.

Bingo is used to help finance the building and other expenses.

The clubhouse is located at 11841 Potters Rd. The club's present officers include Potter, president; Ed Anible, vice president; Margaret Howey, secretary; Marshall, treasurer; and Don Souser, Dave Bradford and John Condon are trustees.

The club is active in civic affairs in the community and in Kent and Ionia counties. Membership is $6 per person and $12 for a family.

The Flat River Snowmobile Club participates in the Lowell Fourth of July and Santa Claus parades. The club also contributes to local charities as well as the March of Dimes; Easter Seal Society, Salvation Army, YMCA, Reyes Syndrome Foundation and the Lowell rescue unit.

It also has an emergency program available to assist in case of severe storms or other emergencies.

A group of 10 people from the Flat River Snowmobile Club made a safari to Gun Lake on a recent 90-mile expedition.

"The Flat River Snowmobile Club was organized to promote the sport of snowmobiling with the concern of our environment, safety, and consideration for the rights and property of others," Marshall concludes.

Alto School hold snow sculpture contest

Last week's wet, heavy snowfall was the perfect setting for an impromptu snow sculpture contest for Alto first through fifth graders. Teams of four students created a variety of items including sharks, dragons, alligators, turtles, cats, dogs, mice, snowmen, etc. Students only had an hour to determine what they would build and then do the actual sculpting. Nearly all students participated during recess, and judging was difficult. Listed here are the winners in each grade and pictured are the grand prize winners with their shark entry.

Sean Roth, Jacob Baker; Cutest Snowman: Mike Knudstrup, Alan Maynard; Funniest Snowman: Amanda Seese, Stephanie Anderson, Kristin Potter, Rachael Huisman. 3rd Grade, 1st place: Mackenzie Bennett, Becky Thomas, Christy Ennis; 2nd Place: Brian Willmart, Brad Schuster, Troy Ballard, Jeff Catlin; 3rd Place: Christy Rudy, Katie Stouffer, Jo Freeman, Melody Brubaker. 4th Grade, 1st Place - Grand Prize: Mike Dean Barry Rinks, Ken Lester, Rick VanderWarf; 2nd Place, Lori Roth, Scott Gromdman, Matt Langridge; 3rd Place: Kyle Jackson, Wendy Cowles. 5th Grade, 1st Place: Scott Dykstra, Mike Dykstra, Josh Ennis, Craig Lett; 2nd Place: Patsy DeJong, Jenny Grownegw; 3rd Place: Mike Cross, Matt Nave, Jo Barnella, Nick Myers.

If you have subscribed to the Ledger for a few years, you may recall seeing the Kent County Treasurer's annual Tax Sale Paper each February. The publication of that listing of properties is let out for bids from the newspapers within the county each fall. The successful bidder receives copy in early January, and the paper is published in February. It's a pretty big undertaking, but if it goes smoothly, we can make a few shekles on it. And, a few extra shekles worth of business in February is more than welcome.

There are very strict parameters set for the size of type to be used and the style of type. The listings, all 5,000 plus, are set in six point Helvetica on six points of leading. The leading is the height of the line. When the height of the type is the same as the height of the line, that means there is absolutely no space between the bottom of descenders (g's, p's, y's, etc.) and the top of ascenders (t's, h's, b's, etc.). That's pretty tight typesetting. Add to that, the fact were talkin' six point type (there are only 72 points to and inch), and you're lookin' at the proverbial "Fine Print!"

We've found a company with sophisticated typesetting equipment that can read the County's computer, and absorb all the data regarding these listings. A program is written to kick out the unwanted data, and arrange the rest into the proper format. Then the typesetter is told to set it all in type, and "Voila!" They send us the long strips of type called galleys, and that's where I come in.

We received the first of the galleys late last week, so I came early Monday morning to begin arranging everything into pages. Even this is no small task. I have to make sure the listings stay in the proper sequence and that there are proper headings at the top of each column. When I come to the bottom of a column, I have to carefully cut between lines, where there really isn't any "between the lines". I'm sure it's a bit like performing surgery, and it's very tough on the eyes. So, I use this annual project as a yearly eye exam. So far this year... I'm failing miserably.

I worked on the project for close to six hours Monday morning, and by noon I had a splitting headache and that six on six Helvetica looked more like fuzzy little cotton balls than type. Just like my greying hair and expanding waistline, my eyesight problem seems to get worse with each passing year. The only difference is, I only tackle this project once a year. So, it's like looking in the mirror or getting on the scales only once a year. What a shocker! The difference is about as subtle as a Mike Tyson uppercut.

The last time I went to an ophthalmologist was about eight or nine, maybe ten years ago. He said my vision wasn't perfect, but told me I probably wouldn't need glasses until I was about forty. So, even though I never read for recreation any more because it's too much work; even though I often go home with a headache when the close work at a light table drives me bonkers; even though I sometimes have to eat a printing job or an ad because my eyes were too tired to proofread closely; and, even though this annual tax sale job just about kills me, I've still been too proud to call that ophthalmologist before my fortieth birthday. Until now, that is.

About four hours into that tax sale project on Monday, I broke down and called Terese for the ophthalmologist's name. I haven't called him yet, but I probably have at least another twenty hours of torture left in that tax sale paper. I know right now I'm going to crumble like the G.I. in the old movies when the Japanese soldiers drive bamboo splinters under his nails.

So, don't be surprised to find an overweight, gray-haired guy with glasses running around here at the Ledger in a few weeks. I'll still only be 38, but the glasses won't help when I try to convince people of that. I suppose false teeth are next.

Michigan's snowmobile trails await you

Completion of the first snowmobile trail across Lower Michigan and a host of statewide festivals aimed at snowmobilers should help make this one of the most successful winter tourism seasons ever, reports AAA Michigan.

The 200-mile trail links Traverse City and Tawas City and gives snowmobilers the second unbroken course across the state. Snowmobilers should plan on spending a minimum of eight hours to travel it with sufficient food, lodging and other facilities along the way to meet all needs. The trail, which was partially open last year, can include stops at tourism areas, such as Lake City, Houghton Lake and West Branch.

The first trans-Michigan trail is in the Upper Peninsula and links St. Ignace with Sault Ste. Marie before heading west to Wisconsin.

The popularity of the two trails is prompting snowmobile groups to plan a system of trails in West Michigan from the Indiana state line to the Mackinac Bridge. Another trail corridor is being considered in East Michigan, north of Flint to the bridge.

There are more than 5,000 miles of groomed trails in the state, including the two trans-Michigan routes. The upkeep of those trails is funded by registration fees of the more than 195,000 licensed snowmobilers—the highest of any state.

Snowmobilers will find 160 trails and areas listed on AAA Michigan's 1987-88 guide to public snowmobile trails. They range from two miles near Conronville to the new 200-mile link from Traverse City to Tawas City. The guide includes 62 state parks, one southern game area, 93 state forests and four national forests.

Among the many winter festivals of special interest to snowmobilers is the Gun Lake Festival, Jan. 23-24, at Gun Lake, south of Grand Rapids. More than 10,000 snowmobilers are expected for the weekend event.

Other events include:

- Jan. 16-18—Mardi Gras de Snow, Paradise; Jan. 16-17 and 23-24—Tip-Up Town, Houghton Lake; Jan. 22-23—Wineboozho, Marquette; Jan. 23—Portage Winter Carnival, Portage; Feb. 3-8—Winter Carnival, Michigan Tech, Houghton; Feb. 4-5—North American Snowmobile Festival, Cadillac; Feb. 4-6—Winter Sports Carnival, Grayling; Feb. 4-7-1-500, Sault Ste. Marie; Feb. 5-7—White Lake Snowfari, Montague; Feb. 5-7—East Jordan Winter Snow Blast, East Jordan; Feb. 6—Gobles Snow Festival, Gobles; and Feb. 6-7—Devil's Lake Tip-Up Town, Manitowish.

Snowmobilers are advised to confirm event dates before they travel, since warm weather can cause cancellations.

Before snowmobilers head for trails, there must be at least four inches of snow on the ground.

AAA Michigan also suggests snowmobilers follow these safety rules:

- Dress warmly and avoid clothing which may become tangled in the equipment.
- Carry first aid and survival kits which include a compass, maps, matches in a waterproof container, food and extra clothing.
- Do not stray from marked trails. Look for fences and wires hidden in the snow. Respect private property.
- Make sure ice is at least six inches thick before snowmobiling across lakes and rivers. Beware of fishing holes, stumps and pilings concealed by snow. Avoid ice at river mouths.
- Avoid alcohol consumption.
- Avoid excessive speed.
- Of the 407 accidents in Michigan that involved snowmobilers during the 1985-86 season—the last year for which statistics are available—13 persons were killed and 371 were injured.

LEDGER DEADLINE
To help us meet our deadlines, please take note of the following guidelines for submitted material, including pictures.

All news copy should be in the Ledger office by 5 P.M. on Mondays. The material should be type-written or written legibly. Either way, we ask that you provide space between the lines to make room for possible editing.

Wedding stories should be submitted within six weeks after the ceremony.

We prefer black and white photos. Color photos, because they don't reproduce as well, will be accepted only if they are of exceptional quality.

The deadline for classified ads (want ads) is Monday at 5 P.M. Display advertising deadline is also Monday at 5 P.M.

The Ledger is open 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Monday through Friday, closed Thursday afternoons. A story can be submitted after hours through the mail slot in our front door.

Jan Johnson receives LAAC "Arty" award

Jan Johnson

Jan Johnson was the recipient of this year's Arty Award. Presenting her the award was past winner Chris VanAntwerp. The ceremony took place at the January Lowell Area Arts Council meeting.

The Arty Award was established years ago as a way of showing gratitude toward a member who has demonstrated great dedication to the many projects of the Arts Council.

Johnson, who was chosen by a committee of past award winners, has promoted the Arts and art related activities all her life.

She is a charter member of LAAC, and has exhibited more years than any other artist at the Fallasburg Fall Festival.

Johnson has also designed the Fallasburg logo, play program covers, gallery invitations and cachets for the philatelic station at Fallasburg.

"Johnson is an invaluable member of the gallery committee, planning and hanging exhibits as well as attending to the details of invitations and receptions," VanAntwerp said.

The Arty Award recipient is a graduate from Kendall School of Design and did post graduate work at the Ringling School of Art and Grand Rapids Junior College.

Johnson is currently senior designer of Distributor Publications for Amway Corporation.

Following the award presentation several members were elected to fill vacancies on the board of directors. Elected to two year terms were: Chris Hodges, Nancy Wood, George Dey, Ginny Gustafson, Gary Eldridge and Don Silvis.

Elected to one year terms were: Stacy Langlois and Jeanne Wise.

In other news:

VanAntwerp presented gifts of appreciation to Lori Ingraham and Chris Hodges for their efforts and hours of dedicated service to the LAAC.

Donate antiques to C of C

Ron McCollum, owner of Flat River Antique Mall, holds some of the pictures donated recently by Roger Brown. These pictures will be put on display in the newly formed Chamber of Commerce booth at the Mall.

After some thought, McCollum decided to use the pictures to start an antique booth for the Chamber of Commerce. "Now if anyone wants to sell some antiques, but wants to donate the proceeds to the Chamber, there will be a booth to display the items."

McCollum added that items left in the former Buyers Guide Building will also be sold in the Commerce booth.

"We all agree that the Chamber should be a self-sustaining and a productive organization. Money is needed to make that happen, and if McCollum is in a position to produce that start, I think it's great," FMB State Savings Bank President and chamber member Keith Caldwell said.

"Roger Brown, publisher of the Lowell Ledger, donated some old pictures to the Flat River Antique Mall," McCollum said.

"We all agree that the Chamber should be a self-sustaining and a productive organization. Money is needed to make that happen, and if McCollum is in a position to produce that start, I think it's great," FMB State Savings Bank President and chamber member Keith Caldwell said.

UNITED METHODIST PRESCHOOL TO SPONSOR PARENTS NIGHT

Have you ever wondered how to handle children when they misbehave--or talk back--or refuse to obey the rules?

If you have or if you are interested in other aspects of child raising, you'll be interested in a Parents' Night, sponsored by the United Methodist Preschool on Thursday, February 11, at 7:00 p.m.

You are cordially invited to the United Methodist Education Building at 621 East Main St., Lowell, to hear John Schmidt from Children's Village in Detroit lead a discussion on "Children and Discipline."

Babysitting will be provided and refreshments will be served. There is no charge for the event.

In case of severe weather, the meeting will be held one week later, February 18.
