Radio Shack is sold; will move to mall

As winter gives way to spring, Curt Albrecht, owner of Radio Shack -- Curt's Sound & Home Arcade Center, will officially give way to its new owner, Jim Hodges on March 25.

Albrecht, who stated health reasons for his departure from the Lowell electronic franchise, will be opening up a new Radio Shack store, come May, in Winslow, Ariz. Moving with him will be his wife, Maria and his two children, April and Craig. "Because of health reasons I will be relocating, but I will still be running a Radio Shack franchise," Albrecht said.

Albrecht first opened his Lowell store in December of 1983, six years after moving to Lowell.

"If it weren't for health reasons, I would stay in Lowell," Albrecht explained.

Hodges, formerly the director of the Lowell YMCA for six years, looks forward to the challenge with anxiety, excitement and some nervousness.

"My wife (Chris) and I have been looking to get into a private ownership situation for a couple of years now," Hodges said. "But we wanted it to be a well known, reputable establishment."

Radio Shack will close at 6 p.m. on Friday, March 25 and will re-open as Lowelectronics in early April at its new location in the west end of the Ridgeview Mall next to Family Dollar.

"I feel that a Radio Shack business belongs at a mall and/or plaza type location and atmosphere," Hodges explained.

The Hodges have been married 15 years and have two children Jim, 9; and Ben, 7.

Chris Hodges serves as vice president of the Lowell Area Arts Council; secretary for the Runciman/Riverside Parent and Teacher Organization; and as the Congregational Church school superintendent.

Jim Hodges serves as member of the Showboat Committee; the second vice president elect for the Lowell Rotary; and as Deacon of the First Congregational Church.

He adds, "We will still continue as supportive participants of the YMCA."

Egg hunts Mar. 26 & April 2

"Here comes 'Peter Cottontail' hopping down the bunny trail", not really, but there will be two Easter egg hunts hopping their way into the Lowell area within the next two weeks.

On Saturday, April 2, Dr. Todd Gillan's office, with the support from area merchants, will sponsor the second annual easter egg hunt at Fallasburg Park.

The Easter Egg Hunt bonanza will start at 10 a.m. with prizes, treats and fun planned for all children ages 12 and under in attendance.

Kids will be placed into three categories, three-years old and under; 4-6 years; and 7-12 years.

There will be three grand prize winners, each receiving a $50 gift certificate at Toys 'R' Us.

If children wish to get into the egg hunting spirit prior to April 2, they may also attend an Easter egg hunt on Saturday, March 26.

N. Leone and Sons Inc., food service distributors, along with Changing Times Restaurant will sponsor the second annual Easter Egg Hunt at Creekside Park at 10 a.m.

The children will be split up into three age groups, 3-5 years; 6-8 years; 9-11 years.

Children from each of the three different age brackets, will be hunting for golden eggs worth $1 and for the one egg that has a Toys 'R' Us gift certificate inside.

Chris and Jim Hodges, left, starting sometime in early April, will move Radio Shack out to the Ridgeview Shopping Center next to Family Dollar. The Hodges purchased the franchise from Curt and Maria Albrecht, who will be starting a new radio Shack franchise of their own in Winslow, Ariz.

Lowell High School's science olympiad team qualified for state competition by finishing fifth out of 30 high schools in the fourth annual regional science tournament at Grand Valley State University on March 12.

The top six schools qualified for the April 16 state tournament at GVSU located in Allendale.

The regional, the largest in the country, is sponsored by the GVSU and the Coalition for Excellence in Science and Math Education.

Lowell was one of 30 schools participating in the C (high school) division. There were also 30 B (middle school) division schools that participated.

Of Lowell's 20 member team, only 15 are allowed to compete in the regionals and state competition.

Lowell, a participant all four years, has now advanced to state three out of the last four years.

First-place medals were earned by Aaron Ebling and Emiel Stoepler for their laser shoot; and Mats Oberg for his metric estimation.

Earning medals for second place were Bill Johnson and Mike Cichon for their chemistry lab.

Third-place medalists for their science bowl were Heather Nauta, Patrick Nugent, Ken Mulder and Matt Howard.

Nauta and Nugent also picked up a medal for their balloon race project.

Oberg and Kevin Dudek's water-water project received a third-place medal. Ebling and Stoepler picked up a second medal with their measurement exercise.

Overall, Lowell received two firsts, one second and four thirds.

"There were 21 events, and we participated in the physics, chemistry, biology and earth science areas," coach Bob Garcia said.

The Red Arrows best finish in the state competition has been in the top half of the 40 schools competing.

The two top teams in the state will move on to the nationals.

"Getting to the nationals would be pretty tough since the four classes compete against one another and the bigger Detroit schools put a lot of time and money into the Michigan Science Olympiad," Garcia said.

Sharing the coaching duties with Garcia are Rick White and Phil Beachler.

Following is a list of the top six schools in the C division. 1. Grand Rapids Christian; 2. Grand Haven; 3. Fruitport; 4. Reeths-Puffer; 5. Lowell; 6. Jenison.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love....(John 15:10).

Inevitably spring is accompanied by storms. Lightning sends its electrical fingers zig-zagging through the darkened canopy above us. Thunder, loud and frightening, shakes the earth. Rain descends in torrents, and the wind whips through trees and bushes, damaging nature's handiwork.

When lightning strikes a majestic oak, a stalwart pine, or a plump apple tree, leaving its heart split open, the sight saddens us. We know the severed branch will wither and decay. Separated from the parent trunk, the branch is void of nourishment. And life. It cannot continue to exist nor bear fruit.

So it is with God's children. Through Him flows life. As we abide in Him, we receive the life and strength to live and bear fruit. In Him is embodied all righteousness. Only through Him do we receive ability to do good and power to live creatively happy and useful lives. As long as we keep His commandments, we shall abide in Him, and "storms cannot separate us" from His love.

Prayer: Dear God, I thank Thee for Thy life-giving blood and for giving me the ability to do good and live creatively. Keep me safe and secure in Thee when the storms of life are raging. Amen.

Happy Birthday

In the rifted Rock I'll hide me Till the storms of life are past; All secure in this blest refuge, Heeding not the fiercest blast. Mary D. James

"Bodyworks" out to enroll 'Couch potatoes'

Bob Bristol and his five-year old son Charles work out together about twice a week. Charles, who spends about 10-15 minutes a session bodybuilding, hopes someday to be as big as his Dad.

Four years ago Bob Bristol was a self-proclaimed "couch potato," having all his energy zapped from him through the power of television.

Then through the efforts of a friend, John Mitchell, Bristol began working out with weights at home and at a gym in Grand Rapids. "At first it was like another job, and now it's part of my life."

Today, Bristol, has his eyes set on competing in Body Building competitions.

"Body building is so rewarding, and by looking better, a person also feels better about oneself," Bristol said. "All it takes to look healthy is an hour a day 3-4 times a week."

Soon, working out at home and traveling to the gym in Grand Rapids wasn't enough. Bristol needed more, more as in a place of his own.

It will be two years in August that Bristol and Gordy Sharp opened up Bodyworks Gym at 519 E. Main.

"It's a good club. We have over 100 members," Bristol said. A voice in the back (Bodyworks employee) adds, "It's growing rapidly."

Bristol continues, "There's a good bunch of people that come in here. They're all very friendly and everyone seems to get along with one another."

Bristol, who works fulltime at ITM, includes his wife, Sue and his five-year old son Charles on that list.

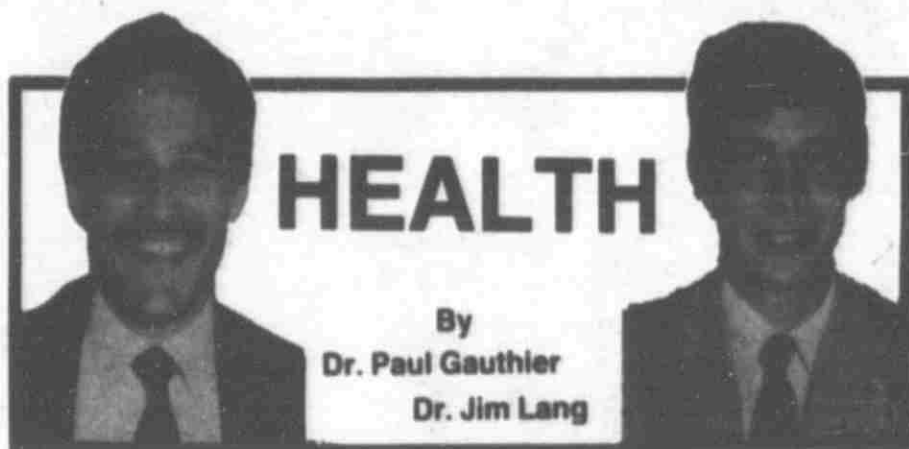

"Yes, my little boy comes in about twice a week and works out with dad for about 10-15 minutes," Bristol beams.

The patrons at the Bodyworks Gym have a wide variance in age. There's Charles, the youngest, and according to Bristol, the Bodyworks has a gentleman in his middle 50's that also uses the gym.

Along with weights, the Bodyworks offers the top-of-the-line Wolfe-Klaafun "Cosmos" tanning beds, write-up programs, vitamin programs, six individual instructors, sport drinks and exercise clothing.

Bristol adds that the Bodyworks has revamped its hours. The gym is now open from 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. There is one myth about body building Bristol would like cleared up. "Fat does not turn into muscle, and muscle does not turn into fat," Bristol said.

SCARLET FEVER

Since we've recently had a notable outbreak of scarlet fever in the Lowell and surrounding school systems, we thought it might be timely to discuss this rather misunderstood, primarily pediatric disease.

Scarlet fever, simply put is "strep" throat with an associated rash. "Strep" is an abbreviation of streptococcus, the bacteria primarily responsible for acute bacterial infections of the tonsils and throat.

The incubation period for scarlet fever is usually 3 to 5 days. The illness begins abruptly with symptoms of fever, chills, headache, and sore throat. Children may experience nausea and vomiting. Within 24 to 48 hours the disease reaches its maximum intensity - the child has difficulty swallowing and often develops tender lymph node enlargement in the front of the neck. During the period of maximum temperature there may develop a diffuse "blush" of the skin. This may progress to a fine red "sand-papery rash" which appears 1 to 5 days after the onset of sore throat. When this rash develops with associated sore throat the diagnosis of scarlet fever is made.

The rash of scarlet fever is first noticed over the neck and upper part of the chest. It spreads rapidly to include the skin over the abdomen and upper and lower extremities. The rash appears more vividly red in the areas of skin folds (ie: groin, crack of buttocks).

Since scarlet fever is caused by the strep bacteria (which is contagious) it is no wonder that this infection can spread rapidly in school and day-care settings.

Diagnosis is made on the basis of clinical appearance of the throat and the rash, and is conclusively made by throat culture. Treatment consists of penicillin to be taken orally for a full ten days. Erythromycin is an alternate to those with penicillin allergy.

There is no need to quarantine a patient with scarlet fever. When the child is without fever and has been on antibiotic therapy for forty-eight hours the risk of infectivity is quite low. There is no rational reason either, for blanket treatment of a patient's family members or school contacts. Treatment should only be directed at those individuals with identifiable signs and symptoms of strep throat and/or development of a scarlet fever-like rash.

L.H.S. student observes "Nevada Desert Experience"

Curt Bond, Lowell High School student, was one of thousands on hand for the Nevada Desert Experience. The demonstration was in protest of the nuclear testing site.

Seven members of the A.J. Muste Affinity Group, a division of the Institute for Global Education, took a six-day venture to "Mercury, Nevada" more commonly referred to as the "Nevada Test Site."

Among the seven members taking the trip was Lowell High School senior Curt Bond, 18, the son of Randy and Kay Bond.

The trip was an effort to join thousands of other demonstrators from across the country in a non-violent demonstration to reclaim the test site in Nevada.

"The land was originally the property of the Shoshoni Tribe. A treaty was made then, which is now being violated. The Shoshoni did not believe property should be individually owned," Bond said.

Bond added that he had no plans to become involved. "I just wanted to see who was there and what it looked like."

The demonstration which was called the "Nevada Desert Experience" is the type of peaceful demonstrations that have been held since 1985. Thousands of demonstrators have participated and hundreds have been arrested, including physicist Carl Sagan and actor Martin Sheen.

Bond was a member of the local group A.J. Muste, named after a world famous peace activist who was at one time a pastor from Holland.

Bond got involved in the group through Rev. Robert Stone and Mae Gauthier, the local group trip coordinators.

The demonstration was called the "Nevada Test Experience," with demonstrators ranging in age from 16 to 78-years old. "The 16-year olds were not there because their parents brought them. They were there by themselves," Bond explains.

The actual identity of the Nevada Test site is somewhat covered up. Bond adds, "The off-exit used to get to the site is labeled Mercury, Nevada, however, many use the exit thinking they will get gas, but find there is no gas, only a nuclear test site."

Bond says the first day at the demonstration there were about 100 people, but by the next morning 5,000 were on the scene.

"The demonstration isn't a one time thing, demonstrations go on constantly throughout the year," Bond said. "There were around 1,500 arrested on Sunday and Monday (March 13 & 14)."

He continues, "Some ladies went around behind the gate area into what they call the back country. This is dangerous because guards are told to shoot on sight any trespassers.

Those demonstrators who were arrested were put into a divided pen, one side for men and the other for women, according to Bond.

"They had buses that would then take 150 demonstrators at a time and bus them to the county line," he said.

Bond will pursue sociology and communication degrees after high school graduation.

Mulder is honored

Ken Mulder, high school senior, received a check in the amount of $175 from Lowell Music Boosters Club.

This money was given to help offset expenses he incurred when traveling to Arizona over Christmas vacation to participate in the National Bicentennial Band, made up of youth from all over the state. This band performed during the festivities at the Fiesta Bowl.

The Music Boosters Club is very proud to have one of its band members be a part of this national group. Congratulations, Ken!

Ken Mulder is presented a check from the Lowell Music Boosters by Bob Rice, High School band instructor.

WITTENBACH "Where Used Cars Stand Tall & Sell Right"

cozy corner by Roger Brown

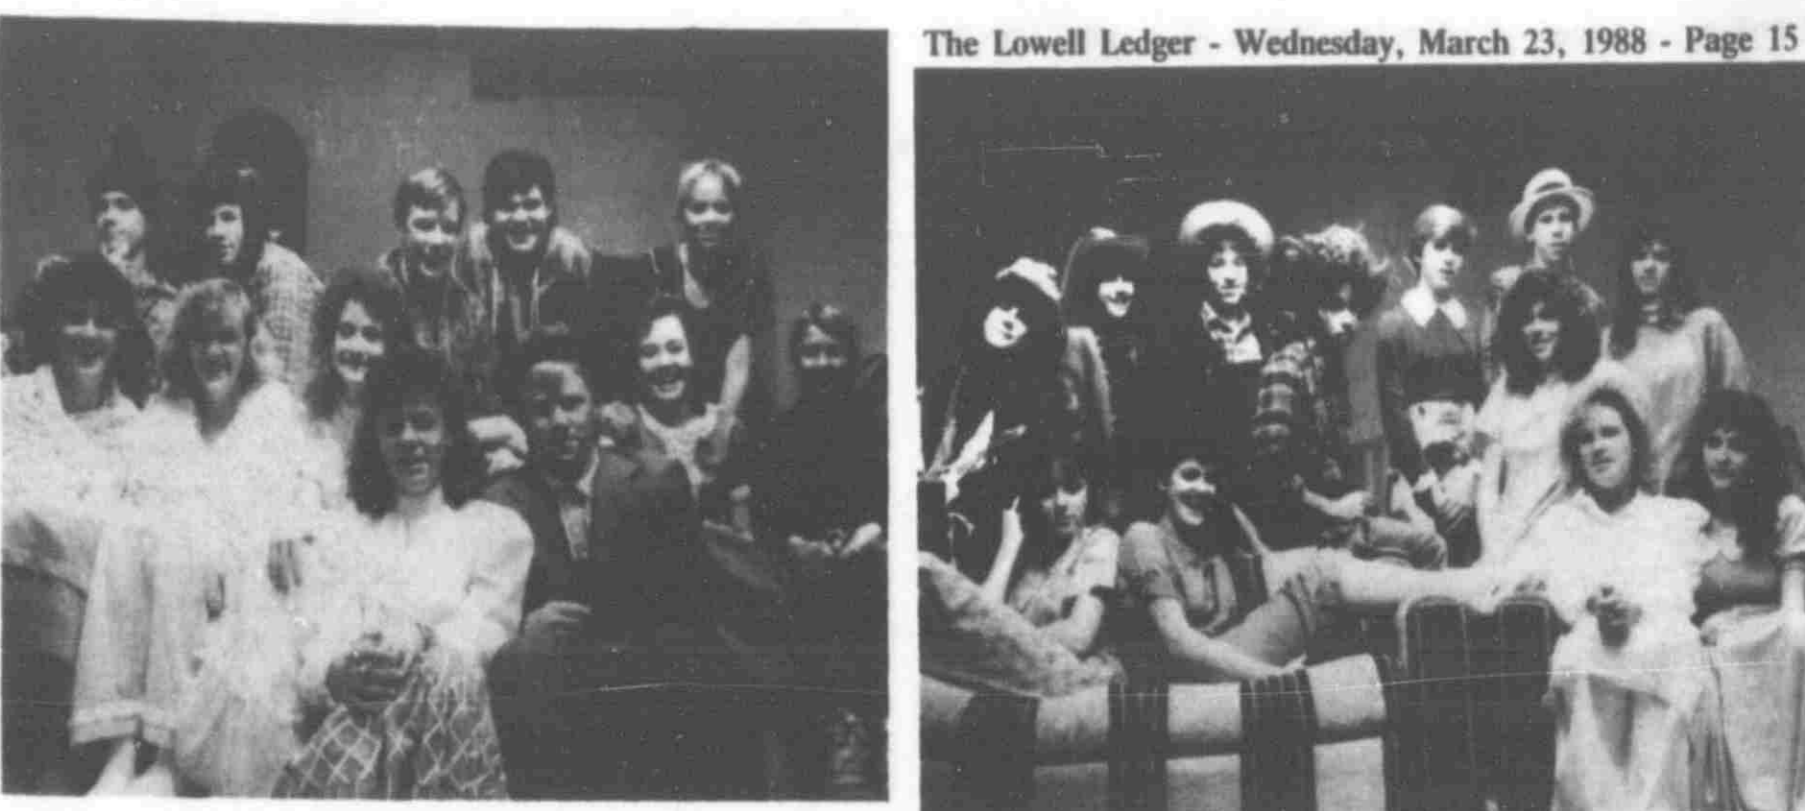

A couple of weeks ago I wrote about my mysterious, missing watch. If you didn't read the column, my watch came up missing after a small dinner party at my house. I remembered taking it off at the table because the tight knit cuffs of a new shirt made it irritate my wrist, but couldn't swear to what happened to it from there. The more I searched the house, the cars, the garage and my brain, the less idea I had of where it might have gone. Since then, I've taken a lot of guff regarding my watch. The day my column about the watch was published, a fellow Rotarian stood up during our weekly meeting and announced that he had possession of a watch with my name on it. My ears perked up, and for a moment I even had a glimmer of hope that he might indeed have my watch. I should have known better. The Rotarian presented me with a dime store, digital child's watch in the shape of a cartoon bear's face. To see the time, you have to open the bear's face up and look inside. Real cute! Sure enough, the watch had my name written on the band, though the band would fit my thumb better than my wrist. The Rotarian didn't stop there. He went on with a long story about how the watch had been given to him by a woman named "Bubbles", who supposedly dances for a living at a well-known 28th St. landmark. The story went on from there, but my face was sufficiently red by that point. I asked one of the party guests if she remembered seeing me put the watch somewhere peculiar. I didn't intend to sound like I was accusing anyone, but she immediately piped up and said, "Well, I didn't take it!" I felt awful when I realized she thought I was accusing her. My mouth dropped open and I stammered, "But, but... I ah, didn't... ah mean to... ah". Thankfully, she soon laughed, and I realized she had been pulling my leg. My wife has probably been the hardest on me. Terese bought the watch for me as an anniversary gift last year, so she felt she had free rein to really make me feel like pond scum for losing it. Some of the comments I've heard have been along the lines of: "Don't ask me! I wasn't wearing it!" "If you wouldn't take it off all the time, you wouldn't lose it!" I've just been waiting for this to happen! "I can't believe you can't remember what you did with it! The kids take better care of their stuff than that!" You get the picture. Well, the watch turned up Saturday, just a month to the day, from the time it disappeared. And guess where it turned up? In one of the big patch pockets of the pants Terese wore the night it came up missing. She apparently put the watch in her pocket when clearing the table, and hadn't worn the pants since. Now, I could say a few things in retaliation for all the grief she has given me about that watch, but I have learned when to keep my mouth shut. After all, the watch was a fifteenth wedding anniversary gift, and you don't make fifteen years of marriage work by spouting off at your wife. Even if she has it coming!

M.S. presents: "Wedding Belles & Lumberjacks"

The expansion of our great Northwest was due, in part, to the foresight of a few brave and enterprising individuals who knew the importance of romance in taming the West. The upcoming play by the Lowell Middle School Eighth Grade Drama Class, "Lumberjacks and Wedding Belles", tells the story of such an enterprising individual who convinces a number of lovely Boston belles to accompany him in his return to Washington. The idea is that the lonely lumberjacks, awaiting their arrival, can use some civilization "if this territory of 'folks' is to ever become a town. The belles are in for a few surprises...and that's where the fun begins. The play will be presented on Tuesday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m., in the Middle School cafeteria, as well as three other performances for the student body.

Lowell Band receives Number One Rating

The Lowell High School Symphonic Band proudly brought home a number one rating from the district band festival on Friday, March 11. The band performed at Forest Hills Central High School under the direction of Robert Rice. The festival is held each year at various sites throughout the area with about fifteen bands performing at each site. Each band performs three pieces of music: A march and two concert pieces. The music performed by Lowell was: "Vietnam Veterans March" by Gabriele, "Interlochen Variations" by Jones, and "Of Fire and Celebration" by Swearingen. The pieces are performed for three adjudicators who judge the music in several different areas on an A, B, C, scale.

being the best possible score. On their three concert pieces, Lowell received all A's and a first division rating from all three adjudicators. In sightreading they received a high second division rating which averaged as a first division for their total performance. Receiving a number one rating qualifies the Lowell Band for the State Festival on Saturday, April 30. "The band is very excited about receiving a first division and they plan to work very hard toward the State Festival," said Mr. Rice. Congratulations to all the band members and good luck at the State Festival. The United States produces more oranges than any other country.

Lowell wrestling coach Gary Rivers tied all the loose ends together as he officially closed out the 1987-88 Red Arrow wrestling season at the annual grapplers' banquet.

Rivers' 28th year as the varsity wrestling coach marked the end of a wrestling trio (Kyle Gildea, Tom Nugent and Mike Rivers) that may take some time to duplicate.

"It has been tremendous having them to coach. I will miss the three boys. They will be hard to replace," Rivers said.

He continues, "However, I seem to say that every year about the outgoing seniors, and somehow we seem to do alright."

The season also marked the start of budding careers by freshmen, Brad Whalen, Clay Vanderwarf and Nate Nauta.

Whalen, who was 22-17 with 19 pins, was named the team's Most Improved Wrestler.

Nauta finished the year at 15-9 with 10 pins, while Vanderwarf was 13-12 with 10 pins.

While the tri-captain leadership of Gildea, Nugent, and Rivers, ended, the role of captains and leadership was passed onto Aaron Adams, Todd Nauta, Bart Olin, and Tony Stepek for a fresh start in 1988-89.

The four grapplers accounted for 127 Red Arrow victories this season. Stepek recorded 35 wins followed by Olin and Nauta each with 32 and Adams with 28.

Call it "out with the old and in with the new," but, the banquet gave coach, wrestlers, and parents time for one last reflection on the team's accomplishments.

The 1987-88 season saw the Lowell team crowned as District Champions; O-K White Conference Champions; Muskegon Invitational Champions; and Lowell Invitational Champions.

The 1987-88 season brought such individual honors as Gildea joining the elite 100-win club; Gildea, Nugent and Rivers qualifying for the state individual tournament; Bart Olin set a new season takedown record with 31; Tom Nugent led the team in pins with 36; and Rivers put his name at the top of six LHS records, making the number he owns now at eight.

Rivers also had the yearly Most Valuable Player award bestowed upon him.

"The club had a super year," Rivers concluded. Assistant coach John Wilder put Rivers on the spot when he asked if the coach would still be coaching next year? "Right now, yes," Rivers said to the delight of the audience.

Rivers will enter his 29th season with an LHS lifetime dual meet mark of 346-90-5.

Red Arrow basketball teams are honored for a competitive season in O-K White Kyle Gildea, left, Tom Nugent, Brad Whalen and Mike Rivers, right, received individual honors for their performances this season. Gildea was the only Red Arrow to join the elite 100 win club this season. Nugent was honored for his team-high 36 pins. Whalen was named the Most Improved Wrestler, while Rivers was crowned the Lowell Most Valuable Wrestler.

Ken Akers summed up the entire Lowell varsity basketball season after receiving a certificate for a weekend for two at the Grand Am Plaza from his players. "This is typical of their play this year, nothing less than all out."

It took an all out, don't quit, keep coming at you type effort to stay competitive in the O-K White conference in 1987-88.

"The O-K White was as physical as any conference in the area. It was also as strong," Akers said.

The Red Arrows non-conference schedule wasn't weak by any stretch. Delton, Lakewood, Belding, Greenville, Ionia and Caledonia were the foes, with the Red Arrows only victory coming against the Redskins of Belding.

After an 0-2 start, Lowell evened its slate with wins against Kenowa Hills and Sparta. The Red Arrows then dropped four of five before chalking up consecutive victories against F.H. Central and Kenowa Hills.

Despite improving play, Lowell lost three of four going into the second Wyoming Park confrontation. The Red Arrows one-point win over one of the top teams in the league provided a shot in the arm for the remaining regular season contests and for the districts.

After dropping three in a row, Lowell closed out its regular season with a victory at Forest Hills Central.

The Red Arrows opened the districts against Forest Hills Northern. Despite falling behind by as many as 20 in the first half, Lowell was within four of the Huskies with less than three minutes to play. However, a comeback wasn't to be, as Lowell lost 82-74.

"For the first time that I can remember, the team MVP vote ended in a tie," Akers said. "I decided not to break it."

Seniors, Ken Nelson and Jeff Phillips were the recipients.

"With the possible exception of Eric Taylor, from Wyoming Park, I think Nelson was the best point guard in the league," Akers said.

Nelson led the team in steals with 94 and assists with 79. He was also named to the All-Conference honorable mention team.

Phillips meanwhile, led the team in points scored with 344 (18.1 a game); most points in a game, 31; most field goals, 139; most free throws, 76; and most rebounds with 151.

He was also named to the O-K White All Conference first team. "Phillips had a tremendous career at Lowell High School," Akers said.

The Coach's Award given in recognition to the player that demonstrates leadership on and off the court, and in the community was given to Matt Quada.

"He's a quality individual," Akers said. "He worked hard on the court and was a leader."

The phrase "You've got to have heart" aptly fits the play of senior guard Paul Stroosnyder. The Arrow played hurt all year. "Many people don't realize the injuries (ankle, back sprain, shin splints) he played with, I have great admiration for him," Akers said.

One Red Arrow that held more than his own in the rough and tumble conference was senior center Dan Byrne. The Arrow's 52 percent field goal rate was a team high.

"Dan is physical. He's done a great job on the boards and on defense over the years," Akers said.

Other seniors that were recognized for their efforts this year and in years past were Joel Schrenk, Rob Burritt, and Mats Oberg.

Ryder wins Lincoln Tourney

Dennie Ryder, 20, Lowell, son of Mr. Mrs. James Ryder, grabbed a first in Lincoln School's Bowling tournament at the Westgate Bowling Lanes in Grand Rapids on March 11. Ryder earned a trophy for his high game, 159. Two weeks prior to that Ryder rolled his personal best, a 224.

The YMCA sponsored 3rd & 4th-grade basketball teams completed their season March 17.

The four clubs played before fans at the final two varsity home games.

"The YMCA teaches basketball fundamentals, sportsmanship and teamwork for boys and girls in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades," third and fourth-grade basketball director Jim Reagan said.

There were 39 third and fourth grade children that participated this season.

"Records are not kept, it's all for the kids' enjoyment," Reagan added.

Lowell gymnast Laura Kropf completed her freshman season Saturday (March 19) at the gymnastic individual state competition in Ann Arbor.

Kropf, who qualified for state with her fine performance on the uneven bars in the regional (9.15), a week before, finished with a 9.15 in the state competition, placing 12th.

"I was real pleased with Kropf's performance. She had a very good routine," Red Arrow gymnastic coach Tammy Fitzpatrick said.

She adds, "The team was 6-3 this year, competed in the regional and we had one person go to state, a pretty good season."

CAPITOL COLUMN
As the world becomes a more complicated and complex place to live and work, a college education is now a necessity for a growing number of jobs and skilled trades. The federal government recognizes the importance of a secondary education and provides limited tuition assistance and loans based on financial need.

Unfortunately, many middle-class families do not qualify for federal financial aid and their children are forced to rely on available family finances, student loans and their own income to pay for college. Most students can vouch that part-time jobs barely meet living expenses, much less pay for tuition, books and housing. That can mean delaying college, becoming a part-time student or borrowing large sums of money.

The Michigan Education Trust (MET) is supposed to make it easier for middle-class families to finance a college education for their children by buying into the state's guaranteed pre-paid tuition program. We were waiting for the Internal Revenue Service to rule on the fund's tax status before proceeding. And just recently, the IRS said the participants who buy into the program would be exempt from taxes. However, the state must pay taxes on any portion of trust revenue made through taxable investments. It's a minor setback that means the trust will pay the taxes for you; it's not totally tax free. That also means that plan will cost more than originally anticipated.

Here's how the program will work: parents or sponsors will invest a set amount of money with the state which then guarantees...

Library offers spring break activity for tots
Spring break is at hand, and the Kent County Library System has devised a fun and educational way to keep kids occupied during their school vacation.

Children are invited to drop by any branch of the Kent County Library System and pick up a free 14-page booklet full of interesting projects, games and puzzles to take home and enjoy.

Comments Children's Services Coordinator Mary Frydrych, "So many kids get to go away during spring vacation; this is something special we've come up with for the children who stay home."

Kids will find easy directions for making a flying saucer and a volcano, simple no-cooking recipes, crafts, mazes, puzzles, codes, and games to play alone and with friends. Included with each project or activity are suggestions on how youngsters can increase their learning and enjoyment by exploring other library resources: for example, kids who get a kick out of making the volcano to boys and girls between six and twelve years old; the younger children may need some parental assistance with some of the projects.

The books will be available at the Lowell Branch, 325 W. Main, and the Alto Branch, 6059 Linfield.

Falcons making comeback

Boosted by successful starts in Grand Rapids and Detroit since 1986, the citizen-supported program to restore peregrine falcons to Michigan will spread its wings to the Upper Peninsula this summer, reports the Department of Natural Resources.

A mid-size bird of prey, about as big as a crow, with a wingspan of about three feet, the peregrine is distinguished by its pointed wings, narrow tail, and quick wingbeats. Adults have slate blue head and back; sides and belly are sharply barred in black. Peregrines have been called the "ultimate bird" perhaps the swiftest and most graceful of all birds.

Characterized by strong flight, keen vision, large feet with sharply curved talons, and a strong sharply-hooked bill, they usually hunt their prey in the air. Known to hit speeds of 180 miles per hour or more in diving for prey, sometimes they are called "feathered bullet" for its high-speed performance.

Joint plans of the DNR, U.S. Forest Service, and National Park Service call for releasing five of the young birds in late June or early July from a special holding cage that will be placed high on a cliff in the Bergland area of western Ontonagon County.

Item No. 2: Transfer of Class C and SDM License with Dance Permit at 211 West Main. The City received a request of transferring Class C and SDM License for the Village Inn to Jane Feutz, who is acquiring ownership of the establishment. A police investigation had been conducted and it was recommended that such a transfer request be granted by the Council.

An entertainment permit has also been requested. Police Chief Barry Emmon's recommendation was to turn this down primarily due to lack of floor space and available parking. He also stated that the permit language is vague, and doesn't leave us much control. This could allow monologues, dialogues, motion pictures, still slides, closed circuit television, contests and other performances for public viewing. He noted that such events as mud wrestling and stripping could be included under the permit. Ms. Feutz assured the Council that any entertainment she would offer would not be offensive. Police Chief Emmons noted that whatever the Council decides is merely local approval, and the State Liquor Control Commission has final authority of granting permits.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Collins to approve the transfer of Class C and SDM License with dance permit at 211 West Main to Jane Feutz.

YEA: 3. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 2. MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Maatman to recommend to the State Liquor Control Commission not to allow the entertainment permit at 211 West Main.

YEA: 3. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 2. MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 3: Sidewalk Ordinance Public Hearing and consideration of a Sidewalk Construction Policy. The public hearing was opened by Mayor Maatman. The sidewalk ordinance covered the following: (1) the necessity to construct and maintain sidewalks, (2) responsibility and liability for sidewalks, (3) requirements of upgrading walks not in good repair and construct sidewalks where none exist, (4) requirements for sidewalks related to new construction, (5) issuance of sidewalk permits, and (6) placement of special assessments for failure of property owner to comply.

The City has proposed a voluntary program to encourage people to construct new sidewalks where none exist and to repair and replace walks that are in very poor condition. The program offers a 50% City cost sharing for replacement of sidewalks, and a 25% City cost sharing for new sidewalks. For corner lots, the City would contribute one-third of the total lineal footage cost, in addition to the percentages already mentioned. Also, it was provided that the property owners may repay their portion of the cost over a five year period on a special assessment basis. IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Collins to adopt the Sidewalk ordinance. YEA: 3. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 2. MOTION CARRIED.

Under the discussion of sidewalk replacement and construction policy, the Council decided that the City would provide the same financial assistance for a property owner performing sidewalk work under a homeowner's permit. This would be based on a standard cost of materials only (minus any labor) for work done to City's specifications.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Collins to approve the resolution policy for a sidewalk construction and replacement program with an amendment for financial assistance for property owners doing their own work. YEA: 3. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 2. MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 4: Hudson St. Bridge - Negotiations with the County Road Commission. City Manager Pasquale informed the Council that he has had discussions with James Porritt, Managing Director of the Kent County Road Commission about County participation in repairing the Hudson St. Bridge and upgrading South Hudson Street to Main. A letter was sent from Mr. Porritt outlining costs of $450,000 to complete these tasks and mentioning the possibility of negotiating with the County in terms of sharing these costs. Pasquale requested permission to negotiate with the County providing any tentative agreement be subject to Council approval. The Council authorized Pasquale to proceed.

Item No. 5: Fire Station - Funding Plan. City Manager Pasquale noted that the recently completed municipal buildings needs study identified the urgency to construct a new fire station. He requested permission to prepare a funding proposal for this facility. The Council authorized Pasquale to proceed.

Item No. 6: Community Development Block Grant. City Manager Pasquale informed the Council that City would receive an estimated $18,522 in Federal Community Development Block Grant funds through Kent County. Projects need to be identified for application this spring. Pasquale suggested that the first priority should be the South Hudson Street bridge and road improvement project. The Council concurred.

The Council agreed to have the proper proposal advertised for public comments before final consideration at this meeting.

Item No. 7: Invitation to join the Association of Grand Rapids Area Governments. City Manager Pasquale stated that recently he received a call from Nyal Deems, Mayor of East Grand Rapids, inviting the City of Lowell to join AGRAG. This is a voluntary organization of Grand Rapids area communities meeting on a regular basis to discuss items of regional mutual concern. It was decided by the Council by consensus to join AGRAG.

Item No. 8: Ordinance for Placing No Stopping/Stopping/Parking Signs in the W. Main-Ridgeview Drive - Set Public Hearing. In noting that the Council passed a resolution to the Michigan Department of Transportation to place no stopping/standing/parking signs on W. Main, City Manager Pasquale stated that on recommendation from MDOT the City could receive the signs faster if a local ordinance was passed. IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Doyle to set the public hearing for an Ordinance placing no stopping/standing/parking signs in the W. Main-Ridgeview Drive on March 21, 1988. YEA: 3. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 2. MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 9: Council Comments. Councilmember Doyle inquired about the red tag on the Lowell Medical Center sign near the W. Main-Center St. intersection. Police Chief Emmons stated that he would check into the matter. Mayor Maatman said that he would sign a 3 foot X 5 foot card with other county area officials responding to a Kentucky college study ranking Western Michigan low on quality of life. Councilmember Doyle inquired if any would attend the annual Michigan Public Power meeting. Also, he wanted to enter Schneider Manor for a Michigan Municipal League achievement award.

Item No. 10: Manager's Report. The report included the following eight items:

1. The re-establishment of Fire Board comprised of Lowell City, Lowell Township, and Vergennes Township was proposed to discuss Fire Department building and facility needs and promote greater communication. The Council concurred and invited the townships to participate.
2. Planning on the sliding hill has continued with DPW Director Siciliano working with Rich Bieri to compile a quote on the project. Funding application for the Look-Daley Committee is anticipated.
3. The minutes for the Parks and Recreation Commission were given to Council.
4. At the February 22 Planning Commission meeting, a public hearing was established to set lighting standards for parking lots. Also discussion about zoning along East Main Street was held.
5. A request has been made to MDOT reviewing left turn phasing for the Main-Hudson traffic light.
6. A memo from Judy Noonan was given explaining the Ryskamp/Gable payment background for the purchase of the gravel pit area on Bowes Road. The Lee Fund was chosen for financing since the City is planning to turn this area eventually into a park.
7. The latest report on the Schneider Fund was enclosed.
8. Dave Baerwalde, from Lowell presently working as a staff aide to Senator Rudy Nichols, has been planning a three on three basketball tournament. He will be present at the next City Council meeting to formally discuss his plans.

Item No. 11: Appointments. Mayor Maatman appointed John Gabrion on the Board of Review. Also he appointed the following on the Airport Board: Dave Drain for a one year term, Jim Pfaller for a two year term, and Roger Brown, Leonard Jackson, and Bill Thompson for three year terms.
