Michigan's roads lead Evans to Lowell

He's been the eyes and ears of West Michigan for 14-plus years.

Dick Evans, that roaming, sometimes adventurous feature reporter for WOTV, channel 8 in Grand Rapids, has been on the "Michigan Road" featuring the unique people, sites and sounds of this, as he says, "water, winter wonderland", showcasing collectors, backwoodsmen, animals, sites, quilt makers - since 1974.

"The worst thing to happen to the people in the state of Michigan were those darn expressways," Evans said. "Sure the travel is better and people get places faster, but all the wonderful scenery and sites are missed."

The stout, weathered, white haired man with a voice not to far removed from Charles Kuralt, first started reporting on radio in the hot, sticky back country of Fayetteville and Little Rock, Arkansas. "When I was a growing boy, our family did a lot of moving, so there's no one place I could call home," Evans said.

His first television reporting job came in Oklahoma City. "The weather there is worse than what were experiencing in Michigan right now," he says. "The land is flat and the weather is hot. It's 104 during the day and 104 at night."

Evans first approached the news director at what was then WOOD TV-8, back in 1974. "After I started doing my spots, the news director got positive feedback and then decided to put me on the road full-time," Evans remembers. It was a move that he relished, and one that would eventually help him store many, many memories and stories that he could share at speaking engagements, such as the Lowell Rotary, a stop Evans made on Wednesday, June 15.

Like the majority of television news today, there is only time for the headlines and that doesn't exclude features.

The days of Evans being on the road all the time were cut to three. "Within those three days I was to come up with five stories," Evans said. "Now I'm on the road two days and I'm responsible for six stories."

He adds that he spends about an hour-and-a-half on a story, once at the location. After the shooting is completed, it is then edited down to a 2-21/2 minute segment.

One of Evans' favorite spots for stories is the Upper Peninsula. "I get up there as much as I can. I go in the fall and collect stories, and there is a wealth of them," he says.

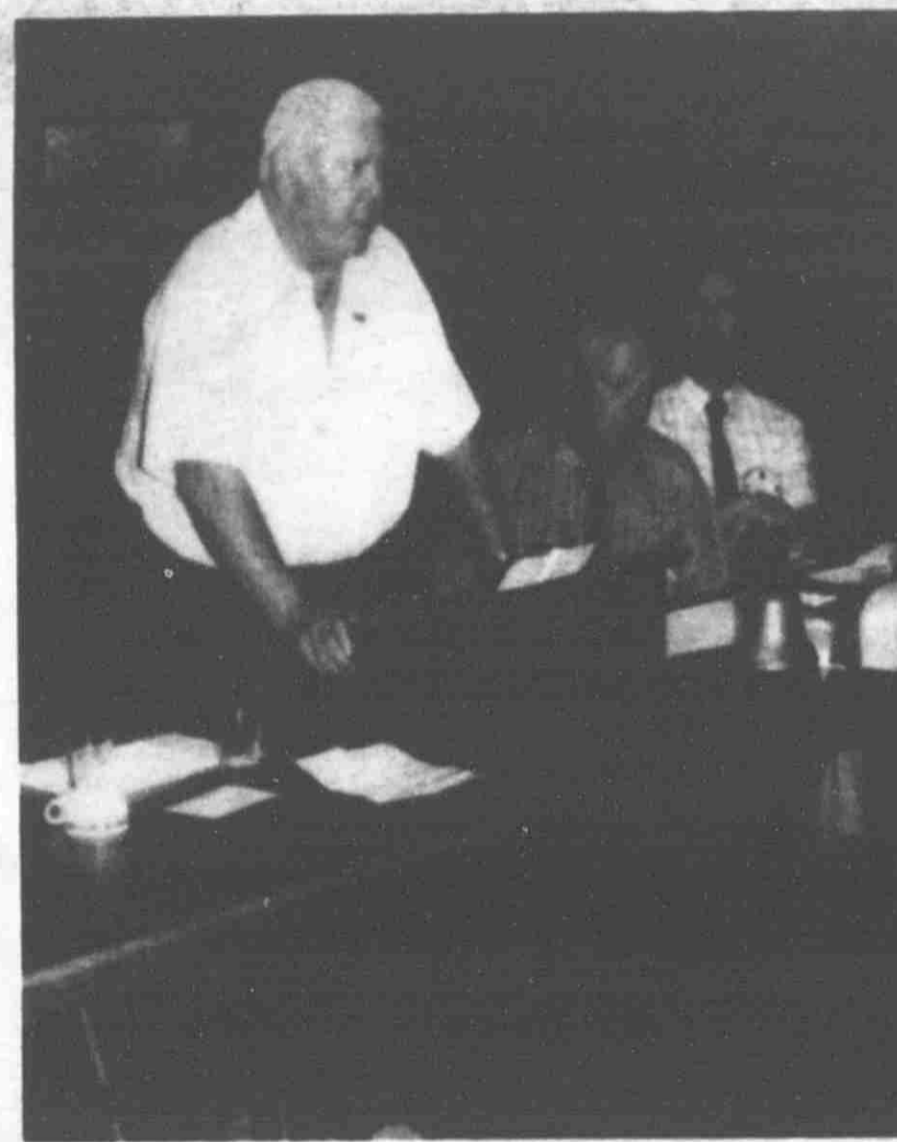

Evans does his travels with his wife in their recreational vehicle (a Cruise Aire made by Georgie Boy in Edwardsburg).

The West Michigan reporter says story ideas come from people and newspapers.

"Older, retired people call me and tell of where they maybe traveling and ask about some of the sites they should stop and see," Evans relates to the Lowell Rotary members. "I tell them of the obvious places they can go," he says. The room full of businessmen begin to chuckle, which leads to an outburst of laughter. Evans interrupts, with his tanned face turning a darker shade of red. "No, No, I didn't mean there," he chuckles.

The Michigan Road brought TV's Dick Evans to Lowell on Wednesday, June 15. He spoke to the Lowell Rotary.

Council approves two variance requests

A vacation depleted Lowell City Council met Monday evening with only three members present. Councilmen Jack Fonger and Dean Collins, along with Mayor James Maatman, met as the Zoning Board of Appeals to approve two variance requests.

Mrs. Eunice Doyle requested a variance for an undersized lot in a residential area. Doyle's request was the result of a plan to split a parcel owned by her into three separate lots. The property is located at 803 N. Washington, and has three houses constructed on it. Two of the three lots met with the 8,200 square foot requirement. One lot was short of the minimum at only 6,700 square feet. The request was approved.

The board also approved a request for a setback variance from Delores Alexander at 820 N. Hudson. Alexander plans to build a garage at her residence with 15 feet of setback from the right-of-way rather than the required 30 feet.

The Council reviewed a noise study performed on May 27 and June 13 at Michigan Wire Processing Co.'s plant on West Main St. The study stemmed from numerous complaints and a petition filed by neighbors claiming the plant is excessively noisy. The study concluded the plant nighttime noise is below standards set in a Grand Rapids nighttime noise ordinance. Michigan Wire President Don Fizer was on hand, and promised to do what he could to reduce noise levels.

The Council deferred action on a water rate increase until the entire council was present.

A resolution to provide dental insurance for city employees was approved by the Council. The Blue Cross plan adopted covers 75% of preventative services, 50% of restorative services and 50% of dentures with a $800 cap on benefits. The cost is $8.46 per employee per month. Only employees, not their families, will be covered.

The Council also approved a $13,000 project to re-codify the city's zoning ordinance. The project was initially approved in April of 1986 with Michigan Municipal Code Corporation, but when former City Manager Ray Quada left his position, the contract was cancelled until a new city manager was in place. The recodification will bring the city's ordinance up to date with ever changing state and federal codes. Lowell's ordinances have not been recodified since 1971, and City Manager David Pasquale noted at a previous meeting that the ordinance book is "virtually useless as it now stands".

A proposal to install water mains on Hunt St. west of Beech St. was reviewed by the Council. The proposal would install 935 feet of main at a cost of $8,975.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up (Psalm 5:3).

I love the quiet hush of early morning, that time before the world has begun its wild, mad rush. It is then one can hear the hungry birds chirping as they rustle up their breakfast. I like to dig in the earth, pull weeds out of my flower beds, and enjoy the time" to be holy, to begin the day right - with God. Prayer lifts one's heart up to Him and holds one to Him throughout the day. A portion read from His Word sets the pattern for one's thinking. Taking an upward look, as he experiences the birth of a new day, prepares the Christian for the hours ahead.

We ought always to "begin each day with God."

Prayer: Dear God, I lift my heart to Thee. Let Thy presence enfold me. Hold me close to Thy bosom throughout this day. Amen.

O Master, it is good to be Entwined, enrapt, alone with Thee. Till we, too, change from grace to grace Gazing on Thy transfigured face.

Consecration services at Snow Methodist

Bishop Judith Craig will officiate at consecration services scheduled for 2 p.m. on June 26, 1988 at Snow United Methodist Church, 3189 Snow Ave., S.E. Lowell, Michigan.

For two years this seventy member rural United Methodist Church has worked to build a major addition to their ninety year old country church. The improvements will add sorely needed facilities to help Snow UMC minister in the community.

Snow UMC is known in United Methodist circles for raising more dollars per member for World Hunger year after year than any other United Methodist Church. Some said that Snow could not undertake a $190,000 building program and continue the level of giving to hunger. During the two years of construction, Snow actually increased their per member giving to World Hunger.

Stinson recognized

Stanley Stinson

Stanley Stinson was selected "Student of the Year" for the Wellerwood Autism Program at the Westwood Middle School in Grand Rapids for the 1987-88 school year.

Stinson was recently honored at a dinner in the President Ford Room of the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel.

The award is based on high academic and individual achievement and the quality of perseverance as well.

"Students like Stinson focused in on their goals in September, and did not lose the necessary enthusiasm to complete their task," said assistant principal James Nixon.

Stinson is the son of John and Bertha Stinson of Lowell. Autism is frequently misunderstood. It's a word many mistakenly think refers to those who draw or paint well (artistic). Another reason for lack of understanding about autism is due to its infrequent occurrence: only 4 or 5 autistic individuals out of 10,000 will be autistic, according to a pamphlet put out by the Grand Rapids Area Society for Autistic Citizens (GRAND-SAC).

GRAND-SAC reports that in the past, it was thought that autism was caused by the psychological environment of the child. The early onset, severity and pervasiveness of the disorder has dispelled that belief.

According to the report, although it is known that autism is not caused by poor parental attitudes or behavior, the exact biological cause has not been determined.

Research suggests that there may be several causes; each with distinct effects on the brain and nervous system. Some disorders that have been associated with autism are rubella, tuberculous, sclerosis and untreated phenylketonuria. However, the report states, many autistic people had no known disease or problems before, during or after their birth.

Some of the symptoms of autism include slow or unusual development and specific problems in learning, language and social skills. Autistic people have difficulty relating to people and their environment, often appearing to have no interest in others, the report indicates.

HEMORRHOIDS

Anorectal problems are seen commonly in the office of a family practitioner and one of the most common complaints is problems with hemorrhoids.

Pain and swelling of the peri-rectal area are the hallmark of external hemorrhoids. Symptoms usually develop over a 24-48 hour period and may be worsened with bowel movement. Palpation of the area will reveal a painful soft mass. Bleeding may be noted in the underwear or on the toilet tissue which is usually dark in color. Rectal bleeding is usually due to hemorrhoids, however, keep in mind that there are other serious causes for rectal bleeding. Any unexplained bleeding should be brought to your doctor's attention.

Hemorrhoids are essentially varicose veins of the anal canal. Straining or increased pressure in the rectum may cause prolapse of tissue with secondary swelling and irritation. Lack of fiber in the typical American diet is probably one of the major causes of hemorrhoids. Decreased fiber intake leads to formation of small hard stools which are difficult to pass. This leads to considerable straining which then can cause hemorrhoid formation.

The principle treatment plan for hemorrhoids is prevention. Adequate dietary fiber or fiber supplements will maintain soft healthy formed stools without excessive straining. Adding an over-the-counter stool softener may also be of some benefit. You should avoid use of laxatives which stimulate bowel constrictions. Treatment of small hemorrhoids consists of twice daily warm soaks along with stool softeners and over-the-counter hemorrhoidal preparations. In most cases the pain and swelling will disappear in about one week.

Hemorrhoids that do not respond to conservative management or become very painful should be treated in the doctor's office. Hemorrhoid surgery is usually performed as a simple out-patient procedure in the office under a local anesthetic. Oral pain medications as well as anti-inflammatory creams will usually also be prescribed post operatively.

In summary, hemorrhoids are easily treated, but prevention is painless!

Winners of the third annual Bicycle Rodeo, sponsored by the Lowell Police Department, were awarded their bicycles on Monday, June 20 by Lowell police officer Al Eckman and chairperson of the Lowell Area Scouting Council, Kay Estes.

The winners included Joe Shambeau, 11, Lowell. His 97 points out of a possible 100 was the high mark. Eric Sigler, 12, Lowell, and Ben Bills, nine, of Lowell each scored 95 points.

Gerard Despres, 11 years old, Ada recorded a 94. Also receiving a bike, but not in the picture is Emily Doyle, seven, of Lowell.

The 50 kids that participated were judged on such things as mounting, maneuvering and signaling.

Participants interested in finding out their score may call Estes at 897-8896. Any floral gifts, Smith is also looking into doing more wholesale. "Right now I'm gearing up for an expanded wholesale business in the fall," Smith said.

Library offers safari kits for kids

Summer's the time to "go on Safari!" Young adventurers ages 6-12 can make an excursion to their nearby branch of the Kent County Library System for a special summer craft program. Kids will assemble their own Safari Fun Kits of free projects, games and puzzles to take home and enjoy. There's a set of "safari pets" to cut out - paper animals that can be folded to stand up by themselves; a mobile based on Rudyard Kipling's Just So Stories; and other safari games and puzzles. Children can come in any time during the program to assemble their kits and learn how to put the projects together.

"Each year our library craft programs are a big hit with our young people," comments Kent County Library Children's Services Coordinator Mary Frydrych. "We think this year's projects, based on wild animals and the stories of Rudyard Kipling, will be especially well received. Children who haven't already registered can still join our Reading Safari book club, too."

The Safari Fun Kit program is scheduled for the Lowell branch, 325 W. Main St., on June 27 from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.; and at the Alto branch, 6059 Linfield, on June 30 from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Youngsters should plan on spending about one half hour putting their kits together. The program is part of a summer of special events and book clubs designed to encourage children to visit the library and maintain reading skills.

A government survey found more than half of young black men smoke, compared with 42 percent of young white men.

Phillips honored by league

Jeffery Thomas Phillips

Jeff Phillips was named the O-K White Player Athlete of the year. The announcement marked the second time in as many years that a Lowell athlete has received such an award. Mike Dumas was honored in 1987.

Phillips will attend Western Michigan University in the fall. He will start football practice on Aug. 13 as a Bronco.

The Lowell graduate believes he can best fit in as a defensive back and a linebacker. Although he did not receive a football scholarship from the WMU, he is hopeful he will be able to make the 95-120 man team.

Phillips was a three-year letterman in football at Lowell high school. He, along with all the seniors on the '87 squad, were named MVPs last year. Phillips was also a member of the All-Conference and All-Area teams. The Arrow will enroll into the communications and commercial art curriculum during his stay at the University. "I look forward to giving football a shot at Western and to college life," Phillips said.

He adds, the seniors receiving the MVP award in 1987 is an accomplishment that he will remember from the '87 season.

Phillips also lettered three years in basketball at LHS, being named to the All-Conference team in 1987 and 1988 along with being named MVP in 1988.

The sport that many feel probably put Phillips over the top in the race for athlete of the year in the O-K White, is track. He was four-year letterman in track, qualifying for state in the high jump in 1986, being named MVP in 1987, and was a member of the state qualifying mile-relay team in '88. Joining Phillips on the relay team were Mike Mull, Tim Weststrate and Chris Kloosterman. Their best time was 3:28.2. Phillips attributes hard work, intensity, weight lifting and the help of friends and family for his athletic success at Lowell High School.

USNA honors Iwai artistic talent

Miyuki Iwai, a Japanese exchange student at Lowell Senior High School has been named a United States National Award winner in Art.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Iwai, a 1988 graduate of Lowell Senior High, was nominated for this National Award by Mrs. Robin Pradzick-White, Head of the High School Art Dept.

Iwai's picture and biography will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth, is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy Award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendations from a teacher or director.

Iwai has resided this past year with her host family, Mr. and Mrs. William Wood at 409 N. Division. Lowell and will leave for her return to Japan on June 25.

Krause at the House

Since the Single Business Tax (SBT) was enacted in 1976, small business representatives have been critical of it. The basic criticism of the SBT is that it taxes the value added to goods and services, such as payroll and financing costs, rather than the employer's profits. Smaller, struggling companies with cash flow problems have indicated they would prefer a profit-based tax when they are losing money.

Enter Governor Blanchard with a problem of his own. He recently organized a Governor's Conference on Small Business - at which delegates proposed an agenda he didn't want to hear. They opposed state-mandated employer benefits, such as parental leave, and urged legislative action to cut unemployment insurance, product liability and workers' compensation costs.

After the rush of publicity, he revealed his scheme, which includes a 4 percent profits tax alternative for companies with annual gross receipts of less than $6 million, where the owner's annual salary is less than $110,000. This would replace $40 million of value-added tax liability with an estimated $40 million of profits tax liability-tax shift in the coming year.

This $40 million shift in SBT revenue compares to $1.45 billion currently raised by the Single Business Tax. More to the point, the Blanchard reform would affect only an additional 10,000 employers beyond 164,000 firms who pay no SBT or pay SBT based on profits.

Already the Governor's plan faces competition in the Legislature. The Senate has passed a bill that would affect a greater number of companies, and cut overall business taxes by $30-50 million next year. In addition, there are several House proposals that also revamp and modify the SBT, including legislation that I co-sponsored. The bills would remove workers compensation and unemployment insurance from the base, raise the statutory exemption from annual gross receipts of $40,000 to $100,000, and increase SBT credits for research and development.

While many small businesses would like to repeal the SBT entirely and replace it with a corporate income tax on all businesses, large and small, I believe that is a step Michigan employers would come to regret. While the plans of Legislative Republicans have some merit, the Governor's proposal is essentially a symbolic gesture. He chose to spotlight the SBT issue in order to avoid dealing with the many other serious business cost issues that his own Small Business delegates identified. Like the delegates, I would like to see some meaningful changes in the SBT. And like the delegates, I would like to see some legislative action that would cut unemployment insurance, product liability and workers' compensation costs. I'm ready. The Michigan business community is ready. The only one dragging his feet is the Governor.

Smith moves Straw Basket Collections

Straw Basket Collections owner, Hazel Smith recently re-opened at the store's new location 221 W. Main previously the Radio Shack building.

Her business had been located at 215 W. Main, but with the purchase of the old Radio Shack building, will have more room, including the basement and the second floor.

Smith anticipates leasing out space to those interested. The move has allowed her to enlarge her check out area in order that customers' orders can be taken. Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

As a PROUD RESIDENT of this lovely city for the past eight years, I am concerned about the safety of our senior citizens walking our sidewalks.

In the eight years I have lived here, I have fallen twice, both in the same spot beside a certain office after I have made my final payment on services I have received.

I am not a senior citizen as yet, but don't lack too many years. If the sidewalks aren't safe for me, think of people with canes, walkers, or poor eyesight. I was sent a letter on how to fix my walk. What about the City???

I have pictures and witnesses to my last fall May 13, 1988 (or better known as Friday the Thirtieth.)

A Very Proud Resident

Old Fashioned 4th of July

The good old days again come to life as Charlton Park Village & Museum sponsor the Sixth Annual Old Fashioned 4th of July. Festivities begin at 11:00 a.m. on Monday, July 4, on the village green with games and contests for children of all ages. Run in the three-legged race, compete in the sack race, toss a water balloon or raw egg, see how much watermelon you can eat, and save the seeds for the seed-splitting contest. Search for a needle in a haystack, or toss bales of hay, enter your freckles in the most freckles contest, but be sure to save room for the pie eating contest.

A pie judging contest and auction will please the palate. Bring in a home-made pie and the baker gets in free. After the contest, the remainder of the pies will be sold to the highest bidder.

As traditional patriotic music fill the air, in the village you can try your hand at stenciling, hand-cranked ice cream, or candle-dipping. The village smithy, carpenter, and weaver will demonstrate their crafts.

In addition the recreation area provides a sandy beach, boat launch, ski beach, volleyball courts, ball diamond, picnic tables and grills. The snack bar will also be open.

Admission to this special event is free to Barry County residents, and only $3.00 for non-resident adults (16 and over). All children are admitted free. Charlton Park is located just off M-79 between Hastings and Nashville.

So come out to enjoy the good old days and wholesome family fun at Historic Charlton Park Village & Museum. For further information, call 616-945-3775.

In 1849, Elizabeth Blackwell was the first American woman to become a doctor.

Item No. 1: VARIANCE REQUEST - LEMMEN OIL - 324 W. MAIN - SIGNS - PUBLIC HEARING. City Manager Pasquale explained that the Shell Station wishes to erect a 128 sq. ft. pole sign in place of present signage amounting to 152 sq. ft. Under the Zoning Ordinance, one freestanding or pole sign cannot exceed 54 sq. ft. in area on a side. Thus, the present sign is nonconforming. Such signs cannot be rebuilt, re-erected or relocated unless it fully complies to the Ordinance. Councilmember Thompson, as Chairman of the Zoning Board of Appeals, opened the public hearing. No comments from the public were received.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Maatman to approve the variance request from the Lemmen Oil to erect a 128 sq. ft. pole sign at 324 W. Main.

Item No. 2. 803-813 N. WASHINGTON STREET - SPLITTING ONE PARCEL INTO THREE NON CONFORMING LOTS - SET PUBLIC HEARING DATE (6/20/88). Mrs. Eunice Doyle had petitioned the City to grant splitting property she owns on N. Washington Street into three nonconforming sized separate lots where three houses are. These residences are being sold individually. Mr. Richard Bryan stated that only 803 N. Washington fails to the lot size requirements for the R-2 district after a survey was completed. A variance is needed for 803 N. Washington.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Fonger to set the public hearing date for June 20, 1988 to create a nonconforming lot size at 803 N. Washington Street.

Item No. 4. CONSIDERATION OF APPLICATION FOR INDUSTRIAL FACILITIES EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE (P.A. 198) - MICHIGAN WIRE - 2485 W. MAIN. City Manager Pasquale explained that Michigan Wire is seeking a 12 year industrial tax abatement certificate in conjunction with a proposed 7,000 sq. ft. warehousing facility. With the addition, five new jobs are expected as a result of the project according to Michigan Wire's application.
Don Fizer (owner) of Michigan Wire stated that the new addition (costing about $120,000) would create approximately 12 new employees within the next year, and within three years it should provide employment to between 30 to 40. Councilmember Collins motioned for approval of the exemption for a 12 year period to Michigan Wire, but no support was given. The motion died.
Charly Johnson, Economic Development Director for the law firm of Warner, Norcross, & Judd, on behalf of Michigan Wire stated that the law requires the Council to list in written form the reason for denial.

Councilmember Collins felt the reason for the denial was due to noise complaints from the neighbors, which has nothing to do with the tax abatement. He believed that these are two separate issues and should be taken separately.

Item No. 5. ADOPTION OF 1988-89 BUDGET AND TRUTH-IN-TAXATION HEARINGS. City Manager Pasquale stated that this public hearing involves the adoption of the operating millage and budget for fiscal year 1988-89, as well as conducting a hearing in compliance to the Truth-in-Taxation Act. This Act requires the City to publicly adjust the millage rate taking care of any inflationary increases in the SEV. The increase generated an equivalent of .4198 mills. It was recommended that the current millage of 12.383 be restored, and then adopt the operating budget as proposed.
During the discussion of the budget, Councilmember Collins questioned the need for fencing around the Water Treatment Plant. George Regan, Water Treatment Plant Supervisor, stated that the fencing is for security.

IT WAS MOVED by Fonger and supported by Doyle to adopt the 1988-89 operating budget as proposed as well as an operating levy of 12.383 mills.

Item No. 6. PRESENTATION OF TEEN DANCE CLUB. Wendy and Steven Ireland (owners) explained their plans to open a teen dance center in the old Pfalter building at 103 E. Main Street. They addressed the parking, loitering, drugs, alcohol, and other concerns that the Council may have had.

Council proceedings

The goal of the club is to have an alcohol-free environment for area youth. They are considering to have Thursday night for age groups of 12 to 16 from approximately 6:00 p.m. to an appropriate closing hour as far as that age group is concerned. On Fridays and Saturdays the Irelands are planning to be opened at 7:00 p.m. for 16 through over 21, as long as no intoxicants are brought on the premises. Anyone that does violate that rule would be barred. A closing hour of 1:00 a.m. is contemplated. They would like to eventually make the premises available for after school hours for the middle schoolers or teenagers who have nowhere to go after school for entertainment. There will always be adult supervision.
After asking a few brief questions, the Council took no action.

Item No. 7. PURCHASE OF POLICE CRUISER. City Manager Pasquale explained that there is an immediate need to have a new police vehicle to ease the strain on the present fleet. A 1987 Chevrolet Caprice Sedan with the police package is available immediately at Thomet Chevrolet for $12,985.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Thompson to purchase the police cruiser for $12,985 from Thomet Chevrolet.

Item No. 8. PURCHASE OF TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR THE WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT. As requested by the Council, the following quotes were requested from the following vendors to install a telephone system in the Wastewater Treatment Plant:

Teldate	Inter-Tel GLX System	$2,572.00
Executone	Encore CX 8/16	$2,970.00
*ASCOM	Iwatsu Omega IV EX-616	$3,125.00
AT & T	Merlin Plus	$3,598.95

While lease arrangements can be provided, it is recommended that the City approve the contract with ASCOM. This vendor has already installed an intercom system at the plant and would be most compatible. Councilmember Collins questioned why the City does not purchase the least expensive system. Tony Siciliano, Director of Public Works stated the City has found that by trying to stay constant with the same type system presents problems with maintenance.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and supported by Fonger to purchase the telephone system from ASCOM for $3,125.00 for the Wastewater Treatment Plant.

Item No. 9. CHANGE ORDERS - WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT EXPANSION AND SANITARY SEWER RE-

HABILITATION. Pete Dauks of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber, Engineer for the Wastewater Treatment Plant Project, explained the need to change pipe material into aerobic digesters from PVC to stainless steel to accommodate higher than anticipated temperatures in change order No. 2. Also, a recommendation to provide an automatic control rather than manual for the two sludge macerators (grinders) and have 2" stone rather than 1" gravel for outfall pipe backfill in Flat River was outlined in change order No. 3.

IT WAS MOVED by Collins and supported by Fonger to approve the change orders No. 2 and No. 3 on the Wastewater Treatment Plant in the amount of $3,251.

On the Sanitary Sewer Rehabilitation program, Mr. Dauks proposed to extend the contract time ninety days for both contractors (Forsberg and Nagel) from June 21 due to unfavorable weather conditions during portions of December, January, February, and March. No change in contract cost was proposed. Mr. Dauks noted that any work performed after June 21 is not grant eligible, without DNR approval. He said that without an extension, the City could pursue liquidated damages with the contractors.
The Council agreed that contract extension should be granted only if it is acceptable to the DNR so that the consent decree is not interfered.
By consensus, the Council stated that City Manager Pasquale should contact Dick Wendt, the City Attorney, so that he can review the matter with the DNR. The Manager can then report by phone to all the Councilmembers on the outcome.

Item No. 10. FIRE STATION STATUS REPORT. City Manager Pasquale stated that the Look Memorial Fund committee has approved a $50,000 grant for architectural-engineering services as well as other start up expenses for a fire station. Additionally, Look Fund monies will be matched dollar for dollar with the City on construction costs.
He has talked with both township supervisors in regard to providing contributions over a five year period. No word has been received as yet from either township.
Councilmember Thompson questioned if they could possibly put the Senior Citizen Center with the new fire station. That would eliminate both problems. No further action was taken on this matter.

Item No. 11. CITIZENS SUGGESTIONS. Mrs. Pearl Murphy, 1746 Alden Nash, Mrs. Anna Jankowski, 325 Alden Nash and several other neighbors of the Michigan Wire Plant located at 2485 W. Main Street complained about the noise during the late shifts at the facility. They were further concerned about what the noise will be when the expansion is finished and more are employed. Some Councilmembers stated that as long as Michigan Wire does not violate any of the city's ordinances there is nothing that can be done. Councilmember Thompson mentioned that the city attorney should check into this problem and provide direction. Concurrence from the Council was received.

Item No. 12. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember Collins questioned if the street openings are with the sewer rehab program. DPW Director Siciliano answered that these are part of the rehab program and the contractors will be doing the blackout work.
Councilmember Fonger stated that he would like the Council to reconsider the construction of a sanitary sewer on West Main. Also he asked DPW Director Siciliano to check into the week killer for the road curbing. Siciliano stated that the weed killer is in stock now, but cannot be used until it rains.
Councilmember Doyle stated he he has had several citizens coming to him asking why the City is not watering Richard's Park. DPW Director Siciliano stated that it has not rained in quite some time and the water treatment plant has been running an average of 20 hours a day. With this demand, watering was deferred.
The Councilmembers discussed the progress of purchasing a slide for Richard's Park. Siciliano stated that he had found a slide for approximately $600.00 which would be near flush to the ground. He will check further into this matter.

Item No. 13. MANAGER'S REPORT. City Manager Pasquale reported the following:

1. Look Committee approved the following at their May 18, 1988 meeting:
 - sliding hill behind the Boy Scout Cabin $7,500
 - tree planting (14 pines) along Ridgeview Drive $4,900
 - seed money request to Showboat Corp. $5,000
 2. Planning Commission approved the site plan for the Newell Manufacturing addition and recommended limited hours parking for Chatham Street near the facility. The Commission also reviewed plans of a proposed addition to the Moose Club recreation building.
 3. Ambulance. Lowell and Vergennes Townships each approved a $3,000 a year contribution for 5 years towards the establishment of a local ambulance service. It is anticipated that his service bill will begin in August.
 4. Water Treatment Plant. In order to more fully discuss the future needs of the Water Treatment Plant, a workshop session will be scheduled after the regular business meeting of June 20, 1988.
 5. Auction Notice. Tom Nagy received permission to hold an auction on Saturday, June 18, 10:00 a.m., at L & A Rentals and Storage (John Clore), W. Main.
 6. A copy of the voluntary sprinkling restraint was distributed to the Council.
- The Councilmembers discussed the parking problem on the streets by Newell and the truck route for Newell trucks. Tony Siciliano, DPW Director and Barry Emmons, Chief of Police, will map out a route and post truck route signs.

Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. tourney players have fun

The first annual Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. Tournament moved into Lowell Friday, June 17, with many questions waiting to be asked and answered from its first performance.

Is it a viable tournament where size won't outgrow manageability? Were players, merchants, neighbors and city leadership happy with what they saw? Is the commercial and carnival atmosphere that came with the Macker a priority for future Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. Tournaments?

"I think justifiably so, in this the tournament's first year, it was up to the tournament to prove to the people that this is a viable event that will be well managed and quality oriented," tournament president, Dave Baerwalde said.

He continues, "The City can support an event that brings basketball, fun and family together, without it turning into a huge commercial operation."

The tourney attracted 76 teams, barely covering two square blocks that the three-on-three tournament encompassed. No it was not a huge carnival, commercial atmosphere, nor was it intended to be.

Baerwalde said that over 500 people, over the two days the tournament ran, viewed the games. Although some may view the attendance as small, Baerwalde refuses to label the tournament a success or failure based on numbers. However, comments from players, viewers, neighbors and city leadership was positive.

"We wanted to capture the flavor of a small town event, and we did," Baerwalde said. "I'm not disappointed with the attendance. Yes, it could have been better, but bigger does not always mean better."

The down side of a big crowd the first year, according to Baerwalde is the tournament's manageability could have been jeopardized, and neighbors may not have enjoyed it as much.

How big does the tournament get? Baerwalde believes it could double in size and still remain manageable. But any bigger than that and the control could suffer and the city would not support it.

Lowell City Manager, David Pasquale, agreed with Baerwalde. "It was very well run and at a manageable size, and if run that way, I see it as a positive for Lowell," he said. "The city and the tournament officials are not interested in seeing the tournament grow beyond that manageable limitation."

He added that keeping it under control to which there is a minimal effect on the neighbors is something he'd like to see.

The tournament officials have discussed putting a cap on the number of participating teams. They expressed an interest in keeping it limited and exclusive.

Neither the city nor the tournament officials were interested in saying what they thought that number was.

"Of all the comments that were brought to our attention, not one said the tournament wasn't big enough," Baerwalde said.

No event remains without needed improvements after its first year. Baerwalde included, keeping games on track and oriented toward basketball; getting more youth (those just starting to play organized basketball) involved in the tourney; and getting it so more people in the community make it their tournament.

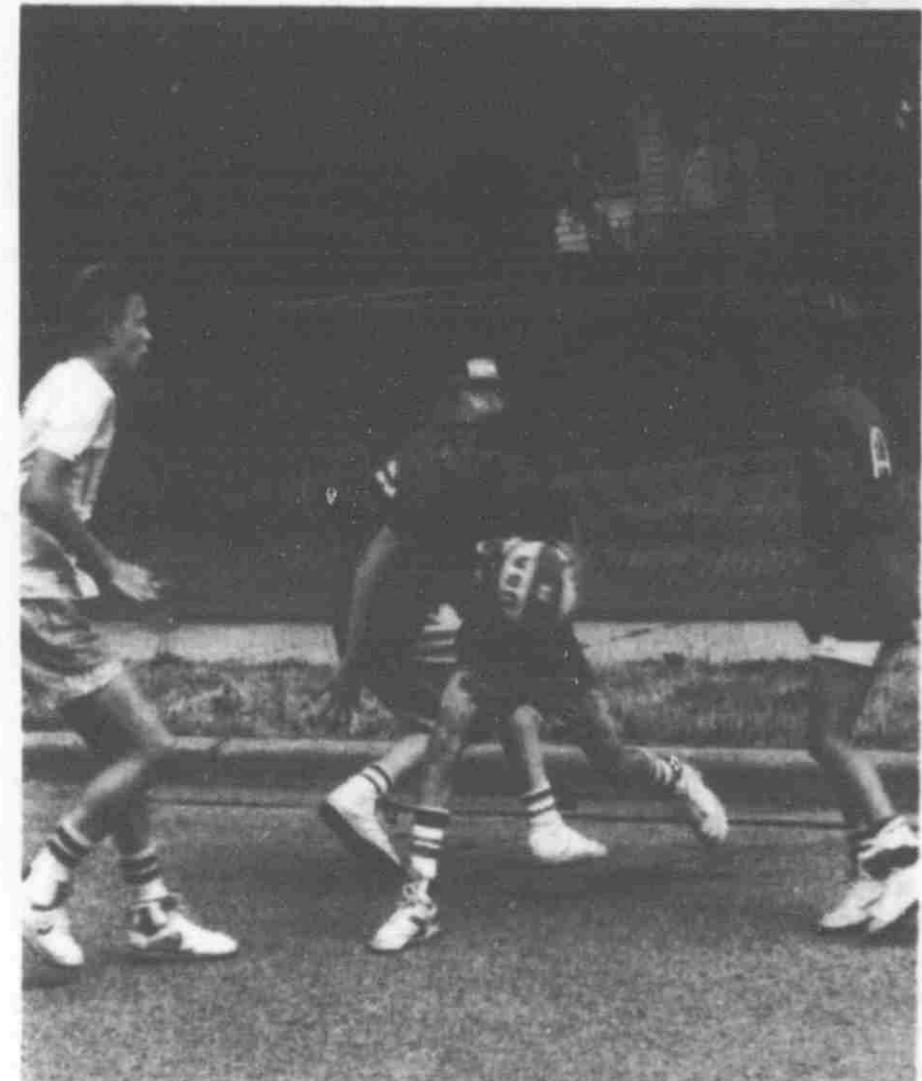

At least in its first year, the good did outweigh the inconvenience, something both the city and the Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. Tournament officials wanted and hope to continue in the future.

"I feel that this kind of support is out there," Baerwalde said.

The tournament president explained that positives were the players had fun. "Many commented that the tournament was better than they thought it would be," Baerwalde said.

He was also pleased with the cooperation the tournament received by merchants, city leadership, volunteers, non-profit organizations, players, neighbors and area media.

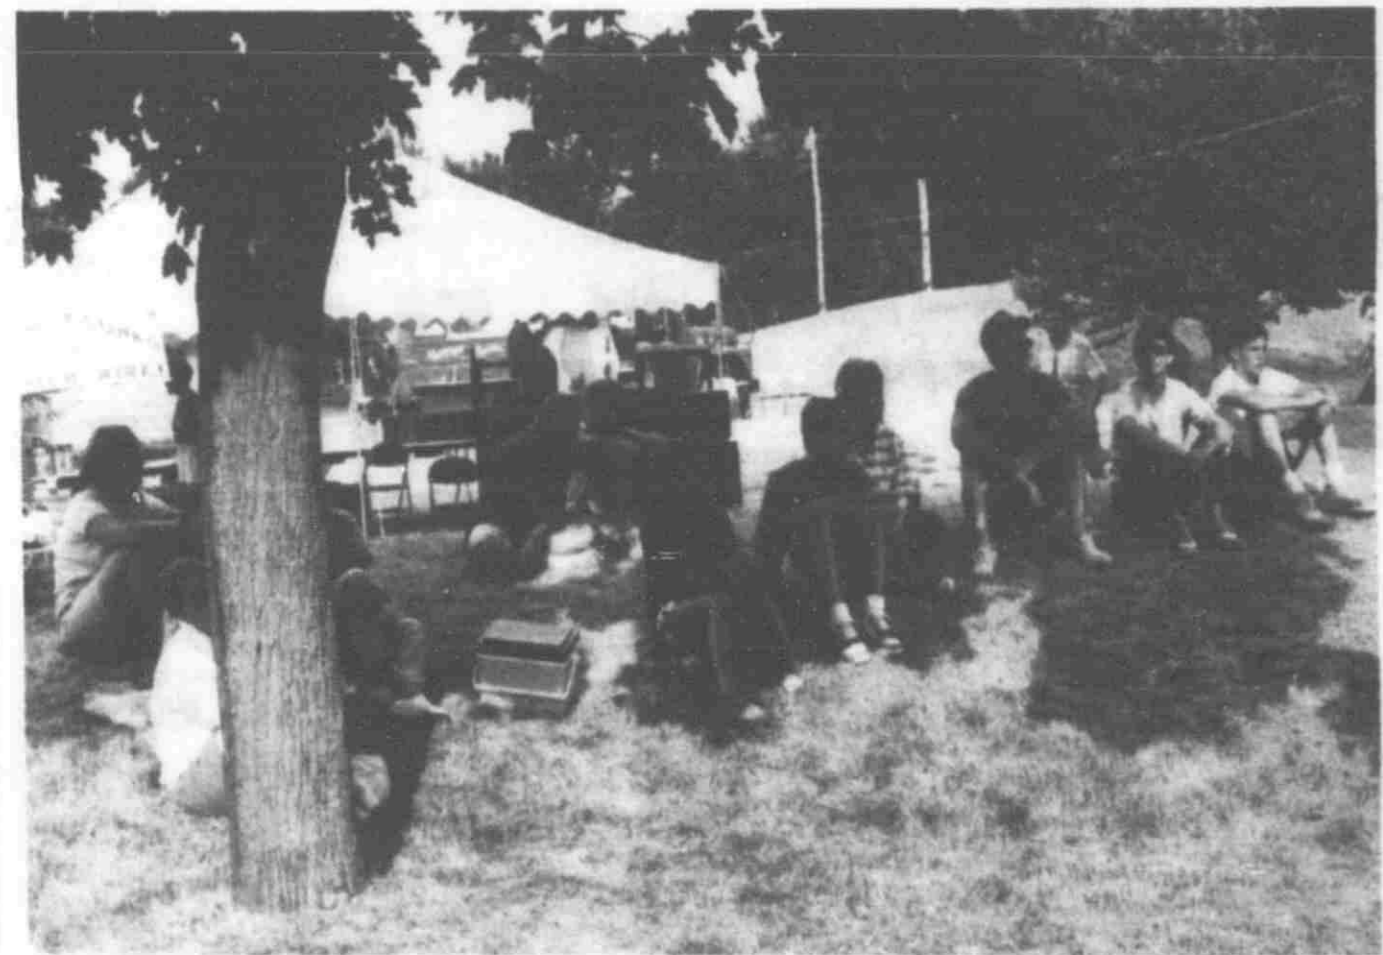

"Many were skeptical, and put themselves on the line by not raising concerns," Baerwalde said. He added that in the past the good didn't always outweigh the inconvenience.

Action was fast and heated as the temperature reached the low 90's.

Don't look now, but someone's about to steal the basketball.

Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. Tournament Basketball Snap Shots

Although huge crowds were not a problem over 500 people were in attendance during the two-day tourney.

He's behind you! Jeremy Speerstra looks to outlet the basketball in the Showboat City H.O.O.P.S. tournament over the weekend.

It got a little crowded in the paint during play in the girls' division.

Even the big boys mixed it up on the court. But they too, had fun.

Before the first annual H.O.O.P.S. tourney started volunteers were painting the court lines in the warmth of the afternoon.

Fonger and Lowell softball: an eight-year hit

The vast majority of boys, growing up, fantasized of someday becoming a major league baseball player, and for the vast majority, playing in the major leagues has remained just that, a fantasy.

"Everybody dreams of being a baseball star as a young boy, but most of us never reach that level," said Andy Fonger, a YMCA slow-pitch softball umpire for eight years.

Fonger, no different than all the rest of the wide-eyed young boys, also had major league dreams. However, he's filled that void over the past eight years by becoming one of the most popular and well liked softball umpires the Lowell YMCA softball league has fielded.

"Ken Vos, who is now retired, got me started on a part-time basis," Fonger said. Shortly after Vos' departure, Fonger became responsible for the league's umpires. "Along with Vos, Jim Hodges, former YMCA Director, was as instrumental in keeping me going as an umpire as anyone," he says.

For as popular as Fonger is with the players, the league's popularity is even more wide spread. The summer league has 60 teams, 15 players per team, participating. Teams travel from surrounding areas to play at Recreation Field (ex. Greenville, Charlotte and Lansing).

You ask, what's so great about the Lowell YMCA Softball League? "It's the people that make it go," Fonger inserts. Vos adds, "The parity." He continues, "In this league you play against teams of comparable records. If your team is just starting, you're not going to be playing in a division where the quality of ball being played is good."

Recreation Park without anybody in it is a special place. The park is over 100 years old, according to Fonger.

"Years ago it was used as a horse track. With the stands and with the newly constructed home run fence it now makes for a good park," Fonger said.

The dimensions of the park are given like this by Fonger, "It's 271 feet to left, 291 feet to the 1 in Recreation center field and 276 feet to right field."

Bob Ford and Steve Larkin took out a loan 4-5 years ago and put up a wooden fence at Recreation Park. The cost of the fence was $9,000.

Fonger spends an hour a day on the up-keep of each of the five fields located at Recreation (1) and Creekside Park (4).

"I enjoy umpiring because it's a service business," Fonger said. He adds, "you know you've done a good job when the players walk away from the park in the twilight of the evening, and they've all had a good time, and there is no mention of the umpiring."

Fonger believes he's both a pitcher's and hitter's umpire. "If the pitching isn't real good, you make the plate wider, if the pitching is good, you keep the legitimate strike zone."

Fonger adds that in slow-pitch softball if the hitters aren't hitting they're not having fun.

The YMCA Men's Slow-Pitch Softball league will hold a city tournament the first two weeks in August (Aug. 6-7 and 13-14). The YMCA will have a fall league starting in August, it will last six weeks. If interested, Fonger suggests teams start making plans.

Andy Fonger bellows out a strike in softball action. Fonger has been umpiring for eight years.

Area youngsters participate in 2nd fishing contest

Saturday, June 11, 25 area youngsters were the guests at the Second Annual Kids Fishing Contest and Seminar. The event is sponsored by the Lowell Area Fishing club and supported by donations from area businesses and merchants.

The kids enjoyed themselves fishing with their Dads, Grandpas and even a couple of Moms. The Lowell Middle School Pond was the setting for the day's events.

"We enjoyed doing this for the kids, as much as they enjoyed being there," said Len Hamp, President of L.A.F.C. "We had a beautiful day for this year's event and the fish co-operated. They registered 114 fish, and we know a few were lost from inept handling by dads." Everyone attending was treated to a hotdog and soda pop lunch after the official end of the contest. "Some of the kids didn't want to quit to eat. And after the awards were passed out, went right back to fishing," said club member, Meri "Snowball" Alexander. The club had made provisions for up to 50 children from ages 5 to 13 years to attend.

Winners in the 5-6 year old category were: Doug Ford 1st, and Josh Camp 2nd; 7-8 year old had a 3-way tie between Shane Teelander, Adam Peters, and Bob Ford; 9-10 year category Alicia VanHeulen 1st, Ross Marshall and Laurie Bryant tied for 2nd; 11-13 winners Heather Hamp 1st, and Mark Hamp 2nd; Biggest Fish was caught by Brian Wierenga; Most Fish (26) Alicia VanHeulen.

"In our minds and in theirs, they are all winners," said Hamp. "They each got something for just attending. We hope that they learned something and stay hooked on fishing. Fishing has been proven to be THE most relaxing thing a person can do."

Members of the Lowell Area Fishing Club will also be helping with the Rogers Dept. Store's Handicapper Fishing Day in July.

Remember the big hoopla over "Biorhythms" back in the '70's? Some guy came up with a theory claiming we all ride waves that take us through mental and physical highs and lows. He even went so far as to develop charts geared to your birthdate, the moon, your dog's age, etc. By using the charts, a person supposedly could time major events in his or her life to correspond with peaks in their biorhythms. For instance, a biorhythm believer wouldn't dream of asking his girl friend out to dinner during a low point in his cycle. He knows up front he'll spill his soup on her, or discover at the end of the evening that his fly had been open all night.

Well, being the cynical person that I am, I never got caught up in the biorhythm thing. I passed it off as just another wacky craze like astrology, voodoo or Karma. Ten years later, I'm not so sure there wasn't something to this biorhythm stuff. I know there were times when nothing seems to have gone right, and if these periods corresponded with the lows on a biorhythm chart, then I just might be converted. Unfortunately, biorhythm charts have gone the way of the mood ring, ouija board, bell bottoms and Rubick's cubes. I don't think I could pick up on biorhythms if I wanted to.

If I did have a biorhythm chart, I'd sure like to see where last Friday fell. I'll bet it was at one of the lowest of low troughs between the waves. The day got started innocently enough. I got out of bed without hurting myself, or breaking something. But, the good fortune didn't last long. The shower door wouldn't stay shut, and I determined the cause to be a slight misalignment. I held my foot against the bottom of the aluminum and glass door, while pulling gently at the top corner. The idea was to bend the frame, ever so slightly, so that the door would close properly. I forgot that glass doesn't bend, and three or four cracks knifed their way across the door. Fortunately, the door didn't shatter, because Terese was in the shower at the time. I'm not sure whether panic, rage, or both, prompted the earful I received, but I certainly did hear from the other side of that cracked shower door.

The morning went reasonably well, though I did have an appointment that gobbled up way more time than I could spare. When Terese picked me up for lunch, I noticed the grill of her Buick was caved in. I got in the car and asked what the heck happened. She didn't know what I was talking about. Apparently somebody backed into her car, and then drove off. I steamed and fumed while wondering where I'd find the time to deal with the insurance company, get estimates, schedule the body work, shuffle cars, etc. The day was heading down into a deep biorhythm trough at an alarming rate.

At lunch I threw the dog's ball for him to fetch. On one toss I gave the ball an especially hard throw in an attempt to hit the backyard fence on the fly. No, I didn't break a neighbor's window, or hit a passing car, but I did throw my elbow out of joint. The darned thing has been sore ever since, and I'm afraid I'll have to go through several biorhythm cycles before it's better.

Back at work, I received a phone call from Casey. He had been mowing the neighbor's lawn with our brand new mower, and the grass chute that goes back to the bagger came loose. Of course it couldn't simply fall clear of things, it had to be chewed up by the mower. I couldn't believe it! It was only the second time the mower had been used.

When the day finally came to an end, I went to bed wondering if that would be the night the huge maple tree outside our bedroom would come crashing down on me. Apparently my biorhythms started back on an upward swing, cause I'm still here!

VERGENNES TOWNSHIP NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Vergennes Township Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on Tuesday, July 5, 1988, at 7:30 p.m. in the Vergennes Township Hall, 12625 Bailey Drive on the following subjects:

I. A request from S.C. Patel to construct and operate a residential retirement facility on a portion of his 5 acre residential parcel in the SW1/4 of Section 29 generally located at 324 Parnell Avenue S.E. The Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance does not now permit such a facility in the R-A District. Favorable consideration of this request would first require either rezoning the parcel from R-A to R-2 residential or amending the ordinance to add this type of facility to the list of special exception uses allowed in the R-A district.

II. A request from Andrew Swanson, 940 Boynton Avenue S.E., in the SW1/4 of Section 31 in the R-A district, to construct an addition to an existing building on his 10 acre property housing a cider mill and to use the enlarged facility as a farm market to market cider and other agricultural products, some of which might not be produced or grown on the premises. The Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance includes as a permitted use in the R-A district markets for the sale of products grown or produced upon the premises as well as related products not grown or produced upon the premises but which are an unsubstantial part of said business.

III. A request from the Franciscan Sisters of Eucharist, 11761 Downes Road, N.E., to consider plans for construction and operation of a facility, including a chapel, to expand counseling and community service activities. The facility would be located on a 20 acre parcel in the SE1/4 of Section 16 adjacent to their existing buildings in the R-A district. The Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance permits churches and parish houses in the R-A districts. The purpose of this hearing is to provide for public review and discussion of these plans at an early stage in their development.

Jones', the family that eats and cuts together

Grandfather like father and father like son, whichever way you cut it up, the Phil Jones family has spent a lifetime cutting choice pieces of beef and pork. Jones, owner of Jones Butchering and Meat Processing in Saranac, is another link in a long legacy of family butchers that dates back five generations to the early 1880's.

"I started in the business, shortly after graduating from Michigan State University in 1959," Jones said. The work being custom work for farmers and wholesale accounts for restaurants, stores and putting in state bids for hundreds of state institutions.

Jones Butchering and Meat Processing serves the Saranac, Lowell, Belding, Muskegon, Grand Rapids and Greenville areas.

Jones, who started helping his father farm in 1959, built the present building in 1971, since the business had outgrown the present facility.

"We needed more room than the facility we were working in had," Jones said. "Today everything is done right here. We do the slaughtering, the aging, the processing, the smoking, and the curing."

The Jones family, however, does not raise their own cattle and pigs. They are purchased from area farmers.

Jones is proud of the fact that the customers get a healthy, fair value for their money, and that Jones Butchering and Meat Processing is very reputable.

Jones is not as thrilled about the energy consumption of the business and the number of inspections the business is put through.

"If I was ever to do something else, I'd do something that consumes less energy," Jones said. He adds that making your own electricity is not cost efficient.

The Saranac businessman realizes the need for some sort of regulation, but feels right now there is too much.

"Government regulation has forced a lot of businesses like this out of business," Jones said. "For a lot of butchers it's just not worth it."

He adds that small businesses like his are able to individualize.

Jones and his wife, Janet have been married 31 years. Their two sons, Karl and Lee will carry on the family business. "Right now they are full partners in the business," Jones said.

Jones, when he's not behind the meat counter, enjoys flying. He has his private license and came close to making a career out of it, after the war.

Two property owners have committed to paying $2,752 of the costs for mains passing their property. The city would pick up the remainder of the expense and assess other property owners if they wish to tap into the line in the future. The Council deferred action until two property owners needing new wells are contacted.

The Council approved a land trade proposal for property adjacent to the city's park land at the gravel pit site on Bowes Rd. The trade allows a developer to square up his property and build apartments while also squaring up the city property for future park development. The Council approved a contract for Christmas lighting and decorations along Main St. for the next two holiday seasons. The cost per year is $1,740. Mid-Michigan Display Services will perform the work.

An oil and gas lease at the city's old landfill site was approved by the Council. The city will receive $960 and 1/8 royalty for any oil or gas extracted from the site.

A work session regarding needed additions to the water treatment plant was scheduled for July 11 at 7:00 p.m.
