Pat McCormick will be officially retired from Michigan Bell after Dec. 31. McCormick has worked for the telephone company for 41 years.

After 41 years McCormick leaves Michigan Bell

One of the nicest things Michigan Bell can say about Pat McCormick, who will retire after 41 years at the company, is exactly what McCormick says about his fellow workers - "He cares about his work."

Caring about your work is not something a person can gain with experience, or obtain through four years of college. That must come from within.

McCormick, born and raised in Ada and graduated from Lowell High School in 1926, spent a year-and-a-half in the Army prior to the start of his work with Michigan Bell.

"I started out as a cable splicer helper in Grand Rapids and 41 years later I'm a repairman," McCormick said. There's a fancier job description for the work McCormick does but he preferred to keep the title simple.

McCormick, too modest a man to get carried away with adjectives about the loyalty involved in spending 41 years with one company, prefers to leave that work for others.

"I don't think loyalty to one's work place is a thing of the past. I work with two gentlemen who have been with Michigan Bell for roughly 22 years," McCormick said.

mick said. "Michigan Bell has good benefits and they have been good to me." So good in fact, that McCormick would do it all over again.

McCormick's wife, Marlene, a fixture at Robert and James Reagan D.D.S. office for 10 years, plans on continuing her work hours.

The Lowell couple has three children (Pat, Tim and Anne), three grandchildren, one great grandchild and one more on the way. "Our second great grandchild is due any day," said Marlene McCormick.

"When I first started, people were still turning the crank and an operator was answering and patching calls through," McCormick said. Since then he has seen the commencement of the dial and just recently the switch to digital.

The Ada native will devote his retirement time to his 3-4 flower gardens, fishing, golfing and a possible winter home in Florida.

"I've enjoyed the outdoor work and the people I've worked with over the years," McCormick said. "However, retirement will sure beat working outside in the cold of winter."

THOMAS - Ruth Marie Thomas, aged 59, passed away December 23, 1988. She is survived by her husband, Mason; son, James Shelor at home; brother, John Robinson of Washington, NC; sisters, Dorothy Bain of Kinston, NC, Virginia Lovern of Delaware, Edna Harper of Florida, and Betty Elders of Hanover, VA. Funeral Services were held Tuesday at the Roth-Gerst Chapel. Interment Findlay Cemetery.

VANBREE - Lucille VanBree, aged 88, formerly of Grand Rapids, passed away Sunday at Lowell Medical Care Center in Lowell. Surviving are a step-daughter, Marie Calkins of Clio; and many dear friends. Funeral Services were held Wednesday at Central Reformed Church, Rev. Harold Collenbrander officiating. Interment Greenwood Cemetery.

Coming Events

By State Senator Dick Posthumus

"Capitol Column"

Now that long session days are over for another year, it's time to sit back and take stock of the Legislature's accomplishments for the year. A good deal of activity took place during the final days and hours of session. Good or bad, the legislative process works much like negotiations - most of the action takes place when time becomes a premium commodity. It seems to help grease the wheels of bipartisan cooperation.

During 1988, Michigan became the first state to establish criminal penalties for surrogate parenting contracts for pay. The law makes surrogate contracts void and unenforceable and sets up penalties for brokers as well as those entering into such contracts.

A number of other new laws - 68 to be exact - were added to the books when the Legislature passed a landmark anti-crime package. The laws address everything from juvenile crime to shoplifting to chop shops.

In addition to new laws to fight crime, voters approved an amendment to the Michigan Constitution protecting the rights of crime victims.

In that same November General Election, voters approved banning Medicaid-funded abortions as well as two bond proposals, one for environmental cleanup and the other to improve parks and recreational facilities.

The state will now embark on an ambitious plan to clean up many of the state's worst contaminated sites, improve solid waste disposal methods and wastewater treatment facilities, and protect the Great Lakes.

Speaking of elections, there will again be a presidential primary beginning with the 1992 election. The new law calls for a "closed" primary, meaning all voters will be required to declare a party preference at least 30 days before the primary in order to vote.

The Legislature also addressed some pressing health care issues during this session. We now have new laws discouraging the use of tobacco products by further limiting where smokers can light up. In addition, new measures have been put in place to slow the spread of AIDS in Michigan, including stepped up education and testing programs. Alzheimer's patients and their families will benefit from a just-approved package dealing with the treatment and care of persons with Alzheimer's or related disorders.

Health care got another boost when the Legislature passed Certificate of Need reforms to improve the outdated system. The changes will facilitate health care providers and streamline the purchasing process for medical facilities by increasing the thresholds for clinical and non-clinical purchases.

To further protect Michigan citizens, a package of bills was approved to improve truck safety and inspection in Michigan. In addition, a new Marine Safety Commission will be created to study boating accidents in order to improve water safety throughout Michigan. Also, a fire safety package improving fire fighter training safety and protecting instructors from liability won legislative approval.

The list of accomplishments goes on. I do regret, however, that the list does not include a school finance reform proposal which addresses funding inequities, quality in education and some type of property tax relief for Michigan citizens.

That issue will remain at the top of the Senate Republican agenda for 1989. I look forward to a productive new year. Best wishes for a happy and healthy holiday season.

Thousands of Michigan motorists get stuck in snow every winter, and many are unable to telephone for help. AAA Michigan advises that to get out of a rut, motorists need more than a shovel.

Becoming unstuck sometimes causes a "snowball" effect, worsening at each attempt to free the tire. In such cases, AAA Michigan recommends that motorists:

- * Clear three-or-four-foot path in front of the wheels.
- * Point the front wheels straight to minimize rolling resistance and shift to second gear (manual transmissions) or to "drive" (automatic transmissions).
- * Depress the accelerator gently without spinning the wheels. If the wheels spin, they dig deeper. Immediately stop and let the tires cool.
- * If more traction is needed, spread sand, salt, pet litter or any handy abrasive material in front of and behind the driving wheels.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ... (II Peter 3:18).

I heard a speaker describe the stages a boy passes through while growing up as follows: First, he's an angel, cuddly, cooing, and soft. Secondly, he's a pig, eating all the time. Thirdly, he becomes a Boy Scout; he wants to be with the gang. Fourthly, he turns into a girl scout. Soon he's a boy no longer.

Growth is the natural consequence of living, providing one is born healthy, receives proper nourishment, and is given favorable living conditions. It is also normal for the children of God to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." As we search His Word for new truths, our souls receive nourishment. Our spiritual bodies grow strong when we exercise faith, hope, and love. By triumphing over challenges which come in life, we climb upward, developing spiritual wisdom and understanding.

Natural development takes a child through various stages. As Christians grow in grace and knowledge, they reach new plateaus in spiritual development. Each new level attained is a stepping stone toward a more perfect character and greater Christlikeness.

Prayer: Dear Lord, help me ever to be growing and never standing still. Perfect that which is lacking in my life. Make me more and more like Thee each day. Amen.

HEALTH COLUMN OAT BRAN

As a follow up to our recent column on cholesterol, today we are going to discuss oat bran and its cholesterol lowering effects.

Oat bran is the ground husks of the grain which has become quite popular recently due to its cholesterol lowering properties. Oat bran and oatmeal are found also in many breakfast cereals and can be used in making muffins, breads and cookies. Oat bran is a dietary fiber that is soluble (able to be dissolved) in water, unlike wheat bran which is largely insoluble. It is felt that water soluble fiber has a greater cholesterol lowering effect than water insoluble fiber. Many believe that soluble fiber binds cholesterol and bile acids in the intestine which limits absorption into the blood stream.

Several studies have shown that by increasing our intake of oat bran on a daily basis, we may be able to lower our cholesterol significantly. Oat bran lowers the LDL cholesterol which is the fraction that has a protective effect against heart attack.

Oat bran, like other dietary fibers, increases the bulk of stool which may also help with constipation. When first adding oat bran to the diet, some abdominal distention and discomfort may be noted but this will decrease over one or two weeks.

Oat bran will be found commercially in many breakfast cereals such as Cheerios®, and good old fashioned Quaker Oatmeal®, among others. Oat bran muffins will contribute more oat bran per serving than most cereals.

In conclusion, oat bran may be an effective dietary supplement to aid in lowering our cholesterol. However, long term safety and effectiveness of eating large amounts of oat bran have not been established.

Thaler obtained a perfect score of 40 correct, and outdistanced more than 20,000 competitors from 598 schools throughout Michigan, and received an engraved plaque for his achievement.

He was also selected by Northwestern University as one of 101 top winners in the 1988 Midwest Talent Search (of 6th, 7th and 8th graders in 10 states), for his score of 700 on the mathematics section of the S.A.T. test. In the 6th grade competition sponsored by the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics last Spring, Thaler captured first place in the regionals and second place in the state finals held at Central Michigan University.

This information was furnished by Robert Thaler, of Saginaw. Thaler also adds: I always look forward to getting my Ledger in the mail each week, to keep up with news of "home". And unlike a recent letter writer I think your high school sports coverage is terrific and very thorough. As a high school student, I used to write most of the high school sports stories for the Ledger back in 1956-60. But what we did then doesn't begin to match the volume of stories you have today about LHS sports. Keep up the good work!

Salute the holiday season Charles Dickens style

Whether a "Chimney Sweep" or "Marley's Ghost," party hosts can pour a lavish array of festive nonalcoholic drinks from the "Great Pretenders" party guide without impairing their guests' driving ability this holiday season, reports AAA Michigan.

The free 20-page booklet, available at AAA Michigan offices statewide, includes 20 winning nonalcoholic drink ideas, alcohol-absorbing party food recipes, and tips on how to be "First A Friend, Then a Host."

"During the holidays, people traditionally gather to celebrate with toast and some motorists will have a drink, then drive," stated Robert V. Cullen, AAA Michigan Safety and Traffic Manager. "That is why we encourage hosts to serve alcohol-free but still tempting selections from our party guide."

Drink recipes, which carry out a "Charles Dickens Holiday" theme, call for such tasty items as hot fudge topping, dark chocolate shavings and coconut cream. "Mr. Pickwick's Punch," "Tiny Tim's Chocolate Delight" and "Scrooge's Custard Eggnog" are among the rich, imaginative drinks which conjure up the quaint image of Merry Olde England, with smiling faces gathered around a glowing fireplace after a dinner of Yorkshire pudding.

Winning drinks were selected on the basis of taste, appearance, creativity of name and how well they carried out the "Charles Dickens Holiday" theme.

For a second straight year, top membership in this organization is open to anyone who is interested in promoting agriculture and agribusiness in the community of Lowell.

It's time to recognize these outstanding agriculturists and former FFA members for their efforts. The organization, better known as the LAS, was chartered officially at the 1986 State Alumni Convention at Michigan State University. The Lowell Chapter is led by Scott Drown, Sandi Thompson, Dr. Bruce Langlois and Chris Wenger.

The LAS has held many activities and helped the FFA with many projects, such as the annual Hog Roast, which helped the chapter send two members to the Washington Conference Program in Washington D.C. last summer. They also assisted in training leadership teams for state contests.

Future activities include: a bowl-a-thon, which will help the Lowell FFA Chapter raise money for a National Cancer Organization.

Silver Streak Weekend for 55 and over

More than 40 Michigan downhill and cross-country ski facilities are out to prove this winter that those in their mid-fifties are not over the hill -- they're on top of it.

During the second annual "Silver Streak Week," January 30-February 3, 1989, skiers 55 years of age and above who show proof of age will receive free lift tickets and cross-country trail passes at facilities participating in this Michigan Travel Bureau program.

In addition to the free lift tickets and trail passes, many ski facilities will offer the special "Silver Streak" package, including reduced rental prices, complimentary lessons, and special lodging packages.

"The program is designed to appeal to those who are inclined to flee the state in winter, or who don't appreciate how much there is to do when winter comes," said Michigan Travel Bureau Director John Savich.

A brochure explaining "Silver Streak Week" and listing participating facilities is available from the Michigan Travel Bureau by calling 1-800-5432-YES. The hearing impaired can call the TDD (Michigan only) at 1-800-722-8191.

honor and $1,000 went to Michele Matzke of Birch Run, a bartender at Frankenmuth's Bavarian Inn. Her "Chimney Sweep" includes McDonald Dairy Ryba's Mackinac Island fudge ice cream, Vernors and Kellogg's Nut & Honey Crunch cereal.

The eighth annual non-alcoholic contest was open to all Michigan residents aged 16 and up. The pocket-sized "Great Pretenders" guide lists lots of ways in which savvy hosts can hold safe, successful gatherings, such as:

- * Emphasize food rather than alcohol and offer a buffet pleasingly packaged with starchy treats such as pasta, bread and cookies. Replenish food frequently.
- * Each couple or group should have a "designated non-driving driver," who can assure others a safe ride home. Intoxicated guests should never be allowed to drive.

Hints for cold weather skin care

The winter months are taut times. Dry winds and hot interiors can make you feel as though your skin has been shrink-wrapped onto your body. A stretched feeling after face washing, cuticles that split, crack and tear, and sandpaper elbows are clear signals that your skin needs more moisture than you've been giving it.

According to Dr. Nicholas Lowe, professor of dermatology at UCLA School of Medicine, one of the best ways to reduce moisture loss from weather-beaten skin is to wash quickly, rinse well and immediately massage in a moisturizer. Most people find that moisturizing twice a day is about right to restore skin to its smooth, soft, flexible self and keep it that way.

Moisturizers don't have to cost a mint to be effective and cosmetically appealing. Dr. Lowe points out to his patients that some of the best are sold in drug stores and supermarkets. A favorite of dermatologists and models alike, Nivea is a frequently recommended moisturizer that delivers luxury at a bargain price. Many women prefer it over department store brands because it's the same quality, but sells for a fraction of the cost.

French call this special formulation "Visage," which means "face." The best facial moisturizers contain sunscreens as bonus ingredients to ward off damaging effects of the sun, including aging and skin cancer.

- Read labels. "Extra enriched" or "creme" means the moisturizer works well on especially dry areas: knees, feet, hands and elbows. Lightweight moisturizers are designed for the face. The
- Keep hand cream by the sink you most frequently use and use it every time.
- For the most benefit, don't just put it on, massage it in for a minute to encourage absorption.
- A little bit goes a long way, so use just what you need. The cream should "vanish" when it's rubbed in, leaving skin feeling soft, smooth and comfortable.

Collins resigns from Lowell City Council post

Lowell's City Council recently learned that 13-year council board member Dean Collins resigned from his post on the board so that he could start his new job in Utica, New York.

Collins accepted a position with D.B. Smith, an engineering firm out east.

"The council accepts his resignation with much regret, but also wishes Collins much success with his new job in Utica," Lowell City Manager David Pasquale said.

Collins' resignation went into effect on Dec. 19.

Lowell's council will seek letters of interest from city residents who would like to serve on the board. Pasquale said the city council would deal with replacing Collins after receiving letters of interest and at the Jan. 5 meeting.

The city council also approved the sign variance for Action Auto. The variance will allow for substitution of wall signs for freestanding and projecting signs. Under the zoning ordinance, a business may have one free standing canopy and projection sign each.

Don Fizer, President of Michigan Wire Processing Company

sought an industrial tax abatement, which would abate value of improvements for a period of up to 12 years with no taxes on the improvements. This would be revenues from property tax used by the city, the public schools and the county, according to Pasquale.

The abatement would be for improvements at two sites, one on Water Street behind King Milling and the second is near the intersection of West Main and Alden Nash. "In seeking a competitive edge, Fizer needs tax abatement to his facilities," Pasquale said. "He will be submitting applications."

In other news, the council discussed street improvement priorities. At the top of that discussion was a formal capital improvement budget which would include a list of improvements over a 5-6 year period of time.

The listing would take into account traffic volume and street conditions.

In discussing Water Street with King Milling, there was no agreement over cost share. Thus, the street will be kept on a deferred list until such time as an agreement can be reached. "The council is not interested in vacating a portion of Water Street for King Milling," Pasquale said. "It will defer the matter until later so that a mutual decision on share cost can be worked on."

An agreement with the YMCA outlining mutual responsibilities has expired. The city and the YMCA are currently working on a proposed agreement. The basic agreement would not change.

Updates in the language concerning insurance have been included. Discounts for city residents covering YMCA activities and Membership fees (relating to swimming pool usage) are provided.

"The council wants information on usage of the program by city and non city people," Pasquale said. The issue is tentatively scheduled again for the next meeting.

The July city council meetings are scheduled for July 10 and 24.

The meetings are usually the first and third Mondays of every month, but with the first Monday being July 3 the council decided to avoid any holiday hassles changing the meeting to July 10.

The fifth grade choir at Alto performed for Cumberland Manor and invited the residents to join in a sing-a-long with them. The choir furnished background music for the Christmas program at Alto as well.

Alto's fifth graders go caroling

Last week Miss VanderLaan's fifth grade choir from Alto School made their rounds to spread Christmas cheer.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 20, the choir visited Cumberland Manor to sing for the residents. Also included in the entertainment was a sing-a-long. It was an enjoyable experience for both students and residents.

Another caroling session took place the following Friday evening at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel. The choir went from place to place within the hotel singing from stairways, around fountains, and Christmas trees. For some, it was their first trip to the hotel.

The choir was formed this year by Miss VanderLaan, Alto's music teacher. Students interested in singing auditioned for the choir late in fall. They practice weekly during their lunch recess time.

The members also assisted with background music and harmony during Alto's recent Christmas program at school. That program was held on Friday, Dec. 16 in the all purpose room. The music for the program entitled "Christmas Treasures," was furnished by the kindergarten through second grades.

Tips to prevent shoveling injuries

With Michigan's famous winter season here, Michigan residents need to take special care before launching into the chore of shoveling snow. Improperly lifting a single shovel of snow can put as much as 200 pounds of additional pressure on the lower back.

Dr. Robert Ducharme of Rochester, MI, president of the Michigan Chiropractic Society, stated that "a single shovel load of wet snow itself weighing between 10 and 15 pounds held in front of the body can increase the pressure on the lumbrosacral disc by 15 times the weight being lifted." The lumbrosacral disc (the lowest disc in the spinal column) carries most of the body's weight and is often the site of back problems. Dr. Ducharme noted that according to a study published in Consumer Reports the most common cause of hospitalization, but for childbirth, is back pain.

Incorrect methods of snow shoveling can trigger sciatica (a shooting pain and sensation in the leg) or bronchial neuralgia (a burning, tingling numbness or pain down the neck, shoulder or arm).

Several specific steps can be taken to prevent back pain and injury while shoveling snow. Dr. Ducharme said. He suggested these steps:

- Warm up with stretches to help

- limber the joints and muscles.
- Dress warmly and wear an extra long garment to keep the low-back muscles warm and prevent tightening.
- Stand in an erect position and bend at the knee, not at the waist.
- Keep your back straight.
- Handle small-to-moderate shovel loads of snow at a time.
- Push rather than lift the snow when possible - Deposit the snow nearby instead of twisting and throwing it to another area.
- Change your grip and stance often to avoid overusing the strong side of your body.
- Pace yourself, do not over exert, rest frequently.
- Do not shovel if you've had serious spinal or cardio-vascular conditions. Ask a neighborhood youngster to help.

Holtz's 29 paces Red Arrows

Man-to-Man pressure carries Lowell past Belding

It was Lowell's strongest performance in terms of a team effort. The strength of that effort also provided the Red Arrows with their largest margin of victory this season, soundly defeating Belding 85-55.

Lowell Coach Mark Thomas has talked all year to his club about "giving your best effort" and having no regrets at game's end. "With the effort we had against Belding, I think players are beginning to see what they are capable of doing," he said. "They're beginning to play to their strengths and that will bring success."

Thomas added that with today's society it's how many points did you score. "That type of attitude doesn't lend itself to success. What does lend itself to success is when players start to get enjoyment out of their teammate's success, and Thomas can see this starting to happen.

The 2-4 Arrows were led by the excellent play of guard Ryan Holtz. The junior tallied 29 points and grabbed 13 rebounds. "Holtz played a super game. He only took a couple of outside shots. Many of his points came inside," Lowell coach Mark Thomas said.

Other Red Arrows to hit double figures against the Redskins included Jason Douma with 20 points, Tim Weststrate added 15 and Joel Manion contributed with 11.

Manion earned extra playing time against Belding for his sparkling off-the-bench effort against Wyoming Park. "I thought his effort against the Vikings earned him more playing time," Thomas said.

Some of the other areas which benefited from the pressure included foul shooting. Lowell was 12 of 15 from the line. "That's because we played confidently. We played with vigor and enthusiasm," Thomas said. "Your mental state plays a key role in how well you fare at the line."

Thomas added that his club has done a much better job of boxing out the last two games. Lowell grabbed 33 rebounds against Belding. The Redskins did one better with 34 caroms.

Lowell trailed at the end of one quarter of play 21-16, but a splendid 27-point second quarter performance turned a five-point deficit into an eight point Arrow halftime advantage.

The second half belonged to Lowell as the Red Arrows outscored Belding 42-20.

Lowell's junior varsity claimed a 62-48 win over its Belding counterpart.

AAA's 12-point car check

What can baking soda do besides make cookies rise and keep refrigerators fresh? If taken from the kitchen to the garage, it can help prevent expensive car repairs and even help keep motorists from becoming stranded in a snowstorm, reports AAA Michigan.

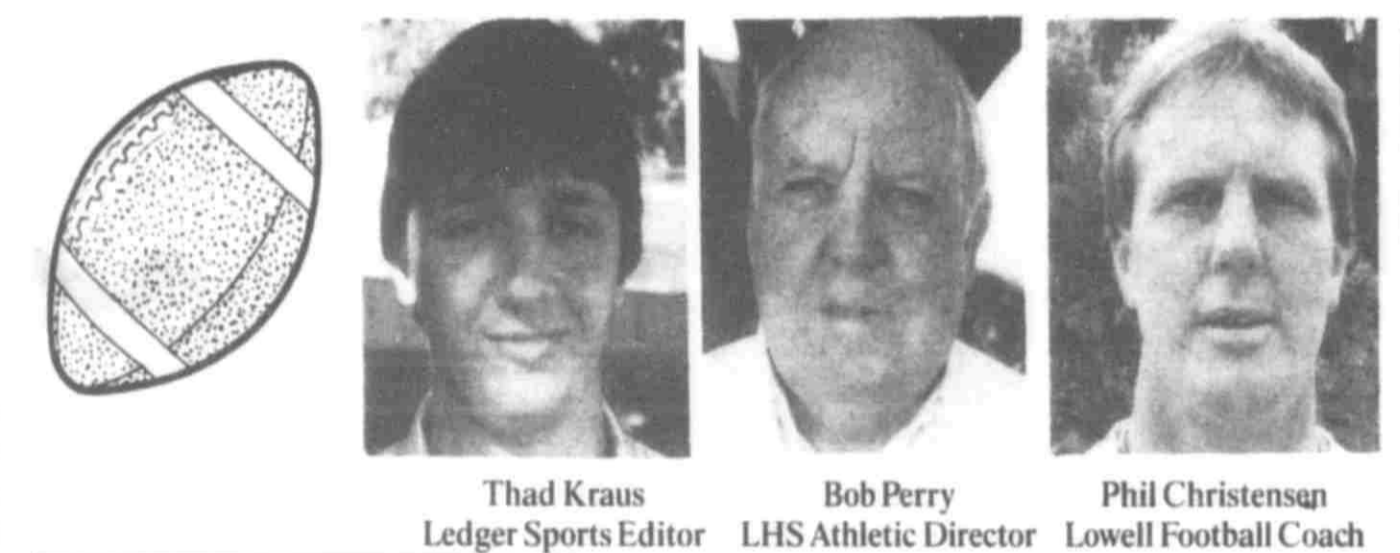

To prepare for Michigan's inevitable winter, use a mixture of baking soda (two tablespoons) and water (8 ounces) to dissolve car battery corrosion on the battery cable clamps and posts, which often causes engine no-starts.

The battery is among 12 vehicle items which ought to be checked now for trouble-free driving this winter.

"The only required items to perform AAA Michigan's 30-minute do-it-yourself plan are your owner's manual, a tire pressure gauge, screwdriver, hydrometer and baking soda," said Robert Tellier, AAA Michigan Emergency Road Service manager.

AAA Michigan recommends these 12 steps:

- * Battery Terminals and Cables -- Use a baking soda and water solution with a wire brush to clean battery terminals and cable-ends, but do not splash on painted surfaces. If the battery is not maintenance-free, make sure water is at the correct level.
- * Tires -- Check pressure with a gauge for correct inflation and inspect tread wear, including the spare. For accuracy, check inflation pressures when the tires are cold. A "cold" reading can be taken when a car has not been driven more than one mile or after sitting for three hours or more.
- * Antifreeze -- Use a hydrometer to check the antifreeze strength in the radiator. Antifreeze can be checked in the overflow tanks on some cars.
- * Motor Oil -- Use dipstick to check oil level. Add oil as needed. Check owner's manual for exact intervals between changes and for SAE viscosity grade. Some car manufacturers suggest lower viscosity during winter.
- * Brake Fluid -- Keep the level within one-quarter inch from the top of the reservoir. Use a screwdriver to pry off the chamber's cover clips. Some vehicles may have screw-off caps. New models have translu-

Two new developments await Michigan skiers

More than $13 million in new snowmaking equipment plus other developments await skiers across the state this year, AAA Michigan reports.

Five of Michigan's 49 ski resorts are geared to cover their slopes with Snomax—an additive which makes flakes even when temperatures are too high for normal snowmaking. And winter sports buffs will find at least 15 areas welcoming snowboarders—the latest downhill thrill for the adventurous.

Although some scientists—and the not always infallible Farmer's Almanac—predict one of the snowiest winters in years for Michigan, ski operators aren't sitting back to await nature's whim. Many already use machinery to assure a steady supply of white stuff on the slopes.

Now, Snomax enables resort operators to produce up to 300 percent more snow than standard snowmaking normally provides.

Sugarloaf, Crystal Mountain, and Pine Mountain began using it last season and this year Indianhead Mountain and Nub's Nob will, too.

More than half of West Michigan's ski areas can boast a bigger snowmaking capability this winter. They include Bittersweet in Otsego County; Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls; Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs; Caberfae in Cadillac; Mt. Holiday in Traverse City; Nub's Nob in Harbor Springs; Pando in Rockford; Schuss Mountain in Manacelona; Shanty Creek in Bellaire; Ski World in Buchanan; Swiss Valley in Jones; Sylvan Resort in Gaylord; and Timber Ridge in Gables.

Southeast Michigan's Mt. Brighton and Alpine Valley also added some snowmaking gear.

Six of the 11 Upper Peninsula ski areas reported bigger business last winter and all are striving to create a winter "white sale" beyond the Mackinac Bridge this season.

Snowmaking facilities have been doubled at Marquette Mountain in Marquette. Big Powderhorn in Bessemer, Indianhead Mountain Resort in Wakefield and Ski Brule-Ski Homestead in Iron River have also purchased additional equipment to ensure runs are white, deep and just right for those who like to glide, soar and slide.

In addition to traditional downhill skiing, some areas will cater to those agile enough to wear snowboards. Instead of separate skis on each foot, snowboards enable a "hot-dogger" to surf the slopes with both boots on one shorter—but wider-board.

Crystal Mountain's slopes were shared by skiers and snowboarders for the first time last winter and Ski Director Dave Hofacker said both reacted favorably.

Snowboard buffs will also be welcomed at Bittersweet, Caberfae, Mulligan's Hollow in Grand Haven, Schuss Mountain, Shanty Creek, Timber Ridge, Ski World, Hanson Hills in Grayling, Alpine Valley, Mt. Brighton, Riverview Highlands in Riverview, Marquette Mountain and Ski Brule-Ski Homestead.

Here is what else is happening in the way of improvements: in West Michigan—Bittersweet offers a beginner's rope tow; Crystal Mountain in Thompsonville is recontouring slopes and has added a triple chairlift; Mt. McSaub in Charlevoix is moving its bunny beginner's hill and enlarging another run while starting a five-year project to install chairlifts.

Nub's Nob is regrading all slopes; Timber Ridge has redesigned a major ski hill and added lighting; Michayve in Gaylord added three Nordic ski jumps; and Sylvan Resort, also in Gaylord, invested $4.5 million in chairlifts, five slopes and 42 additional lodging rooms.

Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs, Crystal Mountain in Thompsonville and the Homestead in Glen Arbor each added condominium units to accommodate mounting numbers of extended-stay skiers.

In East Michigan—Freeland's Bintz Apple Mountain spent $50,000 on grooming equipment. Mt. Mariah in Spruce built a new rental shop which will offer all new equipment.

In Southeast Michigan—skiers at Mt. Holly can now reach all areas from one chairlift. Riverview Highlands opens two new rope tows for beginners, and Pine Knob will provide a new equipment corral.

Lift ticket sales increased 8.7 percent last winter from the year before. This season, lift ticket prices range statewide from $3 to $24 daily, but the new maximum is $1 below last year's high. Some resorts offer weekend discounts.

For those who want to know where to go for snow, AAA Michigan's Ski Scene '88-'89 lists peaks, prices and other pertinent information. The guide is available at all AAA offices.

Speedy star: Scientists recently discovered the fastest stars yet found in the universe. According to International Wildlife magazine, these two speedy celestial bodies orbit a neutron star at a blazing 750 miles per hour. At that speed you could travel from the earth to the sun and back in about 40 minutes.

The Flat River Snowmobile Club held its 18th Annual Christmas Party for its member children on Sunday, at the clubhouse, following the regular December meeting and potluck dinner. Each child received a gift, a bag of goodies, and enjoyed refreshments of punch and Christmas cookies.

The club has been very active the past year and has made several improvements to its clubhouse including new floors, a new gas furnace, a new refrigerator, and a nice new pole barn for storage of the new groomer, trail supplies, etc. The clubhouse is very comfortable now and several families will be using it for their Holiday celebrations.

Plans were made for our Annual New Years Eve Party for the adult members.

The Club once again participated in the Lowell Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade and tied for second place for their float entry. The new Truck-Track groomer of the Western Michigan Snowmobile Trail was also in the parade. We wish to thank Mr. Henry VanderVennen and his staff at Vennen Chrysler for the

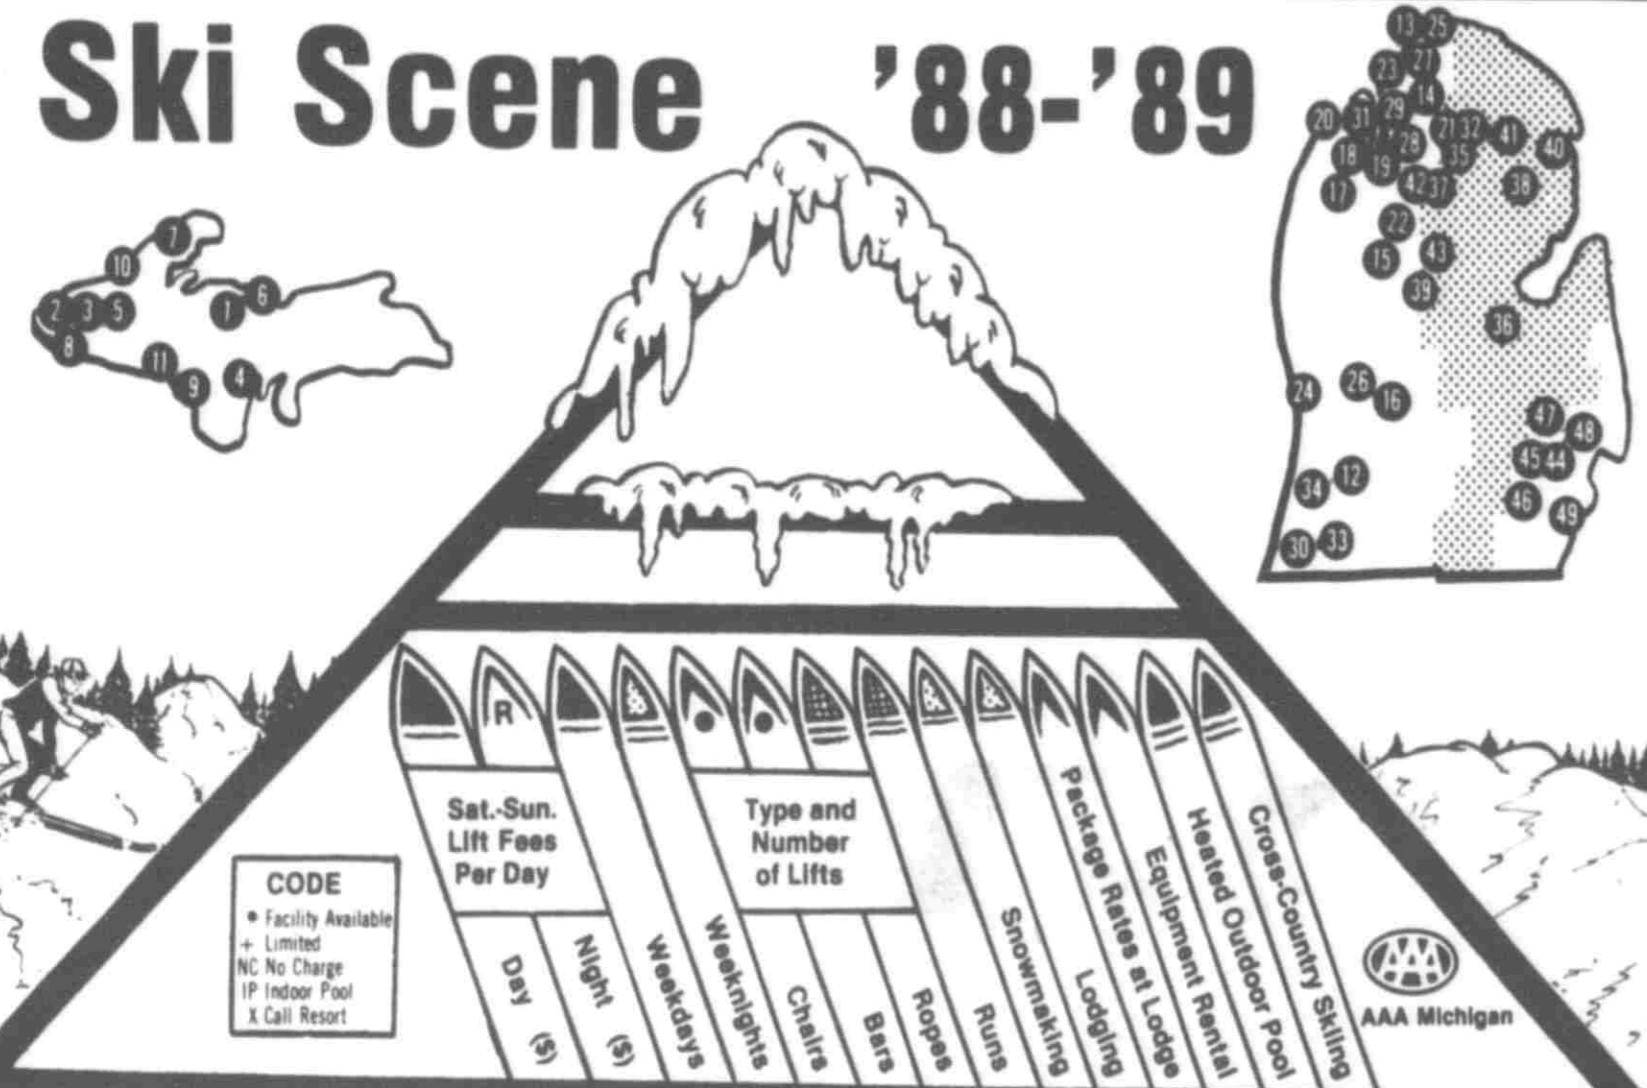

The Trail Committee has been hard at work and the trail is all signed and cleared with improvements in several problem areas. Now all that is needed is Mother Nature's blessing of a good snowfall.

The Flat River Snowmobile Club extends its Best Wishes for Christmas and the New Year to all of its friends and supporters in the community.

"The Littlest Angels" program pictorial

The second grade students at St. Mary's had a message for everyone for Christmas. The students performed a rendition of "All I Want For Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth", accompanied by a dance number.

The 3rd and 4th grade girls performed a moving piece called the "Dance of the Infant." The backdrop was done by Mrs. Sue Koster, fifth and sixth grade teacher at St. Mary's.

The first graders are elves and Santa Clauses for this choral recitation of "Alissa".

"The Littlest Angels" (Tara May and Laura VanHaren) pose in front of the student body. The students opened their program with the song "The City of God".

Some of the second grade girls carefully listen for directions from their teacher while they rehearse their part in the St. Mary's program last Thursday, Dec. 22.

Tara May (left) and Laura VanHaren (right) were "The Littlest Angels" in this year's Christmas program at St. Mary's School. In the background more school children from various grades watch on.

A few of the fifth grade students are shown performing their play entitled "Christmas in Arizona." All the props were handled by the fifth and sixth grade boys.

The 4th grade boys at St. Mary's (dressed as St. Joseph) are busy building a crib for baby Jesus. The class performed to the song "Deck The Halls."
