Stormzand retires to yard full of antique cars

40 Years of service

When Ed Stormzand, ex-mechanic, ex-service manager, and now body shop manager says that Vennen Chrysler, Dodge, Plymouth, formerly Jackson, formerly Speerstra and formerly Gould's, has a good product - take his word for it.

Stormzand has not only worked with the Chrysler, Dodge, Plymouth cars for 40 years, but he also owns a few. "I have a 1924 Dodge, a 1938 Dodge, a 1951 Dodge, a 1953 Chrysler Windsor, a 1962 Corvair station wagon, a 1963 Imperial, a restored 1967 MG, a 1980 D-50 Dodge Pickup, and a Dodge Motor Home," Stormzand said.

The Lowell native, will use his time spent in retirement, which went into effect Friday,

Dec. 30, to work on and to restore old antique cars.

As a youngster coming out of the Army in 1946, Stormzand worked with his dad at the family garage on Main Street until 1949, when he landed a body work, mechanic position with Gould's.

"Mechanic work is all I ever did," he said. Stormzand added that if he was to do it all over again, he'd probably choose a mechanical vocation.

"It's interesting work and there's change," Stormzand said. "Compared to when I first started, many things have changed. Everything is electronic now, the paint work is different, there's no metal finishing, everything is either replaced or filler is used."

Many of the young mechanics entering the field are better prepared and more qualified than Stormzand was 40 years ago. The 40-year veteran has kept in step through reading (information gathered through the mail), school training sessions, and a Chrysler run mobile school.

Stormzand's decision to retire was made this past summer. "I'm sure I'll miss it some. But I'm also sure I will keep busy," Stormzand said. When not working on his cars he plans on taking in plenty of fishing (blue gill, salmon, trout) and some hunting (deer and antelope). "The last couple of years I've gone antelope hunting in Montana."

While Stormzand ends his long, loyal stint with Vennen and its predecessors, his son, Ed Jr., will continue his work with Vennen as an assistant to the service department manager. The Lowell native has been married to his wife, Joyce, for 38 years.

"Loyalty to one company is gone," Stormzand said. "People change jobs to better themselves, to make more money."

Stormzand's change from the work market to retirement won't improve his monetary gains but, then again, he will be doing the fishing and hunting.

Ed Stormzand will spend retirement fishing, hunting and working on antique cars.

Fewer holiday shoppers

But Christmas budgets hold the line

The pre-Christmas shopping days are over and local merchants are focusing in on how sales for 1988 compared to Christmas sales in the past.

Whether the sales were slightly up, roughly the same or a touch below sales of a year ago, no one knows for sure the reasons why? "If we knew the answers, we wouldn't be here, we'd own our own little island," said Bob Pfaller, owner of Pfaller's Clothing.

Pfaller added that the national retail trend has been flat. "I think the spending rate remained the same, but their weren't as many people out shopping.

Many merchants agreed it's important that local retailers work together in helping people realize many of their shopping needs can be met in Lowell.

"Just being located in Lowell doesn't draw customers. Retailers must give customers a reason to shop here - appeal to their needs," Casual Touch owner Dee Korb said. "That means lower prices."

Korb said she found much success in offering discount prices the week prior to Christmas. "The Christmas rush came later, but I'm pleased with what business we did do and it was what we had hoped for," she added.

Jim Hodges, owner of Low-electronics, was very much pleased with how well his store's Christmas sales went. One of the keys he pointed to was his advertising program. "I thought the advertising program worked well for us. I'm very appreciative of the efforts Tom Speerstra of the Buyers Guide put forth. I think it got local residents to stop and think about what's here in Lowell."

Speerstra, the paper's advertising salesman, had banners at the top of the pages reading "Shop Lowell," and "Make it a Hometown Christmas." The paper also included display ads informing the public of the well over 50 stores in Lowell. The ads also encouraged shoppers to enjoy the atmosphere of hometown shopping.

With the sale of smaller retail items and being located on the east end of town, Duane Lambert found this Christmas season to be as successful as the year past. "Our business was about the same. I think customers bought more carefully this year and maybe a little less," Lambert said. "However the day after Christmas was great. We cleaned out."

Jim Pfaller, owner of Anderson Shoes, said his sales were down. "We usually sell a lot of boots this time of year, but with the warm temperatures prior to

Roderick "Rescue Person of the Year"

Paul Roderick was chosen as the first recipient of the Lowell "Rescue Person of the Year" award.

The 30-person volunteer Lowell Rescue team has provided compassion and caring for people under the most traumatic of circumstances over the last eight years.

Recently Lowell Rescue said thanks to one of its members for the dedication, and the amount of personal time given to rescue. In the inaugural year of the Lowell Rescue "Person of the Year Award," the unit chose Paul Roderick as its first recipient.

Roderick, a member of the Lowell Rescue Unit for 6-1/2 years prior to leaving the unit in September because of a new job, first volunteered his time in 1981. He responded to a rescue personnel advertisement in the local paper. "I completed my first responder course in 1981," Roderick said. "A few years later I upgraded my status to an EMT (Emergency Medical Technician)."

Three years ago Roderick was named Lieutenant of the Lowell unit prior to becoming the unit's Captain roughly 1-1/2 years ago.

The Lowell resident also spearheaded a horse show fundraiser for the rescue unit at the fairgrounds last May. The event raised $1,200. The proceeds were used to help purchase rescue unit equipment.

"The award is very gratifying. It's nice to know that fellow workers appreciate what you're doing," Roderick said. "It's even more rewarding since I had to leave the unit in September." He added that he's hopeful he will be able to work Lowell Rescue volunteerism back into his routine after the first of the year.

"Volunteers on rescue must be willing to sacrifice their own time, detach oneself from the trauma/tragedy, remain updated on new medical techniques, and not need a lot of recognition for the service they're doing," Roderick said.

Roderick added that because people are trained so well as to what to concentrate on once at the scene, rescue personnel don't have time to concentrate on or realize the scope of the trauma and/or tragedy. "It's usually afterwards when you sit down to relax that it affects you," he said.

While detaching oneself from the tragedy isn't easy for everyone, Roderick has the utmost empathy for the police officers who have to tell families that a loved one was killed in an accident. "I would not want that job."

In his 6 1/2 years of service with Lowell Rescue, Roderick is most proud of how well the unit worked as a team at the school bus accident a little less than a year ago. "The compassion and caring shown by the unit, and everybody working so well together, was very gratifying," Roderick said. "I think it was typical of the way the unit acts at an accident/rescue scene."

Well, winter is definitely here. It's the time of year to get out there in sub freezing temperatures and clear our sidewalks and driveways of that beautiful white stuff. Unfortunately, snow shoveling can be a fairly difficult task, and can pose a significant health risk for persons with cardiovascular problems.

Shoveling snow is strenuous physical exercise that can put a fair amount of strain on the heart. Those with a previous history of heart problems should probably avoid shoveling. Take special precautions if you have risk factors that include age over 40, overweight, a smoker, hypertension, or a family history of heart attack.

Wear lightweight, warm layered clothing including a hat. If your clothes become wet, change them as soon as possible. Cover your face with a scarf or ski mask. This helps to warm the air you breathe making it easier on your cardiovascular system. Avoid shoveling when it is very windy as low as windchill increases the chance for frostbite. Work at a slow steady relaxed pace and take breaks when needed. Try to avoid holding your breath while shoveling, as this increases the workload on the heart.

Several danger signs which can indicate significant cardiac stress include:

- a tightening or squeezing in the chest which may radiate to the jaw, arms or back
- shortness of breath, profuse sweating
- palpitations, lightheadedness and fainting

If any of these danger signs are experienced during shoveling you should stop and seek medical help. By using common sense and paying attention to these warning signs we can decrease the number of heart attacks associated with snow shoveling.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

...whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water... shall in no wise lose his reward (Matthew 10:42)

Small potatoes could be purchased inexpensively several years ago, and many families derived much nourishment from them. We often ate "little taters."

Mom used to scrub them thoroughly and cook them with their "jackets" on. They tasted delicious with rich, creamy milk gravy. We really enjoyed them. They were tiny, but the matter of size did not lessen their flavor.

It is not necessarily the big things in life that give us the most enjoyment. Neither is it always the big gifts we give that bring the greatest blessings.

We can give smiles to all we meet. Prayers are always welcomed. We can pray regularly for our friends and loved ones. We can look for the best in others and do acts of kindness when opportunity is given.

Do not wait until you can make a great contribution to the Lord's cause, but give what you have - today, even if it is only "cup of cold water" or a few "little taters."

Prayer: Dear Jesus, accept my gratitude for Thy gifts to me. Help me to give what I have to others. My gifts are not great, but Thou hast promised that the smallest shall not go unnoticed nor unrewarded. Amen.

"Go break to the needy sweet charity's bread, For giving is living," the angel said.

"And must I be giving again and again?"

My peevish and pitiless answer ran.

"Oh no," said the angel, piercing me through.

"Just give till the Master stops giving to you."

Home heating supplies are adequate for winter

Supplies of home heating oil should be adequate this winter both in Michigan and across the nation, according to an analysis by the American Petroleum Institute.

The analysis shows that demand for home heating oil during the coming winter will range from a low of 3,239,000 barrels per day to a high of 3,519,000 barrels per day nationwide. The fluctuation in demand depends on factors such as weather, the rate of economic activity and price.

There are 42 gallons in every barrel of oil.

To meet the nation's home heating needs for the 1988-89 winter season, U.S. refinery production, net imports and inventory drawdowns will result in a total supply - depending on the level of demand - ranging from a low of 3,270,000 barrels a day to a high of 3,769,000 barrels a day.

"These amounts are more than adequate to meet anticipated demand, barring some unforeseen interruption in the supply or transportation system," says Robert E. Waldron, executive director of the association's Michigan office.

A winter 10 percent colder than normal would result in an increased demand of 75,000 barrels a day. The estimates are made based on an economic growth rate of 2.25 percent. If the growth rate climbed to 3.25 percent, that would increase demand by another 25,000 barrels a day.

The U.S. Energy Administration estimates that the cost of heating oil will average $16.50 a barrel. A drop in prices would also increase demand.

The API also provided an outlook for January 1989, usually the peak month for heating demand. According to the Institute, demand in January will range from a low of 3,428,000 barrels a day to a high of 3,768,000 barrels a day.

The Institute estimates that home oil supply availability in January will range from a low of 3,984,000 barrels a day to a high of 4,614,000 barrels a day, far higher than anticipated demand.

Most home heating oil - an average of 87.5 percent during the last five winters - is refined during the heating season, the API said.

Inventories have supplied an average of only 6.5 percent of home heating oil requirements during the last five winters, down from 15 percent during the peak winter of 1977-78.

Lottery funding important; but so is local support

By Michael J. Carr, Commissioner Bureau of State Lottery

I don't know how many times I've been asked, "Where is all that lottery money going?" or "Why should I vote for a local millage issue when my taxes are already too high and the lottery was supposed to reduce them?"

Furthermore, because lottery funding for education is so frequently misunderstood and difficult to explain, local school boards have an even tougher job convincing voters to support millage proposals.

Several things contribute to misconceptions about lottery support to schools, especially the fact that a lot of people just don't realize how much it costs to educate our young people.

Secondly, I suspect many assume the state provides the lion's share of funding for schools. This is simply not the case. More than half of this revenue must come from local taxpayers -- in spite of the fact that the largest share (34%) of the total state operating budget goes for education.

The State of Michigan's contribution to education is primarily in the form of revenue from the School Aid Fund, and that's where the lottery comes into the picture. Since 1981, all net lottery revenues have been specifically earmarked for inclusion in that fund to help support kindergarten - 12th grade public education. Lottery money amounts to about 16% of revenue in the School Aid Fund annually, or $407 million last year. The rest comes from a variety of other sources including the state's General Fund.

The School Aid Fund is then distributed by the Department of Education according to terms of the state School Aid Formula, established each year by our elected representatives in the Michigan Legislature.

The School Aid Formula is the method used to determine which school districts are eligible for state aid (in-formula), and those which are not eligible for state aid (out-of-formula), because local taxpayer support is adequate to provide quality education with minimal state assistance. So, school districts with a poorer local tax base receive more state aid than those in which there are adequate local resources.

Nevertheless, lottery support of education has indirectly saved taxpayers money because the state no longer has to pull a comparable amount out of the state's General Fund -- made up primarily of money collected from taxpayers -- to fulfill its role in supporting education. (During just the last two years, lottery funding was the equivalent of about $250 per Michigan household.)

It's also important to note that both lottery contributions and General Fund money for education have increased over the past few years.

Maybe all the confusion began back in 1972 when the lottery was first begun. I'm sure many who voted on the referendum which permitted its establishment wanted to believe it would be a cure-all for educational funding woes. It's even possible that some proponents contributed to this misconception. But, the fact remains that the lottery is not a panacea.

My intent here is not to downplay the role of the Michigan Lottery.

It has, and will continue to be, very important in helping provide needed revenue for our schools. But, the lottery's contribution can never be anywhere near large enough to carry that burden alone.

As citizens who understand that our hope for the future rests with the children of today, we must support our local school boards and approve millage proposals when needed. Providing a quality education for our young people is a responsibility we all share.

Christmas and no snow, people weren't buying boots," he said. "But I am happy with what we did sell."

Bob Pfaller added that the warm weather also directly affected the sales of outerwear. "I'm sure that was responsible for my small drop in holiday sales. I also think the hometown advertising program in the Buyers Guide helped increase the number of local shoppers," he said. "I heard many people talk about how they hated to go to Grand Rapids and instead would prefer to stay in Lowell and shop."

One rm. No vu: The tiny Philippine bamboo bat roosts in the hollow joints of bamboo stems. According to National Wildlife magazine, its flat head helps it gain access and, once inside, suction pads on thumbs and feet enable it to hold on.

It's no fish out of water... even on land. According to Ranger Rick magazine, climbing perch spend most of their time in water. But if their pond begins to dry up, they just climb out and "walk" to a new one. The fish use their spiny gill covers and fins as "feet" and push themselves along, lickety-split, at 10 feet per minute. Special breathing pouches near their gills enable the fish to take oxygen right out of the air.

Green new FMB State Savings V. P. of Personnel

Lu Green, FMB State Savings, was promoted to Vice President of Personnel. Green will have been with the bank for 30 years come September.

Lowell's FMB State Savings Bank has announced the appointment of Lu Green to Vice President of Personnel.

Green's previous position of Assistant Vice President of Personnel included many of the same job tasks, the only real change is in the title.

"I've been Assistant Vice President since 1981-82," Green said. "Vice President of Personnel, however, is one title I wanted to attain."

Her job description includes scheduling vacation, sick leaves, accounts receivable and payable, and some loaning. "With this job, a person wears a lot of hats."

Her banking experience commenced with a Grand Rapids firm where Green worked her way from a bookkeeper to a head teller before she left.

Come September of '89, Green will have been with FMB for 30 years. Of all the years she may reserve more thanks for that first year. "I got the job on 9-8-58 during the year's recession. My husband, Bob, had just been laid off and at the time, I wasn't working."

While the appointment filled many of her family's basic needs, the promotion to Vice President of Personnel has brought her a great deal of personal satisfaction. "I'm very proud of the fact that I'm the only woman officer in a market where the jobs are male oriented.

It gives me a lot of personal satisfaction."

Green feels the growth in the women's role will be prevalent for years to come. "Today, women are more career oriented. I think economics have created this," said the 1951 graduate of Central High School. Green has lived in Lowell with her husband, Bob, since 1955.

DOROTHY'S SONG

It is not quite the new year as I write this, but all morning I have been whistling a song, and it fits well into the hope of a new year for me--perhaps for you as well. I probably thought about it a few days ago as I was reading Davis Grubb's book, A Tree Full of Stars and the question was asked, "What is brave?" The answer was so startling to me, that I clapped my hands and yelled out loud, "Of course, of course." "What is brave?--Brave is when you sing and no one listens."

Dorothy sings so softly with her life, that one might miss the song. She is most always brave, and although what seems not brave to her is brave to others. She is my Dutch friend, first of all. Then she is the librarian who knows what most of her book-loving friends enjoy. Children love her and her love for children twinkles in her quiet smile, and her understanding eyes. She is open to what's going on in the book world and parents trust her suggestions. She was a school teacher until she retired several years ago. Dorothy seldom shares much of her personal life with people, but one day while we were sorting books, she told of some instances where she has to learn to be brave. That was fifteen years ago, and the memory is as real as the day she told it to me.

As she ended her quiet story, she added quite quickly, and with her own soft brand of enthusiasm, "There is a song--a song that has kept close to my heart for many years. It has made a difference in my life!" Oh, how I can still see that scene--Dorothy, standing in front of me, hands folded together, looking straight into my eyes, smiling as she repeated the words of her life's song.

I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare; I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

I would be friend of all--the foe, the friendless; I would be giving, and forget the gift; I would be humble, for I know my weakness; I would look up, and laugh and love, and lift; I would look up, and laugh and love and lift.

That day Dorothy gave her song-gift to me, and today, I give it to you. It is yours for the taking. May 1989 be your year to look up, to laugh, to love and lift----and to be brave. HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL OF YOU.

River revival: Britain's majestic Thames River once provided salmon for royal banquets. But by the 1950's pollution had made it an almost lifeless sewer. Now, according to International Wildlife magazine, the tide is turning again. Thanks to an astonishing rescue operation, the river is healthy. Fish and waterfowl, not seen for years, are returning. Some say the Thames is the world's cleanest metropolitan river.

Pointed information: The spines of many cactuses, such as the hedgehog variety, help the plants shade themselves. According to International Wildlife magazine, most cactuses have very thick skin that helps keep life-giving water inside. But this thick skin also means the plants have a hard time keeping cool. That's where the spines come in. They cover the plant so thickly that their skins are always in the shade.

- Michigan Travel Bureau says to seniors "Don't flee, ski"
The Michigan Travel Bureau has some words of advice for senior citizens whose thoughts may be following the migrating birds southward as winter sets in: "Don't flee; ski!"
The bureau has joined with more than 40 winter resorts in a program to encourage those 55 and over to love winter rather than leave it, to hit the slopes and ski trails rather than the southbound lanes of I-75.
It's called "Silver Streak Week" and is scheduled for January 30-February 3. During that week, ski facilities all across the state will provide free downhill lift tickets or cross-country trail passes to anyone 55 years of age or above.
Forty-one resorts will open their slopes or trails to anyone whose I.D. proves that he or she has passed the 55th birthday.
"Michigan has the best skiing in the Midwest," said Travel Bureau Director John Savich, "and the participating resorts and ski areas range from luxurious full-service resorts to day-skiing facilities. They match any skier's ability and, at these prices, almost everyone's budget."
The Travel Bureau has published a brochure listing the ski facilities participating in Silver Streak Week. It can be obtained by calling the bureau at 1-800-5432-YES. The hearing impaired can call our TDD at 1-800-722-8191 (in Michigan only).
In addition to free lift and trail tickets, a number of facilities are offering other discounts during Silver Streak Week to anyone whose I.D. proves that he or she has passed the 55th birthday.
Some of the properties are:
Amon Orchards Farm Market & Bakery, Traverse City, complimentary cherry-apple juice and 10 percent discount on Wednesday and Thursday night midweek package plans (except holidays), 10 percent discount on midweek lodging (except holidays), free Silver Streak I.D. card entitling seniors to half-price on all-day lift tickets, cross-country trail tickets, all-day rental equipment, and group lessons. NASTAR racing is reduced to $2.
Fitzgerald Memorial Park, Grand Lodge, complimentary use of rental equipment, January 30 through February 1, 1989.
Garland, Lewiston, special lodging packages January 30 through February 3.
Grand Traverse Resort Village, Acme, complimentary group cross-country instruction and free rental to anyone 55 or older during Silver Streak Week and on February 4-5. Grandchildren sleep free when accompanied by grandparents January 30 through February 4.
Crystal Mountain, Thompsonville, "Day Camp," featuring senior conditioning, NASTAR clinics and races, cross-country tours, and videotaping and replay with awards. In addition, the following benefits are available to anyone 55 or over all ski season: 20 percent discount on Wednesday and Thursday night midweek package plans (except holidays), 10 percent discount on midweek lodging (except holidays), free Silver Streak I.D. card entitling seniors to half-price on all-day lift tickets, cross-country trail tickets, all-day rental equipment, and group lessons. NASTAR racing is reduced to $2.
Corsair Trail System, Tawas City, Silver-Streak Week packages and specials at area lodging facilities.
Cross-Country Ski Headquarters, Roscommon, free group lessons on a reservation basis. Free use of demo ski equipment and complimentary coffee or hot chocolate.
Indianhead Mountain Resort, Wakefield, each participant will receive an "Indianhead" bandana.
Mount Holiday, Traverse City, 10 percent off lodging at the Driftwood Motel. Motel guests can ski free.
Pine Knob Ski Resort, Clarkston, free use of rental equipment.
Shanty Creek-Schuss Mountain Resorts, Bellaire, a special Silver Streak Day, Tuesday, Jan. 31, for anyone 55 and over: free ski rental and complimentary lessons subject to advance reservation.
Sugar Loaf Resort, Cedar, complimentary lesson clinics and rental equipment for those who preregister by calling Sugar Loaf. Sugar Loaf also provides free skiing, all season long, for anyone 65 years or older.
Wilderness Valley X-C Ski Center, Gaylord, two-for-one equipment rental.

"Pain...humiliation...shame. I remember getting arrested... I remember waking up in jail... Then I remember my mother having to come and get me the next day. I was 44 years old."

Tips on finding a doctor

In an effort to strengthen the doctor-patient relationship currently under attack from increasing governmental regulation and the escalating medical liability crisis, the Michigan State Medical Society has developed a patient guide called "You and Your Doctor: Working Together for Quality Medical Care."
The 10-page booklet lists how to find and evaluate a physician and ways to form an effective health care partnership. It also outlines what to do if the relationship does not work.
The ultimate consideration in a doctor-patient relationship, the guide states, is the patient's personal satisfaction that his or her doctor is providing high quality medical care.
"Outside forces are stressing the traditional doctor-patient relationship," said MSMS president Fred W. Bryant, MD, a Royal Oak ophthalmologist.
"Physicians must see more patients per day as Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements decline and liability insurance rates sky-rocket," Dr. Bryant said. "At the same time, we believe patients deserve more personal attention."
To strengthen the doctor-patient partnership, the booklet suggests, for example, that patients write down specific questions for their physicians prior to the visit; that patients make sure they understand and follow treatment programs; and that they maintain a healthy lifestyle and practice preventive medicine by not smoking, drinking alcohol only in moderation, wearing seatbelts, eating sensibly, exercising and learning to cope with stress.
If problems develop in the relationship, the booklet lists what to look for in a new physician including his or her professional qualifications, accessibility, ease of communication and practice environment.

Tips for Michiganians migrating South

Winter has arrived and thousands of Michiganians will flee from its icy clutches, AAA Michigan reports.

Despite higher airfares and limited hotel accommodations at many popular resorts, more Michiganians are expected to flock to Florida than last year. An estimated 392,000 Michigan tourists are expected to arrive there by air, ranking seventh in the nation, and 175,000 vacationers by car, ninth highest among the states.

Flexibility is the key for southbound vacationers, said Diane Willard, vice president of the AAA Travel Agency. Fares are up slightly from last year and fewer discounts are being offered, she added.

Travelers can expect to pay as much as $700 round trip during peak periods, while a typical round trip discount ticket to Orlando is $180. However, the latter tickets are nonrefundable, require a minimum seven-day advance booking, and are restricted to Sunday through Wednesday.

"It will be difficult to find seats available on weekends or during the holidays," Willard said, recommending midweek flights.

Cost-saving packages for families are available to Florida's most popular destinations. For example, round trip airfare to Orlando, lodging for seven days/six nights, car rental, tickets to Walt Disney World and other special attractions for two adults and two children is available for $1,552.

Tourists who can take off on short notice might try AAA Michigan's Great Getaways plan of reduced airfares of up to 60 percent and confirmed accommodations. For additional information about Great Getaways, call 336-1100 from Metropolitan Detroit or 1-800-222-1116 toll-free from elsewhere in Michigan.

For motorists, AAA Michigan has mapped out five routes from Southeast Michigan and a sixth from West Michigan, ranging from 1,391 to 1,549 miles. The most direct is I-75, with about 50 miles of semi-mountainous driving along its 1,391 mile length of four-lane highway.

The shortest route from West Michigan is southbound I-69 to I-65 at Indianapolis.

Travelers in motor homes or wishing to avoid higher elevations may take I-75 to I-71 at Cincinnati and the latter road south to Louisville, connecting there with I-65 for the final leg.

Drivers may now proceed at 65 miles per hour in rural areas of most states along recommended routes. Only Pennsylvania has maintained its 55-mph limit.

A family of four should expect to spend about $170 a day for meals, lodging and incidentals, plus $7.40 per 100 miles for fuel and car care.

Gasoline prices have changed little since last year. Recent AAA surveys show self-serve unleaded - the most popular fuel product - averaging 94.4 cents a gallon in states along suggested routes. Leaded gasoline may not be readily available in all areas, because some major other products are in good supply.

Florida offers countless attractions for family enjoyment.

Typhoon Lagoon, billed as the world's largest water theme park, is one of several fun discoveries in the Walt Disney World complex, near Orlando. A wide variety of water-oriented recreation activities should appeal to young and old.

Another addition to the Magic Kingdom is "Mickey's Birthday Land," a theme park commemorating Disney's most popular character and the mouse's development over 60 years.

Families looking for a more natural setting can visit Coconut Creek's Butterfly World, near Ft. Lauderdale. It is a three-acre park dedicated to one of nature's most attractive insects. Live exhibits of North American butterflies abound.

Red Arrows, Olin take first at Grandville Inv't

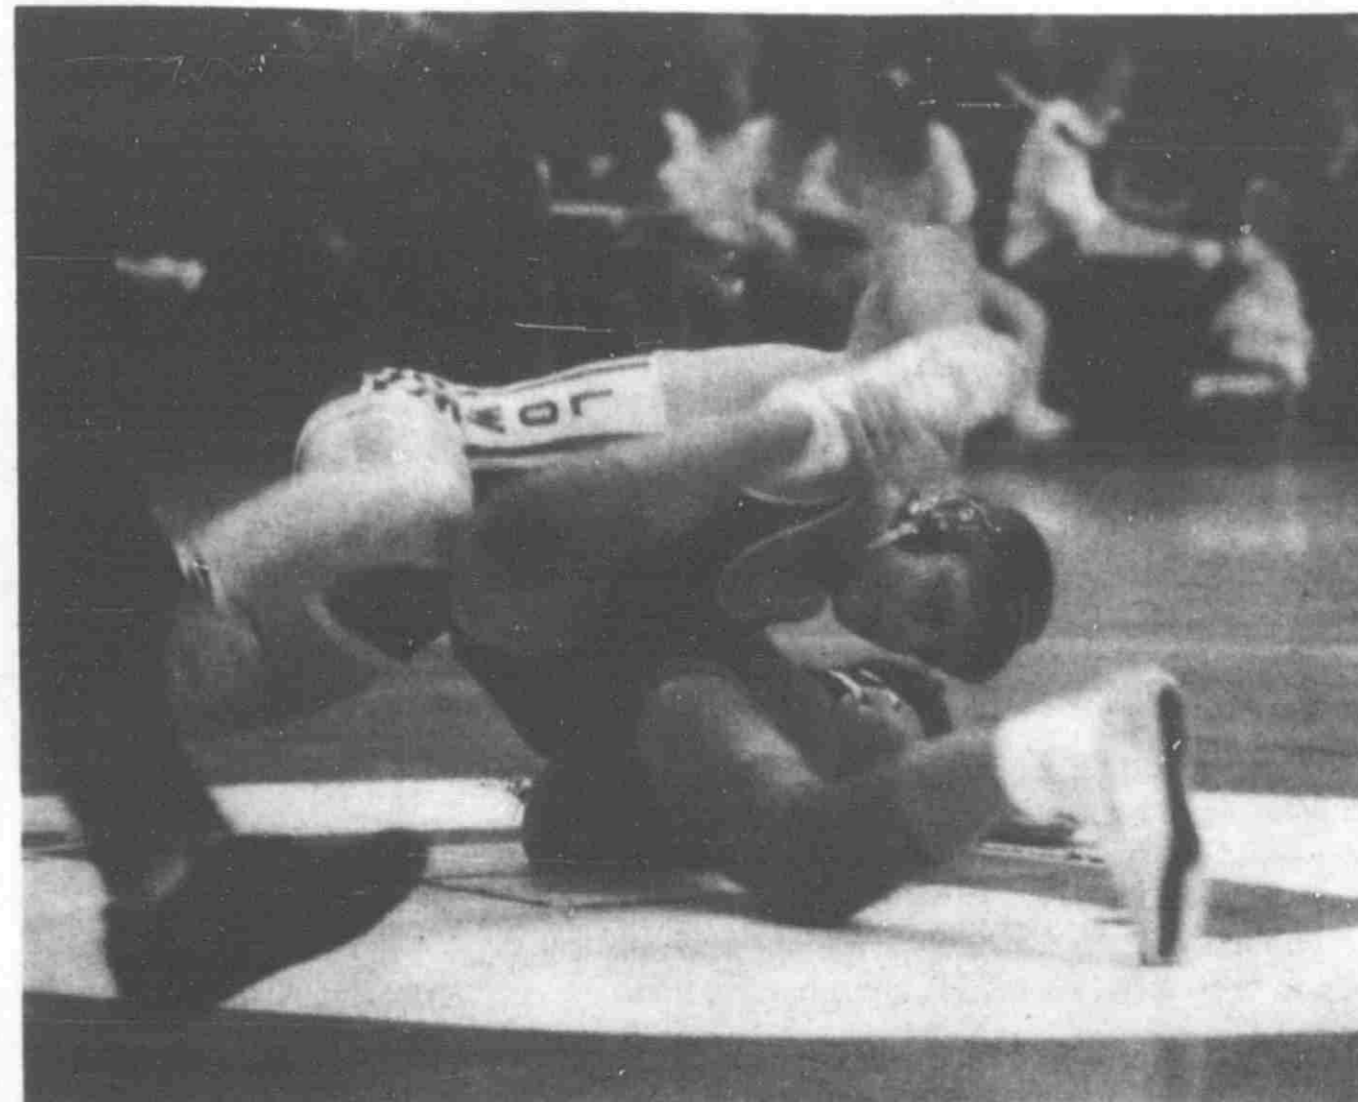

As the 1988-89 Lowell High School wrestling rolls deeper into the season it has become apparent the Red Arrow questions that lingered before the season's start are being answered, and the young Lowell matmen are gaining more and more confidence with each passing meet.

Gary Rivers' squad saw lots of action between the Christmas and New Year holidays. On Wednesday, Dec. 28 the Red Arrows dominated both Forest Hills Northern and West Catholic in a dual meet. On Saturday Lowell traveled to Grandville capturing first-place at the Bulldog Invitational.

The Red Arrows were led by senior Bart Olin, who claimed the squad's only first. Olin wrestled in the 152 weight class.

"Olin lost his first match this year, but since then, has strung together 12 straight victories," Rivers said. The coach added that the senior is performing like he anticipated prior to the season.

Lowell was first with 143½ points. The Red Arrows were followed by Grandville, 114½; Stephensville Lakeshore, 106; Jackson Northwest, 105½; Catholic Central, 93; Lansing Eastern 90½; Grand Ledge, 87½; Lansing Waverly, 57; and Grand Rapids Union, 42.

Bart Olin took home a first-place medal from the Grandville Invitational.

(119), Nate Nauta (130), and Todd Nauta (140) all brought home second-place medals.

Earning third-place medals included Aaron Adams (125), Aaron White (135), and Rob McGee (HWT).

"McGee has come through for us. The sophomore has helped answer one of those questions I had before the season started," Rivers said. "I'm very pleased and surprised with the team's performance at the invitational.

The Red Arrows recorded five pins apiece against their two counterparts in posting their fifth and sixth dual meet wins of the year.

Winning by way of pin in the FHN tilt were Tyler, 119, at 1:39 of the first period; Adams, 125, at 1:52 of the first period; White, 135, at 2:27 of the second period; Todd Nauta, 140, at 1:24 of the period; and Aaron Wester, 189, at 1:30 of the first period.

Olin claimed a 13-9 decision over his FHN foe. Winning by forfeit were Mike Jordan, 112; Rich Depew, 152; and McGee, HWT.

"Depew and Wester both wrestled second string last season and this year they seem to be coming into their own," Rivers said.

In the West Catholic match Lowell matmen earning decisions were Tyler, Nate Nauta, Olin, and Depew.

Tyler won in a superior decision, 20-4. Nauta and Olin both won, 7-2 and 4-2 respectively, while Depew earned an 8-5 win.

Pins were handed in by Dave Rottier, 103, at 4:55 of the third period; Todd Nauta, at 4:49 of the third period; Craig Mersman, 145, at 1:20 of the first period; and Wester, at 3:10 of the second period.

Save-A-Life: Blood drive slated for Jan. 14

The twelfth annual Save-A-Life Saturday blood drive, sponsored by WOOD Radio and the Grand Valley Blood Program, will be held Jan. 14, 1989, at the Grand Valley Blood Center, 1036 Fuller, N.E. in Grand Rapids. The drive will be held from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m., with live broadcasting from the center beginning at 9 a.m. and lasting throughout the day.

Save-A-Life Saturday was started by WOOD Radio as a way to celebrate National Volunteer Blood Donor Month (January) and as a way to supplement the area's blood supply after the busy holiday season. The goal for this year's drive is 300 pints of blood.

"The community's response to Save-A-Life Saturday has always been very positive," said Gary Allen, promotions director for WOOD Radio. "The drive just gets bigger every year and it's a lot of fun. We're hoping for another big turnout."

can do for each other," said Allen. "Save-A-Life Saturday is a great way to help someone while really enjoying yourself."

The drive is open to the public. Those who are in good health, are between the ages of 17 and 76, and weigh more than 100 pounds are eligible to donate blood. No appointment is necessary. The Grand Valley Blood Program is the sole supplier of blood and blood components to all of the patients in Kent County's hospitals. This year alone, the program will collect approximately 34,000 pints of blood to meet the area's needs.

For more information about Save-A-Life Saturday, please call the Grand Valley Blood Program at 774-2300.

Lost and found: In the tropical forests of eastern Brazil, a biologist recently rediscovered an unusual animal known as the thin-spined porcupine. The species was previously feared extinct because scientists had not seen it for 30 years. According to International Wildlife magazine, the animal is of particular interest because it appears to lie somewhere between the porcupine family and spiny rats.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
How insensitive can you get? The year in review is very interesting reading for the community, but so untimely being just before Christmas. You unthinkingly included, for tearful eyes to see, the account of the tragic loss of a young lady so sadly missed by her parents and friends.

This first holiday season since their loss is already so very difficult to live through without careless reminders. It seems an apology to the Rash family would be in order.
What ever happened to the good news? Lowell has a lot of happy, unusual and interesting things happen too! And, the year doesn't end with Christmas.

The year in review should be printed after New Year's but before.
Bonnie Wiese
Dear Mrs. Wiese:
Your recent letter raises a question that has been debated over and over again.
What is news? The best definition I've been able to come across states news is a mirror that reflects the who, what, where, when, why and how in a society. However, like people, it comes in all shapes and sizes - sports, news, features, human interest, tragedies etc...

With that said, was the handling of the tragic death of Jodi Rash in the "Year in Review" insensitive? I do not believe so.

Lowell Ledger. As you probably noticed the paper was a touch bigger than normal. With this in mind it was decided that the "Year in Review," being lengthy, would help fill up some of the extra space.
Thanks for your letter of concern,
Thad Kraus, Lowell Ledger reporter.

Lowell City Council proceedings

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS of the CITY COUNCIL of the CITY OF LOWELL, MICHIGAN

For the Regular Meeting of Monday, December 19, 1988.
The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by Mayor Maatman.

The Pledge of Allegiance was recited and the clerk called the Roll.
Present: Councilmembers Doyle, Thompson, Fonger and Mayor Maatman.
Absent: Councilmember Collins.

Mayor Maatman read the letter from Councilmember Collins stating that he had taken a position in Utica, New York and submitted his resignation from the City Council effective December 19, 1988.

IT WAS MOVED by Fonger and seconded by Doyle to accept Councilmember Collins' resignation.
YEA: 4.
NAY: 0.
ABSENT: 0.
MOTION CARRIED.

The Council requested Mayor Maatman to write a letter of commendation to Councilmember Collins for his years of service he has given to the community.
Mayor Maatman stated that he would like to publicly thank Councilmember Collins for his thirteen years of service. He was very knowledgeable of what was happening in the City and stayed on top of issues all the time. He will be missed.
Councilmember Doyle remarked that on Item No. 4 (Hudson Street Takeover Resolution and Fun Street Letter of Understanding) of the December 5, 1988 minutes, Councilmember Collins abstained on the vote. Under parliamentary procedures, Councilmember Doyle stated that one cannot abstain from a vote unless you have a personal interest in the issue. Also, if a Councilmember abstains, the Council must be advised before discussion starts to avoid any involvement in the issue.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and seconded by Fonger that the minutes of the December 5, 1988 meeting be approved with the above notation.
YEA: 4.
NAY: 0.
ABSENT: 0.
MOTION CARRIED.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Doyle that the Bills and Accounts Payable be allowed and warrants issued.

YEA: Councilmembers Doyle, Fonger, Thompson, and Mayor Maatman.
NAY: 0.
ABSENT: 0.

Item No. 1. ACTION AUTO, INC. (2001 W. MAIN) - SIGN VARIANCE - PUBLIC HEARING. Russell Mace (representing Action Auto) stated that the store is allowed by the zoning ordinance to have five signs including single freestanding, canopy, wall and projecting signs. Action Auto requested two additional wall signs for the one each freestanding and projecting signs. Therefore, the store would have a total of three signs totalling 121 square feet. No variances were petitioned for numbers of signs or overall square footage.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and seconded by Fonger to grant Action Auto, Inc. the variance for two additional wall signs instead of the one freestanding and projecting signs.
YEA: 4.
NAY: 0.
ABSENT: 0.
MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 2. MICHIGAN WIRE TAX ABATEMENT ISSUES - DISCUSSION. Don Fizer (President of Michigan Wire) stated that the firm has expanded greatly beyond what was previously stated (from $85,000 to $734,000). In requesting tax abatement for these improvements, he mentioned having a personal difficulty with this program, but felt it was necessary to keep competitive. Mr. Fizer said that the availability of tax abatement is one of the first questions asked from banks when seeking financing for major expansion projects. If a firm can't receive a tax abatement or having a problem in obtaining it, the bank feels you have a problem with the City and it goes against the firm. Mr. Fizer said that he has carried through on previous commitments for tax abatement. Michigan Wire has added more employees than anticipated.

Mr. Fizer mentioned that he will be approaching the Council in the future for a tax abatement. He wanted the Council to understand why he is asking for it. After a brief discussion with the members, the Council took no formal action.

Item No. 3. STREET IMPROVEMENT PRIORITIES. City Manager Pasquale presented a proposed listing of street improvements to be scheduled over the next five to six years. In discussing Water Street improvements with King Milling, there was no agreement over cost share. Therefore, this street will be kept on a deferred list until such time as an agreement can be reached.
Street evaluations were based on a 24 hour traffic count and review of street conditions (crack, pot holes, patches, joint separation, thin overlay, seal coat and unstable base). This listing will be included within the overall Capital Improvements budget for Council consideration. No formal action was taken.

Item No. 4. YMCA AGREEMENT. City Manager Pasquale stated that the proposed agreement with the YMCA basically consolidates the previous agreement with updates in the language concerning insurance. Discounts for city resident covering YMCA activities and membership fees were also provided.
The consensus of the Council was to have a report on City residents and non-resident usage of the programs as well as determining whether any of the Townships donate to the YMCA. The Council tabled the item until Doug Ybema from the YMCA can be present to answer questions and give a report on the requested information.

Item No. 5. 1987-88 CITY AUDIT PRESENTATION. Virgil Biggs and Tom Dickinson of Biggs, Hausserman, Thompson and Dickinson presented their firm's audit findings on the last year's accounts and records. The full financial statement was presented to the Councilmembers at the meeting with information on all the City accounts including Lowell Light and Power and Lowell Cable TV.
Mr. Dickinson mentioned that the City has $500,000 balance in its General Fund noting the good overall financial standing. He suggested that the City congratulate City Treasurer Judy Noonan on the good job she has done for the City.

Item No. 6. APPROVAL OF 1989 CITY COUNCIL MEETING DATES. The City Council reviewed the proposed list of 1989 meeting dates. As is practiced, the first and third Mondays have been established each month. Councilmember Fonger suggested that the July 3 date be changed to the 10th because of the holiday.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Fonger to accept the 1989 City Council meeting dates changing July 3rd and 17th dates to July 10th and 24th.
YEA: 4.
NAY: 0.
ABSENT: 0.

MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 7. MONTHLY REPORTS. No comments from materials presented.

Item No. 8. CITIZEN SUGGESTIONS. Leonard Jackson questioned how many units there will be in the new apartment complex on Bowes Road. City Manager Pasquale answered that there will be 24 units in the first phase, but the entire project will have 48 units.
Dr. Clark Vredenburg of 850 Hillside Court asked if there are any plans to establish the ice skating facilities this winter. City Manager Pasquale stated that with the amount of time to establish an ice pond for skating and the relatively limited use documented, it was felt not worth the effort at this particular time.
DPW Director Siciliano mentioned that at this time he does not have the additional manpower to maintain an ice pond. Also there was a great deal of vandalism to the ice pond and to the tarp under the ice for a smoother surface.
Dr. Vredenburg said that ice skating should be continued as a family activity for residents.
The consensus of the Council was to have some projected cost on alternatives for the ice pond for the next Council meeting.

Item No. 9. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember Thompson stated that he wished Dean Collins the best of luck. Also he recommended that the Council should note what a nice job City Treasurer Judy Noonan, has done on the City's accounting functions.
Councilmember Fonger stated that it looks like Sam's Outlet has several cars parked on his lot. He questioned whether Sam's has a used car license. City Manager Pasquale answered that the staff has already looked into this and would respond.
Councilmember Doyle presented the City Manager with some literature on leaf disposal.

Item No. 10. CITY MANAGER'S REPORT. City Manager Pasquale reported the following:
1. A letter received from the Liquor Control Commission stating that the Commission denied the transfer of the Class C and SDM licenses to Larry Wawee (Cheyne's Bar).
2. The City Hall will be closed Friday and Monday (December 22 and 26) and well as the following Monday (January 2) for the holidays.

3. The Flat River Snowmobile Club requested use of City owned property on the West side of Division Street just across from the point where the Western Michigan Snowmobile Trail heads East. The club would like to use this area as a parking lot for those who bring their trailers transporting their snowmobiles to the trail. They would keep the area plowed.
DPW Director Siciliano stated that the City should discuss this proposal with Edwin Marshall of the Flat River Snowmobile Club and actually pinpoint the location and the kind of activities that will be there.
The Council tabled the item until more information is received.

Item No. 11. APPOINTMENTS. Mayor Maatman stated that the Council has thirty days by Charter to appoint a replacement for Dean Collins. The position will be for one full year. It was determined that all Councilmembers would provide a list of possible candidates and bring this to the next meeting. A letter of interest from a candidate should be presented. It was also suggested that the Council place an ad in the Ledger for the weeks of December 21st and 28th requesting letters of interest from City residents wishing to apply. The letters should include reasons why a person is interested in this position. These can be directed to the attention of Mayor Maatman C/O City Hall to be received no later than the City Council meeting on January 3, 1989.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle to adjourn at 9:53 p.m.
Approved: January 3, 1989
James D. Maatman, Mayor David M. Pasquale, City Clerk

Home video tips

Lights, camera, action! Today's camcorders are as small and light as many still cameras, but add extra creative possibilities to your souvenirs of holidays and family gatherings.
Here, from the experts at Videonics, maker of DirectED, the world's first affordable home movie-making system, are tips for making video movies that grab your audience from the very beginning and keep them watching until the very end.
• Watch out for "wobble-vision". If you have trouble holding the camcorder steady, you might want to try an accessory shoulder mount.
• When you swing the camcorder around to catch another scene, put the unit in pause, rather than panning. Then zero in on your new subject and start shooting again.
• Never shoot from one vantage point for more than about two minutes for people in conversation, a few seconds for still subjects.
• You can correct mistakes and create a smooth flow by editing your footage. Easy to use, affordable editing devices such as DirectED from Videonics allow you to remove out of focus or boring footage and rearrange scenes to create a fun storyline. For the name of a Videonics dealer near you, call toll-free 1-800-338-EDIT.

Your Computer

Choosing Software Shouldn't Be A Hard Job
Choosing the best available software for your computer needn't take a big "bite" out of your time or budget. Here's information from the software experts at Berkeley Softworks, creators of GEOS® (Graphics Environment Operating System) and GEOS-based applications, aimed to help you find the best software for you and your child's needs. The most popular software applications are graphically based with a mouse or joystick interface and include: desktop publishing, word processing, education, entertainment, financial management, graphic and paint programs and networking systems.
Desktop publishing, the most sophisticated application now on the market, enables you to print typeset quality documents, as well as mix text and graphics. You can produce customized newsletters, flyers, posters, invitations, greeting cards and more.
A word processor lets you type without worrying about mistakes. You can correct and edit sentences and move blocks of information as you go or after you're done writing. Many word processors include utilities such as an outline, spell checker, and thesaurus. A merge program lets you create letters and merge them with personalized data.
As an educational tool, a personal computer can help both children and adults. Math drills and practice, games designed to expand logic skills and touch typing lessons are a sampling of current software programs available. Many people like to use their PC for entertainment.

Some people have believed the herb thyme could drive away fleas.

New software programs available for home computers make balancing the family budget child's play.

You can have hours of fun with adventure, arcade and logic games.

Easy-to-use financial programs can calculate mortgage payments, create home budgets, manage stock portfolios and even figure income taxes.

Graphics and paint utilities are used to enhance documents or solely for creative pleasure. Several of these packages are available and they provide enough features to allow any user to create attractive images. The software helps users with unsteady hands draw perfect circles, ellipses, squares, straight and curved lines.

With a modem hook-up, you can access educational services or networks, play games, exchange information and talk to other users.

Remember that these software programs are available for all types of computers—even the inexpensive Commodore 64, 128 and Apple II series computers.
