The Lowell Ledger

CORRECTION!

In the May 10th issue of the Lowell Ledger the Police Department's Emergency Mobile Communications Center was inadvertantly described as a Medical Van.

The Van is a communications van only, and not a medical van of any kind.

LOOKING FOR A PRE-SCHOOL?

In order to better serve the pre-school youngsters who are in the category of the "younger four-year olds", St. Mary's Preschool may initiate a two-day program on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

This program would have its own unique curriculum in order that the child would have varied experiences upon entry into the 3 day program in the next school year.

The fee for the two day program is $32 payable on the tenth of each month.

City Council & YMCA come to terms Pool/Park contract ratified

The Lowell City Council and the city council on Monday, May the Lowell YMCA finally ratified a contract for use of the city's parks and pool. Contract negotiations have been held up by the fact the city council wanted some sort of discount in YMCA programs for city residents because their tax dollars help fund park maintenance. The YMCA balked at the idea because previous attempts at a discount for city residents had led to confusion, time consuming explanation, difficulty in verifying residency and often hard feelings by those who support the YMCA but didn't qualify for the discount.

After YMCA Branch Manager Doug Ybema made several attempts at resolving the issue during city council meeetings, it was decided that the YMCA Board meet with the city council to hammer out an agreement. Such a meeting was held on May 4. From that meeting it was decided that the YMCA should offer an annual $25.00 per household discount for any YMCA program to all city residents. The discount would be offered in some sort of gift certificate, or coupon redeemable when signing up for a YMCA program. When the issue came before 15 Councilman Jack Fonger, who had been present at the joint meeting, balked at the idea. It wasn't clear what Fonger's objections were, but he did say, "We're just doing what the YMCA wants us to do again". During the discussion, Mayor James Maatman told Fonger he should have voiced his concerns at the joint meeting. Councilman Charlie Doyle finally made a motion to accept the contract as proposed, to include a contract for use of the King Memorial Pool. When the issue came to a vote the decision was unanimous.

In other council business two zoning variances were granted. The first was a front yard setback variance for a proposed building at 501 Ottawa. Mark McComber wishes to build a 24' x 80' structure to house his fishing lure business. The variance asked to locate the building 35' from the right-of-way, rather than the required 50'. The other request was also for a setback variance. Plans for the new Fire Station at 315 S. Hudson call for parking to within a five foot greenstrip adjacent to the right-of-way. The ordinance calls for a 25' set back to a parking area. The variance asked that parking be allowed in that area. This allows the building to be brought up in a line with the D.P.W. garage.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources has directed the city to secure interim supervision and technical assistance for the operation of the new wastewater treatment facility while the search for a Wastewater Superintendent continues. A rather pointed letter from the D.N.R. called for interim supervision. City Manager David Pasquale defined the language in the letter as, "overstatement of the facts". Pasquale feels the city employees operating the plant are doing a more than adequate job, but he concluded that the D.N.R. directive should be followed.

The council voted to secure the services of W.W. Operation Services of Grand Rapids. W.W. will supervise and operate the plant until a permanent supervisor is hired in an estimated stricts minors under the age of 17 from playing pool uless accompanied by a parent or guardian. The request has the approval of Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons. The issue will be decided after a public hearing is held at the June 5 meeting.

Pasquale and the council discussed the 1989-90 city budget briefly during a public hearing. Major items in the budget include: millage remaining at 12.383, water rates rising from $1.00 per thousand gallons to $1.15 and no discount to large quantity users, expansion and renovation of the police department, air conditioning for the D.P.W. garage and the purchase of a new street sweeper. The budget will be reviewed in more detail at a final public hearing to be held at the June 5 meeting.

The council heard a brief overview of a water System Reliabil-

URINARY TRACT STONES

Stones formed in the urinary tract (urolithiasis) are commonly called kidney stones. Approximately 0.1% of the population is hospitalized for treatment of this disorder each year. While urinary tract stones may occur at any age, they are rare in children less than ten years of age and in adults over the age of 65. Stones are more common in males and in caucasians, and there is general agreement that the highest incidence of stone disease occurs in the southeast.

The pain of urinary tract stones is often excruciating. Its location depends on the location of the stone in the urinary tract, but is most frequently in the flank area. There may be a lessening of pain as the stone passes down the ureter, (the tube which drains urine from the kidney into the bladder), but often returns as it lodges further down in the lower ureter. There may be blood visible in the urine, but in most cases the blood is only microscopically detectable. X-ray studies are needed to confirm the diagnosis of urinary tract stones.

Once the diagnosis of a urinary tract stone is established, therapy in most instances depends on the size and location of the stone. With the advent of shock wave lithotripsy, patient hospital days and surgical intervention have both been markedly reduced. Stones which previously could only be removed surgically can now be crushed into sand-like material and passed harmlessly into the urine.

In addition to appropriate treatment of urinary tract stones, identifying the composition of the stone is also important. If the identity of the stone is made, possible long term therapy can be implemented to prevent recurrence of this very painful condition.

The abilities to taste sweet foods and hear highpitched sounds diminish with age.

My wife was promoted a few weeks ago. Her new job is a definite step up for her in the company, but it is also considerably different from the type of work she has done in the past. Consequently, she is spending untold hours in an attempt to get a grasp on things. Unlike me, she's not content to flail around and learn as she goes. Terese likes to know exactly what is what, and how to go about her duties in an efficient manner. They always said opposites attract

So, while Terese is working days, evenings, weekends, etc., I'm finding my job has become less demanding than ever before. Since the purchase of the Buyers Guide, the staff has grown to a point where there always seems to be someone there to pick up the slack when things get busy. It used to be that everything fell on my shoulders. Now I can duck out of the way, and let the doo-doo land on somebody else.

So, with Terese working more and more, and me working less and less, I have been taking on a bigger and bigger share of the domestic duties. I wouldn't define myself as a "Mr. Mom" just yet . . . I still don't do windows. Thank goodness the kids are out of diapers. I never could have been a "Mr. Mom" through that!

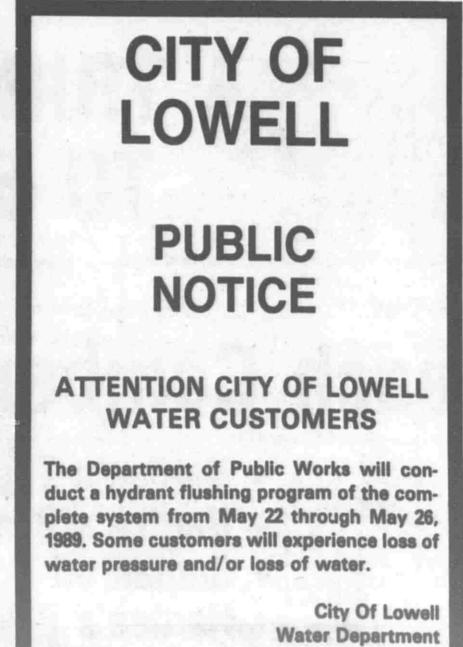

I have taken over the grocery shopping, and I don't mean just picking up a few things for dinner. I'm talkin' "grocery shopping", right down to checking out with nail polish remover, panty hose and boxes of those feminine things. I went through the check out the other day with a few items I needed for the dinner I was making, and a box of those feminine things. I was wearing shorts, docksiders and a black T-shirt from the Key West Harley Davidson shop. You tell me, what's wrong with that picture?

Speaking of dinner. . . I've been honing my culinary skills these past few weeks. We're dining on grilled fish, chicken shish-kabobs, Chinese stir-fry, Caesar salad, French style chicken baked in a bag, etc. It's all wonderful stuff, and I do try to plan dietetic menus, but my cooking is so good. I keep finding myself eating too much. Consequently, my weight loss program has hit a plateau about twenty pounds short of my goal. Guess I'll just have to start cooking stuff I don't like. Trouble is, other than lima beans, can't think of anything I don't like, and I can't imagine the family

I really don't know whether or not I should be classified as a "Mr. Mom". I do pick up and drop off the dry cleaning, but I bridge club. I do wash the dog, take him to the vet, etc., but I See what I mean, I'm stuck in a sort of limbo. I've always felt if you're going to play the game, you ought to play it all the way. Now I don't know whether I'm a publisher or a house husband. If I had my druthers, I get out of this rat race publishing business, and head home. I'd go the whole route. I'd put my hair up in curlers. I'd wear terry cloth scuffs. I'd tune in the soaps. I'd buy the Enquirer. I'd grocery shop on double coupon day. I'd scream at the kids about their rooms. I'd swear at the dog for shedding. I'd burn some beans & franks for dinner. And, when Terese came home, I'd collapse at her feet and tell her what a hectic day I'd had fighting crowds at the grocery, battling with the kids, etc.

You think I'm kidding? Well, you're right. I think marriages with the husband helping with the domestic duties are more common than not. The old stereotype of the husband heading off to work, and the wife stuck at home with the housework, is just that . an old stereotype. Well, better cut it short here, I've got to

One pre-race ritual Stepek does without a miss, is on the night before a race, she takes home the relay baton. "I wrap it in my headband and then stick it in my shoe," Stepek reports. "Then, prior to the 800 race the foursome sings IKO IKO."

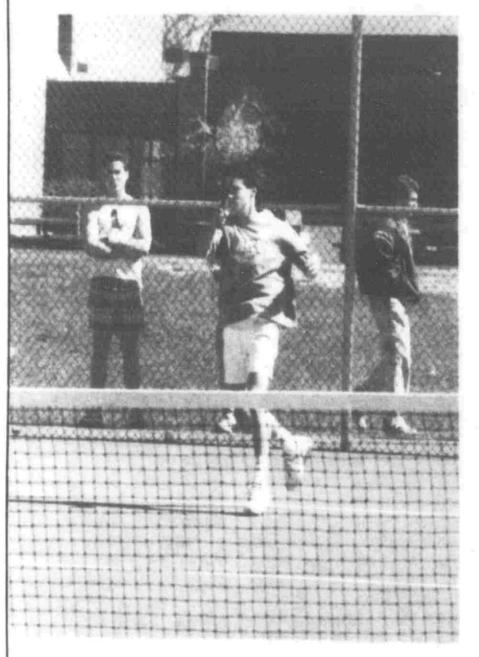

Stepek plays basketball in the fall and hopes to add gymnastics to her schedule next winter.

Her plans for after high school currently include attending Western Michigan University where she will pursue a degree in Marine Biology.

The daughter of John and Shirley Schneider adds she also hopes to run the open 400 next year and be a member of the 440 relay team that breaks the school record.

The baton is already wrapped in her headband and tucked away in her shoe!

Lowell netters place seventh at conference

Steve Simkins made it into the third round of the O-K White Conference tennis meet.

Lowell's tennis team completed its regular season duel competition against Zeeland before playing in the O-K White Conference meet on May 10-11.

The Red Arrows had aspirations of ending its regular season with a possible upset over Zeeland in their final regular season meet. The upstart Chix though, had plenty of strong play to combat any thought of a Lowell surprise.

"I had been told by other coaches that Zeeland was good at the top of their lineup and they certainly proved that against us," Lowell coach Terry Abel said.

Lowell's Steve Simkins lost in number one singles play 6-2, 6-1 to Shane Sterk. Arrows second singles Greg Gruizenga ran into a buzz saw against Dirk DeWitt, losing 6-0, 6-0.

Things were not any better for third singles, Jason White. He lost to Rene Garza 6-0, 6-1 in straight sets. Lowell's fourth singles, Matt Shinabarger played well, but came up short, losing 6-4, 6-2.

Despite losing two of the three matches Lowell's doubles play was stronger. Arrows' second doubles team of Tim Weststrate and Brad Briggs were winners in three sets, 7-6, 3-6, 6-3.

"I was pleased with our play at all flights. Weststrate and Briggs played well," Abel said.

Jeff Zillmer and Erik Kelley were straight set losers 6-3, 6-1. Lowell's third doubles team of Aaron Corcoran and Chad Keech was on the short end of a 6-1, 5-7, 6-4 score.

Lowell ended its league play at 1-6, placing seventh in the O-K White.

In the conference meet at Forest Hills Central, Lowell scored seven points finishing seventh behind EGR 40, FHC 32, Zeeland 14, Northview 13, Wyoming Park 11, and Sparta eight.

Rogers was last with no points. "Our team hoped to play well and finish ahead of Sparta at the conference meet. We played well at all flights but lost to Sparta in three of four matches," Abel said.

A. 501 Ottawa - front yard setback variance for new building. Mark McComber (13198 Grand River Drive) applied for a front yard setback variance so that a proposed building can be constructed within 35' of the street right-of-way. The property (501 Ottawa) is located within the Industrial district where 50' front yard setback is required. Mr. McComber requested this variance because of the shallowness of the lot (70'). This petition will be subject to a site plan review by the Planning Commission.

Item No. 2. YMCA - PARKS AGREEMENT. Doug Ybema, Director of the Lowell YMCA presented the following suggestions for the King Memorial Pool and Parks agreement: 1. Pool: As provided last summer, the City contribute $3,000 to the YMCA to operate the pool. The City would also pay half of YMCA membership fees for City residents up to $8,000 which include use of the King Memorial Pool. Membership rates for this summer will be $50 for youth, $76 for adult and $100 for family.

Parks: Two suggestions for Parks agreement:

A: The YMCA pay $2,000 to the City for usage of the fields. Then all program fees would be the same for city and township residents.

B: The YMCA could perform routine maintenance on Creekside and Recreation Parks for a fee of $9,600 for April through October. This fee would not include Capital improvements. Routine maintenance is considered buying supplied, paying utilities, mowing and paying labor to perform general duties necessary for the upkeep of the Parks.

Councilmember Hodges motioned to approve the Pool contract with the City contributing $3,000 to the YMCA to operate the pool and also paying half the Y membership fees for City residents up to $8,000. No support was given. The motion died.

Councilmember Thompson stated that he had no problem with the Pool agreement but felt that pool and parks agreement must be resolved at one time. The residents must receive a break in program fees. Thompson also mentioned that he does not like the idea of the City losing control of park maintenance in considering the one Y alternative.

There was lengthy discussion on several different solutions to the parks agreement. YMCA Director Ybema stated that he could not negotiate for the Y Board. Thus, it was decided that City Manager Pasquale and YMCA Director Ybema should arrange a special meeting between the City Council and the YMCA Board members to negotiate the pool and parks agreement.

Item No. 3. M-21 Traffic Meeting and Recommendations. City Manager Pasquale stated that on Tuesday, April 25, a meeting was held concerning traffic speeds, light and other related issues on M-21. He said that those in attendance included Mike Jones, Michigan Dept. of Transportation, Sgt. Roger Klinge, State Police, Sgt. Bob Borg, County Sheriff. Chief Emmons, DPW Director Siciliano, Councilmember Doyle and himself. After driving the full 3.6 miles of road, the group recommended that the speed limit from .1 mile west of Alden Nash to Valley Vista be reduced from 50 to 45 m.p.h. Also, the 45 m.p.h. zone should be extended one block east from Valley Vista to Church Streets to provide a better transition between this zone and the 35 m.p.h. zone. During Council discussion, Councilmember Doyle suggested that the police should get tougher on M-21 speeders.

The feasibility of a traffic study on M-21 was also discussed at the April 25 meeting. Councilmember Doyle mentioned that a traffic management study would not only give information on traffic counts but also would identify growth patterns, property usage and many other considerations in an attempt to solve traffic, parking and intersection problems in the City of Lowell. Locations of traffic lights would be provided in the study with information assisting in justification with the State. Also, the downtown parking issue will be reviewed.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle and seconded by Hodges for the City to contract a traffic management study through Ed Swanson and Associates of Grand Rapids at a maximum of $6,200 allocated from Major Streets budget. YEA: 4 (Hodges, Doyle, Thompson and Maatman) NAY: 1 (Fonger) ABSENT: 0 MOTION CARRIED

An inning ending double play turned by Holtz and Organek prevented the Rangers from making it an even bigger inning.

The two clubs were scheduled to play a second game, but it was called after two-and-a-half innings of play because of inclement weather. # Tri-River D.U. places nesting boxes

It's called a Greenwing Project and it is something that is usually handled by youngsters. At the very least it could be called a Father & Son project. But several adult members of the newly formed Tri-River Ducks Unlimited, (D.U.) recently mounted their first twenty wood duck nesting boxes in the Lowell area.

Founded in 1937 to help restore prime waterfowl breeding grounds in Canada, D.U. has since completed more than 3,200 wetland restoration projects in Canada and the U.S. These projects have stabilized the water supply for agriculture as well as enhancing habitat of waterfowl. In its fifty-two year history D.U. has spent well over $300 million on wetland improvement and management and reserved some 4,000,000 habitat acres providing refuge to waterfowl and hundreds of other wildlife species as well. Michigan Chapters of D.U. raised approximately $2,000,000 last year in their effort to enhance habitat.

Locally the 102 member Tri-River Ducks Unlimited Chapter contributed $10,000 to the cause from last fall's banquet. Not bad for their first year effort.

"The spirit of cooperation among members is wonderful," commented Area Chairman, Fred Ruehs, Ruehs along with Tony Molis, Jim Austhof, Ralph Colby, Dave Hoogenboom, Kurt Umlauf and son, John, Bill Wierenga and son, Brian and Larry Marvel, were the ones responsible for the actual placement of the boxes.

"Some of the members volunteered their time, Ralph Colby volunteered his workshop. Dave Hoogenboom let us use his equipment and the City of Lowell donated some used sign posts. In addition." Ruehs said. "mounting hardware was donated by Hahn Hardware and, Terry Wallin, a member and the owner of Bricker Lumber in Belding, donated 200 board feet of cedar."

The first 20 nesting boxes are all in place and several are already occupied. Seven of the nesting boxes were mounted on the Flat

Legislation to protect West Michigan's irreplaceable sand dunes from permanent damage passed the Michigan House last week

House bill 4296 restricts development on the most ecologically fragile 60,000 acres of sand lunes in Michigan. It would authorize local units of government to establish zoning ordinances regulating residential, commercial and industrial development in specific dune areas identified by the Michigan Department of Vatural Resources (DNR). If a local unit declined to adopt its own regulations, the DNR would assume the regulatory responsibility.

The bill also protects the rights of individual property owners. Existing structures can be maintained, and property owners could apply to their local government or the DNR for variances to allow certain development. In addition, the state could not take private property without just compensation.

I supported this bill because development must be regulated along the Lake Michigan shoreline. Not only are the dunes basic to West Michigan's lifestyle and economic vitality, we also have a responsibility to preserve and protect these unique natural wonders for future generations. Strong, well-defined protection for our sand dunes is in both the economic and aesthetic interests of the people of Michi-

Cornerstone Landscape has designs for Lowell

As a youth growing up in the Wyoming Park School District, Don Garvin cut his own checks by clipping lawns and gardening for a few families in his neighborhood.

That small business venture served as an entree to his 1977

horticultural degree from Michigan State University, to his 15 years of work in landscape construction in the Grand Rapids area and now to his own Cornerstone Landscape business at 1989 Cumberland in Lowell.

"Don worked long hours for a couple of different companies in Grand Rapids. He decided since he was going to work long hours no matter what, he might as well do it for himself," commented wife and bookkeeper, Jennifer Garvin. "Working for yourself is more motivating."

Garvin started Cornerstone Landscape in January and says he has had enough work to fill his motivational needs. "So far, it has gone real well. I'm getting a lot of referral business from the Grand Rapids area," Don Garvin said. "I picked Lowell because a business better than the people he had been working for, and he could respond to the customer's needs better.

Almost as fast as the tulips and daffodils have come into bloom this spring, Garvin has watched as Lowell and surrounding areas have become inundated with landscaping retailers. Cornerstone Landscape deals strictly with design and construction, but Garvin hopes to be zoned commercial by early next year.

The Lowell resident for the past 12 years, doesn't mind, "There's always a need for high quality and knowledge," he says. "If there are 10 restaurants next to each other on the same street, the restaurant with the best quality and service will draw the customers."

For People deliberating on having landscaping work done, Garvin highly recommends they take time to find someone they trust and someone with experience and education. "I do from basic to extensive landscaping work for home owners and small commercial businesses (e.g. in Lowell, Ada, Cascade, Grand Rapids)," he says. "The most well known business I've done is Comp - Aire. I did both the design and landscaping work."

The Garvins also enjoy remodeling homes. "We like to buy and sell real estate. I've already bought, remodeled and then sold a couple of houses in the Lowell area," Don Garvin says.

Doug Garvin opened Cornerstone Landscape in January of this year.

Garvin describes himself as a mono-maniac. "I do one thing as best I can." Although, Jennifer adds ne's a hapless inventor. "He wakes up during the middle of the night and writes ideas down," she says. "He hasn't produced anything yet, but he has worked on the designs of some landscaping tools."
