KENT SOIL DISTRICT TAKES ORDERS FOR SEEDLINGS

The Kent County Soil Conservation District is taking orders for fall delivery of tree seedlings to be used for windbreaks, to fight erosion and for wildlife habitat. The deadline for ordering is September 15, 1989.

Seedlings available are: Red Pine, Austrian Pine, White Pine, White Spruce, Blue Spruce, Norway Spruce, and Douglas Fir.

Prices range from $7.50 to $11.50 for a quantity of 25 tree seedlings. Quantities of more than 500 of the same species are cheaper per seedling.

Order blanks and more information are available at the district office, 3260 Eagle Park Drive, NE, Suite 101B, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays, or by calling Ann Pitsch, at 940-9917. Orders will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

LAAC WILL HOST LIFE DRAWING WORKSHOP

The Lowell Area Arts Council is taking registrations for its Life Drawing workshop. The Workshop begins Monday, October 2 and will run for seven weeks.

This is not an instructional workshop but rather a series of sessions to enable artists within the community to have the opportunity to paint and draw from life and character models.

The fee for the workshop is $32 for LAAC members and $38 for non-members. For further information or registration call the Arts Center at 897-8545.

Chamber honors community dignitary

Orval I. McKay named "1989" Person of the Year

Orval I. McKay, M.D. doctor, Chairman of the Look Committee, member of the Lowell Light and Power Board, member of the Planning Commission, a charter commissioner, a father of three, a contributor to Lowell's unity within the community and Lowell Chamber of Commerce's "1989 Person of the Year."

"Over the last number of years when I've visited Dr. McKay's office for a sore ankle or any number of aches, his first question is 'Ray, how old are you?' - So I say to Dr. McKay tonight that this award is a celebration and tribute that only comes with age." Person of the Year emcee, Ray Quada quipped.

McKay came to Lowell in 1950 and opened up his practice. His vision and willingness to become involved in the community has helped to promote the City of Lowell. "He is a community leader and a team player at the same time and his spirit of volunteerism should be an inspiration to us all," Quada said.

Since coming to Lowell McKay has served on the Village

Council, Charter Commission, The Lowell Light and Power board, the Planning Commission, the Airport Commission and is Chairman of the Helen Look Daley Trust Committee. He also pursues an active professional life that involves regular visits to the sick and injured at Butterworth Hospital along with regular visits to area nursing homes and care facilities. He continues to serve Butterworth Hospital, where he interned from 1949-50, in a variety of professional and advisory capacities.

"I 'smelled a rat' on my way here tonight," an emotional

McKay said. "It's not what Jean (his wife) and I have done for Lowell, but it's what Lowell has done for us."

McKay's short, emotional acceptance speech was charged with love for a community that he believes has an overall good-

M-21 accident

Four people injured in 4-car collision

Traffic was delayed for roughly two hours on M-21 west of Lowell near Cumberland on Friday afternoon around 3:30 p.m. when a vehicle driven by an Ada woman lost control of her car while apparently trying to adjust some equipment, according to the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Tina Tichelaar, 19, Ada, was cited for careless driving after her westbound car, crossed the yellow line and struck three eastbound cars before stopping.

Tichelaar's vehicle initially struck the rear tire of a trailer being pulled by a car driven by William Holst, 52 of Hudsonville. She then struck the front of a car driven by Terry Hickok, 27, of Ionia before continuing westbound in the eastbound lane where she hit vehicle number four, driven by Eva Merrills, 55, of Comstock Park, head on.

After being hit, Hickok's vehicle went off the road, striking a tree and rolling over onto its hood, according to the Sheriff's report.

Hickok was transported to Blodgett Hospital by Mercy Ambulance for incapacitating injuries.

Merrills was transported to Butterworth Hospital by Mercy Accident cont'd. pg. 8

City Council will set usage fees for City parks

Following its review of proposed policies covering bidding and softball tournaments on city fields at its Sept. 5 meeting, Lowell's City Council will decide in advance to adopt these policies at its Sept. 18 meeting.

The policy pertains to situations where tournaments have been proposed to be organized for the Recreation and Creekside softball fields.

The policy would call for the City, which owns both parks, to charge a $150 per field security deposit in advance of any non-profit or profit sponsored tournament. Upon checking the fields for any damage, this deposit would be returned to the sponsor.

Profit organized tournaments will be charged a $100 rental fee in addition to $150 security deposit.

Arrangements to schedule the tournaments are made through the YMCA offices. The City Parks Supervisor would then be informed about the schedule of events.

Port-a-Johns will be made available at Creekside Park during the use of the fields.

Benjamin Pools and Construction received approval for its rear yard variance for a duplex at the southwest corner of Godfrey and Lincoln Lake Avenue approved by the Lowell City Council. The variance will allow a 21 foot rear yard setback rather than the required 25 feet.

A public hearing was held on Aug. 28 by the planning commission to consider the special use permit application by Doug Benjamin to build a duplex in an R-2 district. During a hearing, questions of lot size and setbacks arose. The use was approved with a 30 foot setback from Godfrey (front), Lincoln Lake 28 feet (east side), rear 21 feet and eight feet on the west side.

A public hearing was set for Sept. 18 for a lot split variance requested by Charles Saganek. It would subdivide his property (1022 E. Main St.) into two separate parcels. The property is

Fallasburg Fest features 65 artists

A total of 65 artists were selected for this year's Fallasburg Fall Festival, to be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 23 and 24 at Fallasburg Park. The festival is sponsored by the Lowell Area Arts Council and is in its 21st year.

A jury of Arts Council members, led by Artist Chairman, Ginny Gustafson, selected the artists who will sell their work at the two-day event. Over 150 applications were received. Artists selected are from all over Michigan as well as a few from other states. Work to be displayed will include painting, drawing, glass, batik, pottery, leather, woodworking, photography, basketry, jewelry, dulcimers, dried flowers, candles, toys and puzzles, handmade shoes and fabric and fibre creations.

There is much to entertain and occupy a family while at the festival besides the art, however. The children will probably enjoy working in the free children's craft area while their parents shop and browse. Entertainment on the outdoor stage will be continuous, and food booths will provide a wide variety of delicious food for snacks or meals throughout the day. Demonstrations and displays will remind the visitors that the Fallasburg area was a thriving town over 100 years ago when the covered bridge was built. To bring back some of that village atmosphere the U.S. Post Office will re-open the Fallasburg branch of the Post Office for two days. The Old Schoolhouse Museum will also be open to visitors, hosted by the West Central Michigan Historical Society.

The annual raffle of a handmade quilt is a highlight of each Fallasburg Fall Festival. This year's quilt, designed and created by Dolores Dey, will be on display around town. Raffle tickets are available from Art Council members.

The Fallasburg Festival is an annual activity of the LAAC, which used the proceeds to fund its gallery and educational grants and scholarships. In addition, each food booth is operated by an area non-profit organization. Plan to come for an enjoyable day benefiting many local charitable organizations.

Vergennes Township rejects proposal for new hangar at airport

The Vergennes Zoning Board of Appeals shot down a variance request from the City of Lowell at a meeting held August 31. The four members present voted unanimously to deny a request to construct a six place aircraft hangar at the Lowell Airport. The Lowell Airport lies entirely in a portion of Vergennes Township that is zoned R-2 Residential. The Board of Appeals ruled that the hangar would be an expansion of a non-conforming use.

Roger Brown, a member of the Lowell Airport Board, explained to the board members that the hangar spaces would be leased for privately owned aircraft. The proposed building is nearly identical to another six-place hangar on the field and most of the aircraft owners who have expressed an interest in renting space are currently based at Lowell. The hangar was to be financed through a ten-year low interest loan granted by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission. The loan would have been re-paid from hangar rentals.

Eventually, the hangar would have provided revenue to help make improvements to the airport.

Several Vergennes Township residents were on hand for the meeting, and many used it as a forum to voice their displeasure with living near the airport, despite the fact that the vast majority of homes near the airport were built well after the airport was established. Appeals Board Chairman Roger Odell attempted to keep the discussion focused on the proposed hangar, but largely negative comments from the audience covered a broad spectrum.

The airport property was deeded over to the city in the thirties by C.H. Runciman and Ernie Foreman specifically for use as an airport. It was used as a local airstrip for many years, and in the sixties improvements were made to bring it up to state specification to qualify as a public airport. When Vergennes Township adopted a zoning ordinance approximately ten years ago, the airport property was lumped in with surrounding residential zoning. The airport continues to operate as a non-conforming use because it was in existence prior to the adoption of the Vergennes ordinance. The zoning does restrict further expansion.

There are several options available to the city. One is obvious, and that is to let the township ruling stand, and forget about the project. The city could petition for re-zoning the airport property to a "special airport district" within a residential area.

There is precedent for such districts in other communities in the state. The city could also seek to have the ruling overturned in Circuit Court, though the legal fees involved in such a case would likely be prohibitive. Brown said, "My best guess is that the project is dead".

Council to adopt bidding guidelines

Lowell's City Council reviewed a written bidding procedure policy its Sept. 5 meeting, that if passed at the Sept. 18 meeting which will give the city fathers a guideline to follow when purchasing supplies and equipment for its various departments.

"The City has always had steps it follows, but has never put anything into writing," Lowell City Manager Dave Pasquale said. "This policy if passed will give the council some direction."

In bidding procedures that involve $2,000 to $5,000, quotes from at least three vendors must be sought. Dependent on availability, efforts to contact local vendors need to be made.

With purchases involving more than $5,000, sealed bids must be secured. Advertisements in the area and local papers are required to be placed to provide the widest coverage possible. As with quotes, every effort to contact local vendors should be carried out in the bidding process.

Unless otherwise specified, bid openings shall be scheduled for Thursday before Council meetings at 2 p.m. The credentials of the apparent low bidder will be investigated prior to a recommendation given to the council for consideration.

At an earlier council meeting, the councilmen warned of the dangers of accepting a bid just because it is the lowest. "We want to make sure of what they are offering and that they meet the specifications," Pasquale said. "The recent bids that the city took on a dump truck is a good example. The lowest bid did not meet the specifications that were required."

The policy also provides that in situations where two or more qualified local vendors exist, bidding may be confined to the Lowell area subject to prior approval of the Lowell City Council. Bidding may also be waived by the council in cases where there is a sole supplier or other condition exists inhibiting the process.

This bidding procedure policy hinges on its approval at the Sept. 18 council meeting.

Arrested and taken to the Kent County Jail for Driving While License Suspended, 2nd Offense, was Scott Ketchum, 26, of Alto by Lowell officers Saturday evening, Sept. 9.

A 14 year old juvenile from Lowell will be referred to Probate Court on Charges of Larceny Over $100 in connection with taking a bicycle from the City, Sept. 10.

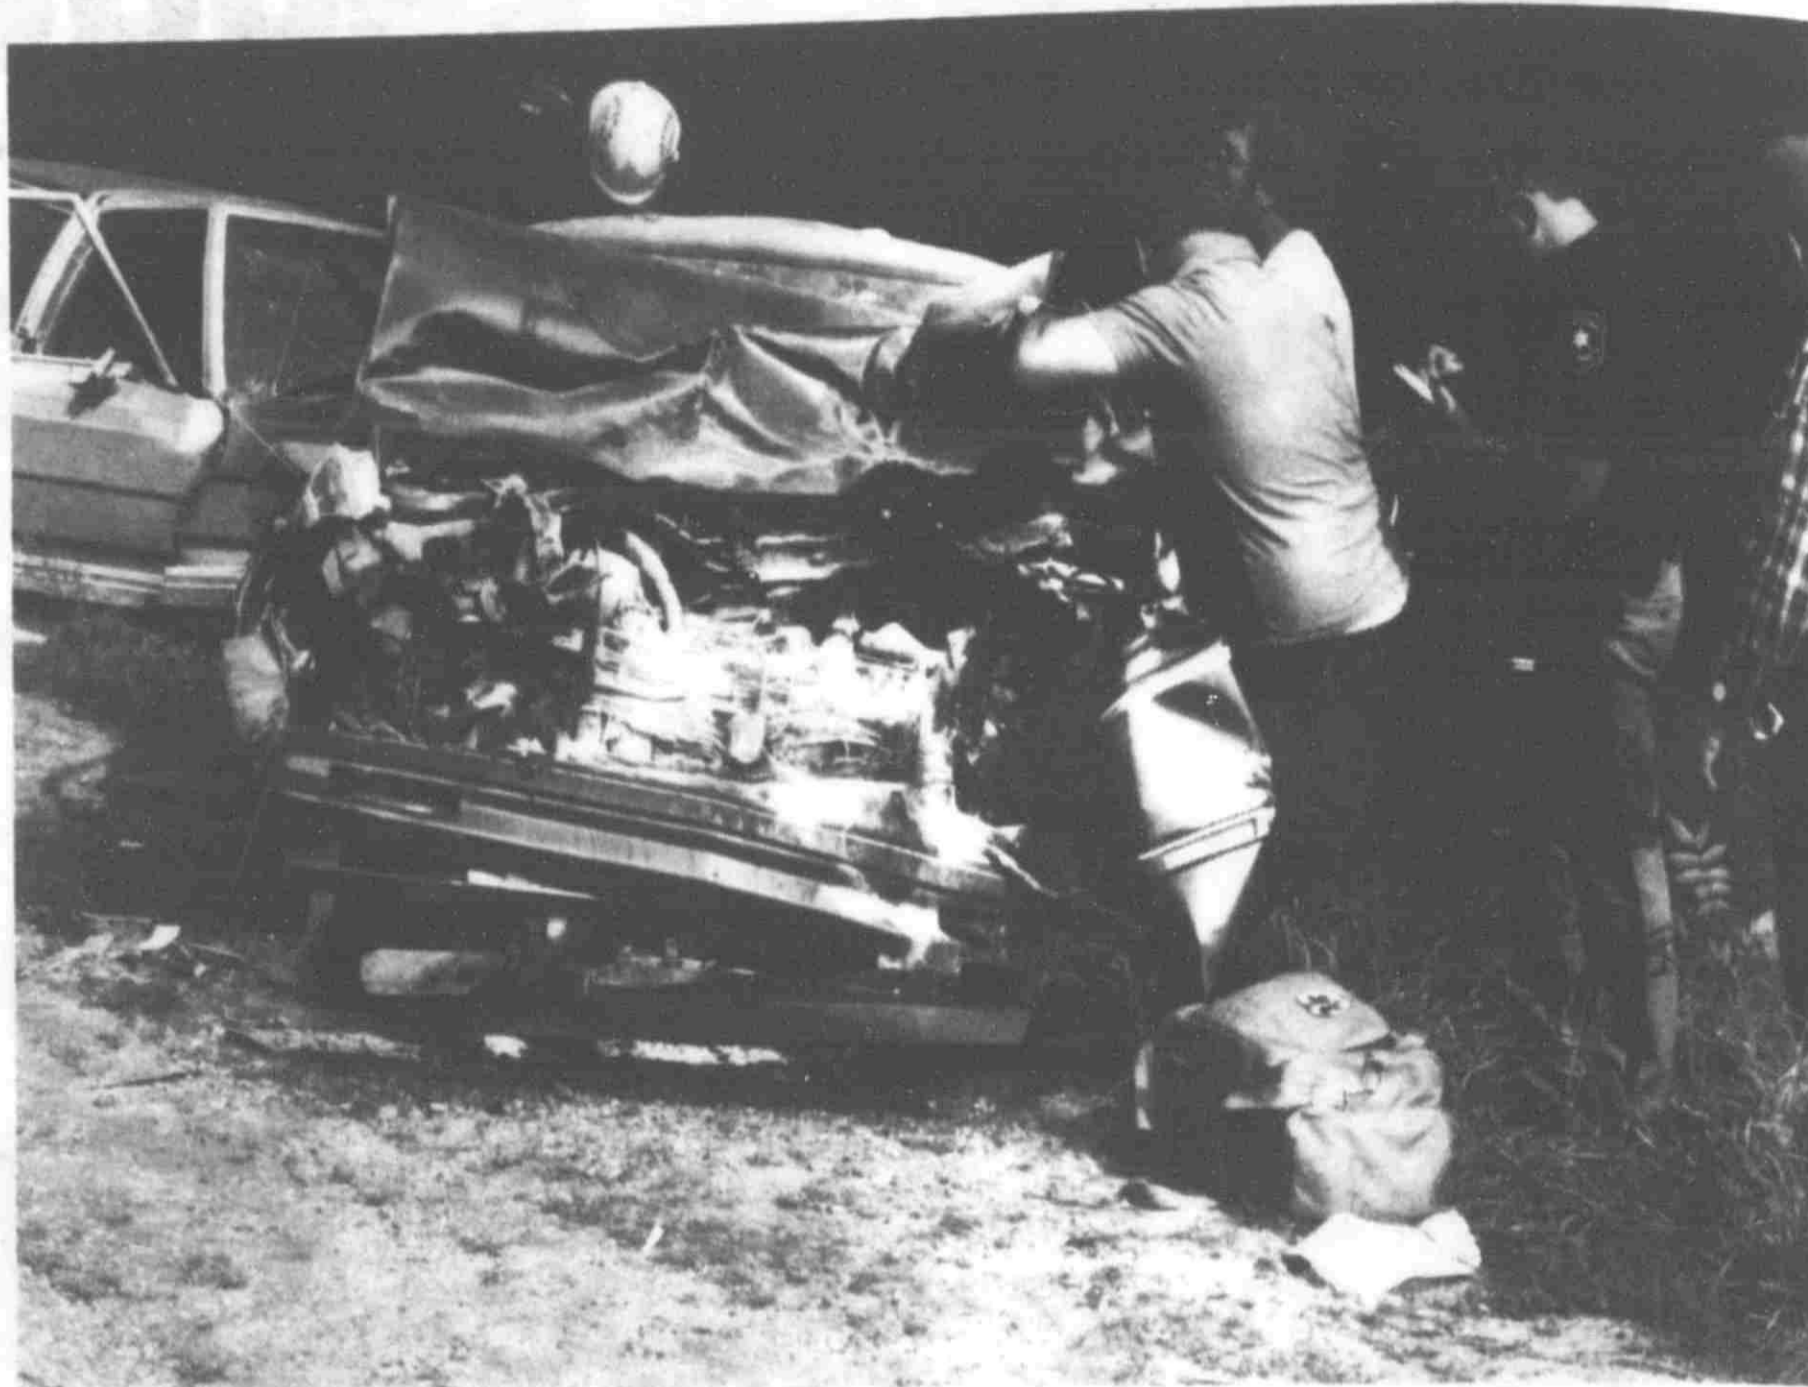

Darlene McClure, 34, of Lowell was involved in a property damage accident in the parking lot of the Lowell Plaza on West Main, Sept. 9, when she struck a parked car owned by Diane Korb of Lowell.

A 16 year old bicyclist from Woodland, MI escaped injuries Sunday afternoon, Sept. 10, when he was struck by a car driven by Juli Scholl, 20, of Kentwood at Main and South Washington St. Scholl was cited by police for Failure to Yield Right-of-Way.

Stephen Jasinski, 33, of Howard City, MI was issued an appearance ticket to 63rd District Court on Charges of Assault and Battery in connection with an incident in the City of Lowell on August 23.

Injured in an accident Friday, Sept. 8 was William Voltz, 30 of Mesa, AZ when he ran into a light pole in the Hardee's Restaurant parking lot during a heavy rain storm when his wipers stopped working.

M-21 accident cont'd.

Kent County Sheriff's Department officers and a rescue members were busy at the scene of the M-21 accident for roughly two hours.

for incapacitating injuries. According to Deputy John O'Rourke, her injuries were classified under the A injury list. "That simply means a person must be put on a stretcher. B injuries mean while a person might be able to get up and walk around, he or she would be unable to continue normal everyday activities," he said.

Tichelaar and her passenger, Linda Alvarez of Grand Rapids were transported to Blodgett Hospital by Lowell ambulance for incapacitating (B injury) type wounds.

Holst, 52, of Hudsonville, and his passenger Jack Wilson, address undetermined, incurred no injuries.

Assisting the Kent County Sheriff's Department at the four-car accident were the Lowell

Police, Lowell/Rockford Ambulance, Lowell Rescue and Mercy Ambulance. The accident remains under investigation.

While four people incurred injuries and had to be transported to a hospital, the outcome could have been deadly.

Terry Hickok, Ionia, driving an Escort, ended up on his hood after being hit by a westbound car that crossed over into the eastbound lane.

Saranac Church begins outreach program

"Bring A Friend to Church Day" begins the fall season of outreach at Saranac Community Church this Sunday, Sept. 17.

"Researchers say that a personal invitation from a friend is the most likely reason people attend a new church for the first time. Many report they had been thinking of coming, and just needed that personal nudge."

says Pastor Stan Hagemeyer. Members and regular attendants are encouraged to do a friend a favor and introduce them to their local church family. The past two years, this has been a valuable way of bringing new people in touch with the church's ministry.

Healthy Relationships is the subject of a four week sermon series by Pastor Hagemeyer also. Essential elements to make healthy relationship in the family and beyond will be discussed in the following topics: Sept. 17 -

Grace: Showing You Care; Sept. 24 - Taking Responsibility; Oct. 1 - Forgiveness; and Oct. 8 - Celebration.

CBS News Correspondents Meredith Vieira and Steve Kroft join 60 Minutes Sunday on CBS.

A cartoon is so called from cartone an early word for cardboard on which they were drawn centuries ago to serve as models for larger works of art or craftsmanship.

THIS FALL IS THE START OF SOMETHING BIG ON HBO.

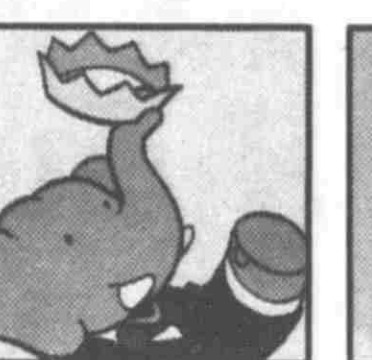

Big

"Crocodile" Dundee II

Coming to America

Babar

On Location: Billy Crystal

HBO has big news to report. Along with the movie "Big," we have more big movies than ever before and more 1988 award-winning movies than any other pay service. And that's not all. There's a new HBO original movie every month, hilarious comedy specials, championship boxing and wonderful family programming like

"Babar" and "How to Raise a Drug-Free Child." It adds up to what is surely HBO's best season ever. And if that's not enough, add Cinemax and you'll get the most movies on pay TV. Box office hits, classics, foreign films and more. So get HBO and Cinemax and find out what all the excitement's about.

Youth hurt in LHS parking lot mishap

David Kelly, 17, the driver of this car, was unable to avoid Michael Kropf, 15, after Kropf stepped out in front of Kelly. According to Lowell Police, Kropf looked behind him to see a friend and then stepped into the vehicles' path. His head hit the left side of Kelly's windshield. Kropf was transported to Butterworth Hospital by Lowell Ambulance.

Second half surge lifts Lowell past Rogers, 23-7

Lowell senior Kevin Giggins handed out. Giggins gave a call to a gentleman who knows all about Red Arrow Pride and Friday night football at Burch Field - Lowell Athletic Director Bob Perry (Alias - Grandfather). Perry, resting at Butterworth Hospital, because of a battle with kidney stones, missed an evening filled with highlights featuring his grandson.

Soccer team soars to 4-0-2 in non-conference

Lowell's three opponents in their second full week of the season, Caledonia, Calvin Christian and Tri-Unity were all taller and bigger than the Red Arrows, but all three soccer teams measured up short on the scoreboard.

The Red Arrows improved their record to 4-0-2 with convincing victories. The John Turkal coached club defeated Caledonia 2-0, Calvin Christian 4-1 in overtime and Tri-Unity 2-1 in overtime.

LOWELL 2, CALEDONIA 0
With Doug Sanford back in at goal and the Red Arrows playing their most dominant midfield game of the year, Lowell was able to shutout the Fighting Scots.

Jason White scored early in the first half as the Arrows of offense dominated play by using their depth to wear down the larger Scots. "We were switching striker lines against Caledonia and it proved to be very effective," Turkal said.

The second half found the weary Scots on the defensive when senior captain Brad Briggs scored Lowell's second and final goal.

"Defensively, we were led by Ray Weigel," Turkal said.

In junior varsity action, Lowell defeated Caledonia 3-0. Goals were recorded by Chris Geisert, Tracy Addington and Scott MacNaughton.

LOWELL 4, C. CHRISTIAN 1 (ot)

The final score in no way indicates the struggle Lowell had for one half with a club that Lowell Coach Phil Christensen described as being filled with "good football people."

Lowell looked sluggish for the first two quarters. "Deep down, I don't think our players were ready to play. I didn't have them ready mentally," Christensen said.

Rogers led 7-6 at half, thanks to a 78 yard sprint by tailback Anthony Thomas. "Take nothing away from Thomas, he's a good football player, but our tackling on that play was poor," Christensen explained.

Lowell not only didn't score until late in the first half, it didn't Kevin Giggins rushed for 238 yards and Lowell increased its record to 2-0 as it now prepares for Wyoming Park Friday.

Karasinski said. The Golden Hawk Coach took solace in the fact that his Hawks led at the half.

Lowell grabbed its first lead of the contest with a little less than five minutes to play in the third stanza. Senior Jim Bowen booted a 24-yard field goal, giving the Arrows a 9-7 advantage.

The field goal was set up by a Dave Organek interception at the Hawks' 26 yard line. He then returned the ball to the Rogers' three.

The second half saw better execution on behalf of the Red Arrows and it also saw a smaller Golden Hawk club tire. "We may have tired a little, but that's not why we lost. The Red Arrows came out in the second half and executed. Lowell's a good ballclub and it took the game to us," Rogers Coach Gary Christensen said. "It's not something I coach and the kids know better," Christensen said.

Rogers' Thomas led all Hawk rushers with 94 yards in 11 carries.

Lowell, now 2-0 overall and 1-0 in the O-K White, prepares for its first road game against Wyoming Park Friday.

Red Arrow girls' cross country team races past Rogers

Lowell girls' cross country team will post many tallies in the column in 1989 because of the club's depth. That became apparent in its opening league victory against Rogers. The Red Arrows churned out a 20-39 O-K White win.

"The girls' strength is definitely in their numbers," Lowell Coach Tom Harper said. "I expect that the names in our top seven spots will change every week."

Every victory is big, but a conference opening win is magnified. "It was a big win," Harper said. "It was nice to see us fill the top three spots."

The "leader of the pack" was Red Arrow, Hillari Kirsch. She came home in an honors time of 21:03.

Lowell's Karen Bussler was second, crossing the finish line in 22:46. "I said before the season started that the success of this club depended on whether one of our runners could get between Kirsch and Betsy Dommer," Harper explained.

Dommer, a portrait of consistency, stopped the clock in 23:01, placing her third, beating out Rogers' top runner, Missy Hilton, who finished at 23:29.

The Golden Hawks also grabbed the fifth and seventh positions. Jenny Zolickoff and Rachel Ryanson finished at 23:53 and 24:24 respectively.

Edging in between the Hawk runners was Lowell's Kristen Shuster with a time of 23:58.

Coming off a course, that was deluged in water, was Red Arrow, Chris Decker. She was clocked at 24:42, placing eighth. "The course was in bad shape, with all of the water it could have easily been a triathlon," Harper mused.

Rogers' final two runners, Colleen Venlago and Amy Weeks finished 11th and 12th respectively.

Stacy Beute (ninth) and Sarah Lesky (10th), Lowell's sixth and seventh runners, posted times of 24:51 and 24:56.

Lowell's next league meet is Wednesday (Sept. 13) at Johnson Park against Wyoming Park.

BATH INVITATIONAL
In its first invitational of the season, Lowell's girls captured third out of 14 schools at the Bath Invitational.

Hillari Kirsch, Betsy Dommer and Karen Bussler all earned medals. Kirsch was fourth overall with a time of 20:41. Dommer, 19th, came home in 22:36. Bussler was the third Red Arrow to finish, 24th overall, was clocked at 23:03.

Kristen Shuster placed 29th, recording a time of 23:38. Chris Decker, the fifth and final Red Arrow to place, came off the course in 24:03.

Lowell's sixth and seventh runners were Sara Leasky 24:06

FAMILY FARE

Kevin Giggins

"Athlete Of The Week"

If a coach measures strength in attitude, hard work and determination than Lowell senior, Kevin Giggins is a giant of a halfback.

Giggins' 238 yards rushing against Rogers Friday night displayed his quickness, speed, strength and style.

While Lowell players don't need any more incentive than the fact that it's an O-K White Conference game, Giggins carried an added incentive into the contest with the Golden Hawks. "I wanted to have a good night for Gramps," the senior said.

Lowell Athletic Director Bob Perry (Gramps), who was bed-ridden Friday at Butterworth with kidney stone problems, could not have received better medicine than to hear that his grandson had rushed for 238 yards and scored three touchdowns in Lowell's 23-7 win. "It's the best night I've ever had as a football player. The offensive line was doing a great job of opening up holes," said Giggins.

"You couldn't ask a player to have a better attitude than Kevin. He is a team player," Lowell Coach Phil Christensen said. "Giggins is not large physically, but he does play much bigger than his size."

Giggins and Christensen both attribute his strength to his weight work and both believe track has been beneficial to his speed and quickness.

The senior said the team has set the conference championship as its goal. "We'd also like to make it into the playoffs," Giggins said. "The team is pretty confident and I think we have a good attitude."

Giggins has set being named to the All-Conference team and reaching 900 yards rushing as his personal goals.

The new one-back, more open offense may help Giggins in his efforts.

Quada has a response for those who "knock" Lowell

Former Showboat President Ray Quada took the opportunity prior to the presentation of the "Person of the Year," to discuss with area businessmen and other

Lowell dignitaries the need to promote and talk about Lowell pride and to ban together in a public relations effort to remove a black eye that has been given to the community. "Over the last couple of years and in June and July of this summer Lowell has been given a blackeye, due to the departure of a certain program," Quada said. "While there are two sides to every story, unfortunately some are only interested in one side," Quada said. "But, it's time to reach out, take a bold step and seek assistance of a good advertising agency and let people know what a great place Lowell is to live in. It's time for Lowell to tell its story to sing its song."

Quada's remarks are in reference to the general attitude of the West Michigan media toward Lowell. He questions just how much they worry about searching out the truth. It was also in reference to the Macker departure and the "Lowell's a Ghost Town" column written by Grand Rapids Press columnist Tom Rademacher.

When Quada talked about being proud of Lowell he referred to it as being a full service community, one that offers its own police and fire departments, local cable, an airport, a waste water treatment plant and its own electric company. "This is something that is not repeated in many cities throughout the state. We have 150 acres of park land that is the envy of most, it just needs development. Showboat has returned to the community and with hard work will again be able to reach out to give back to the community. Our Lowell Area Arts Council is the envy of all councils in the State of Michigan. Nearly every denomination of churches is represented in Lowell, and that's not something that's new - it's been that way."

Quada believes that if taught and treated well, area kids will stay and make Lowell even better. Years ago, just 39 percent of the high school graduates from Lowell went to college. Today, 56 percent of Lowell graduates attend college. "Lowell students receive more scholarship endowments than any other school in West Michigan. That includes East Grand Rapids and South Haven.

"Ray is right when he talks about the importance of continuing to promote Lowell and its overall goodness," Lowell Doctor, Orval McKay said.

Quada adds the negative image so often sketched by the media is unnecessary and shouldn't be. "It comes from a breakdown in communication. When one party creates an image and then you try to explain and/or get out your side of the story, things become cumbersome," he says. "But, it is naive to think that all the problems with Macker were Lowell's fault. I, however, do not think we should spend time trying to undo a negative, instead I'd like people in the Lowell area to focus on the positives Lowell has to offer. Good advertising can help create this positive attitude. While most communities are either stagnant or slowing down, Lowell continues to grow."

Council okays L.P.D. FAX purchase

In April of 1990 courts are under a Supreme Court ruling to arraign all felony subjects arrested on the day of the arrest. This would include holidays and weekends.

This new directive from the Supreme Court is going to be a costly one for manpower needs within the police departments, says Lowell Chief of Police Barry Emmons. "Anything we can do to shorten our responsibilities would be an asset to the department," he adds.

With this in mind, Lowell's City Council approved the purchase of a fax machine for the Lowell police department. All enforcement agencies within the county have been asked to equip themselves with a fax machine for more efficient operation and communication needs for the enforcement agency.

The Supreme Court ruling will entail having a judge on standby at a given location and police departments would have to get the warrants, have them typed and swear to them on the day of the arrest and also arraign the subject on the particular charge.

"The fax machine would also be of value in sending reports to the court and other police agencies, cutting down on our time traveling to Grand Rapids and other places, not to mention postage requests for reports," Emmons said. He adds that most insurance companies have them already. The county has authorized machines in the Kent County Sheriff's Department, as well as the Kent County Prosecutor's office.

Emmons explains that all agencies will have a fax machine in their office within the next few months. The MML has a program through Pitney Bowes to bring the service to Lowell at a less expensive rate. Pasquale recommended to the Council that the City purchase model 7100 at a cost of $1,495 (one year warranty). A maximum of a $132 installation fee would be included, and a monthly charge of $17.20 was given.

"The City of Lowell could use the fax machine in sending and receiving communications to other municipalities in order to maintain a more efficient operation within the City," Emmons said.

Zoo hours changing for winter months

Effective Monday, Sept. 11, John Ball Zoo has changed to its winter hours of 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily. The Zoo is open 365 days a year including Sundays and holidays. Admission is 50¢ for children 5-15, adults are $1 with children 4 and under free.

All but a handful of the more than 600 animals remain on exhibit and many are at their playful best in the cooler months. The two snow leopard cubs, for example, will be much more active and soon their fur will be long and luxurious to keep them warm. Keep an eye out for the three new lions which will be arriving towards the end of September or just come on out and giggle at the Zoo's otters as they slip, slide and glide around their exhibit.

Just don't forget about the Zoo in the coming winter, it is still the wildest place in town.
