

Construction of Development Center begins in spring The $1.8 million, 18,800 square foot child development center to serve all ages

The opportunity for individuals and families of West Michigan to achieve a greater sense of wholeness and well-being, takes an 18,800 square foot step forward, with the construction of a new $1.8 million Franciscan Life Process Child Development Center, in the rural setting of 11761 Downes Rd. N.E.

"The first spade will go into the ground when half of the twolevel $1.8 million building fund is realized," said Peter M. Wege, Chairman of the Development Center Expansion Program. "We hope to begin construction by spring of 1990."

The Franciscan Sisters of the Eucharist have been offering a comprehensive program of herapy, counseling and educational services since 1972.

Many people doubted the Franciscan Sisters could pass the rural farm test. 'When the Franciscan Sisters of the Eucharist first arrived in Lowell I think people sat back and waited for us to flunk," remembers Sister Colleen Ann Nagle, Director of Franciscan Life Process Child Development Center.

On Thursday, Oct. 19, at the Press Club in Grand Rapids, Sister Nagle and Wege unveiled the plans to make possible expanded services for pre-schoolers, for the aging, and for those who seek professional help in stabilizing their relationship with the life process.

"The Franciscan Sisters of the Eucharist want to create an enviconment which will foster declopment of the "child within," in order to bring mind, body and spirit into greater harmony, within the spiritual and cultural heritage of each person," Sister Nagle says.

The New Development Center will also seek $500,000 for maintenance, and scholarship and endowments for those who are economically deprived.

While the number of preschoolers at the Center has tripled, The Center will not be just for children. "It's our goal to help people of all ages discover the 'child within' - those special gifts and talents within all of us.

Counseling is also a major part of the child development sevices. In the new building, professional counselors and threrapists will be able to combine advanced diagnostic and therapy facilities with gardening and animal care experiences, to meet individual needs.

No hustle, no bustle, no noise . . . just the clippity clop of horse hooves on the pavement. On the other hand, carriages are slow and have no heat. So, when you've been waiting for a ride at the ferry dock for some time with the wind blowing and the temperature in the thirties, the carriage ride up to the Grand Hotel seemed long and cold. Give and take.

The Grand Hotel is over 100 years old, has 309 rooms, is constructed of Michigan white pine and is simply gorgeous. The lobby, parlor, dining room, shops, meeting rooms and lounges grace the front of the hotel. Everything is old, ornate and very Victorian. The rooms are also old, ornate and very Victorian. It radiates an ambience that must be appreciated, because there are several shortcomings that must be overlooked. Give and take.

The stairs are wide, there are only four floors, so trips up and down from your room are not very taxing. That's good, because there is only one small and slow elevator. The wood construction makes the building unique, but it's not very soundproof. The chambermaids making their early morning rounds on the floor above us sounded like a subway as they pushed their heavy carts around. Give and take.

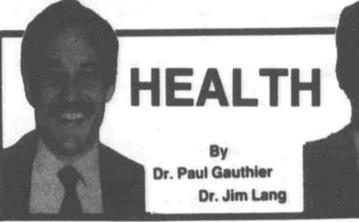

There are no TVs in the rooms. I suppose a Zenith plunked down in the middle of an ornate Victorian room would ruin the atmosphere. Consequently, if you want to watch a football game you have to go to either the Audubon Bar or to another TV located in a far off corner of the parlor. Then you are limited to watching what the people who got there before you are watching. I did witness a little confrontation between a woman who wanted to watch the Michigan game and two fellows who were watching the Notre Dame game. The Irish fans told the woman they'd get in

BRONCHITIS

As we approach the cough and cold season we see many patients with acute and chronic bronchitis. In today's column we'll review the current treatment of these common disease entities.

Acute bronchitis can occur at any age and is heralded by abrupt onset of a cough. The cough can be productive or dry. Cold symptoms such as a runny nose, weakness, muscle aches and fatigue will occur with acute bronchitis. Most cases are due to an infection with a virus. Less commonly, bacteria may be the cause. In most cases acute bronchitis lasts less than a week and resolves Terese and I had some hearty, hot soup for lunch on Saturday, bundled up and braved the elements for a carriage tour of the island. Our driver was a St. Ignace resident who spoke in a monotone "yooper" (Upper Penninsula native) dialect and reminded me of either Darrell or his brother Darrell on the Bob Newhart Show. The guy was a real treat. He went through all sorts of contortions when the horses recycled some hay and oats. He made fun of the "fudgies" (island tourists). He told some tales of island history that I suspect were stretched just a little. He made the tour very enjoyable, though I'm sure I'd have enjoyed it even more if my feet weren't frozen. Give and take.

Entertainment at the Grand is very good. There is classical piano and violin music in the parlor at high tea. There is more piano music in the Cupola Bar in the late afternoon. A small ensemble playing at dinner. And a very talented "Big Band" style orchestra in the ballroom every evening. Great stuff, but I can only take so much of it. Terese and I became acquainted with a Detroit city cop and his wife. About 10:30 Saturday night we'd all had enough ballroom dancing, changed into casual clothes, and headed down the hill to the rock 'n roll bar where the hotel employees hang out. We all agreed the rock 'n roll bar was much more fun. Give and take.

Well, that's about it. I suppose I could ramble on about many other things, like prices. I saw a pair of boxer shorts with the Grand Hotel logo silk screened on them. How about $21.00 a pair? And that is a pair, not a box of three. I'm still wearing my Hanes. Give and take.

much pleasure. I wonder if among so many other things, we fail in being grateful for its effect on our lives.

We watched the sun set over Lake Michigan one night last weekend. Its beauty made people come out of their condos and trailers and cars just to take it all in. Smiles, and "oh-hhh" and "Isn't it beautiful," peppered the conversations. I watched as people slowly headed down the beach toward the long pier. Against the sunset their bodies took on a cool shadow effect. Shadows that weren't in a hurry. Two months ago there would have been a lot more noise and activity in that same spot. Now the happiness was more quiet; the kind that whispered, "Oh, I wish we could hold on to all this, just a bit longer.

Watching the fishermen on the pier, I missed my Dad saying, at this apple picking time. I rather enjoy just the ticking of the clock "You'll never make a good fisherman, Joan. You are not patient above the desk. The house seems to have picked up on the outdoor enough." I was twelve years old at the time, but his words became true. Nevertheless, frying the catch is something I do well. "Even Steven, Dad.'

on its own. Therapy with cough medications and decongestants will relieve symptoms somewhat. If symptoms are associated with a fever, chills, or thick sputum, or if symptoms last longer than a week, antibiotics may be indicated. If antibiotics are prescribed, you should be sure to take the complete course of therapy. Your doctor will usually prescribe 7-10 days of therapy. Occasionally an x-ray may be performed to rule out pneumonia.

Chronic bronchitis is defined as a cough associated with production of sputum on most days for at least three consecutive months for two years or longer. Chronic bronchitis is due mostly to cigarette smoking. The longer one smokes the more likely they are to develop chronic bronchitis. Chronic bronchitis is also termed a "smoker's cough." During the flu season, patients with chronic bronchitis frequently experience worsening of symptoms - an increase in cough, sputum production and shortness of breath. When these symptoms worsen, antibiotics are usually prescribed along with other medications to improve airflow in the obstructed bronchioles. Chronic bronchitis can be prevented by quitting smoking. Many physicians recommend the flu vaccine for all patients with symptoms of chronic bronchitis. Some patients may benefit by receiving the pneumonia vaccine.

Sparta's Walter Roundtree was third at 17:47, finishing nine seconds ahead of Lowell's David Stouffer (fourth) who was clocked at 17:56.

"He's a solid leader who plays with a great deal of intensity," Lowell Coach Phil Christensen said.

David Organek, a Red Arrow outside linebacker and one of four captains punishes people when he hits. "Organek is an explosive hitter. He reminds you a little bit of the way Michael Dumas use to hit. It's too bad Organek isn't bigger.'

The Lowell senior would like to continue to play ball (football or baseball) at college. His choices of which college is down to four. Organek will take roughly a 3.4 grade-point average with him. He will pursue a degree in business.

In his first two years of football at the high school level he lined up at fullback. His junior and senior years have seen him at middle linebacker and now outside linebacker. "I prefer outside linebacker. It's not as congested," Organek said. "My job is to keep everything inside, to contain."

Week"

He has also taken on the duties of returning punts. In his last home game of his high school career, Organek returned a Sparta punt 69 yards for a touchdown.

The outside linebacker will fill a guard position this winter for Lowell Basketball Coach Mark Thomas and will play shortstop this spring for Baseball Coach Kris Kropf.

Organek describes his football play as aggressive, wild and crazy. He also hopes it will gain him a spot on the All-Conference team.

fected by the signal, according to the manufacturer.

Although Michigan's deer herd is the second largest of any state in the nation, sheer numbers, are not the only reasons for the increase in car-deer accidents.

Accidents involving deer are related more to traffic volumes than to deer numbers according to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. Most deervehicle accidents occur in southern Michigan, where deer population is lower-but the traffic volume higher-than in northern Michigan.

The DNR also reports that most car-deer accidents occur on paved local roads, within the drivers home county. Most accidents happen at night, when it is difficult to see deer.

Serious injuries and human fatalities occur most often when drivers attempt to swerve to miss deer, then lose control of the vehicle and hit another object, ac- cars.

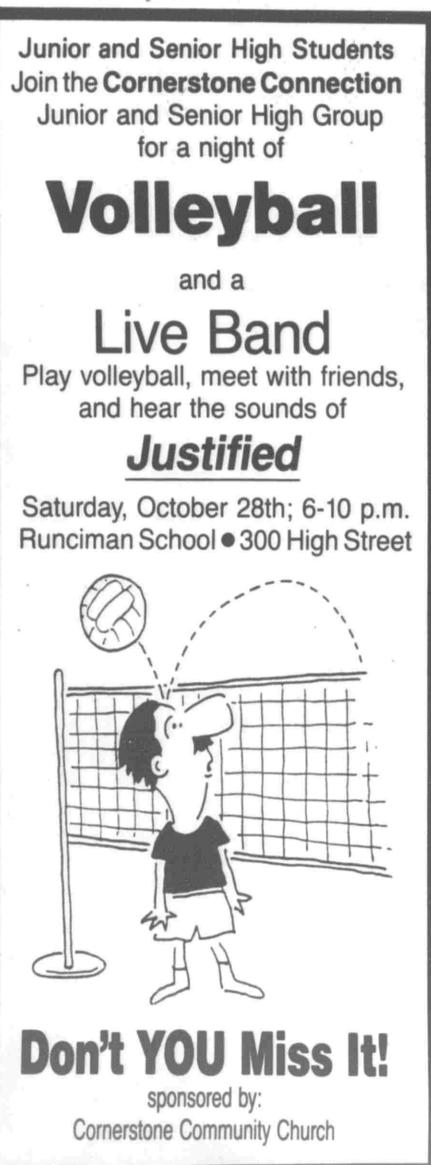

"This year the DNR expects hunters to harvest 450,000 deer out of the state's herd of 2 million." Thomas said. "but cardeer accidents will always be a danger for Michigan drivers. Last year, our company adjusters deer accidents. Our goal is to help reduce accidents and make drivers feel safer on Michigan

Tests indicate that Sav-A-Life deer alert device is at least 80 percent effective in keeping animals off the road and away from upproaching cars.

Many law enforcement agencies, company fleets, and major corporations require the device on all their cars and trucks.

THEN NOW!

What's been cooking in America's kitchens over the past century? A different kind of cookbook tells a delicious tale.

Then: Back in 1889, Willoughby McCormick started making fruit syrup for retail sale. The spice and seasonings company he founded developed many of the nation's meal-time favorites of an earlier era-Prohibition Punch. Drunken Chicken, Popcorn Soup, Lady Baltimore Cake and much more.

Now: Today, McCormick & Co. celebrates its hundredth anniversary with a cookbook called "The 100 Best Recipes for 100 Years from McCormick." Called "cookable history" by some, the history-recipe book includes the best of thousands of timeless recipes from the 1890s to today, set against an historic backdrop of ten decades of changing lifestyles and eating habits. The illustrated book, available for $22.95 plus $2.50 for postage and handling, may be ordered by writing: McCormick 100th Anniversary Offer (book), c/o Monarch Services, 4517 Harford Road, Baltimore, Md. 21214. (Maryland residents add $1.15 sales tax.)
