The motion also called for an annual comparative review and asked that an appeal process and committee defor the attendance policy proposal.

The school improvement process involves students, parents, community and staff in the policy making decisions. A sharp contrast from school officials making the policy and everyone else told to abide by it.

Superintendent Lowell Fritz Esch said this is the first brought before the Board. Both Esch and Board member Jack Lane stated they thought validity would be given to the process by the Board giving its approval of the motion.

The new policy calls for reducing the number of allowable unexcused absences from seven to six and the number of total absences from 15 to 12.

"The policy does not give students an extra 4-5 days for extenuating circumstances," Byrne said. "I'm afraid with velopment process be in place the number of allowable unby the start of the school year excused absenses, some students with extenuating circumstances will get trapped and that's not fair to the students."

> Byrne was told that the appeal process allows for the possibility of an extension. Byrne then stated that parents don't want possibilities, but instead definites.

The Lowell Board member also questioned the "sort of "from the bottom up recom- hand picked way" the attenmendation" that he has dance committee was picked.

"This is policy and not law. The committee is not trying to circumvent the appeal process," Esch said.

Lowell Assistant Principal Donn Start said dropping the total number of allowable absences from 14 to 12 means students will be required to be in class 16 additional days a year and thus will miss fewer days.

Downtown traffic project should start on July 29

Commencement of the anticipated downtown traffic and parking project may soon be realized by City officials and Lowell residents.

According to Lowell City Manager Dave Pasquale the re-marking of the streets and parking areas should commence on July 29 and should be completed by mid-August.

The north side of Main Street from Jackson to Hudson Street will be re-marked on Sunday, July 29th from 6 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Residents are asked not to park in the streets during this time.

The project will include revised parking on Main Street along with the installation of turning stalls in order to help the flow of traffic during peak times in the afternoon.

New and increased parking will also be outlined on Riverside and Broadway. Both Riverside and Broadway will be one way streets. Broadway will be one way going south and Riverside will be one way going north.

The work was contracted out to Stein & Sons of Wyoming at a June 4 City Council meeting. The cost to the City will be $922.05.

The delay in the project has come about due to a problem with the faded appearance of the paint. Because of the light appearance of the yellow pigment, state officials decided to use the polyester pavement contractor. The paint is more durable and will last 2-3 years, while the regular highway paint used is only good for

A bid will be awarded by the City Council on Aug. 6 for the construction of the road scheduled to be put in between Showboat Automotive and Curtis Car Wash. Construction is scheduled to begin on Aug. 16. At the same time, Bowes Road will be widened between Valley Vista and West Street. Completion of this project is due in early November. ## Roth drops off first local load of wheat

As is emblematic with the first local bin of wheat dropped off at King Milling, Lowell farmer, Jerry Roth received a hearty handshake and a congratulatory pat on the back from King Milling Vice President, Jim Doyle for 1990's first local bin of wheat.

Roth dropped off his 750 bushels of red wheat at approximately 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 18. Roth was joined by farm helper, Eric Seaburg.

"The yield per acre is down (50-55 bushels) from what it has been, and the quality for this year's crop has been about average," Roth said. "I expect to have 5-6 bins of wheat (white and red) before I'm done."

The Lowell farmer who lives 1-1/4 miles north of Alto said the remaining 5-6 bins will be half and half. "Half of the bins will be filled with red wheat and the others will be filled with white wheat," Roth said.

Roth, who has been farming all of his life, said he is a hog and a cash crop (corn

there were 128 students that exceeded 10 absences.

Start said that the feeling many students were abusing the previous policy and wanting to raise the school's expectations of students were reasons why the total number of absences were reduced.

"The bottom line is expectation. The number of days is arbitrary," Board secretary Linda Beers said, "I don't believe we can be too loose on expectation. If we're up front students will match and meet expectations."

Byrne added that iron clad rules don't work anymore with students and society, but working with them and communicating does work. Lowell High School Principal Jim DeWeerd said he took offense to the comment. "We

The traffic and parking project also calls for a traffic light at the intersection of Valley Vista and M-21. State officials say the wait on the installation of the light will take roughly nine months to a year-and-a-half.

The City will incur 50 percent of the project's cost. "I'll just be glad when it's all done," Pasquale said. "We've talked enough about it."

I sold an old car a couple of weeks ago. It was a typical deal. I advertised it for a certain price. The guy looked at it and says, "what'll ya take?". I gave him an honest bottom line price and he says he'll take it. He wrote a check while I signed the title. We then swappped hunks of paper and the deal was consumated. Simple as that. Well . . . not so fast. You've gotta remember that we're dealing with Roger Brown here, the reigning champion of stupidity and disorganization. I put the check in my shirt pocket.

About a week later I made a little count of my "walkin" around money". You know, that cash you keep tucked away in case you run across a hot deal on an old motorcycle. Or maybe you'll need it to finance a drop-everything-&-go-fishing-trip with the boys. Or, who knows, maybe someday the wife will finally have enough, and toss me out. A little "walkin' around money" would really come in handy then.

While I carried on the romance with my spinning wheel,

Anyway, my secret stash was considerably lighter than the little accountant in the back of my head thought it should be. That's when the check for that old car became a red flag.

I had done some banking a few days after the car deal was made. It was that bill paying kinda' banking. You know what I'm talking about. You cash a check here to pay off your charge card. You move some cash over to another account to cover a check you've written to the power company. You cash another check to deposit in your savings. You take a little out of your savings to bolster your checking account. And on, and on it goes, until you are thoroughly confused, but pretty sure you're broke.

Needless to say, I don't keep adequate records to show whether my old car check had been caught up in the banking shuffle, so I called the bank's bookkeeping department. A quick computer search didn't detect a deposit for the amount of the check, which was both good and bad news. The good news was, I hadn't used the check to pay a bunch of bills The bad news was, the check was missing.

I turned the house upside down. I cleaned out my desk at work. I went through the cars with a fine tooth comb. I even went to the cleaners to see if the check had turned up in a shirt pocket. No luck. However, when searching the cars I did find a missing pocket knife, several lost cassette tapes, about four orders of loose French fries and enough toll booth change to get across the Mackinac Bridge about

Now what? The guy I sold the car to had given me his wife's phone number at work because he couldn't be reached where he's employed. So, hat in hand, I called her and tried to explain my stupidity. I asked if she'd first call the bank to see if the check had cleared. She called back and told me that it hadn't. I told her my best guess was that the check had gone to the cleaners in my shirt pocket, and was probably destroyed. I asked her if she would please stop payment on the original check, just in case, and cut me a new one. This will likely make my top ten list of times I've felt really stupid.

She was extremely gracious about the whole thing. She even dropped the check off to me while on her lunch break. Her cooperation was especially appreciated when I considered the fact that she could have told me to go fly a kite and been a few bucks richer. They had the car and a signed title. I had a gob of paper fuzz in a freshly laundered shirt pocket that might have been a check at one time. Of course it might have been a gum wrapper. It's hard to tell the difference after a good washing.

Lesson learned, I proceeded directly to the bank with the check, cashed it and made a deposit to my "walkin' around money". The little accountant in the back of my head was happy, and I'll be able to last a few more days out on the street if Terese throws me out.

MELANOMA AND YOUNG WOMEN IS THERE A LINK?

On one of those bicyle trips, I was afraid that I would be Melanoma, a particularly malignant and aggressive skin caught by Nazi inspection. It had happened many times to cancer, is increasing in its frequency. A quarter of all melanoma cases occur in people under age 40, and the majority of these are women. This represents a change from even 10 years ago, when most melanoma was found in older

The rate of melanoma in women has increased fourfold since 1960, and physicians are seeing more and more victims in their thirties or younger. The ratio of female to male cases of melanoma is about two to three among those in their twenties.

Why does there seem to be an upswing of these cancers? Current thought is that these statistics reflect ultraviolet (UV) damage caused by tanning and burning from years earlier. Women spend more time trying to tan than men do, their clothing, too, offers less coverage from damaging rays.

Evidence indicates the melanoma is related to occasional but strong sun exposure rather than continual exposure to sun, as shown by the areas melanoma is found in the body: the upper back in men and upper legs in women areas that are not usually exposed, but that are uncovered during sun-

Prevention of melanoma should be our primary goal. Spend less time sunbathing (beginning in childhood), steer clear of tanning parlors (occasional but strong exposure to UV is the rule in these booths), and wear sunscreens with sun protection factor of at least 15.

Item No. 1. ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS A. 807 N. WASHINGTON - DAVID AND LORI CYROCKI - EXTENDING NON-CONFORMING FRONT YARD SETBACK TO CONSTRUCT A PORCH ADDITION - PUBLIC HEARING. David and Lori Cyrocki (owners) petitioned for a variance so they may construct a porch addition to their residence. The frontage of the house is 18 feet from the street right of way. With a 30 foot setback required for the front yard, the 5'6" extension would make the structure even more

non-conforming. City Manager Pasquale stated that the Planning Com- for services outlined in Task 1 at a cost of $2,500, with mission recommended unanimously that the variance be approved at their June 25, 1990 meeting.

IT WAS MOVED by Maatman and seconded by Fonger to grant the variance at 807 N. Washington to allow a 5'6" extension for a porch addition noting that the frontage of the house will be 18 feet from the street right of way where a 30 foot setback is required. YEA: 5.

NAY: 0. ABSENT: 0. MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 2. EVALUATION OF OPTIONS RELATIVE TO THE CATV SYSTEM - CONSIDERATION OF CON-TRACT ENGINEERING SERVICES. As requested by the Council, City Manager Pasquale provided information regarding R.W. Beck and Associates, who is under consideration for engineering services to evaluate the ownership and operation of the CATV system.

The Cable TV committee met on July 3 to review the updated proposal from R.W. Beck and recommended to the Council that the firm perform the services outlined in Task 1 (presenting approximate value of the existing CATV system, status of present and anticipated legislation and positive and negative benefits of continued operation) for $2,500.

a fee to find out how much the system is worth. If a bid. He stated that "Communication Technology", an official trade journal for society of engineers, gives the average price being paid for a cable company.

Mayor Maatman said that the study will provide the positive and negative benefits of continuous operations of the CATV system. The City needs information to make a good judgement.

Councilmember Hodges felt the study would be helpful in knowing the insurance value of the cable system. Councilmember Hodges made a motion to approve the contract as presented to R.W. Beck and Associates for $2,500 with the cost being split between the City and CATV. Motion died from lack of support.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Hodges to award contract to R.W. Beck and Associates total monies provided from CATV.

YEA: 3 (Thompson, Hodges and Maatman) NAY: 2. (Fonger and Doyle). ABSENT: 0. MOTION CARRIED

Item No. 3. COST ADJUSTMENT IN SOLID WASTE CONTRACT. As stipulated in their contract, the City's solid waste contractor, Denny's Disposal, may request an increase in price based on tipping fees and fuel costs, subject to Council approval.

Dennis and Paula Goodsell (owners of Denny's Disposal) were present stating that Pitsch Sanitary Landfill's charges have been raised from $5.75 per yard to $9.00. On an average of 755 yards hauled per month (720 yards last year), a $1,374 per month increase was requested. Also, fuel costs have increased 23 cents a gallon since 1988 (at that time $.95 a gallon for gasoline and $.77 a gallon for diesel). Based on usage of 373 gallons per month, the fuel adjustment costs would increase $85.79 per month.

City Manager Pasquale said a total increase of $1,459.79 per month has been petitioned. This would raise cost per residential unit from $6.335 to $7.526 per month and commercial from $14.335 to $15.526 per month. As of July 1, the monthly charge would rise from $9,160 to $10,619.79 per month, if approved.

ITWAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Fonger to approve the increased solid waste contract price with Denny's Disposal based on tipping fees and fuel costs of $10,619.79 per month. YEA: 5.

NAY: 0. ABSENT: 0 MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 4. DELINQUENT PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX COLLECTION. City Treasurer Judy Noonon proposed utilizing Financial Collection Agencies to collect delinquent personal property taxes. In consulting with City Attorney Richard Wendt, this method would be used on businesses closing their doors and moving to another location out of the area. Once they leave, it is difficult for her to collect the taxes. Those businesses in the City would still go through property seizure after all attempts have failed to collect the tax. City Attorney Wendt had stated that the Treasurer must proceed with all statutory remedies including seizure before this could be turned over to a collection agency.

In instances where FCA is used, the City would still collect the full payment of taxes handled by the agency with a service fee over and above the tax amount. When the delinquent personal taxes are turned over to the collection agency the City can no longer add any type of penalty amount. The collection agency can only add their service fee.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Hodges to utilize FCA for collection of delinquent personal property taxes for businesses which have moved out of the City.

YEA: 5. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 0. MOTION CARRIED

Item No. 5. ACCOUNTING POLICY FOR DEPRECIA-TION OF THE WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT. City Manager Pasquale said that as recommended by the City auditors, a policy needs to be adopted by Council which states that contributed capital from Federal, state and local sources used to construct a depreiciable assets (such as the Wastewater Treatment Plant) will be reduced by the depreciation incurred on the contributed capital.

mended that the City adopt a policy consistent with National Council on Governmental Accounting (NCGA) Statement No. 2, which provides for the above mentioned method of accounting for depreciation. This will allow the City to eliminate the possibility of retained earnings deficit created by depreciation on Federal, State and local contributions

IT WAS MOVED By Doyle and seconded by Thompson to adopt the accounting policy for depreciation of the Wastewater Treatment Plant as proposed.

YEA: 5. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 0. MOTION CARRIED.

Item No. 6. CURB PAINTING PROJECT PROPOSAL Peter Wills of Boy Scout Troop No. 102 has proposed curb painting house numbers for City residences as an Eagle Scout project. This would be helpful in identifying homes by emergency vehicles. He requested Council approval of this project since it involves public right of way. Peter is asking for guidance on funding the work, which is estimated to cost approximately $1 per property, total cost to $100. He explained the project in detail to the Council.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Doyle to approve the curb painting project proposal with monies to be applied for from the Look discretionary Fund.

YEA: 5. NAY: 0. ABSENT: 0. MOTION CARRIED.

The Council commended Peter for the proposed curb painting project.

Item No. 7. CITIZENS COMMENTS. Ziggy Windsor of Lowell Ambulance was present and stated the curb painting project would help in locating emergency calls within the City. She also asked if the Council would consider a housing numbering ordinance as proposed to Lowell and Vergennes Townships. City Manager Pasquale said that the City is still researching the issue.

City Treasurer Noonon said that the auditors recom- Item No. 8. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember

Fonger asked what the status is on the Main Street tree project. City Manager Pasquale responded that no decisions have been made as of yet. The trees are scheduled to remain during this summer.

Councilmember Dovle said that several people have stated how nice the cemetery looks. Also he mentioned that the weeds on Main Street and City parking lots need to be taken care of.

Councilmember Hodges asked when the paint for the street striping would be completed. City Manager Pasquale responded that MDOT has not given a date when they expect the painting to be scheduled.

Item No. 9. MANAGER'S REPORT. City Manager Pasquale reported on the following:

1. The Planning Commission reviewed and approved amendments the Moose Recreation Building site plan at its June 25 meeting. It was agreed that the Moose Lodge would make necessary public improvements (asphalting and landscaping) on the property frontage within three months.

2. Light and Power and Cable TV minutes were attached in the agenda packet.

3. Though Stoney Lakeside Park dedication was rained out, Governor Blanchard had sent the City a letter of commendation for its efforts to initiate the new park. 4. The two city-owned hangars have been all leased (10 spaces).

5. Bids on the Valley Vista extension and Bowes Road projects have been advertised. Responses are due on July 25 and reward to be given by Council on August 6, 1990.

Item No. 10. APPOINTMENT. Mayor Maatman reappointed Dave Clark for a seat on the Board of Review and appointed Charles Myers for a seat on the Planning Commission. Both appointments are for a three year term to expire on June 30, 1993.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges to adjourn at 8:49 p.m.

Approved: July 23, 1990

James D. Maatman, Mayor David M. Pasquale, City Clerk

HAIL! KING MILLING

King Milling under the leadership of King Doyle has enjoyed 45 years of continued growth and prosperity!

The rolls have withstood the test of time. King Doyle has been directly responsible for many of the changes over the past 45 years. He too, has weathered the test of time very well.

When William Doyle died, his majority interest passed to his invalid wife. Monica: and his two sons, King and Roland (Mike).

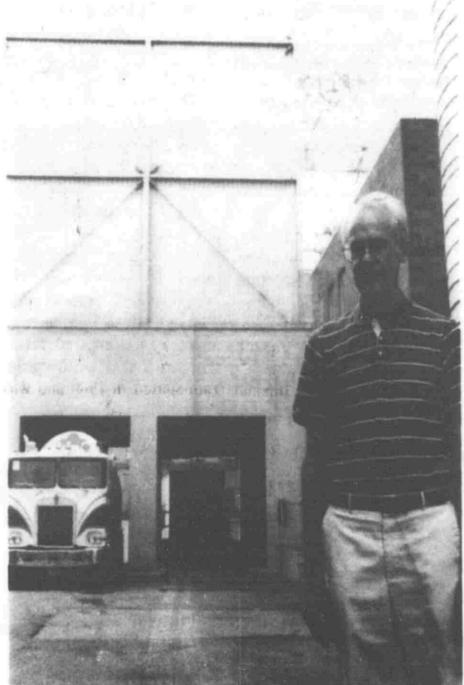

Upon being released from active duty in the Navy, King Doyle became president of the concern, a title he still holds today.

"My father had controlling nterest, so I had to go home and try to run the mill," King Dovle said. "It took a couple of years out of the Navy before I became comfortable with the role. At first, it was a sink or swim, and trial and error type situation."

As a youth, Doyle idolized the role of an attorney. So much so, that after securing an accounting degree from the University of Michigan he gave thought to tax law.

"I have no regrets about my life at the mill. I've been happy. The mill has prospered," Doyle said. "The industry has been good to me and I think we've been good to the industry."

The Lowell dairy farmer believes the reason for such an increase is because of the hybrid wheat that is available. "Years ago the management was there but the ability to ingrade wasn't," Hale

Wheat continued

While farmers have been able to improve their high yield chances, the quality of the wheat is still dependent on Mother Nature. "Good 'ole Mother Nature still dictates how good the quality s." Hale explained.

Increased crop prospects is advantageous to Mills like King Milling, but it has an adverse effect on the farmer. "When the crop prospects are good, the price of wheat goes down," Hale said.

Doyle added that King Milling gets more of its wheat from points further away. "The land in the Saginaw Valley area is phenomenal. A lot of wheat is grown to the east of us," he said. "In the Thumb area, a good yield is 70-80 bushel per acre and it is not uncommon for farmers in that area to get 100 bushels an acre."

Doyle said the problem in the Kent County area is that there is a lot of sand from here to the west (lake area). This explains why King Mil ling doesn't get much wheat directly from the Kent County area.

"We get 200-300,000 bushels of wheat from the Kent County area," Doyle said. "We use that in less than 30 days. In Ionia County, just to the east of us, we get 2 million bushels.'

Doyle says King Milling's storage capacity is 2.8 million bushels and they will fill that within the next two has grown from 600 cwt. of white flour in a twenty-four hour day with storage of 80,000 bushels, to its 1990 capacity of 5,400 cwt. of white flour, 5,000 cwt. of whole wheat flour and storage of 2,800,000 bushels. King and Mike's progressive attitudes toward business have always kept the company on the leading edge of milling technology. The production method was changed from bucket elevator conveying to pneumatics before this was popular in the milling industry. The company is now completely automated from its grain storage to the finished product bins. This is quite unique in the milling industry of today. The Company's business today consists of supplying flour and wheat by-products to commercial bakeries and breakfast cereal plants. The Company primarily grinds Michigan soft white wheat developed by Michigan State University.

Currently, King and Mike (Senior Vice-President), are less active in the day-to-day operation of the Mill. The King Milling Company is being managed by the fourth generation of the Doyle family. King's son, Brian, is Vice-President and General Manager. Mike's son, Jim, is Vice-President and Mike's other son, Stephen, is Director of Project Development.

It is interesting to note that the article on the King Milling Company, in Lowell's centennial book of 1931, boasted a capacity of 495 cwt. per day and an annual grind of 250,000 bushels. The Company now grinds that amount in twenty-five days. It is also interesting to note that in the year 1890 there were 700 flour mills in the State of Michigan. The number of mills dropped to 534 in the year 1900 and in 1958, the number dropped to twenty-eight. Today, in the year 1990, there are only six flour mills in Michigan.
