Law experience is at a premium in the race for Kent County's 63rd District Court seat

Only the top two 63rd District Court vote-getters in the Aug. 7 primary election will have their names placed on the Nov. 6 general election ballot.

As the time prior to the election grows shorter, all five candidates work harder to staple a positive identification with the voters that will help put them over the edge on Aug. 7, hoping to find that key quality, unique to them, that will help lead two of the five candidates, four men and one woman, to primary victories.

The election for a 63rd District Judge takes place for the first time in two decades. Judge Joseph White announced in April that he would step down after 21 years on the bench. White was never challenged for his seat during that time. The district over which the 63rd District Judge presides over includes Lowell, Ada, Bowne, and Vergennes Townships.

Denise Kropf of Lowell reported to Lowell Police her car had been struck by a hit and run driver while it was parked in the FMB lot on East Main St., July 27.

A six-year term goes with the 63rd District Court seat, along with an annual salary of $93,812.

Candidates seeking the position are Craig Avery, David Neff, Keary Sawyer, Sara Smolenski and Gary Wallin.

Avery, a father of three, is a 1963 graduate of Kentwood High School with degrees from Yale University (1967) and Georgetown University Law Center (1972).

He has been a partner in the private law practice of VandenBosch and Avery out of Comstock Park for the past 14 years. Avery has experience in district and circuit court civil and criminal matters, probate and juvenile court cases, employer/employee disputes and negotiations, real estate matters, partnerships and corporations.

"I have experience in every type of case that has come before the district court," Avery said. "I'm equal to or better than any other candidate in education, knowing the system and in having a well rounded experience."

He added that more people are in touch with the District Court today than any other court. "The Distric Court requires many difficult decisions in sending people to jail. It is important in the process that people be treated in a civil manner and not rudely."

Avery said it is also important that as a judge he provides consistent, quick and fair decisions.

Neff, a lawyer for the past 20 years, began his career in Kent County, first as an assistant prosecutor, then as a research clerk for the Court of Appeals.

He currently works as a commissioner on the Worker's Compensation Appellate Commission as appointed by the Governor. Neff reviews workers' compensation cases on appeal from the trial courts.

"I believe I have the best and richest law experience of the field," Neff said. "I've been a party to and have done almost every type of work."

Neff said his good temperament, internal discipline and patience have spilled over into his work.

While there are glaring differences in the qualities needed to be an attorney and a judge, Neff said his current job has helped to prepare him for such a transition. "The qualities of an attorney don't necessarily prepare you to be a judge. As a Commissioner with the Worker's Compensation Appellate Commission I have had to review cases and then make a decision. I think this will help make my transition smoother."

The East Grand Rapids man said he will work hard as Judge to make sure the delivery of service is done at an efficient cost. "People are tired of the high cost because of lack of efficiency," he said. "I also believe we need to consolidate our county courts into one. Outlying areas such as Lowell shouldn't have to travel all the way to Grand Rapids. We need to decentralize. Courts need to become modern."

Keary Sawyer has 12 years of both legal and trial experience, both civil and criminal, in all areas handled by the proposals to improve the District Court. I am committed to the goal of making our 63rd District Court the best District Court in the State. We should be the leader in meeting the presented challenges by jail overcrowding, drug abuse and other crimes," Sawyer said.

Sawyer says he has experience in listening and developing approaches to clients with different problems. "I think this will be beneficial in my transition from attorney to judge," he says. Sawyer's plan for excellence includes extended court hours to make the court more accessible to the people it serves; a consistently tough view of repeat offenders; implementation of an intensive supervision probation program; a fight to keep the courthouse located within the district; and settlement pretrial conferences in certain civil cases.

A former Grand Rapids Assistant City attorney, Sara Smolenski is currently an attorney with the firm of Smith. Haughey, Rice, and Roegge. She is no stranger to the legal community. Smolenski's father, J. Robert Smolenski was a District Court Judge for 17 years and her brother, Michael currently sits on the Grand Rapids District Court Bench.

"I was raised in a family where the principles of justice were important. My desire to serve the community as a judicial officer stems from my belief that I could contribute to the principles of justice. I am honest, fair, firm, competent and qualified to be an effective judge," Smolenski says.

Smolenski has received an endorsement from the Women

"I am the only candidate thus far that has put forth specific I don't believe it is a disadvantage to be the only woman candidate. Women can be fine representatives in any role."

> She says the major hurdle facing the 63rd District Court is jail overcrowdedness. "When jail is needed, we may not have it. How will this affect judges in their decisions?. Jail is an important deterrent that is needed."

Gary Wallin has been the chief assistant prosecutor for the past four years. With his 17 years' experience as a trial attorney, and as an administrator in the criminal justice system managing attorneys and a criminal case load of 7,000, this gives Wallin more courtroom experience than the other four candiates combined. "My courtroom experience is more, or equal to, all of theirs combined," he said.

The Criminal Justice and Bar Association has given Wallin the highest rating of the candidates.

Wallin says he has worked with people, and seen the the human side as an administrator. "I've dealt, lead and bared through hard times with people. I have gotten involved in family planning in stressful situations," he says.

Wallin says he will bring effectiveness and efficiency to the 63rd District Court. "In order to be effective with jurisdiction, you must use resources that can provide the best effective results."

He continues, "A judge must maximize the positive effect on the criminal and minimize the negative effect on the victim and witnesses while also being mindful of Republicans hoping to gain the seat will be Marsha Wilcox (incumbent), Larry F. Combs, David J. Baerwalde, Susan .. Morrow, Jack J. Schwab and Jack Horton.

The Grattan Township ballot will have two propositions for voters to decide on.

The first proposition will be whether to levy an ad valorem tax of one mill on all real property and tangible personal property located in Grattan Township for a period of five years from 1990 to 1994. The tax would be used for road improvements. The second proposition asks if there should be a one mill tax levied on all real property located in Grattan Township for a period of five years from 1990 through 1994 inclusive for the purpose of maintaining and operating the Grattan Township Fire Department.

Voters will also be asked to vote on a millage increase for Kent County Correction and Detention Facilities. The increase would be by 0.84 mills ($0.84 per $1,000) on the assessed valuation for such property, as finally equalized for a period of 20 years. The purpose would be to expand, remodel, equip, operate, maintain and defray debt service for Kent County correction and detention facilities.

THE END

ACUTE DIARRHEA IN INFANTS

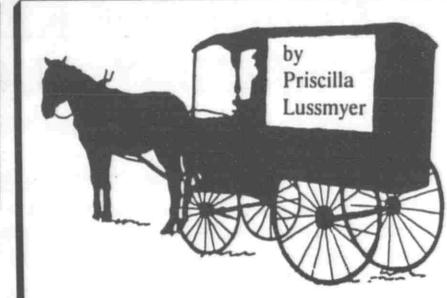

Infantile diarrhea is an extremely common disorder. More than 500 infants younger than one year of age are hospitalized every day with acute diarrhea and subsequent dehydration. The loss of fluids from the intestine in the form of watery stools is the chief reason for these hospital admissions. One very good means of replenishment for the mildly dehydrated child (well before hospitalization becomes necessary) is oral rehydration therapy (ORT), a safe, convenient, well tolerated treatment modality.

Parents of children with persistent diarrhea should understand that ORT will not stop diarrheal bouts, rather it serves to replenish lost nutrients. For a child less than two years of age with clinical signs of dehydration (sunken eyes, dry mouth, poor production of tears, diminished urine output) medical attention and probable hospital admission is war-

Recent evidence seems to suggest that food based preparations are more beneficial to the moderately dehydrated patient than those with a glucose base. Some of the rice and other cereal based ORT products seem to decrease both the severity and duration of diarrhea, although many physicians are reluctant to introduce any solid foods too early in the course of diarrhea

ORT is safe, effective, and well tolerated by most infants with acute diarrhea. If diarrhea persists or the child shows any overt sign of dehydration, have him or her examined by your doctor to make sure that further therapy is not

MYSTERY FARM?

CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS MYSTERY FARM?

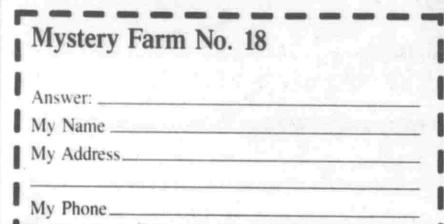

This aerial photograph was taken especially for the Lowell Ledger and is part of a series of Kent County

No one knows whose farm the aerial photographer snapped, so it's up to you, our readers, to identify the mystery farm each week.

If you can identify this mystery farm...merely fill out the entry blank below with your answer, name and address and mail or drop off at the Lowell Ledger, P.O. Box 128, Lowell, MI 49331.

The name of the person correctly identifying this farm will be put in a drawing to be held on Monday, August 6, at noon for a FREE DINNER FOR TWO (excluding drinks) at Sneakers in downtown Lowell, a free car wash at Lowell Auto Wash, a free gallon of Devoe flat white latex paint from Lowell Paint & Wallpaper and a free subscription to the Ledger.

The owner of each week's Mystery Farm will receive ABSOLUTELY FREE, a 4x5 color photo of the farm merely by claiming it at the Lowell Ledger office by the following Wednesday noon.

In the 17th week of the Lowell Ledger Mystery Farm, there were only 10 responses, all of which had correct reponses. In week 18, let's see if we can increase the number of correct responses. It should also be noted, that when identifying a farm, the first and last name should be used. Also only entries from the Ledger will be accepted. Thanks for your cooperation.

Rogers' graduate, Tracy Tow crowned 1990 4-H Fair Queen

4-H QUEEN: Tracy Tow

AGE: 18

SCHOOL: A 1990 Rogers High School graduate. Tow was Valedictorian of her class with a 3.8 grade-point-average.

COUNTY: Tow has participated in the Kent County Fair for the past seven years. She has been in 4-H for eight years.

PARENTS: Fred and Karen Tow

4-H CLUB: Galloping Riders

PROJECTS: Veterinarian Science, Teen Leadership, Demonstration and Public Speaking, a horse project showing how a foal was born and participated in a Futurity program.

AWARDS: Tow was named 4-H Queen. She earned state medals in veterinarian science, citizenship, leadership, state tel-award, 4-H tuition scholarship, teen leader of the month and has won numerous ribbons and trophies in horse riding.

OFFICES HELD: Tow was 4-H president for five years and was co-chairman of the teen-leader developmental com-

4-H SERVICE PROJECTS TOW HAS HELPED WITH: She has worked on fund raisers for both Galloping Riders and the county. Tow has helped out the Horse Leader Association; she's facilitated an overnight "Dynamite" - an all-night party at the YMCA to help get kids more involved in 4-H.

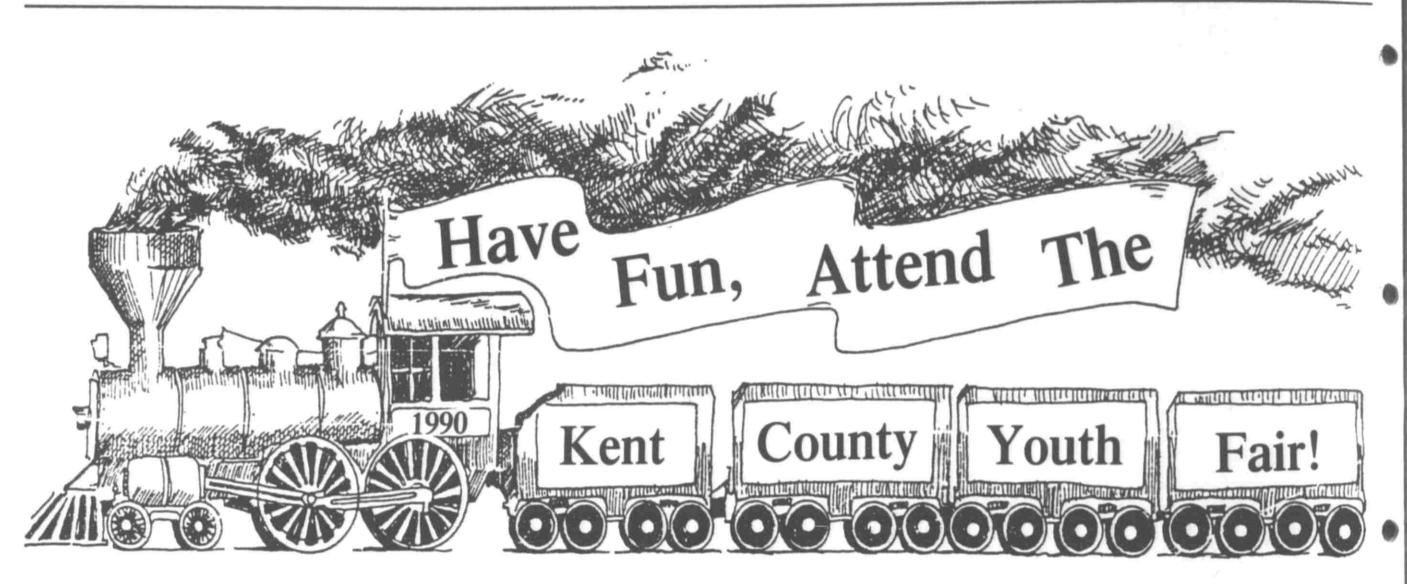

ACTIVITIES AT ROGERS: President of the National Honor Society. She was a Camp Fire volunteer for 10 years; helped local politicians distribute pamphlets; and she cooked and did yard work for local senior citizens.

FUTURE ACADEMIC PLANS: Tow plans on attending Michigan State University where her studies will be geared toward law and/or psychology.

HOW WILL TRACY TOW PROMOTE THE 4-H AS QUEEN?: The Galloping Riders Club does a variety of different activities (4-H Horse Jamboree, 4-H Veterinarian Science Fair at Michigan State University, and Exploration Days), and by sharing these ideas with other clubs it will help make members more aware of what is available through 4-H. There is more to 4-H than showing animals. There is crafts, cooking, leadership, and responsibilities. Some day I'd like to be a leader so I can help give back to 4-H for what it has given me. It has helped me overcome shyness, it has helped to give me leadership skills, and a sense of responsibility and committment.
