Commission hears all sides in annexation hearing - decision will take 10 months

At a public hearing on the proposed annexation of Attwood's 19.3 acres, the State Boundary Commission heard from all three sides on Tuesday - Attwood, the people neighboring the property, and Vergennes Township and now will work to come up with a conclusion.

The options are manifold: the Commission can deny the petition, approve it as submitted, or approve it with boundary adjustments. Such boundary adjustments could remove land and, thereby, contract the area to be annexed.

Attwood's Bruce Haveman, treasurer, said the Lowell Company is interested in seeing the property annexed from the jurisdiction of Vergennes Township to the City of Lowell. He said the City of Lowell has the best ability to provide necessary public facility infrastructure; because of Attwood's natural geographic affiliation with the City; the fact that property is isolated from the rest of the township; and the unnecessary complexity created by straddling two government jurisdictions.

"Unless you take each one of those statements apart and look at them closer, they don't mean anything. They are just words," said Vergennes Township Supervisor, Jim Cook.

Cook said the loss of the tax base is the obvious reason the Township opposes the annexation. "Why do you think the City favors the annexation? The Township is not interested in seeing part of its tax base dissolved."

He added until the land is improved, its vacant value is no more than a $175,000 home.

Cook believes the history of the annexation boards looks favorably in the direction of the City. The Supervisor said it will take 10 months for the board to make a determination.

Attwood purchased the 19.3 acres for several thousand dollars per acre back in 1978. The parcel of land is located to the northeast of the Oakwood cemetery.

Three years ago Attwood decided to approach Vergennes Township to have its land rezoned from R-2 to industrial. The Corporation's attorney said there would be opposition and advised Attwood to annex to the City and then seek to have the property rezoned.

Discrepancies in the description of the land has helped to delay the process for over a year.

Haveman said Attwood currently does not have any

City Council gets an earful on Main Street parking

Merchants angry with new Main St. parking system. Council says alternative is no Main St. parking at all!

The state doesn't want any parking on Main Street. The city compromised, so it could satisfy the state, keep some of the downtown parking, and so it could get a light put in at the west end of town. The downtown merchants are not happy with either formula and fear going out of business may become a reality.

"Putting in the planters by Lambert's was a mistake and so is this," said "Softie Cream and Yogurt Station" owner, Rose Ball. "This ordinance should not be approved. People are laughing at Lowell again just like they did when Gus Macker left. I feel I'm being discriminated against on the parking."

To the dismay of Ball and many other downtown merchants, the council supported the no parking ordinance involving certain portions of downtown Main Street. The ordinance allows the State to expedite its placing of no parking signs in certain areas of downtown.

Dick and Hazel Smith, owners of "Strawbasket Collections", asked the Council why it necessary to have traffic driving so fast through town. "Let's slow the traffic down, so they can see what's here. They may even shop," Dick Smith said.

George Hill, an engineer for Ed Swanson and Associates, who helped put together the traffic and parking analysis for Main Street, said in a phone interview that people forget that M-21 is a state highway and the responsibility of a state highway is to move traffic. "M-21 serves a broader group of people than that of a city street," he explains.

At the root of the traffic and parking problem is that there is not an alternative route for traffic to take. "The river takes away other options," Hill says.

"Captain Jack" owner, Larry Wawee, understands better than most what it means to run out of options. "A year and a half ago I bought 'Captain Jacks' and the City approved the transfer of the license in my name. Why wasn't I told at the time that I would be losing the only parking I have?"

Lowell City Manager Dave Pasquale said the City didn't know at the time. Lowell Mayor James Maatman said he did not believe it was up to the Council to put up warnings for prospective merchants. "I would assume that anyone who is buying a business would have looked into all possibilities. I know I would have."

Wawee added that Ed Swanson, who did the study, said if he'd pay him to come out, that he could come up with an alternative way which would give Wawee parking.

Swanson said Wawee misunderstood him. "I told him that if he cooperated and was willing to spend some money to get

It was just a year ago that Donn Start was unloading his television set in preparation for his stay in Lowell as LHS Assistant Principal. Last week he accepted a principalship position at Harbor Springs Middle School.

Start fulfills dream - takes job in Harbor Springs

Many of us have been asked what we would like to be doing and where would we like to be in five years? In 10 years? These questions are usually asked as one nears the completion of his or her education.

Because the times change, people change, and situations change, the answers to these goal-minded questions do not come to fruition very frequently.

As an undergraduate at Michigan State University, a young man from Grand Haven, with the look of an All-American boy, wrote that he'd like to be in an administrative position in the Harbor Springs School System in 10 years.

This undergraduate I'm referring to has spent the past year in the Lowell High School as the assistant principal. Tuesday night, Donn Start, accepted his first principalship position. Yes, at Harbor Springs Middle School. "In accepting the position, I'm fulfilling a dream," Start says. "I'm familiar with Harbor Springs because my family used to vacation there. My immediate family vacations near there at Bay View."

Start calls Harbor Springs the mecca of recreational facilities. "The golf courses up there will increase my handicap," he muses. "I believe it is an ideal place to raise a family and to feel comfortable within the community."

Start draws lines of similarity between the Lowell and Harbor Springs school systems. "Both have the nucleus and foundation of a good community for a working family. Both receive a lot of support from their communities. Both schools do not set around and watch education pass them by. They are both progressive, caring schools," he says.

The father of two says he is excited about the opportunity to be involved with the middle school concept. Start said he turned down other high school principalship offers. "The philosophies on education were different from those which I hold," Start says.

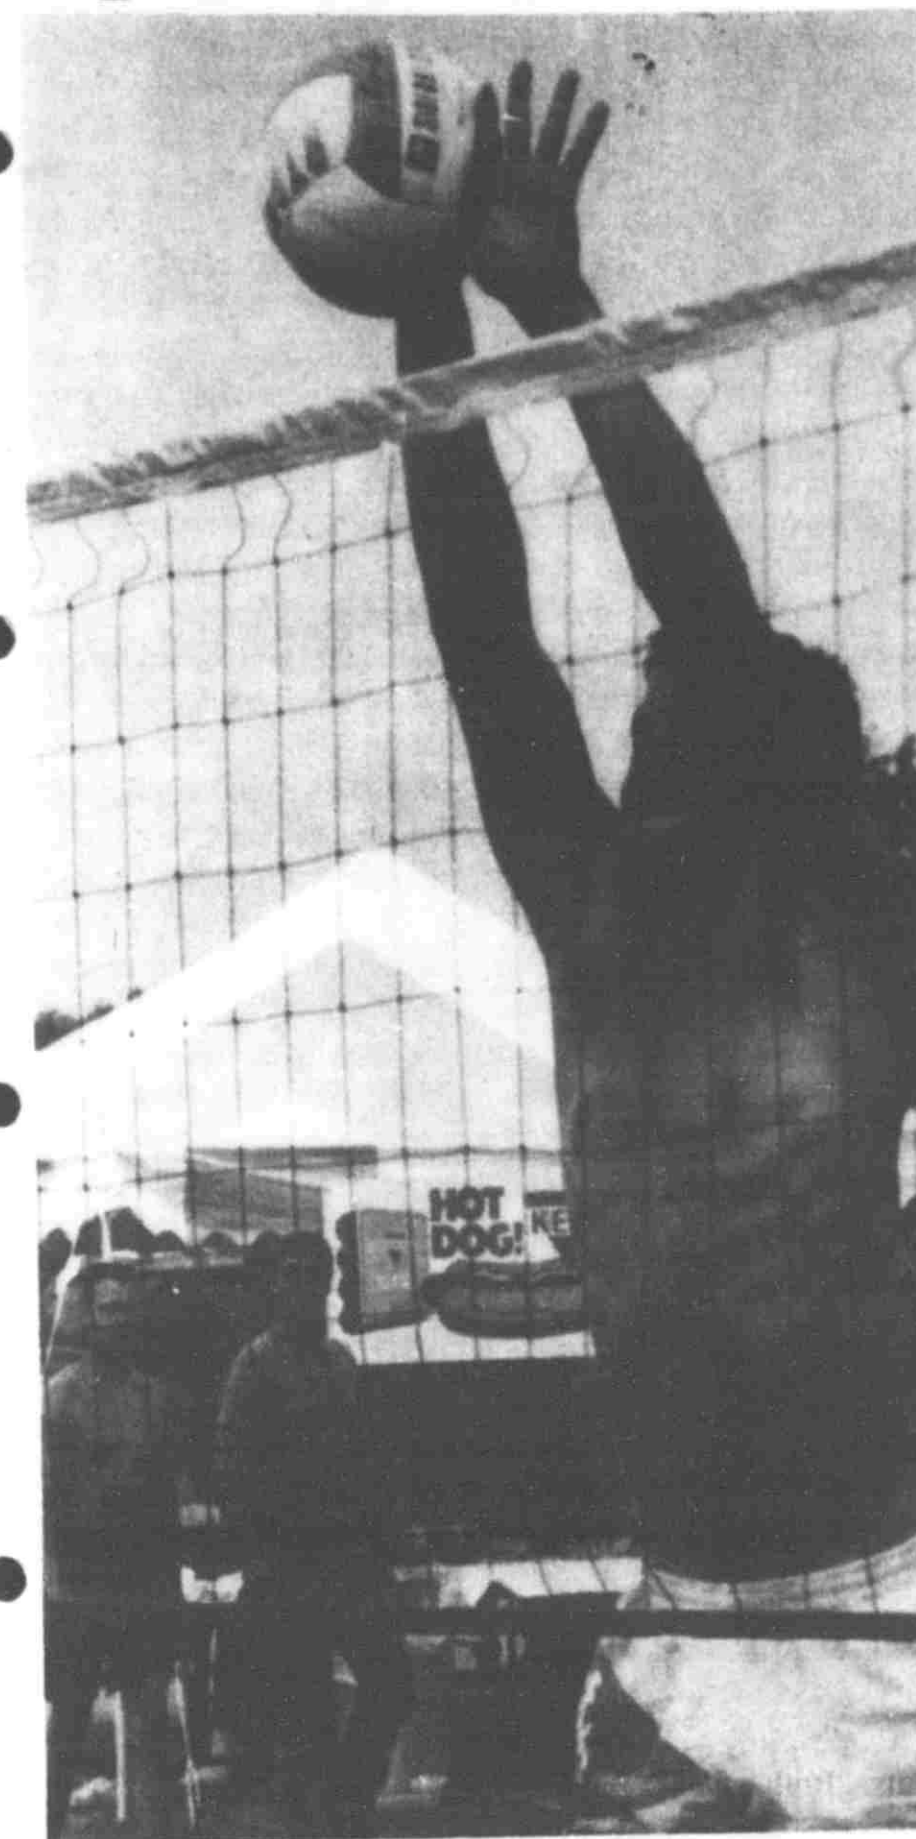

Start says he has enjoyed his stay in Lowell. "The students at Lowell High School have been super to deal with. Some have had some heavy problems and have made some wrong choices, but none of the students I've dealt with are rotten."

As for the personnel at Lowell, Start said there is no doubt that in the three schools he has worked at, the personnel at Lowell Schools he has worked with, is the best, dedicated and most concerned staff.

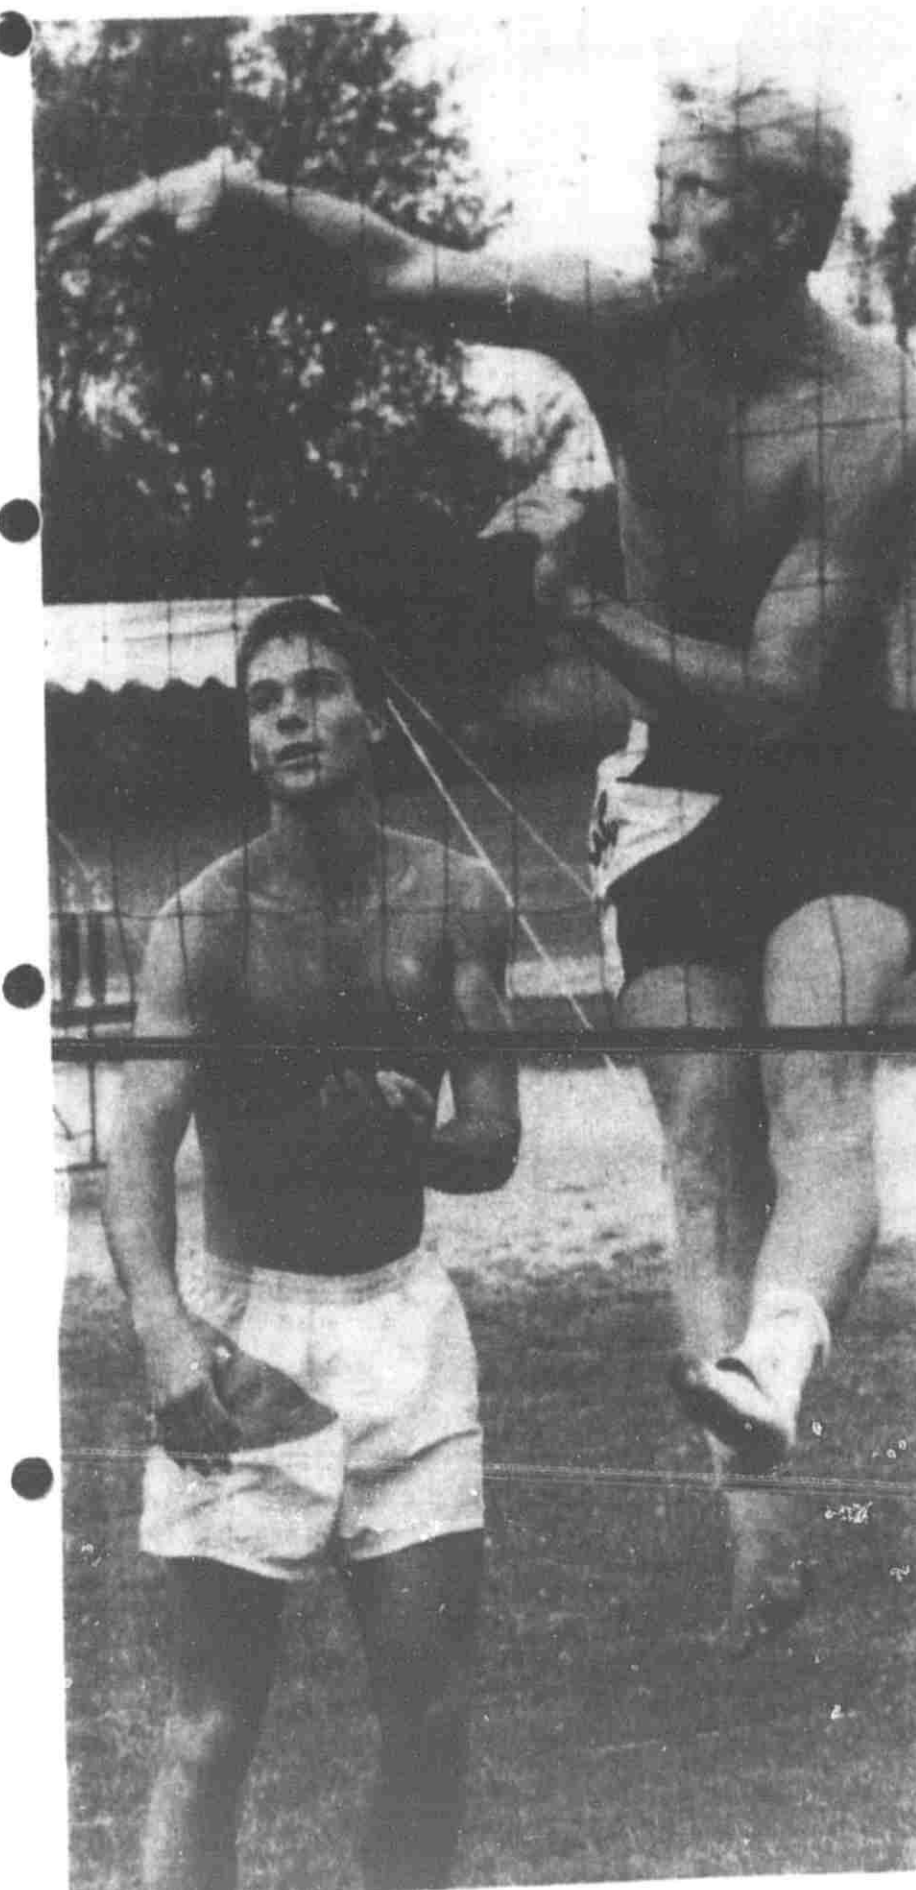

"I hope the community appreciates them. A way the community can show its appreciation is by voting 'yes' additional parking, then maybe we could delay taking parking off M-21 in front of his place."

Sufficient parking room is also foremost on the minds of businesses on the north side of Main Street between Broadway and Riverside. All of the Main Street parking on the north side has been taken away. Also, now that Broadway is one way coming south, people have to go around the block and then find a parking space along Broadway or in the parking lot between Riverside and Broadway.

"How many people do you think are going to go around the block to buy a card at Cousins'?" Ball said.

Venita Wheeler, owner of Stitches' Pretty Fabrics Ltd., who is faced with the same problem, says the back parking lot is full two-thirds of the time. "If people can't park in front and cannot turn onto Broadway from Main Street, they are not going to bother to stop," she says. "I'm not sure how long I can stay in business."

Duane Lambert who may be the only merchant who has attended all the preliminary meetings leading up to the ordinance, said he was told he's lose 2-3 parking spots in front of the store. "The yellow line goes back eight spots. I'm hurting. This has had an effect on my business the last couple of weeks. Is there not another option?"

According to Maatman, the other option is to remove all Main Street parking. Tony Stormzand, owner of Zzano's pizza, said it sounds as if the City has sold out the east end of town so it could get a light put in on the west end. "People going through at 50 miles an hour is going to cause a problem (a child getting hit on a bike)," Stormzand says.

"We're worried about people and they are worried about cars."

Hill said it is up to local law enforcement to enforce the speed limit.

Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons said the zig-zagging drivers will have to do going through town should help to keep the speed down. "At first there may be problems, but as drivers get use to it I think things will improve," he said. "There are also plans for crosswalks. State law provides that vehicles must stop at a crosswalk if someone is in the intersection." Emmons said the the three spots being considered at Riverside Drive, Softee Cream and the bank and at Lafayette Street. "We don't however want to take up parking spaces in doing so," he says. "Yes, parking spaces in Lowell are at a premium these days."

TOWNSHIP OF GRATTAN
SPECIAL WATERCRAFT RULE ORDINANCE FOR ROUND LAKE
(Ordinance No. 90-2)
Section 1: INTRODUCTION
By Resolution dated May 14, 1990 (Resolution No. 90-6), and pursuant to MCLA 281.1016; MSA 18.1287(16), as amended, the Grattan Township Board requested that the Michigan Department of Natural Resources prepare and approve a local ordinance prohibiting the operation of vessels powered by a motor except as electric motor on Round Lake in Section 21 of Grattan Township, Kent County, Michigan. The Grattan Township Board found that such a special watercraft rule is necessary for safety considerations and due to the unique nature of the lake.
On June 26, 1990, the Department of Natural Resources held a public hearing on the proposed special watercraft rule for Round Lake at the Grattan Township Hall. On July of 1990, the Department of Natural Resources proposed and approved the special local watercraft rule requested and has submitted it to Grattan Township for approval and enactment of the local ordinance by Grattan Township pursuant to MCLA 281.1015; MSA 18.1287(15), as amended. Grattan Township does hereby adopt and enact the local ordinance pursuant to Act 303, Public Acts of 1967, as amended, being MCLA 281.1001, et. seq., MSA 18.1287(1), et. seq., as amended, as prepared and approved by the Department of Natural Resources and as follows:

Round Lake has unique ecological and biological aspects which would be irreparably damaged by the use of internal combustion engines and high-speed boating on the lake.

Regulation No. 41 - Kent County
WC-41-90-001 Round Lake: Electric motors only

Section 4: SEVERABILITY
This Ordinance and each of the various parts, subsections, sentences, phrases and clauses hereof are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, section, subsection, sentence, phrase or clause is determined to be invalid or unenforceable for any reason by a court of competent jurisdiction, it is hereby provided that the remainder of this Ordinance shall not be affected thereby and shall remain in full force and effect.
Section 5: PENALTY
Any person who shall violate any provision of this Ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof may be imprisoned for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or fined a sum not to exceed $500.00, or both, in the discretion of the court, together with the costs of such prosecution.

TOWN TALK

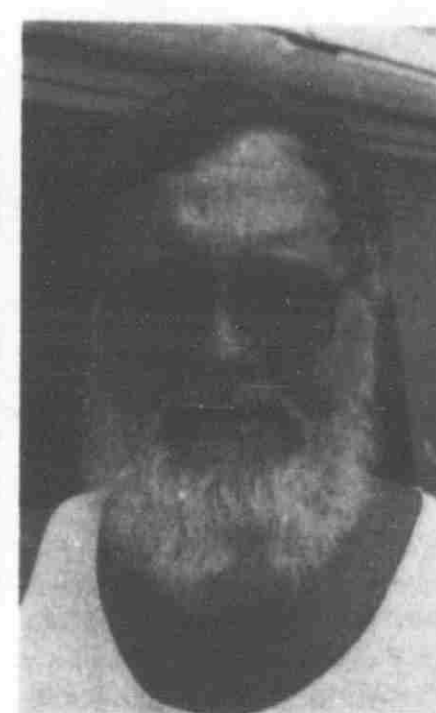

What is your first impression of turning Broadway Street into a one-way street going south and of the new parking and turning stalls along Main Street?

Jim Sisson
Something had to be done, but this looks like an obstacle course. The businesses have probably lost a lot of parking. I'm not sure if it has been replaced. I bet the merchants are not really happy with the new parking layout.

Elaine Gregerson
I think it's going to cause a lot of confusion. I've already turned down Broadway going the wrong direction. I believe more parking should have been allowed in front of the more popular businesses (e.g. Lambert's Variety).

Phil Dibble
It's going to be a Chinese Fire Drill. People have enough trouble driving straight. I've already heard complaints about turning Broadway into a one-way street going south. It should have been one-way going north. They should have done more work on the west end of town.

Joan Wittenbach
I didn't realize you couldn't turn onto Broadway from Main Street. I don't think many people understand the turning stalls yet. It is still difficult to make a left onto Main Street when a car wants to go east.

Madonna Hause
I believe Broadway was a good idea. I think it has provided more parking for the restaurant and for the Post Office. I didn't realize what the lines on Main Street were for. The solid lines are put in I think it will be better. I think it will help drivers pay closer attention to their driving. I think the light is a good idea.

Louis Solomon
I don't think anyone is paying attention to the changes right now. I think things will improve when the lines are put down. I've seen a lot of people park where there are yellow lines. The Broadway change doesn't make any difference to me.

Sue Sova
I think it's a good idea. I believe it will make traffic less congested and easier to get through town. Once the solid lines are put in I don't think there will be as much confusion. The change with Broadway is okay. It's just going to take time to adjust.

Teri Smit
People are definitely confused now. I do think it is more convenient to find parking spots. I don't think it's real convenient for the businesses. I didn't realize Broadway had been changed. I don't like that.

Schneider Manor residents love their bridge

Everyday around lunchtime multitudes of residents from Schneider Manor use the newly built bridge which connects them to the Senior Neighbors Center and is a lifeline for an afternoon of companionship with their community peers.

"The bridge is wonderful," says Angie Mulder, a resident at Schneider Manor for the past six years. She is also one of just five surviving Rebekah Lodge members. The other members are Mildred Stauffer, Violet Miller, Ona Fletcher and Olivia Ayers.

The Rebekah Lodge Organization was instrumental in the building of the bridge. Mulder says the organization donated $1,000 toward the completion of the bridge. "I called up Stan Gardner and suggested how nice it would be to have a bridge going across the creek that would connect the Manor to the Senior Neighbors Center," Mulder says. "I added that the Rebekah Lodge Organization would give a donation."

The bridge project which was completed last summer, ended up costing $2,000. The labor was provided by Walter (Red) Graham and Sam (Babe) Wingeier. "It took us approximately 10 days to build it," Wingeier says, during a break from laying the last 10 tons of rock along the edge of the creek. In all, Wingeier, when finished, will have laid 60 tons of this cement-like rock along the creek's edge.

Sam "Babe" Wingeier finishes up some landscaping work around the bridge.

The Renaissance painter Raphael painted more than 300 pictures of the Madonna.

School Food Service Program

Here we are again looking forward to another exciting school year. The cooks will all be ready to serve the students good tasting nutritious lunches the first day of school on Tuesday, August 28, 1990.

The prices will be $1.10 for the elementary schools, $1.15 for the middle and senior high schools, $1.85 for adults and 25¢ for milk. Milk is included in the price of the meals.

Students may purchase lunch tickets every morning before school except for the senior high students and they may pay when they go through the lunch lines. In all the schools, students may, if they wish, bring their money for the whole week on Monday morning. This is not mandatory but we will provide this service for the parents.

Free and reduced price lunches are available upon proper application to families who qualify for the program. Free milk is not available as there is no federal reimbursement for milk. A letter to the parents and an application is included in this publication. Because of strict federal regulations the applications must be fully completed before students may receive free or reduced priced lunches. Applications will also be available in all school offices. Parents who think they may be eligible must have their application in by Wednesday, August 15, 1990 to be eligible for the first day of school lunches on Tuesday, August 28, 1990.

The cooks will offer a complete meal every day with choices. The students may choose all five components of the meal (protein, bread, vegetables, fruit and milk) or as few as three of the items and we will still be able to count it for federal reimbursement. We have found this eliminates plate waste. If cost allows, we will continue to bake our own bread, dinner rolls, cookies, casseroles, etc. "from scratch". We offer fresh fruits everyday and fresh vegetables at least three times a week. In the Middle and Senior High Schools we will offer a minimum of two entrees and a chef's salad, with a choice of meat or cheese everyday. In the Senior High School, students may, if they wish, pick out individually priced items from our ala carte line. This, of course, costs more than the unit priced school lunch which includes milk. We sell ice cream, milk, orange drink and fresh fruits at our snack bar which will be open in the morning and after school. In addition, at noon we sell hot sandwiches and pizzas.

We do not sell carbonated drinks, candy, gum or potato chips in our cafeteria.

It is because of the sincere dedication of our 25 cooks and van drivers that we are able to serve good nutritious food, at the low prices, to our Lowell Area Schools students.

Parents having any questions about School Food Service should call Mrs. Carol Harper at 897-8415.

New law standardizes school bus flashing light rules

Legislation aimed at making Michigan's school bus stop law uniform on all roads and streets across the state has been signed into law, reports AAA Michigan and the Michigan State Police. Prior to Public Act 187, signed by Governor James Blanchard on July 20 and now in effect, each community had to adopt the school bus stop law by ordinance. Since not all communities adopted the law, confusion resulted for motorists traveling through consecutive communities, said Robert Cullen, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager. "The fact that the law was not adopted uniformly in all communities also exposed students crossing the road to get on or off a school bus to potential danger," Cullen said. P.A. 187 requires motorists to adhere to the following

New Michigan School Bus Stop Law

When red overhead flashing lights are activated, approaching and following traffic must stop not closer than 20 feet from the stopped school bus and not proceed until signals are off. If a bus is off the roadway and only amber hazard warning lights are flashing, motorists from both directions may proceed with caution.

proceed until signals are turned off.

The law previously required that red overhead flashing lights be activated 200 feet in advance of the bus stop and allowed motorists to stop within 10 feet of the stopped bus.

* If a bus is stopped off the roadway far enough so traffic is not obstructed and the yellow hazard warning lights are flashing, motorists may proceed with caution past the bus. If the red overhead lights are flashing, motorists must come to a complete stop and not attempt to proceed past the bus.

"Over the next few years, all new Michigan school buses will be equipped with two overhead alternating amber lights in addition to the two overhead red lights currently on each end of the bus," said Lt. William Murphy of the Michigan State Police.

"In addition to the new eight light system and school bus stop laws, the legislation calls for stricter screening of school bus driver applicants and uniform regulation of all school vehicles carrying students," said Murphy.

There are currently more than 13,000 school buses in the state.

There are 500 sheets of paper in a ream.

Giuseppe brings quality pizza & videos to Lowell

Giuseppe Amato came over to the United States from Italy at the age of 27. "I must work, no matter where I live," he smiles. Amato, who has been in the pizza business in the West Michigan area for 15 years, is currently working to establish "Giuseppe's Italian Pizza and Video Rental" in Lowell.

The Italian adds that his family has been in the pizza business since 1968. Amato's daughter, Kathy, inserts, "Giuseppe's Italian Pizza and Video Rental is family run. Everybody but my youngest brother, Tony, helps out."

The Italian business is just one of two pizza establishments Giuseppe currently owns and runs. He has run a pizza place in Sand Lake since 1979.

Whatever happens - happens. If it doesn't work, I'll move on and see what comes up later," Giuseppe says. "I have set no period of time for the business to succeed."

Giuseppe's Italian Pizza and Video rental is open from noon to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday. It is open from noon to 10:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and is closed on Monday.

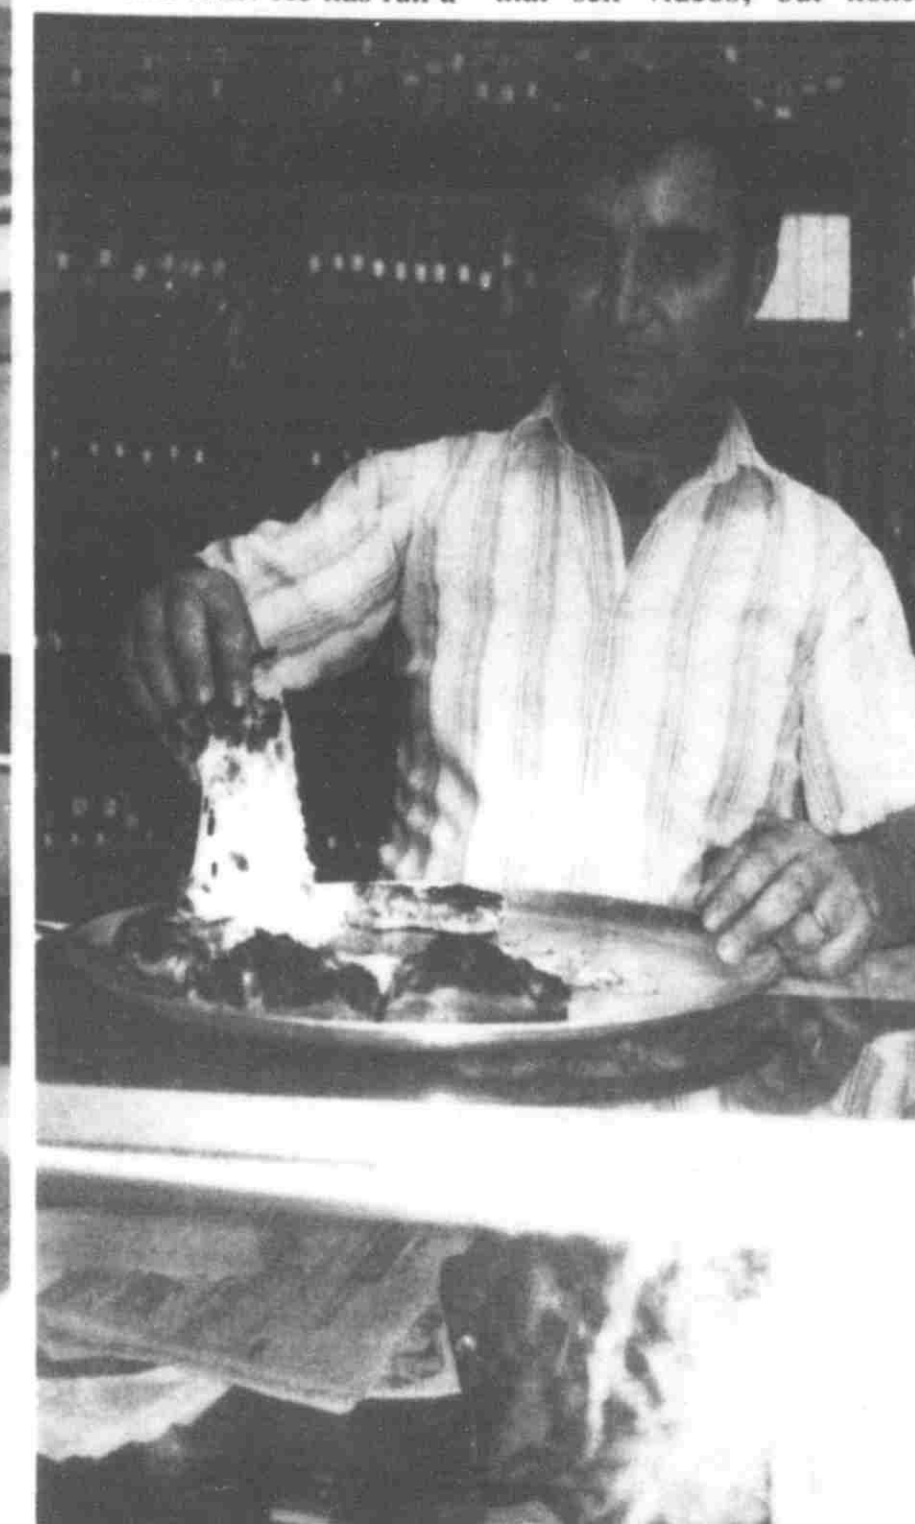

The Italian Pizza and Video Rental business also offers its customers lasagna and pizza bread and sauce. He has put together a package deal for his customers. Anyone who purchases a pizza of $10 or more gets two free movie rentals. Any person who purchases a pizza for under $10 gets one free movie rental.

He hopes this added spice will entice Lowell pizza lovers to try Giuseppe's Italian Pizza at 216 E. Main St.

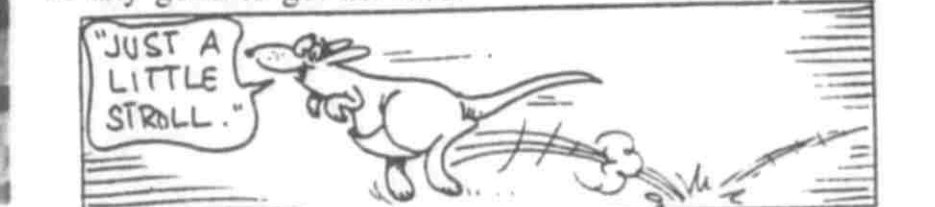

"I have to be patient. I don't get nervous. It doesn't do any good to get nervous."

Giuseppe Amato believes the quality of his pizza will be enjoyed by the community of Lowell.

The combination of pizza and videos gives Amato a unique combination.

Farming's downward trend continues in Michigan

The total number of farms in Michigan during 1990 is estimated at 54,000, down 1,000 farms from the previous year. This is consistent with the downward trend in farm numbers observed during the past decade, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Statistics Service. Michigan has a total of 10.8 million acres of land in farm use, unchanged from the previous year. The average size of a farm is 200 acres this year, up from 196 acres per farm in 1989. The increase in average size continues the trend with farm numbers declining at a faster pace than land in farms during recent years.

Of the total Michigan farms, 8,000 had accumulative sales of $100,000 or more and farmed 6 million acres. Farms with sales from $10,000 to $99,999 accounted for 18,000 of all farms and 3.3 million acres. Farm operations that have less than $10,000 in gross annual sales account for 28,000 of the total farms and 1.5 million acres. The proportion of farms that have less than $10,000 in sales decreased from the 1989 level. Farms with total gross sales from $10,000 to $99,999 and over $100,000 have both increased from their 1989 levels.

The definition of a farm is "a place as of June 1 that sells or could sell $1,000 or more of agricultural products during the year". Land in farms includes crop and livestock acreage, wasteland, woodland, pasture, land in summer fallow, idle cropland, and land enrolled in the conservation reserve program and other set aside or commodity acreage programs. It excludes all land operated by establishments not qualifying as farms.

The number of farms in the U.S. in 1990 is estimated at 2.14 million, down 1 percent from 1989. Total land in farms is 988 million acres, fractionally below 1989.

Since the number of farms has declined faster than land in farms, the average farm size increased from 457 acres in 1989 to 461.

Stevens' art show inspired by overlapping light

The Rick Stevens art show will be on display at the Lowell Area Arts Gallery through Sept. 21. Tournament results were not made available.

The sounds of nature would have inspired a diversified number of compositions by some of the world's great classical composers - Chopin, Beethoven and Tchaikovsky - each embracing their own rhythms, harmonies and tones as musical representation of nature.

Rick Stevens, an abstract, fine art painter, whose work is currently showing at the Lowell Area Arts Center Gallery through Friday, Sept. 21 relishes in that same subjectiveness and individuality.

"A composer is never asked what individual rhythms, harmonies or tones are represented in a musical piece," Stevens said. "I also like to emphasize with my work, it's more important what each individual is seeing and not what the shapes and textures represent to me."

Stevens explains that fine art is the personal expression of one's own inner self. He believes that his work is a reflection of himself. "By expanding the boundaries I am able to put on the canvas, I am able to expand who I am."

The display of his work at the Lowell Area Arts Center Gallery is inspired by woods. The inspiration came through the task the woods presented him. "The challenge was getting down the overlapping of space, light and forms that the woods presented. It forced me to see the whole light of scenes or forms that I was looking at."

He added that he now sees the trees as a unified environment. "They are not individual trees, or shapes, they all relate to each other," he says.

Stevens said he prefers working with acrylic and oil pastel because it allows him to do a lot of build up. "My work is several layers of colors, which in the end make for the final effect."

Stevens says the oil pastel work is covered with a clear varnish and framed without glass. The effect is the work is more immediate. He adds that acrylic is ideal for layer work because it dries faster.

His work is done in a studio separated from his home in Sparta. "I have piles of drawings from all over, more than I can possibly do," he says. The ideas for his work are gathered through meditation, walks, reworking old drawings and listening to music.

Stevens has always been serious about his work. "I guess I really began to focus on it 11 years ago while at college," he explains. "Selecting paintings is hard to break into. It wasn't until I was 24-25 years of age that I believed strongly that I could make a living at it."

The Sparta graduate says he has completed a piece of work when it is brought to a state of openness. "I consider a piece finished when there is a resolution met between my ideas and the image."

The way Degas used the ballet to provide forms and movement for his experimentation has been a big influence on the composition and movement in Stevens' work. Degas' use of pastels remains a great resource for him.

"Monet, in his series of water lilies, has also been a profound influence on my work," Stevens explains. Other artists he has been drawn to include Bonnard, Gustave Klimt, Matisse, George Inness and Hans Hoffman.
