The "Big Sandbox" calls on Lowell Air Force man Dennis & Sally Grzeskowiak's son, Dennis, shipped to Middle East conflict

The closest the majority of Lowell residents get to the Iraq/United States confrontation in the Middle East is the evening news.

After three weeks, some may already be tired of hearing and reading about the conflict.

For Dennis and Sally Grzeskowiak, the Middle East conflict crashed through their television screen and jumped off the front page of the newspaper right into their living room five weeks ago.

On the morning of Aug. 12 the Grzeskowiaks received a call from their son, Dennis. He told his parents that he was off to the big sandbox (Saudi Arabia) and that he wasn't sure where or how long he would be gone.

The young Grzeskowiak man entered into the Air Force two years ago in July. He was stationed on the Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton Ohio. "Dennis called Friday to tell us he was put on standby," his father, Dennis Grzeskowiak said. "I had an intuition after talking to him that he was going to get shipped out."

The Grzeskowiaks said Dennis was highly excited and nervous about going. "He's extremely proud to be serving his country," his mother, Sally said.

Dennis' father told him when he entered the Air Force that he should do some traveling while in the service. "I meant here in the States. I had no idea he'd be flying off to Saudi Arabi," said Dennis Grzeskowiak Sr.

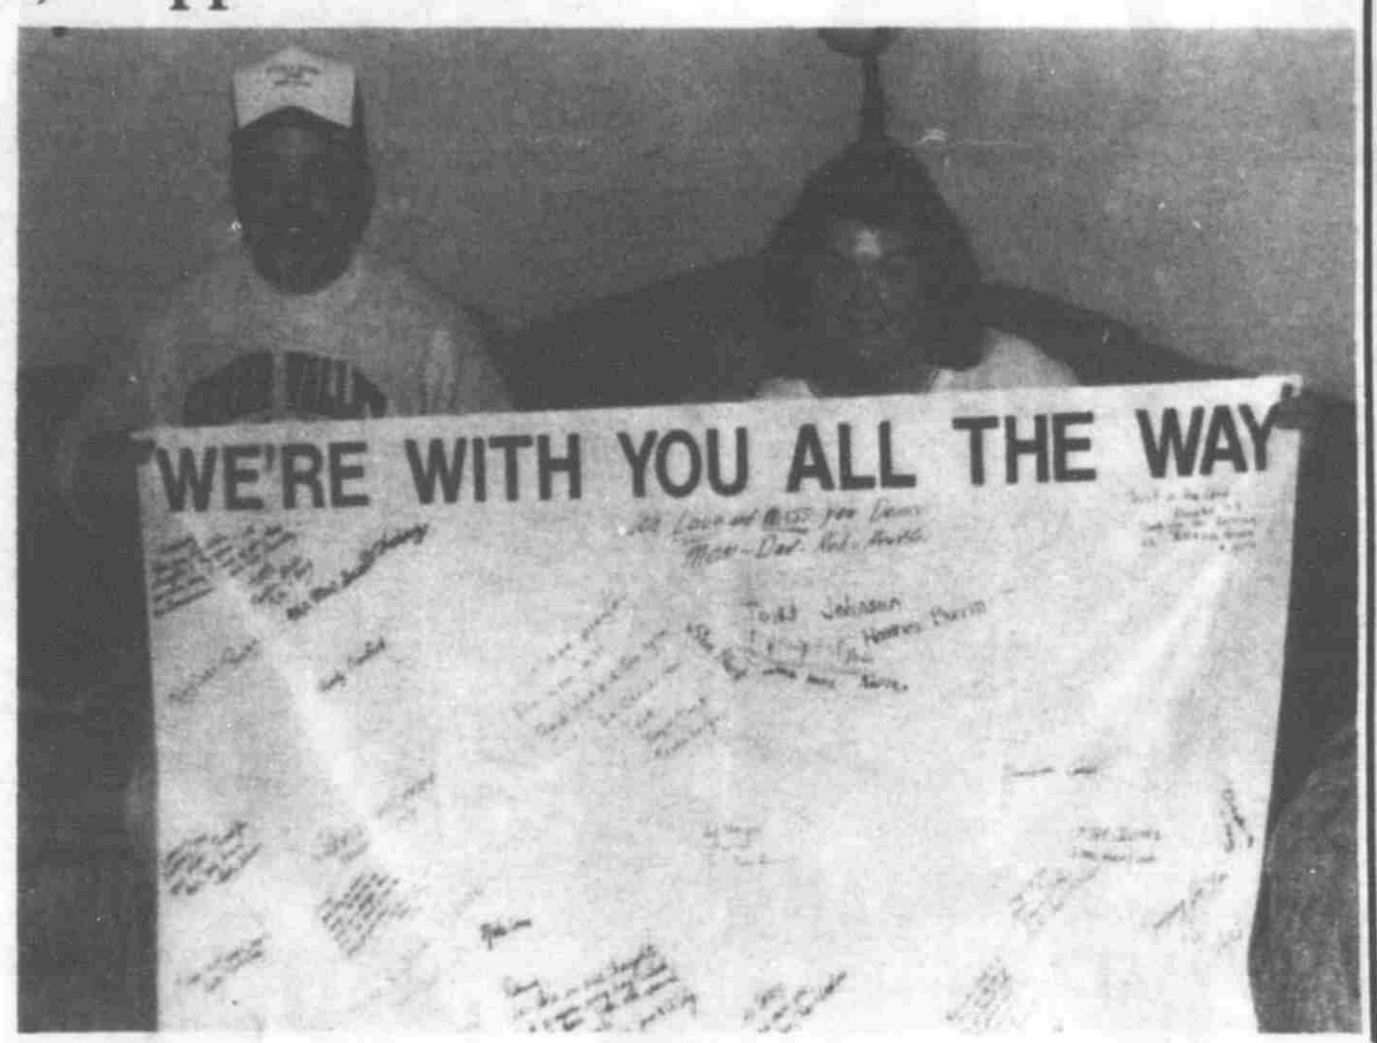

From his base in Dayton, Ohio, Dennis was flown to Germany, where he stayed a week before being flown to Saudi Arabia. "His office in Ohio called us to let us know Dennis had arrived safely in Saudi Arabia," Sally Grzeskowiak said.

While they don't know of his location in the Middle East country or what he is doing, the Grzeskowiaks learned through a letter that their son is working seven days a week and all hours of the day.

The package included T-shirts, a cap and pistachio nuts.

While based at Wright Patterson, the young Grzeskowiak worked for the office of special investigation. "From my understanding, that's like the CIA of the Air Force," Dennis' father says.

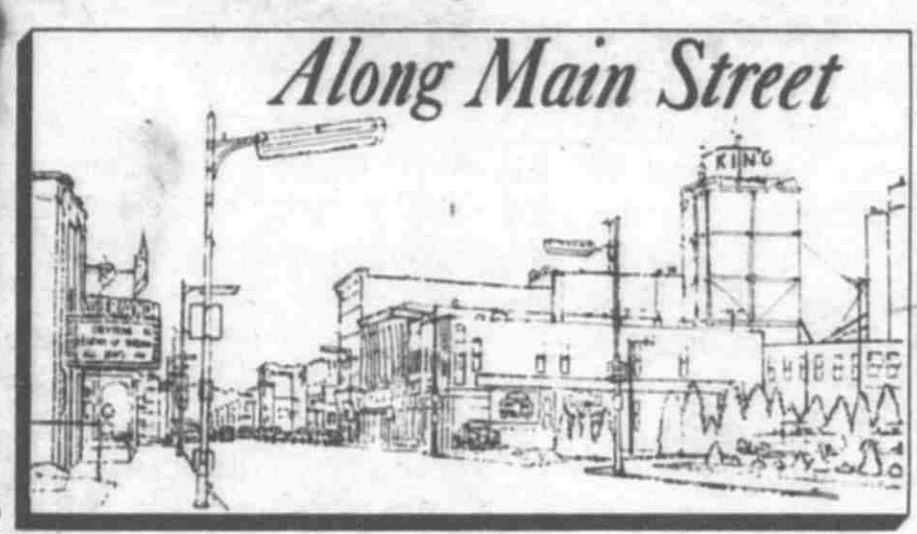

Dennis was not the only person from his office to be shipped out. "I'm was glad to hear that members of his office in Dayton were with him in Saudi Arabia," Sally said.

Dennis (left) and Sally (right) Grzeskowiak display the banner which is being sent to their son, Dennis, in Saudi Arabia.

In the four weeks Dennis has been in Saudi Arabia, the Grzeskowiaks have received two letters, a package and two phone calls from their son. Each officer is given one four-minute call a month by the government. "They call it a 'Morale Call'" his mother says. "He's called one other time and had me call him back. We talked a half-hour."

10-year-old girl avoids abduction attempt on Sibley Monday night

A possible abduction of a 10-year old Lowell girl was averted Monday night at the 1700 block of Sibley, according to Lowell Police Sergeant Al Eckman.

"After being picked up and taken toward the subject's car, the young girl screamed and kicked," Eckman said. "We believe at this time it was because of that or because of an approaching vehicle in the vicinity that she was let loose."

The young girl was walking back from the Ridgeview Mall with her 11-year old friend. They were walking east, heading for home when a vehicle going the same direction, passed them and then turned around in a driveway, according to Eckman.

According to the police report, after turning around in the driveway the subject drove toward the girls and stopped his car. He then got out of the car and asked the girls the whereabouts of a bank not located in Lowell.

The subject then picked up the 10-year old and carried her toward his car.

Eckman said that a description of the car was given by the resident who driveway was used by the subject to turn the car around. "We believe the car is an early 1980's Z-28 Camaro. It is dark grey or brown in color and has two wide black stripes on the hood," Eckman said. "The vehicle also has right, rear damage to its corner panel. It was described as being somewhat loud and a set of trim is missing from one set of dual headlights."

The subject was described as a white male in his 20's, medium height and weight. Eckman said he has dark black hair and is believed to have been wearing a light blue shirt, stone washed jeans and white tennis shoes.

Anyone with information that could help lead to the apprehension of this subject is asked to call the Lowell Police Department at 897-7123 or call Silent Observer at 774-2345.

It should also be noted there will be a block party Saturday at 5 p.m. on Elizabeth Dean Street. Eckman will also

DEA nabs nine subjects in reverse undercover drug sting operation

The Kent County Drug Enforcement Unit (of which a Lowell police officer is a member), with assistance from the Drug Enforcement Agency and the Kent County Sheriff's Department, turned the tables on nine West Michigan residents last Tuesday who harbored intentions to possess and to distribute a large quantity of marijuana.

The operation transpired over a 4-5 day period, according to Jeff Kildow of the DEA. "The operation was developed through information received through sources about individuals seeking to purchase large amounts of Marijuana," he said. "The amount of marijuana wanted was anywhere from 200-400 pounds."

Six of the individuals were arrested in Lowell on Tuesday. Two at a residential location. They were James Ciganik, 40, Lowell and Daniel Moyer, 36, of Grant. Kildow said $30,000 was seized from Moyer and Ciganek at the house. Four were taken into custody at Captain Jack's. They were Robert Dobbel, 31, Grand Rapids; Steven Buck, 39, Grandville; Joseph Adams, 34, Grand Rapids; and Donald Herbst, 34, Grant. The other three arrested Tuesday evening in Grand Rapids include Gerald Fisher, 37, Grand Rapids; Matthew Holden, 34, Comstock Park; and Charles Brec-kon, 53, Wyoming. According to Kildow, $60,000 was seized from the three men picked up in Grand Rapids.

The nine people were arrested and charged in a file complaint and a warrant (issued on a complaint) with conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute marijuana. Kildow said the charge is informal and at a later date an indictment will be sought. He added that the time will be used to put together bits and pieces of information. "I guarantee that there are a significant number of other people involved in this drug operation," Kildow said. "However, in Moyer and Fisher, I believe we got the movers and the shakers."

Kildow said all nine individuals will definitely go to jail. The potential initial charge that will be sought carries a minimum mandatory sentence of five years

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

...thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations (Psalm 90:1).

Reminiscing is a modern day pastime. Columnists write about the events of fifty, twenty-five and ten years ago. Television programs feature the wonderful years of the past through the medium of drama and music. Books are written about the past. We are told that the oldest bit of writing in the world - papyrus - contains these words: "Alas, times are not what they used to be. Children no longer obey their parents, and everyone wants to write a book."

Most of us are guilty of telling our children what happened to us when "we were your age." We walked three, four, and five miles to school. During the Depression days, we wore made-overs, ate bean soup and potatoes, and had gay times on "a little of nothing." We never knew what it was to have money jingling in our pockets. Nor did we bask in the luxuries our children enjoy today.

It is interesting to note the changes which have taken place over the years. But it is more wonderful to realize that our God is unchangeable. He has been a dwelling place for His people throughout all generations. "He remains the same."

Prayer: "Lord, Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Thou wilt never change. Thou wilt remain the same. Therefore, I can trust Thee implicitly for Thou wilt never leave, nor forsake, nor turn Thy back on one of Thy children. Amen."

Thad's Thoughts

On Sept. 25 history will repeat itself. The Lowell School District will be asked to vote on a school bond issue.

Thirty years ago the working, tax-paying citizens of the Lowell School District were asked to vote on a bond issue. It too, dealt with the construction of a new high school. More than that, though, it dealt with the value of a strong school system and the education of the children of that era and for the eras to follow.

My guess is there were voters who had children coming up through the school system, voters whose children had long since went through the system, voters who had grandchildren going through the system, voters who didn't have any children, voters who valued education, voters who didn't care what the future held for other people's children, voters who were tired of taxes and more taxes, you know, much like today.

Cozy Corner by Roger Brown

Every so often I'm prompted to digress from the usual drive offered in this column from week to week and dish up a real editorial. You know . . . the kind of stuff offering a firm opinion and solution to some problem or another. Hardly a week goes by in which I'm not told I should take a stand on some issue. Instead I tell you about my dog falling out of the car, wearing my underwear backwards and other antics that pepper my slapstick life on this planet.

There is a good reason I don't often editorialize. My father bought a little weekly newspaper when I was ten years old. Every week he took issue with something, just to keep the readers stirred up. During his tenure, the Saranac "Advertiser" bore a subtitle under the bannerline which read, "Ionia County's most cussed at newspaper". It was too! His approach to newspapering had the desired effect. In a town of about 1,500 souls, he sold around 1,200 newspapers each week. I know, because it was my job to print them on a huge old hand-fed press. . . one at a time. It seems just about everybody wanted to read what that damned editor had to say.

If you can imagine growing up in a town that size with everyone knowing you are the inflammatory editor's kid, then maybe you can begin to understand why I shy away from getting on a soapbox here in the pages of the Ledger. His editorials on pending school millage or bond issue elections seemed to be the worst. No matter what side of the issue my father took in his editorial, I'd catch flak from teachers, parents and kids from the other side of the fence. There were times I'd read his editorial the evening I printed it and be tempted to wear a disguise to school the next day.

There was one election in particular that sparked more emotion than usual. The issue called for the construction of a new high school and gymnasium. My father came out in the paper against it. His editorials prompted a series of heated letters to the editor leading up to the election. The bond issue was narrowly defeated. You can imagine that my father's presence was less than welcome where the ballots were being counted. None the less, he stuck around until the wife of one of the school board members suggested in voice plenty loud enough for him to hear, "I say we castrate the #/x@#*%!". Stories like that made a lasting impression on me.

So, what's all this leading up to? Well, there happens to be a very important school election coming up here next Tuesday. And just in case you haven't already made up your mind which way you're going to vote, I'd like to take this opportunity to try to convince you to pull the "Yes" lever on election day. Let me start by recounting what the issue is about, and listing some of the things that have caught my attention in these weeks prior to election day.

The complete verbage of the bond issue can be found in the election notice published in this issue of the Ledger. In a nutshell we are being asked to allow the school district to borrow about thirty million dollars over a period of thirty years to build a new high school, as well as remodel, and in some cases add on to, all the existing buildings in the school district. The proposition also includes new sports facilities such as a gymnasium, football field and track. A second proposition asks for permission to borrow a little over two million dollars to construct an indoor community swimming pool. I realize thirty-two million dollars is a lot of cash. I also realize we are going to be asked for additional operational millage to support these new facilities. But, I still think it's the right thing to do. I hope that doesn't sound too much like I'm selling oatmeal.

Here's why I support the bonding proposals. Like it or not, the Lowell area is growing, and growing fast. Our students are already being shoehorned into shower rooms, teacher lounges and the former offices of the superintendent and his staff. I remember a bond issue that was defeated several years ago that proposed a separate building for the administration. Following the defeat the administrative staff took up quarters in the middle school. Now they have been forced to move into portable, mobile home type trailers to make room for fifth grade classrooms. I don't know about you, but those are not the type of conditions that would prompt me, a parent with school age kids, to purchase property in the Lowell School District.

Studies by the administration and independent researchers project enrollments to dramatically increase in the coming years. To make matters worse, enrollments over the past two years have been considerably higher than even the forecasts had projected. Kinda' like planning a picnic despite showers in the forecast, and ending up with thunderstorms and lightning.

Even though thirty-two million dollars is an awful lot of money, the cost to the average taxpayer is not nearly as bad as you might think. The brochure published by the "Growing Together" committee states that even those living in homes assessed at $100,000 (which catches most of us) will realize a tax increase of only $142.50 per year. Broken down to a weekly cost that equates to $2.74. That's a couple gallons of gas, half a movie, or a fattening cheeseburger and fries that you shouldn't be eating anyway.

A huge part to all of this is an intangible thing called "pride". Lowell has taken some lumps over the past few years. The Showboat has been down, and was even out for a while. Macker moved to Belding and somehow left us with a black eye. The lawsuit brought by the D.N.R. and E.P.A. over our sewage treatment plant was well publicized. There have been other negatives, but over the years Lowell Area Schools have improved and have been a source of pride to us all. Scholastically we can hold our heads high as being at least on a par with other schools in the area. In sports Lowell teams are perennially a force to be reckoned with in the powerful OK White. The administration, staff, students and athletes are doing their part, let's show our support by voting "YES!" on Tuesday, September 25.

Unlike the Forest Hills School District and others in the West Michigan area, Lowell does not have an industrial tax base. I'm not sure how a City goes about getting it, but I do know most towns that have one also have a strong school system.

This isn't going to surprise anyone, but a strong school system helps the growth of a community and together they both attract business and industry. Lowell seems to be missing the latter (an industrial tax base). Thus the tax burden falls heaviest on the property owners.

Go to East Grand Rapids, to Forest Hills Central, to Northview, talk to the officials in those communities about Lowell and its school system. They hold a high degree of respect for both.

In my opinion, if Lowell students are expected to compete with these prestigious O-K White Schools in academics, arts, sports or in the job market, the Community of Lowell must provide them with the opportunity.

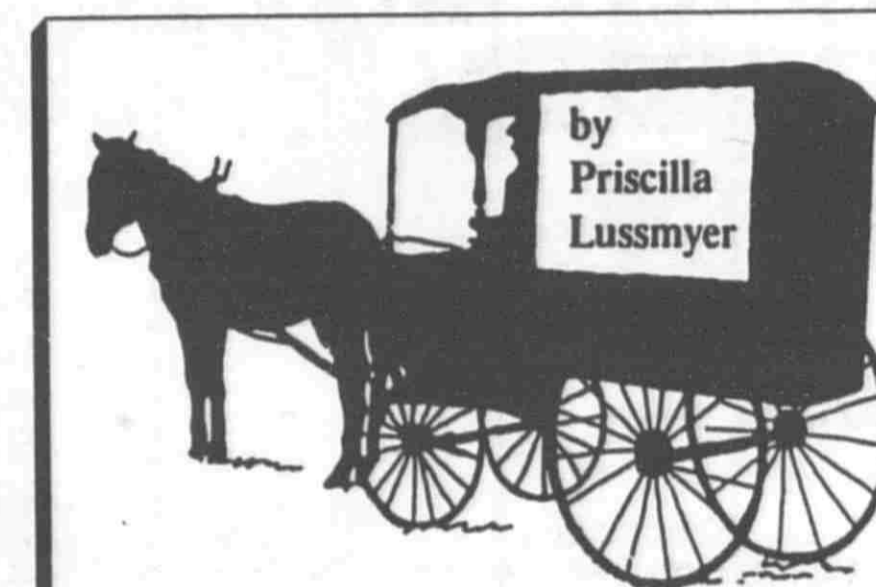

In the end, that's what the bond issue is all about - giving students an opportunity, a fair shot.

Thirty years ago, Lowellites said "Yes" and opened that door of opportunity to thousands upon thousands of students and provided educational needs for the students of tomorrow.

Now it's your turn? If you want it to be!

Banners provide support for servicemen & their families

Dennis and Sally Grzeskowiak's son, Dennis, is already in Saudi Arabia, but for Cathy and Lee Iteen the waiting game continues.

"I believe my son will be sent over to Saudi Arabia in December to relieve some of the of troops," Cathy Iteen surmises.

The Lowell couple continues to live through each day not knowing what's in store for their 21-year old son, Mark, who is stationed at Fort Ord in Monterey, Ca.

The Lowell Army service man (Cannon Crewman) is currently on alert and no leaves are being issued.

"After having conversations with Mark and hearing what our boys are going through over there, and what the boys on alert are going through here, I decided that I needed to do something to help me deal with it better," Cathy Iteen said.

Not knowing what is going to happen, Iteen decided that showing our servicemen that we support them was important.

She decided the way to do that was to post banners at businesses in the area for people to sign. After each banner is filled with signatures and messages Iteen said she will send them to the different bases around the country.

The banner that was hung up at the First Baptist Church in Lowell will be sent out to the Air Force base in Dayton, Ohio. From there it will then be shipped to Saudi Arabia where Dennis Grzeskowiak of Lowell is staying.

The banners were purchased through "Sign Express" in Grand Rapids. 10 of the 3-by-4½ foot banners were printed. The cost was $20 per banner, a discount from the normal $30 price tag. "Basically, all I've done is gone to businesses and asked them to purchase a banner for $25, with the extra $5 being for postage."

Each business has then hung up its banner for people to sign. "The response has been tremendous," Iteen said.

Iteen said there isn't a place to hang a banner in the desert and thought if she sent them to bases where servicemen are being sent out they could be comforted by the support and then pass on the support to those in Saudi Arabia.

"I personally think this will not be a short-term thing. I think we will be there a long time, even if we don't go to war," Iteen said.

She adds that if other businesses are interested in posting a banner they should call her at 897-7594.

Local police to help Special Olympics during annual Little Caesars Torch Run

A special All Points Bulletin (APB) is being put out for law enforcement representatives in Western Michigan. These police officers can be caught during the Fifth Annual Little Caesars Michigan Law Enforcement Torch Run held from Monday through Sept. 15-21.

Hosted by the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, more than 700 police officers and correction facility employees statewide will run 2,500 miles throughout Michigan to raise $250,000 for the state's Special Olympic programs.

The runners will travel throughout communities in the state's upper and lower peninsulas, carrying Olympic-style torches. Runs in Western Michigan will take place in Allegan, Battle Creek, Grand Rapids, Holland, Ionia, Kalamazoo, Lowell, Muskegon and St. Joseph. A non-stop 700-mile relay marathon from the Upper Peninsula's Copper Harbor to Detroit also will be held from Monday through Friday.

The Torch Run for Special Olympics is scheduled to stop in Lowell on Wednesday, Sept. 19 at 10 a.m. Sergeant Al Eckman and Police Officer Steve Junewick will carry the torch from the Rite-Aid parking lot to Little Caesars, followed by a short ceremony.

Throughout the week, Little Caesars Pizza's franchisees from 39 communities will provide local police with the opportunity to rest, as well as enjoy free pizza, at Little Caesars restaurants in cities where runs are taking place.

At each stop, the local police will present Little Caesars with a commemorative plaque recognizing its efforts to support Special Olympics.

During last year's Torch Run, $181,000 was raised for Special Olympics by members of Michigan's Law Enforcement community. With the funds it receives from the Torch Run, Michigan's Special Olympics programs provide training and athletic opportunities for mentally impaired children and adults.

The non-profit organization receives no state or federal funding. It relies entirely on the donations of time, materials and money from businesses, as well as individuals and organizations throughout the state.

The police will conclude their run at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 21 at Freedom Hill Park in Sterling Heights.

Item No. 1. NO PARKING ORDINANCE INVOLVING CERTAIN PORTIONS OF DOWNTOWN MAIN STREET - PUBLIC HEARING. A public hearing was held on an ordinance designating certain portions of downtown Main Street for no parking. As previously approved by Council, the ordinance would expedite State action of installing signs.

Several downtown business owners were present stating their opposition to the ordinance. They felt the new Main Street parking system would allow traffic to go through town faster than it already does. In addition, finding a parking space is almost impossible, hurting their businesses.

The Council responded that Main Street is a State highway. The Michigan Department of Transportation did want all the parking removed to create left turn lanes. But the City compromised so that some parking could stay.

Police Chief Emmons said that there are plans for crosswalks on Main Street which should slow traffic down. A State law provides that vehicles must stop at a crosswalk if someone is in the intersection. As suggested from business owners, Chief Emmons said that he would pursue designating employees parking at the fairgrounds.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Doyle to approve the no parking ordinance involving certain portions of downtown Main Street.

Item No. 2. PITSCH LANDFILL LEACHATE DISPOSAL TO THE WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT. A letter of request, was received from Pitsch Sanitary Landfill near Belding asking for a discharge permit to dispose its leachate (storm water which filters through the landfill) at the Wastewater Treatment Plant on a continuing basis. Pitsch had previously discharged its leachate during the months of December, 1989 to March, 1990. They requested the availability to discharge 10,000 gallons per week. WWTP Superintendent Mark Mundt received the request and recommended approval of the permit be issued based on the following:

- a one year permit ending August 31, 1991
- a flat fee of $200 per load (divided equally between WW Operation Services and the City)
- limit to 10,000 gallons per week (two loads)
- spell out in the permit the need for testing and the immediate discontinuance if any adverse impact is discovered.

Mundt also said that Pitsch should agree to pay for the construction of a concrete parking pad at the Plant for their tanker when the leachate is disposed. This would be to prevent damage to the black top driveway and keep the drive as open as possible.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Doyle to enter into an agreement for one year to permit Pitsch Sanitary Landfill to dispose of a maximum of 10,000 gallons of leachate a week at the Wastewater Treatment Plant at a flat fee of $200 per load providing the pay for construction of a concrete parking pad at the Plant for their tanker.

Item No. 6. CITIZENS COMMENTS. None.

Item No. 7. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember Doyle stated that he did not appreciate the comments of the Planning Commission July meeting mentioning that the City is doing nothing to ease the traffic problem on Hudson.

Item No. 8. MANAGER'S REPORT. City Manager Pasquale reported on the following:

1. The Council needs to appoint an officer delegate and alternate to represent the City of Lowell at the Annual Meeting of the Municipal Employees' Retirement System on September 12-13, 1990 in Lansing.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Fonger to appoint Barry Emmons as officer delegate and Tony Siciliano as alternate to represent the City of Lowell at the Annual Meeting of the Municipal Employees' Retirement System.

2. A thank you note was given to the City for its assistance from the Children's Love Festival held on June 9, 1990.

3. A letter was received from the Department of Natural Resources stating that an Appropriations bill containing grant funding of $47,000 for Stoney Lakeside Park has been signed into law.

Also, the Look Committee at its August 15 meeting, had approved an additional funding amount of $40,000 toward the park. This would be divided equally between this fiscal year and next.

The total cost estimate to complete the park of $117,000 (bath house, grading, sand, top soil, entranceway) has been broken down as follows:

State Grant	$47,000
Lee Fund	10,000
Look Fund	40,000 (90-91)
	20,000 (91-92)
	$117,000

City Manager Pasquale requested that $10,000 from the General Fund contingency be allocated for construction engineering.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Thompson that a maximum of $10,000 be allocated for construction engineering for Stoney Lakeside Park from the General Fund contingency.

YEA: 5.

4. A letter from ISO Commercial Risk Services was presented to Council stating that the City's fire insurance classification has been improved from Class 7 to Class 6. As mentioned in the letter, the new classification will result in a decrease in the property insurance premium calculation for many insured commercial properties within the city.

City Manager Pasquale said that this new classification also reflects well on the Fire Department, Water Treatment Plant and water distribution system.

5. A preliminary Census count of 3,974 has been received. Though this is subject to change, it appeared that the count is low. The city staff will review the block data given and seek adjustments.

6. City Manager Pasquale requested a policy decision on sidewalk construction calculations. A question arose whether a project should be considered replacement when a sidewalk used to exist (but no longer does). This would affect the percentage of city participation (50% replacement and 25% new) in the community sidewalk program.

The consensus of the City Council was that replacement of sidewalk which was removed before the sidewalk program came into effect is considered new sidewalk.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle to adjourn at 9:02 p.m.

Approved: September 4, 1990

Lowell's school administration names Washaw Assistant Principal

It marked the first time in eight years - or since Fritz Esch began serving as Lowell Superintendent, that a teacher from within the district has been promoted to an administrative post.

Last week, Lowell School officials announced that mathematics teacher Scott Washaw would fill the assistant principalship position vacated by Donn Start, who resigned so he could take a principalship spot at Harbor Springs. Washaw has been a mathematics teacher at Lowell High School for 14 years. He started his new role at LHS on Monday.

Washaw completed his Degree in Education Administration at Michigan State University this summer. "I knew that I wanted to some day move into administration. I was hopeful that the job would be here in Lowell. This school district has created quite a name for itself statewide. Lowell has a great staff and a strong student body."

Lowell High School Principal Jim DeWeerd said he thought using the talents from within the district was a good thing. "We tend to believe that the quality administrators are 50 miles away. But Lowell has a lot of qualified people within the district. I believe we should be using their talents."

The new assistant principal says he will use a pro-active approach to the discipline position he was chosen for. "I'd like to develop programs and-or procedures that eliminate the cause of a problem rather than dealing with the results," Washaw said. "A good example of this is the Operation Contact program that is already in place. It seeks out the students who are at risk of dropping out and attempt to deal with the problem." DeWeerd said Washaw has a good working relationship with students and has earned their respect. "He has a great understanding of students and what they are about," he said.

An advantage for Washaw is that he already is familiar with the district and its policies. The disadvantage from being within the district is that it is a new role and he will have to earn the respect of the staff and students as an administrator.

Washaw was one of 30 applicants considered. He was selected by a committee that was made up of teachers, administrators and board members. "As it should be, everyone was together on the decision," DeWeerd said.

Washaw said he is excited about the new challenge. "I'm sure that I will miss teaching, but this is a great opportunity. It is made easier because I'm in agreement with the direction Jim DeWeerd has the school moving."

Washaw's math teacher position will be posted. DeWeerd said he is hopeful of filling the position within 4-5 weeks. "Until then, the spot will be filled by a substitute teacher."

Scott Washaw was named the new Lowell High School Assistant Principal last week by the school administration.

with a maximum of 40 years. "If they have previous drug involvement, that doubles to 10-80 years," he says. Kildow added what they negotiate for is what the nine individuals could be charged.

A number of other individual charges could be brought against each one of them.

"This is the first reverse undercover drug operation the DEA has been involved in three years," Kildow said. "It doesn't matter if it's Lowell, Grand Rapids or Detroit, if it's significant, we go after it."

Kildow said Larry Wawec, owner of Captain Jack's had no knowledge or participation in what was happening prior to the arrest. "He did assist at the scene in keeping the innocent patrons calm," Kildow said.

Discussions about the distribution and receipt of money for the marijuana were held over a 2-3 day period between the DEA agent and those seeking to purchase marijuana. On Tuesday, money was delivered to the undercover DEA agent. "At the time of the actual arrest only 20-30 pounds were delivered," Kildow said. "The delivery was to serve as a sample of the marijuana and an opportunity for the purchasers to check for its quality."

The reverse undercover drug operation involved 20 law enforcement personnel, including six DEA agents, 10-12 Kent County Drug Unit members, detectives from the Kent County Sheriff's Department and a Lowell police officer.

The telephone call helped to relieve some of the Lowell parents' anxiousness and nervousness. "He sounded as if he was okay. It helped us hearing that he is in a low danger zone," Sally said. "The hardest part of all of this is we didn't have any time to adjust. Dennis was home the week before he was shipped out and didn't say anything about the possibility of going to Saudi Arabia. I don't think he knew."

Dennis' sister, Heather, said she was surprised, but not worried. "Right now it's kind of neat, but I also know Dennis isn't trained to fight."

For the Grzeskowiaks it is wait and see. They fear the wait will be a long one. "I fear that it is going to come down to a combat situation. Saddam Hussein started his quest back in 1976 and I think he's crazy enough not to give up," Dennis Grzeskowiak, Sr. said. "It's my understanding that unless there is an Act of Congress, the government can't keep the boys over there now any longer than six months. If there isn't an act passed, then they have to replace the servicemen with fresh troops."

Sally added that she wasn't sure what to think. "The longer we go without major trouble, the better the chances are of resolving this peacefully," she says.

Both the Grzeskowiaks believe the U.S. government is doing the right thing. "It's a small world. There are probably some people who are getting tired of hearing about the conflict. With a loved one over there, I'm listening to everything," Sally explains.

...that shower rooms and teacher lounges in three of our school buildings have already been converted into classrooms to accommodate increased student growth?

...that the Lowell Board of Education and administrative offices were relocated from the Middle School into "portable trailer units" in order to make room for two new fifth grade classrooms?

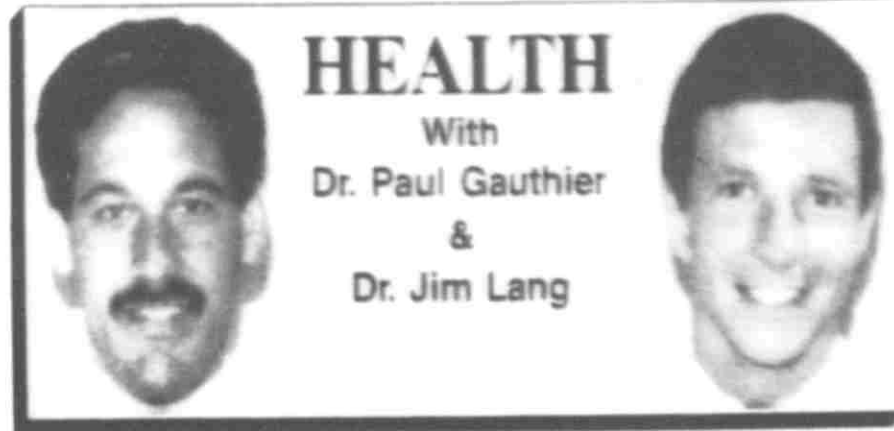

...that student enrollment projections by an independent study group from Michigan State University indicate that the Lowell Area Schools will grow an additional 500 students over the next five years?

...that the last time the Lowell Area Schools requested bond money for a "Bricks and Mortar" building issue was in 1975 when they added an addition to Alto and Bushnell Schools?

...that Freshmen enrollments over the last 3 years at the High School have averaged 10-12% higher each year than the number of 8th graders leaving the Middle School the year before. This is caused by newcomers moving into our district, as well as those parochial students choosing to remain here in Lowell rather than going to Grand Rapids.

MIGRAINE HEADACHES

When people talk about headaches, they often use the word "migraine" interchangeably with "severe" or "painful". The term migraine does not imply that one is having a "severe" headache; rather migraine is a very specific type of headache with a specific cause and a specific set of medications which are useful in its treatment.

Unfortunately, migraine is a common condition, characterized by episodes of severe headaches that are usually one-sided. Accompanying signs and symptoms at the time of the headache may include: nausea, vomiting, sensitivity to light, visual disturbances, lightheadedness, scalp tenderness or diarrhea. There is a great deal of variability in the way in which migraine manifests from individual to individual. Some patients may also have an "aura" or a strong sensation or feeling that immediately precedes the onset of the migraine. Many people feel the need to secure themselves in an unlit room with little sound until the headache passes.

Successful medical management of migraine depends on how severe and how frequent the headaches are. If there is considerable disruption of one's daily activities because of frequent attacks of migraines, therapy is directed at prophylaxis - that is, medication taken regularly to prevent the headache from manifesting. If migraine tends to occur with relative infrequency and does not seem to curtail one's domestic or occupational creativity, therapy is then aimed at aborting the headache that is, taking rapid-onset medication that relieves the headache quickly.

Many factors may precipitate migraine in those who suffer from it: missing or skipping meals, stressful situations, poor fitness level, many foods (alcohol, caffeine, chocolate), or just generalized fatigue all may contribute to the frequency of headaches.

In most instances migraines are treatable if not preventable. It requires education and understanding of the nature of migraines in order to lead a relatively headache-free life.

12 local food booths at Fall Fest

Twelve local non-profit groups presented plans for food booths for the Fallsburg Fall Festival which won the approval of the jury and have been busy making preparations to feed the hungry masses which will descend on the 22nd Annual Festival Sept. 29 and 30 at Fallsburg Park.

The Fallsburg Historical Society's food booth is easily the oldest of the group. Founders of the festival and co-sponsors for several years, the Historical Society will be in their traditional spot on the pavilion porch selling caramel apples, donuts and cider. The Women of the Moose will be on the opposite side of the pavilion porch selling homemade pies and coffee.

The other ten food booths will be spread around the grounds outside the pavilion. Five offer menus with some meat to them. The First Congregational Church will sell beef sandwiches, vegetarian pita sandwiches, chips-n-cheese, pickles and beverages. The Knights of Columbus will offer beefalo burgers with cheese and potato chips, also with beverages for sale. A full chicken dinner will be cooked up by the Lowell Area Fire Department consisting of 1/2 chicken, cole slaw, baked beans, a roll, and pop. Beef shish-kabobs with rolls and butter are on the menu at the Lowell Athletic Boosters booth. Again pop is for sale. Coffee and pop also can be purchased along with the Polish hot dogs sold by the Lowell Rotary Club. A lighter menu can be had at the Lowell Lions Club booth, where large and small tossed salads are being offered. Soft pretzels can also be purchased at their booth.

Those with a craving for dessert or munchies have to look elsewhere. The Alto Lions Club will sell elephant ears, French fries, lemonade and coffee. Apple dumplings with syrup, cheese, or whipped toppings along with coffee or cider is the fare at the Vergennes United Methodist Church booth. The Boy Scouts will be selling peanuts and the LAAC Kids will be selling popcorn, pop and balloons.

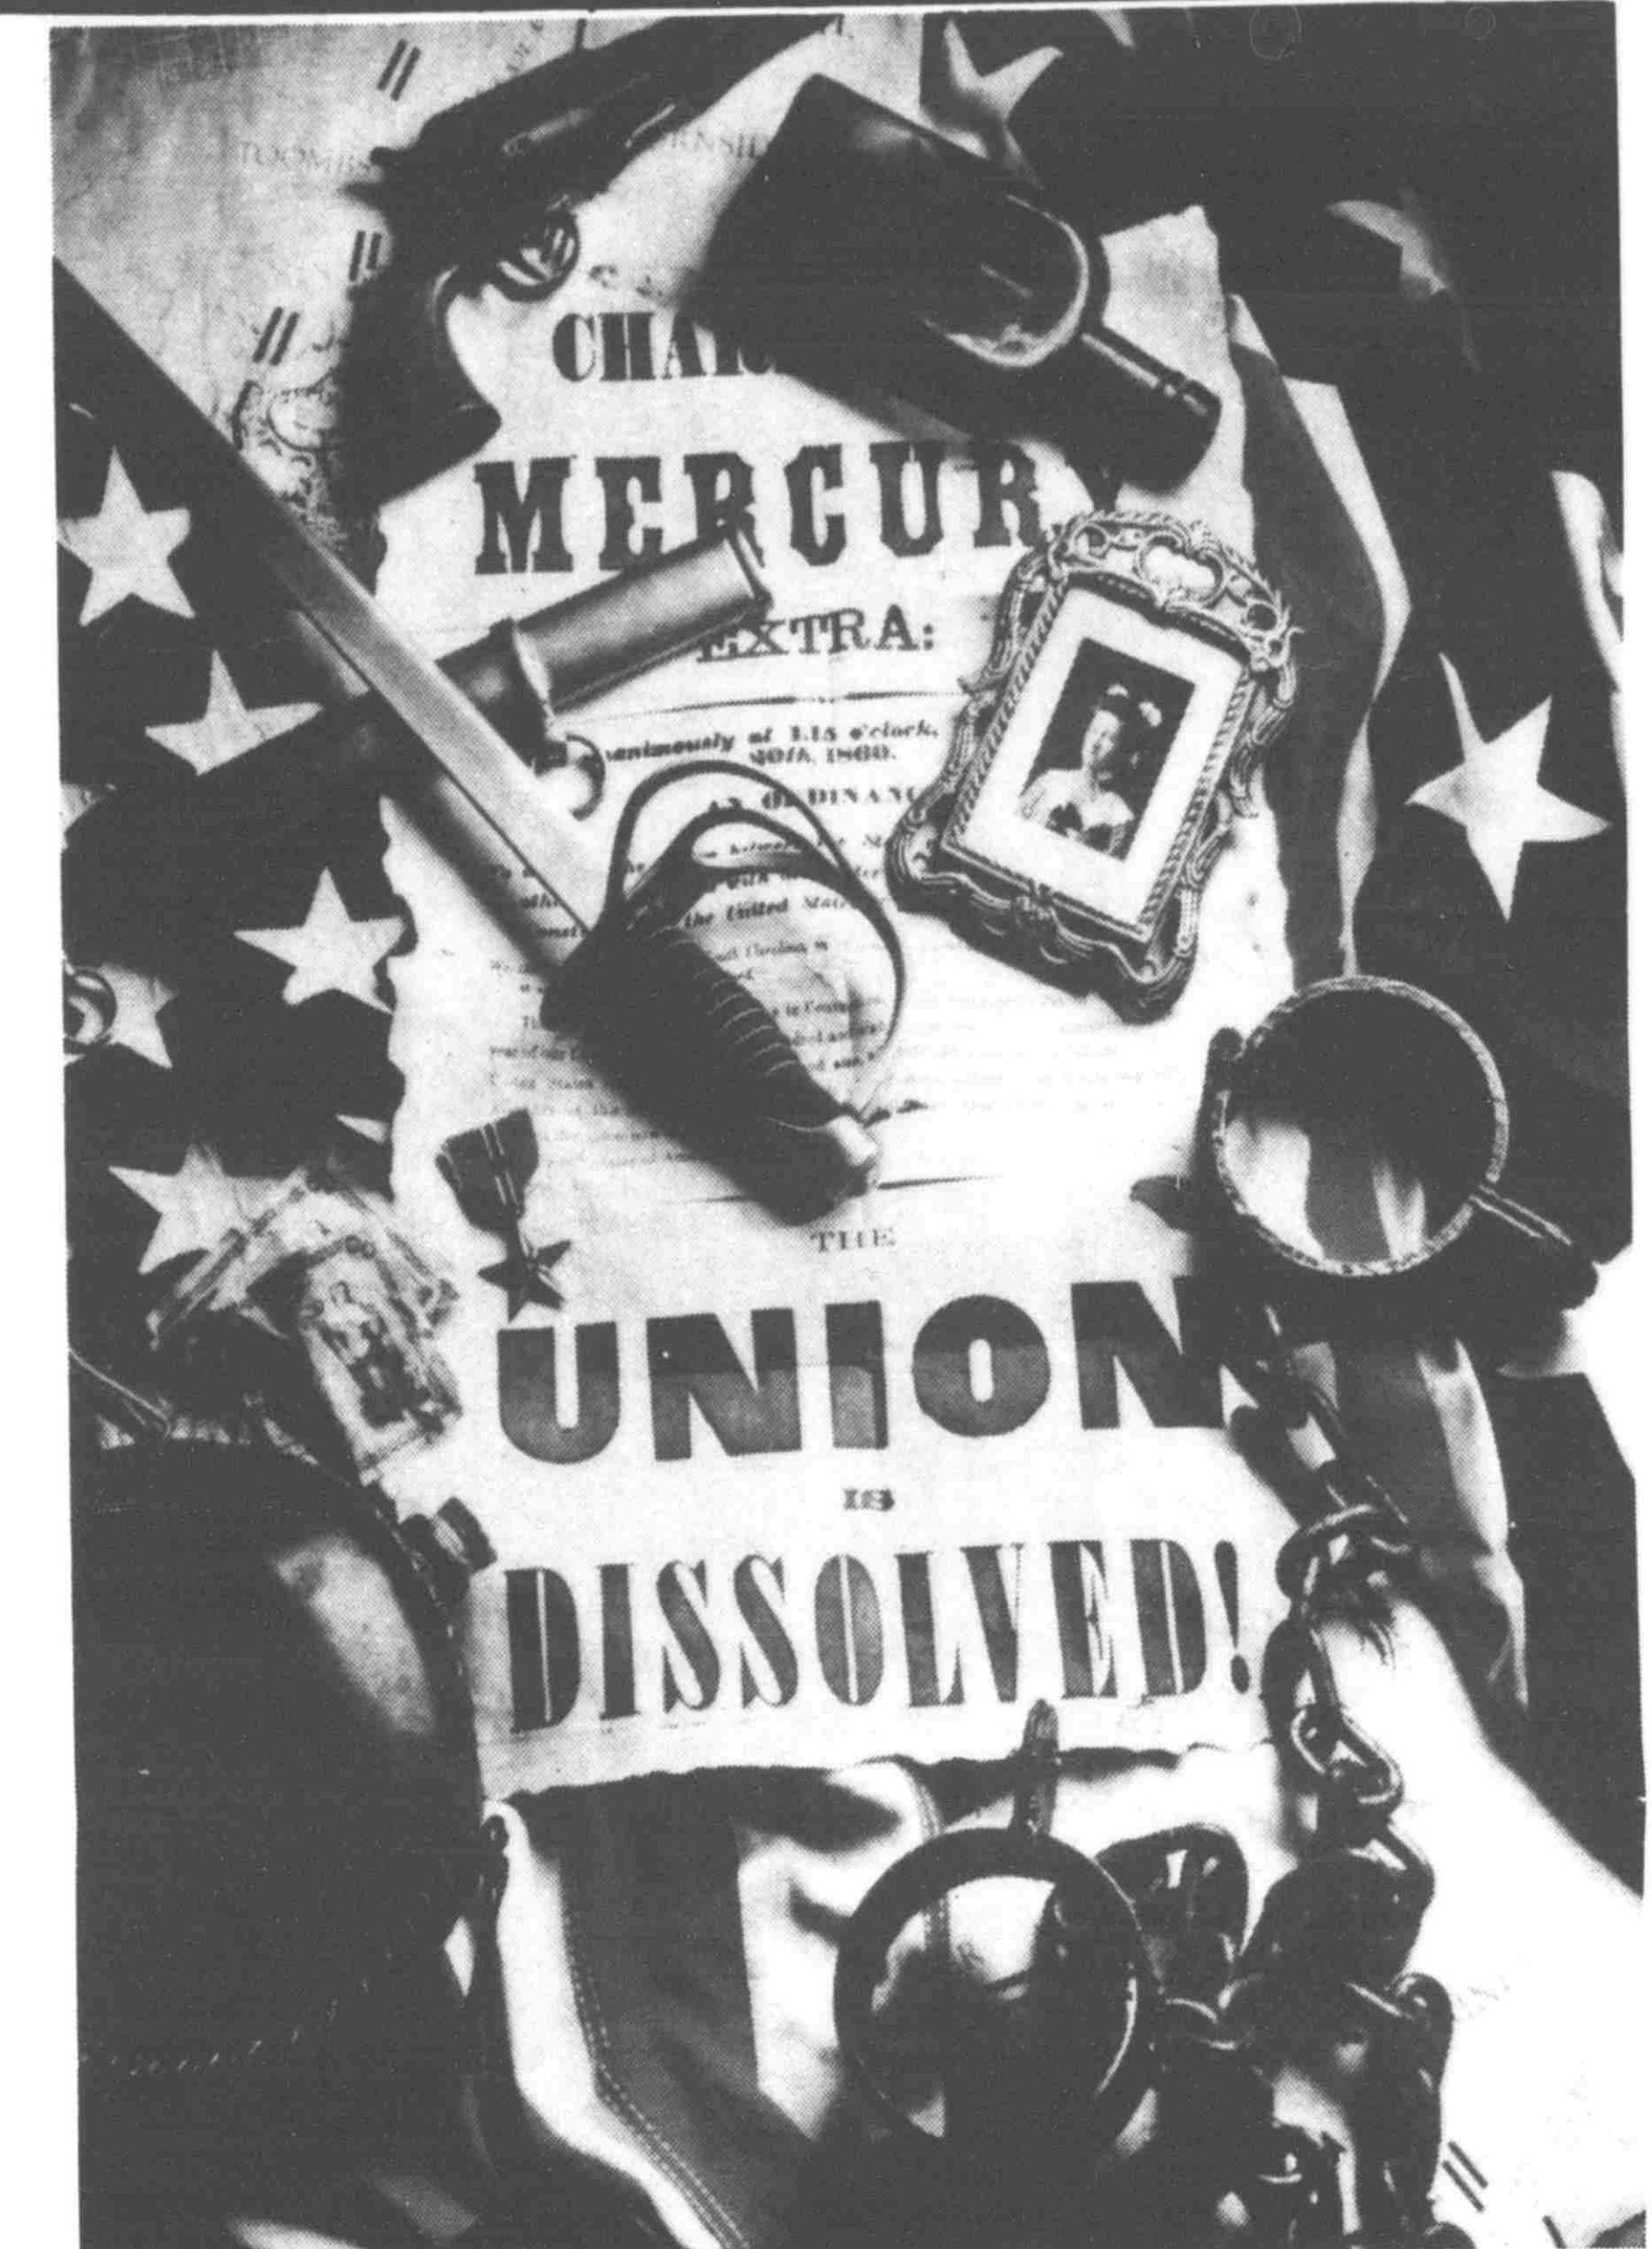

These twelve booths are sure to have something for everyone. The festival runs from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and features artwork for sale, free children's craft area, skill demonstrations, and live entertainment on the outdoor stage starting at noon. There is enough activity to make a full day of fun for the whole family with breakfast, lunch and dinner all available.

Lowell ices EGR, 1-0; Arrows stand tall at 7-0

Bum Phillips always talked about kicking in the door. The Berlin Wall was knocked down with chisels and hammers. Last Tuesday, on the strength of a Brian Ray first half goal, the Red Arrow soccer team kicked in a long-standing stalwart wall in the O-K White Conference with a 1-0 win over three-time defending champion, East Grand Rapids.

Lowell, which had never scored a goal against the Pioneers in conference play, let alone a victory, scored the game's only goal and winning goal at 15:57 of the first half. Ray booted the ball past the Pioneer goalie from the right wing. For coach John Turkal and his boys, the first "ray" of hope, that East Grand Rapids could be beaten, came this summer when the Red Arrows beat the Pioneers in summer play 3-1.

"That was false hope," said EGR coach John Hoebbel. "Many of our guys did not play. Lowell beat us today because it can play soccer and the team is senior rich. I've been watching many of these boys play together for four years." The Red Arrows, using their 1950 Italian style game outstuffed a lethargic Pioneer squad in the first half. "We were lazy in the first half and Lowell took it to us. We were probably outshot 2-1," Hoebbel said. "Coach Turkal uses an old 50's soccer style which has been abandoned, but if it's successful, who's to argue."

Lowell dominated play in the first half, but the Pioneers made play interesting in the second 40 minutes. If it were not for some huge save in front of the net by Red Arrow fullbacks Jay VanAntwerp, Ryan Peel and Ray Weigel, EGR may very well have gone home with a victory and atop the O-K White.

Turkal also pointed to the quick and nimble play of goalkeeper Aaron Snell. "I really thought coming into the game that the team to score the first goal would win," Turkal explained. "I think the game also came down to which team could control the offense and break the wings down."

Despite the loss, Hoebbel and his Pioneers were dropping their heads after the game. "If we were beaten 6-0, then there would be some concern. But 1-0, means it was anyone's game." Hoebbel also knows Lowell still has to go to EGR for a second go-around. "I said before the season started, the conference championship would be decided between Lowell, Forest Hills Central and ourselves," he said. Lowell outshot EGR 28-11. The Red Arrows saved nine kicks and the Pioneers saved 13. Turkal who is heralding his 6-0 Arrows as the best team Soccer, cont'd., pg. 24

Lowell's Brian Ray prepares to deliver the winning kick in soccer action against the powerful Pioneers. Lowell won the contest 1-0.

Red Arrows send Pioneers home with a 13-12 O.T. loss

A spirited defense and two Knoop TD runs gives Lowell first O-K win against EGR

"RED ARROW HEART" It was as large as life Friday night at Burch Field, Lowell, a team that starts 15 underclassmen, played with the spirit that upsets and memorable football games are made of - as it defeated East Grand Rapids in a dramatic 13-12 overtime swashbuckler.

The victory, marked the Red Arrows' first against the Pioneers since its inception into the O-K White Conference seven years ago.

Lowell has been on the short end of many close games with East Grand Rapids. Most recently, a 6-3 homecoming loss in 1988. Some may remember the 15-7 loss in 1986 or how about the 12-6 defeat in 1985.

The Red Arrows put all of those heart-wrenching losses to rest Friday night in a memorable way.

The win was noteworthy in that Lowell stopped the Pioneers twice inside the five yard line in the first half.

The win was noteworthy in that Lowell drove 45 yards midway through the fourth quarter to tie the score at 6-6.

The win was noteworthy in that Lowell, after seeing EGR score first in overtime to take a 12-6 lead, answered with a touchdown of its own and then watched as Rob McGee split the heart of the uprights for the victory.

It was noteworthy in that the win was the perfect gift for the guy with the biggest Red Arrow heart - Birthday Coach, Phil Christensen.

"The kids did it, they deserve the credit," Christensen said. "I feel great. The win means a lot to me because I believe East Grand Rapids respects us, and other schools still do not respect Lowell."

As Christensen explained, the 1990 Red Arrow squad has changed its personality from an "I" team to a "We" team. "Tonight, the results were the boys' reward."

It was definitely a team ef-was a third down and six at the Pioneer 41. Brett Knoop broke loose for 21 yards on a counter play. The run set Lowell up at the 12. Two wide left on a 27-yard field goal attempt. In overtime, East Grand Rapids got the ball first at the 10-yard at the south end of yard penalty, as it did after its first touchdown. This time, though, McGee sent it through the heart of the upright.

Lowell's Brett Knoop (33) raced for both of Lowell's touchdowns in the Red Arrow's dramatic 13-12 overtime win against East Grand Rapids.

fort that enabled Lowell to stop EGR three times from its own three yard line in the first quarter. It was a team effort that stopped the Pioneers three times from within the five.

It was a team effort that enabled Lowell to drive 45 yards five plays midway through the final stanza to tie the score at 6-6.

A key play in that drive plays later Knoop rumbled in from nine-yards out on the same counter play.

EGR grabbed the lead on its second possession in the second half. The Pioneers drove 83 yards in 10 plays with Cory Dial blasting over from one-yard out.

The Pioneers drove down to the Lowell 10-yard line with less than 20 seconds to go, but Jon Hatfield was the field. On the third play from scrimmage Hatfield rolled in around the left side, taking a 12-6 lead. The Pioneers failed on the two-point conversion attempt.

It was then Lowell's turn from the 10. It was a counter play again to Knoop who willed his way in from 10 yards out.

It was deja vu for Lowell as it incurred another five-

The Red Arrow victory pierced the heart of Pioneer coach George Barcheski, as was evident in his short post-game talk. "It was a good game. Lowell deserved to win. They played better than we did," he explained as he hopped on the bus.

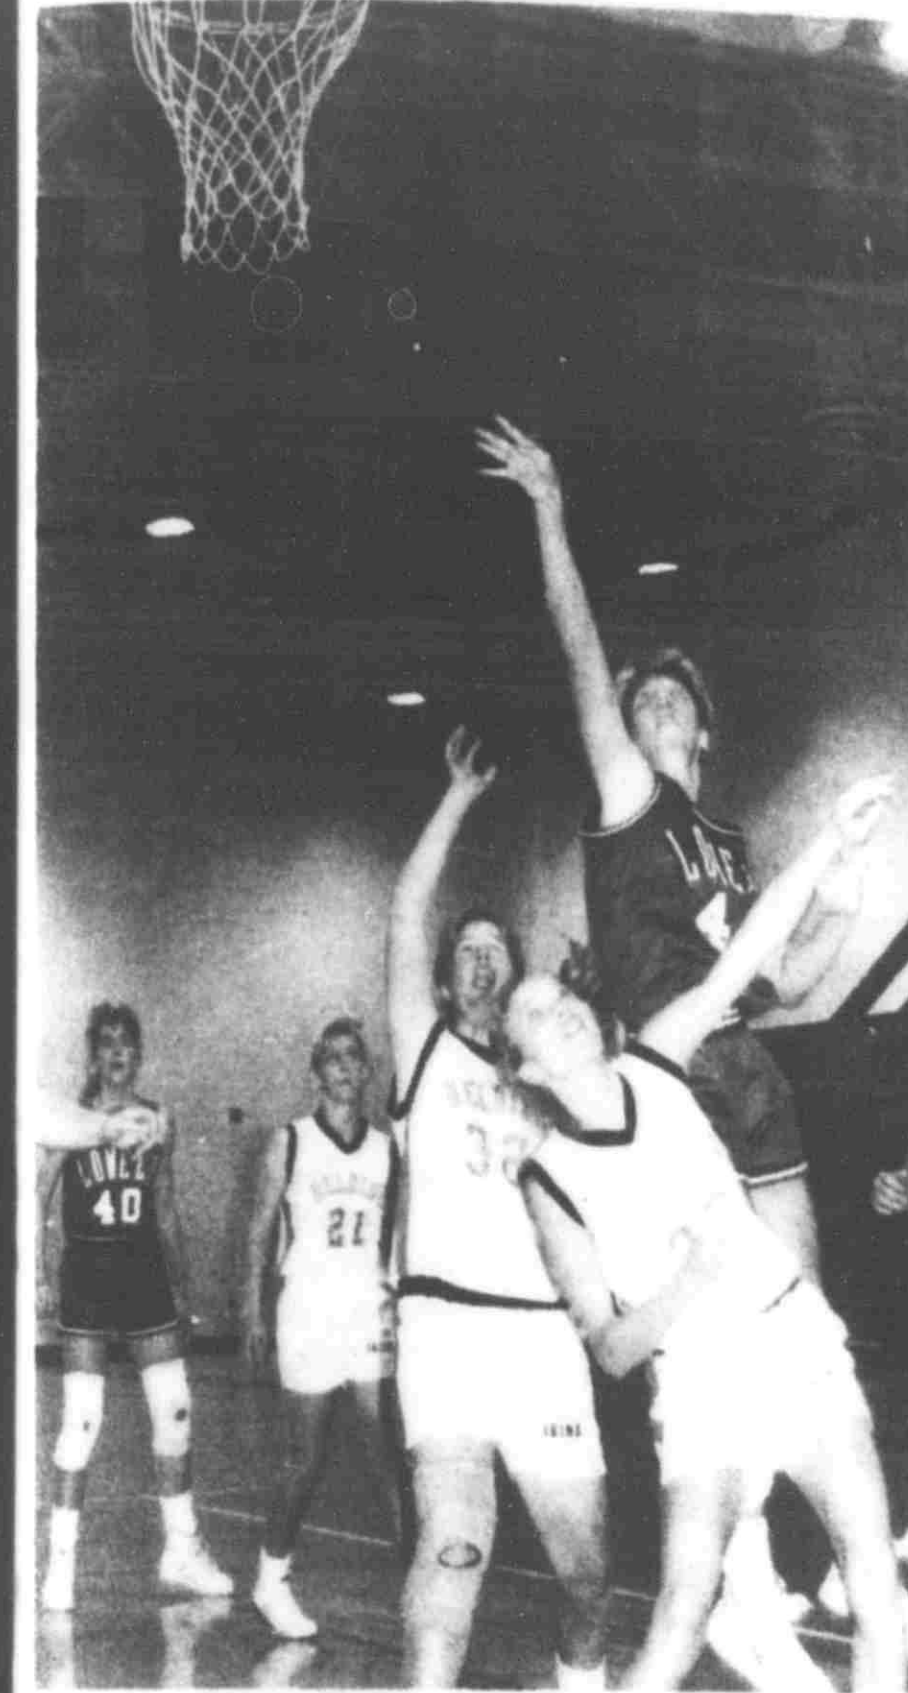

Christensen said that going into the game Lowell wanted to stop senior runningback, Greg Stone and Pioneer receiver Jason Harmon. The Red Arrows held Harmon to one controversial catch. Stone managed just 68 yards on 13 carries.

Unofficially, EGR rushed the ball 41 times for 143 yards.

Lowell rushed the ball 40 times for 144 yards. The leading Red Arrow ground-gainer was Knoop, who picked up 96 yards on 18 carries and scored two touchdowns.

The loss dropped the pioneers to 1-2 overall and 0-2 in the conference.

Lowell improved to 2-1 overall and more importantly 2-0 in the conference. HAPPY BIRTHDAY COACH CHRISTENSEN!

Arnett claims a putback against the Redskins.

Red Arrow girls bounce Redskins 51-22

Sometimes it takes just the gentlest of tugs on a string for a coach to get his team to play at maximum potential.

That's why Lowell coach Ken Akers jerked on the strings of his players at halftime of the Belding game, in Lowell's 51-22 win. The Red Arrows led by the narrow score of 23-19 at halftime.

"The girls put in a semi-quasi first half performance," Akers said. "They were playing at the level of the competition. So I guess you could say I jerked a few strings."

It worked. The Red Arrows came out in the second half and pummeled Belding 28-3. "We played the way we're capable," Akers said. "Everybody got to play and the girls had fun. Other than that, I'm not sure we learned a whole lot from it."

What he did learn, is that he is getting exceptional bench play from Jennifer Weiland. "Jen has been doing a good job at both ends of the floor. She is going to be a good player for us."

Erica Hackenbruch led the Lowell charge with 16 points and nine rebounds. Estrella Calvo was the only other Lowell player in double figures. She scored 10 points. Renee Nugent and Angie Arnett contributed with seven and six rebounds respectively.

Lowell finished the relatively quiet week of play at 2-2 and will be home for its league opener against Wyoming Park on Thursday and will host a make-up game on Friday against Ionia.

Lowell's girl harriers fall to EGR; Red Arrow boys cruise, 20-37

For the Lowell girl's cross country team, it's been like trying to catch its own shadow. Always an arm's length away and a few strides short.

The past two years the Red Arrows have been just that close to the Pioneers of East Grand Rapids, and again last Wednesday Lowell fell short as the numbers and the depth of the Pioneer squad proved to be too much in defeating Lowell 26-33. "Three of our top seven runners did not finish because of the heat or an injury," said 12-year EGR girls' cross country coach, Doug Morse. "But our depth was the difference."

Depth allowed East Grand Rapids to overcome its problem. Lowell, a study in contrast, with just six girls running, could not overcome one of its top three runners being hampered by side cramps.

Rhea Bundy, who turned in a time of 21:42.8 at the Bath Invitational, came home in 11th at 25:27.

"We came up a little short today, but we're close enough that the girls can still catch EGR in time for the conference meet," Harper said.

EGR which has won three straight O-K White Conference crowns and Wednesday's win made the Pioneers prohibitive favorites for their fourth straight league title.

"Having lost our two top runners to graduation, and with this club coming along so slowly I really thought that Lowell which was returning many people from a year ago was the favorite," Morse said. "Not only that, but Lowell is famous for running well in big races."

Both Morse and Harper were sure about two things prior to the race, Hillari Kirsch and Leslie Budde. "In Kirsch, Lowell has the league's top runner," Morse said. "Budde will be our first runner in, somewhere behind Kirsch."

Sure enough, Kirsch was the first harrier home, coming off the Johnson Park course in 20:03. Her best time of the year at Johnson Park. Budde was second in a time of 21:55.

Lowell's second runner in, finishing third was Michelle Oliver. The Red Arrow broke the tape at 22:41.

It was here that the race took a pivotal turn. Morse penciled in Emily Travis and Megan Davies in the fourth and fifth spots.

The Arrows' next runner home was Sara Lesky at number six in a time of 23:20. EGR's depth than kicked in as it placed runners in the seven and eight spots. Mandy Nichols was seventh at 23:27. Brandy Middleton finished seventh at 23:51 and Tammy Ashley came home in 24:17.

"We got three good performances from Kirsch, Oliver and Lesky," Harper said. "It just wasn't enough."

Lowell's Chris Decker came home in 13th with a time of 26:51.

The Red Arrows are now 1-1 in the O-K White and 2-2 overall. The Red Arrow Cross Country, cont'd., pg. 27

Sara Lesky ran a tough race in Lowell's 26-33 loss to East Grand Rapids.

David Stouffer played an instrumental part in Lowell's lopsided win over EGR.

Red Arrow linksters claim top spot in conference

Lowell swings past Zeeland, EGR and Sparta; now 3-0 in league

For the first time in O-K White Conference history a Lowell Red Arrow boys' golf team stands tall and alone atop the league.

"It's never happened before," smiled Lowell coach Jack Ogle. "Forest Hills Central has dominated this league in golf."

This rare occurrence came about because Lowell defeated Zeeland, Sparta and East Grand Rapids in conference play last week, and Rogers upset the Rangers at the Pines 154-155.

For Ogle and his club the victory presents a two-way sword. The Red Arrows are delighted that Forest Hills Central loss. It takes away that shield of invincibility the Rangers have harbored over the years. On the other hand, it presents another obstacle Lowell has to play around in its search for a conference crown.

"I'm happy FHC lost, but at the same time this tells the league that Rogers is better than many people thought," Ogle said.

Lowell will take its 3-0 conference record into action against Rogers and Wyoming Park at Ironwood which was scheduled to be played on Tuesday (Sept. 18) and then will travel to the Forest Hills Country Club on Thursday (Sept. 20) to battle Forest Hills Central and Northview.

"This will be a huge week for us," Ogle said. "Last week was a big week for us." LOWELL 163, ZEELAND 166, SPARTA 196

Last week began in an auspicious manner for the Red Arrows as they defeated both Zeeland and Sparta at the Deer Run Golf Club. Lowell's top five fired a 163, besting Zeeland's 166 and Sparta's 196.

Lowell's most consistent round of the week was spearheaded by Jerud Jojnt. The Lowell senior carded a 39. While that has earned him medalist honors throughout much of the year, Ogle says Jojnt can and will shoot a couple of strokes better than a 39 as the year progresses.

John Borg was one stroke off the pace as he came home in 40. "Borg is beginning to play better," Ogle said. There was no real answer for his slow start. John is his own worst critic."

Coming in at number three for Lowell was Chris "rock solid" Elzinga, who shot a 41. "He's been unbelievably steady for us. Elzinga is a tough number three player."

Lowell's Chad Laux played well in shooting a 43. "I feel real good with the win over Zeeland. Laux's round of 43 was a big lift," Ogle said.

Zeeland's linksters came home in this fashion, Mike Remick, 39; Mike Doan, 41; Andy Barkel, 41; and Ryan Denton finished with a 45.

For Sparta, Joe Bortell carded a 47; Bill Brown, 48; Doug Stark, 50; and Mike Blumenstein shot a 51.

LOWELL 166 GR UNION 176
On a hot and muggy Wednesday afternoon, the Red

Arrows received much needed play from its six and seven players as it defeated Union in a non-conference match

"Our depth was a key today," Ogle said. "We're much deeper this year than in the past and it may have won us a match today."

Lowell received steady performances from Jojnt and Borg. Both Red Arrows fired rounds of 39.

However, Elzinga and Laux came home in uncharacteristically high rounds of 48 and 47 respectively.

Ogle was saved though by his six and seven players, Chad Dunn and Craig Coleman. The Arrows carded rounds of 43 and 45 respectively.

"We seem to be getting help from different help in each match for that number four spot," Ogle said.

Sean Koop paced Union with a 40. He was followed by Jamie McGoffin, 45; Brian Sullivan, 45; and Charlie Morse's 46.

LOWELL 166 EGR 171
Elzinga was so "rock solid" steady he finished second ahead of Borg with a round of 40. "He played well in a big match," Ogle said.

Jojnt again was the match medalists, carding a 39. Borg finished third, two strokes off the pace with a 41. Jason Engle came off the course in fourth at 46.

For the pioneers It was Mark ostrand and Hayes Collins with rounds of 41. John Krause followed two strokes back at 43 and Ken Wagner finished up with a 46.

Lowell is now 4-0 overall.

Lowell's tennis finds competitive spirit in busy week of play

Lowell's new girls' tennis coach, Wendy Ackerman has brought new ideas and tennis strategies to the Red Arrow program.

The Wisconsin native has spent the early part of the season changing attitudes. "The girls were somewhat down about the tough competition, but in order to be competitive you must first believe that you can be competitive. I think the girls' attitudes are changing."

A telltale sign for Ackerman was in Lowell's match against East Grand Rapids. "Our girls worked hard and never gave up," Ackerman said. "They wanted to give EGR a challenge and I believe they met that goal."

Leading the Arrows in competitive play through their first four matches has been the play of Lowell's number one team, Alison Zillmer and Heather Tap. "Zillmer and Tap are playing our strongest tennis right now. They have been our most consistent players at this time," Ackerman said.

The Red Arrows ended the week on a high note as they took second in the Ionia Invitational. Seven teams participated.

Eaton Rapids was first with 24 points and Lowell placed second with 22.

Lowell's only first was handed in by its number one doubles team of Zillmer and Tap.

Second place finishes were earned by Lowell's number two doubles team of Tara Sterly and Rachael McGrew; and third singles Diedre DenBoer.

Placing third were singles players Kathie Abel. First singles; Nancy Wingeier, second singles; and second doubles Sara Kelley and Jenny Langridge.

EGR 7, LOWELL 0

Lowell's number one tennis team lost in two sets to the Pioneers' Katie Pantlind and Chris Stekete, 3-6, 1-6.

The second doubles team of Sara Kelley and Jenny Langridge were set down in two sets, 1-6 and 5-7.

In the closest doubles match of the day, Tara Sterly and Rachael McGrew were upended by Kuirista Rosandu and Amanda Kubek 6-3, 6-3.

"The Pioneers are the toughest team in the O-K White. I thought we played our best tennis of the year against them," Ackerman said.

The top singles match of the contest was played between Nancy Wingeier and Vicki Jackobice. The Pioneer finished on top, 6-4, 6-2.

Red Arrow's top singles player Kathie Abel fell in straight sets to Courtney Semeyn 1-6, 1-6.

EGR's Courtney Boland was too strong for Diedre DenBoer in third singles play, winning 6-0, 6-0. Connie Colburn lost 1-6, 2-6 to Pioneer Jenni Turkal.

WYOM. PARK 6, LOWELL 1

Sterly and McGrew played some of their finest tennis of the year in posting Lowell's only victory against the Vikings.

"The girls played tough at third doubles," Ackerman said. "We had a couple of real close matches that could have gone either way."

Lowell's coach was referring to Zillmer and Tap's (third doubles) 6-1, 3-6, 1-6 loss to Kerry McCarthy and Leigh VanTatenhove.

Arrows' second doubles team of Kelley and Langridge lost in three heart-breaking sets, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6.

Lowell went for the collar in singles play as Abel lost 0-6, 3-6 to Merci Delamar; Wingeier was defeated by Nikki DeVries 1-6, 0-6; DenBoer fell to Marian Bentley 0-6, 1-6; and Colburn was shutout 0-6, 0-6.

CRESTON 6, LOWELL 1
Desire and concentration were the key elements in Zillmer and Tap's impressive, hard fought win over Creston's Allison VanSkiver and Chris Giberson, 6-4, 7-6.

"It was a tight match and the girls displayed a great deal of concentration on each of their shots which put them ahead of their opponents," Ackerman said.

Langridge and Kelley played a competitive match but were on the short end of 2-6, 3-6 loss to Anita Vecziedins and Jenelle Sheet.

Sterly and McGrew played well in losing an exciting 4-6, 3-6 match to the Polar Bears' Melissa Golebiewski and Stacy McClellan.

At the Northview Invitational, Zillmer and Tap finished second in number one doubles play out of eight teams. The Red Arrow overcame competition from West Catholic, Greenville and Northview. "The key to their success today was their powerful first serves," Ackerman said.

Also winning a match for Lowell were McGrew and Sterly at number three doubles. They defeated a team from Sparta.

he's coached at Lowell, said the more even-style play in the second half had a lot to do with fatigue and nerves. "This is the first game Jason White has ever asked to come out of a game for a rest," Turkal said. "EGR was a big psychological mountain for our club to get over," said an elated Turkal. "EGR was a wall."

And at least on this one, late summer day, the wall came crumbling down.

Dear Editor,

In a recent conversation with several young couples who purchased homes in Lowell the school bond issue became part of our discussion. They wondered what I thought about it. My feelings are if you want to add $10,000 or more to your property value, you vote yes.

Property is hot in Lowell at the present time. Nothing of any value is on the market very long. The reason for this, we have a good school system. Young families don't seek housing in an area with poor schools. With our growth expectations our current facilities cannot handle the increased future numbers.

What about the pool and the athletic facilities? With the growing numbers of senior citizens and the positive aspects of water exercise, I would think every senior would vote yes, knowing they would benefit. We currently have a cinder track. Cinders have to be imported from another state to maintain this outdated track.

A great deal of thought and planning has gone into the bond issue to take our schools into the 21st century, they have earned our support.

Barbara Brown
To the community of Lowell.

We want to inform you of the upcoming bond issue which will be voted on Sept. 25.

We need you to vote "yes" to improve our future educational progress. Our community is growing and our schools are overcrowded. Teachers have to share rooms because there are not enough rooms for each faculty member. Rooms are too small and the number of students is too large.

If you vote "yes" we will also be getting a new track and field. We need this facility to meet the demands of the intense athletic competition in our conference. The existing track is not suitable for competitive use.

We hope you vote "yes" on Sept. 25 because you hold our future in your hands. Mrs. Wendy Ackermann's 5th Hour English Class

Dear Editor,

This letter is being written to the voters of the Lowell School District.

A bond issue is coming up next Tuesday. This is a building request that is being made by our school board, superintendent, teachers and principals, as well as the community.

Our children, Bill, Katie and Jeff McPherson, are the seventh generation to be living in Vergennes Township. Their grandparents were very proud of the education they received from the country school and from Lowell High School. Their father and his brothers and sisters are also very proud of their education from the country school and from the Lowell Schools.

Letters to the Editor

When Mac was finishing 6th grade, the people of this area decided to close the country school. To close the country school and send their children to the Lowell Schools for their entire K-12 education must have been a tough decision to make. This change was made due to the changes in education, as well as the changes in the world around these families.

The Lowell Area School District is again in need of a big change and some tough decisions have to be made. Just by looking at the growing number of students that we have each year, we know that the current school buildings will soon be insufficient to educate our children. The changes in technology, science and the job market have also made our current schools and supplies outdated. If any of our children are limited in their chances for science, computer, language, shop, drama, home ec., fine arts, or any other class, due to a shortage of labs, computers, special equipment, or a room in which to house the class, this community will be shortchanging future generations.

The packages on the bond issue have been developed after a very thorough process of comparing the needs of our students now and in the near future, with the strengths and weaknesses of the school buildings and athletic fields of our school system. This process included school officials, as well as a large and diverse group of individuals from this community. The public was asked to give its opinions on what the schools needed through an extensive telephone survey. And the Ledger had an article explaining the options and asked the voters to send any ideas or feelings that they had about the plans to Dr. Esch.

We would like to ask that you seriously look at the proposal for a pool. It is not a separate issue so we can scrap it and feel like we have saved some money. It is separated because basic swimming and drownproofing are not needed in the curriculum for graduation. However, they are skills that anyone in this community should have.

Thank you,

Pinky and Mac McPherson
Dear Editor,

On behalf of the citizen's steering committee for the "Growing Together" school bond issue campaign, I want to take this opportunity to express many thanks to the Lowell community for their input, questions, and responses over the last 30 days as we have attempted to provide information about the upcoming school bond proposal.

We, on the citizen's steering committee, firmly believe that our fellow citizens, when given the facts and figures about the tremendous growth we are experiencing here in Lowell, and our subsequent need to provide adequate facilities to accommodate this growth, will vote "Yes" next Tuesday, Sept. 25 for our kids, our schools, and our community.

I also want to take this time to thank the many citizens and local businesses who have contributed to pay for this campaign. To date over $3,000 of private contributions have been raised and expected to pay for publications, postage, stationery, copy costs, display signs, and expenses needed to conduct an informational campaign of this nature.

Because district funds cannot be expended for these purposes, I invite any monetary contributions to assist our committee in this effort. Our campaign records are open and accessible for review, and if you wish to contribute, please make your check payable to "Growing Together", and send to Dave Douma, Treasurer, 1475 Baywicke Dr, SE, Lowell, Michigan.

Sincerely,
Charlie Kohler, Chairperson
Citizen's Steering Committee for "Growing Together" Campaign

A letter to the taxpayers of Lowell School District:

With the upcoming bond issue in mind I am writing this letter in hopes of stimulating some thoughts on taxes.

Last Wednesday morning as I drove toward Lowell on Lincoln Lake Ave., I was shocked to find two school maintenance men driving a school truck, on school time putting up signs for a positive vote on the Sept. 25 election.

One sign was on my property, which I told them to remove. A couple of hours passed and I again spotted these same school maintenance men, this time on Parnell Rd. still putting up signs. As a taxpayer, I found this activity appalling! It would seem to me if school employees have time to undertake this type of campaign work at taxpayers expense, Lowell Schools definitely must be over-stuffed!

While on the issue of the election, perhaps it is time to discuss the ever increasing taxes we ALL face. It is my understanding that we are all going to realize a ten to twenty percent increase in assessment on our property; in addition to possible increases for the new jail and perhaps Grand Rapids Junior College.

My concern is that we may vote on a long term commitment for an elaborate school system which will weigh heavily on the taxpayers for the next thirty years! Long after the cute little boot signs are gone, the taxpayers will still be paying. Some are already retired and will still have to pay. Some will no longer even reside in the Lowell School District.

If this bond issue is passed, it means big time tax increases for homeowners and even bigger increases for the farmer. Let us forget the older people who are on fixed incomes! Point being, is it morally right to place the heaviest tax burden on these people? All campaign propaganda aside, shouldn't we ask ourselves how are we going to feed this multi-million dollar chicken once we hatch it? It seems only eminent another millage increase for operation, in the not too near future. Then we will hear the threats of staff reduction, reduced athletics, less swimming pool time, etc., if the asked for millage doesn't pass.

Most taxpayers agree that schools should be financed by sales tax or income tax, then everyone, regardless of property holdings, pays equally. This message needs to be sent to our elected officials in Lansing. The message will get there much faster if taxpayers refuse to pass millage increases and bond issues. In short, if taxpayers don't say no, why change anything?

I didn't write this letter as a one side or the other controversy. I only hope to open some minds and provoke some thought processes. All things considered, do we need to make such a long term expensive commitment? Are your parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, or even your own children some of those who will be forced from their homes and farms because of the tax burden potentially voted on them at this time?

Thank about it. Then take advantage of your American right and vote your conscience on Sept. 25. Your vote will count!

Thank you,

TOWN TALK

Which do you believe is stronger, private or public education? Why? And what should the other do to better itself?

Dave Haney
I believe private schools are better for what I want for my children. It offers christian values and a caring, feeling atmosphere. Public schools are limited and are unable to get involved in morals and values.

Charlie Kohler
Public schools provide a sound foundation for educational needs of the population at large. I believe it is the best proven way to provide fairness and to ensure everyone has an opportunity to reach their potential. Public education has its drawbacks, such as funding and control.

Carol Robertshaw
I've had experience with both and I believe the private school is better. It is able to provide more individual attention because classes are smaller. I also believe the discipline is better. Public schools have accelerated classes for the bright students, the deprived students, but the average student is left to fend for itself.

Barbara Carey
I believe there is more of an advantage to public schools. Students meet and socialize with more of their peers. Public schools also offer more field trips and outings. Private schools' tuition is too much. I think the private school confines the student too much and is too strict.

Marcia Baird
I think public schools are better overall. There are less children in the classroom. Because of this, there is more of an opportunity for students to work with teachers on an one-on-one basis. Public schools are strapped for money and thus you have 27-30 kids in a classroom which makes things difficult for the teachers. I believe the key to improving public schools is changing the way they are financed.

Richard Cole
I think private schools are better overall. There are less children in the classroom. Because of this, there is more of an opportunity for students to work with teachers on an one-on-one basis. Public schools are strapped for money and thus you have 27-30 kids in a classroom which makes things difficult for the teachers. I believe the key to improving public schools is changing the way they are financed.

Jim White
Public schools offer a much broader base than what private schools can offer. Private schools are able to offer some things public schools cannot, such as religious classes and the teaching of values. For some, values and religious instruction are top priority. Public schools offer academics, arts and athletics. For private schools to improve they would have to be able to offer more in all areas. To do this, the revenue source would have to be increased.

Kathy DeJong
I think private schools are better. Some of the things taught in public schools need to be watched. I think public schools need to do a better job of teaching values, respect and manners. I also think parents need to instill religious values in their children.

Item No. 1. AMENDMENT TO DOWNTOWN PARKING ORDINANCE PROHIBITING LEFT TURNS FROM MAIN STREET ONTO WATER STREET. City Manager Pasquale said that in response to comments received during the public hearing on August 20, the city staff and traffic engineer, Ed Swanson reviewed the Main Street downtown parking and left turn lanes layout. It was determined that additional parking, approximately five spaces, could be gained on the north side of Main Street by eliminating left turns onto Water Street. This would aid the Lambert's block.

The city staff reviewed the proposal with King Milling, Michigan Wire, Antique Mail, Puppy Tub, and the Softball Association as well as Michael Jones of the Michigan Department of Transportation. All agreed to the change. It was suggested that the turning lane at Monroe and Main to Jefferson be continued without moving north.

This would allow a better turning lane for trucks going north onto Jefferson. Additional parking would be provided on the north side of Main east of Jefferson. Ten parking spaces would be lost on the south side of Main Street but would not affect businesses and residences since each has its own off street parking. Michigan Department of Transportation said that the continuous turning lane from Monroe east to Jefferson is better as far as traffic flow.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Thompson to approve the ordinance amendment prohibiting left turns from Main Street onto Water and making a continuous turning lane from Monroe east to Jefferson.

They have had difficulties in getting permits for variances and other building activities that they chose to get involved with in starting new businesses and altering their existing businesses. City Manager Pasquale responded that MTS has been going through a series of staff changes. Each inspector interprets the codes differently. Pasquale suggested that representatives from City Council meet with MTS to discuss their concerns.

Item No. 6. MANAGER'S REPORT. City Manager Pasquale reported on the following:

Currently, the City has paid health insurance until Medicare starts to a maximum of five (5) years. Garry has requested that he be given five (5) years from age 55 to 60. After that time, health insurance would be his responsibility.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Fonger to pay health insurance for Garry McCaul to a maximum of five (5) years due to early retirement at age 55.

Siler nominated for Honorary American FFA Degree

Pete Siler

Pete Siler, agricultural education instructor and FFA advisor at Lowell High School has been nominated to receive the Honorary American FFA Degree.

Siler was nominated for the degree by the Michigan FFA Association and the nomination was approved by the National FFA Board of Directors at their recent meeting in Alexandria, VA. The Honorary American FFA Degree is the highest honorary award presented by the FFA. This year 62 teachers of agricultural education were nominated to receive the degree during the 63rd National FFA Convention in Kansas City, MO, Nov. 8-10.

Siler has been an agricultural education instructor at Lowell for 16 years. During that time he has had five students who have earned the American FFA Degree, 40 students who have received the State FFA Degree, ten students who have earned state proficiency awards, five state FFA officers, seven state leadership contest winners, seven state skills contest winners and numerous gold and silver award winners in other state competitions.

Each year at least 50 of the 11,200 teachers of agricultural education in the nation are awarded the Honorary American FFA Degree. The degree is awarded on the basis of points scored by a teacher for his/her accomplishments as an agricultural instructor, FFA advisor and participant in professional agricultural teachers' organizations.

Teachers are awarded points for each student they have supervised who has earned state or national FFA awards. Teachers also receive points for serving as officers and committee members of the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers' Association and for their participation in national meetings of the FFA and other professional associations.

Siler plans to attend the 63rd National FFA Convention in Kansas City, for presentation of the degree pending final approval of the nomination by the student FFA delegates who must vote on all honorary presentations of the National FFA Organization. The degree is presented during the Friday morning session of the convention.

FFA is a national organization of 386,832 students in 7,896 local chapters preparing for agricultural careers. FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in agricultural education by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained in classes. Developing agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship are FFA's major objectives.

Lowell Knights of Columbus donate to Special Education fund

Tony Stencel, former Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus presents a check for $551.79 to Jim White, curriculum director of Lowell Schools for the Lowell Area Schools Special Education Fund. The money was raised through donations collected on Palm Sunday weekend. Lowell's Knights of Columbus has been involved in the program for seven years. White said the money will be used to purchase specialized books, materials and computer software that the school might not otherwise be able to buy. Stencel said the Knights of Columbus thanked all members of the community who donated to the program.

PUBLIC NOTICE

VERGENNES TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION

Notice is hereby given that the Vergennes Township Planning Commission will conduct a public hearing on:

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1990 at 7:30 P.M.

at the Vergennes Township Hall, 10381 Bailey Drive, Lowell, Michigan to obtain public comment on proposed amendments to the Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance.

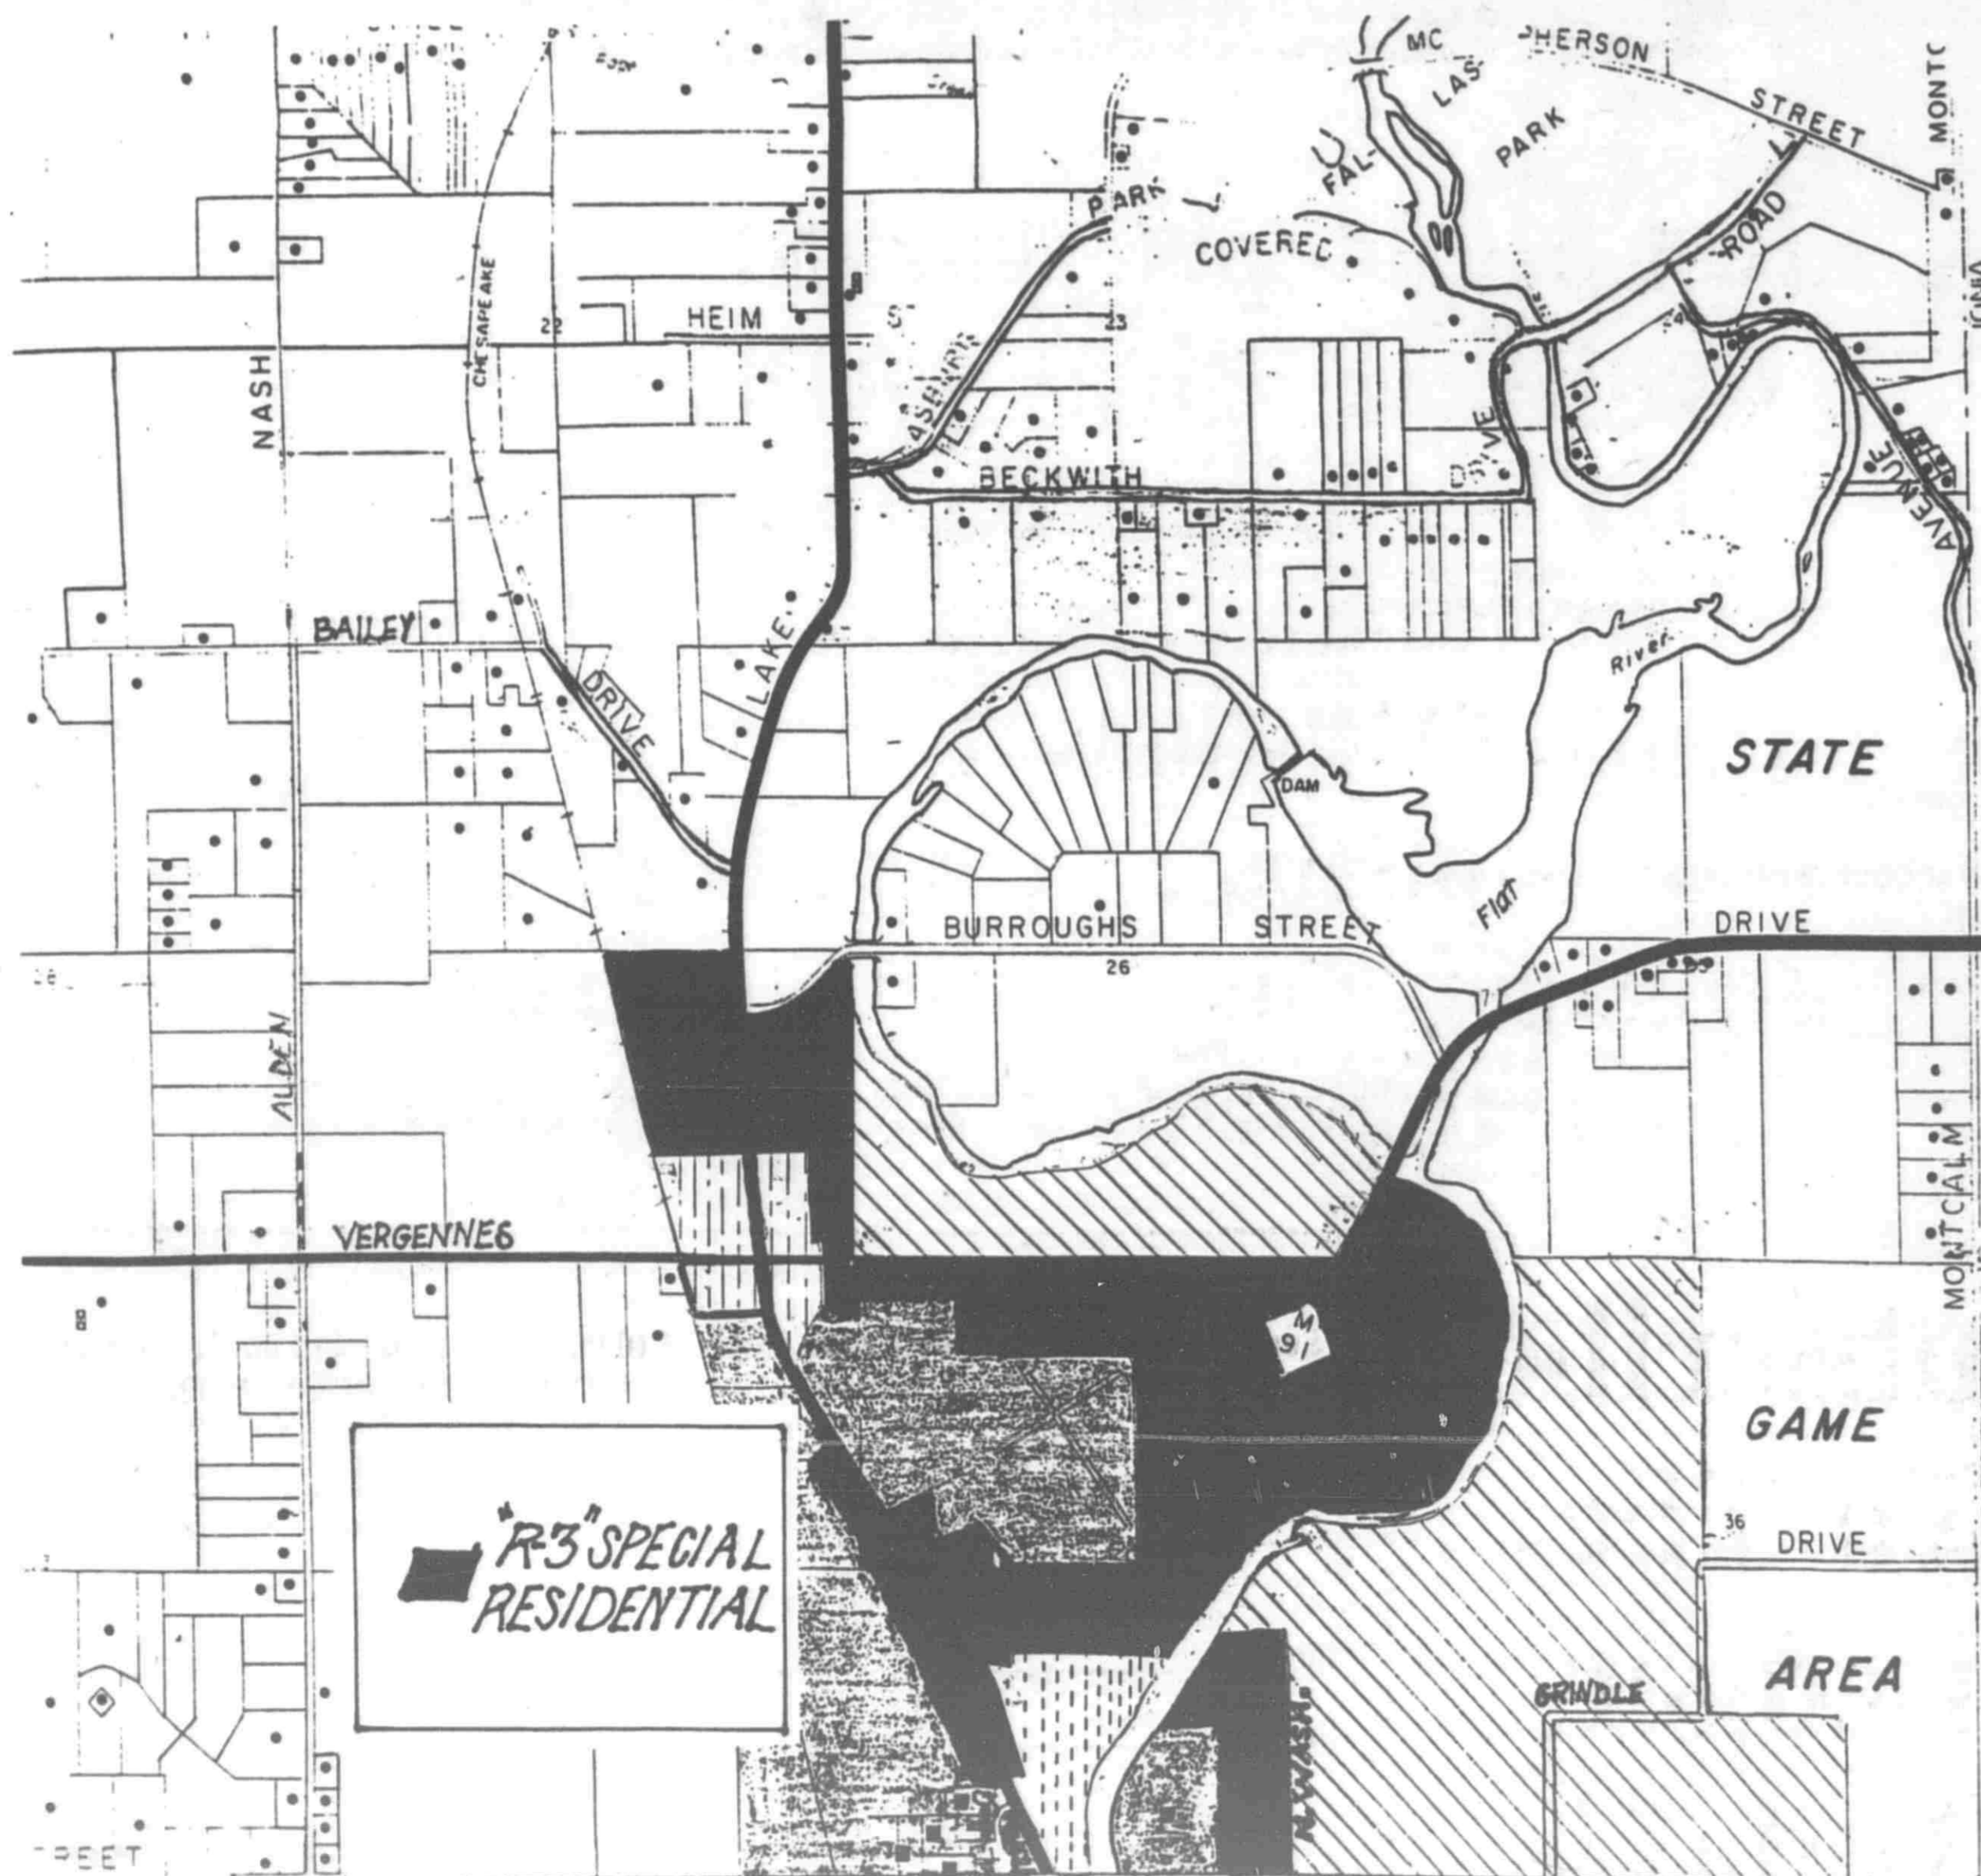

The proposed amendments would implement portions of the Vergennes Township Master Plan, adopted August 9, 1989, concerning division of the present "R-2" Medium Density Residential District into a "R-2" Medium Density Single Family Residential District and a "R-3" Special Residential District. The boundaries of the proposed "R-3" Special Residential District are shown on the map that accompanies this notice.

Under the proposed changes, two family dwellings would not be permitted in the "R-2" Medium Density Single Family Residential District, and all present Special Exception Uses would be removed except for certain medical clinics, licensed day care centers, doctors or dentists offices and farming or agricultural operations.

The ordinance provisions of the "R-3" Special Residential District would be the same as for the present "R-2" Medium Density Residential District, except for the removal of dog kennels and farming and agricultural operations as Special Exception Uses.

The proposed ordinance amendments and the proposed changes to the zoning map are on file at the Vergennes Township Hall and may be reviewed during regular office hours Mondays and Wednesdays, 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Written comments will also be considered if received by the Township Clerk prior to the close of the public hearing.

Planning Commission

Lowell Little League swings and misses in an attempt to land property for new field

Paul Johnson and a contingent of Lowell Little League supporters heard more than they wanted to hear about a piece of city property they'd been eyeing as a possible site for a new Little League complex. Johnson and his group approached the Lowell City Council at their regular meeting on Monday, September 17. Johnson explained that the expanding Little League program is playing games at various fields around the area which creates headaches for parents with more than one child playing baseball. Johnson also noted that the program is in jeopardy of losing their principle fields located on property owned by Central States Precision Grinding. Johnson said the owner of the property may soon be developing it, and the baseball diamonds will have to go.

The city land the group was interested in is a triangular 15.6 acre parcel east of the Flat River, north of the Grand River and bordered on the third side by railroad tracks. The property was purchased a few years ago from William Rogers. It is now part of the city's parks property.

Unfortunately for the Little League, the parcel is nearly impossible to develop and Councilman Jim Hodges told them why. Hodges is the council representative on the Parks and Recreation Committee and also was involved in a previous effort to develop the parcel into a soccer complex. Hodges explained that the only way to access the property is by boat from one of the two rivers or crossing the railroad tracks. To establish a crossing over the tracks approaches would have to be developed because the tracks are elevated well above the surrounding ground level. Also, trees would have to be clear cut for three hundred feet in either direction of the crossing and costly signals and gates would be required. On top of all that, the property is a protected Indian burial ground and is also listed as wetlands by the D.N.R. which restricts development.

Hodges' comments eliminated that parcel as a possible Little League complex. Following further discussion, Johnson and his group were invited to attend the next meeting of the Parks and Recreation Committee to explore other possibilities.

In other council business, a low bid of $29,187 was accepted to make renovations to the rear of City Hall creating a squad room, sergeant's office, interview room and expanding the clerk/dispatch area for the police department. The successful bidder was Rapid Construction of Grand Rapids. The bid was well under the architect's estimate of $36,400 to complete the work.

The council approved the expenditure of $804 to pave approximately 600 square feet of shoulder on the east side of Monroe just south of Main. The Lowell Granite Company will pay $200 toward the project as it will create four parking spaces near their business.

Vi Murray, owner of the Cranberry Urn Antique Shop at 208 E. Main was on hand to complain about losing Main St. parking in front of her store. The parking was recently removed from the south side of Main for that entire block to accommodate a left turn lane at Monroe. Murray said she often must move heavy antiques to or from vehicles. Since she lost parking in front of her store she must either haul the items from the city parking lot or take a chance of being struck by a car while parked in a traffic lane.

Chief of Police Barry Emmons told Murray that a loading zone is not a possibility on a state trunkline and that her options were to use the back door, haul the items from the parking lot on some sort of a wheeled cart or take a chance on parking in the traffic lane. Emmons' response didn't set well with Murray who said the back door idea wouldn't work because there is no way she can get large items through the rear of her store. It became apparent that no solution was at hand, and the issue was finally dropped.

Norm Borgerson, a member of the newly formed Lowell Area Historical Association asked the council for permission to use the second floor of city hall to sort and catalog a variety of items compiled by the group. The council granted its permission.

The unusually short meeting was adjourned less than forty minutes from the Pledge of Allegiance.
