Saturday morning house blaze still under investigation

According to the Lowell Fire Chief, Frank Martin, the fire started in the back porch. He said there was roughly $40,000 worth of damage.

The State Fire Marshall is still investigating the cause of the fire.

Foul play is suspected in a Saturday morning blaze that destroyed a Lowell home at 191 S. Pleasant, according to the Lowell Fire Department Chief.

"The cause of the fire is still being investigated by the State Fire Marshall. We believe it started in the back porch," Lowell Fire Chief Frank Martin said. "Foul play is suspected."

The Lowell Fire Department was called to the scene at about 3:29 a.m. Saturday morning. Martin said the home was already well involved upon the Fire Department's arrival.

The home was being lived in by Roy Aitchison. The Lowell man called the Lowell Fire Department after coming home to the blaze Saturday morning, according to Martin. There was no one in the house at the time of the fire. "We fought the blaze for an hour and then remained on the scene for another four hours," Martin said. Lowell's Fire Chief estimated the damage to be at $40,000.

"The house was completely destroyed," he concluded.

Metropolitan Council stirs controversy among governmental units

Proponents say the proposed Grand Valley Metropolitan Coordinating Council would allow for better planning, and more help from the state government.

Opponents say the organization will create another layer of government and would surrender the independence of many smaller units of government to Grand Rapids and Kent County.

"I have no quarrel with the idea of a Metro Council for coordinating, cooperation and planning of water, sewer, public improvements, solid waste collection, recycling and disposal, and ground and air transportation," says ex-Ada Township Board member, Imogen Vader. "But when it gives the appointed council authorization to levy two-tenths of a mil for operation and up to five-tenths of a mil which would have to be authorized by the people, then I have a problem."

Another big snag that Vader sees in Public Act 292 is the extent to which the council is authorized to plan, promote, finance, issue bonds for, acquire, improve, enlarge, extend, own, construct, replace or contract for public improvements and services including parks, museums, zoos, wildlife sanctuaries and recreational facilities; special use facilities, economic development and planning for the council area and higher education public improvements and services.

The Grand Valley Metropolitan Council was formed after the Minneapolis/St. Paul Council. Senator Dick Posthumus says it could provide services in the area of transportation and water and sewer that in some cases extend beyond the jurisdictional lines of Townships. "Townships and governmental units can't have power that goes beyond their geographical lines. Yes, Townships would be giving up some of their independent authority, but in turn they would be gaining regional authority."

Posthumus sponsored the bill that allowed communities to form councils.

The only area in which the opponents and proponents agree is that the council concept is a good idea. "The City of Lowell had nothing against the concept, but felt one of the moving forces with the Metro Council was water and sewer," said Lowell City Manager Dave Pasquale. "The Lowell City Council felt that since Lowell has its own water and sewer services there was no particular advantage to joining a council."

Pasquale said some of the advantages to the Metro Council would be the economy of scale for water and sewer and for land-use planning. "I think those would be positives that would come from the council. I also believe each governmental unit needs to examine the council on an individual governmental basis," he said. "Some facilities need more than just one governmental unit for support."

While Pasquale agrees with the concept, he says the council has some mechanical problems. "Taxes would be one and the percentage of the vote lying heaviest with Grand Rapids and Kent County would be another," he said.

Lowell Township Supervisor John Timpson said the Township would watch this thing a while before making any decisions and won't be stampeded into making one. "I believe it would work best as a planning council with some authority," Timpson explained. "The way it reads now, the council's authority would be all encompassing. It scares me that the council would take away local control. I'm not ready to relinquish control of the Township which was delegated to me by my constituents to a council which was appointed." He added he had a concern that 63 percent of the council's vote would be representing Grand Rapids and Kent County.

Timpson said he felt the technical problems could be worked out, but it may take a year or two.

Posthumus added that in order to have a Metropolitan Council Articles of Incorporation must be established. "This states what the council can and can't do. What people don't realize is, there would also be a Grand Valley Metropolitan Articles of Incorporation which would be much more limited in its powers."

Pioneer Days Saturday, Oct. 13

Cross the Fallsburg Covered Bridge and drive up on the hill and you find an old white schoolhouse snuggled against the hill. On your way you'll see an historic marker. Those are the areas where Pioneer Days in Fallsburg Village will be celebrated on Saturday, Oct. 13, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, Oct. 14, from noon to 5 p.m. Sponsored by the Fallsburg Historical Society, the festival will feature old-time crafts and activities.

On Saturday only, a group of a dozen or more will show cooking, spinning and other activities of the Revolutionary War era, before 1800. There will be hands-on activities for children, all this at the Falls yard where the historic marker is.

There will be craft booths, bake sales, lunch wagon, demonstrations, buggy rides, a cake contest, raffle tickets and the museum, up at the schoolhouse.

Dowsing lessons will be taught both days. Instead of searching for water, most lessons will center around finding old buried foundations. Donations will be accepted for lessons. Since these will be held in several different places, look for the "DOWS-

ING LESSON" signs. The Cake Contest will feature cake recipes that must be older than 60 years, preferably about 100 years. The cakes must be entered at the contest table near the schoolhouse by 1 p.m. Saturday and judging will be done at 3 p.m. on Saturday. Cakes will be sold after judging. First prize is a cake stand donated by Flat River Antique Mall, second prize is a Covered Bridge cake plate and third place is a Fallsburg cookbook of old recipes.

The raffle tickets will be on sale near the schoolhouse. The prize drawing will be at 4 p.m. on Sunday. First prize is a night for two at the Father McGee Bed and Breakfast, courtesy of Bill and Ardis Barber; second place is hand made knit afghan, third place is a meal for two at Keiser's Kitchen; fourth place a Fallsburg Covered Bridge t-shirt; fifth place Covered Bridge placemats and sixth through ninth place is Fallsburg stationery.

Buggy rides by Ron Robach of Belding will be available for $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for children. These feature a beautiful horse-drawn buggy.

OFF THE BLOTTER

Kenneth Akers of Lowell reported to Lowell Police that his vehicle was struck by a hit and run driver on Ottawa St. near Hudson Oct. 5.

Lowell officers apprehended eight runaway juveniles this past weekend.

Cheri Hendrick, 17, of Lowell backed from a parking space on Riverside Dr. and collided with a car driven by Suzanne Brouwel, 33, of Kentwood, who was driving the wrong way on the one way street just north of Main St. Oct. 2. No injuries were reported.

Arrested and taken to the Kent County Jail on a warrant issued out of a Grand Rapids court was William Baughn, 18, of Lowell on Oct. 3.

A 15 year old ward of the court was referred into Juvenile Court on two counts of Criminal Sexual Contact, 4th degree, by Lowell officers this past week.

Injured in an accident Oct. 3 on Main St. at Center was Mary Iliff, 78, of Lowell, a passenger in a car driven by Bert Iliff of Lowell. Iliff failed to stop at the intersection and struck a car driven by Gerold Young, 42, of Lake Odessa.

A 15 year old juvenile from Alto was taken to Juvenile Detention Sunday, Oct. 7 for Destruction of Police Property, Resisting Arrest, and Receiving and Concealing Stolen Property.

Lowell Township has geographical dilemma when it comes to supporting the Kent County Library System Lowell's Township Board denied Alto its request to contribute toward the rental of the Alto Library building. However, the Lowell Township Board did agree to make a $350 contribution toward utilities.

"I just don't believe we should pay out rent to Bowne Township. We no sooner do that, and the City and Cascade Township will also be at our doorstep," said Lowell Township Supervisor John Timpson.

The current formula used by the Kent County Library System, does not include the cost to run the building. Furthermore, the formula does not give governing bodies any credit for providing building space (City of Lowell, Alto) when determining the amount of money each participating local governmental unit should pay to support the Kent County Library system. Thus it will cost Alto an extra $1,500 to operate from the library building. In 1989, Alto's Kent County Library System support payment was $8,433, plus the $1,500, and the total cost to Alto for its library was $9,933.

The rate for each participating governing body is based on actual use. The formula currently being used to determine the amount participating local governments should pay toward support of the Kent County Library system will be redetermined in 1992.

The central precept of the new formula is that the payment for a given governmental unit should be directly proportional to the use of the Kent County Library System by systems of the governmental unit - the higher the usage the higher the payment.

Lowell Township accounted for 25.959 percent of the 1989 circulation at the Lowell Branch Library, so based on using the 1992 formula, it would be asked to pay $12,345 of Lowell Library's $47,558 which includes salaries, materials, terminals, and indirect costs.

That money and the money paid for the usage of the Alto and Cascade Libraries is directed to the Kent County Library system which is made up of 17 different branches. Using this formula, Lowell Township's actual costs after redistribution would be $37,594. This total also reflects the circulation at all other branches, the costs of services delivered, and costs generated by use by citizens of governmental units that are not members of the Kent County Library System.

Lowell Township would receive $22,508 worth of credit for being part of the system. Under the new 1992 formula, Lowell's payment in 1989 would have been $15,086. Its actual 1989 payment was $8,485. Lowell Township is currently in the process of paying 1990's total of $9,421. Township Clerk, Carol Wells says the 1991 payment will increase to $10,740.

According to Joe Garcia from the Kent County Library System, the new formula would go into effect governmental units that provide building space.

According to Garcia, things used to calculate the current formula simply don't exist anymore. Over the last 10 years, 200 people per year have registered with the Kent County Library System. The system has the highest circulation of any system in Michigan. Its circulation is 2-1 over the City of Grand Rapids.

Garcia was asked why there is no initial charge for an individual's library card to help absorb some of the costs? He said the Attorney General states there will be no fee for use of the library.

Grand Rapids man injures leg in motorcycle accident

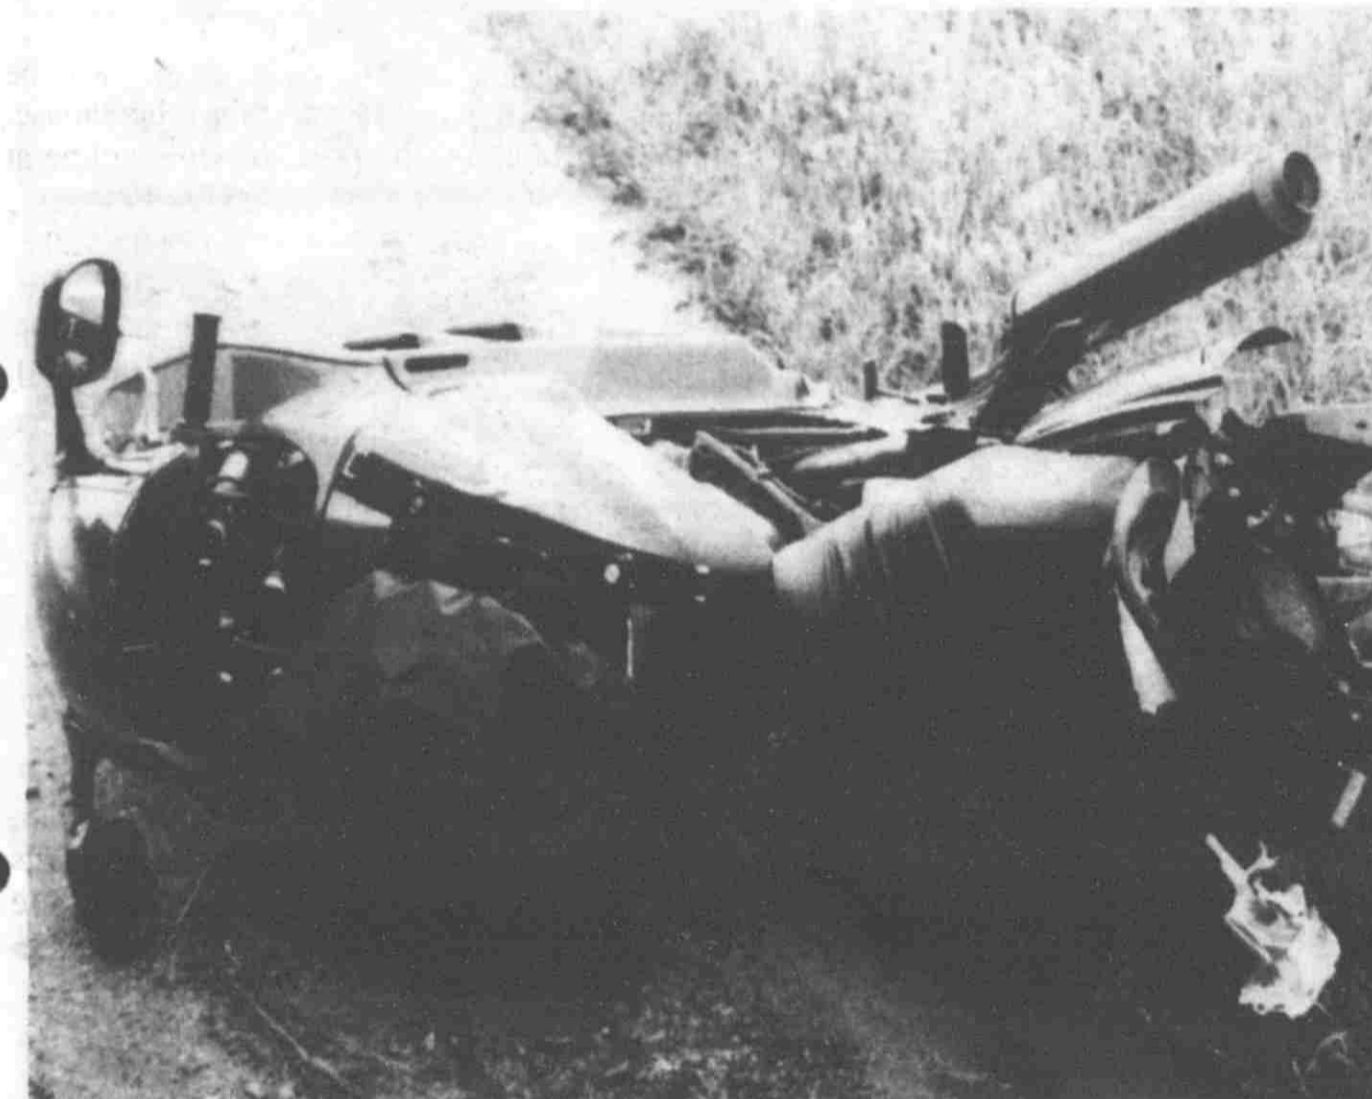

A Grand Rapids man, riding a motorcycle, suffered injuries to his right leg after getting hit from behind on Wednesday, Oct. 3 at approximately 2:05 p.m. on Fulton near Cumberland.

According to the Kent County Sheriff's Department, Matthew Nauta was eastbound on M-21 when he had to stop and wait for the traffic in front of him. While waiting, Nauta was hit from behind by Jesse Davidson, 17, of Belding. Davidson saw that traffic was stopped in front of him, but was unable to avoid hitting Nauta.

The Sheriff's Department said Davidson was ticketed for violation of the speed code and being unable to stop in a short distance.

Nauta was transported to Blodgett Hospital by Lowell Ambulance, where he was treated for a leg injury.

Matthew Nauta was knocked from his motorcycle after being struck in the rear end while stopped for traffic M-21.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

"...thou shalt remember all the way which the Lord...led thee...(Deuteronomy 8:2).

While they washed and wiped the dishes, Grandma told Sue all about her love affair with Grandpa. After recounting how the two of them met and the story of their romance, Grandma said, "Isn't that something, Sue? It was forty-nine years ago, and I still remember."

There are some things one doesn't forget easily - like love affairs and other memorable events. There are certain things Christians should remember, too.

The children of Israel had come a long way. They had crossed the Red Sea and traversed the wilderness. But they had yet to enter and possess the land of Canaan. This was no task for sissies. It demanded strength and courage. Thus, Moses exhorted his followers to recall the mercies of God, the miracles which He had performed for them in the past.

It is good for us, Christians, to recount God's blessings. His past leadings, His goodness. By remembering the mighty works He has done in the past, we are fortified to face the tomorrows. There are some things "I still remember," don't you?

Prayer: O Lord, there are many things "I still remember." There are many things I cannot forget. Thou hast led me and guided me. Thou hast blessed me with Thy abundant salvation. Thou hast been gracious unto me. I cannot cease to praise Thee. I do remember Thy goodness. Amen.

Missionary Church to hold convention Sunday, Oct. 14

The annual Missionary Convention at the Missionary Church will begin this Sunday evening at 6 p.m. Speaker will be Jim Heck, missionary to Ecuador. Heck graduated from Purdue University as an electrical engineer. He felt God leading him to Fort Wayne Bible College (now Summit Christian College) and finally to Quito, Ecuador where he gives full ministrations of HCJB's Technical Services Division. Heck and his wife, Karen, are also very much involved in Bible classes for upperclass Ecuadorians.

Speaking Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. will be Rebecca Cox, who has participated in short-term missions in Mexico and Costa Rica, and she also works with Teen Challenge, an inner-city ministry. Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. the speaker will be Jamie Wilson from Weeping Water, NE. Both Cox and Wilson will be involved in evangelism and church planting in Spain when they complete their Missionary Internship program.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m., Kevin and Julie Moss will have charge of the service. They and their two children will soon be leaving for Sierra Leone, Africa, where Kevin will serve as the field engineer while Julie ministers as the nurse at KRMS, the school for missionary children.

Pastor Glenn Marks invites you to attend these special services. The Missionary Church is located at 10501 Settlemore Drive, just 1/2 mile north of M-21.

Viewpoint

Cozy Corner by Roger Brown

A thought crossed my mind as I was standing out in the rain, wind and cold early this morning while my dogs performed their duties. No, I didn't think it would be nice to have a gun handy to shoot them with. That thought is pretty much a permanent fixture, not a passing fancy. As the rain and cold began to have their usual effect on my sinuses I thought it would really be nice if hats came back into vogue. You know, like back in the forties and fifties when all the men wore a smart looking felt hat. I don't know about you, but I and my sinuses would sure like to see that trend revived, at least for the winter months.

I understand that we can blame President Kennedy for the passing of the hat. Please excuse me if you caught a pun there. Kennedy campaigned for the Presidency wearing his thick wavy hair a little long and boyish looking. The last thing he wanted to do was cover up the image with a hat. He really drove a stake through the heart of the hat industry when he was inaugurated on a cold January day in Washington D.C. The bareheaded president stood before all those TV cameras and forever doomed the popularity of hats. Anyone investing in the market back then would have been very wise to dump their Stetson stock and invest in Sine-Aid, Sudafed or Dristan.

I do have a felt hat, and I love it. However, I seldom wear it because of an incident that took place last winter. It was a cold blustery day and I was running some errands around town wearing my leather jacket and felt hat. I entered a store and was told by an acquaintance that I looked like a chubby Indiana Jones. If I was really trying to look like Indiana Jones I'd have been equipped with a bullwhip and .38 revolver. The heckler might have been in real trouble. I quit wearing the hat in public.

In fact, I own a variety of hats, none of which are suitable for wear on the job. Somehow I just can't imagine myself showing up to cover a city council meeting wearing my leather aviator's helmet. Try something like that and I'd be likely to find myself in a room over at Kent Community.

I've got a yellow, rubberized, felt lined "Nor'wester" like the east coast fishermen wear. I can't believe I'd have much success hawking ads for the Ledger and Buyers Guide going from business to business wearing that thing. Even if it was cold and rainy I'd be better off with wet hair and throbbing sinuses. My Nor'wester is best left in the closet until needed on a rainy fishing trip far, far away from anyone I know.

I've got a nice felt "Smoky Bear" hat that I wear on camping expeditions. It's a great hat. If it rains the wide brim offers lots of protection. This hat also has a secondary benefit in that it affords a reasonable amount of privacy in the wilderness. Other campers think I'm a game warden and keep their distance. This hat is also not suitable for wear with a jacket and tie.

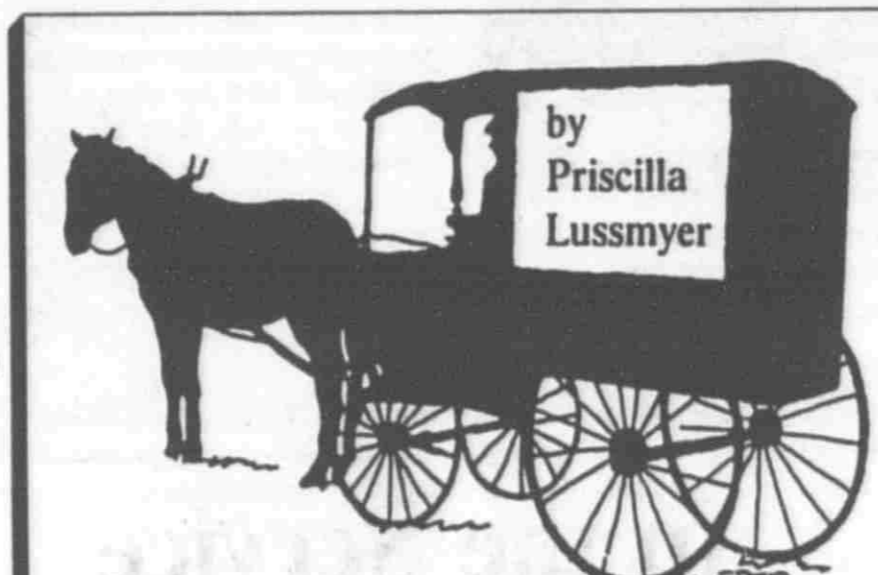

I have a black, narrow brimmed felt hat. At one time a hat such as this would have been a snappy looking hat suitable for wear in the business world. However, in the late seventies a movie called "The Blues Brothers" swept the nation and a black felt hat coupled with dark sunglasses make the wearer look just like Jake or Elwood Blues. My brother and I have complete Jake and Elwood costumes that we sometimes wear for Halloween. The hat is best left in the closet with the rest of the garb from November 1 through October 30.

I have an assortment of those adjustable baseball style hats. My favorite is a bright lime colored one that has a black embroidered inscription that reads, "I don't want to talk about it". People look at me, read the hat, and just can't help but "talk about it". Again, there's nothing in this collection that ought to be worn in the business world.

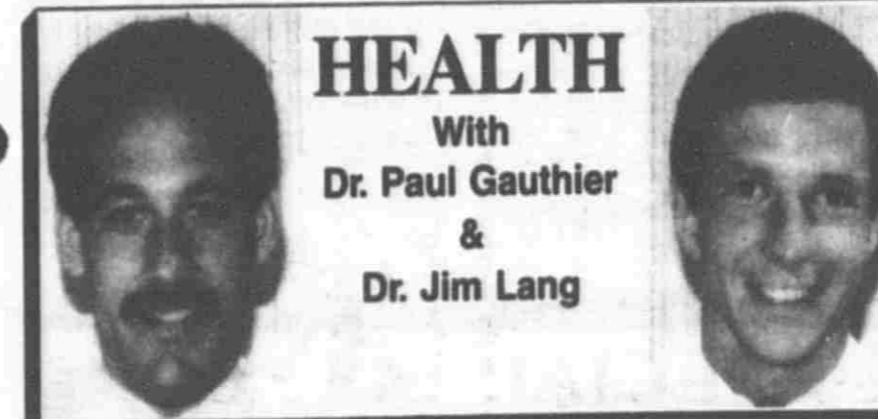

I've got a number of hats that came home from the Army with me. There is the overseas cap that has several nicknames not suitable for print. I have the dress uniform hat that we affectionately referred to as a "bus driver's hat". I have a hat with floppy ear flaps made to be worn under a helmet in cold weather. I even have my Military Police helmet liner, steel pot and camouflage cover. Veteran's Day is just around the corner... maybe, just maybe, I'll wear one of these to work November 11.

Well, that's about it. There are some assorted stocking caps floating around, but they make your hair look like a science project when removed. I guess I'm doomed to spend the winter with my sinuses plugged up. I suppose I could sell out and move to Florida, but then I'd need something for protection from the sun. Do you suppose I'd be accused of trying to look like Harry Belafonte if I wore a white Panama?

risk if they have a chronic condition of the heart, lungs or any major organ system. Most doctors recommend vaccine in all senior citizens to avoid complications, like pneumonia, that are directly related to influenza.

The vaccine is made up of three different viruses that are purified so that protective antibodies can be developed to prevent actual infection upon exposure to any one of the real viruses during the flu season. Side effects of the vaccine are rare and include local swelling or redness at the site of the vaccination or very rarely chills, fever or muscle aches 6-12 hours after vaccination, lasting a day or so. The vaccine should not be given to those that have had serious allergic reactions to eggs or egg products.

In summary, the influenza vaccine is a proven preventative measure given so that you can get through the flu season without getting the flu or experiencing its complications.

Lowell High School names its October Students-of-the-Month

The faculty and staff at Lowell High School have chosen the first students-of-the-month for the 1990-91 school year. They are Senior Geri Dykema, Junior Adam Catlin, Sophomore Andrea Nave and Freshman Deb Wieland.

Dykema is the daughter of James and Susan Dykema of Lowell. She has enjoyed her years at Lowell High School, joining the International Club and the National Honor Society. She was honored for academics at the honors dessert. Dykema is a member of the South Boston Bible Church's Youth Group. Favorite summer activities include biking and volleyball. Dykema lists her favorite class as Accounting 3 because "I like the aspects of accounting which deal with business, and I enjoy running the spirit store." The spirit store is an Athletic Boosters project which Dykema helps with. Her teacher nominator points out that Dykema "has a lot of school spirit, which makes her work with the spirit store even more important to her."

Catlin is the son of Paul and Pat Catlin of Lowell. He has been very active in art at LHS. His teacher describes his work as being of very high calibre and adds that he is "tremendously motivated and industrious, and very helpful and patient with new art students." Catlin's work has appeared in a variety of shows through the MAEA, Scholastic and Spanish II. She says her likes include reading and eating. Her teacher nominator says Nave has a positive attitude about learning and "handles herself in a mature and confident manner."

Wieland is the daughter of Bill and Carol Wieland of Lowell. During her first year

Boersma receives Calvin College scholarship

Elizabeth J. Boersma, a resident of Lowell and a graduate at Grand Rapids Christian High School, received a $550 Honors Scholarship for the 1990-91 school year from Calvin College in Grand Rapids, MI. Boersma is a freshman at Calvin.

An Honors Scholarship requires a high school or previous college grade-point average of 3.50 or better. These scholarships are awarded to students in the top 25 percent of the incoming freshman class, and the scholarships are renewable if a student maintains a grade-point average of 3.50 or higher.

Established in 1876, Calvin is a Christian four-year liberal arts college with an enrollment of 4,270. Calvin's mission, to provide a quality Christian education at a reasonable price, has been described in guidebooks such as The Best Buys in College Education and Selective Guide to Colleges as well as in magazines such as U.S. News & World Report and Changing Times.

In China it was believed drinking wine made from aster flowers would encourage longevity.

Another important Metro Council drawback is that in order for a governmental unit to withdraw from the council, it must give notice six months and one day prior to the Council's fiscal year. Meanwhile, that governmental unit would still be liable for any taxes the Council voted upon during that time while it waited to be released.

"When you create an entity that has authority, the decision to get in or out must be thought through," Posthumus said. "I don't think there will much jumping in and out of the council."

Vader said she believes that had the "Alphabet Soup" agencies such as AGRAG, GRATA and GGRATE been given the financial backing the Metro Council is set to get, they too could have been successful. Posthumus notes that with these separate agencies there was no coordinated effort on the part of the groups.

"The Council is a coordinated effort which would save taxpayers money by eliminating the duplication of services and help bring about a clear quality of life," Posthumus said. "Because you can't spot growth, but you can help in managing it by taking advantage of the positives and reducing negatives, such as haphazard development and transportation gridlock."

Vader believes it's another layer of government - a power grab. "It has the means to do away with representative government," she said.

Vader said she believes governmental units can cooperate with what the Metro Council proposes, but without a third layer of government.

"The advantage for us (in Lowell and Bowne Townships) as the Council currently exists is that it includes us in the planning process. We can either participate or let others plan without us," Posthumus said. "It's a question of having some say or none at all, which is what we have now. The Council gives us an united voice."

MYSTERY FARM?

CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS MYSTERY FARM?

This aerial photograph was taken especially for the Lowell Ledger and is part of a series of Kent County farms.

No one knows whose farm the aerial photographer snapped, so it's up to you, our readers, to identify the mystery farm each week.

If you can identify this mystery farm...merely fill out the entry blank below with your answer, name and address and mail or drop off at the Lowell Ledger, P.O. Box 128, Lowell, MI 49331.

The name of the person correctly identifying this farm will be put in a drawing to be held on Monday, October 15, at noon for a FREE DINNER FOR TWO (excluding drinks) at Sneakers in downtown Lowell, a free gallon of Devoe flat white latex paint from Lowell Paint & Wallpaper and a free subscription to the Ledger.

The owner of each week's Mystery Farm will receive ABSOLUTELY FREE, a 4x5 color photo of the farm merely by claiming it at the Lowell Ledger office by the following Wednesday noon.

In the 27th week of the Lowell Ledger Mystery Farm, there were 14 responses, with 13 of them being correct. In week 28, let's see if we can increase the number of correct responses. It should also be noted, that when identifying a farm, the first and last name should be used. Also only entry forms printed in the Ledger will be accepted. Thanks for your cooperation.

Students celebrate a week-long slate of Homecoming activities

Lowell High School celebrated its 1990 Homecoming, using the theme chosen by its student council "Enchantment Under The Sea."

Lowell students and faculty showed school spirit by participating in a week full of activities. On Monday, students celebrated "Proud-to-be-an-American Day" by dressing in the patriotic colors of red, white and blue.

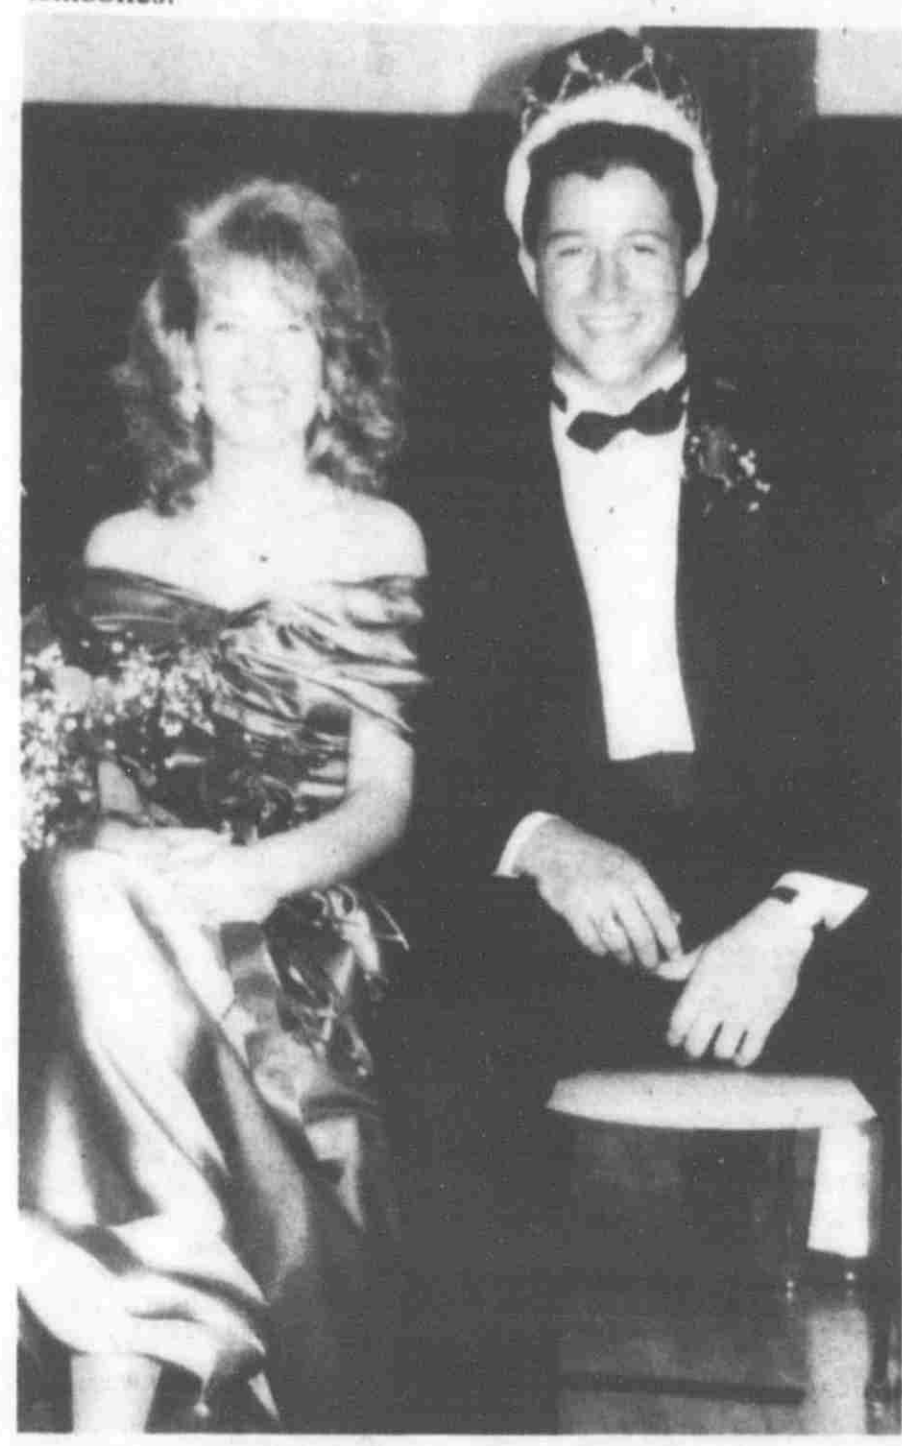

Tuesday was "Wild Hair Day" as students and faculty were encouraged to do something different and "funky" to their hair. The student winners were Chris Geisert, Josh Andrews, and Amanita Boersma.

On Friday, "Red & White Day" there was an assembly with the new king and queen crowned. An alumni tea was held, a tailgate party and a parade all took place prior to the football game with Zeeland.

Members of the junior, sophomore and freshman court included Molly Byrne, A.J. Teft, Noah Menerey, Vicki Videan, George Ponchard and Sarah Matycyn.

Student Council advisor Bob VanBelois said Homecoming Week was a lot of work and thought the week went well.

well. "I'd like to thank everyone who assisted in the Homecoming activities, especially businesses who donated towards the raffle, and car dealers who let us use the automobiles."

Metro 25 starts 12-point checkup service

Br! In just weeks, another brisk Michigan winter will descend on us. Although outdoor enthusiasts and sportsmen anxiously await those months when our "winter wonderland" becomes a premier recreational destination, Michigan's cold weather climate can wreak havoc on an automobile that's not prepared for the season.

Motorists can learn if their cars are likely to run trouble-free during the upcoming winter by stopping at AAA Michigan's free Winter Car Care Inspection, Oct. 8-21 at Metro 25-Lowell Tire Center, 746 W. Main St., Lowell, across the street from Wittenbach Olds, Pontiac, GMC.

The Winter Car Care Inspection, open to the public, offers a free 12-point checkup designed to help drivers avoid potential cold weather problems.

"This year, in cooperation with Metro 25 Tire Centers, we have expanded our annual Winter Car Care program in keeping with our commitment to help get motorists through the winter months," said Robert Joldersma, President of Wittenbach, Olds, Pontiac, GMC.

More than 20,000 Michigan motorists are expected to take advantage of the Winter Car Care inspections, which will operate daily as a motorist convenience during regular Metro 25 store hours throughout the two-week period. Last year, inspections were held on a one-day basis at 23 locations. "This annual inspection has gone over tremendously," Joldersma said.

Metro 25, the largest independent tire dealer network in North America, will have its technicians check the following during a 10-minute inspection:

- Belts and hoses. Press on the middle of each belt to test tension. Tighten or replace belts that give more than 1 to 1½ inches. Check for cracks and fraying and be sure hoses are firmly in place. Replace as needed.
- Battery terminals. Dip a wire brush in a baking soda-and-water mix and scrub corroded battery terminals and cable ends. Do not splash on painted surfaces or clothing. If the battery is not maintenance-free, make sure water is at the correct level.
- Automatic transmission fluid.
- Brake fluid. Pry off the reservoir cover clips with a screwdriver if necessary, or just screw off the cap on some of the newer models. Keep the fluid level within one-quarter inch from the top. New models have translucent reservoirs and can be checked visually.
- Motor oil. Check level with dipstick. Add oil as needed. Check owner's manual for intervals between changes and for SAE grade.
- Power steering fluid.
- Antifreeze level and strength.
- Windshield washer solvent.
- Air filter element.
- Wiper blades.
- Lights and directional signals.
- Tire pressure and wear. Check the pressure with the gauge for correct inflation and inspect tread wear. Take a "cold" reading of inflation pressures by waiting until the car has been sitting for at least three hours.

TOWN TALK

Would you be in favor of a sweeper going through Eastgate and sweeping up leaves, twigs and debris off the streets?

Debbie Beck
I'd quit burning if the service was available. We have about 10 trees in our backyard and we rake only when it's absolutely necessary. It would depend a lot on how much it would cost us. Taxes are already sky-high.

Kathy Walker
I don't burn my leaves, I bag them. There's too much burning, thus I would favor having a sweeper come through. I think people are more into ecology these days and would use the service.

Todd Weststrate
I guess if I was a homeowner I would be in favor of it, especially if people would quit burning. I would not burn if the service was available.

Bette Langridge
I think it would be a wonderful idea. On some fall days you can't see out your window here because the smoke is so thick. I wouldn't mind the extra cost at all. Some people like to burn just to burn.

Ken Gregersen
I burn now, but I would use the service. There's way too much burning. Some people in this area burn year-round. I'm in favor of the sweeper idea.

Dawn VanderWulp
I'm definitely in favor of the service. I'm not in favor of a tax hike. Due to the closeness of the neighbors, we burn in the backyard. I would quit burning if we got the service and if it wasn't a lot of money. I would hope that this would motivate people to rake their leaves.

Debbie Brook
Definitely. I don't burn my leaves, I bag them. I don't like what the smoke does to our ozone layer. I also don't like the smell of the smoke, so I'm in favor of such a service.

Linda Phillips
No, I wouldn't be in favor of it because we rake, load and then dump the leaves in my grandparents' field. I don't see any reason to contribute toward polluting the sky and filling the landfills. Burning is a problem. Too many people burn. A person has to shut his/her windows on a nice day because of the smoke and ashes. There is also a danger of little kids getting burned. I'd like to see the Township smooth out the ruts in the road.

Outdoor carol singing seems to have started in the Middle Ages when groups of people went from house to house to sing by torchlight.

Non-productive 2nd quarter sends Lowell to a 53-45 loss at FHC

Forest Hills Central coach, Bill VanderWoude instilled some preventive, defensive tactics after watching his girls fall behind early to Lowell last Tuesday night. "I told the girls in the huddle after the first quarter, that we can't stop Erica Hackenbruch once she gets the ball, so we have to do something to prevent her from getting the ball."

For VanderWoude that meant pressuring the Red Arrow guards. It worked, as it keyed an FHC 8-0 second quarter and enabled the Rangers to post a key 53-45 win in the O-K White Conference.

"The key to the ballgame was our inability to score a point in the second quarter," Akers said. "The other key was our inexperience at the guard position. When I had to take Czarnopis out with her third foul we could not get the ball up court against Central's pressure."

Czarnopis picked up her third foul with less than a minute to play in the first quarter. "Czarnopis has to cut down on her silly fouls."

Lowell, playing as good as it possibly could on the offensive end in the first quarter, built an impressive 17-11 first-quarter lead, the final bucket coming on a buzzer-beating 10-foot jumper in the lane by Amy Stauffer.

The Red Arrows continued to dominate their opponent on the boards as they unofficially out-rebounded Central 45-34.

"Our frontline is averaging 27 rebounds a game. This is the best frontline I've had since coaching the girls and it's probably the best Lowell has ever had," Akers said.

Hackenbruch led all Lowell players with 14 points and 10 rebounds. "Hackenbruch is a tough ballplayer. Especially when she gets the ball inside," VanderWoude said.

Angie Brown puts up a short jumper over the top of the Chix defender.

While Lowell may have had the toughest play, both coaches agreed Casey Crumley was the sweetest. "She certainly is smooth," FHC's coach said. Akers added "She is so sweet and has just a terrific shot." The Ranger senior had a game-high 19 points.

Lowell trailed 19-17 at halftime and fell behind by as many as 10 in the third quarter. Lowell scraped and clawed its way back to within three at 44-41 with roughly 4:17 to play in the game.

The Red Arrows however had 3-4 opportunities within a minute-and-a-half to cut into the lead, but could not capitalize. "It's a case of having players out on the floor who haven't been in that position before," Akers said. "The girls are still learning how to win these type of games."

Forest Hills struggled early in the game at the foul line, but when the game was on the line the Ranger shooters found the net. "Overall we didn't shoot all that well from the line, but did a much better job toward the end of the game," VanderWoude said. "This was a typical close game between these two schools. It's exactly what I expected."

LOWELL 48
ZEELAND 22

The Red Arrows bounced back from its defeat to the Rangers with convincing style as worked over Zeeland.

"I told the girls before the game that I wanted four strong quarters from them," Akers said. "I was happy with their performance."

Lowell ran out to a 14-3 first-quarter lead and increased its margin to 17 at halftime, 28-11. "I thought Angie Brown gave us a solid first half of play."

The game enabled Akers and Arnett led the scoring charge with nine points apiece. Renee Nugent added seven and cleared a game-high 10 rebounds. Hackenbruch added nine carries and Arnett grabbed five.

FAMILY FARE

Athletes of the Week

ERICA HACKENBRUCH - Lowell's senior center is averaging over 10 rebounds a game. This explains why she is the school's all-time leading rebounder. Hackenbruch currently has over 650 career rebounds. "Erica has meant so much to this program and is a main reason for our success over the last three years," Lowell coach Ken Akers said. "You won't find a more dedicated player. She's a leader and also has taken time on her own to help underclassmen." Since Hackenbruch's arrival at the varsity level, Lowell is 38-16 with one conference and one district championship.

JERUD JOYNT - The Red Arrow linkster started the 1990 golf season as one of the league's two best golfers. With the regular season now over, Joynt has done nothing to change that. "Jerud has probably dedicated himself more to the game of golf than anyone player I've coached," Lowell coach Jack Ogle said. This past week, Joynt shot 38's against Ionia and Rogers/Wyoming Park. Joynt carded an 85 in the Conference Championship.

"Jerud's goal is to qualify for state competition. I think the senior co-captain stands a legitimate chance at meeting that goal," Ogle said.

HEATHER TAPP - This Red Arrow tennis player has been a member of the number one doubles team all season. She is Lowell's senior captain. "Tapp is probably our most dedicated and consistent player. She works extremely hard and usually stays longer after practice to work on her game," Lowell coach Wendy Ackerman said. Tapp and her partner Allison Zillmer placed third at the O-K White Conference Championship.

MICHELLE OLIVER - The freshman cross country harrier has been coach Tom Harper's number two runner all year. She placed 13th at the Bath Invitational; seventh at the Lowell Invitational; and fourth at the DeWitt Invitational. Oliver ran her fastest race against Saranac as she broke the tape at 20:42. "She works hard and makes every practice," Harper said. "I wish I had seven Michelle Olivers to work with."

Red Arrow netters place 6th in Conference finals; but beat up on Rogers and Caledonia, 5-2

Lowell's Red Arrow girls' tennis team put together one of its best weeks of tennis as it defeated O-K White foe, Rogers, 5-2 and non-conference opponent, Caledonia, 5-2.

"The girls played well in both matches," Lowell coach Wendy Ackerman said. "They hit solid shots in both matches. The girls are beginning to place their shots, making their opponent work for each shot." In its match against Rogers, both Kathie Abel and Nancy Wingeier were splendid at number one and two singles respectively. Abel defeated Blenda Tegrootenhuis 6-2, 6-1 in straight sets. "Kathie was powerful at the net and placed the ball extremely well," Ackerman said.

Wingeier was equally as impressive, setting down Holly Horning in straight sets 6-0, 6-3. "Nancy used her powerful first serve to intimidate and to score on Golden Hawk Kay Pinney in a 6-3, 6-3 win.

Rogers' Renee Hui defeated Lowell's Connie Colburn 7-6, 6-4 in a fourth singles thriller. In an exhibition match fifth singles, Shannon Young defeated Karla Vandam 8-0.

The Red Arrows took 2-out-of-3 from the Golden Hawks in doubles play as Jenny Langridge and Sara Kelley defeated Dawn Wiltsie and Stephanie Alderink 6-4, 6-1. In third singles, Tara Sterly and Rachael McGrew defeated Rachael Van Zoeten and Kalani McEwen 6-0, 6-1.

Lowell's number one doubles team of Heather Tapp and Allison Zillmer lost to Karri Dykema and Belinda Thomas 2-6, 6-3, 4-6.

LOWELL 5
CALEDONIA 2

Kathie Abel continued her strong play as she overpowered Pam Johnson in number one singles 6-1, 6-4.

Nancy Wingeier followed her teammate's lead as she recorded a 6-1, 6-0 win.

Diedre DenBoer lost in a tough three sets to Caledonia's Cheryl Kral 6-4, 4-6, 4-6.

Shannon Young, playing fourth singles was edged by Katie Ramsey in two sets 7-5, 6-4.

In doubles play, Heather Tapp and Allison Zillmer defeated the team of Jayme Poll and Lisa Johnson 6-3, 6-0.

Lowell's second doubles team of Jenny Langridge and Sara Kelley came from a setback to defeat Emily Whisner and Cindy Vansprange, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1. "They started out weak, but finished strong with powerful net shots and returns," Ackerman said.

"Sterly and McGrew also played well as a team. They hit many solid shots."

Tara Sterly and Rachael McGrew also came from behind in winning 3-6, 6-1, 6-3.

O-K WHITE TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

Lowell's girls' tennis team earned third-place finishes from its first and third doubles teams at the O-K White Conference Championship in East Grand Rapids on Saturday.

The Red Arrows placed sixth overall, besting Sparta and Rogers.

Again in 1990 it was the Pioneers of EGR and Forest Hills Central who vied for top honors. East Grand Rapids took home the trophy with 32 points. Forest Hills Central had 31, followed by Wyoming Park 21.5, Northview 18, Zeeland 11, LOWELL 8.5, Sparta 3.5, and Rogers 2.

"The girls worked extremely hard and played well at the conference championship," Lowell coach Wendy Ackerman said. "We had a lot of tough draws."

The only Red Arrow to win her opening match was Nancy Wingeier as she defeated her opponent from Zeeland.

Rachael McGrew and Tara Sterly tallied some points as they finished third in the number three doubles bracket.

Heather Tapp and Allison Zillmer, playing at number one doubles, also earned some team points with a third place finish.

Lowell received great defensive play from Ryan Peil. The Red Arrow held EGR's Greg Hicks in check throughout the game.

LOWELL 3,
SPARTA 0

With the wind at its back the red Arrows scored three second-half goals as it shut-out the Spartans.

With Sparta set up to stop Lowell's right side, the Red Arrows pushed the ball left with much success in the second half.

Jason White crossed the ball to Jon Kohler and the Arrows' left attacker made good on the feed five minutes into the second half as he posted Lowell's first goal.

Within five minutes, Kohler reenacted the same shot as he recorded his second goal of the game.

With Kohler at the leader position, and White taking a breather, Travis Briggs went to left attacker, Troy Addington who assisted Briggs by taking out Sparta's sweeper and Briggs kicked in Lowell's third goal.

Course records are set at Lowell Invitational

Red Arrows coast past Zeeland

Lowell coach Tom Harper said the weather was perfect for the annual Lowell Invitational on Saturday at Fallsburg Park. "It was, if you were a race director," Harper smiled.

It was also a perfect day for racing if you were Brian Hyde or Molly Lori from East Kentwood. The two Falcons set course records in their meets. Hyde set a boys' course record at Fallsburg, breaking the tape at 16:37. Lori did the same in the girls' meet, breaking the tape at 19:22.

"Hyde is something to watch. He didn't even look like he was working," Harper said. "He runs so smoothly."

Lowell's Clay VanderWarf, who has finished first in all of his O-K White races, was third at 17:38, finishing roughly a minute behind Hyde. Brad Charles of Fremont was second with a time of 16:57.

Lori also placed a minute in front of her challenger, Sheila Rottier from Fremont. Rottier stopped the clock at 20:29. Robyn Brandow of Grandville was third at 20:49. Lowell's top girl runner, Hillari Kirsch, had to sit out because of a cold.

"I have two super runners in Clay and Hillari and wouldn't trade them for anyone, but Kentwood has two sensational runners in Hyde and Lori," Harper said.

Jason VanderWarf was in 20th place after the first lap and came on strong to finish eighth at 18:18. There were just two seconds between VanderWarf and the next Red Arrow, David Stouffer. However, there were three runners. Stouffer finished 12th at 18:20. Jesse Davidson was 17th, stopping the clock at 18:34 and Sergio Saldivar was 26th at 19:07, beating out Tom Mull, who ran the course in 19:32. "Saldivar ran well and finished with a good time," Harper said.

Also running, but not figuring in the scoring, was Pete Wills. He finished in the 46th position at 20:34. "Wills has a good work attitude. I thought his time and placement were good."

Harper said he told his club to hold even over the first lap and then move up over the second lap. "I think a few times this year we started out too fast and then faded. I wanted the boys to hold early and then move up."

The final team standings were East Kentwood 42, Fremont (defending state champion) 56, Lowell 66, Grandville 90, Rockford 159, Ottawa Hills and Union 162, Northview 211, and Kelloggsville 222.

Fremont's girls were the 1989 state runner-up, taking top honors in the small but strong girls' bracket.

The Packers were first with 27 points. Grandville finished second at 51, East Kentwood was third at 57 and Lowell was fourth with 89.

"These were four pretty good teams," Harper said. "We were running without our leader (Hillari Kirsch)."

The Red Arrows got an outstanding effort from Michelle Oliver. She finished seventh overall at 22:12. "Oliver gave us a real good effort," Harper explained.

Lowell's Rhea Bundy finished 14th with a time of 23:38. Sara Lesky was 19th, breaking the tape at 24:20. "Lesky has really worked hard all year. She gives 110 percent all the time," Harper said.

Chris Decke finished 23rd

in a time of 26:23 and Cheryl Kirkbride was 26th at 35:10. "Give Cheryl credit, she went out and finished the race for us, otherwise we would have been disqualified for not having enough runners," Harper said.

Lowell's boy harriers posted the best conference times of the day at Johnson Park as it defeated a competitive Zeeland club 26-30.

"The Chix have a good club. I believe Central only beat them by five points," Harper said. "So I wasn't surprised that Zeeland ran so well."

The scores change from week-to-week but Clay VanderWarf's number one position remains constant. The Lowell senior finished first for the fifth time in as many conference meets as he came home in 17:23. Zeeland's Jamie Serme was second, 23 seconds back at 17:46. His teammate, Mike Tubergen was third, six seconds in back of Serme, breaking the tape at 17:52.

Lowell's Jason VanderWarf finished fourth with a time of 17:56, two seconds ahead of Zeeland's Brian Ruch, who finished the race in 17:58.

David Stouffer came home in sixth with a time of 18:02. With each school having three runners off the course, the Chix led 10-11.

The Red Arrows gained the advantage and the match when Jesse Davidson (18:05) and Tom Mull (18:41) finished seventh and eighth respectively.

Zeeland's fourth and fifth runners came off the course in the ninth and 11th spots.

Aaron Vandewege finished ninth at 18:56 and David Drnek was 11th in 19:09.

LOWELL 15
ZEELAND 50

The Arrow girls basically ran against themselves as they won in a forfeit as Zeeland only had two runners finish the race.

Hillari Kirsch was first in a time of 20:42 beating Zeeland's Tonia Coppelaar, who finished the course in 21:14.

Michelle Oliver continued with her fine season as she placed third in 21:42. Rhea Bundy followed her home in fourth place with a time of 23:05. Sara Lesky made it a trio, braking the tape at 23:14 in fifth place.

Zeeland's Amber Lamer was sixth at 24:43.

Chris Decke was Lowell's fifth runner finishing up at 24:56.

Lowell sweeps EGR; falls to FHC & Northview

Lowell's soccer team completed its sweep of perennial O-K White soccer power, East Grand Rapids, as it defeated the Pioneers 1-0.

The victory helped Lowell return to its winning ways after losses to Forest Hills and Northview. "Our defense and midfield came back and played like they did earlier in the season," Lowell coach John Turkal said.

The only goal of the game came on an Andy Williamson kick-in off a rejected shot by Jason White.

Lowell received great defensive play from Ryan Peil. The Red Arrow held EGR's Greg Hicks in check throughout the game.

LOWELL 3,

With the wind at its back the red Arrows scored three second-half goals as it shut-out the Spartans.

Lowell's only goal came on a corner kick by Jason White.

FHC's first goal came on a penalty shot by Drew Arneith. The game's winning goal was made by Ranger Aaron Pilking on a shot from the left wing. "This was a well played high school soccer program. It was charmingly emotional and very intense," Turkal said.

NORTHVIEW 2,

Lowell was outplayed by the underdog Wildcats as Northview dominated the tempo of the game in defeating the Red Arrows.

Both goals were scored by Northview's Soren Christensen. "We outshot them, but were not forceful enough," Turkal said.

Zeeland humbles Lowell at Homecoming, 47-12

Zeeland coach Stan Jesky stood at midfield two years ago pondering how Lowell had managed to defeat its highly touted Chix ballclub. Last Friday night, Jesky brought another powerhouse Zeeland club to Burch Field, but this time he stood at midfield after the game pondering how his club handed Lowell one of its most lopsided losses in recent memory, 47-12.

"It wasn't a perfect game, but our boys executed to about 95 percent of their potential," Jesky said. Offensively, the Chix rolled up nearly 500 yards, most of it through the running of senior Jason Onstott and junior Jeff Vieniing. "We executed extremely well offensively all night long." Jesky's only complaint was the Chix failed to score when it had the ball inside the 20 for the first time all year on their opening second half drive.

Zeeland scored on six of its first seven possessions as it ruined the Red Arrow standing room only homecoming crowd.

"Defensively we played terrible," Lowell coach Phil Christensen said. "Offensively we moved the ball, but our defense never stopped Zeeland and gave our offense the ball back."

The Zeeland win keeps the Chix O-K White Conference hopes alive and sets up another big game Friday when Zeeland plays host to Rogers. Zeeland is now 4-1 in the O-K White, its only loss coming to Forest Hills Central.

Lowell, meanwhile, drops to 3-2 in the conference and 3-3 overall.

The festive homecoming evening started off in great fashion for the inspired Red Arrows. Lowell took the ball on its opening possession and marched it 83 yards in four plays and took just 2:33 off the first-quarter clock. Brett Knoop, who had a sensational evening rushing the football, rushed for 39 yards in the drive. His touchdown carry covered 31 yards. "Knoop is a good, hard runner," Jesky commented. The Red Arrow rushed the ball 21 times for 196 yards.

Those two minutes and a 20-yard touchdown pass from Randy Crawford to Mike Tuma with 4:10 to play in the game were the only homecoming highlights for Lowell. Through the air Lowell was 5-of-13 for 88 yards.

Zeeland's running backs and offensive line controlled Lowell's defense the entire contest. "I think tonight we had more skilled athletes that performed well," Jesky said. Lowell would be hard pressed to argue that. The Jay Riemersma led Chix charge executed its running plays and passes to near perfection. Let's not forget the Chix also threw in a 50-yard punt return.

Following Lowell's opening scoring drive, Zeeland marched the ball 64 yards in seven plays with Vieniing doing the scoring honors from 30 yards out.

On Zeeland's second possession, the Chix went 54 yards in six plays with Vienriemersma lofting a 30-yard scoring pass to Onstott, making the score 21-6.

Zeeland increased the lead to 27-6 before halftime as Onstott broke through the Lowell defensive line from his own 12 and scampered 88 yards down the home team's sideline.

The driver started at the Zeeland one, following a Lowell fumble on a first and goal from the one-yard line.

The second half saw Zeeland score its third touchdown of the evening from 10 yards out with 4:49 to play in the third quarter. Dirk DeWitt followed a short time later with a 50-yard punt running in his second TD from five-yards out, giving Zeeland a 14-6 lead. During that drive they had consecutive runs of 21, 20, 14 and 32 yards.

Stopping Lowell on its third possession, the Chix started their third scoring drive from their own 15. Zeeland proceeded to drive 85 yards in nine plays with return. The Chix ended their scoring with a 75-yard touchdown drive to start the fourth quarter. Kirk Vander-Molen did the scoring honors.

Zeeland's Onstott carried the ball six times for 112 yards and was on the receiving end of three passes for 57 yards.

Lowell now prepares for a road game against a much improved Sparta club.

Vieniing rushed the ball 13 times for 137 yards. Zeeland rolled up 356 yards on the ground and 132 through the air, totaling 488 yards.

Lowell rushed the ball 35 times for 231 yards.

Lowell now prepares for a road game against a much improved Sparta club.

Lowell Township gives $30,000 toward Alto Fire Station

Using the same formula as it did with the City of Lowell, Lowell's Township Board amended and then accorded Bowne Township $30,000 for the completion of its new $260,000 Fire Station. Using the same formula it did for the City Lowell and its new Look Memorial Fire Station, Lowell's Township Board amended its budget at a special meeting Wednesday night so that it could take from its excess revenues to help Bowne Township.

Lowell's Township Board approved contributing $10,000 a year for the next three years toward Bowne's new fire station. The monies will allow Bowne Township to complete its paving.

Carol Wells, Lowell Township Clerk, said the $10,000 would be taken from excess revenues this year, and then would be plugged into the budget over the next two years.

"The excess revenues come through the Township receiving more money than anticipated through state revenues (income and sales tax) generated in our area," Wells said.

Bowne Township provides fire protection for 12 sections of Lowell Township. Originally, the fire station building was suppose to cost $165,000. In actuality, the building cost $195,000.

Lowell Township had earlier donated $65,000 toward the completion of the Look Memorial Fire Station.

Funding for the Bowne Township fire station has come from a one-mil levy. After costs, the levy gave the Township $194,000. Bowne received $12,000 in interest from the investment and $20,000 from Alto Downtown Development Authority.

Lowell Township agreed to donate $30,000, $10,000 over three years, toward the new Alto Fire Station.

Lowell's Jay VanAntwerp is National Merit semi-finalist

Each year millions of juniors take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, and only the top one percent of those millions are recognized as National Merit Semi-Finalist.

Again in 1990, Lowell High School has a representative in amongst that top one percent (15,000).

Lowell senior, Jay VanAntwerp, the son of Chris and Jill VanAntwerp, earned that honor. In doing so, he qualifies himself for a number of scholarships (both corporate and college sponsored), and the National Merit Scholarships worth $2,500.

"This also helps me in my effort to get accepted at some of the top universities," VanAntwerp said. The Lowell senior has applied for acceptance at the University of Michigan, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Yale and the Harvey Mudd College in California.

VanAntwerp took the test as a junior last October at Lowell High School. He will pursue his studies in math and physics. "I'd like to work in research, in the area of nuclear physics with energy," VanAntwerp said.

The PSAT is given by the College Board, a non-profit membership organization that provides tests and other educational services for students, schools, and colleges.

The National Merit Scholarship Competition is an independent, not-for-profit organization that conducts two annual competitions, the National Merit Scholarship Program and the National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding negro students. In each competition, high performing participants are honored and considered for college undergraduate scholarships.

Taking the PSAT/NMSQT is the first step in entering the scholarship programs conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.
