Hackenbruch crowned 1991 Miss Lowell Showboat

Erica Christine Hackenbruch was the last contestant to put in an application for the 1991 Miss Lowell Showboat Pageant.

The last turned to first Saturday night at the Lowell

Middle School Auditorium, as Hackenbruch was crowned the 1991 Miss Lowell Showboat.

The Lowell senior was crowned by the 1990 Miss Lowell Showboat, Jody

Renee Smith. Hackenbruch was one of only four contestants to vie for this year's honor.

Joining Hackenbruch on stage Saturday night were seniors Rebecca Hovey, Megan Odell and Laura Trowbridge. All four contestants arrived at the Middle School at 4 p.m. for closed session interviews with the judges. The judges for the 1991 Pageant were Dave Randall, WOOD Radio; Rob Sanford, WOOD Radio; and Cecile Turner, home economist - University of Michigan.

"This was a lot of fun. I felt very comfortable at the interviews earlier in the day. The questions asked of us tonight were difficult," Hackenbruch said. "This is a great way to top off your senior year."

Ironically enough it was Odell who talked Hackenbruch into entering the 1991 Queen Competition during their second-hour American Government class. Odell was the first-runnerup. Completing the court are Hovey, the daughter of Lee and Joann Hovey, and Trowbridge, the daughter of Jack and Kay Trowbridge.

Odell, the daughter of Roger and Vicki Odell, when asked who she admired in the news media, answered "Jane Pauley." "I like what Pauley stands for and I admire the success she has had. Most recently, her own show," Odell said. "I enjoyed participating in the pageant. I wish more girls would have come out."

Odell will study international business and film at Michigan State University for two years before moving on to the University of Southern California.

Hackenbruch will enroll at Grand Rapids Junior College where she will pursue a degree in the Culinary Arts. The 1991 queen will represent Lowell Showboat in a variety of events both in and outside of the Lowell area over the next year. "I became a Showboat contestant because I like to be out in the crowd. I like to stand out, and I like people to look up to me," Hackenbruch said. "It's also a great honor and something that I can share someday with my children."

There were 150 people on hand for the hour-long show which included entertainment from the Linda Moon School of Dance and Lowell High School's sixth-hour pop music group.

Organizing the event for the second straight year was pageant chairman, Jean Patton.

For winning the title of Miss Showboat 1991, Hackenbruch will receive a U.S. Savings Bond donated by the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce.

Lowell Administration receives letter of denial on its bonafide offer for Qua-Ke-Zik

The success of any realtor depends on location, location and location.

It seems the success of any settlement between Lowell Schools and the Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsman's Club also depended entirely on location, location and location.

Since January of this year, school and Qua-Ke-Zik club officials have been meeting privately hoping to better understand one another's needs and thus avoid any possible bitterness that may come out of condemnation hearings and/or from the right of eminent domain for public entities.

Those handful of meetings led to a bonafide offer from the school of $442,000. The Club had seven days to respond. On Monday, Lowell Superintendent Fritz Esch received a letter of refusal from the club's attorney, John Huff.

"The club believes that because of its unique special use of the club and its property over the last 25 years, that a judge will not deny it fair, comparable and reputable value to rebuild, relocate and replace the club," Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsman's Club President, Bruce Bobo said.

Both sides agree the school can show a need for the Foreman Road property. The sides seemed to differ Monday night whether the Club can prove the replacement amount it seeks for rebuilding the club and replacing its ranges is near what the club is asking for - roughly $1.6 million.

Wayne Haines, Lowell High School student, received the Ricoh Merit Award for his photograph of this farm scene.

Haines named a Ricoh Merit regionalist

For the first time ever, a Lowell High School student has been bestowed with the Ricoh Merit Award. Wayne Haines, senior, was one of roughly 60 regional high school students recognized for outstanding photography. The regional winners' photographs will be identified in regional exhibitions as the "Ricoch Merit Award Nominee." From these nominated photographs, the national judges will select 12 national winners. Haines' winning photograph was a landscape picture of a farm and machinery.

The 12 students will be eligible for $9,000 worth of scholarships. "There is a lot of prestige that goes with being selected as one of the regional winners who is eligible for the Scholastic Art National Ricoh Merit Award," said Lowell art teacher, Robin White. Haines said the photo he thought stood the best chance of being selected was not the judges choice. "I thought I stood a good chance to have one of my pictures selected. I just didn't think it would be this one."

All the regional pictures are sent on to New York. The region includes pictures from as far north as Lowell, as far west as Lakeview, as far south as Saugatuck and as far east as St. Johns. Haines said he will further his education in photography at the Kendall School of Art and Design.

"Most of my photographs are of nature, wildlife and the outdoors," Haines said. "My dream would be to someday work for 'National Geographic,' or 'Time.'"

The Lowell senior likes freelance photography because it allows for a variation in the workplace. "It's not a set routine everyday. You're able to go to different sites and see many different places."

If Haines is selected as one of the 12 national winners, Lowell High School will receive a camera identical to the one Haines used when taking the photo.

If accepted at the national level, Haines' picture will go on tour - representing all 50 states and provinces.

Lowell Juniors named as delegates to Girls' State

Three girls from the Junior Class at Lowell High School have been chosen as delegates to the 1991 Girls' State program, by the faculty of the Senior High School. Selection of the delegates is based on each girl's interests, character and potential abilities, rather than achievement in any one field.

Girls' State Program will be held June 15 through June 23, at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, MI.

The delegates are Anne Arnold, daughter of William and Sandra Arnold; Betsy Nugent, daughter of Dennis and Mary Nugent; sponsored by the Lowell Rotary Club; Roxanne Hiser, daughter of Doug and Lynn Hiser, sponsored by the Clark-Ellis American Legion Auxiliary.

This annual program is designed as a practical experience in Government at the Local, County and State levels in Michigan. Each girl is assigned to a make believe party, city and county. They nominate and elect various officials. They learn the function, power and limitations of Government. They will have a better understanding of the American system of government, its strengths and weaknesses, and will be encouraged to exercise their rights as a citizen and voter. The Girls' State Program was established by the American Legion Auxiliary in 1941.

Rotary pledges $9,000 for park's trees

Construction begins soon on new park

The $140,000 first phase in the development of Stoney-Lakeside Park was given some environmental encouragement Wednesday at the Lowell Rotary Club's weekly meeting.

The 70-member organization announced its support for donating $9,000 over a three-year period to the City toward the planting of trees and shrubs at Stoney-Lakeside Park.

"Rotary International is encouraging all local Rotary Clubs to pursue environmental projects within their community," Lowell Rotary President, Jim Hodges said. "The club decided that through Stoney-Lakeside Park it can best assist the local area environmentally."

Hodges said the club hopes to accomplish the $9,000 goal before the three-year period is up. "This will allow the City to put an emphasis on the physical development of the Park and not so much in the greenery."

The $140,000 first phase of the development included work on the beach, driveway, parking lot, bathhouse, and boat launch.

"The City is both pleased and excited about the $9,000 commitment from the Lowell Rotary Club," Lowell City Manager, Dave Pasquale said.

Hodges added that the $9,000 donation will provide a nice start on the planting of trees and shrubs at the park.

ITEM NO. 1. GROUTING OF EXTERIOR CLARIFIER WALL AT THE WATER TREATMENT PLANT - AWARD OF BID. The clarifier wall at the Water Treatment Plant has experienced cracks where lime and moisture have been leaking. In response, it was proposed that the wall be grouted to seal the cracks. Three quotes were solicited but only the following two were received:

Pennington Brothers (Twin Lake)	$2,000
D.C. Byers (Grand Rapids)	$2,000

In reviewing the quotes, Water Treatment Plant Superintendent George Regan recommended that Pennington Brothers be awarded the project because of previous positive work experience at the Plant.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Doyle that the bid for the grouting of exterior clarifier wall at the Water Treatment Plant be awarded to Pennington Brothers from Twin Lake for the amount of $2,000.

Item No. 2. YMCA - KING MEMORIAL POOL
A. BUDGET AMENDMENT - PAYMENT OF CITY'S PORTION OF POOL OPERATING DEFICIT AND SHARE OF POOL CONDITION REPORT. City Manager Pasquale said that the City received a budget summary for the operation of the King Memorial Pool last year. There was a deficit of $1,794. According to the agreement with the YMCA, this deficit would be split on a 50-50 basis, or each party would be responsible for $897. Additionally, a pool condition report was completed, costing $500. This would also be split on a 50-50 basis, with an expense to the City of $250. Since neither expense was budgeted, an amendment is needed.

IT WAS MOVED by Thompson and seconded by Hodges to approve the budget amendment for the City's portion of the King Memorial Pool operating deficit of $897 and the $250 share of the pool condition report.

B. EXTENSION OF JOINT CITY - YMCA AGREEMENT AND SHARING OF POOL REPAIR COSTS. City Manager Pasquale said that a meeting of the City-Y Committee was held to review the costs of repair necessary to re-open the King Pool and consider an extension of the joint agreement concerning the parks and the pool. Dr. James Reagan, representing the YMCA, mentioned that the repairs could be handled at a cost of $4000, as opposed to the consultant estimate of $8,800, through the Y receiving volunteer help for the repairs.

It was also recommended by the committee to divide the cost of repairs amounting to no more than $4,000 on a 50-50 basis. The expenses to take care of the bathhouse would be the Public Schools' responsibility since they are a major user. City Manager Pasquale mentioned that the Schools are currently reviewing the costs necessary to make these repairs. The Council stated some concerns whether the Health Department would allow the pool to open after the repairs were completed as proposed. They hesitate to invest any more monies in the pool with the development of Stoney Lakeside Park. Pasquale mentioned that costs would be kept to a minimum with the park in mind.

The Committee recommended that the joint agreement be extended to January 1, 1992 with the contract language to remain the same. The following major components continue: (1) a $6,000 City contribution (2) the City responsible for water, sewer and electrical charges and (3) YMCA $25 gift certificates. The repair cost sharing agreement would serve as an addendum.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Thompson to approve a one year extension of the agreement with the YMCA as presented and an addendum to split the pool repairs at a cost of no more than $4,000.

Item No. 3. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DOWNTOWN TREE PROPOSAL. The Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce proposed a downtown tree program. Laura McCollum, representing the Chamber of Commerce, said that the first of a three year proposal would provide the removing of all potted trees in non-Main locations and replacing them with trees purchased through the Look Memorial Fund. The second year concentrates on the north side of Main while the third year provides plantings on the south side. This phased approach would give an option for permanent trees in the downtown.

It was suggested that the Fire Department be asked to water the trees on a weekly basis and the merchants be responsible for keeping the planters free of debris. Councilmember Doyle stated that he didn't believe that task should be expected from the Lowell Fire Department. Regarding the businesses keeping the planters clean, Councilmember Doyle said that most of them do not even want the potted trees in front of their businesses. Councilmember Hodges mentioned that a survey of the merchants was conducted and voted substantial support for the trees.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges to accept downtown tree proposal as proposed by the Chamber of Commerce, but died from lack of support.

The consensus of the Council was to defer this item until the April 1, 1991 meeting so that the Chamber of Commerce can seek some commitment from merchants on who would be responsible for watering of the trees, where to position the trees and what businesses want the trees. Chief of Police Emmons stated that he would like to attend the meeting with the Chamber of Commerce when the location of the trees on Main Street is discussed.

Item No. 4. COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT - ADDITIONAL ALLOCATION FOR WATER WELL PROJECT. The City will receive additional allocation of Federal Community Development Block Grant funds through Kent County. A remaining allocation of $43,050.08 has been proposed toward the completion of the water well project. Also, it was offered that an additional $10,000 in Block Grant funds be allocated from 1992-1993 year.

IT WAS MOVED BY Thompson and seconded by Doyle to allocate $43,050.08 in current Community Block Grant funds as well as $10,000 from the 1992-1993 allocation to the completion of the water well project.

Item No. 5. RESOLUTION TO MDOT PLACING VALLEY VISTA FROM W. MAIN TO BOWES WITH THE CITY LOCAL STREET SYSTEM. In order to qualify for Act 51 street funds as administered by the Michigan Department of Transportation, the new Valley Vista Drive extension must be recognized by a City Council resolution as a Local Street. Once established as a Local Street, the City may pursue Major Street funding for Valley Vista providing greater funding allocations.

IT WAS MOVED by Hodges and seconded by Thompson to approve the resolution to MDOT placing Valley Vista from W. Main to Bowes with the City Local Street system to qualify for State Act 51 street funds.

Item No. 6. CITIZEN COMMENTS. None.

Item No. 7. COUNCIL COMMENTS. Councilmember Thompson asked if the sidewalk contractor will be coming back in the Spring and what sidewalks will be completed. City Manager Pasquale said that the contractor will be back this spring to install the sidewalks for property owners that were signed up last year but the work not yet completed. There were approximately 30 jobs to finish.

After a brief discussion, the consensus of the Council was not to extend financial participation for sidewalks to any property owner who did not sign up during the Summer of 1990.

Councilmember Doyle stated that he attended the 1991 MML Legislative Conference in Lansing on February 27 and found it very informative. He also attended a meeting with other Kent County communities brought together by the Metro Council after the Legislative Conference.

Item No. 8. MANAGER'S COMMENTS. City Manager Pasquale reported on the following:

1. The State Boundary Commission has tentatively set an adjudication meeting for the Attwood petition on Tuesday, April 16.
2. The Grand Rapids City Commission awarded the traffic light contract to Feyen-Zylstra Electric. The firm anticipates starting installation on March 11. The contract calls for completion by April 30.
3. The Planning Commission, at its February 25 meeting, received a planned unit development proposal from Dick Bryan and Gary Glownia to construct a 77 unit condominium project near the intersection of James and High. A key element of their proposal is requesting the City to pay for public improvements on James and High to the site. This would involve water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer and street improvements. It is estimated that the total would be approximately $68,000. The consensus of the Council was that they are interested but needed more information to be gathered before a decision can be made.
4. A regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League is scheduled for Thursday, April 11, 1991.

IT WAS MOVED by Doyle to adjourn at 8:52 p.m.

Approved: March 18, 1991.

Driver strikes house as he fails to adhere to traffic sign

A 27-year old Lowell man could not recall the details following an accident which occurred when the vehicle he was driving ran into the corner of a downtown home. Edward Scott Beebe was hounded on Jefferson Street when the vehicle he was driving passed through the stop sign and crossed the intersection diagonally before driving over the curb at the southeast corner of Main and Jefferson. Beebe then locked over a no U-turn sign before striking the house at 504 E. Main.

Beebe incurred a bloody nose and complained of a slight pain in his chest. He refused to be transported to an area hospital.

No citation was given. Beebe will have to be re-examined by the Secretary of State Office to look at the Lowell man's eligibility.

Edward Beebe was unable to recall the details after the vehicle he was driving went through a Jefferson Street stop sign and didn't stop until it crossed Main St. and drove into a home at the corner of Jefferson and Main Street.

I'm here! It wasn't where the resident at 504 East Main wanted the visitor to park.

Basically that is why the school's unofficial offer of $467,000 with addendums was turned down. The addendums included rent-free use of property and clubhouse until needed by the school and use of the skeet and rifle ranges on the weekends. Esch said the school assured the club that 30 days after the agreement that the club would not be asked to get off the property.

Following the unofficial offer of $467,000 and addendums and its refusal by the club, the school then made a bonafide offer of $442,000 with the club having seven days to respond.

Club members questioned if the school had exhausted all suitable site possibilities.

"I'm not convinced the school has exhausted all possibilities for the site of the new school," said Lowell resident and club member, Tom Leuhrs. "I'm also interested in knowing how far the school is willing to go to help the club relocate successfully."

Esch said the school was limited in the property it could look at. "The school was unable to consider some property because it would have had to establish facilities on separate sides of the road which is not permitted by the State Department of Education," he said.

Many references were made as to why the school could not purchase land in Vergennes Township. Esch stated a major stumbling block with that scenario is once water and sewer is brought across, who gets the taxes - the City or the Township?

Bobo said he presented the scenario to Vergennes Township Supervisor Jim Cook a couple of weeks ago and said the Supervisor said there was no problem.

Esch said the City would not allow for the school to use its utilities without annexation of the property. "The City and Township are battling the same problem with Attwood. Why would that change for the school?" he asked.

However, it should be noted that no formal request was made by the school inquiring as the City's stand on what it would expect.

"There was never any serious discussion as to what the City would or wouldn't do," said City Manager Dave Pasquale. "Any serious discussion the City has been involved in has centered around the Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsman's Club."

A school official did say that in talks with members of the City Council it was made clear that annexation would be a must in regards to running water and sewer over into Vergennes Township and providing utilities, fire and police protection.

The school did present the club with three possible relocations. Club members said the properties had too much wetland, one had railroad tracks running through it and another had water running through it. "Not only that, none of the properties were comparable to the property the club currently owns," Bobo said.

Lowell resident Jim Lindhout encouraged the Club to look beyond its turf and at the possibility of being a major, positive force in the community. "The club has a chance to make a difference. Lets hope the opportunity is not abandoned for individual interest."

Carla Burrows asked that the Lowell Board of Education not divide the district and to exhaust all efforts in finding other property.

Gay Nauta said she felt badly for the Club, but believed education must play an important role in any community.

Following the an hour-and-a-half discussion, the Lowell Board of Education approved the new high school site development plans and the schematic design plan subject to the land acquisition.

Both sides seemed assured after Monday night's special meeting that they would fair well if and when condemnation hearings begin.

Either the school or the club, in the end, will have figured wrong.

TOWN TALK

Do you approve of the Lowell Area School's pursuit of the Qua-Ke-Zik Sportsman's Club land on Foreman Road for the new high school?

Russ Miller

This is a tough question. The school needs the property. On the other hand, it's my understanding that the school had a chance to purchase 80 acres and didn't. I'm still not sure that they couldn't have added on to the high school. I don't agree with getting land by condemnation.

Terry DeBolt

I've been with the club a good number of years as have many of my friends. We've put in a lot of time at the Club and I would like the school to find another piece of land. The club uses the land to harvest Christmas Trees and for its apple orchard. It's also a safe hunting place for the club's members.

Fonderae Brown

I'm not in favor of the school taking the property. I don't think the school should have the right to take property away from the Sportsman's Club. I believe the school should find other property that isn't being used. Yes, education is important, but the Club has time and money into that location.

Barb Erving

I'm in favor of the school getting the land. It's a good location and the school definitely needs more space. Education is more important than a Sportsman's Club. I've had three sons graduate from Lowell and I presently have two going through the school system.

Mark Anderson

I think the school should take the property. Other area schools are so much more advanced in technology. Lowell students need to be able to compete.

Jack Hanall

I think Qua-Ke Zik should get enough out of it so it can set up another club. The Sportsman's club is an ideal setting for the school.

Susan Black

I don't like the idea of anyone owning property and the school or government just taking it away. There has to be other property. I haven't seen evidence that there isn't. The school has helped the club look for other land, but all the land it has found has been wetlands.

Bob Brown

If the school needs the land, then yes, it should take it. We do need schools.

Council will review Main St. tree program again at April 1 meeting

"You're going to need more seats for your next meeting" promised Laura McCollum. As a representative of the Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce McCollum was addressing the Lowell City Council at their Monday night meeting. McCollum owns Flat River Antique Mall with her husband, Ron. She is actively seeking support for keeping trees along Main St. in the downtown area. The lease on planters currently on Main St. expires in April and the trees are scheduled to be removed. They will be replanted in Oakwood Cemetery and in city parks. The issue is scheduled as an agenda item at the Monday, April 1 meeting of the City Council.

Councilman Charlie Doyle has stated repeatedly that the issue was discussed several times at council meetings last year and as far as he is concerned the city will stick by its decision to remove the trees. Doyle has said the merchants should have been present at the meetings when the decision was made. He also condemns the merchants for not caring enough about the trees to water them, pick the trash out of the planters or keep vandals from picking all the flowers planted last spring by Norm Borgerson and his wife, Judy.

Anyone interested in a tree planting program in the downtown is urged to attend the April 1 meeting at Lowell City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Though it was not slated for discussion, several other business people were present to voice their support for a tree program of some kind on Main St. Duane Lambert, owner of Lambert Variety, urged the council to consider planting trees in the sidewalk rather than using the planters. Lambert acknowledged the planters have generated complaints and suggested the city

Objection, your honor! "We're learning government without books"

Prosecuting attorneys Kelly Breimayer, Kristen Sturman, Mike Pasquale and Jason White left the courtroom Wednesday morning feeling as if they just had their tails kicked - and they didn't like it!

Defense attorneys Lucien Stoepler, Megan Odell, Steve Kovalick, Beth Stouffer and Geri Dykema left the courtroom feeling as if they had just kicked some tail - and they liked it!

Lowell High School's American Government teacher, Steve Kampfschulte, left the mock courtroom feeling satisfied that his 30 senior American Government students had just participated in the initial process of our judicial system.

The only thing that wasn't being closely imitated in this mock trial was the judge. Sitting in on this mock trial case was the former 54 B District Court Judge, Dan Tschirhart, who spent 13 years in that honorable position. Tschirhart currently has his own private law practice in Lansing.

On this day, Tschirhart was actually assisting Judge (daughter) Jennifer Tschirhart, a student in Kampfschulte's American Government class.

"I'm very impressed with the work of the students," Dan Tschirhart said. "I think this approach to American Government education gives the young people a good concept of how the judicial system works."

Tschirhart added that obviously the students cannot be technically correct on everything, but the process does allow students to experience the liberties and change of status that takes place.

"I am familiar with schools in the Lansing area that participate in similar type activities," Tschirhart said.

Kampfschulte said he was first introduced to the idea as a student teacher at Forest Hills Northern. "I purchased four actual case histories from a gentleman in Minnesota. I then fine tuned them to meet the goals of the class

Student representatives attend Moose Drug Awareness program

The Loyal Order of Moose held a Student Congress on Drug Awareness in Lansing at the Holiday Inn on Saturday, March 7.

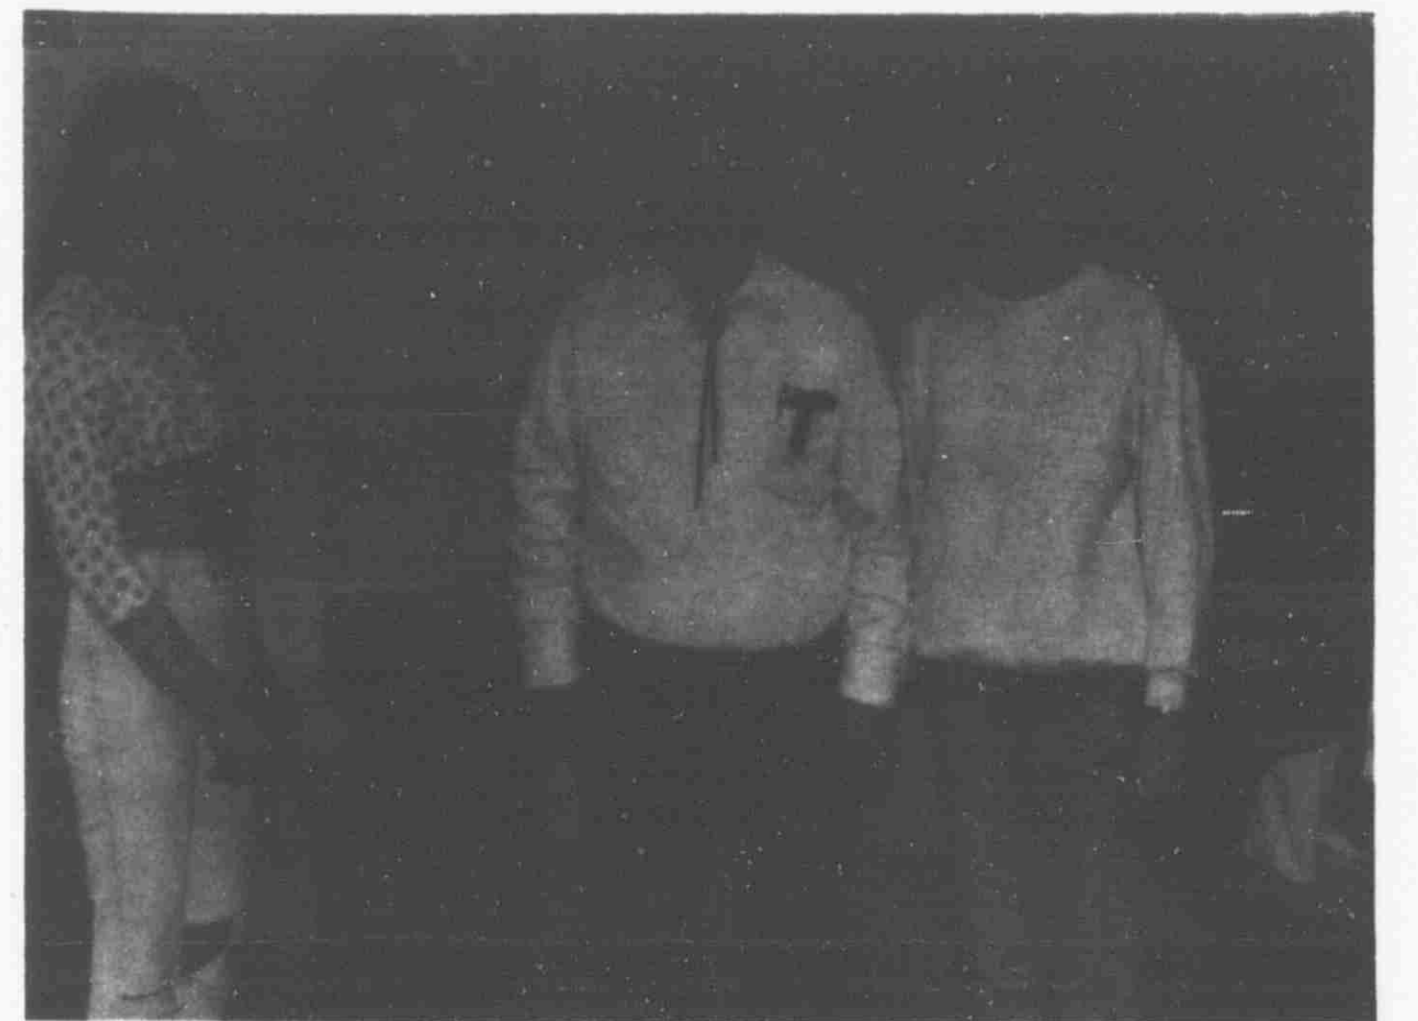

Lodges from around the state were represented, each bringing from one to four high school students, either their Junior or Sophomore years.

Student representatives from Lowell were Danielle Scott, Wendi Dudeck, Carrie Sadler and Denise Lang. The students were transported to the program by A.J. Zengri, Drug Awareness coordinator for Moose Lodge No. 809, Lowell.

The students spent the day working in a caucus of eight students. They compiled ideas to bring back to school and worked to make up a program to teach the grade school children ages four to nine years, about drug abuse.

This is the fifth year that the Moose has held this program and each year the local lodge has sponsored from two to five high school students.

Norm Crosby to join Bobby Vinton at Chesaning Showboat

The Shiawassee Queen will be coming around the bend each evening July 15-20 and she'll be carrying a cargo of talent.

Leading the line-up is Bobby Vinton, the all-time, most successful love singer of the "Rock Era." He'll be sharing the spotlight with Norm Crosby. The master of Malaprop is the most recognized and widely quoted performers in show business. For many years, Crosby has been one of the busiest of the "Name" comedians in the nation's best theaters and casino showrooms, on the banquet circuit, as well as the top television variety, talk and game shows.

Norm Crosby serves as Jerry Lewis' co-host on Jerry's Annual Labor Day Telethon for the Muscular Dystrophy Assoc. with Crosby presiding over the show's national live remote segments from Los Angeles.

Previously, Crosby has hosted TV talk shows, game shows, variety and awards specials, as well as his own series, "Norm Crosby's Comedy Shop."

Born and raised in the Boston area, Crosby served in the U.S. Coast Guard as a radar operator in the North Atlantic on anti-submarine patrol, where he developed a hearing problem caused by concussions from depth charges.

Because of this hearing affliction, Crosby has a special interest in the problems of the hearing impaired. He was the First National Chairman for the Council for Better Hearing. He is the trustee of the "Hope For Hearing Foundation" at UCLA, and he was appointed by President Ronald Reagan as his special ambassador for better hearing and speech month.

Crosby has been a heavy fundraiser and tireless worker for several charities such as: The City of Hope, The Internationally Famous Hospital and Medical Research Facility in Duarte, CA, he serves as ambassador for ChildHelp USA, and joined First Lady, Barbara Bush in Washington, DC to launch National Child Abuse Prevention Month. He has also hosted and played in numerous celebrity golf tournaments for various charities.

In recognition of his achievements, both in comedy and as a humanitarian, the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce installed the Norm Crosby "Star" in Hollywood's Walk of Fame on February 24, 1982. His star was placed between those of two his all-time favorites, Jack Benny and Red Skelton.

Brought back by popular demand, Arthur Duncan, a globe-trotting singer/dancer who has been a regular on the "Lawrence Welk Show."

Five Lowell students earn first-place entries at Region 9 show Teachers from around the West Michigan area submitted work of their students into the 1991 Region 9 Art Show. Each teacher was allowed to submit five pieces of work completed by their students. Lowell art teachers Robin White and Bill Ingraham each submitted five pieces of work. "We are happy to announce that five of our Lowell High School students earned first-place entries," White said. "The art work was done in a variety of different medias. They were Adam Catlin, junior, for his prism color concert scene - a backstage view; Josh Clark, sophomore; Jeff DeBoer, senior, wood sculpture - "Rastro - C"; Janette Rash, senior, 3-D photo - a collage; Nathan Robertson, senior, photography - a portrait of a person's face.

Field fire spreads over three acres

An unattended trash fire with the help of some gusty Wednesday afternoon winds caused of a grass fire which was not completely doused until roughly three acres of land were scorched.

"We were fortunate in that the grass was short and thus we didn't have any high flames," said Lowell Fire Chief, Frank Martin.

The land belonged to Bill Eggleston of 12068 36th St.

"Grass fires are common in the early spring, however spring isn't here yet," Martin said. "We didn't have a lot of snow this winter thus the grass is not packed like it normally is which increases the chances of a grass fire."

Martin added if the area has a dry spring, grass fires will be in an abundance.

There were no injuries. The Lowell Fire Department got a call around 1:40 p.m. Martin said it took roughly a half-hour to put out.

Lowell Middle School students answer challenge of Kenowa Hills in their first academic track meet Lowell Middle Schoolers, 73 strong, accepted Kenowa Hill's challenge to participate in their first academic track meet.

Patterned after an athletic track meet, 27 events were offered. Most events allowed four participants per school with first through third placings earning points. Relay events offered points to only the first place team. The goal was to provide academic competition and entertainment.

The meet started with 16 academic events. Competitors had to answer 100 multiple-choice questions in 20 minutes. The following students placed for Lowell. Arithmetic: Dustin VanStee, first; Monica Jaarsma, third. Geography: Scott Smith, first; Kevin Nugent, third. U.S. History: Kevin Nugent, third. Music History: Joshua Ennis, third. Trivia: Karen Dykstra, third. Math Story Problems: Chrys Thaler, third. Earth Science: Matt Langridge, second; Jeff Stepek, third. Spelling: Brad Simkins, third.

Lowell Potpourri team of Kerry Nugent, Kevin Nugent, Cara Thaler and Dustin VanStee earned first place to take the relay.

Art students were given 40 minutes to produce their drawings of a specified subject. In the black and white medium, Suzanne Bladey was first, and Heather Young was third. In the dry color medium, Tricia Roy was third. Their drawings are now on display in the Lowell Middle School office.

Non-keyboard Instrumental Solos started the performance section. Lea Sterly's flute rendition of "Sonata 5" earned her second place.

Competitors in Interpretive Reading were given a nursery rhyme and directed to display two emotions. Melissa Lesky took a third by reading "George Porgie" happily and melodramatically.

Both of Lowell's Vocal Solos earned points. Jenny Jansma, accompanied by Michelle Billingsley on the piano, sang "The Rose" for a first place win. Nicole Rash sang "Wind Beneath My Wings" a capella to take a third.

Melissa Lesky and Kerry Nugent tied for third in Dramatic Reading. Lesky read "Dead at 17" and Nugent read an excerpt from Our Town.

For Skits and Improvisations, each five member team was given the following premise: "You have accepted a babysitting assignment but are not allowed to have friends over. You've decided just once wouldn't hurt, so you have your friends over for a pizza party. Then the parents arrive home early." Teams were given five minutes to develop their skits using only a table and four chairs as props. Lowell's Michelle Coe, Jamie Denton, Holly Porter, Cara Thaler, and Trish VanderLoon won the seventh grade competition. Jesse Gleason, Kerry Nugent, Tricia Roy, Missy Shindorf and Brittanie Weigel took a second in the eighth grade competition.

Lowell girls' trio of Jenny Johnson, Misty Quiggle and Karen Stoffel sang "Soldier Boy" for a second place finish.

The final event, Instrumental Group, was won by the Lowell Jazz Band playing "Rock Them Blues." On drums were Ruth Joslin, Reggie Reynolds and Chrys Thaler. On clarinet were Dena Beers, Anna Luyk and Leesa Mettemick. Michelle Murphy and Lea Sterly played the flute. On trombone were John Andrews, Joshua Ennis and Brandon Stickney. Melissa Beute and Collin Korb played tenor saxophone; Scott Breslin and Leslie Murphy played alto saxophone. On trumpet were Jason Conant, Matt Langridge and Dustin VanStee.

Baritone was played by Jesse Gleason.

All participants with a first place now qualify for the state competition. It will be held on April 18 in Saginaw. Lowell has 29 students that have qualified.

Special recognition is in order for the many volunteers from the Lowell Middle School staff who organized and coached the academic track meet.

Lowell High School Symphonic Band receives top rating

The Lowell High School Symphonic Band received a first division rating at the District Band Festival on Thursday, March 7. The festival was held at Forest Hills Central High School.

Percussion and "Jubilosos". The band now qualifies to go on to the State festival on April 27 in the Grand Rapids area. Band director, Bob Rice said, "We played very well and we look forward to the state festival in April."

Council approves $2,000 feasibility study

The Lowell City Council approved the expenditure of up to $2,000 to conduct a feasibility study for providing water to a proposed development near the James and High Streets intersection. At the February 25 meeting of the Lowell Planning Commission Dick Bryan and Gary Glowina presented plans for a 77 unit condominium project in that area. A key element of the Highland Hills Condominium project calls for the city to provide water, sanitary sewer, storm sewer and street improvements. The estimated cost for these improvements is $68,000.

Councilman Charlie Doyle objected to the proposal stating, "I can't see spending $2,000 on a project that probably isn't going to fly anyway. Besides, I don't know why we need to hire an engineering firm when our D.P.W. Director can probably do the job". Councilman William

Thompson noted that there are already problems with water in the area in question. "We've got fire hydrants up there with hardly any pressure", he said. Councilman Jim Hodges noted that the area's water needs would soon need attention anyway, and motioned that the funds for the survey be allocated. The motion was seconded by Thompson and passed with Doyle casting a nay vote.

The average 18-month-old little girl will be just about twice as tall and five times as heavy at the age of 18.

The lee, or sheltered side of a ship, comes from an Anglo-Saxon word referring to the side of a shed that was out of the wind, where a laborer would take his lunch.

and the needs of the students." The Lowell teacher hopes the experimental and cooperative learning process helps to teach students the court system process; the rights given to people under the constitution; that the idea that government is an active thing, not passive; and that American Government is more than what's in the history books.

"This is the 24th mock trial I've held in my American Government classes. The response and results I've had from students have been incredible," Kampschulte said. "Students enjoy learning by actually doing. The entire social studies department is moving in the direction of experimental and cooperative learning."

Kampschulte selects the lawyers based on class performance. Once the attorneys are selected they are given 2-3 days of class time to find the strengths and weaknesses of the witnesses.

The evidence provided in the case is pretty clear according to Kampschulte. However, none of the evidence clearly states that someone is innocent or guilty.

"My biggest concern in overseeing the trial is the competitiveness of lawyers," Kampschulte said. "Once the trial is started the lawyers are overcome by that urge to win. Much of that has to do with the amount of time and research one lawyer has to put into the mock trial."

The Lowell instructor added he thought the attorneys may have been a little timid with objections because of the presence of Tschirhart. "As the students become more comfortable, they will begin to step forward," he said.

Much in the same way the Lowell social studies department has stepped forward in its use of experimental and cooperative learning.

LET'S ASK THE EXPERTS!

ANSWERS TO DOG HEALTH QUESTIONS

Q: Can my dog get Lyme Disease?

A: Yes. In fact, some researchers estimate the incidence of Lyme Disease in domestic animals such as dogs may be six to ten times that found in humans. As in humans, Lyme Disease infection in dogs is caused by a corkscrew-shaped bacterium, which is transferred through the bite of a certain species of ticks. While these ticks are most heavily concentrated in the Northeast and upper Midwest of the United States, cases of Lyme Disease have now been reported in 46 states.

A Breakthrough for Dogs

Lyme Disease is not usually fatal in dogs. If detected early it can be treated with antibiotics. However, Lyme Disease is a complex illness that is difficult to diagnose and the treatments can be lengthy and expensive.

The good news is, there's now a vaccine available that will immunize your dog against Lyme Disease—the first major breakthrough in preventing the disease. Extensive tests have shown it to be effective and safe. Ask your veterinarian for more details about the new Lyme Disease vaccine and whether your dog should be immunized.

Remarkable Freddie remembered through scholarship

Freddie Oesch would have been a high school senior this year.

Following graduation, Freddie would probably have attended Michigan State University to pursue a career as a veterinarian.

Freddie's future was abruptly ended at the young age of 10, after tragically being struck and killed by a car in front of his Bowne Township home eight years ago.

While the hopes and dreams of Freddie cannot be realized, his family is hopeful the spirit of Freddie can, through a $500 "Freddie Oesch Memorial" Scholarship which will be awarded to a member of the 1991 senior class - who is planning to pursue an agricultural degree.

"This year is particularly difficult for our family because Freddie would have graduated," Freddie's mother and father Fred and Donna Oesch said. "It's our hope the recipient of the scholarship is someone who cares about agriculture. Freddie was a farmer. He loved the farm. He loved the dairy cows."

The award isn't just your average scholarship because as the Oesch family will tell you, Freddie wasn't your average 10-year old.

He talked at six months.

He walked at eight months. A short time prior to his death, the 10-year old boy read a story in the newspaper about a young girl who donated her organs. Freddie felt this was important enough to bring to his mother's attention. "We had a conversation about it and he decided that he too would like to donate his organs," Donna Oesch said. "Because of the injuries he incurred in the accident only his eyes could be used."

The Holstein he raised and was going to sell at the 4-H fair with the proceeds going toward the Fairgrounds' new dairy barn, sold eight times and raised $7,640.

"Freddie is still a part of our life," Oesch said. "There isn't a day that goes by that I don't think of him."

Eight years after his death, Freddie Oesch will play a special part in the life of one of his classmates.
