Lowell's Meltons lose home in Father's Day blaze

It was Father's Day, and Henry Melton did what most Americans did on Sunday, he went to visit his father.

Melton, his wife, Teri, and their two children Josh and Shirley had their visit shortened when their neighbor called to inform them that their home had caught fire.

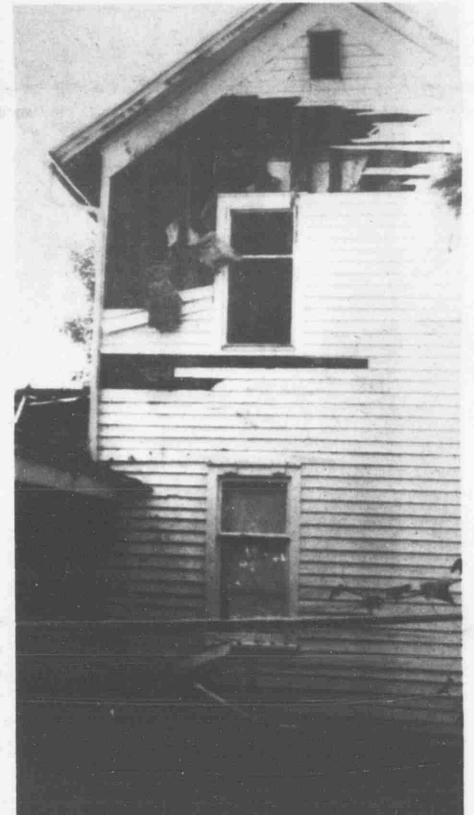

When Melton and his family arrived at their home on 612 N. Monroe, Lowell firefighters were on the scene attempting to put out the blaze.

According to Lowell Fire

Lowell Fire Chief Frank Martin estimated the damage to the Melton home to be at $60,000.

gathered at Melton's house on Sunday to help the family save whatever it could from the burned home.

attend. Come on down, and join in the fun!

POST OFFICE ISSUES CANCELLATION

In conjunction with the Lowell Showboat June 20-22, 1991, the Lowell Post Office will offer a special cancellation at a temporary Postal Station, June 22.

The Station will be located at the corner of Main Street and Broadway. Stamps, philatelic items, and retail items will also be available.

JAYCEES ACCEPTING ENTRIES FOR PARADE

The Lowell Area Jaycees are accepting entries for the Fourth of July parade, which will begin at 10 a.m. at the Methodist Church. Lineup will be at 9:30 a.m.

All children who wish to participate by walking in the parade will receive a hand held flag. Please contact Jackie Foster with your parade entry at 868-6766.

YMCA KIDS MARCH IN SHOWBOAT PARADE

Chief, Frank Martin, the blaze started in the attic. He said electrical was the probable cause but that could not be determined until an investigation was completed.

Melton's neighbors, Michael and Vicki Schmidt, called 911 at 4:15 p.m. Sunday. "Michael was outside playing basketball with his brother, Gale. They had quit playing to go take a look at where we are going to construct our garage. That's when they noticed smoke coming from the roof of Melton's home," Vickie Schmidt said. "He yelled to me to call 911."

Lowell Fire did not leave the scene until 8:30 p.m., according to Martin. He estimated the damage to be roughly $60,000. "I would say it was gutted. What the fire didn't get, heat, smoke and water did."

age.

The results of last Monday's school millage renewal clearly sent the Lowell School Board and administration a number of messages.

Its reaction to those messages should make the next few months, as Arte Johnson would say, "vermmerry interesting." The messages would include:

"As is the case with small communities, people rally around one another in times of need," Vicki Schmidt said.

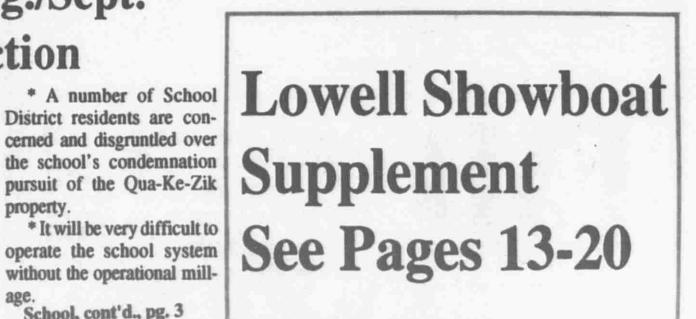

Brenda Brewer, who babysits for Melton's two children, said the couple went shopping Monday for clothes for Josh. "All of his clothes were destroyed. They were able to save quite a bit of Shirley's clothing."

Brewer said the family lost all of their furniture. "They would like to find a furnished apartment here in Lowell," she said.

The Meltons wished to thank everybody who helped them on Sunday following the fire.

According to Martin, the fire call went into the sheriff's department at 4:13 p.m., the dispatch was at 4:15 p.m., the first truck rolled into service at 4:18 and the first truck was on the scene at 4:20 p.m.

> The Henry Melton home at 612 N. Monroe caught fire at roughly 4:15 Sunday afternoon.

So, how was your Father's Day? Mine was pretty good. Real good, in fact. Terese and the kids served me breakfast in bed. We're not talkin' water and mush here either. I had eggs Bennedict, melon, strawberries, orange juice and coffee! After all that, I felt like rolling over and going back to sleep, but that was not to be. This was Father's Day, and there was a busy schedule ahead!

I was trundled off to the living room where I was seated with a fresh cup of coffee and instructed to open my cards and gifts. Angie's card was a gag card that had a message on the front that went on and on about remembering how she'd run up to me when I came home from a hard day at work and tug at my leg and pester me to no end. On the inside of the card it said something like, "Gee, I must have been real cute when I did that". Gee Angie, there's no conceit in our family, you've got

I won't say it is the most humbling job, but being a reporter editor for a newspaper of any size has to rank in the Top 10. Since joining the Ledger staff almost four years ago, one of my main objectives was to eliminate or lessen the number of blatant errors in the paper. I define blatant errors as careless mistakes. Examples - misspelled words in a headline, a story laid out on a page out of order.

As a reader you say how in the heck can that happen. It shouldn't, but under the confinements of a deadline, it does. I'd like to think it doesn't happen as often in the Ledger as it

B. Transfer of Fire/Rescue trucks and Police vehicles from the Equipment Fund to the General Fund. It was determined that Fire and Police vehicles would be better placed in the General Fund rather than the Equipment Fund. These vehicles are specialized to these particular departments and not shared by others in the City.

Item #4. ESTABLISHMENT OF SEWER EQUIPMENT RESERVE. The need to establish an equipment reserve for the active components for the Wastewater Treatment Plant had been long recognized by city staff. An equipment reserve of $250,000 would be created. Over a period of twenty years. it was estimated that this reserve will grow to over $400,000 necessary to fund equipment replacement to the plant. This proposed reserve has been supported by the city auditors and WW Operations Services.

Item #5. PURCHASE OF NEW MINI COMPUTER Presently, the City has an eight year old Tiger 64 minicomputer which handles Payroll, finance (budget, accounting and checking reconciliation), accounts payable, voter registration, cemetery and utility billing. It was proposed that this equipment be replaced with a Versyss Solution I/Model 150. The new systems would provide greater speed, especially in the utility billing reports and in back-up time. The memory would be expanded from 512 K to 4 Mega Bytes. The total investment of $21,690 will include the purchasing of $2,250 of additional software for automatic back up, voter registration transfer and system conversion. The annual savings on hardware maintenance is projected to be $2,984 annually. Councilmember Hodges expressed concerns about dealing with only one vendor. He felt the City should go through a bid process in purchasing the computer. City Treasurer/Finance Director Judy Noonon stated that the City could possibly get a better price for a different system, but there would be added manhours in learning a new system as well as re-entering all the data to consider.

D. Correction of authorized General Fund loan to the Local Street Fund (1990- 91 Budget). At the May 20 meeting.the Council authorized $73,500 loan from the General Fund to the Local Street fund for the Valley Vista project. This loan was approved for ten years at no interest. In order to comply with State rules, a three year limit for repayment is Councilmember Hodges questioned if this change would have a significant impact on the Local Street Fund. City Manager Pasquale answered that it would not provide such an impact. Councilmember Doyle requested that City Manager Pasqual provide a report on how much funding can be generated from additional mills for local streets improvements.

A critic for the Hollywood Morris owns the patent on "Wind Beneath My Wings," It could also be said that Morris holds the patent on just about anything he sings; once those powerful vocals and distinctive stylings touch a song, it's his for good.

Now, with the release of "These Days", his debut Capitol Nashville disc, Morris adds ten more songs to that list of compositions he owns, ability to sing any genre, any range and any level of emotion. Morris brings his multisinging ability.

From the first cut, "Workin' Man Blues,"where Gary pulls from his Texas roots and delivers a country toe-tapper, to the final song the soaring and lyrically significant "Time Will Tell," the artist is on target.

Morris is a proven hit songwriter, with chart-toppers such as "Baby Bye Bye," "Making Up For Lost Time,"

"I'm very pleased with the Fenech has also helped to headliner on stage by 9 p.m. production. Financial success support the businesses and merchants of the community of Lowell have shown for the > Showboat," Gould said. "I think it is a reflection of the pride people in this community have for the Lowell Showboat."

However, Fenech emphasized having black on your face is not needed to act funny and crazy. "Being an endman today is no less fun than it was years ago," Fenech explains.

Again this year, Fenech will be supported by family, as his daughter, Shannon Marie Greene, and her husband, Joe will serve as

"I would like to see more people step forward and be-

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Athlete's foot is the most common fungal infection seen in the physician's office. Athlete's foot is caused by the ringworm fungus living on the dead protein-rich skin found on the surface of the foot. This condition is seen mostly in adolescent and adult males. It is seen most frequently in the warmer months because of increased perspiration. Fungi grow best in warm moist dark regions, this is why the foot is an ideal habitat.

The clinical manifestations of athlete's foot can vary depending on the severity of the case. Mild cases present with peeling, cracking or maceration of the skin in the toe webs, especially the last toe web. More severe cases present as scaling, redness, or small water filled blisters along the sides and soles of the foot. Most cases involve some degree of itching. Occasionally an allergic reaction can occur called an "id" phenomenon, leading to involvement of the hands with peeling, small, blisters and intense itching.

Athlete's foot can be confused with psoriasis, eczema, or contact dermatitis as in poison ivy, so your doctor may take a small skin scraping and examine it under a microscope to confirm the diagnosis.

Most cases of athlete's foot can be treated by applying a topical medication to the affected area twice daily for a couple of weeks. More severe cases are treated with oral medication in addition to the topical agents.

To prevent athlete's foot, it is important to wash the feet at least once daily and to thoroughly dry the feet including the web spaces.

Wear cotton socks and avoid wearing occlusive shoes which retain moisture. If the web spaces become involved you can separate the toes by placing small pieces of lamb's wool between the toes which will inhibit moisture retention. During warm weather wear sandals allowing moisture to evaporate. Dusting an antifungal powder in the shoes may also aid in prevention of recurrent fungal infection of the feet.

LAAC planning a "High Tea" for "Harry & Friends" exhibit

The azure skies of summer are a sign of an annual exhibit of watercolors in the Gallery of the Lowell Area Arts Center.

The exhibit "Harry & Friends", is the work of several West Michigan artists working in the medium of watercolor. The group has been working weekly for many years under the tutelage of Harry Hefner, retired Chairman of the Art Dept. of Western Michigan University.

This marks the sixth year for the annual exhibit in Lowell. A grand day is planned as the opening for the exhibit. As a special honor to all the artists exhibiting, the Lowell Arts Council's Gallery committee is planning a High Tea for Sunday, July 14 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Gallery, 149 S. Hudson St.

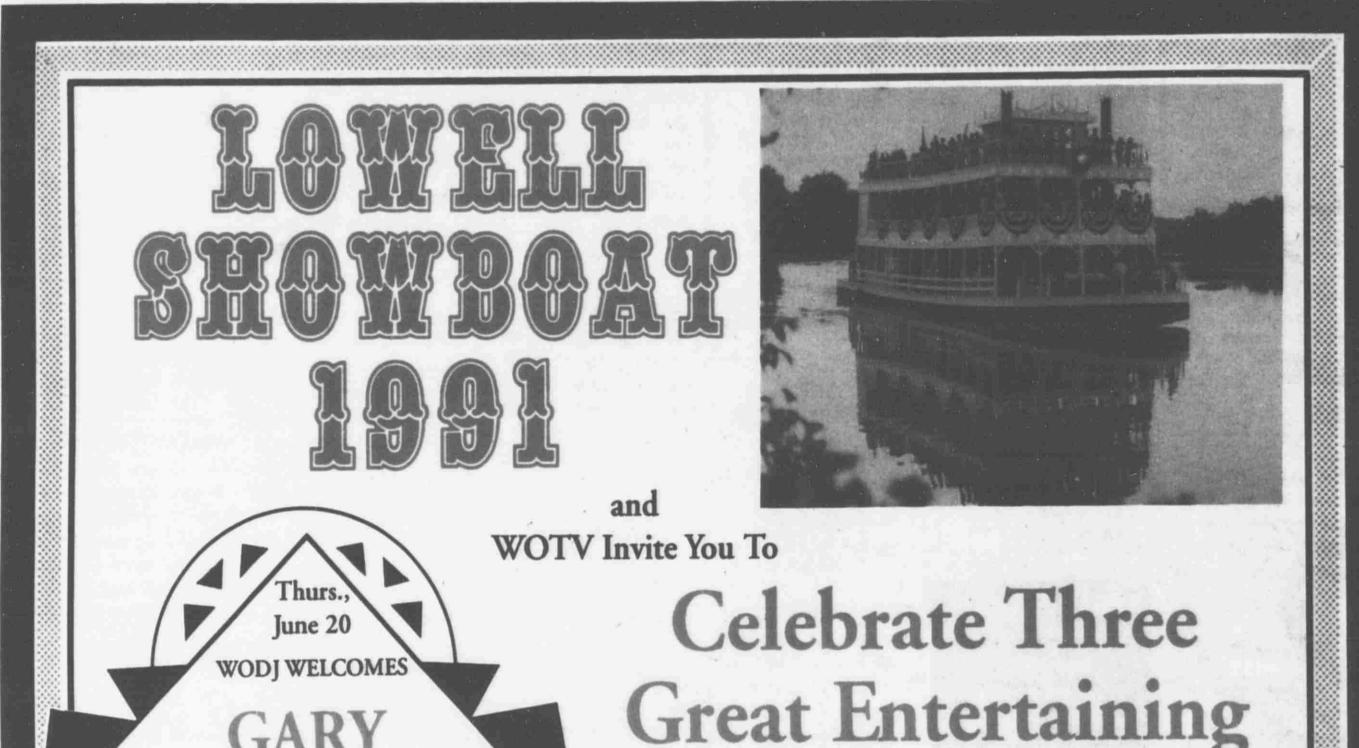

Guests will be able to meet with many of the artits while partaking of wonderful summer fare. For example: Strawberry & Spinach Salad, Pasta Prima Vera, French Toast battered with Yogurt & Amaretto Walnut Tea Loaves, Iced Cucumber Soup, Lemon Curd Tartlets, Victorian Poppy Seed Cake, Sugar Soaked Lemon Cake, Raspberry English Trifle, assorted tea sandwiches, hot and iced teas, minted lemonade and seltzers and much more.

This very special summer event is by reservation only at $7.50 per person. Reservations may be made by phone or mail through the Arts Council at 897-8545 or 149 S. Hudson, P.O. Box 53,
