Lowell community crowns Robert Reagan Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce "Person of the Year"

"His family and community contributions, his professional competence, his quiet and thorough leadership, his friendliness and kindly manners make him a valued American and a positive American College candidate," wrote Robert F. Streelman and Thomas E. Sommerdyke in 1984 as they were nominating Bob Reagan, D.D.S. for Fellowship in the American College of Dentists.

Seven years later, those same values earned Reagan the sixth annual Lowell Area Chamber of Commerce "Person of the Year" award.

"Ray, you may want to check your notes again and make sure that was me you were talking about," quipped Reagan following Ray Quada's introduction of this year's "Person of the Year."

As an eight-year old, Reagan entered a draw-me contest advertised on the back pages of a comic book. He would have won, but you had to be 18 to be eligible.

Thursday night, Reagan sketched a verbal picture of how he sees Lowell. "Lowell has a nice homey atmosphere. It is a great place to raise a family. Carol and I raised 10 children and most of them have stayed in the Lowell area.

* Member Clark Ellis Post, American Legion, 1953 to present.

* Board member Lowell Savings and Loan Association, 1977-78.

"I accept this honor with humility and pride, knowing that the civic achievements that I have been involved with during these past 38 years are a result of not only my participation, but also of the encouragement and assistance of many individuals, committees and organizations all working together," Reagan said. "I deeply appreciate the honor and thank everyone who made it possible."

The 20th Air Force B-29 gunner was stationed in the South Pacific and honorably discharged in 1946. He joined the Air Force in 1944.

In his free time Reagan is an active hunter, artist, handyman, entertainer, athlete, cook, golfer, friendly bettor, vacation nut, and skier.

"And, there was a time when Dr. Bob practiced portraying 'Jesus' himself," Quada quipped. "He was golfing with friend D.D.S. Clark Reagan, con'd., pg. 2

Downtown area street improvement set to begin

Improvement of some downtown area streets could be completed as soon as Nov. 15.

Then again, it could be longer.

Lowell's City Council accepted the bid of Lee's Trenching Service at a price of $62,360.80.

Of the five bids received, Lee's Trenching Service (Jenison) was the lowest. Other bids came from Ionia Construction ($65,532), Mardic Construction ($71,235), Diversco Construction ($74,034.50), and Youngstrom Contracting ($77,172.00).

The bids were for improving Kent Street between Washington and South Monroe; South Monroe between Kent and East Main; and Lafayette and Avery between East Main and North Monroe.

Work will involve curbing, drainage work, milling of existing pavement and asphaltting of these streets.

In addition, the perimeter of the road around the cemetery will be paved.

There was $68,000 budgeted for the project. The Council approved that the remaining funds be allocated for OMM Engineering for spot inspections and testing.

That says quite a bit about the community."

The Lowell dentist becomes the sixth Lowellite to be honored with the distinguished award. Preceding him were Dode and George Dey (1990); Dr. Orval McKay (1989); Ivan Blough (1988); King Doyle (1987); and Chris VanAntwerp (1986).

Reagan, the oldest of six children, graduated from tended Marquette University School of Dentistry.

* A Lowell Lions Club charter member (1954). His involvement has continued through the years, his duties have included acting club president, director, and editor of the Club Bulletin.

* A Lowell Showboat endman from 1959-61.

The Library will celebrate Children's Book Week with a program for students in grades one through sixth that literally turns the old-fashioned notion of geography upside-down.

"Puzzle Maps-USA," the original concept and acclaimed children's book by local author and Grand Rapids Community College art instructor Nancy Clouse, will be the focus of the hour-long program. Clouse will give youngsters a unique look at USA state maps and demonstrate that geography can be a world of fun. Kids will discover how Clouse designed her puzzle maps and even create puzzle maps of their own to display in the library.

The "Puzzle Maps-USA" program is free and all materials for the puzzle making workshop will be provided. Pre-registration is necessary. Register by phone or in person at your local Kent County Library System branch beginning Oct. 21.

The program is scheduled at the Alto branch, 6059 Linfield, for Thursday, Nov. 7 at 3:30 p.m., phone 868-6038, and at the Lowell

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

... glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good . . . (Romans 2:10).

Are all teen-agers alike? I wonder. Most anytime I needed a bobby pin or two, I could go to our daughters' room and find several on the floor or scattered in the dresser drawer.

And clothespins. I used to send my youngsters to take down the clothes which were hanging in the basement. The next time I went there I discovered clothespins on the floor, the table, and scattered hither and yon. When I stressed the necessity of not losing these simple objects, I met with derision. "Oh, Mother, what's a bobby pin?" Or, "What's the difference?"

Clothespins are cheap, aren't they?"

But little things count up. It's the little things that irritate. Annoyances, like a door continually banging, or a sweater thrown carelessly down in a chair time after time, grate on a housewife's nerves. They make her unhappy. Little things can become troublesome.

On the other hand, little things can add up to good. Charles Spurgeon said: "Every pea helps to fill the sack. Every worshiper increases the congregation; every member helps to make up the church; every penny enlarges the collection." "Every little bit adds up."

Prayer: Dear Jesus, help me always to be conscientious about little things. May I never grow careless with "little" thoughtless words, indiscreet actions, and unwholesome attitudes. On the other hand, help me not to despise the worth of small amounts. If blessed and used by Thee, they can mean a lot, for "every little bit adds up." Amen.

The letters pH stand for potential of hydrogen. It's a number used by chemists to indicate the concentration of hydrogen ions in a solution.

Viewpoint . . .

Cozy Corner by Roger Brown

It seems like every time any of my family rides in my car with me I'm subjected to a barrage of wisecracks, criticism and stupid questions. I have to admit that the inside of my little coupe is a bit, shall we say, "littered". But, just because the inside of my car looks a bit like a '90's version of Clampt's truck, doesn't mean it's full of junk. I need that stuff.

My wife recently took a look around while seated on the passenger side. She noted a pile of clothes on the way to the cleaners, a hair brush, a can of deodorant, dental floss, breath spray, etc. and said, "My God, it looks like you live out of this thing!". I thought for a moment and answered, "I do live out of this thing". I'm all over like bad weather in that car making 80 or 90 sales calls a week. Some of them I have to go back to two or three times before I finally get their ad copy. Somebody asked me the other day how I was doing. I borrowed a line from "Top Gun" and said, "Mach II with my hair on fire!".

So, with that in mind, you should understand how my little business coupe might have a bit of a cluttered look to it. I have a car phone, so of course I have a couple of phone books floating around in there. There is always a pile of Buyers Guides on the back seat, along with copies of ads pasted to sheets of tag board that say, "As Advertised In The Buyers Guide". My notebook is always thrown on the passenger seat and there are pens and pencils everywhere. That's just the beginning!

A little closer inspection reveals dozens of laundry tickets, photo processing claim stubs, business cards, gasoline receipts and numerous notes and phone numbers written on scraps of paper all tucked into the trim around the headliner. I don't dare pull down my visor for fear of being buried by an avalanche of stuff I've got stowed up there.

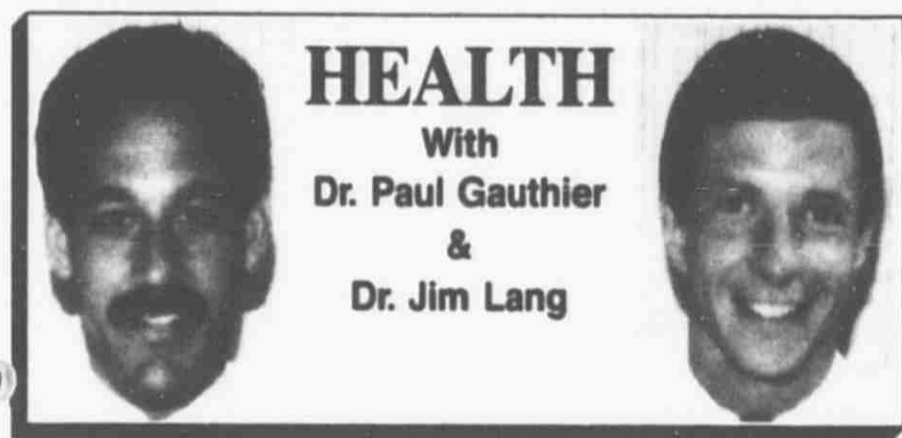

I can close my eyes and take a little mental tour of the interior. An inventory list would further reveal gum, Roloids, sunglasses, umbrella, flashlight, about 150 keys, aspirin, toothpicks, change, window scraper, a pop rivet tool, some rivets, and a host of other items! I was stopped for speeding a couple of weeks ago (remember, Mach II with my hair on fire!). You should have seen the pile of trash that came out of the glove box. I had absolutely anything in there imaginable, except of course a current registration and proof of insurance.

Oh, and let's not forget my assortment of cassette tapes. When I say assortment, I do mean assortment. I've got everything from Fine Young Cannibals to John Lee Hooker, To Prince to Bonnie Raitt. Nobody will ever pigeonhole me into a lover of any one type of music.

The trunk is also a treat. There's a broken boat propeller in there that's been riding around with me since early summer. I'm just waiting for a time when my travels take me near the Michigan Wheel plant in Grand Rapids so I can drop it off for repair. There's a sleeping bag that's been in there since the Oshkosh fly-in back in July. There are also some assorted cleaning supplies that have been back there since the last time I cleaned the car, and who knows how long ago that's been? Throw in a pair of jumper cables, some tools, a broken grinder, a jack, a spare tire and the trunk is pretty well full.

Okay, Okay! So maybe there is some justification for my family's criticism of my car! But, I'd like to see one of them live out of a little coupe at Mach II with their hair on fire.

HEALTH With Dr. Paul Gauthier & Dr. Jim Lang

Alzheimer's disease currently affects about four million Americans. Approximately 1/2 of all nursing home beds are occupied by patients with Alzheimer's disease and 100,000 people will die of this condition annually. Alzheimer's disease will affect about ten percent of senior citizens over the age of 75. Currently, there is no cure for Alzheimer's disease.

The major symptoms of Alzheimer's disease are progressive forgetfulness, social withdrawal, errors in judgement, decreased knowledge of current events, and inability to make simple calculations. Over a period of months to years, the patient's ability to function in activities of daily living deteriorates. Language disturbances often occur leading to rambling speech patterns, loss of ability to express thoughts clearly, and even total lack of speech. Frequently, patients with Alzheimer's disease will become delusional or paranoid suspecting that family members are attempting to harm them. Terminal Alzheimer patients are unable to recall significant life time events. They become totally confused to time or place. They neglect eating and rapid weight loss can occur. The illness usually lasts five to ten years culminating in eventual death.

Alzheimer's disease is due to a gradual loss of neurons in the brain. The brain actually shrinks. Neurons in the brain, which are responsible to thought and memory, are gradually destroyed. We don't know why some people develop Alzheimer's disease while others are completely unaffected.

There is no specific test that can be used to diagnose Alzheimer's disease and the diagnosis is usually made after ruling out other medical diseases that could possibly cause dementia. A computerized x-ray scan of the brain is frequently ordered to rule out stroke or tumors as a likely cause.

Once the diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease is established the family can care for the Alzheimer's patient at home for as long as possible. The patient's environment should be modified and organized so that it is easy to understand. Daily routines need to be established. Families should attend Alzheimer's support groups if they are attempting to care for their loved one at home. Many excellent books are available on caring for family members with dementia.

TOWN TALK

On Sunday, Oct. 6, Liz Taylor, 59, married 39 year old truck driver Larry Fortensky. How long do you think Taylor's eighth marriage will last?

Ival Paulsen
It won't last more than a month. I don't know why she got married again. The other seven marriages didn't last long. Why should this one?

Sue Blanchard
The marriage doesn't stand a chance. I give it six months.

Joan Sampson
I hope this is the marriage for Liz that lasts forever. I admire Liz Taylor for all she has gone through in life.

Mary Sage
The marriage will last less than a year. After all of those marriages I don't think Liz should have remarried. I think she should have called it quits.

Jean Mackey
I can't believe it will last long. I also can't believe the money spent on the wedding. It's stupid to me. I don't think she should have remarried after the second or third marriage.

Gladys Thelen
The other marriages didn't last long. He's so much younger than she is. I think it will last about six months. What's the object in marrying eight times? Variety must be the spice of life. I don't think you should ever reach the number eight in marriage.

Robin Craven
Liz probably shouldn't have gotten remarried. I believe your first choice should be your only choice. There should never be a five, six, seven and eight.

Joe Schwab
It won't last long. Let's see, the other marriages lasted about five years each. If she doesn't die before this one ends, I'd say five years. Since she got married I hope she enjoys it.

Pan, a Greek god, was believed to delight in frightening travelers. The word "panic" derives from his name.

Board members question procedure in filling athletic director & assistant AD positions

The change in the procedure used to fill the athletic director position and assistant athletic director position was questioned by two Lowell Board of Education members Monday night.

"The Board was told the two positions would be filled the same way they had been in the past," Lowell board member, Chris VanAntwerp said. "That was the way it was spelled out but that is not what's being done."

VanAntwerp agreed the athletic director needs help in covering the athletic events. He was not sure that hiring a coach to do so is the answer.

In 1990, Bob Perry had three hours of classroom time, one hour for conference and two hours were filled as athletic director.

Stahr, then assistant athletic director, spent two hours in the classroom, one hour on lunch duty, one hour in conference and two hours as assistant AD.

Stahr, in 1991, is spending 4/5 of his time as AD and one hour on lunch duty.

Monday night the board approved the recommendation to assign Phil Christensen one hour of released time the first semester and two hours of released time the second semester to the assistant athletic director position.

This move will be made at no additional cost to the district. With high school enrollment less than what it has been in 30 years, the enrollment in the business department is down and the class load can be absorbed by other members of the department.

It was also stated that the two hours of coverage lost in history by Stahr's departure could also be made up because of the small enrollment.

"There may not be any additional cost for this one

Sculptor correction

The information provided to the Ledger on the styrofoam replica of the Statue of Liberty picture in the Sept. 25 edition was incorrect. The sculpture was completed by Simon Hernandez of Lowell. The replica was sculpted for the UAW parade in 1989. Hernandez' son, Gabe helped with the work. The UAW shop donated the replica to the school.

Truck bid approved

The Lowell City Council approved the bid of Wittenbach Sales and Service for the purchase of a 1992 GMC Truck - Sierra 1500 for a cost of $8,410.62.

The cost of the truck was determined by subtracting the trade-in value of $1,800 from the $10,210.62 price of the truck.

Other dealers to present bids were Vennen Chrysler-Dodge- Plymouth; Kool Chevrolet; and Harold Zeigler Ford.

According to DPW mechanic, Tom Hartman, the current truck had the following ailments: the transmission seal was leaking, E-brake cables are frozen and rusted, and the left front spring is broken.

The Statue of Liberty has become an LHS history symbol

Nugent powers Lowell past Sparta, 54 - 39

Lowell spotted Belding a 4-point halftime lead and then gallantly attempted to battle back in the second half. The Red Arrows effort fell short as it lost a non-conference high school girls' basketball game to the Redskins, 51-50. "Spotting a club 14 points from the get-go does not bode well for your chances of a win," Lowell coach Ken Akers said. Lowell trailed 29-15 at halftime. The Red Arrows cut the deficit to eight at the end of three quarters of play, 40-32.

Lowell had pulled to within two points 50-48 with 36 seconds to play when a Belding player was called for a foul and a technical. The Red Arrows' best foul shooter, Amy Stauffer, went to the line. She connected on the front end of the one-and-one and then missed the second shot, cutting the Belding lead to one at 50-49. The Lowell sophomore guard stayed at the line for the two technical shots. She missed them both. Lowell then got the ball. With nine seconds to play, Stauffer was fouled again. She hit the first shot, tying the contest at 50-50 and then missed the second shot. Stauffer then complicated things further by fouling her Redskin counterpart with six seconds to play. The Belding guard netted the first shot, giving the visitors the one-point lead and eventually the game. "This pattern of falling behind early and then trying to battle back has got to stop," said a frustrated Akers. Stauffer led all Lowell scorers with 15 points. However, she was only 2-of-7 from the foul line. Six of those attempts came in the final 36 seconds. Renee Nugent netted 11 points and senior guard, Angie Brown tallied 10. Jodi Bishop contributed with eight points. "Nugent was on fire in the first half. She killed Sparta," Akers said. The senior's performance paced Lowell to a 35-17 halftime lead. "Following our loss to Belding, we had two brutal practices leading up to tonight. I don't think the girls wanted to go through that again," Akers explained. When Nugent wasn't pounding the ball in the bucket underneath, Lowell senior guard, Angie Brown was tickling the twine from the perimeter. "That is the best inside, outside performance we've had this year," Akers stated. Brown tallied 13 points. Jodi Bishop added eight and Heather Sobie netted four points. The victory keeps Lowell in the hunt for the conference crown. The Arrows are 4-2 in the conference behind Rogers (5-0), Forest Hills Central and Zealand. "Our biggest game of the year will be Thursday night at home against Rogers," Akers said. "It's a must-win situation for us. We cannot lose three games in the first round and expect to compete for the league title." Lowell senior Renee Nugent was more than Sparta could handle Thursday evening. The Arrow scored

Kerman and Ward break Rogers top five: but Lowell falls 1 point short

In its best overall team performance of the season, the Lowell girls' cross country team came up one point short in a 27-28 defeat at the hands of the visiting Golden Hawks of Rogers.

The two clubs were tied at 18 with four runners home. However, Rogers' Trang Phan beat Lowell's Angela Smith for the ninth spot and a victory.

Phan came off the Fallasburg Park course in 26:26. Smith followed a distance back at 26:51.

"We finally got our three and four runners to break into the opponents top five," Harper said. "It was our best team performance. I was pleased with the effort."

Lowell's Michelle Oliver won the meet with a winning time of 21:53. Teammate Sara Lesky was second, stopping the clock in a time of 23:51.

Rogers grabbed spots three, four, five and six. Michele Molengraf came off the course in 24:29. She was followed by Tami Zwiers' 24:48; Anne Baxter stopped the clock at 25:04; and Jenny Gedding was timed at 25:15.

Lowell's Jenny Kerman came home in seventh place with a mark of 25:34. Stephanie Ward was eighth at 25:44.

Walt Lawrence Invitational

Big Rapids ran big at the Rockford Invitational as it claimed the girls' title.

Big Rapids finished with 36 points. It was followed by Fremont 51; Caledonia 66; Central Montcalm 111;

Hastings 148; Lowell 175; Forest Hills Northern 186; Northview 220; and Belding 241.

Lowell's Michelle Oliver placed sixth in a time of 21:38. Sara Lesky was 24th at 23:47; Stephanie Ward came home in 43rd, in a time of 26:48; Jenny Kerman was 45 with a mark of 26:52 and Anna Lietzke was 57th at 31:15.

League coaches frown about Fallasburg; harriers pumped by its challenge

While many of the O-K White coaches would like to see the league run away from Fallasburg Park, it's the harriers who are challenged once each year by the course which truly embodies the definition of cross country.

"I just think there are a number of spots on the course which could cause injury to the runners," Forest Hills coach Bob Seigel said. "I'm glad we only run here once a year."

The actual cross country participants speak about the course with respect and awe. "This is my final year for the hill," said one harrier as he sat and watched some of his peers tackle a hill, which has been partitioned off like a staircase by the tree roots protruding through the earth. "Next year, I'm coming back and watching the rest of you run this hill," he laughs.

With the O-K White Conference League meet less than a week away, Lowell hosted the league meet at Fallasburg Park

The Red Arrows ran against Rogers. The boys claimed four of the top six spots as they defeated the Golden Hawks 23-33.

"The boys did okay," said a pleased Lowell coach, Tom Harper. "I was happy with the efforts we got from Dude Kanoza and Mike

Rangers sneak out of Lowell with taxing 2 - 1 win

Emotion and highly spirited play allowed the Red Arrows not only to play with Forest Hills Central, but lead the Rangers for more than half of their O-K White soccer match.

The highly touted Class A school out shot Lowell 20-2, which would lead the avid soccer fan to think FHC won the game handily. Instead the Rangers battled back late in the contest to tie the game and then eventually won it 2-1.

Lowell scored in the first half on a Jim Young goal from the left striker position which entered the net over the Rangers goalie, Bill Anderson's outstretched hands.

Central did not score its first goal until the seven minute marker of the second half. Aaron Pilling, from the corner, kicked one past a leaping Aaron Snell. Shortly thereafter, Snell had to leave the contest due to an ankle injury.

Drew Armeth provided the winning shot as he glazed one off the Lowell goalie for a 2-1 Ranger lead and eventually the game.

"I thought Casey Brown and Bob Prins did a defensive job on all-stater, Armeth," Lowell coach John Turkal said. "We played one of the best teams in West Michigan as tight as you can. The boys deserve a lot of credit."

Snell ended the contest with 18 saves. FHC's Bill

Anderson had one save.

Northview 4
Lowell 0

The Wildcats beat up on the Red Arrows at home, avenging an early-season defeat.

Chris Scoles was brought from the junior varsity to start his first varsity game in the net, replacing an injured Aaron Snell (Ankle injury).

"Scoles played well in his first contest. Every goalie goes through a tough period to start," Lowell coach John Turkal said.

Information on the Northview goals were not made available.

Wojciakowski."

Lowell's league losses have come against Forest Hills Central and Zeeland. Harper is trying to fine-tune his harriers so they can make a run at the Rangers and the Chix in the Conference meet on Oct. 21.

"The key is how much time we can cut from our fourth and fifth runners," Harpersaid. "Central would have to be the conference meet favorite because of its depth."

The Red Arrows were led by Dave Stouffer. The senior finished first in a time of 17:54. He was five seconds ahead of Golden Hawk, Scott Benton, 17:59.

Jason VanderWarf came home in third place with a time of 18:30. Rogers' Dan Swieger was fourth, stopping the clock at 18:35.

Spots five and six belonged to the Red Arrows. Tom Mull came off the course in 18:37 finishing fifth, and Dude Kanoza was sixth at 19:12.

Lowell's Mike Wojciakowski broke into the top five for Lowell. He stopped the clock in 19:35, placing eighth behind Rogers' Jayme Dood, 19:29.

Matt Lenger was ninth for the Hawks in a time of 19:44 and Joe Lystad was 11th at 20:09.

Walter Lawrence Invitational

It was a meeting of the titans at the Rockford Invitational. A handful of the area's best teams participated in the annual event.

The Packers from Fremont posted the victory in remarkable fashion. The Packers' top three runners all came home in under 18 minutes, as Fremont finished with 44 points, easily besting its closest competitor, Big Rapids, who finished with 65. They were followed by Caledonia 76; Cedar Springs 78; Hudsonville 111; Lowell 167; Central Montcalm 196; Hastings 221; Belding 262; Northview 287; Forest Hills Northern 294.

The invitational medalist was Fremont's Brad Charles, who came off the course in a time of 16:56.

For Lowell, Stouffer placed 18th with a mark of 18:20. VanderWarf was 25th, coming home in 18:54. Tom Mull was 31st with a time of 19:16.

Stopping the clock in 20:16 was Dude Kanoza, placing him 41st. Lowell's fifth runner home was Mike Wojciakowski, 52nd, at a time of 21:22.

Chad Dunn qualifies for state; Red Arrows place seventh at regionals

Coming off a run for the O-K White Conference crown in 1990, Lowell linksters placed sixth overall in the league.

Lowell placed sixth during the regular season and finished fifth in the conference meet, putting the Red Arrows sixth overall with 10 points.

Forest Hills Central, champion of the regular season and the conference meet, placed first overall with 24 points.

Northview, second during the regular season, followed format and placed second at the conference meet, with 20 total points.

East Grand Rapids was third overall with 17 points. The Pioneers were third during the regular season and finished fourth at the conference meet.

Zeeland, fifth during the regular season, finished third at the conference meet, placing fourth overall with 13 points.

Wyoming Park tied Zeeland with 13 points overall. The Vikings were fourth during the season and placed seventh at the conference.

Rogers was seventh overall with seven points and Sparta finished eighth with four points.

Mike Doan, Zeeland was the conference meet match medalist with a round of 77.

He was followed by Mark Ostrander, EGR, 79; Curtis Leigh, 80, FHC; Jason Hudley, 83, FHC; Chris Elzinga, 83, Lowell; John Ostroko, 83, Rogers; Brian Schifferlein, 83, FHC; Mark Styczenski, 84, FHC; Kyle Pierce, 84, Northview; and Ryan Drenton, 85, Zeeland.

Lowell was led by Elzinga with his 83. Chad Dunn followed with an 87. Craig Coleman and Sean Smith completed the Red Arrow scoring with rounds of 92.

The team scoring went like this: FHC 330; Northview 344; Zeeland 346; EGR 347; Lowell 354; Rogers 355; Wyoming Park 358; Sparta 377.

At the regional high school golf tournament in Alma at the par 36 Pine River Country Club, the host team Alma, came off the course with the regional title.

Alma finished with 330. It was followed by Forest Hills Northern with 334; Cedar Springs 334; Chippewa Hills 335; Northview 337; Haslett 344 and Lowell finished seventh out of 18 schools with a round of 349.

The top three teams qualified for the state tournament in East Lansing. The top five individual players also qualified for state competition.

Lowell's Chad Dunn

earned an invitation filling the final spot with a round of 80. The Red Arrow went out in 44, but recovered on the back nine as he shot a sizzling 36.

"He's a great scrambler," laughed Lowell coach Jack Ogle. "He did a great job on the back nine."

As happy as Ogle was for Dunn, he was as disappointed for senior Chris Elzinga. The senior, not having one of his better days, struggled with an 89.

"I feel bad for Chris. He's been a great player for us all year, we both thought he'd qualify for state," Ogle explained. "Chris just had a bad day."

Other Lowell scores include Coleman's 87 and Smith finishing with a 93.

Other individual players to qualify for the state tournament, include Chris Fisk, Cedar Springs, 77; Brandon Silverthorn, Alma, 78; Paul Thornburg, Chippewa Hills, 78; Greg Best, Alma 79; and Mike Maas, Eaton Rapids, 80.

Red Arrows defense stymies Spartans; Knoop rushes for 115 yds.

Heather Gowen was crowned Homecoming queen, Bob Perry was honored at halftime Friday night by the Lowell Sports Boosters Club and the Red Arrows posted their first victory of the season in the O-K White. A shut-out, at that, 20-0 over Sparta.

It hasn't gotten any better than that for Lowell this season.

The victory improved Lowell's record to 2-4 overall and 1-4 in the conference. The win also stopped a four-game Red Arrow skid.

The Red Arrows are now tied for fifth place with the Spartans and Wyoming Park. All three clubs are one game behind East Grand Rapids, who is 2-3 in the conference.

Central leads the league at 5-0, followed by Zeeland 4-1, Northview 3-2, and Rogers at 3-2.

We dominated the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball tonight," Lowell football coach Phil Christensen said.

Statistics bear that out. The Red Arrow defense allowed Sparta a total of 62 yards on offense. Lowell, however, rushed for 297 yards in 46 attempts. The Red Arrows amassed 345 yards in total offense.

"Defensively we were able to stop their fullback, Justin Mull, and on offense we were able to control the football and keep Sparta's offense off the field," Christensen said.

The two teams battled to a 0-0 halftime tie. Lowell was stopped on the one-foot line just before the half ended.

The momentum gained from the drive, carried over into the third quarter as Lowell took the ball, and behind the strong running of Brett Knoop, tallied its first touchdown of the evening. The senior ran it in from 30 yards out.

Early in the fourth quarter Knoop went in the Sparta endzone again, this time from four yards away, giving Lowell a 14-0 lead.

The scoring was completed later in the final quarter when Shawn Smith scampered in from 35 yards away.

"Sparta's a good club. They played right with Central for

Lowell netters place sixth in conference

Forest Hills Central, in somewhat of a surprise, won the O-K White Conference Tennis Tournament at Forest Hills last Monday.

The Rangers were first followed by East Grand Rapids, Wyoming Park, Northview and Zeeland tied for fourth, Lowell was sixth, Rogers was seventh and Sparta finished eighth.

Lowell's Alison Zillmer placed fifth in number two singles. Zillmer lost her opening round match, but came back with wins against Wyoming Park's Nikki DeVries, 6-1, 6-1; Sparta's Marie Brown, 6-1, 7-5; and Zeeland's Barb Allen, 6-2, 6-4.

Placing sixth for the Red Arrows were their number one doubles team of Rachael Neile-McGrew and Tara Sterly.

Amy Gerkin and Marcy Anes, number three doubles team, also finished sixth.

In exhibition play, Lindsey DenBoer and Tara Weststrate placed fourth.

"The girls played alright," Lowell coach Wendy Ackermann said. "I was happy that we finished ahead of both Rogers and Sparta."

Lowell also defeated both squads during the regular season.

Franciscan Sisters realize "Impossible Dream"

$1.8 million Life Process Child Development Center opens

Mother Rosemae Pender, F.S.E., Mother General, called the fulfillment of the Franciscan Life Process Child Development Center "The Impossible Dream."

"Six years ago, ideas and projections for the Center were put on paper," Mother Rosemae explained. Methodically, step by step - through the township, the legal formalities, officials and to the community, the ideas and projections became reality.

"Oh no! I don't think the time went slowly. It went by very quickly," said Sister Colleen Ann Nagle, F.S.E., Director, Franciscan Life Process Child Development Center.

Nagle called the Center a symbol for the future. "It's a commitment to helping each person develop that 'child within' each of us - regardless of age - which will help people live life more fully," she said.

Peter Wege, chairman of capitol campaign, said the building was needed for growth. "It sets on this land as if it has been here for years," he explained. "It's a versatile building, it will accommodate classes and projects. It will be a small village of sorts, in that everything will be connected."

Wege added that the Center addresses the most important issue of the future, education. "Education is the key to our future. It can cure ills created by former generations and help to create plans so we can understand why."

The method of education and therapy to be used at the center is unique in that it utilizes a farm environment and the natural rhythms and settings of nature to assist in both the educational and therapeutic process. "It is one that is needed throughout the country for our youth," Wege said.

1991 Polo In The Park benefit chairperson, Colleen Jarvis, recently presented a check for over $52,000 to Broadway Theatre Guild president, Mal Cumming, at the Grand Rapids Press Club.

The Broadway Theatre Guild will use the funds to support its efforts to bring Broadway productions to the Grand Rapids area. While Cumming noted that tickets sales for The Broadway Theatre Guild shows were increasing, other fund raising efforts, such as Polo In The Park, and the Gold Circle program, bridge the financial gap, for the Guild.
