Beers resigns from School Board

Gives up Board seat after 13 years to pursue educational goals

P.A. 25 calls on schools to stay current and to prepare students to deal with the changes facing them in the real world. It makes sure students are kept current.

The world of education is constantly changing, keeping up with those changes has become mandatory if schools want to keep from losing state funding.

Linda Beers, a government relations special lobbyist with the Michigan School Boards, the Lowell has prepared schools abreast changes and dipast 13 years. Beers' understanding tional issues sightful and on education in The 13-year member, howpare her fellow exciting, challenging things that lie ahead. I still intend to remain on board committees."

The Sioux Falls, South Dakota native, also realizes the excitement is more than just a new facility. "The programs this facility will allow us to provide our children is what's wonderful. There is no limit to the potential."

But there may be a limit to the funding available for the curriculum. "Funding is a big challenge that faces all schools," Beers says. "I think it will continue to be riskier in years to come," she says.

There has been talk of a property tax proposal which Beers says will reduce funds and not provide a way to refinance funding. "The problem is, while it proposes to reduce property tax, it is not sure whether the state will make up the difference," Beers states.

That uneasiness almost demands that public education be supported by the taxpayer.

Beers and other educators believe education is getting better. They all stress that the educational needs of the student has changed and thus the way schools go about meeting their needs must also change.

"The new facility will give Lowell the opportunity to meet these ever changing student needs. "It's important we realize, that the student, parent and public all have a part to play," Beers explains.

"There are a lot of good people on the Lowell Board of Education right now, who have expertise in a variety of areas," Beers said. "I decided to move on because there are new things I want to do.

Beers pointed to an increasing work load at the MASB and to her desire to go back to school .. "I want to pursue a degree in public administration," she explains. "If I'm going to do something I must give it 100 percent. I didn't want to juggle work, school board and classes."

She adds that there are exciting things ahead for Lowell schools. "I'm not divorcing myself completely from the

She stresses that it is critical that Lowell does not let school improvement lapse. The program assures the school will continue to change and meet the needs of the ever changing world.

In her 13 years on the Board of Education, Beers has followed through on a commitment to education. "I love school. I love learning," she says. In part that's why she's returning to school.

Beers defines a good board member as someone who is willing to make a commitment, who is open minded, who can

Site opposition doesn't see fairness or practicality in financing water for condo project

Lowell's City Council got what it wanted, informative conversation between itself and the public regarding a proposed water, sewer, streets program in the Grindle Drive neighborhood.

The 70-plus people in attendance at the public information session Monday night, made it clear that helping to finance a water program for the proposed Highland Hills Condominium site is not what they want.

Tom Reedy, 714 Hillside Court, stated, "It is not fair or equitable to ask us to finance water for the condo site."

Reedy pointed out that a $10,000 lot he owns would be assessed at $20,000 and in order for him to cover cost he would have to sell the lot at $30,000. "That is not practical. I would never be able to regain that loss." John LeFevre of Fishbeck, Thompson, Carr and Huber presented the proposed cost estimates for water, street and sewer improvements on the northeast (Grindle Drive) area.

He identified the cost for the five different sections of the area. Cost were also provided for each affected property owner by mail this past year.

LeFevre, along with showing the costs, also showed the two alternatives. The first alternative provides water with grading and street paving improvements. The second alternate adds sanitary sewer and curb and gutter.

John LeFevre (standing) addresses the Lowell City Council and area residents.

If alternate one would be approved, the total cost would be $660,000 with special assessments responsible for $291,813. Alternate two would cost $1,147,000 with special assessments totalling $617,923.

In the first phase the balance paid by the City would total $154,000. The City's total share for areas one and two (alternate one) would be $253,230. For areas one and two (alternate two) the City's share would be $320,130.

The water pumping station required is to serve residents in the higher elevations in the northeast area of the City. Inadequate pressure is currently observed in the area of High Street and James Street. The system in its current configuration cannot be safely expanded and was identified as a high priority in the 1989 water reliability study.

"The booster station, according to LeFevre could serve a maximum of 155 residences. The apportionment for the cost of the booster station attempts to evenly share the cost by all potential beneficiaries. That cost would be $1,077 per user.

Those who already have water in some areas would only be assessed for road improvements.

Jack Misner questioned why the Council was even having another meeting on the issue. "I didn't hear anything positive from the first discussion. I haven't heard anything positive in the community about the project either," he said. "I get the feeling citizens don't matter, but developers do. Is this already a done deal?"

Mayor James Maatman assured him that it was anything but a done deal. "That is why we are having this discussion tonight. So that the Council can hear from the public in regards to the matter."

Chuck Myers raised the concern that special assessments could be made to property owners who do not want the project in the area in the first place. He added that the City could proceed considering the long-term payback of 77 new tax base units, "but what if the demand for $80,000 condominiums in Lowell stops the development after only three units are built. The City would then have no opportunity to recover their cost of improvements," he explains.

Myers also passed out a petition for neighbors at the meeting, who oppose the condo project. A little over 60 signatures were tendered.

Maatman said the Council wants to find the best possible solution.

Most of those in attendance, whether residents of James Street or not, agreed those people need something to be done to fix their water pressure problem. The question was raised if road improvements could be held off until later? It was suggested that financially it would not make sense to dig up roads to fix the water problem and then in a couple years dig up the roads again for upgrading.

Lowell's Mayor suggested that the cost for the water and road projects will never be less than what they are today.

However the individual assessment costs for many would be greater than, not less than what they could sell their property for.

"For some of us it would be cheaper to give our land to the City, than to pay the assessment," Reedy said.

According to Beers, the conventional educational process of putting 30 kids in a classroom and teaching them was reaching only 60 percent of the students. Of the other 40 percent, 20 percent it did not reach. They are the ones on welfare or in correctional institutions. The other 20 percent learned on their own.

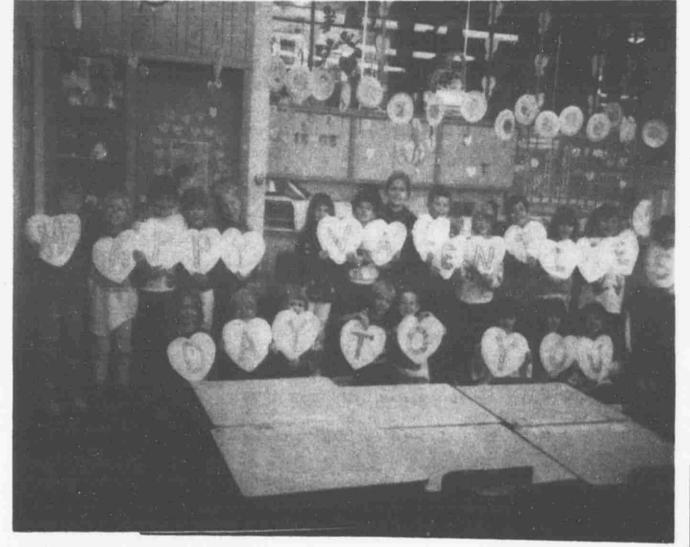

Programs such as outcomes-based education and the Renaissance programs address the learning needs of all and are committed to all students.

It's been awhile since I've used this space to poke fun at my limited abilities as a handyman. That's primarily because it's been awhile since my wife has had any success in roping me into any handyman projects. I guess that's proof positive that I'm a heckuva lot better at duckin' them than doin' them. Problem is, our old house is really beginning to show signs of my continual ducking.

Rather than be strapped with a sentence of painting and wallpapering evenings and weekends, I consented to hiring decorators to do the three rooms at the top of my wife's extensive list. I had to swallow mighty hard when signing the contract. Ducking these handyman projects can also prove to be a serious drain on the pocketbook! Consequently, I declined to duck when some carpentry, electrical and plumbing projects came up relating to this decorating. I have to go through this masochistic ritual every so often just to remind myself that I am a publisher, and I should stick to publishing. I should let the

What a sense of impending doom that must and cold supply valves were now leaking. Godzilla strikes have given my wife!

I was reminded of the old submarine movies when they are under a depth charge attack and water is rushing in everywhere. The problem I faced was a false ceiling. In order to mount After considerable muttering of oaths and repeated trips to the the heavy ceiling fan into anything substantial, I first had to deal with a four inch void between the new drywall ceiling and hardware, I finally got things under control. However, a the old lath and plaster ceiling. After trying to figure out a good couple of my wife's cake pans are still strategically placed in solution, I finally tackled the project the best way I know how. the bowels of that vanity in case of another depth charge I went into the attic with a crowbar and hammer. I ripped up attack. attic floorboards, smashed my way through the old ceiling and I related some of these stories to a friend of mine. She listened politely and said, "Boy, you're a regular Bob Villa, scabbed in a two by four to mount the ceiling fan to. Just call aren't you?" You know Bob Villa don't you? He's the guy with

All of us have felt "depressed" at one time or another and usually this is a temporary disturbance of mood which resolves over a short period of time. Clinical depression is different then this temporary disturbance of mood. True depression can affect the entire body, our thoughts and mood. It generally lasts longer than a few weeks and is thought by many to be caused by an imbalance of the chemical neurotransmitters in our brain Depression is a very common disorder affecting about 10 million Americans. If left untreated, it can become a very disabling condition. Many people affected with this disorder are afraid to bring this to their doctors attention because of feelings that their illness is brought on by themselves when in reality it should be treated as any other illness like arthritis or diabetes.

Some individuals suffering from depression may not even realize that depression is causing their physical symptoms. Like other illnesses, depression can cause a

Another book that came home with me was my surprise find, FOREST OF DREAMS by Rosemany Wells. Like many, we are ready for some sunlight and the touch of weather change that says, "Just a little bit longer and spring will be here," and that's what this book does. What a beautiful book of seasonal change that leafs through one's heart with hope. What a delight for a child and just as much for an adult! DeRidder is the daughter of Karen DeRidder of Lowell and Ray DeRidder of Virginia. Her nominator describes DeRidder as a caring, friendly person who loves to do things for others. These characteristics are evident in DeRidder's activities. She is a volunteer in the high school library and is willing to come in to help even on her own time before and after school and during her lunch hour. She has joined service club, Teens Involved. She also belongs to the International Club. She likes all of her classes and couldn't pick a favorite. She also enjoys sports such as golf and downhill skiing, and lifts weights. She was a member of the junior powderpuff football team this year. DeRidder works at Cousins Card Shoppe.

Five students have been selected as the February students-of-the-month at Lowell High School. They are Seniors, Troy Addington and Rob Kenney, Junior Renea DeRidder, Sophomore Ann "Cat" Kilpatrick, and Freshman Dena Beers.

Item #1.714 HILLSIDE COURT (NORTHWEST COR-NER OF GRINDLE AND HILLSIDE COURT) - STEVEN AND AMY MEEUWENBERG - VARIANCE TO RE FLOOR AREA REQUIREMENTS OF NEW HOUSE -ESTABLISH PUBLIC HEARING (2/31). Steven and Amy Meeuwenberg had requested a variance so they can have a new house constructed with 1359 square feet of floor area at the northwest corner of Grindle Drive and Hillside Court. Their site is located in the R-1 district, where 1500 square feet is required. In their application, the Meeuwenbergs stated that the reduced floor area would considerably lessen the cost of their first home.

IT WAS MOVED BY HODGES and seconded by GREEN to establish a public hearing for Monday, February 3, 1992 to consider a variance request from Steven and Amy Meeuwenberg to reduce floor area requirements of a new house to 1359 square feet at 714 Hillside Court in R-1 district where 1500 square feet is required. The Parks and Recreation Commission discussed the sharing of the Creekside Present: Councilmembers Green, Hodges, Thompson, Park ball fields between the Lowell Little League and YMCA at their January 11 meeting. It was determined that the Little League would have three fields (northeas and south) on Monday and Wednesday and one field on Saturday after 2 p.m. The YMCA would have access to the fields at all other times. The agreement would run from April 1 to July 4. Officials from both the Little League and the Y have concurred.

> IT WAS MOVED BY GREEN and seconded by HODGES to approve the agreement regarding the Lowell Little League using three ball fields on Monday and Wednesday and one field after 2 p.m. on Saturday and the YMCA using the ball fields at all other times at Creekside Park.

Item #3. PURCHASE OF NEW RESERVOIR LEVEL TRANSMITTER. George Regan, Superintendent of the Water Treatment Plant, stated that the present reservoir level transmitter had been in service before the plant was built and basically is out dated. The transmitter is located in a pit which can be potentially dangerous for access. The proposed new transmitter is an above ground structure on top of the reservoir. Regan pointed out that if the existing transmitter fails, the high service pumps would shut down. If the new system fails, it will be tied into a telephone as the present system is, but it will identify exactly what the problem is. Smith Instrument had provided a quote of S3.056 for the purchase and installation of the transmitter. It was noted that Smith is the sole distributor of Bristol Instrumentation which ties in to the existing city equipment. Thus, no other quotes were sought.

IT WAS MOVED BY THOMPSON and seconded by FONGER to approve the purchase and installation of the a new reservoir level transmitter from Smith Instrument for $3.056. YEA: 5.

Item #4. SALE OF FIRE DEPARTMENT GRASS RIG AND PURCHASE OF NEW TRUCK. The Fire Depart ment currently has a 1969 Ford Bronco used as a grass rig. Although it serves the department well, the Bronco has a limited water supply and storage space for fighting grass fires. Thus, the Bronco was advertised for bids with a $3000 minimum. The following were received:

Marc Jacqmain 1660 Alden Nash $5,050 Christopher Kieffer 3828 Whites Bridge Rd., Belding $4,521 Doran and Sally Loftus $3,855 11373 40th St.

$3.025 2445 Montcalm Buell Brinks

Also, the Fire Department pursued to purchase a 1983 Chevrolet one ton as a replacement from West Michigan Drilling. The total cost would be $4,450, including repairs. Fire Chief Frank Martin said that with the limited use of a grass rig, a new vehicle is not justified. Also, the Chevrolet has many of the features needed for the grass rig and therefore the Fire Department requested a waiver from the bid process. Chief Martin stated that the 1983 Chevrolet is already equipped with a flat bed. Mayor Maatman asked how many miles were on it. It has approximately 100,000 miles, but has been well maintained by West Michigan Drilling.

IT WAS MOVED BY THOMPSON and seconded by GREEN to award the bid to purchase the 1969 Ford Bronco used as the Fire Department Grass Rig to Marc Jacqmain (1660 Alden Nash) for $5,050 and to approve the purchase of a 1983 Chevrolet one ton as a replacement from West Michigan Drilling for $4,450. This board with representation from the City of Lowell and the Vergennes Township would provide protection to the approaches of the runways from potential obstacles such as buildings and trees. If both municipalities approve the resolution then each would appoint two members to the board and among those four a fifth member would be selected. Councilmember Fonger asked if Vergennes Township has already adopted this. Serving won Lowell the decisive third game over Hastings Monday night. Ironically it was the Red Arrows serving that nearly lost the match to the Saxons in games one and two Lowell outlasted Hastings 15-12, 7-16 and 17-15.

Alison Zillmer led the Red Arrow service charge with 10 service points, five of which were aces.

"Due to illness we played with girls out of their normal nositions," Lowell coach Laurie Kuna said. "In that aspect. I thought we played well, but our serving was not good. We issed way too many serves.

Lowell missed on three of 19 service attempts in game one, six of 16 in game two, and eight of 28 in game three.

Kuna recognized Sarah Hall and Tara Sterly for sparkling nassing. "Both girls came off the bench and did a good job nassing for us. Tonight's win was a team effort. Everyone contributed."

Rogers 15-15, Lowell 13-13

Lowell played well at times in this O-K White battle, but its inability to put the ball away proved costly in the end. "We did a lot of good things out there tonight, but couldn't put the ball away," Lowell coach Laurie Kuna said.

Heather Gowen led Lowell in kills with seven. Lowell, as team, had 16.

The Red Arrow serving was splendid, missing only two of 9 attempts.

"I was also pleased with our blocking. It was better than it has been." Kuna said.

Kerry Nugent was the club leader in aces with three. Angie Nauta was tops for Lowell in assists with seven.

The cost could be shared with Lowell ownship and possibly the Lowell Area Schools.

City Manager Pasquale mentioned that the proposed northeast high pressure district will be reviewed in light of the overall system improvements. An informational meeting to affected property owners and interested esidents is scheduled for the February 3 City Council neetina.

B. Proposed vacation streets to King Milling. As part of a lease agreement originally signed in 1965, the City leased property from King Milling for the municipal parking lot by the Flat River (old Mill site). The City, in turn, leased public right of way to King Milling involving Kent and Lafayette Streets. The agreement specified that property taxes are the responsibility of the lessee. In reviewing the agreement, it appeared that the City doesn't need these rights of way (Lafayette and Kent). Further, since the properties are publicly owned, no tax revenues are derived. If the City vacated these right of way, there would be tax revenues to the City. City Manager Pasquale recommended that these right of way be vacated to King Milling. Councilmember Hodges asked that if King Milling would be giving the City the municipal parking lot property as a trade. City Manager Pasquale stated that King Milling has no desire to change that part of the agreement. Council members Thompson and Fonger felt that if the City vacates these properties the City would have nothing to negotiate with for the parking lot. The consensus of the Council is that they do not want to vacate these properties at this time.

C. Concession stand. A letter was received from Jud VanStee and Travis Briggs proposing to operate the Creekside Park concession stand for this summer. The City has had difficulty in having someone operate the stand since Don and Lynn Green took the responsibility in 1990. City Manager Pasquale asked the Council they have any problems with allowing them to operate the concession stand or do they want advertisement for requests to operate.

At their next joint meeting of July 15, each Commission will prepare a statement on the issue of transportation roads) as it affects each jurisdiction's master plan. The meeting was well attended by all the commissions.

F. The Parks and Recreation Commission met on January 11 to review its Capital Improvements Plan update and discussed proposed rules for Stoney Lakeside Park. The need for a pay phone to be installed by the restroom building in the park was also discussed. Michigan Bell would waive the installation fee of $173 but the pay phone would cost the City $24 per month. Michigan Bell would maintain it.

The consensus of the Council was to have a pay elephone installed by therestroom building at Stoney Lakeside park.

G. In response to previous Council concerns regarding the seven remaining downtown trees, they were judged by the city staff as being unacceptable for transplanting. Ron McCollum then provided replacement trees. A total of 39 trees were planted (10 at Stoney Lakeside Park, 4 at the cemetery and 25 at Creekside Park). Also the pots have been sold and it is anticipated that these will be moved shortly.

Cory Kirkbride

The sophomore grappler is 15-9 this season. Lowell assistant coach Jim Fleet says of Kirkbride, "He's a hard worker with a good attitude and great heart." It was Kirkbride's heart that allowed him to come back from a 10-1 deficit to pin his opposient Thursday night against Rogers.

Stacy Stickney

The team-captain set a goal to become a Red Arrow all-round performer, she has accomplished that feat. Lowell coach Annette Pearson calls Stickney a very dedicated gymnast. Stickney placed in iwo (vanit, baiance beam) of the four events in Lowell's win over Rockford.

Vergennes Planning Commission sets off-site water/sewer facility as a must evidence was presented to it that states continual use of the well after construction would not adversely impact those neighboring the school.

A third provision was that a west parking lot be moved east so that its closest distance to the property line would be 60 feet. The setback required is 25 feet.

Part "B" of the provision asked that a proposed berm on the west boundary extend south to the tree-line with a height of seven feet, plus or minus a foot with a three-to-one slope.

Part "C" of the provision calls for a six-foot chain link fence be installed, running 700 feet north and south on the west side of the property line.

A fourth amendment that must be met prior to approval, is that the site drainage plan and maintenance of detention and retention ponds receive sufficient monitoring in an effort to protect the ground water from contaminated sediment and other materials that may be going into the ponds. Commissioners wanted consideration given to this due to the impact pond waters could have on existing aquifers and portable wells.

The Planning Commission wants to be assured that the system will monitor the sediment.

The final request from the Planning Commission was that all three ponds be fenced in.

Lowell School Superintendent Fritz Esch said he was pleased with how discussions on the school site plan went.

Board agrees to update communications of athletic standings

Due to a miscommunication between all parties during the fall sport season, the method for monitoring student athlete's academic standings has been updated by the Lowell Board of Education.

A Lowell High School fall athlete had to be told just prior to the start of a league event that he was not eligible.

The Lowell Personnel Committee of the Board of Education upon reviewing the situation agreed that the method of monitoring student athlete's academic standings need to be updated.

Therefore the following changes were instituted:

1. All students placed on the ineligible list for any seven day period will not be allowed by their coaches to dress in uniform.

2. A "paper trail" including student and parent signatures on the newly developed forms will identify athletic status (warning or ineligibility) will be required to insure the parent, teacher, student, coach and athletic director understands the academic status of the students.

"The Board and I feel badly that this situation occurred with a Lowell athlete and we hope that by updating our internal communication system it will serve to avoid miscommunication between all parties in the future," said Lowell Superintendent Fritz Esch.
