Lowell Showboat grounds enhanced by the laboring efforts of students

None of the students were sure why it was done?

They all agreed it did not make much sense and they wanted to do something to right the wrong.

"Actually, it was not a thought of what should we do. It was more of a reaction to come out and do it," Lowell senior Jason Myers said.

Myers was one of roughly 15 high school students, mostly seniors, who spent five hours on Saturday cleaning up the grounds surrounding the Showboat and the debris left by vandals.

"It's astounding what the high school students have done here today," said Showboat maintenance supervisor Lou D'Agostino. "I'd personally like to see something like this organized every year.

Hopefully, not so much to repair and paint, but more to spruce things up."

The Lowell Showboat incurred vandalism and arson damage totaling nearly $10,000.

Damage included 10 broken doors, 12 broken windows, 108 linear feet of cedar siding, an air conditioning unit, and numerous light bulbs and electrical fixtures.

The arson occurred a week after the vandalism was detected. The holes in the floor, which are used to hold the gate that closes off the entrance to the boat were stuffed full of flammable material and then lit.

Lowell senior Bob Prins expressed the reasons high school students from Lowell got involved. "The Showboat is this community's thing. The low lifes with nothing better to do come and trash it," said Lowell senior Bob Prins. "The senior class wants its graduation ceremony at the Showboat not in a gymnasium.

Brandon Triplett, the son of Showboat board member, Dale Triplett, approached his father about what the senior class could do to help clean the Showboat up?

He asked assistant principal Scott Vashaw to put it in the morning announcements that a cleanup session would be held Saturday at the Showboat and those who were interested should show up.

"Many students told me that they thought it was a good idea and would try to come and help," Brandon Triplett said.

Easttown shooting takes life of Lowell woman

It was the reunion of the music comedy act known as the Biminy Brothers.

It was not only a reunion for the group's members, but also for friends of the group's stars, Dennie Middleton and Nick Lewis.

The reunion ended tragically Thursday evening when a friend and fan, Lowell's Suzanne Timpson-Wittenbach was shot to death when she and a friend were walking back to their car from the Intersection Lounge at 11:30 p.m.

Timpson-Wittenbach and her friend were confronted by two black males approximately 18-20 years of age. "One demanded their purses or money," said Grand Rapids Police Sergeant Carol Price.

"The friend stopped. Timpson-Wittenbach continued on, but then turned to look back and was struck by gunfire," Price said.

Price said Timpson-Wittenbach and her friend were halfway between (near the Baskin Robbins 31 Ice Cream Store) the bar and where she parked her car when the shooting occurred.

The two assailants escaped on foot. Price said the man with the gun was approximately 5'8" tall. Police recovered the purse, but as of Tuesday morning had not taken anyone into custody for the shooting.

Price, who lectures on crime prevention, said that Timpson-Wittenbach did everything right. "She went with someone, she walked in a well traveled area and took a direct route," the Sergeant explained.

Autopsy results showed that the bullet was fired from a handgun. Wittenbach-Timpson died from a bullet wound to the upper left chest.

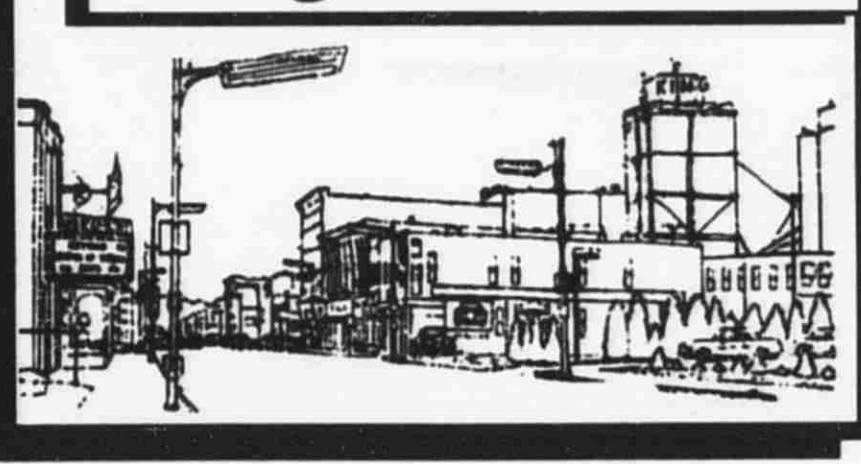

On Saturday, a candlelight community vigil was held in front of the Easttown Community Association where a crowd

Local industry expansion hinges on Proposition I

In the event Lowell Township's re-zoning decision is reversed on June 2, ITM announced its 40,000 square foot expansion will occur outside of the Lowell area with a loss of 375 jobs to the community.

The 40,000 square foot addition will be used to temporarily relocate some of the Lowell facility's machining for an interim three-year period.

ITM president and chief executive officer, James Hamelink, said that over the next three years ITM anticipates an additional increase of 50 jobs in support of new contracts. "ITM is bulging at the seams. We have new contracts, but no place to put the machinery needed to fill the contracts."

Hamelink says the addition is just temporary. "Our future plans include building a 100,000 square foot corporate machining facility in the new industrial development located at I-96 and Alden Nash," he says. "All machine

They didn't say it!

In the May 19 edition of the Lowell Ledger, the story "Concerns levied about transient merchants' length of stay," stated that Charlie Bernard and Don Garvin have problems with area farmers coming into town to sell corn and other vegetables and produce type items.

Completion of Michigan history unit ends with cookout celebration

Culminating the study of their Michigan History unit, Lowell School District fourth-graders celebrated Michigan Week with their first ever Michigan Lunch at Creekside Park.

"This year we did away with the Michigan Breakfast and instead, roasted hot dogs and played games," Lowell fourth grade teacher Linda DeCator said. "It was a culminating event that brought students from different schools together with other students."

Each year the Michigan History Unit is used to teach students its state history and interesting facts.

This year there were approximately 240 fourth-grade students who took part in the program.

Linda DeCator and Gary Heitz's fourth-grade class competed in a Michigan History Bowl.

Approximately 240 fourth-grade students participated in the Michigan history program.

Runciman-Riverside fourth-grade teachers Linda DeCator and Gary Heitz also prepared their students for a Michigan History quiz. Each class had eight students represent it. Questions were valued one, two and three points. Less than a handful of questions were missed between the two teams as the two teachers worked their way through roughly 50 or so questions. The questions covered history, sports, famous figures, Indian history and much more.

DeCator's class won the event.

Homespun Devotions

By Pauline Spray

Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven (Matthew 5:16).
 Headlights on a car are a must if one travels on the highways after nightfall. They light up the way so the driver can see where he is going and avoid any obstructions in his path. It is an extremely dangerous thing to be caught out on the road after dark without them. Taillights on a car are equally important. They keep the other vehicles on the highway from colliding with us from behind. Without them, we not only endanger ourselves, but the oncoming travelers, as well. Christians, we have a duty. We have been commissioned to let our light shine before men that all may see our good works and thereby glorify the Father which is in heaven. We are urged to be true lights in a darkened world. By living consistent Christian lives, we can avoid being stumbling blocks to others. Spiritual laxity on the part of any one of us may cause another harm, but setting the right example will guide others to the right. We can be blessings in this world, providing we "keep the lights turned on."

 Prayer: O Lord, make me a blessing to all I meet. May my life always ring true. May I set the right example for others to follow. Grant that my light will shine through my actions, attitudes, and words. Amen.

I attended, or I guess you could say, I participated in the car show held at Showboat Automotive last weekend. First, I'd like to offer a tip of the hat to Hugh Cosgrove and his staff, who sponsored the event in conjunction with the 20th anniversary of the business. In dealing with Hugh for his advertising needs leading up to the show, he told me he hoped to have 30 to 40 cars participating. He ended up with 82 entries. On top of that, he arranged for beautiful weather and a great turnout of spectators. Nice job Hugh! (Must have been the advertising.) I don't own any classic cars, but I talked my dad into bringing his 1936 Cord Westchester and 1963 Studebaker Avanti to the show. I also got brother Eddie to enter his 1964 Oldsmobile 442. My youngest brother, John, would like to have participated, but his 1969 American Motors AMX restoration project is not quite ready for a car show. Maybe when Hugh has his 30th anniversary.

We all met in Saranac Saturday morning, rolled the cars out, cleaned them up a little and headed for the show. I drove the Avanti. I had never driven it, but had been told it was quite a hot rod. I was just a kid when the Avanti came out, but I remember them as a revolutionary new design with a high performance engine, coupled with a sleek, light fiberglass body. My first car was a rusted out '59 Rambler station wagon. I'd have killed for an Avanti!

I punched it down on an open stretch of M-21 and watched the needle on the speedometer, which goes up to an impressive 140 miles per hour. The engine roared, the glass pack dual exhaust system rumbled and the body shook. But, instead of the expected exhilarating acceleration, the car simply began to pick up speed. Given enough open road, the car may get up there and flirt with that 140 miles per hour, but it darned sure wasn't going to do it on the M-21 curves between Lowell and Saranac. At least not with me behind the wheel.

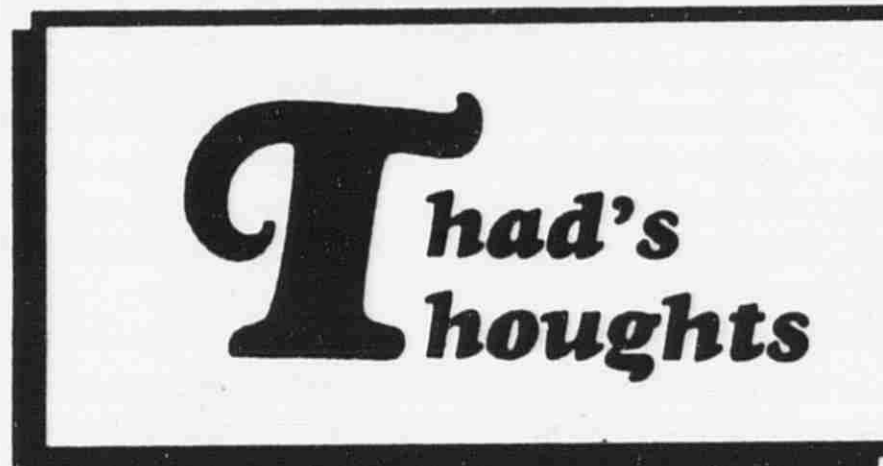

I don't want to come off here as knocking my dad's car. It certainly is a classic, and something he can be rightfully proud of. But, I couldn't help comparing it to the only thing I've had to drive lately that might be considered a hot car. Up until a year ago, we had a 1990 Chrysler LeBaron GT coupe as a sales car here. It was a fast little buggy, and was responsible for more than one speeding ticket. I guess we were attempting to cut down on our time between sales calls when we bought it.

As I drove that Avanti, I noted some items the much maligned automotive industry has come up with in the past 30 years, by comparing it to the LeBaron. In the Avanti there was no tilt steering wheel, cruise control, remote controlled mirrors, air conditioning, multi-position seat with lumbar support, air bag, shoulder harness, tinted glass, front wheel drive or an AM/FM stereo with a cassette player and a knock-your-socks-off speaker system. The Avanti had only an AM radio with a single speaker in the dash. No digital controls on the radio either.

In a performance comparison, the Avanti rode rough, the steering wasn't very positive, it was noisy and I'm sure it must be a gas guzzler. The LeBaron handled extremely well, it was quiet, it was fairly fuel efficient and would literally blow the doors off the Avanti in any kind of a race, except possibly a flat out top end speed run somewhere other than M-21. The Bonneville Salt Flats maybe. I mentioned this to my brother, and he agreed. He said his wife's late-model Chevrolet Beretta, with a six-cylinder engine, would blow away his 442, and do it with a heck of a lot more in the way of creature comforts.

Again, I don't want to come across as knocking my dad's car, or any of the beautiful old machines that turned out for Saturday's car show. But, as I wandered around the show, and heard comments along the lines of, "They sure don't build 'em like that any more," I couldn't help but think to myself, "Thank goodness!" I put over 30,000 miles on my vehicle last year, beating my butt up and down the road selling advertising, and I sure would hate to have done it in a '57 Chevy.

Living and learning. I did some more of that this last weekend. Make a list in your head of who you've learned from recently. Most of our lists will include parents, teachers, peers, friends, and employers.

After Saturday, I am able to add 15-20 Lowell High School seniors and juniors. I, like many of you, have to fight not to become swallowed up and misguided by a person's intangibles - the music they listen to, the hair style, the dress.

I, like many of you, read every week in the Ledger about Lowell High School graduates who have gone on to succeed at college, or of LHS students who are excelling in class, or on the athletic field, or the students in the National Honor Society. Next week you'll read about the Class of 1993's Top 10 students. While these achievements should be lauded, there are many, many more students out there we don't hear about.

Well, Saturday, I heard from some of them and I'd like to share a little of what they said with you. In reality, they said very little, but their actions spoke in volumes. You see 15-20 students showed up at the Lowell Showboat Saturday morning and stayed well into the afternoon cleaning, painting, sweeping, cutting and scraping. Work that was calling out to be done, following the acts of vandalism and arson incurred by the Showboat nearly a month ago.

They were there because a prized moment in their lives, graduation, was threatened by those acts of destruction. They were going to graduate, but the backdrop might have been the high school gymnasium.

"We want to graduate on the Showboat - it's a lot better than in the gymnasium," said senior Brandon Triplett, who served as the leader in getting the clean-up crew organized. "Brandon listens to a different style music, he has long hair, and he wears an earring. His style is a little different than mine and most, but he's a good kid," said his father and Showboat board member, Dale Triplett.

While graduation was a main concern, they all had a sense for the history of the Showboat and what it means to Lowell. Said senior Bob Prins, "Showboat is a community thing. Lowell is the Showboat City."

And Saturday it showcased 15-20 high school students with a lot of substance in their style.

As you have probably read in both the Buyers Guide and Lowell Ledger over the last couple of weeks there is a real division on Proposition I which will be voted on in Lowell Township on June 2.

Last week I spent an hour talking to ITM President and CEO James Hamelink. He talked about how his business is bulging at the seams and of the company's need to expand. ITM is currently landlocked at its current location on Godfrey, so it is looking to move into a bigger facility over the next three years. Hamelink said it was his hope to move into the Lite Industrial Development site proposed by Bob Grooters on Alden Nash just north of the expressway. If Lowell Township voters do not approve Proposition I the current ITM facility will be transformed into a warehouse, employing roughly 6-12 people. The actual machining will be moved to a new site in Cascade.

Brink stated that they talk about saving the prime farm land in that area, but he questions what they call prime farm land.

He points out that from Alden Nash to Hilton and from the freeway to 36th Street there are roughly 1460 acres. "Except for 100-200 acres there hasn't been a plow on that land in the last 10 years, probably 25 years," Brink says. "It is not good farm land. Some of the nay sayers are people who've purchased and live on a 10 acre lot in that area. If you drive by those lots you'll see nine acres of weeds. It is not being farmed."

Brink went on to say that our Governor and the State Government has been working on bringing industry to Michigan, and those opposed to the lite industrial site are sending out a message, "Go to Ohio."

I've listened to and wrote about both sides of the argument. I believe it is in this area's best interest to bring in industrial development. I also believe that in John Timpson, Lowell Township has a supervisor who will oversee and make sure things are done up to the standards set by the PUD. Simply stated, I think Timpson is someone we all can, and should, trust.

As for Proposal A, I think it is probably the best legislation to come forward that deals with property tax and school finance reform. I also believe there is something better out there.

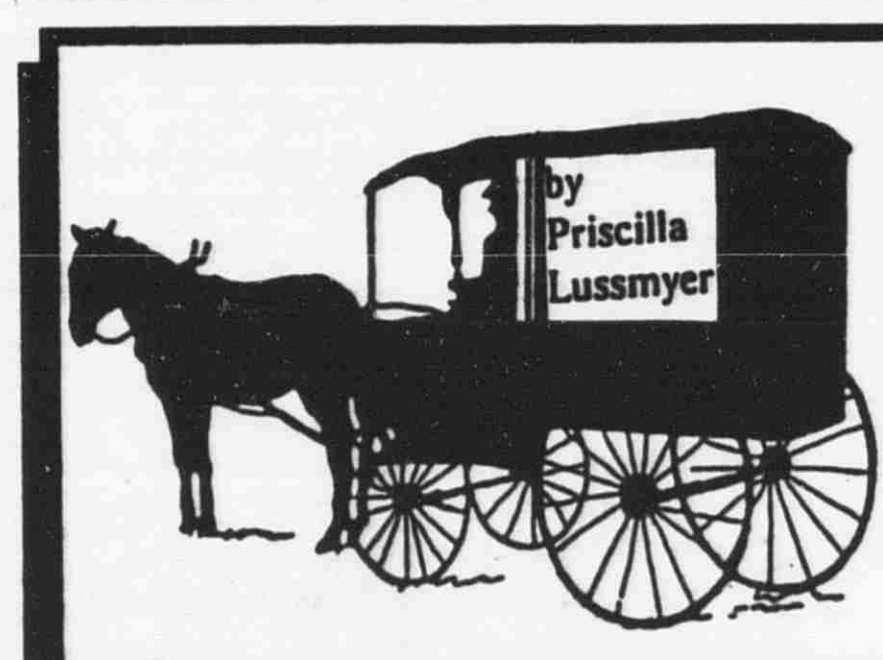

My understanding is that many schools will either break even or lose a little with the passage of Proposal A, some stand to gain. With its defeat many schools stand to lose a bundle. Here in Lowell, the figure being passed around is $2 million worth of cuts.

Governor Engler has said that if Proposal A fails there will be many more Kalkaskas. A "yes" vote can prevent all of that nonsense.

Then, Monday evening as I was putting the finishing touches on copy for this week's paper I received a call from Harley Brink, Cascade Road, a Lowell Township resident for 25 years. He was concerned about the message those opposed to Proposition I were getting out.

INFORMATION ABOUT AUTOPSY

An autopsy is an examination of the body of a person who has died. The purpose of an autopsy is to answer any questions about the person's illness or the cause of death. In addition, autopsies provide valuable information that helps doctors save the lives of others.

As a family member of someone who has died, an autopsy may help the family deal with the death, provides a means of organ donation, assist in genetic counseling, identify contagious disorders and identify conditions that can be passed on to other family members. Knowing the cause of death and being reassured that appropriate care was given can aid family members who wonder whether a death could have been averted or postponed. The unexpected finding of certain diseases and infections such as tuberculosis may affect health of family members.

You can request an autopsy if you are the person's next of kin or the legally responsible party. Your doctor will ask you to sign a consent form to give permission for the autopsy. You may limit the autopsy in any manner you wish. If the cause of death is unclear, the medical examiner may perform an autopsy without the family's permission.

A specially trained physician, called a pathologist, performs the autopsy. First the pathologist looks at the body for clues about the cause of death. Next, the pathologist examines the internal organs, taking samples as needed for examination under a microscope. The autopsy takes from two to four hours.

Because autopsies help doctors learn more about illness and ways to improve medical care, autopsies are usually performed without charge.

Pathologists perform autopsies in a way that doesn't interfere with burial or cremation.

The first findings from an autopsy are usually ready in two to three days. A final report may take many weeks because of the detailed studies performed on samples. You doctor will review the final report with you.

PUT KIDS FIRST

Proposal "A" puts kids first! Nearly twenty years of discussion, constitutional proposals and legislative solutions have produced little or no change in the way schools are financed nor provided any property tax relief for the home and property owner. Proposal "A" is a rare opportunity to establish a stable source of funding for programs and services for Michigan's students. It also provides meaningful property tax relief and replacement dollars for schools.

For the first time, a broad coalition, including the Governor, legislators from both sides of the aisle, business, industry, and education labor and management have come together to support one proposal.

Continued total reliance on the property tax to fund schools will only create more Kalkaska's and drive good business and industrial development from Michigan.

Proposal "A" starts by rolling back last year's assessment increase to an inflationary increase of just three percent. In the Lowell area, the average assessment increase rose approximately 14 percent. So Proposal "A" cuts assessments by 11 percent. And in the future, assessment increases would be limited to the rate of inflation or 5 percent whichever is less.

Proposal "A" also reduces our school operating millage. For Lowell Area Schools, the school operating millage will be

"PROPOSAL A - GOOD FOR LOWELL"

Skyrocketing property tax assessments and inadequate school funding could be a thing of the past if Michigan voters approve a plan to implement sweeping changes in how we finance education. June 2 will be a turning point in our state, a day when voters decide if they want genuine property tax relief and school finance reform.

For years now homeowners have been rightfully incensed by drastic increases in their property tax assessments. In Kent County alone, assessments went up an average of 11.3 percent in 1993.

Proposal A, if passed, would roll back assessments to last year's frozen levels and allow only for an inflationary three percent increase. From that point on, assessments could increase no faster than five percent or the rate of inflation, whichever is less. This change will effectively put in place what many people thought Headlee was going to do when it passed, that is, cap property tax increases caused by assessment hikes.

In addition to this provision, school operating taxes would be reduced to 18 mills for the Lowell Area district, a 19.41 mill decrease. This would in no way reduce the amount of money our schools have for education. Quite the contrary. In fact, all schools are guaranteed a funding increase of at least three percent but no more than 10 percent over current spending levels. The state would constitutionally guarantee a base spending level of $4,800 per student, which will be adjusted upward as sales tax and lottery revenues increase over the years.

In Lowell, that means an increase of 5.5 percent over last year's spending levels.

In exchange for these tax cuts, voters are being asked to approve a two cent increase in the state sales tax. That sales tax, however, will buy much more than just property tax relief. It will put our state's education system on sound financial ground, assuring every district has adequate funds to ensure their students receive a quality education, regardless of where they live. Every Michigan resident benefits from a high quality educational system that graduates students with the skills and knowledge they need to successfully compete in today's work force.

Better educated students will be more likely to land well-paying jobs. An inadequate education severely limits job prospects and earning potential, making crime or state funded support an attractive alternative in some cases. Proposal A provides real and significant savings for the vast majority of Michigan taxpayers. It also provides our state with the edge it needs to compete for job providers. And, a quality educational system means our students will be adequately prepared for either continuing education or the job market when they finish high school. For this reason, I believe Proposal A is a winner and I urge your support at the polls in June.

request, the planning commission shall make a determination as to whether or not the residential district is considered to be an area in transition and will become nonresidential in the future.

In such cases as the planning commission determines the residential district to be a future nonresidential area, the planning commission may temporarily waive screening requirements for an initial period not to exceed 12 months. Granting of subsequent 12-month waivers shall be permitted, provided that the planning commission shall make a determination as described above.

B. Walls and Fences: (The following standards shall apply to Paragraph A., above.)

- Walls and fences shall have no openings for vehicular traffic or other purposes except as other wise provided in this ordinance and except such openings as may be approved by the planning commission.

2. Walls and fences shall be constructed of durable, weather resistant, rustproof, and easily maintained materials.

3. Walls and fences may not be constructed with openings that exceed 20 percent of the surface. The openings shall not reduce the obscuring effect and shall not reduce the minimum height requirement.

4. The height of the required fence or wall shall be as follows: -

Use	Required Height
Buildings in Commercial Districts	4 Feet 6 Inches
Buildings in Industrial Districts	6 Feet
Multifamily Dwellings	4 Feet 6 Inches
Outdoor Storage Areas	*6 to 8 Feet
Off-Street Parking Area	4 Feet 6 Inches
Loading and Unloading Areas	6 Feet

*Wall height shall be a minimum of 6 feet unless a higher wall is required to adequately screen the area, with a maximum wall height being 8 feet.

C. Vegetation: (The following standards shall apply to Paragraph A., above.)

- Vegetation shall be comprised of one or more of the following upright conifers: blue, green, white, or Serbian spruce; Douglas fir, Austrian pine; juniper, or hemlock.
- Trees shall be planted 15 feet on center and may have up to 30-degree spacing.
- Trees shall not be less than 5 feet in height at the time of planting.
- Existing plant material that complies with the standards of this section, as determined by the planning commission, shall be credited toward meeting the screening requirements.
- All required plant units shall be maintained in a healthy, growing condition. Any required plant units that are destroyed, removed, diseased, or die, shall be replaced within 6 months with plant units that meet the requirements of this section. Failure to maintain required plant units in such a manner, including the removal and replacement of dead or diseased plant materials, shall constitute a violation of this ordinance.

6. The plantings shall be maintained in a neat and attractive manner commensurate with the adjoining areas and shall maintain their density and screening effect throughout the calendar year.

D. Berming: (The following standards shall apply to Paragraph A., above.)

1. Berms shall be at least 4 feet 6 inches in height, constructed with 1 foot of rise for each 3 feet of horizontal rise.

2. Berms shall be seeded with perennial rye and an appropriate grass seed and shall be covered with an organic mulch.

3. Berms shall be landscaped with shrubbery and trees to enhance the screening effect and aesthetic appearance of the berm and shall be maintained in a neat and attractive manner.

E. Screening of Refuse Storage Areas:

1. Trash, garbage, and refuse storage and receiving areas are required to be screened from view. Screening walls or fences for these purposes shall be a minimum of 4 feet 6 inches in height and shall be of satisfactory height so as to completely screen the appropriate areas from view.

2. Screening walls shall have no openings except for gates or doors intended to access said area.

3. The planning commission may waive or modify these requirements where cause can be shown that no good purpose would be served, provided that in no instance shall a required wall be permitted to be less than 4 feet 6 inches in height.

F. Surety Bond: A surety bond, as described in Article 17 of this ordinance, may be required and used if the required improvements are not completed within 12 months after they are begun.

7. Add New Paragraph E. to Section 5.03 as Follows, and Renumber Accordingly:

E. Communication towers.

8. Add New Paragraph E. to Section 6.03 as Follows, and Renumber Accordingly:

E. Communication towers.

9. Revise Section 11.04, Paragraph F., as Follows:

F. Screening: All outside storage areas shall be screened from view by solid fences, walls, or suitable shrubbery. All required screening referred to this section shall meet the following requirements of Article 3 of this ordinance.

1. Required walls or fences shall be at least 4 feet in height, but in no case less than the area to be screened.

2. Such walls and screening shall have no openings for vehicular traffic, except as may be specifically approved by the planning commission.

reduced from 37 mills to 18 mills. That's a cut of 52 percent.

Lowell Area Schools currently spends about $4,000 per student, while Proposal "A" would provide $4,800. Proposal "A" would also require that the district assume the total responsibility of paying teacher retirement, FICA, and transportation costs, all of which are now partially funded by the State. The end result would be that Proposal "A" is a "break even" proposal for the school district but a "real winner" for the local property owner and tax payer.

Proposal "A" also locks these provisions into the State Constitution which could only be changed by a vote of the people. As the TV ads state, "It's about as close to chiseling it in stone as you can get."

Proposal "A" isn't perfect, but it is so far ahead of the alternative, that it deserves your positive consideration on June 2. Failure would only put our students at risk in the very near future since financial disaster under the current system is not far away. Proposal "A" provides our citizens with significant property tax relief and controls future increases in assessments. It establishes a foundation for stable and reasonable growth in school funding. Proposal "A" puts kids first. Come to think about it, property owners aren't far behind!

The help wasn't restricted to just Lowell. Senior Lynn Blough brought her friend, Mark Hoerle, Muskegon, who spent most of his morning painting doors. "Lynn is in the Vashaw commended the students for the spirit and enthusiasm in which they tackled the clean-up duties at the Showboat. "Sometimes we're guilty of confining school spirit to athletic events and other school activities," Vashaw said. "Some students display school spirit differently. Brandon not only showed spirit, but also leadership. He also volunteered to help run a school dance for the Renaissance program. All the students should be applauded for their work at the Showboat this past weekend."

Lowell Police Chief Barry Emmons said two juveniles have confessed to the vandalism and that there will be two referrals to juvenile court next week.

Emmons added that the police continue to talk to suspects and witnesses in the arson case.

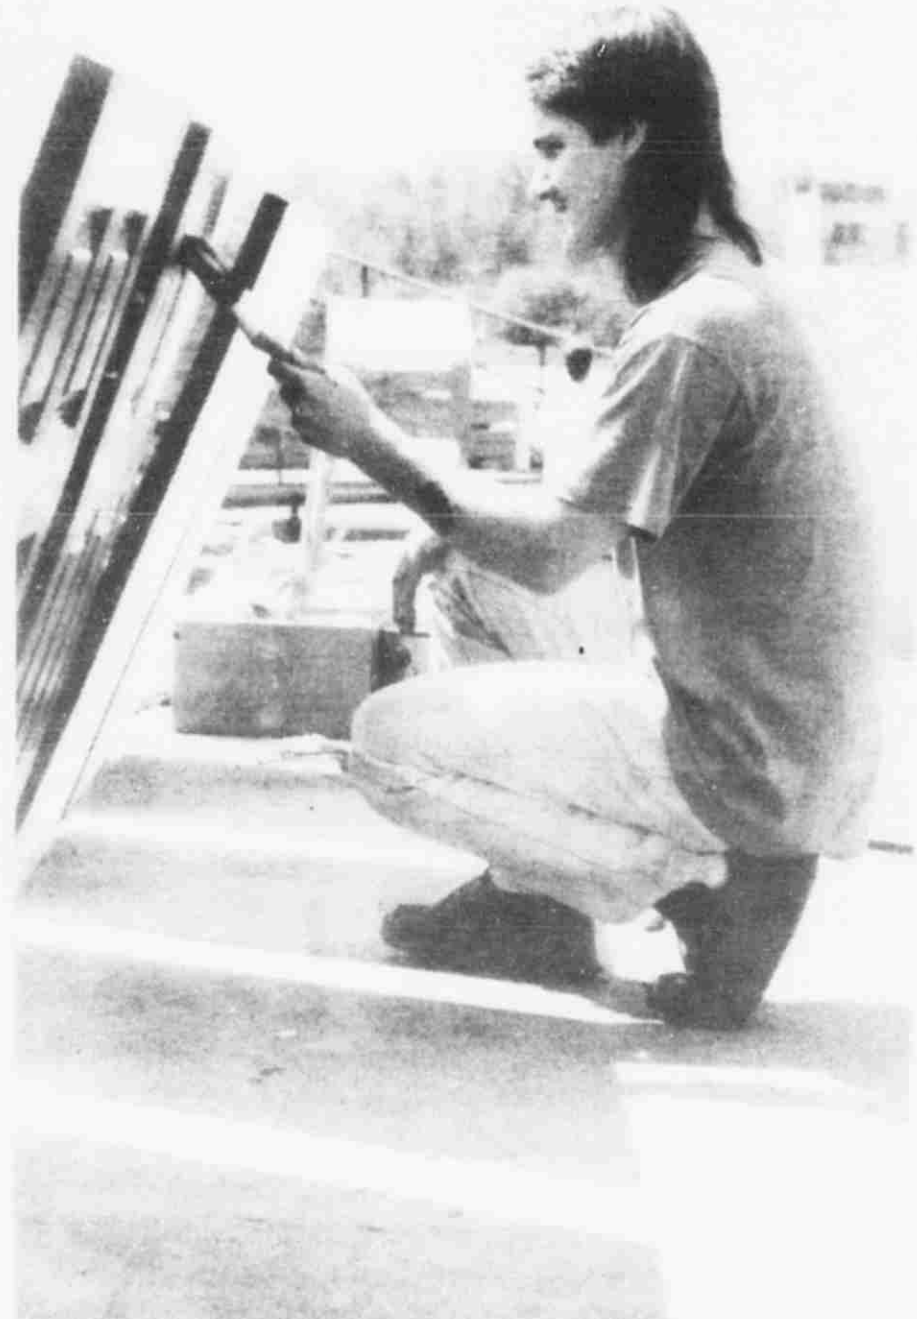

"Students have been upset with the vandalism and in some cases have tried taking the law into their own hands. We encourage all of them to allow the due process of the law to take care of it," Emmons said.

"We would like to stay here in Lowell. Our employees don't want to drive to Grand Rapids," Hamelink said. "Our employees' desire is to stay here. They don't want ITM to move."

ITM employs a full engineering staff which designs and machines dies. It builds dedicated machines for specific parts. Hamelink says it designs, fabricates and assembles those machines. Currently it machines parts for Ford, General Electric, ITT Automotive and Cummins Engine.

"We machine 4.5 million starters and housings for Ford each year," Hamelink explains. "Machines are built around a part and/or a family of parts."

TOWN TALK

Did you like the final episode Cheers? Who was your favorite character on the show?

Steve Shepard
Not really. There wasn't a whole lot to it. It was a flat ending. There were loose ends that needed to be tied up. My favorite character on the show was Norm. I want to be him someday.

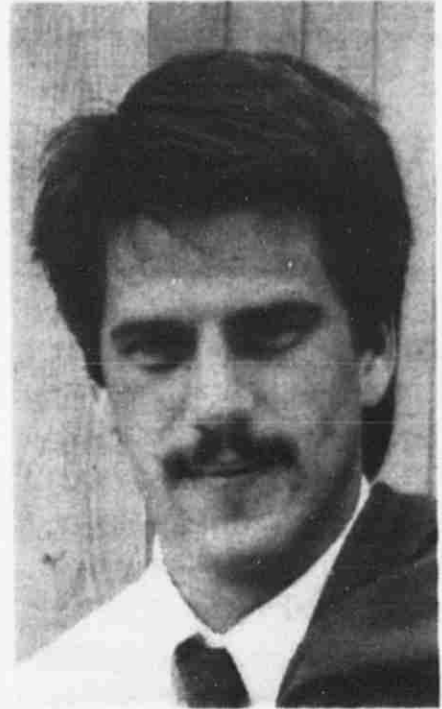

Bob Knapp
Yes, my wife and I commented that it ended just like the old Jimmy Durante Show, Sam walking off into the shadows. I liked Carla. She had a lot of spunk. She was also obnoxious at times.

Brook Landes
Sure. I guessed that it would end that way. I liked them all. I thought Diane was exceptional Thursday. I also like Sam.

James Montgomery
It was better than the final episode of MASH. Not a whole lot though. I liked Cliff because he was so obnoxious.

Kurt Brown
I liked it. Norm was my favorite character. He had a one liner for everything. In the final episode they had Norm act rather intelligent toward the end. It caught me by surprise.

Catherine Peake
I liked it. At first it was a let down, but once I was into the show it was fun. I liked Sam because he was appealing.

An argument needs no reason, nor a friendship.

Muscle cars give Showboat Automotive Anniversary a 60's flavor

Showboat Automotive celebrated its 20th Anniversary in Lowell on Saturday with its first ever car show.

The cars on display ranged from a 1964 Corvette Stingray, 60's muscle car era, to a 1934 Ford two-door sedan.

"I'm happy I came, this is a nice set-up," said Howard Courtney, Saranac. Courtney brought with him his white 1964 Corvette Stingray.

He purchased the car 17 years ago. "I took it home and told my wife, guess what I did?" Courtney's wife topped him when she told him she was pregnant with their first child.

"She said, guess what I am?" Courtney laughed.

Hugh Cosgrove, Showboat

Automotive owner, opened the doors to his business in June of 1973.

Its original location was at 103 W. Main St., the former site of Lippert's Drug Store. In 1976 Cosgrove moved the business to its present location at 1450 W. Main St.

This is our first car show and I'm very pleased with the turnout. We've probably more than doubled the number of cars that I expected," Cosgrove said.

Gary and Nancy Prater, Ionia, were there with their 1934 Ford two-door sedan. It had a two-inch chop (top lowered), chrome stainless steel undercarriage and a 350 small block running through a 400 turbo, coupled with a Monte Carlo rear end. Caledonia's Maurice (Butch) Knowlton brought in his '51 Chevrolet Fleetline. "I purchased it in California last July," Knowlton explained. "I've been into cars ever since I was a teenager and I've never got out of it. It's fun."

Jenison's Bob Monroe brought his big motored 1977 Oldsmobile 442. "I like big, fast cars. I bought this car brand new 21 years ago," he said as he was resting in the trunk.

Hot dogs and drinks were provided for visitors. Patrons also were given an opportunity to see Showboat Automotive's new machine shop

Bob Monroe, Jenison, rests in the trunk of his '77 Oldsmobile 442.

Maurice (Butch) Knowlton displays his '51 Chevrolet Fleetline.

Howard Courtney polishes his '64 Corvette Stingray.

Nancy and Gary Prater sit next to their 1934 two-door sedan.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Reader:
Hi! My name is Molly Sindorn and I am a fifth-grade student from West Ridge Elementary School in Harlan, IA.
Our class is studying geography and history of the United States. We would appreciate it if you would send us a post card from your state so we can learn more about our country.
Sincerely,
Molly Sindorn

Dear Editor,
At first I would like to object to the obvious and hopefully unintentional slant of your May 19 article on transient merchants. You spent much time interviewing and allowing a businessman to air his complaints on your front page. The other businessman interviewed doesn't operate in the city as you lead us to believe.
His comments aren't relevant to the problems of city regulations which Mr. Bernard is attempting to change. Other city business people should be interviewed, including the transients and their clientele, if you're to take these complaints seriously. Investigate what codes and public costs, if any, does a transient avoid.
How does a transient's length of stay affect the city and merchant? Does a transient's presence benefit other businesses? How does any money given a business person stay in Lowell? Exactly what problems do Bernard and Garvin have with quality, fresh, locally produced merchandise? What is the thought and history behind current regulations? Just how many transient merchants are involved here? Or, almost knowingly I ask, is Mr. Bernard's problem with only one merchant? For fair reporting and to avoid harm to the public, these questions should be addressed by you.

Second, I want to attack the idea of repressive regulation on local marketing. Our government's duty is to serve the people. Thriving, cultural cities exist around old trading posts and open marketplaces. What service is it to the ambitious young, the poor, and the creative when free enterprise is clipped by regulation and opportunity controlled by self-serving money and power?
Our cities' main streets are becoming sterile, franchised businesses offering little more than more of a "cheaper" product. Our system is suffering and greed is the virus. Positive and open thought is needed. Perhaps Lowell could provide space for a farmer's market. Support the transient business and their friendly services. Our lives could be healthier and richer in spirit. The city council is to partially address this situation June 7.

Thank you,
Gary Dietzel

Dear Editor:
Proposition 1, which is to be voted on by the township residents on June 2nd, will have a profound impact on one of the special educational and scientific centers in the area, namely the James C. Veen Observatory on Kissing Rock Road.
The members of the Grand Rapids Amateur Astronomical Association decided to build this Observatory in Lowell Township in the late 1960's because of the excellent availability of dark skies from which to study the various facets of astronomy. Right now, only the brightest of the stars are visible from the city.
The Observatory was built to foster interest in astronomy and science, and public education is of the utmost concern to its members. Over 2,000 people per year attend the public viewing nights at the Observatory. In addition, the members regularly host grade school to college science classes, youth and adult organizations totaling more than 500 people annually. These people come to the Observatory to learn something about astronomy and science in general.
Education of our children is of the UTMOST important in these times, our children, and the children of the future, need a place to learn first-hand about astronomy and science. The proposed industrial complex, just two miles from the Observatory, would not only bring to an end the usefulness of a great facility that the citizens of Lowell Township take pride in, but would also deprive our children of the right to use one of the finest centers for the study of astronomy in West Michigan.

So please take this under consideration: Are the people of Lowell Township going to permit the construction of an industrial complex (which is fundamentally unnecessary), or are we going to invest in the future of the Township and our country by giving our children the best possible educational opportunities available?
In that light, I would urge everyone to vote NO on Proposition 1 on the 2nd of June.
Sincerely,
Kevin S. Jung
President,
Grand Rapids Amateur Astronomical Association

Dear Editor:
I want to go on record as supporting Proposition 1. I know it will better our community. Why do I support Proposition 1? I have three simple and, to me, compelling reasons for voting yes.
One, it will help our sagging tax base. In other words, I will have LESS taxes to pay because the newcomers will be sharing the tax load. Two, Lowell needs jobs. The industrial complex will provide our citizens with jobs. This is good.

Three, it is an opportunity knocking for Township residents to vote yes for properly regulated land development.
Remember, this type of development is inevitable, no matter who claims the contrary. It will come. Let's take charge of our destiny and not leave it to outside forces.
I vote yes on Proposition 1. How about you?
Sincerely,
Paul Tuthill, D.C.

Editor:
I'm not a resident of Lowell Township, but still have a vital stake in the outcome of the June 2 vote on Proposition 1. As administrator and one of the founders of the James C. Veen Observatory on Kissing Rock Road, I am concerned that an industrial park established nearby could be devastating to many of the activities carried out at the observatory.
The astronomers who use the facility almost every clear night must have dark skies to get optimum performance from the large telescopes and their light sensitive attachments. Already, continuing development in Ada and Cascade has increased light pollution to the point where the faintest celestial objects are "washed out" and no longer observable. This latest development threatens to heighten the problem to critical levels.
A sophisticated new telescope was recently added to the observatory, and an older one updated with the intent of permitting observations and research activities not possible in the past, but only if the sky remains reasonably dark. The twice monthly visitor nights continue to grow in popularity with the public, but their effectiveness is also threatened if the sky glow gets much worse.
In order for us to carry out our plans, and to keep this unique community facility vital for current and future activities, I urge a sound defeat of Proposition 1 next Wednesday.
Sincerely yours,
David L. DeBruyn

Scenic trail to display Lowell Township's beauty

Lowell's natural beauty could be on display for all of America to see in the future. Representatives from the National Park Service (NPS) and North Country Scenic Trail Association (NSTA) presented to Lowell residents last week a plan to develop a scenic trail through Lowell Township. The trail would begin in New York, cut across Michigan and connect with the Lewis and Clark National Historic Trail in North Dakota. The concept of a National trail was conceived in the mid-60's and the North Country National Scenic Trail was established in 1980. The length of the trail is approximately 3,246 miles with an estimated 872 miles located in Michigan. Nearly 1,120 miles have already been certified by the NPS for use in the trail and the tally of miles completed in Michigan is approaching 500. About three quarters of them are fully certified by the National Park Service with another 100 miles targeted for completion in the next five years. According to Roger Sabine, Landscape Architect for Kent County Parks, the trail would enter Kent County at the South East corner and exit at its North West corner. The goal is for the trail to utilize as much public land as possible. Fallasburg and Wabasis Parks and Lowell's Game area are designated public land to be used. Sabine stated that there is no certain starting point for the Lowell area and that "local meetings would determine what part of Lowell can be used for the trail."

Acquisition of land for the trail is the main sticking point for the NPS and NSTA. Although the federal government authorized the concept of a national trail and the NPS supervises its development, the government doesn't allow the NPS to purchase any land. All lands for the trail must be obtained through written permission of homeowners. Thomas Gilbert, project manager for NPS, sees land acquisition as a community effort. "Because the government will not allow us to purchase land we need the cooperation of individual homeowners and interested groups such as the West Michigan Chapter of the North Country Trail Association," said Gilbert. Gilbert explained that most of the land already secured is on public property and obtaining permission from homeowners can be tough because of "certain fears." The fears Gilbert talked about included property vandalism, environmental impact and disruption of lives. According to Gilbert those same concerns were expressed by citizens while the Appalachian Hiking Trail was being developed. "Most citizens were afraid the trail would have a negative impact on the area, but those fears were never realized," he said. According to Gilbert no part of the trail would run through an endangered species habitat. "Endangered species take precedent over everything in the trail development," he said. One reason these trails are not a hazard to citizens or the environment is because of local volunteers. Gilbert explains that volunteers are the back bone to the success of any trail. He says most trails are kept clean because "citizens respect the surrounding environment and households enough to keep the area clean and free of any debris which could harm the environment." Another concern citizens have in regard to the trail is the subject of liability. Who accepts the responsibility for someone being injured on a homeowner's property? The government will accept any liability if a homeowner gives written permission to the NPS. Once the NPS accepts the written agreement the homeowner is considered a volunteer and receives liability insurance from the government. Gilbert stresses that if a home owner does allow the project to run through their property, the owner has the last word in exactly where the trail will run through that property. "We are grateful for the permission and we don't want to disturb the private lives of individual homeowners, so we give them the final say in the trail placement," said Gilbert. Gilbert and Sabine hope to have an idea of where the trail will run through Lowell, and which properties will give permission for its use, by this fall. Once the county has received permission from individual owners it can begin to construct the trail. "Most of the trail is already set, all we'll have to do is maybe widen a path or build little bridges to go across a creek," said Gilbert. Citizens interested in receiving more information on the trail may contact the West Michigan Chapter of the North Country Scenic Trail Association. This chapter sets up hiking trips throughout Kent County and assists in the upkeep of existing trails.

Wyntjes leaves large medical scholarship fund for school

The only thing that might exceed the cost of medical care these days, is the cost to send a son or daughter to medical school. For some lucky Lowell High School senior(s) interested in the medical field, funds will be available starting in 1994 to help alleviate the financial burden. A new scholarship fund that has been set up at the school in the name of Pieternella (Nel) Janna Wyntjes. The scholarship fund, $196,253.22, will be the largest at Lowell High School. Robert Elzinga, the Individual Personal Representative, stated that Wyntjes expected the income to be used for scholarships and that the principal not be invaded. "While the will doesn't specifically say the principal cannot be used, in discussions with her, it was her intent that only the income be used and the principal not be invaded," Elzinga said.

Lowell Assistant Superintendent, Gary Kemp, said timing does not allow for the scholarship funds to be used this year. "We are fortunate to have these types of funds provided. Such a scholarship will help steer graduates to the medical field, knowing scholarship money is available. Kemp added that even at three percent interest, roughly $6,000 in scholarship money would be available. "A committee would be formed to determine if that scholarship money would be given to one graduate or if it would be divided up into a number of scholarships," he said. In the late 40's two young people came to Michigan from Holland by way of England. They had been involved with the underground during the war, helping the Jewish people avoid the Germans. Their possessions were their training as nurse and gardener, a good supply of Dutch bulbs, and their daughter, Christina. Elzinga states that these attributes, along with a lot of ambition, enabled Nel and her husband, Ebe Wyntjes to start a new life as maid-nurse and butler-gardener for people in Grand Rapids and, for a short time, in Florida. In 1950, they had earned enough money to buy a place just east of Lowell and, while Nel started a nursing home, Ebe worked at Root Lowell. During the next 35 years many elderly people were cared for at the home. Ebe died in the late 1980's and Nel cut back on her patient load and then closed the home. In October of 1991 she became ill and in February of 1992 she died. Before her death she gave much to her friends and relatives in Canada and Holland. The remainder of her estate was left to the Lowell High School graduates to be used as medical field scholarships.

Lowell bats grow silent during 5-game stretch

The pressure of feeling that you must do it each at-bat is a tough way to bat. Lowell's young, inexperienced varsity softball players are finding that out. "The girls are tight and are not relaxed at the plate," Lowell coach Kelly Drake said. That is the root of a five-game Red Arrow hitting slump. "We haven't scored a run in five games," Drake said. In those five games, Lowell has not had more than three hits in a contest. "It's tough to score runs when you're not hitting the ball," Drake said.

The pitching has been decent. Ashley Olin's earned average is 3.56. She has only given up an average of six hits a game. "Those aren't bad numbers," Drake said. On Monday, Lowell was shut out by Sparta's Jenny Buchanan, 6-0. Lowell got three hits. Erica Hertzler ripped a double and a triple and Kerry Nugent added a double.

Drake adds, that when Lowell does get runners on base, they are not getting the hit to bring the runners home. Buchanan did not walk a batter and struck out six. Olin gave up six runs on six hits while walking three and striking out two. Sparta scored two runs in the third and fifth innings on two hits, and two Lowell errors. The Spartans opened the game with two runs in the first.

Adding insult to Lowell's batting woes is the fact that during the slump the club's strike-out ratio has increased. While it has been frustrating, Drake was more upset with her club's lack of emotion during this period. "The girls haven't shown any emotion. I want them to be loud and cheer. The girls need to get mad and get themselves into the game." On Friday, Rogers shut out Lowell twice by the identical scores of 10-0, 10-0.

The Golden Hawks' Kelly Peuler pitched both games. In game one she allowed just one

Nausieda qualifies for state tourney; Girls place 4th in regional

The Class B Girls Golf Regional at Groesbeck in East Lansing was top heavy, it had both the number one and two teams in the state.

Knowing that, Lowell coach Rick White hoped that his club would be able to salvage a third and still earn a spot at the state meet.

The Red Arrow girls placed fourth Monday behind Lansing Catholic Central, the state's number one team; Flint Powers Catholic, number two in the state; and Middleville. Lowell was fourth with a team score total of 440, 12 strokes in back of Middleville.

"The windy conditions made it very tough. Groesbeck is a tough course when the conditions are good," White said.

Lowell's Erin Nausieda was third overall with a round of 96. Megan Leach carded a 104 and Molly Byrne and Cheryl Anderson came home with rounds of 120.

Red Arrow tennis team finishes on competitive note

The Red Arrow boys' tennis team played three, three-set singles matches in the opening round of the Class B Regional Tournament at East Grand Rapids on Friday.

Unfortunately it was on the short end of all three matches. "I thought our play at the regional was good. We simply need to learn to win the close matches," Lowell tennis coach Terry Abel said.

The Red Arrows scored one point at the regional, which was the result of a 6-3, 6-4 doubles win by Lowell's top doubles team of Nate Livingston and Neil Nelson. They defeated Lansons Endres and J.D. Scoville of Lakewood. The Lowell doubles team then lost to Hastings' Jeff Gardner and Nathan Robbe in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0.

At number one singles, Lowell's Jason Graber was a three-set loser to Greg Haskin, 6-1, 1-6, 1-6.

In second doubles, Adrian Schuster fell in three sets to Northview's Kyle Zindar, 6-2, 4-6, 0-6.

Chris Scoles lost at third singles to South Christian's Dirk Bischoff 6-2, 1-6, 6-7.

Hastings' Damian de Goa defeated Brad Simkins in fourth singles 6-1, 6-4.

"After the draw I felt we had a good chance to win three singles matches and a doubles match," Abel said. "We were close, but could only manage one win."

Levi Harper and Carl Moore fell in straight sets to Catholic Central's Colin Sullivan and Jim Weidenfeiler, 2-6, 5-7.

Matt Howe and Marc Batreall, Northview, defeated Kyle Triplett and Zac Cole in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1.

Lowell's tennis team had aspirations of catching Sparta at the O-K White Conference Tennis Tournament at East Grand Rapids, but those hopes were dashed as Sparta beat Lowell in three of the five head-to-head matches.

"With a good showing we felt we could move up with Sparta into sixth place," Lowell tennis coach Terry Abel said. "However, we lost three of five matches to the Spartans and were unable to move up on them."

Lowell's third-seeded singles player, Adrian Schuster, and his number one doubles team, Nate Livingston and Neil Nelson were the only seeds to move into the winners' bracket after the first round.

Scoring for Lowell went like this:

Jason Graber, first singles, 1/2 point; Chris Scoles, second singles, two points; Brad Simkins, fourth singles, 1/2 point; Livingston and Nelson, two points; Levi Harper and Carl Moore, second doubles,

1/2 point; Zac Cole and Kyle Triplett, third singles, 1/2 point. While fourth flight was not scored, Lowell's Jim Price and Jon Smith did win two matches.

Ionia 7 Lowell 1

The Red Arrows and Bulldogs played three, three-set matches, with Ionia winning two of the three.

Lowell's topsingles player, Jason Graber, notched Lowell's only win with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 win over Matt Gorham.

"We went into the Ionia match feeling that maybe they would be a notch below the competition we have played,"

Boys place 5th in regional Arrows qualify for state in four events

Coach KB felt OK about all of the PBs handed in at the Class B Regional boys' track meet on Saturday at Godwin.

The Red Arrow boys finished fifth out of the 17-school field.

Catholic Central won the regional with 74 points, narrowly beating out South Christian with 72.5. Caledonia was third with 70, followed by Godwin Heights, 54.5 and Lowell with 47.5.

Zeeland was 13th with 15 points, EGR was 16th with two points and Rogers was 17th with one point.

Lowell coach Keith Boeve was extremely pleased with all of the personal bests his club recorded. "With the exception of the 3200-meter relay, everybody who placed posted a personal best."

The Red Arrows qualified for state in four events. Lowell seniors James Manion and Andy Antcliff were the only Red Arrows that were crowned regional champions.

Manion won the 300 low hurdles in a personal best time of 40.2 seconds.

Antcliff won the discus event with a throw of 150 feet.

"While I'm happy for all the kids, I think it is really nice that Manion and Antcliff won a regional championship in their senior year. Both boys have worked hard this year," Boeve said.

Finishing second in an event and also qualifying for the state meet were Ron Acheson and the 1600-meter relay team.

The foursome of Dan Huizenga, Eric Shelby, Aaron Stencil and Manion stopped the clock at a time of 3:31.1.

Acheson tossed the shot put 46'9 inches.

Manion placed fourth in the 110 high hurdles with a time of 15.8.

Lowell coach Terry Abel said. "Ionia has an excellent team. Other than Forest Hills Central and East Grand Rapids it is the best team we've face."

Abel added that Graber played his best match of the year to defeat Gorham.

The other two three-set matches were in doubles. Nate Livingston and Neil Nelson lost 2-6, 6-4, 4-6 to Eric Edwards and Cuong Duong in number one doubles.

In fourth doubles, Jim Price and Jon Smith lost to Joe Powers and Derek Bergen, 6-2, 3-6, 2-6.

In second doubles, Levi Harper and Carl Moore lost in straight sets to Dan Carmichael and Mike Gorham, 0-6, 2-6. Ionia's Ben Newman and Matt Smith defeated Kyle Triplett and Zac Cole, 6-0, 6-4.

Brian Newman defeated Adrian Schuster 6-0, 6-1 in second singles.

Paul Riviera upended Chris Scoles, 6-3, 6-0 in third singles.

Heavy hitting leaves mark on run-productive week

Using some lofty lumber, Lowell did some heavy hitting as it clubbed Ranger and Spartan pitchers for 26 runs on 28 hits.

Later in the week, the role was reversed as O-K White League co-champion Wyoming Rogers had the lumber in its hands and it did the heavy hitting against the Red Arrow pitching staff.

In game one against the Golden Hawks, Andy Tichelaar broke up a no-hitter with two-outs in the seventh inning on a pinch-hit single.

"We played well despite the score," Lowell baseball coach Kris Kropf said. They hit Chris Miedema and we did not hit their pitcher."

In game two, Kropf rested his arms as he threw three rookie pitchers in a 24-1 thumping at the hands of Rogers. "It was a combination of poor play and lack of pitching," Kropf said. "When you have a thin pitching staff and injuries you're going to get beat up on against state-ranked teams like Rogers."

Lowell finished the season at 6-8, placing it fifth in the O-K White. Wyoming Park and Rogers were tied for first (12-2), Northview was third at 8-6, and East Grand Rapids, fourth, 8-6.

Following the Red Arrows were Sparta, Forest Hills Central and Zeeland.

Both clubs scored three times in the fifth, making the score 13-5. However, Central plated six runs in the sixth to make things interesting.

Compton came on in relief of Miedema for the save. He pitched the final one and two-thirds innings allowing two runs on two hits and striking out three.

In the Red Arrow fourth inning, Lowell had seven consecutive men reach base. Included in that were an RBI

Josh Allerding beat Brad Simkins in straight sets, 6-3, 6-0.

In exhibition matches John Roudabush and Bob Berrington lost 10-5 in a pro-set match.

Scott Werdon and Matt Langridge were defeated 10-1 while Tom Roudabush and Mike Roudabush fell 10-5.

7 Red Arrow girls earn berth to State

Kathy Talus can't explain it. Lowell was the conference champion one year ago, but only qualified one individual (in two events) for the state meet.

This year Lowell finished fifth in the O-K White, still very competitive, but will be sending seven girls to the state meet, participating in four events.

Of the four events that qualified, the biggest surprise to the Lowell coach was the 400-meter relay. "We have two freshmen in that event," Talus explained. The team of Betsy Elzinga, Chris McClure, Jenny Jansma and Dawn Burrows stopped the clock in a personal best time of 52 seconds, finishing second. In the 800 relay, Lowell's foursome of Burrows, Kortney Gowen, Courtney Arnett and Lesley Murphy placed second with a time of 1:50.

Murphy also qualified for state in the high jump, clearing 5'0 and finishing second. Arnett was an additional qualifier in the 300 hurdles with a time of 49.1.

"I'm very happy for the 800-meter relay team. It was a personal best and they really wanted to qualify for the state meet."

Other Red Arrows to place were Burrows, fourth, in the 100-meter dash at 13.2 seconds; and Arnett in the 100 hurdles, sixth, at 17.1 seconds.

Both clubs scored three times in the fifth, making the score 13-5. However, Central plated six runs in the sixth to make things interesting.

Compton came on in relief of Miedema for the save. He pitched the final one and two-thirds innings allowing two runs on two hits and striking out three.

In the Red Arrow fourth inning, Lowell had seven consecutive men reach base. Included in that were an RBI

COLLEGE NEWS

Some 65,000 University of Michigan students on the Ann Arbor campus expect their degrees this spring. The University's spring commencement exercises were held April 30-May 1.

Included in those expected to receive degrees are: Stacy L. Davis, of Bachelor of Science in Literature, Science & Arts; Jennifer L. Vander Mark, Bachelor of Science in Engineering in Mechanical Engineering; Jeffrey Bruce Zillmer, Bachelor of Science in Engineering in Mechanical Engineering. All are from Lowell.

Students from the Alto area include: Yvonne Kay Morin, Bachelor of Science in Literature, Science and Arts and Kimberly Dawn Wild, Bachelor of Science in Literature, Science and Arts.

Several local students are among the prospective freshmen who have been selected to receive a share of $1 million in academic scholarships from Western Michigan University this fall. The awards are part of WMU's Medallion Scholarship Program. The recipients were among more than 900 leading high school seniors from 11 states who competed for funds during events this past winter at WMU.

The Medallion Scholarship events included written testing and oral problem solving activities for students and information sessions for their parents. To be eligible, participants had to be admitted to WMU by Jan. 10 with at least a 3.7 grade point average in high school, or at least a 3.5 GPA and an American College Test scores of at least 29. The top students were awarded Medallion Scholarships.

Valued at $25,000 over four years, those scholarships are among the largest merit-based awards in American high education. Several other top participants won Board of Trustees Scholarships of $16,000 over four years.

The rest of the students won one of three types of awards: University Scholarships of $12,000 over four years; University Excellence Awards of $8,000 over four years; or Academic and scholarships of $4,800 over four years.

Julie Ann Fox, of Lowell, daughter of Robert C. and Grace Fox, will receive the WMU Academic Scholarship; Tamara J. Faber, of Alto, daughter of Folkert L. and Marge C. Faber, will receive an University Excellence Award. She attends Caledonia High School. Nathan R. Wight, of Saranac, son of Gerald and Rheta Wight, will receive an University Excellence Award.

Brenda M. Grile graduated magna cum laude from Albion College majoring in English, in May of this year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grile of Lowell.

Albion College is a private, coeducational, liberal arts college located in the south central Michigan town of the same name.

Chad Sayen, a Northwood senior from Lowell, is recipient of the Jack Case/National Automotive Parts Association scholarship for the 1992-93 academic year.

Sayen is earning a bachelor of business administration (BBA) degree majoring in marketing/management and is also working towards an associate of arts degree in banking and finance at the business management college. He is the son of Gloria and Robert Sayen of Lowell.

Private Donor Scholarships at Northwood are awarded by the scholarship committee of the college and are based on requirements specified by donors and information students provide on scholarship applications.

PERMANENT RELIEF FOR TAXPAYERS.

Proposal A delivers the real, permanent tax relief that other proposals have only promised. Proposal A reduces your property taxes in two different ways.

★ It rolls back this year's assessment hikes. Millions of property owners this year received a double-digit increase in their assessment. Proposal A wipes out those outrageous increases. Instead, assessments will go up only 3%, last year's rate of inflation.

★ Cuts property tax millages an average of 21%. School millages for most school districts will be rolled back to just 18 mills.

★ It holds down future assessment hikes. Never again will a homeowner receive a double-digit hike in their assessment. Proposal A limits all future assessment increases to 5% or the rate of inflation—whichever is less.

SOLID FUNDING FOR OUR SCHOOLS

Our children's education is an important investment in our future. Proposal A protects education funding and makes state aid more fair with a 2¢ increase in the state sales tax to pay for the property tax relief we need.

Proposal A:

★ Makes funding more fair. Proposal A guarantees in the constitution that every school district will receive at least $4,800 per child for annual education support—a base amount that will go up as revenues increase.

★ Increases funding for schools. Proposal A guarantees that every school district will receive at least a 3% increase in per pupil spending next year. Low spending school districts will receive a 10% increase.

★ Protects districts that want to spend more. School districts that wish to levy more than 18 mills can ask voters for millage increases. But the millage can never go above 27 mills.

★ Takes the politics out of school funding. The 2¢ sales tax increase will be constitutionally dedicated to the school aid fund. No more Robin Hood plans and other gimmicks. That means we'll be taking the politics out of education funding decisions. And Proposal A amends the state constitution to say that every penny of lottery profits go right into the school aid fund—at last.

★ Provides constitutional guarantees—not just promises. Proposal A provides solid guarantees on where the money goes. As revenue from the sales tax and lottery go up, the $4,800 minimum grant for our schools goes up. That means the Legislature can't spend the money on something else. That's an iron-clad guarantee that will go right into the constitution of our state—where it could only be changed with a vote of the people. That's as close as you can get to putting it in stone.

IF PROPOSAL A WINS, MICHIGAN WINS.

Proposal A is good for our entire state. The STAR Proposal:

★ Makes home ownership more affordable. Lower property taxes and a cap on assessments will make owning a home a reality instead of just a dream for many people in Michigan. It will also assure our seniors they can afford to live in their home as long as they want.

★ Creates jobs. For too long our high property taxes have kept employers from bringing their jobs to Michigan. With the real cut in property taxes Proposal A delivers, Michigan can compete for new jobs—and win.

★ Gives our economy a boost. This year we will only have to pay the additional sales tax for six months while receiving a full year of property tax cuts. That's a $1 billion tax cut for 1993. That will give the Michigan economy a critical jump start as we move out of the recession.

Summer reading fun scheduled for area youths

"Read Together - Share the Fun" is the theme of this year's summer reading club at branches of the Kent County Library System. The library has scheduled an exciting summer of programs, events, prizes and reading encouragement to promote the pleasures of reading as a leisure-time activity, and to invite children and adults to share the wonderful experience of reading together.

The "Read Together - Share the Fun" reading club is for ages 3 - adult. Sign-up begins June 14 and the club runs through July 31. Participants earn weekly prizes by visiting their branch library, checking out books, and keeping a record of what they've read. Club members will join a "gallery" of readers when they design "self-portraits" to decorate the library. The paper figures, colored, decorated, customized and put on display, will provide creative testimony to the way reading can draw a family and a community together.

Kent County Library System branches will host a lively variety of summer programs for children and adults, including puppet shows, magic shows, storytelling, craft workshops, musicians, mimes, family night entertainment, reading club parties and visits from the traveling zoo. Club members will paint their own T-shirts with a "Read Together" stencil at craft programs at all branch locations.

Young people ages 11-15 can become "Library Heroes" by assisting in the library and advising youth librarians. All Kent County Library branches will offer youngsters this unique opportunity; "Library Hero" orientation meetings are scheduled at the branches in June.

Brethower receives lifetime achievement award

Dr. Dale M. Brethower, Western Michigan University professor of psychology from Ada, will receive the Organizational Behavior Management Award for Lifetime Achievements at the annual meeting of the International Association for Behavior Analysis in Chicago May 26-30.

A WMU faculty member since 1978, Brethower has taught 24 different courses on the undergraduate and graduate levels. He also has led classes on 24 different topics for adult and continuing education and for professionals.

He has served as a consultant to 43 educational institutions, including public school systems, colleges and universities and three U.S. state departments of education. In addition, he has been a consultant to 23 private companies, including AT&T, General Motors, Kellogg, Michigan Bell, Montgomery Ward, Motorola, Stryker and Westinghouse. The author or co-author of eight books and more than 55 papers, Brethower currently is editor of the Journal of College and Adult Reading and Learning, a consulting editor for Performance Improvement Quarterly, and a guest editor for the Journal of Organizational Behavior Management and for the Teacher Education and Special Education Journal. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Kansas, his master's degree from Harvard University and his doctoral degree from the University of Michigan.

Only one such award is presented each year at the convention, which is expected to draw 2,000 people from 20 countries.

Brethower is one of the pioneers in the field of organizational behavior management. The field, which forms the core of the WMU master's degree program in industrial psychology, seeks to improve performance in organizations through training, organizational feedback and organizational change.

In the 1960's, Brethower conducted workshops at the Center for Programmed Learning for Business at the University of Michigan. His efforts provided impetus to the work of many trendsetters in the field of organizational behavior management.

For 30 years, Brethower has worked in adult human learning with his colleague Marcia Heiman, formerly of Boston College, whose system, "Learning To-Learn," is one of only three programs in post-secondary instruction ever approved for national dissemination by the Joint Dissemination Review Panel of the U.S. Office of Education.

Thomet named field editors of new food magazine

TASTE OF HOME, "the magazine edited by a thousand country cooks," has name two women, Sondra Bergy of Lowell and Pat Thomet, of Alto, as two of the field editors of this new food magazine.

Selected from throughout the U.S. and Canada, the magazine's unique "field staff" of 1,000 editors, each a home-based, practical cook, helps produce each issue by contributing their favorite recipes, food ideas, tips and regional food related news. They also critique each bi-monthly issue and make suggestions for new features and improvements.

The new magazine is the eighth publication launched by Reiman Publications of Greendale, WI, which already publishes COUNTRY, REMINISCENCE, COUNTRY WOMAN and four other publications. What makes each of these magazines particularly unique is that none of them accept advertising. All are supported solely by subscriptions.

Likewise, TASTE OF

HOME has no ads; instead, it features practical recipes and food tips cover to cover provided by practical cooks from coast to coast. The 1,000 field editors were selected from every state in the U.S. and from every province of Canada. Bergy and Thomet are listed on TASTE OF HOME'S masthead in each issue and likely will be personally featured in a future issue, since a dozen or more of the staff of 1,000 are pictured and introduced "up close and personal" in each issue.

Field editors such as Bergy and Thomet were selected because they had demonstrated their capabilities as cooks by having a recipe or food feature published previously in another of the Reiman Publications' magazines or were personally recommended by a country home economist or one of the other field staff members.

LL & P supervisor warns of energy tax

Michigan residents will see an increase in electricity and heating bills for their homes and businesses if President Clinton's proposed energy tax is enacted.

Under the plan, the energy content of fuels, including oil, gas, coal, hydro and nuclear, will be taxed. Consumers will not only see an increase in the cost of their utilities, but also for gasoline.

"Citizens should be concerned about the proposed energy tax and the effects it will have on their pocketbooks -- not only their electric bill or at the gas pump, but for the costs of goods and services they purchase," says Paul Christman, Superintendent of Lowell Light & Power.

As businesses pass on their added costs to consumers, Michigan residents may end up paying as much as $500 more per year for goods and service, according to Michigan Congressman Fred Upton, who calls the tax plan "a flawed deficit reduction strategy that will cost many jobs in Michigan and other industrial and agricultural Midwestern states."

"This energy tax will snowball through the economy. The snowball effect of this energy tax is casily visualized when you think of all the transportation involved in the various steps of product development. The result will be a negative impact on Michigan industry, at a time when Michigan's economy is on a fragile rebound," adds Christman.

The proposed energy tax, part of President Clinton's deficit reduction plan, is designed to raise $22 billion in 1997, the first year it is fully phased in.

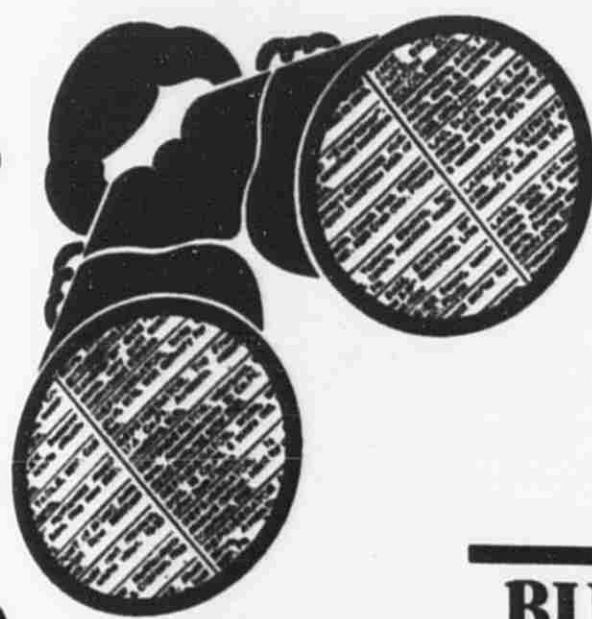

Michigan ranks eighth in the nation in its energy use. Because Michigan is a cold-weather state, its residents use more energy than their counterparts in warmer climates. In addition, Michigan is a heavy manufacturing state with a high concentration of energy-intensive manufacturing industries. The two major components of the outstate economy - agriculture and tourism - will also be impacted by higher energy costs.

Lowell Light & Power provides electric service to residents and businesses in the City of Lowell and Lowell and Vergennes Townships.

The Louvre Museum in Paris has about eight miles of galleries.

• Negative thinking will miss a vision of the future, which includes 50 new jobs at ITM Corp. If unable to expand in Lowell they will be forced to leave, taking with them HUNDREDS of jobs we now enjoy.
