Paving Parnell Road could save Lowell Twp. money

By Marc Popiolek Contributing Writer

In a move that would save Lowell Township several thousand dollars, the township is helping to pave Parnell Road to Settlewood for Richard Cooper.

Cooper approached Lowell Township Supervisor John Timpson and asked for his help in getting the Kent County Road Commission to pave Parnell Road.

Cooper indicated that he would be willing to pay for the project if the road commission agreed not to harm many of the trees along the current roadway.

Under the current funding system, the township would pay for 55 percent of the project while the road commission would pay for 45 percent. Timpson said Cooper would be willing to pay for that 55 percent the township would need to pay.

Cooper owns Ada High Bluff Estates a condominium village in the area. The paved road would help with traffic for residents in the complex.

Timpson said Cooper has made the request before, but the response was not favorable for Cooper.

"When Cooper asked the road commission the first time, they indicated the work could not be done without bringing down a lot of trees, so Cooper said 'no' to the plans," said

According to Timpson, Cooper decided to give the project another try after giving the road commission a parcel of land needed to do road work for the new high school.

Timpson said the township was willing to help Cooper because it would not have to pay for the project and because of the cooperation received in constructing a sewer line to the new school.

When the township needed to find a sewer route for the high school, Cooper's land proved to be the best option for them. After several negotiations Cooper decided to allow the line through his property at a cost to the township of $1.

"Cooper worked with us in getting a sewer line to the high school, so I felt it was something we could do in return," said Paved, cont'd., pg. 8

Lowell Township property owners fight for land airport wants

By Marc Popiolek Contributing Writer

Following a nine-month battle, the Kent County Aeronautics Board decided to condemn 230 acres of land in Lowell Township to relocate offers to the owners have been wetlands.

Last week the board authorized the condemnation, through eminent domain, of the land due to failed negotiations. Under the eminent domain provision, the governland for public use.

The aeronautics board has been working since September to obtain 158 acres of land owned by William and Carol Wieland and 80 acres owned by Bruce and Sheryl Rittenger to help replace wetlands which will be destroyed near the airport.

The airport has planned to extend its current runway and to build a new one.

The airport has been negotiating with both property owners, but no agreement could be reached.

Airport officials feel the fair, but that sentiment is not shared by Carol Wieland.

"We had our own survey done and it doesn't come close to what they offered us," said Wieland.

Neither owner would rement is allowed to condemn veal how much the airport has offered them.

> Besides the asking price, Wieland has said there are several issues that the airport hasn't fully addressed.

> According to Wieland, the airport hasn't informed them as to why they need land, which is almost nine mile away from the airport, and

Judge asked prosecuting attorney to ammend charges in Kinsley trial

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The circuit court case involving the State vs. Terry Kinsley was adjourned before it even got started last week to allow the prosecution time to change its charge.

Originally the prosecution was to charge Kinsley with embezzling $16,399.90 from the Lowell School District during the 1992 school year.

The case is being tried by 17th District Judicial Circuit Court Judge Robert Benson. He was assigned to the case after Judge David Soet had to be replaced because his docket was backed up with trials.

Benson delayed the start of the trial after a study of the case showed that charges should be ammended from embezzlement to attaining money under false pretenses.

Prosecuting attorney Donald Zerial said he expects to charge Kinsley with 25-26 counts of attaining money (checks of over $100) under false pretenses.

Zerial will have 14 days to change the charge against

A motion brought forth by defense attorney James Dimitrio, to limit the time frame from which the prosecuting attorney can bring forth proof in the case, was denied. Dimitrio wanted the prosecuting attorney limited to six months. Judge Benson said Zerial could bring forth evidence for the entire year (1992).

Benson denied Dimitrio's request.

Jury was scheduled to be selected on May 24. Opening statements were to follow. That was all put on hold after the Honorable Judge Benson declared the charge needed to be ammended.

An internal audit of Lowell Schools payroll records uncovered a number of irregularities in Kinsley's payroll account. Following the discovery in late December of 1992, Kinsley was fired on Jan. 5 of 1993.

Following a preliminary exam in March, the case was bound over to the circuit court.

Kinsley was arraigned in February on the charge of

Viewpoint

I was invited to dinner at the home of some friends on Sunday. They live in a beautiful home on a lake near Rockford. Dick is a bank executive. Linda has a part-time job as a personal secretary to a prominent retired Grand Rapids businessman. Dick is a great guy, but I've always thought of him as being slightly conservative. Of course, coming from me, that means practically nothing. Almost anyone is slightly conservative in comparison.

I haven't seen Dick and Linda in nearly a year, but I do hear about them through our grapevine of friends from time to time. I was shocked a few months ago to hear Dick had ordered a brand new Harley Davidson. A full sized "hog." A Heritage Soft-tail Classic! The bike was originally scheduled for delivery sometime this summer. It was back ordered to early fall. Now, the latest estimate for delivery is November. Poor Dick. He reminds me of when I was a kid and the Sears Christmas catalog came in September. I wore out the toy section pages by October, and Christmas still seemed like eons away.

My son and I own a Harley Davidson. It's a used Sportster I picked up a couple of years ago. It's not the massive bike Dick has ordered, but it'll do the same thing for you that a full size Harley will. That is, it'll rumble, snort, go fast and depending on how far you ride, it will numb your body from the groin out. All for about ten or twelve thousand dollars less than a new "Hog." Don't ask me to explain the attraction. It's a man kinda thing that makes no more sense to women than china patterns do to us guys.

poor Dick could get a fix as he counts the days until November. I didn't have to ask him twice if he wanted to ride it. In fact, I'm not sure I even asked him. He disappeared for a few minutes, and returned in full Harley regalia. Harley boots, Harley leather jacket, Harley helmet, Harley gloves, Harley scarf, etc. He didn't offer, and we didn't ask, but I'll bet he was wearing Harley underwear.

Usually the most gracious of hosts, Dick fired up the Harley and disappeared for an hour. I could tell Linda was getting worried and reassured her by saying something like, "He's alright Linda. I'm sure we'd have heard sirens out on the highway if anything had happened." Dick finally returned. grinning from ear to ear with bugs in his teeth.

Several times after his return we'd notice Dick was gone, then hear the bike fire up. We'd see him cruising up and down their street with no helmet and a black and orange Harley bandana tired around his head. I'm sure his neighbors thought the conservative, Suburban-driving banker down the street had gone off his rocker.

I offered to leave my Harley with Dick for a few days and ride home with them. Without hesitation Dick said, "I hope you don't mind leaving your car out in the driveway Linda." I couldn't believe how quickly Dick is getting this Harley rider mentality down. The old Dick would have left his car outside to make room in the garage for the bike. He does still have a way to go though. A true Harley rider would have said, "Gee, Linda, I hope you don't mind if I keep the Harley in the living room." No wait, I take that back. A true Harley rider wouldn't have even asked.

As I looked around their house, I couldn't believe the When Sunday rolled around I decided to ride the Harley so Harley Davidson paraphernalia. Stacks of Harley Davidson magazines, catalogs and brochures were everywhere. There were Harley Davidson magnets on the refrigerator. In the middle of their beautifully decorated living room is a radio that looks like a Harley gas tank. Dick swears the new bike is going into winter storage right in front of the living room windows that look out over the lake. The neighbors are right. The man has gone off his rocker.

Linda seems to be taking all this in stride, but I've been around women long enough to know there will probably be some retribution. The day the new Harley finally arrives, I can see her trading her Ford in for a Porsche to go with her new ten karat tennis bracelet. Whatever that means. It's a china pattern thing.

I don't think Dick is the type to knock out his front teeth, get a couple dozen tattoos, quit his job so he can ride all day and disappear on trips to New Mexico. On the other hand, I thought Dick was the type that probably would never even see the inside of a Harley shop unless the owner was borrowing money from his bank. Oh well, life is full of surprises. For Some other people at the dinner party were from Lowell, so example, my son and I planted flowers in the yard this weekend. We did this unabashedly in broad daylight, in full view of any passersby. While we were planting impatiens and petunias, Dick was roaring around the countryside on our Harley. It's a strange world!

7. My father, two of my brothers, my nephew and yours truly went golfing after church on Sunday morning. Nothing special. The golf course sets about a mile from our house. We get out maybe a handful of times each year. Golf is a nice father-son, brother-brother, uncle-nephew bonding type game. Maybe not. It sounded good though. Any how, after arriving I get set to pay the owner for nine holes of golf, a pull cart and a box of new balls. The three new golf balls cost four bucks for three new golf balls if you so desire. There is no doubt in my mind that we were discriminated against. Or should I say Ryan was. I have always (right or wrong in my mind), labeled discrimination as something that happens to someone else. We could have raised a stink in front of the owner and other potential customers, but we were so dumb-founded about the turn of events we just left. The silverlining in all of this is that we found a nicer, better-kept course and some change. Not bad considering you can pay six bucks 20 minutes away. First, there is a clear legal requirement to include on political signs and literature (e.g., brochures) a "disclaimer" stating the name and address of the person or group paying for such advertisements. This state law, the Campaign Finance Act, was passed to ensure that the public would be aware of who, or what groups, were spending money trying to influence elections and ballot issues. "Stroll Through the Arts" gives local artist added exposure

By Michael Lovell Lowell Ledger Intern

Wildlife art, chain saw art, Victorian art, paintings in watercolor, pastels, oils and more were the focus of the irst annual "Celebrate Spring-Stroll through the Arts in in the village of Ada.

The idea was developed MaryLou Moll, President the Ada Council for the orts. Moll brought the idea to the Ada Business Association during their February meeting, according to Ginny Leuhrs, President of the Ada Business Association.

The celebration included over 30 artists practicing their crafts on location at participating Ada businesses.

The event was co-sponsored by the Ada Council for the Arts and the Ada Business watching the artists, the event also included refreshments and free Victorian carriage rides through the village.

Strolling through the Arts is exactly the idea, and it wasn't hard to find the artists. Colorful tents and signs, as well as were plainly visible throughout the village, sometimes seen through windows, some-

Law provides agricultural tax exemption

Gov. John Engler, seated center, signed Public Act 136 into law recently at a St. Johns farm. State Rep. Jack Horton, R-Belmont, far left, was among the co-sponsors of the legislation attending the ceremony. The new law establishes a property tax exemption for agricultural property, allowing it to be taxed at the new 6-mill homestead rate. The Legislature approved the measure to correct an inconsistency in the tax law structure. The act creates a uniform tax rate that complies with constitutional law. Joining Engler and Horton at the event, standing left to right, were Reps. Alan Cropsey, R-DeWitt; Dan Gustafson, R-Williamston; Kim Rhead, R-Sandusky; John Gernaat, R-McBain; Mike Goschka, R-Brant; Michelle McManus, R-Leland; and Roland Jersevic, R-Saginaw.

Irving Berlin wrote the popular patriotic song "God Bless America" for a play produced in 1918, but he did not use or publish it

SKIN CANCER: HOW TO GET IT This year one in six Americans will get skin cancer. In 1970 the number was one in twenty. If current trends continue, it will be one out of two in twenty years. Why?

Nearly all skin cancers are caused from U.V. or ultraviolet radiation. This comes from two places: the sun and tanning booths. The government reports that in the last 28 months the ozone layer of the atmosphere, the layer that deflects and protects against U.V. has been depleted 14 percent. The depletion continues today and will only get worse.

There are six things you must remember about the U.V. that causes skin cancer. 1) The damage is permanent. 2) The damage is irreversible. 3) The damage is cumulative...it just gets worse over time. 4) It causes premature wrinkling and crows feet on the face. 5) 80 percent of your lifetime damage occurs before the age of 18. 6) The cancers will show up only 10 to 15 years after the damage has occurred.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

1) Use a moisturizer with a sun block of 15 or more...daily 2) Protect infants and toddlers with a sun block of 30. 3) Cover up outside. Use a hat, sunglasses and sleeved shirts. 4) Teach young adults about the long term, hidden dangers of skin

HOW BAD IS IT, REALLY?

The problem is growing so serious that the National Weather service will soon begin issuing U.V. danger warnings along with air pollution factors and pollen count alerts. In other words, this is a serious matter and must be taken as such.

COST

How much does it cost for skin cancer removal? For MOH's skin cancer surgery on the face, expect to pay a dermatologist between $1,000 to $2,000 per lesion (cancer patch). Moreover, once skin cancer starts showing up, you have a very good probability of having more occur later..

Public Notice NOTICE OF TRUTH-IN-TAXATION HEARING

To conform with Public Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, the Lowell City Council will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase in the operating millage rate in 1994. In accordance with the Truth-In-Taxation Law, the millage levy is first reduced to 13.785 mills, in order to generate the same dollar volume as the previous fiscal year, with the new State Equalized Value of the City. In fiscal year 1994-95, additional funds to operate the City are required and resultant millage levy of 13.85 mills represents an increase of .065 mills. The hearing will be held:

Monday, June 6, 1994 at 7:30 PM COUNCIL CHAMBERS, CITY HALL 301 E. MAIN St., LOWELL, MICHIGAN

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 0.47% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a

"It was pretty fun," said De Young about the program. "We stayed in bunks that were designed to look like space modules. There were six (people) to a module. The room looked pretty cool.'

The program was designed to teach kids about the life and training of an astronaut with the emphasis being on using fun as a tool for learning. DeYoung said that some of the campers were inspired though the same couldn't be said for him. "I wanted to go to see what it was like for the astronauts and to learn, but I don't think that I want to be an astronaut."

The day at Space Camp began at an early 6 a.m. with Space Camp was more than just a learning experience though. DeYoung said that he made some good friends there. "Lights out was at 10 p.m.,

WELL, IT SURE

Notice is hereby given that the Vergennes Township Board will hold a hearing on Monday, June 13, 1994 at 7:00 PM at the Vergennes Township Hall, 10381 Bailey Dr., to receive public comment on the following proposed amendment to the Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance:

LOT AREA

A PROPOSED ORDINANCE NO. 94-3 TO RESTORE TO THE DEFINITION OF LOT AREA (SECTION 201.202 V.) A PORTION OF THE DEIFINTION INADVERTANTLY OMMITTED WHEN THE DEFINITION WAS AMENDED IN DECEMBER 1989 FOR AN-OTHER PURPOSE. IF ADOPTED, THE DEFI-NITION, INCLUDING THE RESTORED OMMISSION, WILL READ AS FOLLOWS (ADDED WORDING UNDERLINED):

SECTION 201.202 V. LOT AREA: THE TOTAL HORIZONTAL AREA IN-CLUDED WITHIN LOT LINES. HOWEVER LOT AREA SHALL NOT INCLUDE LAND LYING BELOW THE ORDINARY HIGH WA-TER MARK OF A LAKE, RIVER, OR POND WHICH IS NOT TOTALLY ENCLOSE DWITHIN THE BOUNDRY LINES OF THE LOT (ALSO SEE SECTION 201.202 JJ AND ARTICLE V., SECTION 201.503 VARIANCE). WHERE THE FRONT LOT LINE IS THE CENTERLINE OF A STREET OR LIES IN PART OR IN WHOLE IN THE RIGHT OF WAY AREA, THE LOT AREA SHALL NOT INCLUDE THAT PART OF THE LOT IN USE OR TO BE USED AS THE RIGHT OF WAY

Discussion: The restored wording, which was part of the ordiance prior ot December 1989, prevents public road right of way from includsion in calculating lot area.

Effective date: This ordinance, if adopted would become effective on the date of it's publi-

Written comments on the proposed amendment will also be considered if received by the Township Clerk if received prior to 7:00 PM on June 13, 1994.

Munsch shares his writing talents with Alto kids

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

If you check the recently published New York Times best selling children's litera- Robert Munsch, was also on day. The Pittsburgh native its list.

Actually that's how he got funny faces. Munsch an- started in writing children's books. "I used to tell children made-up stories at nap time when I worked at a day care

His books are being sold in 12 different countries. "I didn't think what I was doing was all that special until I tried teaching others to do it," Munsch said.

Nick Baker thought Munsch's books were special from the moment he picked one up. So special, in fact, that Nick talked his mother, Alto School Librarian Sandy Baker, into buying some of his favorite Munsch books for the Alto Library bookshelves.

"I think the good children's book authors are those who take children seriously," Munsch said. "I write about what interests them - getting candy bars at the grocery store, mud puddles and not having to put on your snow suit."

The very first book he wrote was entitled Mud Puddle. He has written a book about each one of his three adopted children.

He wrote David's Father about his 17-year-old daughter Julie. I have To Go is about his 12-year-old son Andrew and Something Good is written about his seven-year-old daughter Tyya.

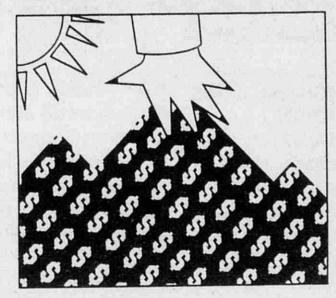

"The children in my books are usually the kids whose names I used when I first made up the story at a storytelling session," Munsch said. "Ilove to call that person up three or four years later and ask him or her to send a photograph so that the character in the book can really look like that person."

Who knows - maybe one of the Alto Reading Center students will get a call from Munsch one day.

BEAT THE PEAK AND KEEP COST DOWN

During the summer, many people use electricity at the same time, which causes the demand for electricity to reach its "peak." In order to meet this demand, more fuel and equipment have to be used, which increases the price of electricity. Help keep your costs down by following these tips.

- Don't set your air conditioning below 78° F.
- · Dry clothes on a clothesline, don't use the dryer.
- · Use your dishwasher and washing machine only when you have full loads.
- Use major appliances on weekdays before 8 a.m., after 8 p.m., or on weekends.
- Use your microwave oven or toaster oven as much as possible. If you use your oven, cook several dishes at once.
