With embezzlement struggles behind it, Lowell Youth Football League has a refreshing beginning in its 25th year

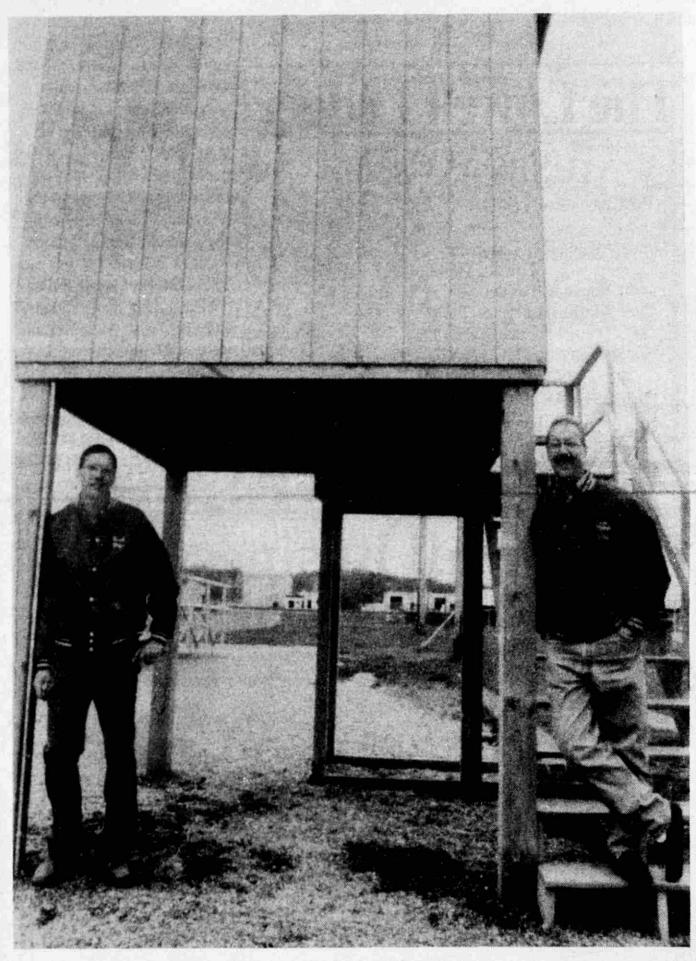

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The 1995 Lowell Youth Football League (LYFL) season will be special for a couple of reasons.

In its 25th year, the nonprofit organization will again serve over 200 neighborhood youths.

The season is months away, and already it stands in stark contrast to the one that preceded it.

"The Lowell Youth Football League started the 1994 season with a balance of approximately $25 and an outstanding debt for 1993 equipment of $1,500," LYFL president David Biggs said.

ITM reaps rewards from automobile boom with expansion project

By Marc Popiolek Contributing Writer

The auto industry boom has one local company looking to expand its facilities.

ITM Corporation, 533 Godfrey in Vergennes Township, was granted a special exception use permit by the Vergennes Township Board for a 12 by 60 foot expansion project to its current facility.

The project will add office space for the company, which employs more than 300 people.

Jim Hamelink, president and CEO of ITM, said the office expansion will accommodate growth within the company.

"Business has been really good for us. The building will give our office employees more room to operate," said Hamelink. "We've experienced a lot of growth during the past several years, which shows our commitment to our customers."

ITM provides machine services for the automobile industry.

Hamelink said the construction will begin in May and he

This year the league starts preparation for the '95 season with a checking balance of $5,810 and no equipment debts. Approximately $2,000 of that balance has been used to remodel the concession stand and to build an announcer's booth. Materials for these projects were donated by Erb Lumber and Crystal Flash.

The nearly depleted '94 balance ($25) was traced back to the embezzlement of $2,200 by former LYFL treasurer Mary Jo Smith.

The Lowell woman was sentenced last week by Circuit Court Judge George Bith to 24 months probation and 100 hours of community service. Smith must also pay court costs and full restitution.

Biggs said he became suspicious when Smith began missing meetings and no payments were being made on a $1,500 equipment bill. "I told the company in February that we would start making payments . I talked to them in July and no payments had been made," Biggs reported.

took the money and that she intended to pay the Lowell Youth Football League back.

After Tuesday's (April 18) sentencing, Smith's attorney Walter Harrison said Smith wanted to make restitution as soon as possible.

The embezzling of money nearly cost LYFL its '94 season. However, with an anonymous donation and some hard work by the league's players, the nonprofit organization raised approximately $7,700 through a fund-raiser.

"That's the thing. It was the kids' money. The parents and the board were working to get the money back for the kids," Biggs said.

Of the 210 registered players, 137 of them sold $100 worth of pizzas and pies. Players unable to participate in the fund-raiser paid a $30 nonparticipation fee. Also, as in previous years, all players paid a $30 registration fee.

"A lot of our fund-raiser credit has to go to our treasurer Gary Yeiter and his wife Connie," Biggs said. "They got out and pushed it and made sure people were getting the job done. It was just a great job on Yeiters' part."

... be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation . . . (1 Timothy 4:12).

It's fun to read humorous signs in restaurants. "Even a fish wouldn't get into trouble if she kept her mouth shut," one said. And another: "The reason a dog has so many friends is she wags her tail instead of her tongue."

Rather barbed, but these lines tell the truth, nevertheless. Whether we like to admit it or not, much of our trouble is of our own making-with words. We too often grow careless with our talk.

How many times each of us has experienced it! We told a friend a secret. It was something we expected to be kept in confidence. In no time at all our words made the rounds. Then we learned, much to our consternation and sorrow, that the one about whom we had spoken heard what we said and was hurt. As a result, we lost a friend.

If we follow closely the Golden Rule and do unto others as we wish to be done by, many tales will never be told. Like feathers scattered by the wind, words once spoken can never be of their Adopt-A-Grandparrecalled. We need to "watch our talk." Prayer: Heavenly ent program, the students Cumberland Manor. Item #1. OPERATION SERVICES CONTRACT FOR THE WASTEWATER TREATMENT PLANT WITH EARTH TECH OPERATION SERVICES. City Manager Pasquale stated that the City has been under contract with WW Operation Services since July, 1989 to operate and maintain the WasteWater Treatment Plant under the direction of Plant Superintendent Mark Mundt. During that time, the facility has been run very well. With the current contract expiring July 1, 1995, the following amendments have been proposed:

a. Recognize a new company name as part of a merger between Summit Environmental and Earth Technologies in May 1994, entitled Earth Tech Operation Services. b. Include the Sewer System Investigation/Remediation Program initiated in 1993) within the contract. The $20,000 a year cost will be billed monthly.

c. Adjust the annual compensation from $235,380 to $267,212 per year. This includes a 4.5% cost adjustment, a $1,240 per year charge for sludge analytical analysis as regulated by the EPA and the DNR, and the sewer investigation/remediation program as previously noted.

d. extend the contract five years, expiring July 1, 2000.

IT WAS MOVED BY HODGES and seconded by GREEN to approve the contract renewal with Earth Tech Operation Services to operate and maintain the Wastewater Treatment Plant effective July 1, 1995 expiring July 1, 2000.

The overall cost for the project has been estimated at slightly over $80,000.

Councilmember Shores recalled in previous discussions regarding sidewalks that the Council would allow residents one year of notice. City Manager Pasquale mentioned that the Spring of 1996 for construction would provide such a notice. He noted that the cost for the sidewalk would remain in the 1995-96 budget. If someone passes away, leaves money in the bank and has no heirs, that money ends up on the state's coffers. Similarly, if someone abandons land for one reason or another, the state eventually gains control of that land. As you may know, any unclaimed or abandoned property reverted to the state because there is no one to claim it is an escheat.

Currently in Michigan, appointed local public administrators decide when property is abandoned or unclaimed, and then they turn the property over to the state. These administrators are usually local attorneys and are selected by the state's attorney general. As a rule, these administrators are paid about 6 percent of the total worth of the property he or she declares abandoned or unclaimed, which ends up being a lot of money considering that Michigan has taken in between $50 and $70 million a year for the past two years under the escheats system.

The new state law allows villages to turn down all applications for liquor licenses, so the editor strongly urges that Lowell turn down all applications, become dry and use the money for Island Park and the dam.

Betaseron may soon have company, according to recent results from two carefully designed studies. Both studies are investigating the effectiveness of a new type of Interferon (Interferson Beta-la) which has shown promising results. Patients given weekly shots of the new compound suffered almost a third fewer flareups than patients given a placebo. The drug also showed signs of slowing the progression of MS in these patients.

These studies provide growing evidence that the underlying cause of MS can indeed be treated. Along with Betaseron, these experimental drugs are the first effective MS agents to be developed in 25 years. Hopefully, as research continues, medical science will be able to develop a cure for this chronic neurological disease.

Council leaves parking ordinance intact By Thad Kraus

The on-street parking ordinance for the city of Lowell was not broken.

So, revamping the regulations were deemed unneccessary.

The topic about revamping on-street parking regulations, which prohibit parking on the city streets between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. came up because of complaints levied when tickets were paid. Violators complained they were unaware of the ordinance and they questioned the rationale behind it. "They understood the need for parking restrictions during the winter months, but did not see the need for the restriction the remainder of the vear," said Lowell Police Chief Jim Valentine. Snow removal is done between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. Years ago street sweeping was also completed during this time frame. However, now it is done during regular business hours. DPW director Art Gall said this is due to the noise that the machines make.

For certain hardships permits are issued, allowing onstreet parking. "I have tried to limit permits to a specific time period, to allow the resident an opportunity to remedy the parking problem while still maintaining the integrity of the ordinance," Valentine

Arguments to continue the over night parking prohibition include public safety. A justification for keeping the ordinance would be to prevent moving-versus parkedcar accidents or hit-and -run accidents involving parked cars.

A second argument favoring the prohibition would prevent criminals from parking unnoticed for the purpose of breaking into businesses and residences.

An alternative to the year round on-street parking prohibition is to ban it completely between November and April 1, but provide an odd-even arrangement from April through October.

Legislators talk of using budget stabilization fund for school financing when economy is soft

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

There is a small segment of legislators in Lansing who are concerned whether or not the state will be able to meet its financial commitment to education down the road.

The Michigan economy was booming when schools were funded through property taxes. A vote changed that. Now, 14.4 percent of the state's income tax in addition to budgeting $800 million from the general fund are dedicated to ward school funding.

There is debate as to whether that will be enough when the economy goes bad.

Republican senator Dan DeGrow says in an effort to plan ahead, a house bill and a senate bill are being promoted to increase the dedication of income tax revenue for education from its current level of 14.4 percent to around 30 percent. This would eliminate taking monies from the general fund.

DeGrow and other legislators believe this would earmark funds and make certain a percentage of funds are there for education whether the economy is booming or declining. However, it does not guarantee that it will be enough during tough times.

With that in mind, DeGrow is a proponent of dedicating 44 percent of the budget stabilization fund toward education. Currently the fund holds about $1 billion which means, under the senator's proposal. $440 million would be dedicated to education.

"This would be a rainy day fund. So, when the economy is bad and growing at less than inflation, these monies could help soften any blow," DeGrowsaid. "If the economy is good, however, that would help improve/build up the stabilization fund."

DeGrow is sponsoring Senate bill 423. The bill would earmark 33 1/3 percent of income tax revenue for educa-

House bill 4657, sponsored by representative Glen Oxender, would earmark 29 percent of the income tax revenue as an insurance for adequate educational funding.

Freshman Nate Schoen gives a lifting performance against Zeeland.

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The surprising rise of freshman high jumper Nate Schoen helped lift Lowell to a convincing 82-55 O-K White high school track win over Zeeland.

"Before the Zeeland meet, Nate had never cleared anything above 5-4," Lowell boys track coach Keith Boeve said. "A little sunshine and some nice weather and 'boom,' he high jumps 5-10."

In reaching a new personal best height, Shoen jumped ahead of Zeeland's Forner who cleared 5-8.

Maybe not as big a surprise but certainly helpful in Lowell's success was limiting the Chix Dave Geurink to just one firstplace finish.

That may not sound like much until one realizes he took four firsts in each of his first two league meets. Geurink's only first against Lowell came in the 100-meter dash. The Chix was second in the 200-meter dash to Ryan Teelander. The Red Arrow came home in 24.47. Geurink was within a breath of Teelander at 24.70.

Geurink finished second in the long jump, but not because of a Red Arrow performance. His teammate went 20-6; Geurink was measured at 19-2 1/2.

In the shot put Geurink was third with a distance of 47-5. Lowell's Ron Acheson and Jason Koster used personal bests to finish first and second respectively. Acheson threw 52-0 while Koster hit a mark of 48-4 1/2.

Lowell's one-two punch from Acheson and Koster also took top honors in the discus. Acheson finished at 127-6 and Koster came in at 125.

Teelander was the medalist in the 400-meter dash, stopping the clock at 55 seconds. The Red Arrow also had a winning leg in the 800- and 1,600-meter relays. Lowell won the 800 in 1:38.40. It brought home the baton in 3:43.87 in the 1,600.

The team of Brian Bellechasses, Jim Stoutjesdyk, Denny Briggs and Ryan Teelander won the 800-meter relay.

It was Schoen, John Wojciakowski, Teelander and Stoutjesdyk who teamed up to win the 1,600-meter relay.

Lowell's Jim Stoutjesdyk took first in both hurdle events. His winning time in the 110 hurdles was 16.93. In the 300 low hurdles he stopped the clock in 44.32. Red Arrow Tim Stencel was second in the 110 hurdles with a time of 17.70.

Ryan Wittenbach continued with his success in the 3,200meter run. He defeated his Zeeland counterpart (Blacquier). Wittenbach came home in10:38.63. Blacquier was clocked at 10:46.33.

Wittenbach placed second in the 1,600-meter run with a time of 4:46.36. Zeeland's Miedema was first at 4:45.91. John Wojciakowski gave a sparkling performance in the 800-meter run as he broke the tape at 2:09.82. "His win in that event allowed us to pull away," Boeve said.

Brian Bellechasses cleared 10-0 to win the pole vault event. Teammate Luke Merigan was second at 7-0.

Senior Ron Acheson used a season-best throw of 144-10 in the discus to place third at the CMU Invitational. However, Acheson won the shot put event with a distance of 49-5. Jason Koster finished sixth at 43-7. The distance medley team of Kevin Brown, Ryan Teelander, John Wojciakowski and Ryan Wittenbach placed sixth in a time of 11:29.

In the 110 hurdles, Jim Stoutjesdyk was seventh in 16.6 second

While he didn't score any points with his ninth-place finish, Wittenbach handed in a personal best time of 10:22. The freshman beat his previous best by 16 seconds.

Brian Bellechasses did not place, but handed in a personal best in the long jump (19-4 1/2).

"Wittenbach ran the one mile twice and the two mile," Boeve noted. "All three times he handed in a personal best. He had quite a day."

St. Patrick's secondgraders document their world through the eyes of a camera

By Thad Kraus owell Ledger Editor

Through the eyes of a camera, Kelli Joyce's second-grade students, at St. Patrick's School in Parnell, developed an added awareness of the environment around them.

The nationally sponsored K-Mart/Kodak contest provided students with a recyclable camera and a 12-exposure role of film. Students were asked to go out and take six pictures of what's beautiful in their world and what needs improvement in heir world.

"The kids were given three weeks to take their pictures," lovce said. "After the pictures were developed, a winner in ach of the two categories was selected.

Eight-year-old Julie Dunn was selected as the winner in the what's beautiful in your world" category. Her picture was of pond with a house sitting in the background.

Nick Endres' picture in the "needs improvement" category was selected. The picture was of trash lying on the ground behind a store. "I noticed it when we were picking up a bed for my sister's birthday," Endres said.

Both Dunn's and Endres' pictures will advance to the national competition. The two St. Patrick's students received Kodak cameras for being selected winners at the local level.

Pictures taken by all 20 of Joyce's students will be on display at North Kent Mall. The students who participated received a certificate and a recyclable camera for their efforts.

The theme for the contest was based on April being earth/ nvironmental month.

"All the kids did a marvelous job," Joyce said. "Criteria for selecting the winners was based on creativity and relationship to the theme of the contest.

"I'd like to thank K-Mart, store manager Dave Bronkella, and Kodak for sponsoring the contest. The students enjoyed it and were very excited about it," Joyce said.

Beechtree Golf Course takes some whacks, but scores hole in one with many residents

By Marc Popiolek Contributing Writer

There's nothing Rollie Lubbinge would like more than to look out his back door and see beautiful rolling green hills every day.

That sentiment is shared by Woodruff (Woody) Palmer and it may come true if he is allowed to build Beechtree Golf Course.

Palmer and several area residents met at the Lowell Charter Township Planning Commission's public hearing to discuss the proposed 18 hole golf course.

Some concerns were voiced, but the majority of residents in attendance liked the idea of a golf course in their backyard. Especially if they were granted lifetime memberships, which was not guaranteed.

"Everybody observes beauty in their own way and for me nothing is more beautiful than a golf course," said Lubbinge."I'd rather have this golf course than a housing development which is allowed in this area."

Palmer is proposing an 18hole golf course on 180 acres that the golf course would not increase traffic dramatically and the wildlife and environment would not be harmed.

"My plans for the wetlands on the property would actually bring more wildlife to the area," said Palmer. "Other aspects of the environment would be closely monitored by the Department of Natural Resources."

Palmer indicated he would be willing to install fences in areas where golfers could stray from the course. He also said the property would be open to the public for the purpose of walking on the land.

"Putting trails on the course is a goal of mine. There is enough room between the fairways to accommodate walkers," said Palmer. "This property is really beautiful and I would like people to see it as such."

Palmer's plans are helped by the fact that the land is heavily wooded, not much of it is good farmland, and it has direct access onto Cascade Road.

One of the biggest benefits is that much of the land is

Citizens hesitant about the project fear trespassing on their property, an increase in traffic, and effects to the surrounding wildlife and the environment. Palmer informed citizens

If Palmer is allowed to construct a golf course, it will prevent residential development and provide a higher tax base without adding a burden to the school system.

The planning commission will address all of the citizens' concerns before acting on the request, which is expected sometime in May.

Large turnout eggs -xactly what Lowell Moose Lodge had in mind

The Lowell Moose Lodge 809 had their annual Easter Egg Hunt on Sat., April 15 at Creekside Park.

Over 800 children participated in the event and enjoyed the Easter Bunny and Herbie the Clown, along with the multicolored eggs (6,000) and cookies and punch.

The winners of the age- group grand prizes ($25) were: 3 & under, Bretney Rypma of Lowell; 4-6, Porsha Bowler of Greenville; 7-9, Michelle Wolf of Lowell; 10-13, Heather Mathews of Caledonia.

"The Moose Lodge is grateful to all the merchants and organizations of people who donated prizes to this event," said Moose secretary Ray Jones.

Notice is hereby given that the recently adopted ordinance numbered 95-2 that amends the Vergennes Township Zoning Ordinance to expand and revise sections of the ordinance concerning the "I" Industrial District has been renamed Vergennes Township Ordinance 95-6.
