Showboat Automotive Supply Inc., 1450 W. Main, will collect toys on behalf of the Marine Corps Reserve's Toys for Tots program through Dec. 15.

The Toys for Tots program has been collecting toys for distribution to needy children for almost 50 years.

In recent years, it has averaged over eight million toys each Christmas.

Over 1,000 Parts Plus autostores in 26 states will be collecting toys in conjunction with the program.

The autostores are independently owned businesses that coordinate their marketing and purchasing efforts. The coordination helps make this huge collection effort possible in many small communities across the country.

Showboat Automotive owner Hugh Cosgrove entered a Toys for Tots float in the Christmas parade. The float was judged as the second best float earning th Toys for Tots program $75.

encouraged throughout the central business district.

Lowell planning commissioner Jim Hall said the central business district needs more of the Victorian-look style signs and less of the lighted canvases.

"I believe it's more in keeping with the work being completed by the Downtown Development Authority," Hall said.

Planning commissioner Gordie Barry told the Downtown Development Authority Board at its monthly meeting that he felt the planning commission's decisions on signs in the downtown area should be compatible and consistent with the DDA and with what might be coming with the proposed historical district.

The Flat River Antique Mall proposed to install a 40 square foot projecting sign (four by 10 feet) from its building. Under the current ordinance, a maximum of 20 square feet for projecting signs is allowed.

Monday night the zoning board of appeals also approved the sign variance.

MAJOR ISSUES WILL BE TAKEN UP DURING THE FINAL WEEKS OF SESSION

The holiday season is upon us. As your life gets busier, we are making the last part of the year a productive time in Lansing, as well. During the next few weeks, there are a number of important bills that we hope to have finished and on the Governor's desk by Christmas.

As you know. Congress is changing welfare by giving power back to the states through block grants. Michigan is accepting their challenge by becoming the first state in the United States to develop a plan to implement this change.

The American family has paid a tremendous price on our ineffective welfare system. Financially, we know that out of every tax dollar going to the welfare system, only 28 cents actually reaches the welfare recipient. This type of financial inefficiency is tragic, but it pales in comparison to the cultural

price our families have paid.

Our welfare program has torn our most basic foundations of civilization apart. This system has created incentives for minor children to have children, for wives to leave husbands for husband to leave wives and for recipients to stay home and collect a welfare check rather than go to work for a paycheck. If one needed to come up with a perfect prescription to destroy a civilization, they couldn't have done much better than the present welfare program. That's why welfare reform is one of

D. Pasquale was approached by a realtor on whether the City wishes to sell the old NAPA building

Mayor Maatman asked if the realtor was considering a specific reason or just wanted to list the property. Pasquale stated that this was unclear presently. The consensus of tives from Pitsch Wrecking and King Company of Holland the Council was if a listing was requested, there was no interest. The Council wanted to ensure that the type of business or activity was conducive to water front development.

> E. The City Council met with the City Planning Commission to review the Zoning Ordinance draft Monday, November 13 with consultant Steve Langworthy of Design Plus. The Commission scheduled a public hearing for Monday, December 11 at 7 p.m on the ordinance. Upon a favorable recommendation, the Council will then consider adoption.

> F. A proposal schedule for financing the new public library was provided to the Council. City Attorney Richard Wendt has recommended the establishment of a Building Authority to finance this project.

The Council will need to review this matter at the next meeting. If necessary a work session may be planned along with any additional meetings. G. Copies of the minutes and agendas for the Light and Power and Cable TV Boards were provided

"It was a wealthy school. It was also hard to get the kids to work," Malokovsky says. "Here, the girls give you 100 percent all the time and they have a good time. It's a lot of fun coaching them."

Team goals the players have set include playing as a team; being there for one another and encouraging each other; beating Forest Hills Central; and winning the conference.

Malokovsky said she would like the girls not to think of volleyball ending after high school. "If a player has good skills, she can play anywhere," she said.

Lowell's coach said Forest Hills Central is the team to beat. "We don't have the core of experienced players that Central has," Malokovsky said.

Of the eight schools in the O-K White, six have new volleyball coaches. Only Forest Hills and Zeeland have retained their coaches from a year ago.

New coach and new system bring high level of anticipation to basketball season

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

First-year Lowell varsity basketball coach Pete Bush has a top-four wish list for the 1995-96 season:

4. That his Red Arrow defense makes other teams uncomfortable.

3. That on offense his club recognizes the difference between a good opportunity and just an opportunity.

2. That win or lose, his Lowell squad is playing its best ball of the season in March.

1. That the size he was used to seeing in Rogers City finds its way into Lowell.

Six players return from last year's 3-18 team. They return to find a new coach and a new system - one that helped Rogers City grow from five wins to 20 wins in three years.

Bush isn't promising the returning lettermen 20 wins. but he is promising a fiveman motion offense, a good fundamental man-to-man defense mixed in with some zone variations, and a period of patience while players adjust.

"Defensively we want to make other teams uncomfortable," Bush said. 'We want them to shoot over us. not drive around us, and we want to rebound well."

On offense he looks to the motion offense to get his good shooters' shots, and to get defenses to respect Lowell's post play."You have to get opponents to respect your ability to get the ball inside. If you get the ball in, then you can do well outside."

Bush openly admits there will be times in the early part of the season when Lowell may not look good. "As the season progresses, the players will become more familiar and comfortable. The system is different than what they've been accustomed to and they will need a period of adjust- Smith ment," he said.

Two regional qualifiers return to lead Red Arrow gymnasts

By Thad Kraus Lowell Ledger Editor

The season hasn't even started, and it's clear Lowell gymnastics coach Michele DeHaan has already done some of her best coaching, marketing and public relations work. The 1995-96 Red Arrow squad is short on gymnasts. It has just five members on its team. What about this marketing and public relation just mentioned DeHaan coached gymnastics at the YMCA level this past fall and last spring. "The number of gymnasts at the lower levels and at the middle school level are real good," she said. In an effort to feed the interest at the lower levels, all participants were sent a varsity schedule. In addition, they were told if they bring their YMCA certificate and a parent(s) to a meet, the gymnast would be allowed in for free.

Lacey may be strongest on the beam. Her coach says the difficult things seem to come naturally for Lacey.

"The uneven bars are one of her best events. The reason for this is when she came on board, she already could do the three kips, which allows her to focus on more difficult tricks," DeHaan said.

Pullen will be strongest in the areas of floor and the balance beam. She comes in capable of doing the back handspring and is able to perform the tricks expected of a gymansts on the beam.

Schmidt is expected to help out in the areas of the balance beam and vault. "The beam is Trisha's best event. She has been with the program all four years," DeHaan said.

Hoping to help the team's chances of qualifying for the regional, DeHaan has added a dual meet with Portland. The Red Arrows will also participate in the Holt Invitational.

A plethora of people enjoy Christmas Parade panorama

Pleasant weather and over 40 parade entries were met by a "There was such a large number of participants and the large contingent of Christmas Parade enthusiasts Saturday. turnout was great," said Lowell Chamber of Commerce's Liz Baker. "I was thrilled to death to see so many people come out for the parade."

The 1995 Christmas Parade float winner was the Lowell Friends of the Library ($100). Placing second was Showboat Automotive's Toys for Tots float ($75) and Lowell Area Schools Transportation department was third ($50).

"I'd like to thank everyone who participated and helped make this parade such a success," Baker said. "I'd also like to thank all the churches that participated and helped to bring out the true meaning of Christmas for all to see and remember."

Clarksville's Harriet Roth was the winner of the vacation giveaway. She will be able to choose from Atlantic City, Orlando, Washington D.C. and Hilton Head.

GENITAL WARTS

Genital warts, also known as condyloma, has become one of the most common sexually transmitted diseases. It has been estimated that over one million new cases are diagnosed annually.

Genital warts are small bumps or warts that appear on the skin of the penis, vaginal area, anus or inside the vagina on the cervix. They are caused by infection with the Human Papilioma Virus (HPV). The virus is spread by direct skin to skin contact which occurs during sexual intercourse. After contact, warts may occur within several weeks to several months. In some cases a person may be infected with HPV without any outward signs or warts. People may not notice the warts because they are inside the vagina or they are so small that they can't be seen without a microscope. Warts are often harder to see in women than in men and the virus can cause changes in the cervix which can be found when the pap smear is done.

If you suspect that you have genital warts, see your doctor. Warts are treated by applying medication that gradually removes them. Occasionally your doctor may freeze the wart or ise laser treatment to vaporize them. Do not use over the counter drugstore treatment for skin warts in the genital area. Treatment of genital warts may not be completely effective. It will usually remove the wart and help reduce the risk of spreading infection but the virus may remain in the body ading to reinfection and recurrence of warts at a later date.

Women infected with HPV should make sure to get their annual pap smears because we now know that some of the trains of HPV can lead to cancer of the cervix. Early treatment an cure or prevent cervical cancer.

You can avoid getting genital warts by not having sex or by having sex with one person only who is not infected and who has sex only with you. The use of condoms may also help prevent the spread of HPV and other sexually transmitted

FOUR-YEAR-OLD READINESS PROGRAM

Lowell Area Schools, through Lowell Community Education, will be starting a new program in January to service eligible "at risk" four-year-old children, in preparing them for kindergarten readiness. This project is being funded from a grant under the Michigan School Readiness Program, so it is free of charge to eligible fourvear-olds.

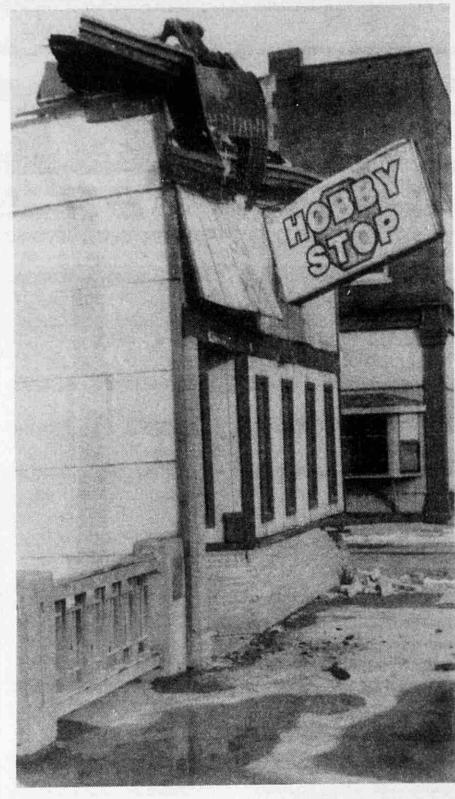

Children eligible for this program must meet the following criteria:

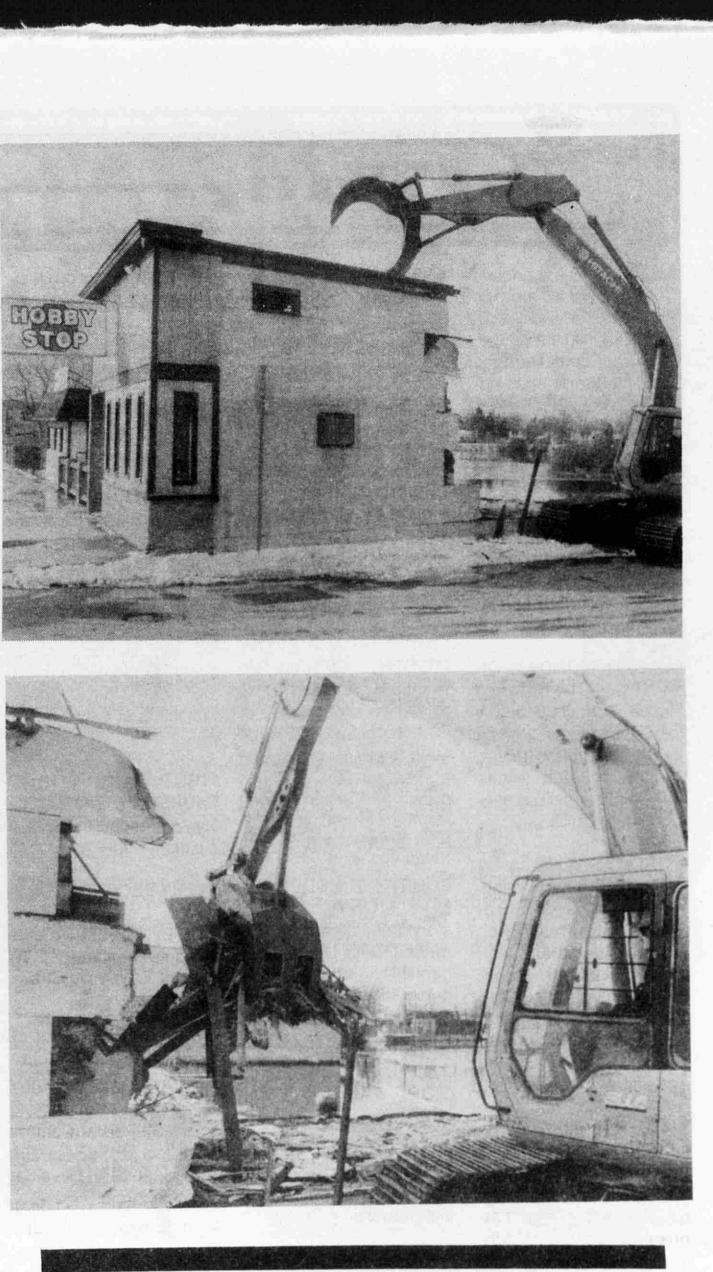

- Must be four years old but less than five by December 1, 1995.
- Must meet 2 or more factors which would place them "at risk" of being educationally disadvantaged and in need of special assistance.

A screening will be held on Monday, December 11 from 12:30-2:30 PM in room 106 at the Runciman building. Please call Nancy at 897-8235 for an appointment

Hobby Stop Dropped

Pitch Wrecking, of Grand Rapids, carried out the demolition of the Hobby Stop building on the corner of Lafavette Street. The cost for the demolition of the building was $5,000. The King Company Inc. of Holland is scheduled to begin installing sheet pile this week. The cost for the installation is $92,500. When The King Company is finished, a sewer wall, stone backfill and a temporary fence will be installed, bringing the total cost for this part of the DDA project to $122,990.

Possibility of wetlands may impede Mill Isle Estate development

By Thad Kraus

Lowell Ledger Editor

The possibility of wetlands could impede the progress of the Mill Isle Estate subdivision development.

Matt MacGregor, district supervisor for the land and water management division, said DNR's Chuck Towns has identified land adjacent to the proposed development as having substantial wetlands.

"Now we must determine where the boundary line is over). between wetlands and upland," Towns said. "To do that a wetland determination is needed on the proposed development property."

The property adjacent to the Mill Isle Estate property is owned by Donald Gerard. On May 17, 1990 a wetland determination of the property was conducted. It was determined to be shrub-shrub, forested, and emergent wetland.

Towns said Mill Isle Estate developer Fred Kamminga has chosen to have a private consulting firm do the study.

MacGregor said there are three parameters used in determining whether wetlands exist:

· A presence of water.

I've received approval at every step except one - from a man sitting in Grand Rapids. He says there might be the potential of wetlands. For that we're going to shut the whole thing down? Kamminga Development Fred J. Kamminga

 A predominance of wetland vegetation (50 percent and ver).

• Hydric soils - high water tables within two feet of soil. In addition, the property must be five acres or greater and contiguous to a lake, stream or pond - or within 500 feet.

In order to drudge, drain or fill wetland property a permit application ($25) must be completed.

If the permit is denied, then a prudent feasible alternative must be found. "Either another area of the property would have to be used or the fill would have to be trucked someplace else," MacGregor said.

Kamminga, Mill Isle Estate developer, said he has received approval on design of the plat from the DNR in Lansing and from the drain commissioner.

ARTICLES OF INCORPO-RATION OF THE CITY OF LOWELL BUILDING AUTHORITY

Pursuant to the Building Authority Act, Act 31 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1948 (first extra session), as amended (the "Act"), the following Articles of Incorporation of the City of Lowell Building Authority are adopted by the City Council of the City of Lowell, Kent County, Michigan, a Michigan municipal corporation, as the incorporating unit pursuant to the Act:

Article 1. Name of Authority.

The name of the Authority shall be the City of Lowell Building Authority.

automobile parking lots or structures, recreational facilities, stadiums, and the necessary site or sites therefor, together with appurtenant properties and facilities necessary or convenient for the effective use thereof for the use and benefit of the City for any legitimate public purpose. In addition, the Authority shall have all other powers conferred upon it by law and not otherwise prohibited.

It shall be the duty of the Commissioners and officers of the Authority to implement, carry out and execute the above-described powers and duties.

Article VI. Body Corporate.

The Authority shall be a body corporate with power to sue and be sued in any court of the State of Michigan. It shall possess all the powers necessary to carry out the purpose for which it is incorporated and those incident thereto. The enumeration of any powers in these Articles of Incorporation or in the Act shall not be construed as a limitation upon such general powers. "I've received approval at every step except one - from a man sitting in the DNR office in Grand Rapids," Kamminga said. "And he says there might be the potential of a wetland. For that, we're going to shut the whole thing down?"

Kamminga questioned whether the property in question is a sanctuary where wildlife and vegetation are predominant or whether it's an open field that is wet.

"To remove the dirt will cost a lot of money," he says.

The developer said he will fight the determination all the way to Governor Engler's office. "I'm not going to put up with this."
